

Conceptual Review Process

This guide describes the Conceptual Review Process.

The Conceptual Review (i.e Pre-Application) was created to provide formal opportunity for applicants to discuss requirements, standards, and procedures, which apply to development proposals. The review by Staff is intended to provide information that will assist an applicant in making key decisions about a development proposal prior to submitting an application for a land use or development. The conceptual review process also assists applicants in gaining in-depth understanding of the County's Development Review Process and Land Use Regulations.

Staff review comments are given to the applicant one week prior to the Conceptual Review Meeting. A final formal summary of the meeting with staff comments are also given to the applicant one week after the meeting. Typically if a Conceptual Review application is submitted to the County by noon on a Wednesday, the Conceptual Review Meeting will be scheduled for Monday afternoon, 2 weeks after receipt of the application (See Conceptual Review Timeline).

The Conceptual Review Meeting is voluntary for development application. However, staff highly encourages such application as the process serves as a means of identifying potential problems prior to making formal application.

CONCEPTUAL REVIEW TIMELINE

Step 1 Conceptual Review Submittal

The applicant will upload all items required on the checklist and the applicable fee to the E-Permit Center. The application will be reviewed to ensure a complete submittal. If determined to be complete, the Conceptual Review meeting will be scheduled.

Step 3 Conceptual Review Meeting

The meeting is typically held 3 weeks after receipt of the application. All meetings are held on Monday afternoon between 1:30-4:30 PM. Participants will include the Project Manager and other County staff such as Engineers, Building Safety, etc. During the meeting, all staff review comments will be discussed and the Project Manager will outline the next process and submittal requirements for any required development applications.

Step 2 Staff Review

A Project Manager will be assigned and the project will be sent out for review by other County Departments and External Referral Agencies. The Project Manager will be the applicant's contact throughout the process and will be responsible for coordinating and sending review comments to the applicant. All comments will be sent in a report format to the applicant one week prior to the Conceptual Review meeting date.

Step 4 Conceptual Review Response

Final comments will be sent to the applicant one week after the meeting. This will summarize key issues discussed at the meeting and related to the development application. It will also identify submittal requirements. Further, the response letter will also include a complete listing of the comments received from the referral agencies prior to and at the meeting.
