You or your representative may request a standard external review by sending a written request to the address set out in the determination letter. You or your representative may request an expedited external review, in urgent situations as detailed below, by calling the number on your ID card or by sending a written request to the address set out in the determination letter. A request must be made within four months after the date you received UnitedHealthcare's decision.

An external review request should include all of the following:

- A specific request for an external review.
- The Covered Person's name, address, and insurance ID number.
- Your designated representative's name and address, when applicable.
- The service that was denied.
- Any new, relevant information that was not provided during the internal appeal.

An external review will be performed by an Independent Review Organization (IRO). UnitedHealthcare has entered into agreements with three or more IROs that have agreed to perform such reviews. There are two types of external reviews available:

- A standard external review.

- An expedited external review.

Standard External Review

A standard external review is comprised of all of the following:

- A preliminary review by UnitedHealthcare of the request.
- A referral of the request by UnitedHealthcare to the IRO.
- A decision by the IRO.

Within the applicable timeframe after receipt of the request, UnitedHealthcare will complete a preliminary review to determine whether the individual for whom the request was submitted meets all of the following:

- Is or was covered under the Plan at the time the health care service or procedure that is at issue in the request was provided.
- Has exhausted the applicable internal appeals process.
- Has provided all the information and forms required so that UnitedHealthcare may process the request.

After UnitedHealthcare completes the preliminary review, UnitedHealthcare will issue a notification in writing to you. If the request is eligible for external review, UnitedHealthcare will assign an IRO to conduct such review. UnitedHealthcare will assign requests by either rotating claims assignments among the IROs or by using a random selection process.

The IRO will notify you in writing of the request's eligibility and acceptance for external review. You may submit in writing to the IRO within ten business days following the date of receipt of the notice additional information that the IRO will consider when conducting the external review. The IRO is not required to, but may, accept and consider additional information submitted by you after ten business days.

UnitedHealthcare will provide to the assigned IRO the documents and information considered in making UnitedHealthcare's determination. The documents include:

- All relevant medical records.
- All other documents relied upon by UnitedHealthcare.
- All other information or evidence that you or your Physician submitted. If there is any information or evidence you or your Physician wish to submit that was not previously provided, you may include this information with your external review request and UnitedHealthcare will include it with the documents forwarded to the IRO.

In reaching a decision, the IRO will review the claim as new and not be bound by any decisions or conclusions reached by UnitedHealthcare. The IRO will provide written notice of its determination (the "Final External Review Decision") within 45 days after it receives the request for the external review (unless they request additional time and you agree). The IRO will deliver the notice of Final External Review Decision to you and UnitedHealthcare, and it will include the clinical basis for the determination.

Upon receipt of a Final External Review Decision reversing UnitedHealthcare's determination, the Plan will immediately provide coverage or payment for the benefit claim at issue in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Plan, and any applicable law regarding plan remedies. If the Final External Review Decision is that payment or referral will not be made, the Plan will not be obligated to provide Benefits for the health care service or procedure.

Expedited External Review

An expedited external review is similar to a standard external review. The most significant difference between the two is that the time periods for completing certain portions of the review process are much shorter, and in some instances you may file an expedited external review before completing the internal appeals process.

You may make a written or verbal request for an expedited external review if you receive either of the following:

- An adverse benefit determination of a claim or appeal if the adverse benefit determination involves a medical condition for which the time frame for completion of an expedited internal appeal would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the individual or would jeopardize the individual's ability to regain maximum function and you have filed a request for an expedited internal appeal.
- A final appeal decision, if the determination involves a medical condition where the timeframe for completion of a standard external review would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the individual or would jeopardize the individual's ability to regain maximum function, or if the final appeal decision concerns an admission, availability of care, continued stay, or health care service, procedure or product for which the individual received emergency services, but has not been discharged from a facility.

Immediately upon receipt of the request, UnitedHealthcare will determine whether the individual meets both of the following:

- Is or was covered under the Plan at the time the health care service or procedure that is at issue in the request was provided.
- Has provided all the information and forms required so that UnitedHealthcare may process the request.

After UnitedHealthcare completes the review, UnitedHealthcare will immediately send a notice in writing to you. Upon a determination that a request is eligible for expedited external review, UnitedHealthcare will assign an IRO in the same manner UnitedHealthcare utilizes to assign standard external reviews to IROs. UnitedHealthcare will provide all necessary documents and information considered in making the adverse benefit determination or final adverse benefit determination to the assigned IRO electronically or by telephone or facsimile or any other available expeditious method. The IRO, to the extent the information or documents are available and the IRO considers them appropriate, must consider the same type of information and documents considered in a standard external review.

In reaching a decision, the IRO will review the claim as new and not be bound by any decisions or conclusions reached by UnitedHealthcare. The IRO will provide notice of the final external review decision for an expedited external review as expeditiously as the claimant's medical condition or circumstances require, but in no event more than 72 hours after the IRO receives the request. If the initial notice is not in writing, within 48 hours after the date of providing the initial notice, the assigned IRO will provide written confirmation of the decision to you and to UnitedHealthcare.

You may contact UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card for more information regarding external review rights, or if making a verbal request for an expedited external review.

Timing of Appeals Determinations

Separate schedules apply to the timing of claims appeals, depending on the type of claim. There are three types of claims:

- Urgent care request for Benefits - a request for Benefits provided in connection with urgent care services.
- Pre-Service request for Benefits - a request for Benefits which the Plan must approve or in which you must notify UnitedHealthcare before non-urgent care is provided.
- Post-Service - a claim for reimbursement of the cost of non-urgent care that has already been provided.

Please note that the decision is based only on whether or not Benefits are available under the Plan for the proposed treatment or procedure.

You may have the right to external review through an Independent Review Organization (IRO) upon the completion of the internal appeal process. Instructions regarding any such rights, and how to access those rights, will be provided in the Claims Administrator's decision letter to you.

The tables below describe the time frames which you and UnitedHealthcare are required to follow.

UnitedHealthcare must notify you of the second level appeal decision within:	30 days after receiving the second level appeal

Concurrent Care Claims

If an on-going course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and your request to extend the treatment is an urgent care request for Benefits as defined above, your request will be decided within 24 hours, provided your request is made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment. UnitedHealthcare will make a determination on your request for the extended treatment within 24 hours from receipt of your request.

If your request for extended treatment is not made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment, the request will be treated as an urgent care request for Benefits and decided according to the timeframes described above. If an on-going course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and you request to extend treatment in a non-urgent circumstance, your request will be considered a new request and decided according to post-service or pre-service timeframes, whichever applies.

Limitation of Action

You cannot bring any legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator to recover reimbursement until 90 days after you have properly submitted a request for reimbursement as described in this section and all required reviews of your claim have been completed. If you want to bring a legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator, you must do so within three years from the expiration of the time period in which a request for reimbursement must be submitted or you lose any rights to bring such an action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator.

You cannot bring any legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator for any other reason unless you first complete all the steps in the appeal process described in this section. After completing that process, if you want to bring a legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator you must do so within three years of the date you are notified of the final decision on your appeal or you lose any rights to bring such an action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator.

SECTION 10 - COORDINATION OF BENEFITS (COB)

What this section includes:

- How your Benefits under this Plan coordinate with other medical plans.
- How coverage is affected if you become eligible for Medicare.
- Procedures in the event the Plan overpays Benefits.

Coordination of Benefits (COB) applies to you if you are covered by more than one health benefits plan, including any one of the following:

- Another employer sponsored health benefits plan.
- A medical component of a group long-term care plan, such as skilled nursing care.
- No-fault or traditional "fault" type medical payment benefits or personal injury protection benefits under an auto insurance policy.
- Medical payment benefits under any premises liability or other types of liability coverage.
- Medicare or other governmental health benefit.

If coverage is provided under two or more plans, COB determines which plan is primary and which plan is secondary. The plan considered primary pays its benefits first, without regard to the possibility that another plan may cover some expenses. Any remaining expenses may be paid under the other plan, which is considered secondary. The secondary plan may determine its benefits based on the benefits paid by the primary plan. How much this Plan will reimburse you, if anything, will also depend in part on the allowable expense. The term, "allowable expense," is further explained below.

Don't forget to update your Dependents' Medical Coverage Information
Avoid delays on your Dependent claims by updating your Dependent's medical coverage information. Just log on to www.myuhc.com or call the toll-free number on your ID card to update your COB information. You will need the name of your Dependent's other medical coverage, along with the policy number.

Determining Which Plan is Primary

Order of Benefit Determination Rules

If you are covered by two or more plans, the benefit payment follows the rules below in this order:

- This Plan will always be secondary to medical payment coverage or personal injury protection coverage under any auto liability or no-fault insurance policy.
- When you have coverage under two or more medical plans and only one has COB provisions, the plan without COB provisions will pay benefits first.
- A plan that covers a person as an employee pays benefits before a plan that covers the person as a dependent.

- If you are receiving COBRA continuation coverage under another employer plan, this Plan will pay Benefits first.
- Your dependent children will receive primary coverage from the parent whose birth date occurs first in a calendar year. If both parents have the same birth date, the plan that pays benefits first is the one that has been in effect the longest. This birthday rule applies only if:
  - The parents are married or living together whether or not they have ever been married and not legally separated.
  - A court decree awards joint custody without specifying that one party has the responsibility to provide health care coverage.
- If two or more plans cover a dependent child of divorced or separated parents and if there is no court decree stating that one parent is responsible for health care, the child will be covered under the plan of:
  - The parent with custody of the child; then
  - The Spouse of the custodial parent; then
  - The parent not having custody of the child; then
  - The Spouse of the non-custodial parent.
- Plans for active employees pay before plans covering laid-off or retired employees.
- The plan that has covered the individual claimant the longest will pay first.
- Finally, if none of the above rules determines which plan is primary or secondary, the allowable expenses shall be shared equally between the plans meeting the definition of Plan. In addition, this Plan will not pay more than it would have paid had it been the primary Plan.

The following examples illustrate how the Plan determines which plan pays first and which plan pays second.

Determining Primary and Secondary Plan - Examples
1) Let's say you and your Spouse both have family medical coverage through your respective employers. You are unwell and go to see a Physician. Since you're covered as a Participant under this Plan, and as a Dependent under your Spouse's plan, this Plan will pay Benefits for the Physician's office visit first.
2) Again, let's say you and your Spouse both have family medical coverage through your respective employers. You take your Dependent child to see a Physician. This Plan will look at your birthday and your Spouse's birthday to determine which plan pays first. If you were born on June 11 and your Spouse was born on May 30, your Spouse's plan will pay first.

When This Plan is Secondary

If this Plan is secondary, it determines the amount it will pay for a Covered Health Service by following the steps below.

- The Plan determines the amount it would have paid based on the allowable expense.
- The Plan pays the entire difference between the allowable expense and the amount paid by the primary plan - as long as this amount is not more than the Plan would have paid had it been the only plan involved.

You will be responsible for any Copay, Coinsurance or Deductible payments as part of the COB payment. The maximum combined payment you may receive from all plans cannot exceed 100% of the allowable expense.

Determining the Allowable Expense If This Plan is Secondary

What is an allowable expense?
For purposes of COB, an allowable expense is a health care expense that is covered at least in part by one of the health benefit plans covering you.

When the provider is a Network provider for both the primary plan and this Plan, the allowable expense is the primary plan's network rate. When the provider is a network provider for the primary plan and a non-Network provider for this Plan, the allowable expense is the primary plan's network rate. When the provider is a non-Network provider for the primary plan and a Network provider for this Plan, the allowable expense is the reasonable and customary charges allowed by the primary plan. When the provider is a non-Network provider for both the primary plan and this Plan, the allowable expense is the greater of the two Plans' reasonable and customary charges. If this plan is secondary to Medicare, please also refer to the discussion in the section below, titled "Determining the Allowable Expense When This Plan is Secondary to Medicare".

When a Covered Person Qualifies for Medicare

Determining Which Plan is Primary

As permitted by law, this Plan will pay Benefits second to Medicare when you become enrolled in Medicare. There are, however, Medicare-eligible individuals for whom the Plan pays Benefits first and Medicare pays benefits second:

- Employees with active current employment status age 65 or older and their Spouses age 65 or older (however, Domestic Partners are excluded as provided by Medicare).
- Individuals with end-stage renal disease, for a limited period of time.
- Disabled individuals under age 65 with current employment status and their Dependents under age 65.

Determining the Allowable Expense When This Plan is Secondary to Medicare

If this Plan is secondary to Medicare, the Medicare approved amount is the allowable expense, as long as the provider accepts reimbursement directly from Medicare. If the provider accepts reimbursement directly from Medicare, the Medicare approved amount is the charge that Medicare has determined that it will recognize and which it reports on an "explanation of Medicare benefits" issued by Medicare (the "EOMB") for a given service. Medicare typically reimburses such providers a percentage of its approved charge – often 80%.

If the provider does not accept assignment of your Medicare benefits, the Medicare limiting charge (the most a provider can charge you if they don't accept Medicare – typically 115% of the Medicare approved amount) will be the allowable expense. Medicare payments, combined with Plan Benefits, will not exceed 100% of the allowable expense.

If you are enrolled in Medicare, and this Plan is secondary to Medicare, or if you have enrolled in Medicare but choose to obtain services from a provider that does not participate in the Medicare program (as opposed to a provider who does not accept assignment of Medicare benefits), Benefits will be paid on a secondary basis under this Plan.

When calculating the Plan's Benefits in these situations, and when Medicare does not issue an EOMB, for administrative convenience UnitedHealthcare will treat the provider's billed charges for covered services as the allowable expense for both the Plan and Medicare, rather than the Medicare approved amount or Medicare limiting charge.

Medicare Crossover Program

The Plan offers a Medicare Crossover program for Medicare Part A and Part B and Durable Medical Equipment (DME) claims. Under this program, you no longer have to file a separate claim with the Plan to receive secondary benefits for these expenses. Your Dependent will also have this automated Crossover, as long as he or she is eligible for Medicare and this Plan is your only secondary medical coverage.

Once the Medicare Part A and Part B and DME carriers have reimbursed your health care provider, the Medicare carrier will electronically submit the necessary information to the Claims Administrator to process the balance of your claim under the provisions of this Plan.

You can verify that the automated crossover took place when your copy of the explanation of Medicare benefits (EOMB) states your claim has been forwarded to your secondary carrier.

This crossover process does not apply to expenses that Medicare does not cover. You must continue to file claims for these expenses.

For information about enrollment or if you have questions about the program, call the telephone number listed on the back of your ID card.

Right to Receive and Release Needed Information

Certain facts about health care coverage and services are needed to apply these COB rules and to determine benefits payable under this Plan and other plans. UnitedHealthcare may get the facts needed from, or give them to, other organizations or persons for the purpose of applying these rules and determining benefits payable under this Plan and other plans covering the person claiming benefits.

UnitedHealthcare does not need to tell, or get the consent of, any person to do this. Each person claiming benefits under this Plan must give UnitedHealthcare any facts needed to apply those rules and determine benefits payable. If you do not provide UnitedHealthcare the information needed to apply these rules and determine the Benefits payable, your claim for Benefits will be denied.

Overpayment and Underpayment of Benefits

If you are covered under more than one medical plan, there is a possibility that the other plan will pay a benefit that the Plan should have paid. If this occurs, the Plan may pay the other plan the amount owed.

If the Plan pays you more than it owes under this COB provision, you should pay the excess back promptly. If the Covered Person, or any other person or organization that was paid, does not promptly refund the full amount, we may reduce the amount of any future Benefits that are payable under the Plan. The reductions will equal the amount of the required refund. The Company also reserves the right to recover any overpayment by legal action.

If the Plan overpays a health care provider, UnitedHealthcare reserves the right to recover the excess amount from the provider pursuant to Refund of Overpayments, below.

Refund of Overpayments

If the Plan pays for Benefits for expenses incurred on account of a Covered Person, that Covered Person, or any other person or organization that was paid, must make a refund to the Plan if:

- The Plan's obligation to pay Benefits was contingent on the expenses incurred being legally owed and paid by the Covered Person, but all or some of the expenses were not paid by the Covered Person or did not legally have to be paid by the Covered Person.
- All or some of the payment the Plan made exceeded the Benefits under the Plan.
- All or some of the payment was made in error.

The amount that must be refunded equals the amount the Plan paid in excess of the amount that should have been paid under the Plan. If the refund is due from another person or organization, the Covered Person agrees to help the Plan get the refund when requested.

If the refund is due from the Covered Person and the Covered Person does not promptly refund the full amount owed, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part, future Benefits for the Covered Person that are payable under the Plan. If the refund is due from a person or organization other than the Covered Person, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part, (i) future Benefits that are payable in connection with services provided to other Covered Persons under the Plan; or (ii) future Benefits that are payable in connection with services provided to persons under other plans for which UnitedHealthcare makes payments, pursuant to a transaction in which the Plan's overpayment recovery rights are assigned to such other plans in exchange for such plans' remittance of the amount of the reallocated payment. The reallocated payment amount will equal the amount of the required refund or, if less than the full amount of the required refund, will be deducted from the amount of refund owed to the Plan. The Plan may have other rights in addition to the right to reallocate overpaid amounts and other enumerated rights, including the right to commence a legal action.

SECTION 11 - SUBROGATION AND REIMBURSEMENT

The Plan has a right to subrogation and reimbursement. References to "you" or "your" in this Subrogation and Reimbursement section shall include you, your estate and your heirs and beneficiaries unless otherwise stated.

Subrogation applies when the plan has paid Benefits on your behalf for a Sickness or Injury for which any third party is allegedly to be responsible. The right to subrogation means that the Plan is substituted to and shall succeed to any and all legal claims that you may be entitled to pursue against any third party for the Benefits that the Plan has paid that are related to the Sickness or Injury for which any third party is considered responsible.

Subrogation - Example
Suppose you are injured in a car accident that is not your fault, and you receive Benefits under the Plan to treat your injuries. Under subrogation, the Plan has the right to take legal action in your name against the driver who caused the accident and that driver's insurance carrier to recover the cost of those Benefits.

The right to reimbursement means that if it is alleged that any third party caused or is responsible for a Sickness or Injury for which you receive a settlement, judgment, or other recovery from any third party, you must use those proceeds to fully return to the Plan 100% of any Benefits you receive for that Sickness or Injury. The right of reimbursement shall apply to any Benefits received at any time until the rights are extinguished, resolved or waived in writing.

Reimbursement - Example
Suppose you are injured in a boating accident that is not your fault, and you receive Benefits under the Plan as a result of your injuries. In addition, you receive a settlement in a court proceeding from the individual who caused the accident. You must use the settlement funds to return to the plan 100% of any Benefits you received to treat your injuries.

The following persons and entities are considered third parties:

- A person or entity alleged to have caused you to suffer a Sickness, Injury or damages, or who is legally responsible for the Sickness, Injury or damages.
- Any insurer or other indemnifier of any person or entity alleged to have caused or who caused the Sickness, Injury or damages.
- The Plan Sponsor in a workers' compensation case or other matter alleging liability.
- Any person or entity who is or may be obligated to provide Benefits or payments to you, including Benefits or payments for underinsured or uninsured motorist protection, no-fault or traditional auto insurance, medical payment coverage (auto, homeowners or otherwise), workers' compensation coverage, other insurance carriers or third party administrators.

- Any person or entity against whom you may have any claim for professional and/or legal malpractice arising out of or connected to a Sickness or Injury you allege or could have alleged were the responsibility of any third party.
- Any person or entity that is liable for payment to you on any equitable or legal liability theory.

You agree as follows:

- You will cooperate with the Plan in protecting its legal and equitable rights to subrogation and reimbursement in a timely manner, including, but not limited to:
  - Notifying the Plan, in writing, of any potential legal claim(s) you may have against any third party for acts which caused Benefits to be paid or become payable.
  - Providing any relevant information requested by the Plan.
  - Signing and/or delivering such documents as the Plan or its agents reasonably request to secure the subrogation and reimbursement claim.
  - Responding to requests for information about any accident or injuries.
  - Making court appearances.
  - Obtaining the Plan's consent or its agents' consent before releasing any party from liability or payment of medical expenses.
  - Complying with the terms of this section.

  Your failure to cooperate with the Plan is considered a breach of contract. As such, the Plan has the right to terminate your Benefits, deny future Benefits, take legal action against you, and/or set off from any future Benefits the value of Benefits the Plan has paid relating to any Sickness or Injury alleged to have been caused or caused by any third party to the extent not recovered by the Plan due to you or your representative not cooperating with the Plan. If the Plan incurs attorneys' fees and costs in order to collect third party settlement funds held by you or your representative, the Plan has the right to recover those fees and costs from you. You will also be required to pay interest on any amounts you hold which should have been returned to the Plan.
- The Plan has a first priority right to receive payment on any claim against any third party before you receive payment from that third party. Further, the Plan's first priority right to payment is superior to any and all claims, debts or liens asserted by any medical providers, including but not limited to hospitals or emergency treatment facilities, that assert a right to payment from funds payable from or recovered from an allegedly responsible third party and/or insurance carrier.
- The Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights apply to full and partial settlements, judgments, or other recoveries paid or payable to you or your representative, your estate, your heirs and beneficiaries, no matter how those proceeds are captioned or characterized. Payments include, but are not limited to, economic, non-economic, pecuniary, consortium and punitive damages. The Plan is not required to help you to pursue your claim for damages or personal injuries and no amount of associated costs, including attorneys' fees, shall be deducted from the Plan's recovery without the Plan's express written consent. No so-called "Fund Doctrine" or "Common Fund Doctrine" or "Attorney's Fund Doctrine" shall defeat this right.
- Benefits paid by the Plan may also be considered to be Benefits advanced.

- If you receive any payment from any party as a result of Sickness or Injury, and the Plan alleges some or all of those funds are due and owed to the Plan, you and/or your representative shall hold those funds in trust, either in a separate bank account in your name or in your representative's trust account.
- By participating in and accepting Benefits from the Plan, you agree that (i) any amounts recovered by you from any third party shall constitute Plan assets to the extent of the amount of Plan Benefits provided on behalf of the Covered Person, (ii) you and your representative shall be fiduciaries of the Plan (within the meaning of ERISA), if applicable with respect to such amounts, and (iii) you shall be liable for and agree to pay any costs and fees (including reasonable attorney fees) incurred by the Plan to enforce its reimbursement rights.
- The Plan's rights to recovery will not be reduced due to your own negligence.
- By participating in and accepting Benefits from the Plan, you agree to assign to the Plan any Benefits, claims or rights of recovery you have under any automobile policy - including no-fault Benefits, PIP Benefits and/or medical payment Benefits - other coverage or against any third party, to the full extent of the Benefits the Plan has paid for the Sickness or Injury. By agreeing to provide this assignment in exchange for participating in and accepting Benefits, you acknowledge and recognize the Plan's right to assert, pursue and recover on any such claim, whether or not you choose to pursue the claim, and you agree to this assignment voluntarily.
- The Plan may, at its option, take necessary and appropriate action to preserve its rights under these provisions, including but not limited to, providing or exchanging medical payment information with an insurer, the insurer's legal representative or other third party.
- The Plan has the authority and discretion to resolve all disputes regarding the interpretation of the language stated herein.
- In the case of your death, giving rise to any wrongful death or survival claim, the provisions of this section apply to your estate, the personal representative of your estate, and your heirs or beneficiaries. In the case of your death the Plan's right of reimbursement and right of subrogation shall apply if a claim can be brought on behalf of you or your estate that can include a claim for past medical expenses or damages. The obligation to reimburse the Plan is not extinguished by a release of claims or settlement agreement of any kind.
- The provisions of this section apply to the parents, guardian, or other representative of a Dependent child who incurs a Sickness or Injury caused by any third party. If a parent or guardian may bring a claim for damages arising out of a minor's Sickness or Injury, the terms of this subrogation and reimbursement clause shall apply to that claim.
- If a third party causes or is alleged to have caused you to suffer a Sickness or Injury while you are covered under this Plan, the provisions of this section continue to apply, even after you are no longer covered.
- In the event that you do not abide by the terms of the Plan pertaining to reimbursement, the Plan may terminate Benefits to you, your dependents or the participant, deny future Benefits, take legal action against you, and/or set off from any future Benefits the value of Benefits the Plan has paid relating to any Sickness or Injury alleged to have been caused or caused by any third party to the extent not recovered by the Plan due to your failure to abide by the terms of the Plan. If the Plan incurs attorneys' fees and costs in order to collect third party settlement funds held by you or your representative, the Plan has the right to recover those fees and costs from you. You will also be required to pay interest on any amounts you hold which should have been returned to the Plan.

- The Plan and all Administrators administering the terms and conditions of the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights have such powers and duties as are necessary to discharge its duties and functions, including the exercise of its discretionary authority to (1) construe and enforce the terms of the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights and (2) make determinations with respect to the subrogation amounts and reimbursements owed to the Plan.

Right of Recovery

The Plan also has the right to recover Benefits it has paid on you or your Dependent's behalf that were:

- Made in error.
- Due to a mistake in fact.
- Advanced during the time period of meeting the calendar year Deductible.
- Advanced during the time period of meeting the Out-of-Pocket Maximum for the calendar year.

Benefits paid because you or your Dependent misrepresented facts are also subject to recovery.

If the Plan provides a Benefit for you or your Dependent that exceeds the amount that should have been paid, the Plan will:

- Require that the overpayment be returned when requested.
- Reduce a future Benefit payment for you or your Dependent by the amount of the overpayment.

If the Plan provides an advancement of Benefits to you or your Dependent during the time period of meeting the Deductible and/or meeting the Out-of-Pocket Maximum for the calendar year, the Plan will send you or your Dependent a monthly statement identifying the amount you owe with payment instructions. The Plan has the right to recover Benefits it has advanced by:

- Submitting a reminder letter to you or a covered Dependent that details any outstanding balance owed to the Plan.
- Conducting courtesy calls to you or a covered Dependent to discuss any outstanding balance owed to the Plan.

SECTION 12 - WHEN COVERAGE ENDS

What this section includes:
- Circumstances that cause coverage to end.
- Extended coverage.
- How to continue coverage after it ends.

Your entitlement to Benefits automatically ends on the date that coverage ends, even if you are hospitalized or are otherwise receiving medical treatment on that date. Please note that this does not affect coverage that is extended under Extended Coverage for Total Disability below.

When your coverage ends, the Plan Administrator will still pay claims for Covered Health Services that you received before your coverage ended. However, once your coverage ends, Benefits are not provided for health services that you receive after coverage ended, even if the underlying medical condition occurred before your coverage ended. Please note that this does not affect coverage that is extended under Extended Coverage for Total Disability below.

Your coverage under the Plan will end on the earliest of:

- The last day of the month your employment with the Company ends.
- The date the Plan ends.
- The last day of the month you stop making the required contributions.
- The last day of the month you are no longer eligible.
- The last day of the month UnitedHealthcare receives written notice from the Plan Administrator to end your coverage, or the date requested in the notice.
- The last day of the month you retire or are pensioned under the Plan, unless specific coverage is available for retired or pensioned persons and you are eligible for that coverage.

Coverage for your eligible Dependents will end on the earliest of:

- The date your coverage ends.
- The last day of the month you stop making the required contributions.
- The last day of the month UnitedHealthcare receives written notice from The Plan Administrator to end your coverage, or the date requested in the notice.
- The last day of the month your Dependents no longer qualify as Dependents under this Plan.

Other Events Ending Your Coverage

The Plan will provide at least thirty days' prior written notice to you that your coverage will end on the date identified in the notice if you commit an act, practice, or omission that constituted fraud, or an intentional misrepresentation of a material fact including, but not limited to, knowingly providing incorrect information relating to another person's eligibility or status as a Dependent, improper use of ID, failure to pay, or threatening behavior. You may appeal this decision during the 30-day notice period. The notice will contain information on how to pursue your appeal.

Note: If UnitedHealthcare and the Company find that you have performed an act, practice, or omission that constitutes fraud, or have made an intentional misrepresentation of material fact, Adams County Government has the right to demand that you pay back all Benefits Adams County Government paid to you, or paid in your name, during the time you were incorrectly covered under the Plan. Failure to comply with the eligibility requirements as set forth in this SPD may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including, termination of employment.

Coverage for a Disabled Child

If an unmarried enrolled Dependent child with a mental or physical disability reaches an age when coverage would otherwise end, the Plan will continue to cover the child, as long as:

- The child is unable to be self-supporting due to a mental or physical handicap or disability.
- The child depends mainly on you for support.
- You provide to the Plan Administrator proof of the child's incapacity and dependency within 31 days of the date coverage would have otherwise ended because the child reached a certain age.
- You provide proof, upon the Plan Administrator's request, that the child continues to meet these conditions.

The proof might include medical examinations at the Plan Administrator's expense. However, you will not be asked for this information more than once a year. If you do not supply such proof within 31 days, the Plan will no longer pay Benefits for that child.

Coverage will continue, as long as the enrolled Dependent is incapacitated and dependent upon you, unless coverage is otherwise terminated in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

Extended Coverage for Total Disability

If a Covered Person has a Total Disability on the date their coverage under the Plan ends, their Benefits will not end automatically. The Plan will temporarily extend coverage, only for treatment of the condition causing the Total Disability. Benefits will be paid until the earlier of:

- The Total Disability ends.
- Twelve months from the date coverage would have ended.

Continuing Coverage Through COBRA

COBRA continuation coverage is a temporary extension of coverage under the Plan. When you become eligible for COBRA, you may also become eligible for other coverage options that may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage.

The right to COBRA continuation coverage was created by a federal law, the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA). COBRA continuation coverage can become available to you and other members of your family when group health coverage would otherwise end.

You may have other options available to you when you lose group health coverage. For example, you may be eligible to buy an individual plan through the Health Insurance Marketplace. By enrolling in coverage through the Marketplace, you may qualify for lower costs on your monthly premiums and lower out-of-pocket costs. Additionally, you may qualify for Medicaid, or for a 30-day special enrollment period to enroll in another group health plan for which you are eligible (such as a spouse's plan), even if that plan generally doesn't accept late enrollees. Some of these options may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage. You can learn more about many of these options at www.healthcare.gov.

COBRA continuation coverage is a continuation of Plan coverage when it would otherwise end because of a life event. This is also called a "qualifying event." After a qualifying event, COBRA continuation coverage must be offered to each person who is a "qualified beneficiary." You, your spouse, and your dependent children could become qualified beneficiaries if coverage under the Plan is lost because of a qualifying event. Under the Plan, qualified beneficiaries who elect COBRA continuation coverage must pay for COBRA continuation coverage.

Qualified Beneficiaries

A Qualified Beneficiary generally is any individual covered by a group health plan on the day before a Qualifying Event, such as an employee, the employee's spouse, and dependent children. Dependents continuing coverage under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) are not considered to be Qualified Beneficiaries for COBRA purposes.

A child born to, placed for adoption with, or adopted by the covered employee during a period of COBRA coverage will be considered on the same basis as the covered employee.

Qualifying Events

A Qualifying Event is a life event that would cause the Qualified Beneficiary to lose coverage under the Plan including;

- Termination of employment (other than for gross misconduct), reduction in hours of an eligible employee
- Divorce, legal separation, dependent cessation (a child no longer qualifies as an eligible dependent under the Plan)

- Death of the employee
- Extended military leave of the employee
- Medicare entitlement (Part A, Part B or both) of the employee.

The taking of leave under the Family Medical Leave Act does not constitute a Qualifying Event under COBRA.

COBRA continuation coverage begins on the date that Plan coverage would otherwise have been lost. Qualified Beneficiaries electing continuation coverage must pay 102 percent of the cost of that coverage.

The Plan will offer COBRA continuation coverage to Qualified Beneficiaries only after the Plan Administrator has been notified that a Qualifying Event has occurred. For a Qualifying Event such as termination of employment, reduction in hours, death of the employee, or extended military leave of the employee, the employer will notify the Plan Administrator within 31 days of the qualifying event. The Plan Administrator will notify you within 14 days of your rights, enrollment deadlines and the premium required for your continued coverage. Each Qualified Beneficiary will have an independent right to elect continuation coverage.

You must notify the Plan Administrator in writing in the event of a divorce or legal separation, Medicare entitlement (Part A, Part B or both), or in the event a child no longer qualifies as a dependent, as soon as possible, but no later than 60 days after the date of the Qualifying Event. The Plan Administrator will notify you within 14 days of your rights, enrollment deadlines and the premium required for your continued coverage.

How long coverage may be continued

- Up to 18 months for the reason of termination of employment (other than for gross misconduct) or reduction in hours of an eligible employee
- Up to 24 months for the reason of continued military leave as defined by USERRA
- Up to 36 months for the reason of death of an employee, a divorce or legal separation, the employee becoming entitled to Medicare benefits (Part A, Part B or both), or a dependent child ceasing to be eligible under the plan
- Up to 36 months for Qualified Beneficiaries, other than the employee, if the Qualifying Event is termination of employment or reduction in hours of the employee, and the employee became entitled to Medicare benefits (Part A, Part B or both) less than 18 months before the Qualifying Event.

Extended Coverage due to Disability

Coverage could be extended up to 11 months, for a total of 29 months of coverage, for all Qualified Beneficiaries if:

- A Qualified Beneficiary is totally disabled according to the Social Security Administration before the 60th day of COBRA continuation coverage, lasting at least until the end of the 18-month period of continuation coverage; and

- The employee or eligible dependent provides the Human Resources Department with a copy of the Social Security Administration (SSA) Determination of Total Disability (notice must be received within the initial 18 months of continued coverage); and
- Timely premium payments are made (premiums are increased to 150 percent of the cost of coverage for the additional 11 months).
- The Plan Administrator must be notified within 31 days if the Qualified Beneficiary is no longer considered disabled by the Social Security Administration.

Employees disabled while continuing coverage under USERRA are not eligible for the 11-month extension rule.

Second Qualifying Events

Coverage for qualified dependents could be extended up to 36 months from the date of the Initial Qualifying Event if:

- The covered employee dies
- A divorce or legal separation from the covered employee occurs
- A covered dependent child no longer qualifies as an eligible dependent
- A covered employee subsequently becomes entitled to Medicare (Part A, Part B or both) during the initial 18-month COBRA period.

These events can be a Second Qualifying Event only if they would have caused the Qualified Beneficiary to lose coverage under the Plan if the Initial Qualifying Event had not occurred. You must notify the Human Resources Department within 60 days after a Second Qualifying Event occurs if you wish to extend coverage.

For Additional Questions

For more information about your rights and obligations under the Plan and federal law you may contact the nearest regional or district office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA). Addresses and phone numbers of the EBSA Offices are available through the EBSA website at www.dol.gov/ebsa.

Getting Started

You will be notified by mail if you become eligible for COBRA coverage as a result of a reduction in work hours or termination of employment. The notification will give you instructions for electing COBRA coverage, and advise you of the monthly cost. Your monthly cost is the full cost, including both Participant and Employer costs, plus a 2% administrative fee or other cost as permitted by law.

You will have up to 60 days from the date you receive notification or 60 days from the date your coverage ends to elect COBRA coverage, whichever is later. You will then have an additional 45 days to pay the cost of your COBRA coverage, retroactive to the date your Plan coverage ended.

During the 60-day election period, the Plan will, only in response to a request from a provider, inform that provider of your right to elect COBRA coverage, retroactive to the date your COBRA eligibility began.

While you are a participant in the medical Plan under COBRA, you have the right to change your coverage election:

- During Open Enrollment.
- Following a change in family status, as described under Changing Your Coverage in Section 2, Introduction.

Trade Act of 2002

The Trade Act of 2002 amended COBRA to provide for a special second 60-day COBRA election period for certain Participants who have experienced a termination or reduction of hours and who lose group health plan coverage as a result. The special second COBRA election period is available only to a very limited group of individuals: generally, those who are receiving trade adjustment assistance (TAA) or 'alternative trade adjustment assistance' under a federal law called the Trade Act of 1974. These Participants are entitled to a second opportunity to elect COBRA coverage for themselves and certain family members (if they did not already elect COBRA coverage), but only within a limited period of 60 days from the first day of the month when an individual begins receiving TAA (or would be eligible to receive TAA but for the requirement that unemployment benefits be exhausted) and only during the six months immediately after their group health plan coverage ended.

If a Participant qualifies or may qualify for assistance under the Trade Act of 1974, he or she should contact the Plan Administrator for additional information. The Participant must contact the Plan Administrator promptly after qualifying for assistance under the Trade Act of 1974 or the Participant will lose his or her special COBRA rights. COBRA coverage elected during the special second election period is not retroactive to the date that Plan coverage was lost, but begins on the first day of the special second election period.

Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act

A Participant who is absent from employment for more than 30 days by reason of service in the Uniformed Services may elect to continue Plan coverage for the Participant and the Participant's Dependents in accordance with the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994, as amended (USERRA).

The terms "Uniformed Services" or "Military Service" mean the Armed Forces, the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard when engaged in active duty for training, inactive duty training, or full-time National Guard duty, the commissioned corps of the Public Health Service, and any other category of persons designated by the President in time of war or national emergency.

If qualified to continue coverage pursuant to the USERRA, Participants may elect to continue coverage under the Plan by notifying the Plan Administrator in advance, and providing payment of any required contribution for the health coverage. This may include the amount the Plan Administrator normally pays on a Participant's behalf. If a Participant's

Military Service is for a period of time less than 31 days, the Participant may not be required to pay more than the regular contribution amount, if any, for continuation of health coverage.

A Participant may continue Plan coverage under USERRA for up to the lesser of:

- The 24 month period beginning on the date of the Participant's termination of coverage under the Plan.
- The day after the date on which the Participant fails to apply for, or return to, a position of employment.

Regardless of whether a Participant continues health coverage, if the Participant returns to a position of employment, the Participant's health coverage and that of the Participant's eligible Dependents will be reinstated under the Plan. No exclusions or waiting period may be imposed on a Participant or the Participant's eligible Dependents in connection with this reinstatement, unless a Sickness or Injury is determined by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to have been incurred in, or aggravated during, the performance of military service.

You should call the Plan Administrator if you have questions about your rights to continue health coverage under USERRA.

SECTION 13 - OTHER IMPORTANT INFORMATION

What this section includes:

- Court-ordered Benefits for Dependent children.
- Your relationship with UnitedHealthcare and the Company.
- Relationships with providers.
- Interpretation of Benefits.
- Information and records.
- Incentives to providers and you.
- The future of the Plan.
- How to access the official Plan documents.

Qualified Medical Child Support Orders (QMCSOs)

A qualified medical child support order (QMCSO) is a judgment, decree or order issued by a court or appropriate state agency that requires a child to be covered for medical benefits. Generally, a QMCSO is issued as part of a paternity, divorce, or other child support settlement.

If the Plan receives a medical child support order for your child that instructs the Plan to cover the child, the Plan Administrator will review it to determine if it meets the requirements for a QMCSO. If it determines that it does, your child will be enrolled in the Plan as your Dependent, and the Plan will be required to pay Benefits as directed by the order.

You may obtain, without charge, a copy of the procedures governing QMCSOs from the Plan Administrator.

Note: A National Medical Support Notice will be recognized as a QMCSO if it meets the requirements of a QMCSO.

Your Relationship with UnitedHealthcare and the Company

In order to make choices about your health care coverage and treatment, Adams County Government believes that it is important for you to understand how UnitedHealthcare interacts with the Plan Sponsor's benefit Plan and how it may affect you. UnitedHealthcare helps administer the Plan Sponsor's benefit plan in which you are enrolled. UnitedHealthcare does not provide medical services or make treatment decisions. This means:

- The Company and UnitedHealthcare do not decide what care you need or will receive. You and your Physician make those decisions.
- UnitedHealthcare communicates to you decisions about whether the Plan will cover or pay for the health care that you may receive. The Plan pays for Covered Health Services, which are more fully described in this SPD.

- The Plan may not pay for all treatments you or your Physician may believe are necessary. If the Plan does not pay, you will be responsible for the cost.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may use individually identifiable information about you to identify for you (and you alone) procedures, products or services that you may find valuable. The Company and UnitedHealthcare will use individually identifiable information about you as permitted or required by law, including in operations and in research. The Company and UnitedHealthcare will use de-identified data for commercial purposes including research.

Relationship with Providers

The Claims Administrator has agreements in place that govern the relationships between it and the Company and Network providers, some of which are affiliated providers. Network providers enter into agreements with the Claims Administrator to provide Covered Health Services to Covered Persons.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare do not provide health care services or supplies, nor do they practice medicine. Instead, the Company and UnitedHealthcare arrange for health care providers to participate in a Network and administer payment of Benefits. Network providers are independent practitioners who run their own offices and facilities. UnitedHealthcare's credentialing process confirms public information about the providers' licenses and other credentials, but does not assure the quality of the services provided. They are not the Company's employees nor are they employees of UnitedHealthcare. The Company and UnitedHealthcare are not responsible for any act or omission of any provider.

UnitedHealthcare is not considered to be an employer of the Plan Administrator for any purpose with respect to the administration or provision of benefits under this Plan.

The Company is solely responsible for:

- Enrollment and classification changes (including classification changes resulting in your enrollment or the termination of your coverage).
- The timely payment of the service fee to UnitedHealthcare.
- The funding of Benefits on a timely basis.
- Notifying you of the termination or modifications to the Plan.

When the Plan Sponsor establishes the Plan to provide coverage under a benefit plan governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA"), 29 U.S.C. §1001 et seq., the Claims Administrator is not the plan administrator or named fiduciary of the benefit plan, as those terms are used in ERISA. If you have questions about your welfare benefit plan, you should contact the Plan Sponsor. If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, contact the nearest area office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, U. S. Department of Labor.

Your Relationship with Providers

The relationship between you and any provider is that of provider and patient.

- You are responsible for choosing your own provider.
- You are responsible for paying, directly to your provider, any amount identified as a member responsibility, including Copayments, Coinsurance, any deductible and any amount that exceeds Eligible Expenses.
- You are responsible for paying, directly to your provider, the cost of any non-Covered Health Service.
- You must decide if any provider treating you is right for you. This includes Network providers you choose and providers to whom you have been referred.
- Must decide with your provider what care you should receive.
- Your provider is solely responsible for the quality of the services provided to you.

The relationship between you and the Company is that of employer and employee, Dependent or other classification as defined in the SPD.

Interpretation of Benefits

The Company and UnitedHealthcare have the sole and exclusive discretion to:

- Interpret Benefits under the Plan.
- Interpret the other terms, conditions, limitations and exclusions of the Plan, including this SPD and any Summary of Material Modifications and/or Amendments.
- Make factual determinations related to the Plan and its Benefits.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may delegate this discretionary authority to other persons or entities that provide services in regard to the administration of the Plan.

In certain circumstances, for purposes of overall cost savings or efficiency, the Company may, in its discretion, offer Benefits for services that would otherwise not be Covered Health Services. The fact that the Company does so in any particular case shall not in any way be deemed to require the Company to do so in other similar cases.

Information and Records

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may use your individually identifiable health information to administer the Plan and pay claims, to identify procedures, products, or services that you may find valuable, and as otherwise permitted or required by law. The Company and UnitedHealthcare may request additional information from you to decide your claim for Benefits. The Company and UnitedHealthcare will keep this information confidential. The Company and UnitedHealthcare may also use your de-identified data for commercial purposes, including research, as permitted by law.

By accepting Benefits under the Plan, you authorize and direct any person or institution that has provided services to you to furnish the Company and UnitedHealthcare with all information or copies of records relating to the services provided to you. The Company and UnitedHealthcare have the right to request this information at any reasonable time. This applies to all Covered Persons, including enrolled Dependents whether or not they have signed the Participant's enrollment form. The Company and UnitedHealthcare agree that such information and records will be considered confidential.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare have the right to release any and all records concerning health care services which are necessary to implement and administer the terms of the Plan, for appropriate medical review or quality assessment, or as the Company is required to do by law or regulation. During and after the term of the Plan, The Company and UnitedHealthcare and its related entities may use and transfer the information gathered under the Plan in a de-identified format for commercial purposes, including research and analytic purposes.

For complete listings of your medical records or billing statements the Company recommends that you contact your health care provider. Providers may charge you reasonable fees to cover their costs for providing records or completing requested forms.

If you request medical forms or records from UnitedHealthcare, they also may charge you reasonable fees to cover costs for completing the forms or providing the records.

In some cases, as permitted by law, the Company and UnitedHealthcare will designate other persons or entities to request records or information from or related to you, and to release those records as necessary. UnitedHealthcare's designees have the same rights to this information as does the Plan Administrator.

Incentives to Providers

Network providers may be provided financial incentives by UnitedHealthcare to promote the delivery of health care in a cost efficient and effective manner. These financial incentives are not intended to affect your access to health care.

Examples of financial incentives for Network providers are:

- Bonuses for performance based on factors that may include quality, member satisfaction, and/or cost-effectiveness.
- A practice called capitation which is when a group of Network providers receives a monthly payment from UnitedHealthcare for each Covered Person who selects a Network provider within the group to perform or coordinate certain health services. The Network providers receive this monthly payment regardless of whether the cost of providing or arranging to provide the Covered Person's health care is less than or more than the payment.
- Bundled payments - certain Network providers receive a bundled payment for a group of Covered Health Services for a particular procedure or medical condition. Your Copayment and/or Coinsurance will be calculated based on the provider type that received the bundled payment. The Network providers receive these bundled payments regardless of whether the cost of providing or arranging to provide the Covered Person's health care is less than or more than the payment. If you receive follow-up services related to a procedure where a bundled payment is made, an additional Copayment and/or Coinsurance may not be required if such follow-up services are included in the bundled payment. You may receive some Covered Health Services that are not considered part of the inclusive bundled payment and those Covered Health Services would be subject to the applicable Copayment and/or Coinsurance as described in your Plan Highlights.

If you have any questions regarding financial incentives you may contact the telephone number on your ID card. You can ask whether your Network provider is paid by any financial incentive, including those listed above; however, the specific terms of the contract, including rates of payment, are confidential and cannot be disclosed. In addition, you may choose to discuss these financial incentives with your Network provider.

Incentives to You

Sometimes you may be offered coupons or other incentives to encourage you to participate in various wellness programs or certain disease management programs, surveys, discount programs and/or programs to seek care in a more cost effective setting and/or from Designated Providers. In some instances, these programs may be offered in combination with a non-UnitedHealthcare entity. The decision about whether or not to participate is yours alone but we recommend that you discuss participating in such programs with your Physician. These incentives are not Benefits and do not alter or affect your Benefits. You may call the number on your ID card if you have any questions. Additional information may be found in Section 7, Clinical Programs and Resources.

Rebates and Other Payments

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may receive rebates for certain drugs that are administered to you in a Physician's office, or at a Hospital or Alternate Facility. This includes rebates for those drugs that are administered to you before you meet your Annual Deductible. The Company and UnitedHealthcare may pass a portion of these rebates on to you. When rebates are passed on to you, they may be taken into account in determining your Copays.

Workers' Compensation Not Affected

Benefits provided under the Plan do not substitute for and do not affect any requirements for coverage by workers' compensation insurance.

Future of the Plan

Although the Company expects to continue the Plan indefinitely, it reserves the right to discontinue, alter or modify the Plan in whole or in part, at any time and for any reason, at its sole determination.

The Company's decision to terminate or amend a Plan may be due to changes in federal or state laws governing employee benefits, the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code or any other reason. A plan change may transfer plan assets and debts to another plan or split a plan into two or more parts. If the Company does change or terminate a plan, it may decide to set up a different plan providing similar or different benefits.

If this Plan is terminated, Covered Persons will not have the right to any other Benefits from the Plan, other than for those claims incurred prior to the date of termination, or as otherwise provided under the Plan. In addition, if the Plan is amended, Covered Persons may be subject to altered coverage and Benefits.

The amount and form of any final benefit you receive will depend on any Plan document or contract provisions affecting the Plan and Company decisions. After all Benefits have been paid and other requirements of the law have been met, certain remaining Plan assets will be turned over to the Company and others as may be required by any applicable law.

Plan Document

This Summary Plan Description (SPD) is the official plan document that has been adopted by the Company. There is no other document that controls the benefits under the Plan.

Review and Determine Benefits in Accordance with UnitedHealthcare Reimbursement Policies

UnitedHealthcare develops its reimbursement policy guidelines, in its sole discretion, in accordance with one or more of the following methodologies:

- As indicated in the most recent edition of the Current Procedural Terminology (CPT), a publication of the American Medical Association, and/or the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).
- As reported by generally recognized professionals or publications.
- As used for Medicare.
- As determined by medical staff and outside medical consultants pursuant to other appropriate sources or determinations that UnitedHealthcare accepts.

Following evaluation and validation of certain provider billings (e.g., error, abuse and fraud reviews), UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies are applied to provider billings. UnitedHealthcare shares its reimbursement policies with Physicians and other providers in UnitedHealthcare's Network through UnitedHealthcare's provider website. Network Physicians and providers may not bill you for the difference between their contract rate (as may be modified by UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies) and the billed charge. However, non-Network providers are not subject to this prohibition, and may bill you for any amounts the Plan does not pay, including amounts that are denied because one of UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies does not reimburse (in whole or in part) for the service billed. You may obtain copies of UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies for yourself or to share with your non-Network Physician or provider by going to www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.

UnitedHealthcare may apply a reimbursement methodology established by OptumInsight and/or a third party vendor, which is based on CMS coding principles, to determine appropriate reimbursement levels for Emergency Health Services. The methodology is usually based on elements reflecting the patient complexity, direct costs, and indirect costs of an Emergency Health Service. If the methodology(ies) currently in use become no longer available, UnitedHealthcare will use a comparable methodology(ies). UnitedHealthcare and OptumInsight are related companies through common ownership by UnitedHealth Group. Refer to UnitedHealthcare's website at www.myuhc.com for information regarding the vendor that provides the applicable methodology.

Mental Health Services - services for the diagnosis and treatment of those mental health or psychiatric categories that are listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The fact that a condition is listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association does not mean that treatment for the condition is a Covered Health Service.

Mental Health/Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Administrator - the organization or individual designated by the Plan Administrator who provides or arranges Mental Health Services and Substance-Related and Addictive Disorder Services under the Plan.

Mental Illness – those mental health or psychiatric diagnostic categories listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The Claims Administrator's affiliates are those entities affiliated with the Claims Administrator through common ownership or control with the Claims Administrator or with the Claims Administrator's ultimate corporate parent, including direct and indirect subsidiaries.

A provider may enter into an agreement to provide only certain Covered Health Services, but not all Covered Health Services, or to be a Network provider for only some products. In this case, the provider will be a Network provider for the Covered Health Services and products included in the participation agreement, and a non-Network provider for other Covered Health Services and products. The participation status of providers will change from time to time.

Network Benefits - for Benefit Plans that have a Network Benefit level, this is the description of how Benefits are paid for Covered Health Services provided by Network providers. Refer to Section 5, Plan Highlights to determine whether or not your Benefit plan offers Network Benefits and Section 3, How the Plan Works, for details about how Network Benefits apply.

Pharmaceutical Product(s) – U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA)-approved prescription medications or products administered in connection with a Covered Health Service by a Physician.

Physician - any Doctor of Medicine or Doctor of Osteopathy who is properly licensed and qualified by law.

Please note: Any podiatrist, dentist, psychologist, chiropractor, optometrist or other provider who acts within the scope of his or her license will be considered on the same basis as a Physician. The fact that a provider is described as a Physician does not mean that Benefits for services from that provider are available to you under the Plan.

Plan - The Adams County Government Choice Health Benefit Plan.

Plan Administrator - Adams County Government or its designee.

Plan Sponsor - Adams County Government, references to "we", "us" and "our" refer to the Plan Sponsor.

- Skilled nursing resources are available in the facility.
- The skilled care can be provided by a Home Health Agency on a per visit basis for a specific purpose.

Reconstructive Procedure - a procedure performed to address a physical impairment where the expected outcome is restored or improved function. The primary purpose of a Reconstructive Procedure is either to treat a medical condition or to improve or restore physiologic function. Reconstructive Procedures include surgery or other procedures which are associated with an Injury, Sickness or Congenital Anomaly. The primary result of the procedure is not changed or improved physical appearance. The fact that a person may suffer psychologically as a result of the impairment does not classify surgery or any other procedure done to relieve the impairment as a Reconstructive Procedure.

- It is established and operated in accordance with applicable state law for Residential Treatment programs.

Semi-private Room - a room with two or more beds. When an Inpatient Stay in a Semi-private Room is a Covered Health Service, the difference in cost between a Semi-private Room and a private room is a benefit only when a private room is necessary in terms of generally accepted medical practice, or when a Semi-private Room is not available.

Shared Savings Program – a program in which UnitedHealthcare may obtain a discount to a non-Network provider's billed charges. This discount is usually based on a schedule previously agreed to by the non-Network provider. When this happens, you may experience lower out-of-pocket amounts. Plan coinsurance and any applicable deductible would still apply to the reduced charge. Sometimes Plan provisions or administrative practices supersede the scheduled rate, and a different rate is determined by UnitedHealthcare. This means, when contractually permitted, the Plan may pay the lesser of the Shared Savings Program discount or an amount determined by the Claims Administrator, such as a percentage of the published rates allowed by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) for the same or similar service within the geographic market, an amount determined based on available data resources of competitive fees in that geographic area, a fee schedule established by a third party vendor or a negotiated rate with the provider. In this case the non-Network provider may bill you for the difference between the billed amount and the rate determined by UnitedHealthcare. If this happens you should call the number on your ID Card. Shared Savings Program providers are not Network providers and are not credentialed by UnitedHealthcare.

Sickness - physical illness, disease or Pregnancy. The term Sickness as used in this SPD includes Mental Illness or substance-related and addictive disorders, regardless of the cause or origin of the Mental Illness or substance-related and addictive disorder.

Skilled Care - skilled nursing, teaching, and rehabilitation services when:

- They are delivered or supervised by licensed technical or professional medical personnel in order to obtain the specified medical outcome and provide for the safety of the patient.
- A Physician orders them.
- They are not delivered for the purpose of assisting with activities of daily living, including dressing, feeding, bathing or transferring from a bed to a chair.
- They require clinical training in order to be delivered safely and effectively.
- They are not Custodial Care, as defined in this section.

Skilled Nursing Facility - a Hospital or nursing facility that is licensed and operated as required by law. A Skilled Nursing Facility that is part of a Hospital is considered a Skilled Nursing Facility for purposes of the Plan.

Specialist Physician - a Physician who has a majority of his or her practice in areas other than general pediatrics, internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, family practice or general medicine.

Spouse - an individual who meets the eligibility requirements specified in the Plan, as described under Eligibility in Section 2, Introduction.

Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Services - services for the diagnosis and treatment of alcoholism and substance-related and addictive disorders that are listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The fact that a disorder is listed in the edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association does not mean that treatment of the disorder is a Covered Health Service.

Surrogate - a female who becomes pregnant usually by artificial insemination or transfer of a fertilized egg (embryo) for the purpose of carrying the fetus for another person. The surrogate provides the egg and is therefore biologically (genetically) related to the child.

Total Disability or Totally Disabled - a Participant's inability to perform all of the substantial and material duties of his or her regular employment or occupation; and a Dependent's or retired person's inability to perform the normal activities of a person of like age and gender.

Transitional Living - Mental Health Services and Substance-Related and Addictive Disorder Services that are provided through facilities, group homes and supervised apartments that provide 24-hour supervision that are either:

- Sober living arrangements such as drug-free housing or alcohol/drug halfway houses. These are transitional, supervised living arrangements that provide stable and safe housing, an alcohol/drug-free environment and support for recovery. A sober living arrangement may be utilized as an adjunct to ambulatory treatment when treatment doesn't offer the intensity and structure needed to assist the Covered Person with recovery.
- Supervised living arrangements which are residences such as facilities, group homes and supervised apartments that provide members with stable and safe housing and the opportunity to learn how to manage their activities of daily living. Supervised living arrangements may be utilized as an adjunct to treatment when treatment doesn't offer the intensity and structure needed to assist the Covered Person with recovery.

Unproven Services - health services, including medications that are determined not to be effective for treatment of the medical condition and/or not to have a beneficial effect on health outcomes due to insufficient and inadequate clinical evidence from well-conducted randomized controlled trials or cohort studies in the prevailing published peer-reviewed medical literature.

- Well-conducted randomized controlled trials are two or more treatments compared to each other, with the patient not being allowed to choose which treatment is received.
- Well-conducted cohort studies from more than one institution are studies in which patients who receive study treatment are compared to a group of patients who receive standard therapy. The comparison group must be nearly identical to the study treatment group.

UnitedHealthcare has a process by which it compiles and reviews clinical evidence with respect to certain health services. From time to time, UnitedHealthcare issues medical and drug policies that describe the clinical evidence available with respect to specific health care services. These medical and drug policies are subject to change without prior notice. You can view these policies at www.myuhc.com.

Please note:

- If you have a life threatening Sickness or condition (one that is likely to cause death within one year of the request for treatment), UnitedHealthcare may, at its discretion, consider an otherwise Unproven Service to be a Covered Health Service for that Sickness or condition. Prior to such a consideration, UnitedHealthcare must first establish that there is sufficient evidence to conclude that, albeit unproven, the service has significant potential as an effective treatment for that Sickness or condition.

The decision about whether such a service can be deemed a Covered Health Service is solely at UnitedHealthcare's discretion. Other apparently similar promising but unproven services may not qualify.

Urgent Care - care that requires prompt attention to avoid adverse consequences, but does not pose an immediate threat to a person's life. Urgent care is usually delivered in a walk-in setting and without an appointment. Urgent care facilities are a location, distinct from a hospital emergency department, an office or a clinic. The purpose is to diagnose and treat illness or injury for unscheduled, ambulatory patients seeking immediate medical attention.

Urgent Care Center - a facility that provides Covered Health Services that are required to prevent serious deterioration of your health, and that are required as a result of an unforeseen Sickness, Injury, or the onset of acute or severe symptoms.

SECTION 15 - OUTPATIENT PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

What this section includes:

- Benefits available for Prescription Drug Products.
- How to utilize the retail and mail order service for obtaining Prescription Drug Products.
- Any Benefit limitations and exclusions that exist for Prescription Drug Products.
- Definitions of terms used throughout this section related to the Prescription Drug Product Plan.

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products

Benefits are available for Prescription Drug Products at a Network Pharmacy and are subject to Copayments or other payments that vary depending on which of the tiers of the Prescription Drug List (PDL) the Prescription Drug Product is listed. Refer to the Outpatient Prescription Drug Schedule of Benefits for applicable Copayments requirements.

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products are available when the Prescription Drug Product meets the definition of a Covered Health Service or is prescribed to prevent conception.

What You Must Pay

You are responsible for paying the Annual Drug Deductible.

You are responsible for paying the applicable Copayment described in the Payment Information - Outpatient Prescription Drugs table or Schedule of Benefits - Outpatient Prescription Drugs.

The amount you pay for any of the following under this section will be included in calculating any Out-of-Pocket Maximum stated in your SPD:

- Copayments for Prescription Drug Products.
- Coinsurance for Prescription Drug Products.
- The Annual Drug Deductible.

The amount you pay for any of the following under this section will not be included in calculating any Out-of-Pocket Maximum stated in your SPD:

- Certain coupons or offers from pharmaceutical manufacturers. You may access information on which coupons or offers are not permitted through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.
- Any non-covered drug product. You are responsible for paying 100% of the cost (the amount the pharmacy charges you) for any non-covered drug product and our contracted rates (our Prescription Drug Charge) will not be available to you.

Payment Terms and Features - Outpatient Prescription Drugs

Prescription Drug Product Coverage Highlights

The table below provides an overview of the Plan's Prescription Drug Product coverage. It includes Copay amounts that apply when you have a prescription filled at a Network Pharmacy after you meet the Annual Prescription Drug Deductible. For detailed descriptions of your Benefits, refer to Retail and Mail Order in this section.

Note: An Annual Prescription Drug Deductible of $100 per Covered Person, not to exceed $300 for all Covered Persons in the family applies to your Network Benefits, which is separate from the Annual Deductible for your medical coverage. Copays do not apply toward the Annual Prescription Drug Deductible.

Coupons: UnitedHealthcare may not permit certain coupons or offers from pharmaceutical manufacturers to reduce your Copayment or apply to your Annual Drug Deductible. You may access information on which coupons or offers are not permitted through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the number on your ID card.

If a Brand-name Drug Becomes Available as a Generic

If a Brand-name Prescription Drug Product becomes available as a Generic drug, the tier placement of the Brand-name Prescription Drug Product may change. As a result, your Copay may change. You will pay the Copay applicable for the tier to which the Prescription Drug Product is assigned.

Notification Requirements

Before certain Prescription Drug Products are dispensed to you, it is the responsibility of your Physician, your pharmacist or you to notify UnitedHealthcare or its designee. The reason for notifying UnitedHealthcare or its designee is to determine if the Prescription Drug Product, in accordance with UnitedHealthcare's approved guidelines, is each of the following:

- It meets the definition of a Covered Health Service as defined by the Plan.
- It is not an Experimental or Investigational or Unproven Service, as defined in Section 14, Glossary.

The Plan may also require you to notify UnitedHealthcare or its designee so UnitedHealthcare can determine whether the Prescription Drug Product, in accordance with UnitedHealthcare's approved guidelines, was prescribed by a Specialist Physician.

Network Pharmacy Notification

When Prescription Drug Products are dispensed at a Network Pharmacy, the prescribing provider, the pharmacist, or you are responsible for notifying UnitedHealthcare.

If UnitedHealthcare is not notified before the Prescription Drug Product is dispensed, you can ask UnitedHealthcare to consider reimbursement after you receive the Prescription Drug Product. You will be required to pay for the Prescription Drug Product at the pharmacy. You may seek reimbursement from the Plan as described in Section 9, Claims Procedures.

When you submit a claim on this basis, you may pay more because you did not notify UnitedHealthcare before the Prescription Drug Product was dispensed. The amount you are reimbursed will be based on the Prescription Drug Charge, less the required Copayment and any Deductible that applies.

To determine if a Prescription Drug Product requires notification, either visit www.myuhc.com or call the number on your ID card. The Prescription Drug Products requiring notification are subject to UnitedHealthcare's periodic review and modification.

Benefits may not be available for the Prescription Drug Product after UnitedHealthcare reviews the documentation provided and determines that the Prescription Drug Product is not a Covered Health Service or it is an Experimental or Investigational or Unproven Service.

UnitedHealthcare may also require notification for certain programs which may have specific requirements for participation and/or activation of an enhanced level of Benefits associated with such programs. You may access information on available programs and any applicable notification, participation or activation requirements associated with such programs through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the number on your ID card.

[2]You are not responsible for paying a Copayment for Preventive Care Medications. Benefits for Preventive Care Medications are not subject to payment of the Annual Prescription Drug Products Deductible.

Note: The Coordination of Benefits provision described in Section 10, Coordination of Benefits (COB) does not apply to covered Prescription Drug Products as described in this section, except that Benefits for Prescription Drug Products will be coordinated with prescription drug benefits provided under Medicare Part B.

Identification Card (ID Card) - Network Pharmacy

You must either show your ID card at the time you obtain your Prescription Drug Product at a Network Pharmacy or you must provide the Network Pharmacy with identifying information that can be verified by UnitedHealthcare during regular business hours.

If you don't show your ID card or provide verifiable information at a Network Pharmacy, you will be required to pay the Usual and Customary Charge for the Prescription Drug at the pharmacy.

You may seek reimbursement from the Plan as described in Section 9, Claims Procedures, under the heading, If Your Provider Does Not File Your Claim. When you submit a claim on this basis, you may pay more because you failed to verify your eligibility when the Prescription Drug Product was dispensed. The amount you are reimbursed will be based on the Prescription Drug Charge, less the required Copayment, and any deductible that applies.

Benefit Levels

Benefits are available for outpatient Prescription Drug Products that are considered Covered Health Services.

The Plan pays Benefits at different levels for tier-1, tier-2 and tier-3 Prescription Drug Products.

All Prescription Drug Products covered by the Plan are categorized into these three tiers on the Prescription Drug List (PDL). The tier status of a Prescription Drug Product can change periodically, generally quarterly but no more than six times per calendar year, based on the Prescription Drug List (PDL) Management Committee's periodic tiering decisions. When that occurs, you may pay more or less for a Prescription Drug Product, depending on its tier assignment. Since the PDL may change periodically, you can visit www.myuhc.com or call UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card for the most current information.

Each tier is assigned a Copay, which is the amount you pay after you have met the Annual Prescription Drug Deductible, when you visit the pharmacy or order your medications through mail order. Your Copay will also depend on whether or not you visit the pharmacy or use the mail order service - see the table shown at the beginning of this section for further details. Here's how the tier system works:

- Tier-1 is your lowest Copay option. For the lowest out-of-pocket expense, you should consider tier-1 drugs if you and your Physician decide they are appropriate for your treatment.
- Tier-2 is your middle Copay option. Consider a tier-2 drug if no tier-1 drug is available to treat your condition.
- Tier-3 is your highest Copay option. The drugs in tier-3 are usually more costly. Sometimes there are alternatives available in tier-1 or tier-2.

For Prescription Drug Products at a retail Network Pharmacy, you are responsible for paying the lowest of:

- The applicable Copay.
- The Network Pharmacy's Usual and Customary Charge for the Prescription Drug.
- The Prescription Drug Charge for that Prescription Drug Product.

For Prescription Drug Products from a mail order Network Pharmacy, you are responsible for paying the lower of:

- The applicable Copay.
- The Prescription Drug Charge for that particular Prescription Drug.

Retail

Benefits are provided for Prescription Drug Products dispensed by a retail Network Pharmacy. The Plan has a Network of participating retail pharmacies, which includes many large drug store chains. You can obtain information about Network Pharmacies by contacting UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card or by logging onto www.myuhc.com.

To obtain your prescription from a Network Pharmacy, simply present your ID card and pay the Copay, after meeting the Annual Prescription Drug Deductible. The following supply limits apply:

- As written by the provider, up to a consecutive 31-day supply of a Prescription Drug Product, unless adjusted based on the drug manufacturer's packaging size or based on supply limits.
- A one-cycle supply of an oral contraceptive. You may obtain up to three cycles at one time if you pay the Copay for each cycle supplied.

When a Prescription Drug Product is packaged or designed to deliver in a manner that provides more than a consecutive 31-day supply, the Copay that applies will reflect the number of days dispensed.

If you purchase a Prescription Drug from a non-Network Pharmacy, you will be required to pay full price and will not receive reimbursement under the Plan.

Note: Network Pharmacy Benefits apply only if your prescription is for a Covered Health Service, and not for Experimental or Investigational, or Unproven Services. Otherwise, you are responsible for paying 100% of the cost.

Mail Order

Benefits are provided for certain Prescription Drug Products dispensed by a mail order Network Pharmacy. The mail order service may allow you to purchase up to a 90-day supply of a covered Prescription Drug Product through the mail from a Network Pharmacy.

To use the mail order service, all you need to do is complete a patient profile and enclose your Prescription Order or Refill. Your medication, plus instructions for obtaining refills, will arrive by mail about 14 days after your order is received. If you need a patient profile form, or if you have any questions, you can reach UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card.

The following supply limits apply: As written by the provider, up to a consecutive 90-day supply, unless adjusted based on the drug manufacturer's packaging size or based on supply limits.

You may be required to fill an initial Prescription Drug Product order and obtain one refill through a retail pharmacy prior to using a mail order Network Pharmacy.

Note: To maximize your Benefit, ask your Physician to write your Prescription Order or Refill for a 90-day supply, with refills when appropriate. You will be charged a mail order Copay for any Prescription Order or Refill if you use the mail order service, regardless of the number of days' supply that is written on the order or refill. Be sure your Physician writes your mail order or refill for a 90-day supply, not a 30-day supply with three refills.

Benefits for Preventive Care Medications

Benefits under the Prescription Drug Plan include those for Preventive Care Medications as defined, in this section, under Glossary - Prescription Drug Products. You may determine whether a drug is a Preventive Care Medication through the internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card. Such preventive drugs are covered at 100%.

Designated Pharmacies

If you require certain Prescription Drug Products, including, but not limited to, Specialty Prescription Drug Products, UnitedHealthcare may direct you to a Designated Pharmacy with whom it has an arrangement to provide those Prescription Drug Products.

If you are directed to a Designated Pharmacy and you choose not to obtain your Prescription Drug Product from a Designated Pharmacy, no Benefit will be paid for that Prescription Drug Product.

Specialty Prescription Drug Products

Benefits are provided for Specialty Prescription Drug Products.

You may fill a prescription for Specialty Prescription Drug Products up to two times at any Network Pharmacy. However, after that you will be directed to a Designated Pharmacy.

If you are directed to a Designated Pharmacy and you choose not to obtain your Specialty Prescription Drug Product from a Designated Pharmacy, no Benefit will be paid for that Specialty Prescription Drug Product.

Please see Glossary - Outpatient Prescription Drugs, for a full description of Specialty Prescription Drug Product and Designated Pharmacy.

Refer to the Outpatient Prescription Drug Schedule of Benefits for details on Specialty Prescription Drug Product supply limits.

Please see Glossary - Outpatient Prescription Drugs, in this section for definitions of [4]Specialty Prescription Drug Product and Designated Pharmacy.

Consider tier-1 Prescription Drug Products, if you and your Physician decide they are appropriate.

Assigning Prescription Drug Products to the Prescription Drug List (PDL)

UnitedHealthcare's Prescription Drug List (PDL) Management Committee is authorized to make tier placement changes on UnitedHealthcare's behalf. The PDL Management Committee makes the final classification of an FDA-approved Prescription Drug Product to a certain tier by considering a number of factors including, but not limited to clinical and economic factors. Clinical factors may include, but are not limited to, evaluations of the place in therapy, relative safety or relative efficacy of the Prescription Drug Product, as well as whether certain supply limits or notification requirements should apply. Economic factors may include, but are not limited to, the Prescription Drug Product's acquisition cost including, but not limited to, available rebates and assessments on the cost effectiveness of the Prescription Drug Product.

Some Prescription Drug Products are most cost effective for specific indications as compared to others, therefore, a Prescription Drug Product may be listed on multiple tiers according to the indication for which the Prescription Drug Product was prescribed, or according to whether it was prescribed by a Specialist Physician.

The PDL Management Committee may periodically change the placement of a Prescription Drug Product among the tiers. These changes generally will occur quarterly, but no more than six times per calendar year. These changes may occur without prior notice to you.

When considering a Prescription Drug Product for tier placement, the PDL Management Committee reviews clinical and economic factors regarding Covered Persons as a general population. Whether a particular Prescription Drug Product is appropriate for an individual Covered Person is a determination that is made by the Covered Person and the prescribing Physician.

Note: The tier status of a Prescription Drug Product may change periodically based on the process described above. As a result of such changes, you may be required to pay more or less for that Prescription Drug Product. Please access www.myuhc.com through the Internet or call the number on your ID card for the most up-to-date tier status.

Prescription Drug, Prescription Drug List (PDL), and Prescription Drug List (PDL) Management Committee are defined at the end of this section.

Prescription Drug List (PDL)
The Prescription Drug List (PDL) is a tool that helps guide you and your Physician in choosing the medications that allow the most effective and affordable use of your Prescription Drug Benefit.

Prescription Drug Benefit Claims

For Prescription Drug Product claims procedures, please refer to Section 9, Claims Procedures.

Limitation on Selection of Pharmacies

If UnitedHealthcare determines that you may be using Prescription Drug Products in a harmful or abusive manner, or with harmful frequency, your selection of Network Pharmacies may be limited. If this happens, UnitedHealthcare may require you to select a single Network Pharmacy that will provide and coordinate all future pharmacy services. Benefits will be paid only if you use the designated single Network Pharmacy. If you don't make a selection within 31 days of the date the Plan Administrator notifies you, UnitedHealthcare will select a single Network Pharmacy for you.

Supply Limits

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products are subject to supply limits that are stated in the table under the heading Prescription Drug Product Coverage Highlights. For a single Copayment, you may receive a Prescription Drug Product up to the stated supply limit. Whether or not a Prescription Drug Product has a supply limit is subject to UnitedHealthcare's periodic review and modification.

Note: Some products are subject to additional supply limits based on criteria that the Plan Administrator and UnitedHealthcare have developed, subject to periodic review and modification. The limit may restrict the amount dispensed per Prescription Order or Refill and/or the amount dispensed per month's supply or may require that a minimum amount be dispensed.

You may determine whether a Prescription Drug Product has been assigned a supply limit for dispensing, through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.

Special Programs

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may have certain programs in which you may receive an enhanced or reduced Benefit based on your actions such as adherence/compliance to medication or treatment regimens and/or participation in health management programs. You may access information on these programs through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the number on the back of your ID card.

Prescription Drug Products Prescribed by a Specialist Physician

You may receive an enhanced or reduced Benefit, or no Benefit, based on whether the Prescription Drug Product was prescribed by a Specialist Physician. You may access information on which Prescription Drug Products are subject to Benefit enhancement, reduction or no Benefit through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.

Rebates and Other Discounts

UnitedHealthcare and Adams County Government may, at times, receive rebates for certain drugs included on the PDL, including those drugs that you purchase prior to meeting any applicable deductible. As determined by UnitedHealthcare, the Plan may pass a portion of these rebates on to you. When rebates are passed on to you they may be taken into account in determining your Copayment and/or Coinsurance.

UnitedHealthcare and a number of its affiliated entities, conduct business with various pharmaceutical manufacturers separate and apart from this Outpatient Prescription Drug section. Such business may include, but is not limited to, data collection, consulting, educational grants and research. Amounts received from pharmaceutical manufacturers pursuant to such arrangements are not related to this Outpatient Prescription Drug section. UnitedHealthcare is not required to pass on to you, and does not pass on to you, such amounts.

Coupons, Incentives and Other Communications

At various times, UnitedHealthcare may send mailings or provide other communications to you, your Physician, or your pharmacy that communicate a variety of messages, including information about Prescription and non-prescription Drug Products. These communications may include offers that enable you, at your discretion, to purchase the described product at a discount. In some instances, non-UnitedHealthcare entities may support and/or provide content for these communications and offers. Only you and your Physician can determine whether a change in your Prescription and/or non-prescription Drug regimen is appropriate for your medical condition.

As required by the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998, the Plan provides Benefits under the Plan for mastectomy, including reconstruction and surgery to achieve symmetry between the breasts, prostheses, and complications resulting from a mastectomy (including lymphedema).

If you are receiving Benefits in connection with a mastectomy, Benefits are also provided for the following Covered Health Services, as you determine appropriate with your attending Physician:

- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance.

Statement of Rights under the Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act

Under Federal law, group health Plans and health insurance issuers offering group health insurance coverage generally may not restrict Benefits for any Hospital length of stay in connection with childbirth for the mother or newborn child to less than 48 hours following a vaginal delivery, or less than 96 hours following a delivery by cesarean section. However, the Plan or issuer may pay for a shorter stay if the attending provider (e.g., your physician, nurse midwife, or physician assistant), after consultation with the mother, discharges the mother or newborn earlier.

Also, under Federal law, plans and issuers may not set the level of Benefits or out-of-pocket costs so that any later portion of the 48-hour (or 96-hour) stay is treated in a manner less favorable to the mother or newborn than any earlier portion of the stay.

In addition, a plan or issuer may not, under Federal law, require that a physician or other health care provider obtain authorization for prescribing a length of stay of up to 48 hours (or 96 hours). However, to use certain providers or facilities, or to reduce your out-of-pocket costs, you may be required to obtain prior authorization or notify the Claims Administrator. For information on notification or prior authorization, contact your issuer.

ATTACHMENT IV – THE GENETIC INFORMATION NONDISCRIMINATION ACT OF 2008 (GINA)

The Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA)

This group health plan does not discriminate in premium amounts, contributions charged or eligibility for coverage based on any individual's genetic information. The plan does not use, request or require genetic information about anyone covered by the plan. Genetic information, within the context of GINA, includes the following: an individual's genetic tests; the genetic tests of an individual's family members (up to fourth-degree relatives by birth, marriage or adoption); manifestation of disease or disorder in family members of an individual; an individual's request for or receipt of genetic services; and genetic information of a fetus carried by an individual or his or her family.

Any Health Risk Assessment (HRA) completed by a person covered by this plan is in compliance with regulations under GINA.

ATTACHMENT V – MEDICAID AND THE CHILDREN'S HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM (CHIP) FREE OR LOW COST HEALTH COVERAGE TO CHILDREN AND FAMILIES

If you are eligible for health coverage from your employer, but are unable to afford the premiums, some States have premium assistance programs that can help pay for coverage. These States use funds from their Medicaid or CHIP programs to help people who are eligible for employer-sponsored health coverage, but need assistance in paying their health premiums.

If you or your dependents are already enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP and you live in a State listed below, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office to find out if premium assistance is available.

If you or your dependents are NOT currently enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP, and you think you or any of your dependents might be eligible for either of these programs, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office or dial 1-877-KIDS NOW or www.insurekidsnow.gov to find out how to apply. If you qualify, you can ask the State if it has a program that might help you pay the premiums for an employer-sponsored plan.

Once it is determined that you or your dependents are eligible for premium assistance under Medicaid or CHIP, your employer's health plan is required to permit you and your dependents to enroll in the plan – as long as you and your dependents are eligible, but not already enrolled in the employer's plan. This is called a "special enrollment" opportunity, and you must request coverage within 60 days of being determined eligible for premium assistance.

If you live in one of the following States, you may be eligible for assistance paying your employer health plan premiums. The following list of States is current as of September 1, 2010. You should contact your State for further information on eligibility.

ATTACHMENT VI – THE USE AND DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION AND SECURITY OF ELECTRONIC PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

Under the federal privacy regulations enacted pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), your health plans are required to protect the confidentiality of your Protected Health Information (PHI). Protected Health Information is individually identifiable health information related to your condition, services provided to you, or payments made for your care, which is created or received by a health plan, a health care clearinghouse, or a health care provider and identifies you or provides a means by which you could be identified. The Plan and the Plan Sponsor will not use or disclose PHI except for treatment, payment, health plan operations (collectively known as "TPO"), or as permitted or required by other state and federal law, or to Business Associates to help administer the Plan.

Further, the Plan Sponsor will take reasonable steps to ensure that any use or disclosure is the minimum necessary to accomplish the task.

In addition, under the federal security regulations enacted pursuant to HIPAA, your health plans are required to safeguard the confidentiality and ensure the integrity and availability of your Electronic Protected Health Information (ePHI). ePHI is PHI that is maintained or transmitted in electronic form. The Plan and the Plan Sponsor will reasonably and appropriately safeguard ePHI created, received, maintained, or transmitted to or by the Plan Sponsor on behalf of the Plan.

The Plan and Plan Sponsor are separate and independent legal entities, which exchange information to coordinate your Plan coverage. In order to receive PHI from the Plan, the Plan Sponsor agrees to, and has certified to the Plan, that it will:

- Restrict the use or further disclosure of PHI except as permitted by HIPAA or as required by law;
- Ensure that any other entity to whom it provides PHI received from the Plan agree to the same restrictions and conditions that apply to the Plan Sponsor;
- Not use or disclose PHI for employment-related actions or in connection with any other employee benefit plan;
- Not use genetic information that is PHI for underwriting purposes;
- Report to the Privacy Officer any use or disclosure of the information that is inconsistent with the permitted uses or disclosures;
- Make PHI available to Plan participants, consider their amendments and, upon request, provide them with an accounting of PHI disclosures as required by law;
- Make internal practices and records relating to the use and disclosure of PHI received from the Plan available to the Department of Health and Human Services upon request;
- Provide adequate safeguards to protect PHI;

- Provide legally required notices of unauthorized acquisition, access or disclosures of your health information as required by law; and
- If feasible, upon termination of the plan, return or destroy all PHI received from the Plan that the Plan Sponsor still maintains in any form and retain no copies of such information when no longer needed for the purpose for which disclosure was made, except that, if such return or destruction is not feasible, limit further uses and disclosures to those purposes that make the return or destruction of the information not feasible.

In order to receive ePHI from the Plan, the Plan Sponsor agrees that it will:

- Implement administrative, physical, and technical safeguards that reasonably and appropriately protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the ePHI that the Plan Sponsor creates, receives, maintains, or transmits on behalf of the Plan;
- Ensure that access to, and use and disclosure of ePHI by the employees or classes of employees described in the Plan document is supported by reasonable and appropriate security measures; and
- Ensure that any agent, including a subcontractor, to whom the Plan Sponsor provides this information agrees to implement reasonable and appropriate security measures to protect the information

Only limited members of the workforce of the Group Health Plan may be permitted to use and/or disclose PHI. Under this Plan the following individuals are permitted to have access to, use and/or disclose PHI:

- Employees of the Plan Sponsor who perform administrative services on behalf of the Plan, including payment, health care operations, design and administration. This includes County Administrator, Director of Human Resources, Benefits Manager, Benefits Administrator, Human Resources Specialists.
- Employees of the Plan Sponsor who have access to PHI for purposes of its use by the Employer in performing services for the Plan, including procurement of insurance, financial transactions and accounting. This includes Director of Finance, Administrative Coordinators, Payroll Accountants, Payroll Technicians, General Accounting Managers, Budget Managers and Budget Analysts.
- Service providers to the Plan. This includes County Attorneys, Benefit Consultants, Third Party Administrators, and IT Personnel.

The Plan will limit the use, disclosure or request for PHI to the minimum amount that is reasonably necessary to fulfill a request as set forth in this Agreement. Requests for disclosures other than by legal authority or by the participant will be reviewed by the Privacy Officer or his/her designee.

Where PHI is used or disclosed for the purposes of the Plan's own payment activity, whether through a TPA or Carrier, the employees of the Plan are permitted to use and disclose information to perform these functions using the minimum necessary to accomplish the purpose.

If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with the privacy officer or with the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services. All complaints must be submitted in writing. You will not be retaliated against in any way for filing a complaint.

You may receive a complete copy of the Plan's Notice of Privacy Practices by contacting the Privacy Officer.

PRIVACY OFFICER

The Plan Administrator has designated a privacy officer who is the contact person for all issues regarding your privacy rights. You may contact the privacy officer at the following address and telephone number.

ATTACHMENT VII– HEALTH INSURANCE MARKETPLACE NOTIFICATION

General Information
When key parts of the health care law took effect in 2014, there was a new way to buy health insurance: the Health Insurance Marketplace. To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the new Marketplace and employment based health coverage offered by your employer.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?
The Marketplace is designed to help you find health insurance that meets your needs and fits your budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options. You may also be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers your monthly premium right away. Open enrollment for health insurance coverage through the Marketplace began in October 2013 for coverage starting as early as January 1, 2014.

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?
You may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium, but only if your employer does not offer coverage, or offers coverage that doesn't meet certain standards. The savings on your premium that you're eligible for depends on your household income.

Does Employer Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?
Yes. If you have an offer of health coverage from your employer that meets certain standards, you will not be eligible for a tax credit through the Marketplace and may wish to enroll in your employer's health plan. However, you may be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your monthly premium or a reduction in certain cost-sharing if your employer does not offer coverage to you at all or does not offer coverage that meets certain standards. If the cost of a plan from your employer that would cover you (and not any other members of your family) is more than 9.5% of your household income for the year, or if the coverage your employer provides does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, you may be eligible for a tax credit.

Note: If you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of accepting health coverage offered by your employer, then you may lose the employer contribution (if any) to the employer-offered coverage. Also, this employer contribution - as well as your employee contribution to employer-offered coverage - is often excluded from income for Federal and State income tax purposes (pre-tax premiums). Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis.

How Can I Get More Information?
The Marketplace can help you evaluate your coverage options, including your eligibility for coverage through the Marketplace and its cost. Please visit HealthCare.gov for more information, including an online application for health insurance coverage and contact information for a Health Insurance Marketplace in your area.

*An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs.

Does this Coverage Provide Minimum Essential Coverage?
The Affordable Care Act requires most people to have health care coverage that qualifies as "minimum essential coverage." This Plan provides minimum essential coverage.

Does this Coverage Meet the Minimum Value Standard?
In order for certain types of health coverage (for example, individually purchased insurance or job-based coverage) to qualify as minimum essential coverage, the plan must pay, on average, at least 60 percent of allowed charges for covered services. This is called the "minimum value standard." This Plan does meet the minimum value standard for the benefits it provides.

- Services that are covered, called Covered Health Services.
- Services that are not covered, called Exclusions and Limitations.
- How Benefits are paid.
- Your rights and responsibilities under the Plan.

This SPD supersedes any previous printed or electronic SPD for this Plan.

The Plan Administrator intends to continue this Plan, but reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to modify, change, revise, amend or terminate the Plan at any time, for any reason, and without prior notice subject to any collective bargaining agreements between the Employer and various unions, if applicable. This SPD is not to be construed as a contract of or for employment. If there should be an inconsistency between the contents of this summary and the contents of the Plan, your rights shall be determined under the Plan and not under this summary.

UnitedHealthcare is a private healthcare claims administrator. UnitedHealthcare's goal is to give you the tools you need to make wise healthcare decisions. UnitedHealthcare also helps your employer to administer claims. Although UnitedHealthcare will assist you in many ways, it does not guarantee any Benefits. The Plan Administrator is solely responsible for paying Benefits described in this SPD.

Please read this SPD thoroughly to learn how the Adams County Government Choice Plus Health Benefit Plan works. If you have questions contact your local Human Resources department or call the number on the back of your ID card.

How To Use This SPD

- Read the entire SPD, and share it with your family. Then keep it in a safe place for future reference.
- Many of the sections of this SPD are related to other sections. You may not have all the information you need by reading just one section.
- You can find copies of your SPD and any future amendments or request printed copies by contacting Human Resources.
- Capitalized words in the SPD have special meanings and are defined in Section 14, Glossary.
- If eligible for coverage, the words "you" and "your" refer to Covered Persons as defined in Section 14, Glossary.
- The Plan Administrator is also referred to as Company.
- If there is a conflict between this SPD and any benefit summaries (other than Summaries of Material Modifications) provided to you, this SPD will control.

SECTION 2 - INTRODUCTION

What this section includes:

- Who's eligible for coverage under the Plan.
- The factors that impact your cost for coverage.
- Instructions and timeframes for enrolling yourself and your eligible Dependents.
- When coverage begins.
- When you can make coverage changes under the Plan.

Eligibility

You are eligible to enroll in the Plan if you are a regular full-time employee or project designated employee of the Plan Sponsor who is scheduled to work at his or her job at least 40 hours per week or a regular part-time employee or project designated employee of the Plan Sponsor who is scheduled to work at least 30 hours per week.

An eligible person also includes designated elected officials who are serving in an active capacity.

An eligible Person also includes a Retired Employee, as defined under (Section 14: Glossary).

Retirees over 65 years of age, actively enrolled in Medicare are not eligible for coverage. Please contact the Plan Administrator for more information regarding your options after Medicare eligibility.

Your eligible Dependents may also participate in the Plan. An eligible Dependent is considered to be:

- Your legal Spouse by marriage or common law (a copy of the marriage certificate or common law affidavit is required).
- Civil Union partners (certificate required).
- Domestic Partner (certificate required) as defined in Section 14, Glossary.
- You and/or your Spouse's, Domestic Partner's or civil union partner's biological children under the age of 26.
    - Children born through a gestational carrier or surrogate are not Dependents under the terms of the Plan unless the surrogate is an eligible Dependent under the terms of the plan and submits legal guardianship of the child to the Plan Administrator.
- A child of any age who is medically certified as disabled and dependent upon you or your Spouse for their total support.
- Children placed for adoption or for whom you have obtained legal guardianship.

- A Dependent also includes a child for whom health care coverage is required through a Qualified Medical Child Support Order or other court or administrative order, as described in Section 13, Other Important Information.

To be eligible for coverage under the Plan, a Dependent must reside within the United States.

Note: Your Dependents may not enroll in the Plan unless you are also enrolled, except under certain circumstances. Contact the Plan Administrator for details.

Cost of Coverage

You and the Company share in the cost of the Plan. Your contribution amount depends on the Plan you select and the family members you choose to enroll.

Your contributions may be deducted from your paychecks on a before-tax basis. Before-tax dollars come out of your pay before federal income and Social Security taxes are withheld—and in most states, before state and local taxes are withheld. This gives your contributions a special tax advantage and lowers the actual cost to you.

Note: The Internal Revenue Service generally does not consider Domestic Partners and their children eligible Dependents. Therefore, the value of Adams County Government's cost in covering a Domestic Partner may be imputed to the Participant as income. In addition, the share of the Participant's contribution that covers a Domestic Partner and their children may be paid using after-tax payroll deductions.

Your contributions are subject to review and the Company reserves the right to change your contribution amount from time to time.

You can obtain current contribution rates by calling Human Resources.

How to Enroll

To enroll, call Human Resources within 31 days of the date you first become eligible for medical Plan coverage. If you do not enroll within 31 days, you will need to wait until the next annual Open Enrollment to make your benefit elections.

Each year during annual Open Enrollment, you have the opportunity to review and change your medical election. Any changes you make during Open Enrollment will become effective the following January 1.

Important
If you wish to change your benefit elections following your marriage, birth, adoption of a child, placement for adoption of a child or other family status change, you must contact Human Resources within 31 days of the event. Otherwise, you will need to wait until the next annual Open Enrollment to change your elections.

When Coverage Begins

Once Human Resources receives your properly completed enrollment, coverage will begin on the first day of the month following date of hire, when date of hire coincides with first of the month then effective immediately. Coverage for your Dependents will start on the date your coverage begins, provided you have enrolled them in a timely manner.

Coverage for a Spouse or Dependent stepchild that you acquire via marriage becomes effective the date of your marriage, provided you notify Human Resources within 31 days of your marriage. Coverage for Dependent children acquired through birth, adoption, or placement for adoption is effective the date of the family status change, provided you notify Human Resources within 31 days of the birth, adoption, or placement.

If You Are Hospitalized When Your Coverage Begins

If you are an inpatient in a Hospital, Skilled Nursing Facility or Inpatient Rehabilitation Facility on the day your coverage begins, the Plan will pay Benefits for Covered Health Services related to that Inpatient Stay as long as you receive Covered Health Services in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

You should notify UnitedHealthcare within 48 hours of the day your coverage begins, or as soon as is reasonably possible. Network Benefits are available only if you receive Covered Health Services from Network providers.

Changing Your Coverage

You may make coverage changes during the year only if you experience a change in family status. The change in coverage must be consistent with the change in status (e.g., you cover your Spouse following your marriage, your child following an adoption, etc.). The following are considered family status changes for purposes of the Plan:

- Your marriage, divorce, legal separation or annulment.
- Registering a Domestic Partner.
- The birth, legal adoption, placement for adoption or legal guardianship of a child.
- A change in your Spouse's employment or involuntary loss of health coverage (other than coverage under the Medicare or Medicaid programs) under another employer's plan.
- Loss of coverage due to the exhaustion of another employer's COBRA benefits, provided you were paying for premiums on a timely basis.
- Your death or the death of a Dependent.
- Your Dependent child no longer qualifying as an eligible Dependent.
- A change in your or your Spouse's position or work schedule that impacts eligibility for health coverage.
- Contributions were no longer paid by the employer (this is true even if you or your eligible Dependent continues to receive coverage under the prior plan and to pay the amounts previously paid by the employer).

- You or your eligible Dependent who were enrolled in an HMO no longer live or work in that HMO's service area and no other benefit option is available to you or your eligible Dependent.
- Benefits are no longer offered by the Plan to a class of individuals that include you or your eligible Dependent.
- Termination of your or your Dependent's Medicaid or Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) coverage as a result of loss of eligibility (you must contact Human Resources within 60 days of termination).
- You or your Dependent become eligible for a premium assistance subsidy under Medicaid or CHIP (you must contact Human Resources within 60 days of the date of determination of subsidy eligibility).
- A strike or lockout involving you or your Spouse.
- A court or administrative order.

Unless otherwise noted above, if you wish to change your elections, you must contact Human Resources within 31 days of the change in family status. Otherwise, you will need to wait until the next annual Open Enrollment.

While some of these changes in status are similar to qualifying events under COBRA, you, or your eligible Dependent, do not need to elect COBRA continuation coverage to take advantage of the special enrollment rights listed above. These will also be available to you or your eligible Dependent if COBRA is elected.

Note: Any child under age 26 who is placed with you for adoption will be eligible for coverage on the date the child is placed with you, even if the legal adoption is not yet final. If you do not legally adopt the child, all medical Plan coverage for the child will end when the placement ends. No provision will be made for continuing coverage (such as COBRA coverage) for the child.

Change in Family Status - Example

Jane is married and has two children who qualify as Dependents. At annual Open Enrollment, she elects not to participate in Adams County Government's medical plan, because her husband, Tom, has family coverage under his employer's medical plan. In June, Tom loses his job as part of a downsizing. As a result, Tom loses his eligibility for medical coverage. Due to this family status change, Jane can elect family medical coverage under the Plan Administrator's medical plan outside of annual Open Enrollment.

SECTION 3 - HOW THE PLAN WORKS

What this section includes:

- Accessing Benefits.
- Eligible Expenses.
- Annual Deductible.
- Coinsurance.
- Out-of-Pocket Maximum.

Accessing Benefits

As a participant in this Plan, you have the freedom to choose the Physician or health care professional you prefer each time you need to receive Covered Health Services. The choices you make affect the amounts you pay, as well as the level of Benefits you receive and any benefit limitations that may apply.

You are eligible for the Network level of Benefits under this Plan when you receive Covered Health Services from Physicians and other health care professionals who have contracted with UnitedHealthcare to provide those services.

You can choose to receive Network Benefits or Non-Network Benefits.

Network Benefits apply to Covered Health Services that are provided by a Network Physician or other Network provider.

Emergency Health Services are always paid as Network Benefits. For facility charges, these are Benefits for Covered Health Services that are billed by a Network facility and provided under the direction of either a Network or non-Network Physician or other provider. Network Benefits include Physician services provided in a Network facility by a Network or a non-Network Emergency room Physician, radiologist, anesthesiologist or pathologist.

Non-Network Benefits apply to Covered Health Services that are provided by a non-Network Physician or other non-Network provider, or Covered Health Services that are provided at a non-Network facility. In general health care terminology, Non-Network Benefits may also be referred to as Out-of-Network Benefits.

Depending on the geographic area and the service you receive, you may have access through UnitedHealthcare's Shared Savings Program to non-Network providers who have agreed to discounts negotiated from their charges on certain claims for Covered Health Services. Refer to the definition of Shared Savings Program in Section 14, Glossary, of the SPD for details about how the Shared Savings Program applies.

You must show your identification card (ID card) every time you request health care services from a Network provider. If you do not show your ID card, Network providers have no way of knowing that you are enrolled under the Plan. As a result, they may bill you for the entire cost of the services you receive.

Generally, when you receive Covered Health Services from a Network provider, you pay less than you would if you receive the same care from a non-Network provider. Therefore, in most instances, your out-of-pocket expenses will be less if you use a Network provider.

If you choose to seek care outside the Network, the Plan generally pays Benefits at a lower level. You are required to pay the amount that exceeds the Eligible Expense. The amount in excess of the Eligible Expense could be significant, and this amount does not apply to the Out-of-Pocket Maximum. You may want to ask the non-Network provider about their billed charges before you receive care.

Health Services from Non-Network Providers Paid as Network Benefits

If specific Covered Health Services are not available from a Network provider, you may be eligible to receive Network Benefits when Covered Health Services are received from a non-Network provider. In this situation, your Network Physician will notify UnitedHealthcare, and if UnitedHealthcare confirms that care is not available from a Network provider, UnitedHealthcare will work with you and your Network Physician to coordinate care through a non-Network provider.

Looking for a Network Provider?
In addition to other helpful information, www.myuhc.com, UnitedHealthcare's consumer website, contains a directory of health care professionals and facilities in UnitedHealthcare's Network. While Network status may change from time to time, www.myuhc.com has the most current source of Network information. Use www.myuhc.com to search for Physicians available in your Plan.

Network Providers

UnitedHealthcare or its affiliates arrange for health care providers to participate in a Network. At your request, UnitedHealthcare will send you a directory of Network providers free of charge. Keep in mind, a provider's Network status may change. To verify a provider's status or request a provider directory, you can call UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card or log onto www.myuhc.com.

Network providers are independent practitioners and are not employees of the Company or UnitedHealthcare.

UnitedHealthcare's credentialing process confirms public information about the providers' licenses and other credentials, but does not assure the quality of the services provided.

Before obtaining services you should always verify the Network status of a provider. A provider's status may change. You can verify the provider's status by calling UnitedHealthcare. A directory of providers is available online at www.myuhc.com or by calling the number on your ID card to request a copy.

It is possible that you might not be able to obtain services from a particular Network provider. The network of providers is subject to change. Or you might find that a particular Network provider may not be accepting new patients. If a provider leaves the Network or is otherwise not available to you, you must choose another Network provider to get Network Benefits.

If you are currently undergoing a course of treatment utilizing a non-Network Physician or health care facility, you may be eligible to receive transition of care Benefits. This transition period is available for specific medical services and for limited periods of time. If you have questions regarding this transition of care reimbursement policy or would like help determining whether you are eligible for transition of care Benefits, please contact UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card.

Do not assume that a Network provider's agreement includes all Covered Health Services. Some Network providers contract with UnitedHealthcare to provide only certain Covered Health Services, but not all Covered Health Services. Some Network providers choose to be a Network provider for only some of our products. Refer to your provider directory or contact UnitedHealthcare for assistance.

Designated Provider and Other Providers

If you have a medical condition that UnitedHealthcare believes needs special services, UnitedHealthcare may direct you to a Designated Provider chosen by UnitedHealthcare. If you require certain complex Covered Health Services for which expertise is limited, UnitedHealthcare may direct you to a Network facility or provider that is outside your local geographic area. If you are required to travel to obtain such Covered Health Services from a Designated Provider, UnitedHealthcare may reimburse certain travel expenses at UnitedHealthcare's discretion.

In both cases, Network Benefits will only be paid if your Covered Health Services for that condition are provided by or arranged by the Designated Provider, Designated Provider or other provider chosen by UnitedHealthcare.

You or your Network Physician must notify UnitedHealthcare of special service needs (such as transplants or cancer treatment) that might warrant referral to a Designated Provider. If you do not notify UnitedHealthcare in advance, and if you receive services from a non-Network facility (regardless of whether it is a Designated Provider) or other non-Network provider, Network Benefits will not be paid. Non-Network Benefits may be available if the special needs services you receive are Covered Health Services for which Benefits are provided under the Plan.

Limitations on Selection of Providers

If UnitedHealthcare determines that you are using health care services in a harmful or abusive manner, you may be required to select a Network Physician to provide and coordinate all of your future Covered Health Services. If you don't make a selection within 31 days of the date you are notified, UnitedHealthcare will select a single Network Physician for you. In the event that you do not use the selected Network Physician, Covered Health Services will be paid as Non-Network Benefits.

Eligible Expenses

The Company has delegated to UnitedHealthcare the initial discretion and authority to decide whether a treatment or supply is a Covered Health Service and how the Eligible Expenses will be determined and otherwise covered under the Plan.

Eligible Expenses are the amount UnitedHealthcare determines that UnitedHealthcare will pay for Benefits. For Network Benefits for Covered Health Services provided by a Network provider, you are not responsible for any difference between Eligible Expenses and the amount the provider bills. For Network Benefits for Covered Health Services provided by a non-Network provider (other than Emergency Health Services or services otherwise arranged by UnitedHealthcare) you will be responsible to the non-Network Physician or provider for any amount billed that is greater than the amount UnitedHealthcare determines to be an Eligible Expense as described below. For Non-Network Benefits, you are responsible for paying, directly to the non-Network provider, any difference between the amount the provider bills you and the amount UnitedHealthcare will pay for Eligible Expenses. Eligible Expenses are determined solely in accordance with UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policy guidelines, as described in the SPD.

For Network Benefits, Eligible Expenses are based on the following:

- When Covered Health Services are received from a Network provider, Eligible Expenses are UnitedHealthcare's contracted fee(s) with that provider.
- When Covered Health Services are received from a non-Network provider as a result of an Emergency or as arranged by UnitedHealthcare, Eligible Expenses are an amount negotiated by UnitedHealthcare or an amount permitted by law. Please contact UnitedHealthcare if you are billed for amounts in excess of your applicable Coinsurance or any deductible. The Plan will not pay excessive charges or amounts you are not legally obligated to pay.

For Non-Network Benefits, Eligible Expenses are based on either of the following:

- When Covered Health Services are received from a non-Network provider, Eligible Expenses are determined, based on:
  - Negotiated rates agreed to by the non-Network provider and either UnitedHealthcare or one of UnitedHealthcare's vendors, affiliates or subcontractors, at UnitedHealthcare's discretion.
  - If rates have not been negotiated, then one of the following amounts:
    - ♦ Eligible Expenses are determined based on 110% of the published rates allowed by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) for Medicare for the same or similar service within the geographic market, with the exception of the following:
      - 50% of CMS for the same or similar laboratory service.
      - 45% of CMS for the same or similar durable medical equipment, or CMS competitive bid rates.
    - ♦ When a rate is not published by CMS for the service, UnitedHealthcare uses an available gap methodology to determine a rate for the service as follows:
      - For services other than Pharmaceutical Products, UnitedHealthcare uses a gap methodology established by OptumInsight and/or a third party vendor that uses a relative value scale. The relative value scale is usually based on the difficulty, time, work, risk and resources of the service. If the relative value scale(s) currently in use become no longer available, UnitedHealthcare will use a comparable scale(s). UnitedHealthcare and OptumInsight are related companies through common ownership by UnitedHealth Group. Refer to UnitedHealthcare's website at www.myuhc.com for information regarding the vendor that provides the applicable gap fill relative value scale information.

- For Pharmaceutical Products, UnitedHealthcare uses gap methodologies that are similar to the pricing methodology used by CMS, and produce fees based on published acquisition costs or average wholesale price for the pharmaceuticals. These methodologies are currently created by RJ Health Systems, *Thomson Reute*rs (published in its Red Book), or UnitedHealthcare based on an internally developed pharmaceutical pricing resource.

- When a rate is not published by CMS for the service and a gap methodology does not apply to the service, the Eligible Expense is based on 50% of the provider's billed charge.

UnitedHealthcare updates the CMS published rate data on a regular basis when updated data from CMS becomes available. These updates are typically implemented within 30 to 90 days after CMS updates its data.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Non-Network providers may bill you for any difference between the provider's billed charges and the Eligible Expense described here.

Don't Forget Your ID Card
Remember to show your ID card every time you receive health care services from a provider. If you do not show your ID card, a provider has no way of knowing that you are enrolled under the Plan.

Annual Deductible

The Annual Deductible is the amount of Eligible Expenses you must pay each calendar year for some Covered Health Services before you are eligible to begin receiving Benefits. There are separate Network and non-Network Annual Deductibles for this Plan. The amounts you pay toward your Annual Deductible accumulate over the course of the calendar year.

Coinsurance

Coinsurance is the percentage of Eligible Expenses that you are responsible for paying. Coinsurance is a fixed percentage that applies to certain Covered Health Services after you meet the Annual Deductible.

Out-of-Pocket Maximum

The annual Out-of-Pocket Maximum is the most you pay each calendar year for Covered Health Services. There are separate Network and non-Network Out-of-Pocket Maximums for this Plan. If your eligible out-of-pocket expenses in a calendar year exceed the annual maximum, the Plan pays 100% of Eligible Expenses for Covered Health Services through the end of the calendar year.

The following will never apply to the Out-of-Pocket Maximum:

- Charges for Non-Covered Health Services.
- The amount of any reduced benefits if you don't notify the Claims Administrator.
- Charges that exceed eligible expenses.

The following table identifies what does and does not apply toward your Network and non-Network Out-of-Pocket Maximums:

Plan Features	Applies to the Network Out-of-Pocket Maximum?	Applies to the Non-Network Out-of-Pocket Maximum?
Payments toward the Annual Deductible	Yes	Yes
Coinsurance Payments	Yes	Yes
Charges for non-Covered Health Services	No	No
The amounts of any reductions in Benefits you incur by not notifying Care Coordination℠	No	No
Charges that exceed Eligible Expenses	No	No

SECTION 4 - CARE COORDINATION℠

What this section includes:

- An overview of the Care Coordination℠ program.
- Covered Health Services for which you need to contact Care Coordination℠.

UnitedHealthcare provides a program called Care Coordination℠ designed to encourage personalized, efficient care for you and your covered Dependents.

Care Coordination℠ nurses center their efforts on prevention, education, and closing any gaps in your care. The goal of the program is to ensure you receive the most appropriate and cost-effective services available. A Care Coordination℠ nurse is notified when you or your provider calls the number on your ID card regarding an upcoming treatment or service.

Care Coordination℠ nurses will provide a variety of different services to help you and your covered family members receive appropriate medical care. Program components are subject to change without notice. When the Claims Administrator is called as required, they will work with you to implement the Care Coordination℠ process and to provide you with information about additional services that are available to you, such as disease management programs, health education, and patient advocacy. As of the publication of this SPD, the Care Coordination℠ program includes:

- Admission counseling - Nurse Advocates are available to help you prepare for a successful surgical admission and recovery. Call the number on the back of your ID card for support.
- Inpatient care management - If you are hospitalized, a Care CoordinationSM nurse will work with your Physician to make sure you are getting the care you need and that your Physician's treatment plan is being carried out effectively.
- Readmission Management - This program serves as a bridge between the Hospital and your home if you are at high risk of being readmitted. After leaving the Hospital, if you have a certain chronic or complex condition, you may receive a phone call from a Care CoordinationSM nurse to confirm that medications, needed equipment, or follow-up services are in place. The Care CoordinationSM nurse will also share important health care information, reiterate and reinforce discharge instructions, and support a safe transition home.
- Risk Management - Designed for participants with certain chronic or complex conditions, this program addresses such health care needs as access to medical specialists, medication information, and coordination of equipment and supplies. Participants may receive a phone call from a Care CoordinationSM nurse to discuss and share important health care information related to the participant's specific chronic or complex condition.

If you do not receive a call from a Care Coordination℠ nurse but feel you could benefit from any of these programs, please call the number on your ID card.

Contacting UnitedHealthcare or Care Coordination℠ is easy.
Simply call the number on your ID card.

Network providers are generally responsible for notifying the Claims Administrator before they provide certain services to you. However, there are some Network Benefits for which you are responsible for notifying the Claims Administrator.

When you choose to receive certain Covered Health Services from non-Network providers, you are responsible for notifying the Claims Administrator before you receive these Covered Health Services. In many cases, your Non-Network Benefits will be reduced if the Claims Administrator is not notified.

Special Note Regarding Medicare

If you are enrolled in Medicare on a primary basis (Medicare pays before the Plan pays Benefits) the notification requirements do not apply to you. Since Medicare is the primary payer, the Plan will pay as secondary payer as described in Section 10, Coordination of Benefits (COB). You are not required to provide notification before receiving Covered Health Services.

SECTION 6 - ADDITIONAL COVERAGE DETAILS

What this section includes:

- Covered Health Services for which the Plan pays Benefits.
- Covered Health Services that require you to notify the Claims Administrator or Care Coordination℠ before you receive them, and any reduction in Benefits that may apply if you do not call the Claims Administrator or Care Coordination℠.

This section supplements the second table in Section 5, Plan Highlights.

While the table provides you with Benefit limitations along with Coinsurance and Annual Deductible information for each Covered Health Service, this section includes descriptions of the Benefits. These descriptions include any additional limitations that may apply, as well as Covered Health Services for which you must call the Claims Administrator or Care Coordination℠. The Covered Health Services in this section appear in the same order as they do in the table for easy reference. Services that are not covered are described in Section 8, Exclusions and Limitations.

Ambulance Services

The Plan covers Emergency ambulance services and transportation provided by a licensed ambulance service to the nearest Hospital that offers Emergency Health Services. See Section 14, Glossary for the definition of Emergency.

Ambulance service by air is covered in an Emergency if ground transportation is impossible, or would put your life or health in serious jeopardy. If special circumstances exist, UnitedHealthcare may pay Benefits for Emergency air transportation to a Hospital that is not the closest facility to provide Emergency Health Services.

The Plan also covers non-Emergency transportation provided by a licensed professional ambulance (either ground or air ambulance, as UnitedHealthcare determines appropriate) between facilities when the transport is:

- From a non-Network Hospital to a Network Hospital.
- To a Hospital that provides a higher level of care that was not available at the original Hospital.
- To a more cost-effective acute care facility.
- From an acute facility to a sub-acute setting.

In most cases, the Claims Administrator will initiate and direct non-Emergency ambulance transportation. If you are requesting non-Emergency ambulance services, you must notify the Claims Administrator as soon as possible before transport.

If the Claims Administrator or Care Coordination℠, Benefits will be reduced to 50% of Eligible Expenses.

Cancer Resource Services (CRS)

The Plan pays Benefits for oncology services provided by a Designated Provider participating in the Cancer Resource Services (CRS) program. Designated Provider is defined in Section 14, Glossary.

For oncology services and supplies to be considered Covered Health Services, they must be provided to treat a condition that has a primary or suspected diagnosis relating to cancer. If you or a covered Dependent has cancer, you may:

- Be referred to CRS by the Claims Administrator or Care Coordination℠.
- Call CRS at 1-866-936-6002.
- Visit www.myoptumhealthcomplexmedical.com.

To receive Benefits for a cancer-related treatment, you are not required to visit a Designated Provider. If you receive oncology services from a facility that is not a Designated Provider, the Plan pays Benefits as described under:

- Physician's Office Services - Sickness and Injury.
- Physician Fees for Surgical and Medical Services.
- Scopic Procedures - Outpatient Diagnostic and Therapeutic.
- Therapeutic Treatments - Outpatient.
- Hospital - Inpatient Stay.
- Surgery - Outpatient.

To receive Benefits under the CRS program, you must contact CRS prior to obtaining Covered Health Services. The Plan will only pay Benefits under the CRS program if CRS provides the proper notification to the Designated Provider performing the services (even if you self-refer to a provider in that Network).

Cellular and Gene Therapy

Cellular Therapy and Gene Therapy received on an inpatient or outpatient basis at a Hospital or on an outpatient basis at an Alternate Facility or in a Physician's office.

Benefits for CAR-T therapy for malignancies are provided as described under Transplantation Services.

Pre-Service Notification Requirement
For Network Benefits you must provide pre-service notification as soon as the possibility of a Cellular or Gene Therapy arises. If you do not provide pre-service notification and if, as a result, the services are not received from a Designated Provider, Network Benefits will not be paid.

Clinical Trials

Benefits are available for routine patient care costs incurred during participation in a qualifying Clinical Trial for the treatment of:

- Cancer or other life-threatening disease or condition. For purposes of this benefit, a life-threatening disease or condition is one from which the likelihood of death is probable unless the course of the disease or condition is interrupted.
- Cardiovascular disease (cardiac/stroke) which is not life threatening, for which, as UnitedHealthcare determines, a Clinical Trial meets the qualifying Clinical Trial criteria stated below.
- Surgical musculoskeletal disorders of the spine, hip and knees, which are not life threatening, for which, as UnitedHealthcare determines, a Clinical Trial meets the qualifying Clinical Trial criteria stated below.
- Other diseases or disorders which are not life threatening for which, as UnitedHealthcare determines, a Clinical Trial meets the qualifying Clinical Trial criteria stated below.

Benefits include the reasonable and necessary items and services used to prevent, diagnose and treat complications arising from participation in a qualifying Clinical Trial.

Benefits are available only when the Covered Person is clinically eligible for participation in the qualifying Clinical Trial as defined by the researcher.

Routine patient care costs for qualifying Clinical Trials include:

- Covered Health Services for which Benefits are typically provided absent a Clinical Trial.
- Covered Health Services required solely for the provision of the Experimental or Investigational Service(s) or item, the clinically appropriate monitoring of the effects of the service or item, or the prevention of complications.
- Covered Health Services needed for reasonable and necessary care arising from the provision of an Experimental or Investigational Service(s) or item.

Routine costs for Clinical Trials do not include:

- The Experimental or Investigational Service(s) or item. The only exceptions to this are:
  - Certain Category B devices.
  - Certain promising interventions for patients with terminal illnesses.
  - Other items and services that meet specified criteria in accordance with UnitedHealthcare's medical and drug policies.
- Items and services provided solely to satisfy data collection and analysis needs and that are not used in the direct clinical management of the patient.
- A service that is clearly inconsistent with widely accepted and established standards of care for a particular diagnosis.

- Items and services provided by the research sponsors free of charge for any person enrolled in the trial.

With respect to cancer or other life-threatening diseases or conditions, a qualifying Clinical Trial is a Phase I, Phase II, Phase III, or Phase IV Clinical Trial that is conducted in relation to the prevention, detection or treatment of cancer or other life-threatening disease or condition and which meets any of the following criteria in the bulleted list below.

With respect to cardiovascular disease or musculoskeletal disorders of the spine, hip and knees and other diseases or disorders which are not life-threatening, a qualifying Clinical Trial is a Phase I, Phase II, or Phase III Clinical Trial that is conducted in relation to the detection or treatment of such non-life-threatening disease or disorder and which meets any of the following criteria in the bulleted list below.

- Federally funded trials. The study or investigation is approved or funded (which may include funding through in-kind contributions) by one or more of the following:
  - National Institutes of Health (NIH). (Includes National Cancer Institute (NCI)).
  - Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).
  - Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ).
  - Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).
  - A cooperative group or center of any of the entities described above or the Department of Defense (DOD) or the Veterans Administration (VA).
  - A qualified non-governmental research entity identified in the guidelines issued by the National Institutes of Health for center support grants.
  - The Department of Veterans Affairs, the Department of Defense or the Department of Energy as long as the study or investigation has been reviewed and approved through a system of peer review that is determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to meet both of the following criteria:
    - Comparable to the system of peer review of studies and investigations used by the National Institutes of Health.
    - Ensures unbiased review of the highest scientific standards by qualified individuals who have no interest in the outcome of the review.

- The study or investigation is conducted under an investigational new drug application reviewed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.
- The study or investigation is a drug trial that is exempt from having such an investigational new drug application.
- The Clinical Trial must have a written protocol that describes a scientifically sound study and have been approved by all relevant institutional review boards (IRBs) before participants are enrolled in the trial. UnitedHealthcare may, at any time, request documentation about the trial.
- The subject or purpose of the trial must be the evaluation of an item or service that meets the definition of a Covered Health Service and is not otherwise excluded under the Plan.

Please remember that you must notify the Claims Administrator as soon as the possibility of participation in a Clinical Trial arises. If the Claims Administrator is not notified, Benefits will be reduced to 50% of Eligible Expenses.

Congenital Heart Disease (CHD) Surgeries

The Plan pays Benefits for Congenital Heart Disease (CHD) surgeries which are ordered by a Physician. CHD surgical procedures include surgeries to treat conditions such as coarctation of the aorta, aortic stenosis, tetralogy of fallot, transposition of the great vessels and hypoplastic left or right heart syndrome.

UnitedHealthcare has specific guidelines regarding Benefits for CHD services. Contact UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card for information about these guidelines.

The Plan pays Benefits for CHD services ordered by a Physician and received at a facility participating in the CHD Resource Services program. Benefits include the facility charge and the charge for supplies and equipment. Benefits for Physician services are described under Physician Fees for Surgical and Medical Services.

Surgery may be performed as open or closed surgical procedures or may be performed through interventional cardiac catheterization.

Benefits are available for the following CHD services:

- Outpatient diagnostic testing.
- Evaluation.
- Surgical interventions.
- Interventional cardiac catheterizations (insertion of a tubular device in the heart).
- Fetal echocardiograms (examination, measurement and diagnosis of the heart using ultrasound technology).
- Approved fetal interventions.

CHD services other than those listed above are excluded from coverage, unless determined by the Claims Administrator to be proven procedures for the involved diagnoses. Contact CHD Resource Services at 1-888-936-7246 before receiving care for information about CHD services. More information is also available at www.myoptumhealthcomplexmedical.com.

If you receive Congenital Heart Disease services from a facility that is not a Designated Provider, the Plan pays Benefits as described under:

- Physician's Office Services - Sickness and Injury.
- Physician Fees for Surgical and Medical Services.
- Scopic Procedures - Outpatient Diagnostic and Therapeutic.
- Therapeutic Treatments - Outpatient.

- Hospital - Inpatient Stay.
- Surgery - Outpatient.

To receive Benefits under the CHD program, you must contact CHD Resource Services at 1-888-936-7246 prior to obtaining Covered Health Services. The Plan will only pay Benefits under the CHD program if CHD provides the proper notification to the Designated Provider performing the services (even if you self-refer to a provider in that Network).

Please remember that for Non-Network Benefits you must notify the Claims Administrator as soon as the possibility of a CHD surgery arises.

For Non-Network Benefits, if the Claims Administrator is not notified, Benefits will be reduced to 50% of Eligible Expenses.

It is important that you notify the Claims Administrator regarding your intention to have surgery. Your notification will open the opportunity to become enrolled in programs that are designed to achieve the best outcomes for you.

Dental Services - Accident Only

Dental services are covered by the Plan when all of the following are true:

- Treatment is necessary because of accidental damage.
- Dental services are received from a Doctor of Dental Surgery or a Doctor of Medical Dentistry.
- The dental damage is severe enough that initial contact with a Physician or dentist occurs within 72 hours of the accident. (You may request an extension of this time period provided that you do so within 60 days of the Injury and if extenuating circumstances exist due to the severity of the Injury.)

Please note that dental damage that occurs as a result of normal activities of daily living or extraordinary use of the teeth is not considered having occurred as an accident. Benefits are not available for repairs to teeth that are damaged as a result of such activities.

The Plan also covers dental care (oral examination, X-rays, extractions and non-surgical elimination of oral infection) required for the direct treatment of a medical condition limited to:

- Dental services related to medical transplant procedures.
- Initiation of immunosuppressive (medication used to reduce inflammation and suppress the immune system).
- Direct treatment of acute traumatic Injury, cancer or cleft palate.

Dental services for final treatment to repair the damage caused by accidental Injury must be started within three months of the accident, or if not a Covered Person at the time of the accident, within the first three months of coverage under the Plan, unless extenuating circumstances exist (such as prolonged hospitalization or the presence of fixation wires from fracture care) and completed within 12 months of the accident, or if not a Covered Person at the time of the accident, within the first 12 months of coverage under the Plan.

The Plan pays for treatment of accidental Injury only for:

- Emergency examination.
- Necessary diagnostic X-rays.
- Endodontic (root canal) treatment.
- Temporary splinting of teeth.
- Prefabricated post and core.
- Simple minimal restorative procedures (fillings).
- Extractions.
- Post-traumatic crowns if such are the only clinically acceptable treatment.
- Replacement of lost teeth due to the Injury by implant, dentures or bridges.

Any combination of Network Benefits and Non-Network Benefits is limited to $3,000 per calendar year. Benefits are further limited to a maximum of $900 per tooth.

Diabetes Services

Diabetes Self-Management and Training/Diabetic Eye Examinations/Foot Care

Outpatient self-management training for the treatment of diabetes, education and medical nutrition therapy services. Services must be ordered by a Physician and provided by appropriately licensed or registered health care professionals.

Benefits also include medical eye examinations (dilated retinal examinations) and preventive foot care for diabetes.

Diabetic Self-Management Items

Insulin pumps and supplies and continuous glucose monitors for the management and treatment of diabetes, based upon the medical needs. An insulin pump is subject to all the conditions of coverage stated under Durable Medical Equipment. Benefits for blood glucose meters, insulin syringes with needles, blood glucose and urine test strips, ketone test strips and tablets and lancets and lancet devices are described is Section 15, Outpatient Prescription Drugs.

Please remember for Non-Network Benefits, you must notify the Claims Administrator before obtaining any Durable Medical Equipment for the management and treatment of diabetes if the purchase, rental, repair or replacement of DME will cost more than $1,000. If the Claims Administrator is not notified, Benefits will be reduced to 50% of Eligible Expenses.

Durable Medical Equipment (DME)

The Plan pays for Durable Medical Equipment (DME) that is:

- Ordered or provided by a Physician for outpatient use.
- Used for medical purposes.
- Not consumable or disposable.
- Not of use to a person in the absence of a Sickness, Injury or disability.
- Durable enough to withstand repeated use.
- Appropriate for use in the home.

If more than one piece of DME can meet your functional needs, you will receive Benefits only for the most Cost-Effective piece of equipment. Benefits are provided for a single unit of DME (example: one insulin pump) and for repairs of that unit.

Examples of DME include but are not limited to:

- Equipment to administer oxygen.
- Equipment to assist mobility, such as a standard wheelchair.
- Hospital beds.
- Delivery pumps for tube feedings.
- Negative pressure wound therapy pumps (wound vacuums).
- Burn garments.
- Insulin pumps and all related necessary supplies as described under Diabetes Services in this section.
- External cochlear devices and systems. Surgery to place a cochlear implant is also covered by the Plan. Cochlear implantation can either be an inpatient or outpatient procedure. See Hospital - Inpatient Stay, Rehabilitation Services - Outpatient Therapy and Surgery - Outpatient in this section.
- Orthotic devices when prescribed by Physician. This includes braces that straighten or change the shape of a body part.
- Braces that stabilize an injured body part, including necessary adjustments to shoes to accommodate braces. Braces that stabilize an injured body part and braces to treat curvature of the spine are considered Durable Medical Equipment and are a Covered Health Service. Dental braces are also excluded from coverage.

- Mechanical equipment necessary for the treatment of chronic or acute respiratory failure (except that air-conditioners, humidifiers, dehumidifiers, air purifiers and filters, and personal comfort items are excluded from coverage).

The Plan also covers tubings, nasal cannulas, connectors and masks used in connection with DME.

Benefits also include speech aid devices and tracheo-esophageal voice devices required for treatment of severe speech impediment or lack of speech directly attributed to Sickness or Injury. Benefits for the purchase of speech aid devices and tracheo-esophageal voice devices are available only after completing a required three-month rental period.

Note: DME is different from prosthetic devices - see Prosthetic Devices in this section.

Benefits for speech aid devices and tracheo-esophageal voice devices are limited to the purchase of one device during the entire period of time a Covered Person is enrolled under the Plan. Benefits for repair/replacement are limited to once every three years.

Benefits are provided for the repair/replacement of a type of Durable Medical Equipment once every three calendar years.

At UnitedHealthcare's discretion, replacements are covered for damage beyond repair with normal wear and tear, when repair costs exceed new purchase price, or when a change in the Covered Person's medical condition occurs sooner than the three year timeframe. Repairs, including the replacement of essential accessories, such as hoses, tubes, mouth pieces, etc., for necessary DME are only covered when required to make the item/device serviceable and the estimated repair expense does not exceed the cost of purchasing or renting another item/device. Requests for repairs may be made at any time and are not subject to the three year timeline for replacement.

Please remember for Non-Network Benefits, you must notify the Claims Administrator if the retail purchase cost or cumulative rental cost of a single item will exceed $1,000. If the Claims Administrator is not notified, Benefits will be reduced to 50% of Eligible Expenses.

If more than one type of hearing aid can meet your functional needs, Benefits are available only for the hearing aid that meets the minimum specifications for your needs. Such Dispensing Entities may include an outpatient pharmacy, specialty pharmacy, Home Health Agency provider, Hospital-affiliated pharmacy or hemophilia treatment center contracted pharmacy.

If you/your provider are directed to a designated dispensing entity and you/your provider choose not to obtain your Pharmaceutical Product from a designated dispensing entity, Network Benefits are not available for that Pharmaceutical Product.

Preventive Care Services

The Plan pays Benefits for Preventive care services provided on an outpatient basis at a Physician's office, an Alternate Facility or a Hospital. Preventive care services encompass medical services that have been demonstrated by clinical evidence to be safe and effective in either the early detection of disease or in the prevention of disease, have been proven to have a beneficial effect on health outcomes and include the following as required under applicable law:

- Evidence-based items or services that have in effect a rating of "A" or "B" in the current recommendations of the United States Preventive Services Task Force.
- Immunizations that have in effect a recommendation from the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.
- With respect to infants, children and adolescents, evidence-informed preventive care and screenings provided for in the comprehensive guidelines supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration.
- With respect to women, such additional preventive care and screenings as provided for in comprehensive guidelines supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration.

Preventive care Benefits defined under the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) requirement include the cost of renting one breast pump per Pregnancy in conjunction with childbirth. Breast pumps must be ordered by or provided by a Physician. You can obtain additional information on how to access Benefits for breast pumps by going to www.myuhc.com or by calling the number on your ID card. Benefits for breast pumps also include the cost of purchasing one breast pump per Pregnancy in conjunction with childbirth. These Benefits are described under Section 5, Plan Highlights, under Covered Health Services.

If more than one breast pump can meet your needs, Benefits are available only for the most cost effective pump. UnitedHealthcare will determine the following:

- Which pump is the most cost effective.
- Whether the pump should be purchased or rented.
- Duration of a rental.
- Timing of an acquisition.

Benefits are only available if breast pumps are obtained from a DME provider or Physician.

For questions about your preventive care Benefits under this Plan call the number on the back of your ID card.

Prosthetic Devices

Benefits are paid by the Plan for external prosthetic devices that replace a limb or body part limited to:

- Artificial arms, legs, feet and hands.
- Artificial face, eyes, ears and noses.
- Breast prosthesis as required by the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998. Benefits include mastectomy bras and lymphedema stockings for the arm.

Benefits under this section are provided only for external prosthetic devices and do not include any device that is fully implanted into the body.

If more than one prosthetic device can meet your functional needs, Benefits are available only for the prosthetic device that meets the minimum specifications for your needs. The device must be ordered or provided either by a Physician, or under a Physician's direction. If you purchase a prosthetic device that exceeds these minimum specifications, the Plan will pay only the amount that it would have paid for the prosthetic that meets the minimum specifications, and you may be responsible for paying any difference in cost.

Benefits are available for repairs and replacement, except that:

- There are no Benefits for repairs due to misuse, malicious damage or gross neglect.
- There are no Benefits for replacement due to misuse, malicious damage, gross neglect or for lost or stolen prosthetic devices.

Benefits are limited to a single purchase of each type of prosthetic device every three calendar years.

Note: Prosthetic devices are different from DME - see Durable Medical Equipment (DME) in this section.

For Non-Network Benefits you must notify the Claims Administrator before obtaining prosthetic devices that exceed $1,000 in cost per device. If the Claims Administrator is not notified, Benefits will be reduced to 50% of Eligible Expenses.

Reconstructive Procedures

Reconstructive Procedures are services performed when the primary purpose of the procedure is either to treat a medical condition or to improve or restore physiologic function for an organ or body part. Reconstructive Procedures include surgery or other procedures which are associated with an Injury, Sickness or Congenital Anomaly. The primary result of the procedure is not a changed or improved physical appearance.

Improving or restoring physiologic function means that the organ or body part is made to work better. An example of a Reconstructive Procedure is surgery on the inside of the nose so that a person's breathing can be improved or restored.

Benefits for Reconstructive Procedures include breast reconstruction following a mastectomy and reconstruction of the non-affected breast to achieve symmetry. Replacement of an existing breast implant is covered by the Plan if the initial breast implant followed a mastectomy. Other services required by the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998, including breast prostheses and treatment of complications, are provided in the same manner and at the same level as those for any other Covered Health Service. You can contact UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card for more information about Benefits for mastectomy-related services.

There may be times when the primary purpose of a procedure is to make a body part work better. However, in other situations, the purpose of the same procedure is to improve the appearance of a body part. Cosmetic procedures are excluded from coverage. Procedures that correct an anatomical Congenital Anomaly without improving or restoring physiologic function are considered Cosmetic Procedures. A good example is upper eyelid surgery. At times, this procedure will be done to improve vision, which is considered a reconstructive procedure. In other cases, improvement in appearance is the primary intended purpose, which is considered a Cosmetic Procedure. This Plan does not provide Benefits for Cosmetic Procedures, as defined in Section 14, Glossary.

The fact that a Covered Person may suffer psychological consequences or socially avoidant behavior as a result of an Injury, Sickness or Congenital Anomaly does not classify surgery (or other procedures done to relieve such consequences or behavior) as a reconstructive procedure.

Please remember that for Non-Network Benefits you must notify the Claims Administrator five business days before a scheduled reconstructive procedure is performed or, for non-scheduled procedures, within one business day or as soon as is reasonably possible. When you provide notification, the Claims Administrator can determine whether the service is considered reconstructive or cosmetic. Cosmetic Procedures are always excluded from coverage. If the Claims Administrator is not notified, Benefits will be reduced to 50% of Eligible Expenses.

In addition, for Non-Network Benefits, you must contact the Claims Administrator 24 hours before admission for scheduled admissions or as soon as is reasonably possible for non-scheduled admissions (including Emergency admissions).

Rehabilitation Services - Outpatient Therapy and Manipulative Treatment

The Plan provides short-term outpatient rehabilitation services (including habilitative services) limited to:

- Physical therapy.
- Occupational therapy.
- Manipulative Treatment.
- Speech therapy.
- Post-cochlear implant aural therapy.
- Pulmonary rehabilitation.
- Cardiac rehabilitation.

For all rehabilitation services, a licensed therapy provider, under the direction of a Physician (when required by state law), must perform the services. Benefits under this section include rehabilitation services provided in a Physician's office or on an outpatient basis at a Hospital or Alternate Facility. Rehabilitative services provided in a Covered Person's home by a Home Health Agency are provided as described under Home Health Care. Rehabilitative services provided in a Covered Person's home other than by a Home Health Agency are provided as described under this section.

Benefits can be denied or shortened for Covered Persons who are not progressing in goal-directed rehabilitation services or if rehabilitation goals have previously been met. Benefits under this section are not available for maintenance/preventive treatment.

For outpatient rehabilitation services for speech therapy, the Plan will pay Benefits for the treatment of disorders of speech, language, voice, communication and auditory processing only when the disorder results from Injury, stroke, cancer, Congenital Anomaly.

Habilitative Services

For the purpose of this Benefit, "habilitative services" means Medically Necessary skilled health care services that help a person keep, learn or improve skills and functioning for daily living. Habilitative services are skilled when all of the following are true:

- The services are part of a prescribed plan of treatment or maintenance program that is Medically Necessary to maintain a Covered Person's current condition or to prevent or slow further decline.
- It is ordered by a Physician and provided and administered by a licensed provider.
- It is not delivered for the purpose of assisting with activities of daily living, including dressing, feeding, bathing or transferring from a bed to a chair.
- It requires clinical training in order to be delivered safely and effectively.
- It is not Custodial Care.

The Claims Administrator will determine if Benefits are available by reviewing both the skilled nature of the service and the need for Physician-directed medical management. Therapies provided for the purpose of general well-being or conditioning in the absence of a disabling condition are not considered habilitative services. A service will not be determined to be "skilled" simply because there is not an available caregiver.

Benefits are provided for habilitative services provided for Covered Persons with a disabling condition when both of the following conditions are met:

- The treatment is administered by a licensed speech-language pathologist, licensed audiologist, licensed occupational therapist, licensed physical therapist or Physician.
- The initial or continued treatment must be proven and not Experimental or Investigational.

Benefits for habilitative services do not apply to those services that are solely educational in nature or otherwise paid under state or federal law for purely educational services. Custodial Care, respite care, day care, therapeutic recreation, vocational training and Residential Treatment are not habilitative services. A service that does not help the Covered Person to meet functional goals in a treatment plan within a prescribed time frame is not a habilitative service.

The Plan may require that a treatment plan be provided, request medical records, clinical notes, or other necessary data to allow the Plan to substantiate that initial or continued medical treatment is needed. When the treating provider anticipates that continued treatment is or will be required to permit the Covered Person to achieve demonstrable progress, the Plan may request a treatment plan consisting of diagnosis, proposed treatment by type, frequency, anticipated duration of treatment, the anticipated goals of treatment, and how frequently the treatment plan will be updated.

Benefits for Durable Medical Equipment and prosthetic devices, when used as a component of habilitative services, are described under Durable Medical Equipment and Prosthetic Devices.

Any combination of Network Benefits and Non-Network Benefits are limited to:

SECTION 9 - CLAIMS PROCEDURES

What this section includes:

- How Network and non-Network claims work.
- What to do if your claim is denied, in whole or in part.

Network Benefits

In general, if you receive Covered Health Services from a Network provider, UnitedHealthcare will pay the Physician or facility directly. If a Network provider bills you for any Covered Health Service other than your Coinsurance, please contact the provider or call UnitedHealthcare at the phone number on your ID card for assistance.

Keep in mind, you are responsible for meeting the Annual Deductible and paying any Coinsurance owed to a Network provider at the time of service, or when you receive a bill from the provider.

Non-Network Benefits

If you receive a bill for Covered Health Services from a non-Network provider, you (or the provider if they prefer) must send the bill to UnitedHealthcare for processing. To make sure the claim is processed promptly and accurately, a completed claim form must be attached and mailed to UnitedHealthcare at the address on the back of your ID card.

You must submit a request for payment of Benefits within 90 days after the date of service. If you don't provide this information to UnitedHealthcare within 15 months of the date of service, Benefits for that health service will be denied or reduced, at UnitedHealthcare's discretion. This time limit does not apply if you are legally incapacitated. If your claim relates to an Inpatient Stay, the date of service is the date your Inpatient Stay ends.

Prescription Drug Benefit Claims

If you wish to receive reimbursement for a prescription, you may submit a post-service claim as described in this section if:

- You are asked to pay the full cost of the Prescription Drug Product when you fill it and you believe that the Plan should have paid for it.
- You pay a Copay and you believe that the amount of the Copay was incorrect.

If a pharmacy (retail or mail order) fails to fill a prescription that you have presented and you believe that it is a Covered Health Service, you may submit a pre-service request for Benefits as described in this section.

If Your Provider Does Not File Your Claim

You can obtain a claim form by visiting www.myuhc.com, calling the toll-free number on your ID card or contacting Human Resources. If you do not have a claim form, simply attach a brief letter of explanation to the bill, and verify that the bill contains the information listed below. If any of these items are missing from the bill, you can include them in your letter:

- Your name and address.
- The patient's name, age and relationship to the Participant.
- The number as shown on your ID card.
- The name, address and tax identification number of the provider of the service(s).
- A diagnosis from the Physician.
- The date of service.
- An itemized bill from the provider that includes:
  - The Current Procedural Terminology (CPT) codes.
  - A description of, and the charge for, each service.
  - The date the Sickness or Injury began.
  - A statement indicating either that you are, or you are not, enrolled for coverage under any other health insurance plan or program. If you are enrolled for other coverage you must include the name and address of the other carrier(s).

Failure to provide all the information listed above may delay any reimbursement that may be due you.

For medical claims, the above information should be filed with UnitedHealthcare at the address on your ID card. When filing a claim for outpatient Prescription Drug Product Benefits, submit your claim to the pharmacy benefit manager claims address noted on your ID card.

After UnitedHealthcare has processed your claim, you will receive payment for Benefits that the Plan allows. It is your responsibility to pay the non-Network provider the charges you incurred, including any difference between what you were billed and what the Plan paid.

Payment of Benefits

When you assign your Benefits under the Plan to a non-Network provider with UnitedHealthcare's consent, and the non-Network provider submits a claim for payment, you and the non-Network provider represent and warrant that the Covered Health Services were actually provided and were medically appropriate.

To be recognized as a valid assignment of Benefits under the Plan, the assignment must reflect the Covered Person's agreement that the non-Network provider will be entitled to all the Covered Person's rights under the Plan and applicable state and federal laws, including legally required notices and procedural reviews concerning the Covered Person's Benefits, and that the Covered Person will no longer be entitled to those rights. If an assignment form does not comply with this requirement, but directs that your benefit payment should be made directly to the provider, UnitedHealthcare may in its discretion make payment of the benefits directly to the provider for your convenience, but will treat you, rather than the provider, as the beneficiary of your claim. If Benefits are assigned or payment to a non-Network provider is made, Adams County Government reserves the right to offset Benefits to be paid to the provider by any amounts that the provider owes Adams County Government (including amounts owed as a result of the assignment of other plans' overpayment recovery rights to the Plan) pursuant to Refund of Overpayments in Section 10, Coordination of Benefits.

UnitedHealthcare will pay Benefits to you unless:

- The provider submits a claim form to UnitedHealthcare that you have provided signed authorization to assign Benefits directly to that provider.
- You make a written request for the non-Network provider to be paid directly at the time you submit your claim.

UnitedHealthcare will only pay Benefits to you or, with written authorization by you, your Provider, and not to a third party, even if your provider purports to have assigned Benefits to that third party.

Form of Payment of Benefits

Payment of Benefits under the Plan shall be in cash or cash equivalents, or in the form of other consideration that UnitedHealthcare in its discretion determines to be adequate. Where Benefits are payable directly to a provider, such adequate consideration includes the forgiveness in whole or in part of amounts the provider owes to other plans for which UnitedHealthcare makes payments, where the Plan has taken an assignment of the other plans' recovery rights for value.

Health Statements

Each month in which UnitedHealthcare processes at least one claim for you or a covered Dependent, you will receive a Health Statement in the mail. Health Statements make it easy for you to manage your family's medical costs by providing claims information in easy-to-understand terms.

If you would rather track claims for yourself and your covered Dependents online, you may do so at www.myuhc.com. You may also elect to discontinue receipt of paper Health Statements by making the appropriate selection on this site.

Explanation of Benefits (EOB)

You may request that UnitedHealthcare send you a paper copy of an Explanation of Benefits (EOB) after processing the claim. The EOB will let you know if there is any portion of the claim you need to pay. If any claims are denied in whole or in part, the EOB will include the reason for the denial or partial payment. If you would like paper copies of the EOBs, you may call the toll-free number on your ID card to request them. You can also view and print all of your EOBs online at www.myuhc.com. See Section 14, Glossary, for the definition of Explanation of Benefits.

Important - Timely Filing of Non-Network Claims
All claim forms for non-Network services must be submitted within 15 months after the date of service. Otherwise, the Plan will not pay any Benefits for that Eligible Expense, or Benefits will be reduced, as determined by UnitedHealthcare. This 12-month requirement does not apply if you are legally incapacitated. If your claim relates to an Inpatient Stay, the date of service is the date your Inpatient Stay ends.

Claim Denials and Appeals

If Your Claim is Denied

If a claim for Benefits is denied in part or in whole, you may call UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card before requesting a formal appeal. If UnitedHealthcare cannot resolve the issue to your satisfaction over the phone, you have the right to file a formal appeal as described below.

How to Appeal a Denied Claim

If you wish to appeal a denied pre-service request for Benefits, post-service claim or a rescission of coverage as described below, you or your authorized representative must submit your appeal in writing within 180 days of receiving the adverse benefit determination. You do not need to submit urgent care appeals in writing. This communication should include:

- The patient's name and ID number as shown on the ID card.
- The provider's name.
- The date of medical service.
- The reason you disagree with the denial.
- Any documentation or other written information to support your request.

You or your authorized representative may send a written request for an appeal to:

UnitedHealthcare - Appeals
P.O. Box 30432
Salt Lake City, Utah 84130-0432

For urgent care requests for Benefits that have been denied, you or your provider can call UnitedHealthcare at the toll-free number on your ID card to request an appeal.

Types of claims
The timing of the claims appeal process is based on the type of claim you are appealing. If you wish to appeal a claim, it helps to understand whether it is an:

- Urgent care request for Benefits.
- Pre-service request for Benefits.
- Post-service claim.
- Concurrent claim.

Review of an Appeal

UnitedHealthcare will conduct a full and fair review of your appeal. The appeal may be reviewed by:

- An appropriate individual(s) who did not make the initial benefit determination.
- A health care professional with appropriate expertise who was not consulted during the initial benefit determination process.

Once the review is complete, if UnitedHealthcare upholds the denial, you will receive a written explanation of the reasons and facts relating to the denial.

Filing a Second Appeal

Your Plan offers two levels of appeal. If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision, you have the right to request a second level appeal from UnitedHealthcare within 60 days from receipt of the first level appeal determination.

Note: Upon written request and free of charge, any Covered Persons may examine documents relevant to their claim and/or appeals and submit opinions and comments. UnitedHealthcare will review all claims in accordance with the rules established by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Federal External Review Program

If, after exhausting your internal appeals, you are not satisfied with the determination made by UnitedHealthcare, or if UnitedHealthcare fails to respond to your appeal in accordance with applicable regulations regarding timing, you may be entitled to request an external review of UnitedHealthcare's determination. The process is available at no charge to you.

If one of the above conditions is met, you may request an external review of adverse benefit determinations based upon any of the following:

- Clinical reasons.
- The exclusions for Experimental or Investigational Service(s) or Unproven Service(s).
- Rescission of coverage (coverage that was cancelled or discontinued retroactively).
- As otherwise required by applicable law.

You or your representative may request a standard external review by sending a written request to the address set out in the determination letter. You or your representative may request an expedited external review, in urgent situations as detailed below, by calling the number on your ID card or by sending a written request to the address set out in the determination letter. A request must be made within four months after the date you received UnitedHealthcare's decision.

An external review request should include all of the following:

- A specific request for an external review.
- The Covered Person's name, address, and insurance ID number.
- Your designated representative's name and address, when applicable.
- The service that was denied.
- Any new, relevant information that was not provided during the internal appeal.

An external review will be performed by an Independent Review Organization (IRO). UnitedHealthcare has entered into agreements with three or more IROs that have agreed to perform such reviews. There are two types of external reviews available:

- A standard external review.
- An expedited external review.

Standard External Review

A standard external review is comprised of all of the following:

- A preliminary review by UnitedHealthcare of the request.
- A referral of the request by UnitedHealthcare to the IRO.
- A decision by the IRO.

Within the applicable timeframe after receipt of the request, UnitedHealthcare will complete a preliminary review to determine whether the individual for whom the request was submitted meets all of the following:

- Is or was covered under the Plan at the time the health care service or procedure that is at issue in the request was provided.
- Has exhausted the applicable internal appeals process.
- Has provided all the information and forms required so that UnitedHealthcare may process the request.

After UnitedHealthcare completes the preliminary review, UnitedHealthcare will issue a notification in writing to you. If the request is eligible for external review, UnitedHealthcare will assign an IRO to conduct such review. UnitedHealthcare will assign requests by either rotating claims assignments among the IROs or by using a random selection process.

The IRO will notify you in writing of the request's eligibility and acceptance for external review. You may submit in writing to the IRO within ten business days following the date of receipt of the notice additional information that the IRO will consider when conducting the external review. The IRO is not required to, but may, accept and consider additional information submitted by you after ten business days.

UnitedHealthcare will provide to the assigned IRO the documents and information considered in making UnitedHealthcare's determination. The documents include:

- All relevant medical records.
- All other documents relied upon by UnitedHealthcare.
- All other information or evidence that you or your Physician submitted. If there is any information or evidence you or your Physician wish to submit that was not previously provided, you may include this information with your external review request and UnitedHealthcare will include it with the documents forwarded to the IRO.

In reaching a decision, the IRO will review the claim as new and not be bound by any decisions or conclusions reached by UnitedHealthcare. The IRO will provide written notice of its determination (the "Final External Review Decision") within 45 days after it receives the request for the external review (unless they request additional time and you agree). The IRO will deliver the notice of Final External Review Decision to you and UnitedHealthcare, and it will include the clinical basis for the determination.

Upon receipt of a Final External Review Decision reversing UnitedHealthcare's determination, the Plan will immediately provide coverage or payment for the benefit claim at issue in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Plan, and any applicable law regarding plan remedies. If the Final External Review Decision is that payment or referral will not be made, the Plan will not be obligated to provide Benefits for the health care service or procedure.

Expedited External Review

An expedited external review is similar to a standard external review. The most significant difference between the two is that the time periods for completing certain portions of the review process are much shorter, and in some instances you may file an expedited external review before completing the internal appeals process.

You may make a written or verbal request for an expedited external review if you receive either of the following:

- An adverse benefit determination of a claim or appeal if the adverse benefit determination involves a medical condition for which the time frame for completion of an expedited internal appeal would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the individual or would jeopardize the individual's ability to regain maximum function and you have filed a request for an expedited internal appeal.
- A final appeal decision, if the determination involves a medical condition where the timeframe for completion of a standard external review would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the individual or would jeopardize the individual's ability to regain maximum function, or if the final appeal decision concerns an admission, availability of care, continued stay, or health care service, procedure or product for which the individual received emergency services, but has not been discharged from a facility.

Immediately upon receipt of the request, UnitedHealthcare will determine whether the individual meets both of the following:

- Is or was covered under the Plan at the time the health care service or procedure that is at issue in the request was provided.
- Has provided all the information and forms required so that UnitedHealthcare may process the request.

After UnitedHealthcare completes the review, UnitedHealthcare will immediately send a notice in writing to you. Upon a determination that a request is eligible for expedited external review, UnitedHealthcare will assign an IRO in the same manner UnitedHealthcare utilizes to assign standard external reviews to IROs. UnitedHealthcare will provide all necessary documents and information considered in making the adverse benefit determination or final adverse benefit determination to the assigned IRO electronically or by telephone or facsimile or any other available expeditious method. The IRO, to the extent the information or documents are available and the IRO considers them appropriate, must consider the same type of information and documents considered in a standard external review.

In reaching a decision, the IRO will review the claim as new and not be bound by any decisions or conclusions reached by UnitedHealthcare. The IRO will provide notice of the final external review decision for an expedited external review as expeditiously as the claimant's medical condition or circumstances require, but in no event more than 72 hours after the IRO receives the request. If the initial notice is not in writing, within 48 hours after the date of providing the initial notice, the assigned IRO will provide written confirmation of the decision to you and to UnitedHealthcare.

You may contact UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card for more information regarding external review rights, or if making a verbal request for an expedited external review.

Timing of Appeals Determinations

Separate schedules apply to the timing of claims appeals, depending on the type of claim. There are three types of claims:

- Urgent care request for Benefits - a request for Benefits provided in connection with urgent care services.
- Pre-Service request for Benefits - a request for Benefits which the Plan must approve or in which you must notify UnitedHealthcare before non-urgent care is provided.
- Post-Service - a claim for reimbursement of the cost of non-urgent care that has already been provided.

Please note that the decision is based only on whether or not Benefits are available under the Plan for the proposed treatment or procedure.

You may have the right to external review through an Independent Review Organization (IRO) upon the completion of the internal appeal process. Instructions regarding any such rights, and how to access those rights, will be provided in the Claims Administrator's decision letter to you.

The tables below describe the time frames which you and UnitedHealthcare are required to follow.

Concurrent Care Claims

If an on-going course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and your request to extend the treatment is an urgent care request for Benefits as defined above, your request will be decided within 24 hours, provided your request is made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment. UnitedHealthcare will make a determination on your request for the extended treatment within 24 hours from receipt of your request.

If your request for extended treatment is not made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment, the request will be treated as an urgent care request for Benefits and decided according to the timeframes described above. If an on-going course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and you request to extend treatment in a non-urgent circumstance, your request will be considered a new request and decided according to post-service or pre-service timeframes, whichever applies.

Limitation of Action

You cannot bring any legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator to recover reimbursement until 90 days after you have properly submitted a request for reimbursement as described in this section and all required reviews of your claim have been completed. If you want to bring a legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator, you must do so within three years from the expiration of the time period in which a request for reimbursement must be submitted or you lose any rights to bring such an action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator.

You cannot bring any legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator for any other reason unless you first complete all the steps in the appeal process described in this section. After completing that process, if you want to bring a legal action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator you must do so within three years of the date you are notified of the final decision on your appeal or you lose any rights to bring such an action against the Plan Administrator or the Claims Administrator.

SECTION 10 - COORDINATION OF BENEFITS (COB)

What this section includes:

- How your Benefits under this Plan coordinate with other medical plans.
- How coverage is affected if you become eligible for Medicare.
- Procedures in the event the Plan overpays Benefits.

Coordination of Benefits (COB) applies to you if you are covered by more than one health benefits plan, including any one of the following:

- Another employer sponsored health benefits plan.
- A medical component of a group long-term care plan, such as skilled nursing care.
- No-fault or traditional "fault" type medical payment benefits or personal injury protection benefits under an auto insurance policy.
- Medical payment benefits under any premises liability or other types of liability coverage.
- Medicare or other governmental health benefit.

If coverage is provided under two or more plans, COB determines which plan is primary and which plan is secondary. The plan considered primary pays its benefits first, without regard to the possibility that another plan may cover some expenses. Any remaining expenses may be paid under the other plan, which is considered secondary. The secondary plan may determine its benefits based on the benefits paid by the primary plan. How much this Plan will reimburse you, if anything, will also depend in part on the allowable expense. The term, "allowable expense," is further explained below.

Don't forget to update your Dependents' Medical Coverage Information
Avoid delays on your Dependent claims by updating your Dependent's medical coverage information. Just log on to www.myuhc.com or call the toll-free number on your ID card to update your COB information. You will need the name of your Dependent's other medical coverage, along with the policy number.

Determining Which Plan is Primary

Order of Benefit Determination Rules

If you are covered by two or more plans, the benefit payment follows the rules below in this order:

- This Plan will always be secondary to medical payment coverage or personal injury protection coverage under any auto liability or no-fault insurance policy.
- When you have coverage under two or more medical plans and only one has COB provisions, the plan without COB provisions will pay benefits first.
- A plan that covers a person as an employee pays benefits before a plan that covers the person as a dependent.

- If you are receiving COBRA continuation coverage under another employer plan, this Plan will pay Benefits first.
- Your dependent children will receive primary coverage from the parent whose birth date occurs first in a calendar year. If both parents have the same birth date, the plan that pays benefits first is the one that has been in effect the longest. This birthday rule applies only if:
  - The parents are married or living together whether or not they have ever been married and not legally separated.
  - A court decree awards joint custody without specifying that one party has the responsibility to provide health care coverage.
- If two or more plans cover a dependent child of divorced or separated parents and if there is no court decree stating that one parent is responsible for health care, the child will be covered under the plan of:
  - The parent with custody of the child; then
  - The Spouse of the custodial parent; then
  - The parent not having custody of the child; then
  - The Spouse of the non-custodial .
- Plans for active employees pay before plans covering laid-off or retired employees.
- The plan that has covered the individual claimant the longest will pay first.
- Finally, if none of the above rules determines which plan is primary or secondary, the allowable expenses shall be shared equally between the plans meeting the definition of Plan. In addition, this Plan will not pay more than it would have paid had it been the primary Plan.

The following examples illustrate how the Plan determines which plan pays first and which plan pays second.

Determining Primary and Secondary Plan - Examples
1) Let's say you and your Spouse both have family medical coverage through your respective employers. You are unwell and go to see a Physician. Since you're covered as a Participant under this Plan, and as a Dependent under your Spouse's plan, this Plan will pay Benefits for the Physician's office visit first.
2) Again, let's say you and your Spouse both have family medical coverage through your respective employers. You take your Dependent child to see a Physician. This Plan will look at your birthday and your Spouse's birthday to determine which plan pays first. If you were born on June 11 and your Spouse was born on May 30, your Spouse's plan will pay first.

When This Plan is Secondary

If this Plan is secondary, it determines the amount it will pay for a Covered Health Service by following the steps below.

- The Plan determines the amount it would have paid based on the allowable expense.
- The Plan pays the entire difference between the allowable expense and the amount paid by the primary plan - as long as this amount is not more than the Plan would have paid had it been the only plan involved.
- If, based on the allowable expense, the Plan would have paid more if it were the only plan involved, the difference between the amount it would have paid and the amount it actually paid is recorded as a benefit reserve for the Covered Person. This reserve can be used to pay any future allowable expenses not otherwise paid by the Plan during the calendar year.
- At the end of the calendar year, the benefit reserve returns to zero. A new benefit reserve is created for each calendar year.

You will be responsible for any Coinsurance or Deductible payments as part of the COB payment. The maximum combined payment you may receive from all plans cannot exceed 100% of the allowable expense.

Determining the Allowable Expense If This Plan is Secondary

What is an allowable expense?
For purposes of COB, an allowable expense is a health care expense that is covered at least in part by one of the health benefit plans covering you.

When the provider is a Network provider for both the primary plan and this Plan, the allowable expense is the primary plan's network rate. When the provider is a network provider for the primary plan and a non-Network provider for this Plan, the allowable expense is the primary plan's network rate. When the provider is a non-Network provider for the primary plan and a Network provider for this Plan, the allowable expense is the reasonable and customary charges allowed by the primary plan. When the provider is a non-Network provider for both the primary plan and this Plan, the allowable expense is the greater of the two Plans' reasonable and customary charges. If this plan is secondary to Medicare, please also refer to the discussion in the section below, titled "Determining the Allowable Expense When This Plan is Secondary to Medicare".

Determining Which Plan is Primary

As permitted by law, this Plan will pay Benefits second to Medicare when you become enrolled in Medicare. There are, however, Medicare-eligible individuals for whom the Plan pays Benefits first and Medicare pays benefits second:

- Employees with active current employment status age 65 or older and their Spouses age 65 or older (however, Domestic Partners are excluded as provided by Medicare).

- Individuals with end-stage renal disease, for a limited period of time.
- Disabled individuals under age 65 with current employment status and their Dependents under age 65.

Determining the Allowable Expense When This Plan is Secondary to Medicare

If this Plan is secondary to Medicare, the Medicare approved amount is the allowable expense, as long as the provider accepts reimbursement directly from Medicare. If the provider accepts reimbursement directly from Medicare, the Medicare approved amount is the charge that Medicare has determined that it will recognize and which it reports on an "explanation of Medicare benefits" issued by Medicare (the "EOMB") for a given service. Medicare typically reimburses such providers a percentage of its approved charge – often 80%.

If the provider does not accept assignment of your Medicare benefits, the Medicare limiting charge (the most a provider can charge you if they don't accept Medicare – typically 115% of the Medicare approved amount) will be the allowable expense. Medicare payments, combined with Plan Benefits, will not exceed 100% of the allowable expense.

If you are enrolled in Medicare, and this Plan is secondary to Medicare, or if you have enrolled in Medicare but choose to obtain services from a provider that does not participate in the Medicare program (as opposed to a provider who does not accept assignment of Medicare benefits), Benefits will be paid on a secondary basis under this Plan.

When calculating the Plan's Benefits in these situations, and when Medicare does not issue an EOMB, for administrative convenience UnitedHealthcare will treat the provider's billed charges for covered services as the allowable expense for both the Plan and Medicare, rather than the Medicare approved amount or Medicare limiting charge.

Medicare Crossover Program

The Plan offers a Medicare Crossover program for Medicare Part A and Part B and Durable Medical Equipment (DME) claims. Under this program, you no longer have to file a separate claim with the Plan to receive secondary benefits for these expenses. Your Dependent will also have this automated Crossover, as long as he or she is eligible for Medicare and this Plan is your only secondary medical coverage.

Once the Medicare Part A and Part B and DME carriers have reimbursed your health care provider, the Medicare carrier will electronically submit the necessary information to the Claims Administrator to process the balance of your claim under the provisions of this Plan.

You can verify that the automated crossover took place when your copy of the explanation of Medicare benefits (EOMB) states your claim has been forwarded to your secondary carrier.

This crossover process does not apply to expenses that Medicare does not cover. You must continue to file claims for these expenses.

For information about enrollment or if you have questions about the program, call the telephone number listed on the back of your ID card.

Right to Receive and Release Needed Information

Certain facts about health care coverage and services are needed to apply these COB rules and to determine benefits payable under this Plan and other plans. UnitedHealthcare may get the facts needed from, or give them to, other organizations or persons for the purpose of applying these rules and determining benefits payable under this Plan and other plans covering the person claiming benefits.

UnitedHealthcare does not need to tell, or get the consent of, any person to do this. Each person claiming benefits under this Plan must give UnitedHealthcare any facts needed to apply those rules and determine benefits payable. If you do not provide UnitedHealthcare the information needed to apply these rules and determine the Benefits payable, your claim for Benefits will be denied.

Overpayment and Underpayment of Benefits

If you are covered under more than one medical plan, there is a possibility that the other plan will pay a benefit that the Plan should have paid. If this occurs, the Plan may pay the other plan the amount owed.

If the Plan pays you more than it owes under this COB provision, you should pay the excess back promptly. If the Covered Person, or any other person or organization that was paid, does not promptly refund the full amount, we may reduce the amount of any future Benefits that are payable under the Plan. The reductions will equal the amount of the required refund. The Company also reserves the right to recover any overpayment by legal action.

If the Plan overpays a health care provider, UnitedHealthcare reserves the right to recover the excess amount from the provider pursuant to Refund of Overpayments, below.

Refund of Overpayments

If the Plan pays for Benefits for expenses incurred on account of a Covered Person, that Covered Person, or any other person or organization that was paid, must make a refund to the Plan if:

- The Plan's obligation to pay Benefits was contingent on the expenses incurred being legally owed and paid by the Covered Person, but all or some of the expenses were not paid by the Covered Person or did not legally have to be paid by the Covered Person.
- All or some of the payment the Plan made exceeded the Benefits under the Plan.
- All or some of the payment was made in error.

The amount that must be refunded equals the amount the Plan paid in excess of the amount that should have been paid under the Plan. If the refund is due from another person or organization, the Covered Person agrees to help the Plan get the refund when requested.

If the refund is due from the Covered Person and the Covered Person does not promptly refund the full amount owed, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part, future Benefits for the Covered Person that are payable under the Plan. If the refund is due from a person or organization other than the Covered Person, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part, (i) future Benefits that are payable in connection with services provided to other Covered Persons under the Plan; or (ii) future Benefits that are payable in connection with services provided to persons under other plans for which UnitedHealthcare makes payments, pursuant to a transaction in which the Plan's overpayment recovery rights are assigned to such other plans in exchange for such plans' remittance of the amount of the reallocated payment. The reallocated payment amount will equal the amount of the required refund or, if less than the full amount of the required refund, will be deducted from the amount of refund owed to the Plan. The Plan may have other rights in addition to the right to reallocate overpaid amounts and other enumerated rights, including the right to commence a legal action.

SECTION 11 - SUBROGATION AND REIMBURSEMENT

The Plan has a right to subrogation and reimbursement. References to "you" or "your" in this Subrogation and Reimbursement section shall include you, your estate and your heirs and beneficiaries unless otherwise stated.

Subrogation applies when the plan has paid Benefits on your behalf for a Sickness or Injury for which any third party is allegedly to be responsible. The right to subrogation means that the Plan is substituted to and shall succeed to any and all legal claims that you may be entitled to pursue against any third party for the Benefits that the Plan has paid that are related to the Sickness or Injury for which any third party is considered responsible.

Subrogation - Example
Suppose you are injured in a car accident that is not your fault, and you receive Benefits under the Plan to treat your injuries. Under subrogation, the Plan has the right to take legal action in your name against the driver who caused the accident and that driver's insurance carrier to recover the cost of those Benefits.

The right to reimbursement means that if it is alleged that any third party caused or is responsible for a Sickness or Injury for which you receive a settlement, judgment, or other recovery from any third party, you must use those proceeds to fully return to the Plan 100% of any Benefits you receive for that Sickness or Injury. The right of reimbursement shall apply to any Benefits received at any time until the rights are extinguished, resolved or waived in writing.

Reimbursement - Example
Suppose you are injured in a boating accident that is not your fault, and you receive Benefits under the Plan as a result of your injuries. In addition, you receive a settlement in a court proceeding from the individual who caused the accident. You must use the settlement funds to return to the plan 100% of any Benefits you received to treat your injuries.

The following persons and entities are considered third parties:

- A person or entity alleged to have caused you to suffer a Sickness, Injury or damages, or who is legally responsible for the Sickness, Injury or damages.
- Any insurer or other indemnifier of any person or entity alleged to have caused or who caused the Sickness, Injury or damages.
- The Plan Sponsor in a workers' compensation case or other matter alleging liability.
- Any person or entity who is or may be obligated to provide Benefits or payments to you, including Benefits or payments for underinsured or uninsured motorist protection, no-fault or traditional auto insurance, medical payment coverage (auto, homeowners or otherwise), workers' compensation coverage, other insurance carriers or third party administrators.

- Any person or entity against whom you may have any claim for professional and/or legal malpractice arising out of or connected to a Sickness or Injury you allege or could have alleged were the responsibility of any third party.
- Any person or entity that is liable for payment to you on any equitable or legal liability theory.

You agree as follows:

- You will cooperate with the Plan in protecting its legal and equitable rights to subrogation and reimbursement in a timely manner, including, but not limited to:
  - Notifying the Plan, in writing, of any potential legal claim(s) you may have against any third party for acts which caused Benefits to be paid or become payable.
  - Providing any relevant information requested by the Plan.
  - Signing and/or delivering such documents as the Plan or its agents reasonably request to secure the subrogation and reimbursement claim.
  - Responding to requests for information about any accident or injuries.
  - Making court appearances.
  - Obtaining the Plan's consent or its agents' consent before releasing any party from liability or payment of medical expenses.
  - Complying with the terms of this section.

  Your failure to cooperate with the Plan is considered a breach of contract. As such, the Plan has the right to terminate your Benefits, deny future Benefits, take legal action against you, and/or set off from any future Benefits the value of Benefits the Plan has paid relating to any Sickness or Injury alleged to have been caused or caused by any third party to the extent not recovered by the Plan due to you or your representative not cooperating with the Plan. If the Plan incurs attorneys' fees and costs in order to collect third party settlement funds held by you or your representative, the Plan has the right to recover those fees and costs from you. You will also be required to pay interest on any amounts you hold which should have been returned to the Plan.
- The Plan has a first priority right to receive payment on any claim against any third party before you receive payment from that third party. Further, the Plan's first priority right to payment is superior to any and all claims, debts or liens asserted by any medical providers, including but not limited to hospitals or emergency treatment facilities, that assert a right to payment from funds payable from or recovered from an allegedly responsible third party and/or insurance carrier.
- The Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights apply to full and partial settlements, judgments, or other recoveries paid or payable to you or your representative, your estate, your heirs and beneficiaries, no matter how those proceeds are captioned or characterized. Payments include, but are not limited to, economic, non-economic, pecuniary, consortium and punitive damages. The Plan is not required to help you to pursue your claim for damages or personal injuries and no amount of associated costs, including attorneys' fees, shall be deducted from the Plan's recovery without the Plan's express written consent. No so-called "Fund Doctrine" or "Common Fund Doctrine" or "Attorney's Fund Doctrine" shall defeat this right.
- Benefits paid by the Plan may also be considered to be Benefits advanced.

- If you receive any payment from any party as a result of Sickness or Injury, and the Plan alleges some or all of those funds are due and owed to the Plan, you and/or your representative shall hold those funds in trust, either in a separate bank account in your name or in your representative's trust account.
- By participating in and accepting Benefits from the Plan, you agree that (i) any amounts recovered by you from any third party shall constitute Plan assets to the extent of the amount of Plan Benefits provided on behalf of the Covered Person, (ii) you and your representative shall be fiduciaries of the Plan (within the meaning of ERISA),if applicable with respect to such amounts, and (iii) you shall be liable for and agree to pay any costs and fees (including reasonable attorney fees) incurred by the Plan to enforce its reimbursement rights.
- The Plan's rights to recovery will not be reduced due to your own negligence.
- By participating in and accepting Benefits from the Plan, you agree to assign to the Plan any Benefits, claims or rights of recovery you have under any automobile policy - including no-fault Benefits, PIP Benefits and/or medical payment Benefits - other coverage or against any third party, to the full extent of the Benefits the Plan has paid for the Sickness or Injury. By agreeing to provide this assignment in exchange for participating in and accepting Benefits, you acknowledge and recognize the Plan's right to assert, pursue and recover on any such claim, whether or not you choose to pursue the claim, and you agree to this assignment voluntarily.
- The Plan may, at its option, take necessary and appropriate action to preserve its rights under these provisions, including but not limited to, providing or exchanging medical payment information with an insurer, the insurer's legal representative or other third party.
- The Plan has the authority and discretion to resolve all disputes regarding the interpretation of the language stated herein.
- In the case of your death, giving rise to any wrongful death or survival claim, the provisions of this section apply to your estate, the personal representative of your estate, and your heirs or beneficiaries. In the case of your death the Plan's right of reimbursement and right of subrogation shall apply if a claim can be brought on behalf of you or your estate that can include a claim for past medical expenses or damages. The obligation to reimburse the Plan is not extinguished by a release of claims or settlement agreement of any kind.
- The provisions of this section apply to the parents, guardian, or other representative of a Dependent child who incurs a Sickness or Injury caused by any third party. If a parent or guardian may bring a claim for damages arising out of a minor's Sickness or Injury, the terms of this subrogation and reimbursement clause shall apply to that claim.
- If a third party causes or is alleged to have caused you to suffer a Sickness or Injury while you are covered under this Plan, the provisions of this section continue to apply, even after you are no longer covered.
- In the event that you do not abide by the terms of the Plan pertaining to reimbursement, the Plan may terminate Benefits to you, your dependents or the participant, deny future Benefits, take legal action against you, and/or set off from any future Benefits the value of Benefits the Plan has paid relating to any Sickness or Injury alleged to have been caused or caused by any third party to the extent not recovered by the Plan due to your failure to abide by the terms of the Plan. If the Plan incurs attorneys' fees and costs in order to collect third party settlement funds held by you or your representative, the Plan has the right to recover those fees and costs from you. You will also be required to pay interest on any amounts you hold which should have been returned to the Plan.

- The Plan and all Administrators administering the terms and conditions of the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights have such powers and duties as are necessary to discharge its duties and functions, including the exercise of its discretionary authority to (1) construe and enforce the terms of the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights and (2) make determinations with respect to the subrogation amounts and reimbursements owed to the Plan.

Right of Recovery

The Plan also has the right to recover Benefits it has paid on you or your Dependent's behalf that were:

- Made in error.
- Due to a mistake in fact.
- Advanced during the time period of meeting the calendar year Deductible.
- Advanced during the time period of meeting the Out-of-Pocket Maximum for the calendar year.

Benefits paid because you or your Dependent misrepresented facts are also subject to recovery.

If the Plan provides a Benefit for you or your Dependent that exceeds the amount that should have been paid, the Plan will:

- Require that the overpayment be returned when requested.
- Reduce a future Benefit payment for you or your Dependent by the amount of the overpayment.

If the Plan provides an advancement of Benefits to you or your Dependent during the time period of meeting the Deductible and/or meeting the Out-of-Pocket Maximum for the calendar year, the Plan will send you or your Dependent a monthly statement identifying the amount you owe with payment instructions. The Plan has the right to recover Benefits it has advanced by:

- Submitting a reminder letter to you or a covered Dependent that details any outstanding balance owed to the Plan.
- Conducting courtesy calls to you or a covered Dependent to discuss any outstanding balance owed to the Plan.

SECTION 12 - WHEN COVERAGE ENDS

What this section includes:
- Circumstances that cause coverage to end.
- Extended coverage.
- How to continue coverage after it ends.

Your entitlement to Benefits automatically ends on the date that coverage ends, even if you are hospitalized or are otherwise receiving medical treatment on that date. Please note that this does not affect coverage that is extended under Extended Coverage for Total Disability below.

When your coverage ends, the Plan Administrator will still pay claims for Covered Health Services that you received before your coverage ended. However, once your coverage ends, Benefits are not provided for health services that you receive after coverage ended, even if the underlying medical condition occurred before your coverage ended. Please note that this does not affect coverage that is extended under Extended Coverage for Total Disability below.

Your coverage under the Plan will end on the earliest of:

- The last day of the month your employment with the Company ends.
- The date the Plan ends.
- The last day of the month you stop making the required contributions.
- The last day of the month you are no longer eligible.
- The last day of the month UnitedHealthcare receives written notice from the Plan Administrator to end your coverage, or the date requested in the notice.
- The last day of the month you retire or are pensioned under the Plan, unless specific coverage is available for retired or pensioned persons and you are eligible for that coverage.

Coverage for your eligible Dependents will end on the earliest of:

- The date your coverage ends.
- The last day of the month you stop making the required contributions.
- The last day of the month UnitedHealthcare receives written notice from the Plan Administrator to end your coverage, or the date requested in the notice.
- The last day of the month your Dependents no longer qualify as Dependents under this Plan.

Other Events Ending Your Coverage

The Plan will provide at least thirty days' prior written notice to you that your coverage will end on the date identified in the notice if you commit an act, practice, or omission that constituted fraud, or an intentional misrepresentation of a material fact including, but not limited to, knowingly providing incorrect information relating to another person's eligibility or status as a Dependent, improper use of ID, failure to pay, or threatening behavior. You may appeal this decision during the 30-day notice period. The notice will contain information on how to pursue your appeal.

Note: If UnitedHealthcare and the Company find that you have performed an act, practice, or omission that constitutes fraud, or have made an intentional misrepresentation of material fact, Adams County Government has the right to demand that you pay back all Benefits Adams County Government paid to you, or paid in your name, during the time you were incorrectly covered under the Plan. Failure to comply with the eligibility requirements as set forth in this SPD may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including, termination of employment.

Coverage for a Disabled Child

If an unmarried enrolled Dependent child with a mental or physical disability reaches an age when coverage would otherwise end, the Plan will continue to cover the child, as long as:

- The child is unable to be self-supporting due to a mental or physical handicap or disability.
- The child depends mainly on you for support.
- You provide to the Plan Administrator proof of the child's incapacity and dependency within 31 days of the date coverage would have otherwise ended because the child reached a certain age.
- You provide proof, upon the Plan Administrator's request, that the child continues to meet these conditions.

The proof might include medical examinations at the Plan Administrator's expense. However, you will not be asked for this information more than once a year. If you do not supply such proof within 31 days, the Plan will no longer pay Benefits for that child.

Coverage will continue, as long as the enrolled Dependent is incapacitated and dependent upon you, unless coverage is otherwise terminated in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

Extended Coverage for Total Disability

If a Covered Person has a Total Disability on the date their coverage under the Plan ends, their Benefits will not end automatically. The Plan will temporarily extend coverage, only for treatment of the condition causing the Total Disability. Benefits will be paid until the earlier of:

- The Total Disability ends.
- twelve months from the date coverage would have ended.

Continuing Coverage Through COBRA

COBRA continuation coverage is a temporary extension of coverage under the Plan. When you become eligible for COBRA, you may also become eligible for other coverage options that may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage.

The right to COBRA continuation coverage was created by a federal law, the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA). COBRA continuation coverage can become available to you and other members of your family when group health coverage would otherwise end.

You may have other options available to you when you lose group health coverage. For example, you may be eligible to buy an individual plan through the Health Insurance Marketplace. By enrolling in coverage through the Marketplace, you may qualify for lower costs on your monthly premiums and lower out-of-pocket costs. Additionally, you may qualify for Medicaid, or for a 30-day special enrollment period to enroll in another group health plan for which you are eligible (such as a spouse's plan), even if that plan generally doesn't accept late enrollees. Some of these options may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage. You can learn more about many of these options at www.healthcare.gov.

COBRA continuation coverage is a continuation of Plan coverage when it would otherwise end because of a life event. This is also called a "qualifying event." After a qualifying event, COBRA continuation coverage must be offered to each person who is a "qualified beneficiary." You, your spouse, and your dependent children could become qualified beneficiaries if coverage under the Plan is lost because of a qualifying event. Under the Plan, qualified beneficiaries who elect COBRA continuation coverage must pay for COBRA continuation coverage.

Qualified Beneficiaries

A Qualified Beneficiary generally is any individual covered by a group health plan on the day before a Qualifying Event, such as an employee, the employee's spouse, and dependent children. Dependents continuing coverage under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) are not considered to be Qualified Beneficiaries for COBRA purposes.

A child born to, placed for adoption with, or adopted by the covered employee during a period of COBRA coverage will be considered on the same basis as the covered employee.

Qualifying Events

A Qualifying Event is a life event that would cause the Qualified Beneficiary to lose coverage under the Plan including;

- Termination of employment (other than for gross misconduct), reduction in hours of an eligible employee
- Divorce, legal separation, dependent cessation (a child no longer qualifies as an eligible dependent under the Plan)
- Death of the employee
- Extended military leave of the employee

- Medicare entitlement (Part A, Part B or both) of the employee.

The taking of leave under the Family Medical Leave Act does not constitute a Qualifying Event under COBRA.

COBRA continuation coverage begins on the date that Plan coverage would otherwise have been lost. Qualified Beneficiaries electing continuation coverage must pay 102 percent of the cost of that coverage.

The Plan will offer COBRA continuation coverage to Qualified Beneficiaries only after the Plan Administrator has been notified that a Qualifying Event has occurred. For a Qualifying Event such as termination of employment, reduction in hours, death of the employee, or extended military leave of the employee, the employer will notify the Plan Administrator within 31 days of the qualifying event. The Plan Administrator will notify you within 14 days of your rights, enrollment deadlines and the premium required for your continued coverage. Each Qualified Beneficiary will have an independent right to elect continuation coverage.

You must notify the Plan Administrator in writing in the event of a divorce or legal separation, Medicare entitlement (Part A, Part B or both), or in the event a child no longer qualifies as a dependent, as soon as possible, but no later than 60 days after the date of the Qualifying Event. The Plan Administrator will notify you within 14 days of your rights, enrollment deadlines and the premium required for your continued coverage.

How long coverage may be continued

- Up to 18 months for the reason of termination of employment (other than for gross misconduct) or reduction in hours of an eligible employee
- Up to 24 months for the reason of continued military leave as defined by USERRA
- Up to 36 months for the reason of death of an employee, a divorce or legal separation, the employee becoming entitled to Medicare benefits (Part A, Part B or both), or a dependent child ceasing to be eligible under the plan
- Up to 36 months for Qualified Beneficiaries, other than the employee, if the Qualifying Event is termination of employment or reduction in hours of the employee, and the employee became entitled to Medicare benefits (Part A, Part B or both) less than 18 months before the Qualifying Event.

Extended Coverage due to Disability

Coverage could be extended up to 11 months, for a total of 29 months of coverage, for all Qualified Beneficiaries if:

- A Qualified Beneficiary is totally disabled according to the Social Security Administration before the 60th day of COBRA continuation coverage, lasting at least until the end of the 18-month period of continuation coverage; and
- The employee or eligible dependent provides the Human Resources Department with a copy of the Social Security Administration (SSA) Determination of Total Disability (notice must be received within the initial 18 months of continued coverage); and

- Timely premium payments are made (premiums are increased to 150 percent of the cost of coverage for the additional 11 months).
- The Plan Administrator must be notified within 31 days if the Qualified Beneficiary is no longer considered disabled by the Social Security Administration.

Employees disabled while continuing coverage under USERRA are not eligible for the 11-month extension rule.

Second Qualifying Events

Coverage for qualified dependents could be extended up to 36 months from the date of the Initial Qualifying Event if:

- The covered employee dies
- A divorce or legal separation from the covered employee occurs
- A covered dependent child no longer qualifies as an eligible dependent
- A covered employee subsequently becomes entitled to Medicare (Part A, Part B or both) during the initial 18-month COBRA period.

These events can be a Second Qualifying Event only if they would have caused the Qualified Beneficiary to lose coverage under the Plan if the Initial Qualifying Event had not occurred. You must notify the Human Resources Department within 60 days after a Second Qualifying Event occurs if you wish to extend coverage.

For Additional Questions

For more information about your rights and obligations under the Plan and federal law you may contact the nearest regional or district office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA). Addresses and phone numbers of the EBSA Offices are available through the EBSA website at www.dol.gov/ebsa.

Getting Started

You will be notified by mail if you become eligible for COBRA coverage as a result of a reduction in work hours or termination of employment. The notification will give you instructions for electing COBRA coverage, and advise you of the monthly cost. Your monthly cost is the full cost, including both Participant and Employer costs, plus a 2% administrative fee or other cost as permitted by law.

You will have up to 60 days from the date you receive notification or 60 days from the date your coverage ends to elect COBRA coverage, whichever is later. You will then have an additional 45 days to pay the cost of your COBRA coverage, retroactive to the date your Plan coverage ended.

During the 60-day election period, the Plan will, only in response to a request from a provider, inform that provider of your right to elect COBRA coverage, retroactive to the date your COBRA eligibility began.

While you are a participant in the medical Plan under COBRA, you have the right to change your coverage election:

- During Open Enrollment.
- Following a change in family status, as described under Changing Your Coverage in Section 2*, Introduction*.

Trade Act of 2002

The Trade Act of 2002 amended COBRA to provide for a special second 60-day COBRA election period for certain Participants who have experienced a termination or reduction of hours and who lose group health plan coverage as a result. The special second COBRA election period is available only to a very limited group of individuals: generally, those who are receiving trade adjustment assistance (TAA) or 'alternative trade adjustment assistance' under a federal law called the Trade Act of 1974. These Participants are entitled to a second opportunity to elect COBRA coverage for themselves and certain family members (if they did not already elect COBRA coverage), but only within a limited period of 60 days from the first day of the month when an individual begins receiving TAA (or would be eligible to receive TAA but for the requirement that unemployment benefits be exhausted) and only during the six months immediately after their group health plan coverage ended.

If a Participant qualifies or may qualify for assistance under the Trade Act of 1974, he or she should contact the Plan Administrator for additional information. The Participant must contact the Plan Administrator promptly after qualifying for assistance under the Trade Act of 1974 or the Participant will lose his or her special COBRA rights. COBRA coverage elected during the special second election period is not retroactive to the date that Plan coverage was lost, but begins on the first day of the special second election period.

Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act

A Participant who is absent from employment for more than 30 days by reason of service in the Uniformed Services may elect to continue Plan coverage for the Participant and the Participant's Dependents in accordance with the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994, as amended (USERRA).

The terms "Uniformed Services" or "Military Service" mean the Armed Forces, the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard when engaged in active duty for training, inactive duty training, or full-time National Guard duty, the commissioned corps of the Public Health Service, and any other category of persons designated by the President in time of war or national emergency.

If qualified to continue coverage pursuant to the USERRA, Participants may elect to continue coverage under the Plan by notifying the Plan Administrator in advance, and providing payment of any required contribution for the health coverage. This may include the amount the Plan Administrator normally pays on a Participant's behalf. If a Participant's Military Service is for a period of time less than 31 days, the Participant may not be required to pay more than the regular contribution amount, if any, for continuation of health coverage.

A Participant may continue Plan coverage under USERRA for up to the lesser of:

- The 24 month period beginning on the date of the Participant's termination of coverage under the Plan.
- The day after the date on which the Participant fails to apply for, or return to, a position of employment.

Regardless of whether a Participant continues health coverage, if the Participant returns to a position of employment, the Participant's health coverage and that of the Participant's eligible Dependents will be reinstated under the Plan. No exclusions or waiting period may be imposed on a Participant or the Participant's eligible Dependents in connection with this reinstatement, unless a Sickness or Injury is determined by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to have been incurred in, or aggravated during, the performance of military service.

You should call the Plan Administrator if you have questions about your rights to continue health coverage under USERRA.

SECTION 13 - OTHER IMPORTANT INFORMATION

What this section includes:

- Court-ordered Benefits for Dependent children.
- Your relationship with UnitedHealthcare and the Company.
- Relationships with providers.
- Interpretation of Benefits.
- Information and records.
- Incentives to providers and you.
- The future of the Plan.
- How to access the official Plan documents.

Qualified Medical Child Support Orders (QMCSOs)

A qualified medical child support order (QMCSO) is a judgment, decree or order issued by a court or appropriate state agency that requires a child to be covered for medical benefits. Generally, a QMCSO is issued as part of a paternity, divorce, or other child support settlement.

If the Plan receives a medical child support order for your child that instructs the Plan to cover the child, the Plan Administrator will review it to determine if it meets the requirements for a QMCSO. If it determines that it does, your child will be enrolled in the Plan as your Dependent, and the Plan will be required to pay Benefits as directed by the order.

You may obtain, without charge, a copy of the procedures governing QMCSOs from the Plan Administrator.

Note: A National Medical Support Notice will be recognized as a QMCSO if it meets the requirements of a QMCSO.

Your Relationship with UnitedHealthcare and the Company

In order to make choices about your health care coverage and treatment, Adams County Government believes that it is important for you to understand how UnitedHealthcare interacts with the Plan Sponsor's benefit Plan and how it may affect you. UnitedHealthcare helps administer the Plan Sponsor's benefit plan in which you are enrolled. UnitedHealthcare does not provide medical services or make treatment decisions. This means:

- The Company and UnitedHealthcare do not decide what care you need or will receive. You and your Physician make those decisions.
- UnitedHealthcare communicates to you decisions about whether the Plan will cover or pay for the health care that you may receive. The Plan pays for Covered Health Services, which are more fully described in this SPD.

- The Plan may not pay for all treatments you or your Physician may believe are necessary. If the Plan does not pay, you will be responsible for the cost.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may use individually identifiable information about you to identify for you (and you alone) procedures, products or services that you may find valuable. The Company and UnitedHealthcare will use individually identifiable information about you as permitted or required by law, including in operations and in research. The Company and UnitedHealthcare will use de-identified data for commercial purposes including research.

Relationship with Providers

The Claims Administrator has agreements in place that govern the relationships between it and the Company and Network providers, some of which are affiliated providers. Network providers enter into agreements with the Claims Administrator to provide Covered Health Services to Covered Persons.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare do not provide health care services or supplies, nor do they practice medicine. Instead, the Company and UnitedHealthcare arrange for health care providers to participate in a Network and administer payment of Benefits. Network providers are independent practitioners who run their own offices and facilities. UnitedHealthcare's credentialing process confirms public information about the providers' licenses and other credentials, but does not assure the quality of the services provided. They are not the Company's employees nor are they employees of UnitedHealthcare. The Company and UnitedHealthcare are not responsible for any act or omission of any provider.

UnitedHealthcare is not considered to be an employer of the Plan Administrator for any purpose with respect to the administration or provision of benefits under this Plan.

The Company is solely responsible for:

- Enrollment and classification changes (including classification changes resulting in your enrollment or the termination of your coverage).
- The timely payment of the service fee to UnitedHealthcare.
- The funding of Benefits on a timely basis.
- Notifying you of the termination or modifications to the Plan.

When the Plan Sponsor establishes the Plan to provide coverage under a benefit plan governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA"), 29 U.S.C. §1001 et seq., the Claims Administrator is not the plan administrator or named fiduciary of the benefit plan, as those terms are used in ERISA. If you have questions about your welfare benefit plan, you should contact the Plan Sponsor. If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, contact the nearest area office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, U. S. Department of Labor.

Your Relationship with Providers

The relationship between you and any provider is that of provider and patient.

- You are responsible for choosing your own provider.
- You are responsible for paying, directly to your provider, any amount identified as a member responsibility, including Coinsurance, any deductible and any amount that exceeds Eligible Expenses.
- You are responsible for paying, directly to your provider, the cost of any non-Covered Health Service.
- You must decide if any provider treating you is right for you. This includes Network providers you choose and providers to whom you have been referred.
- Must decide with your provider what care you should receive.
- Your provider is solely responsible for the quality of the services provided to you.

The relationship between you and the Company is that of employer and employee, Dependent or other classification as defined in the SPD.

Interpretation of Benefits

The Company and UnitedHealthcare have the sole and exclusive discretion to:

- Interpret Benefits under the Plan.
- Interpret the other terms, conditions, limitations and exclusions of the Plan, including this SPD and any Summary of Material Modifications and/or Amendments.
- Make factual determinations related to the Plan and its Benefits.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may delegate this discretionary authority to other persons or entities that provide services in regard to the administration of the Plan.

In certain circumstances, for purposes of overall cost savings or efficiency, the Company may, in its discretion, offer Benefits for services that would otherwise not be Covered Health Services. The fact that the Company does so in any particular case shall not in any way be deemed to require the Company to do so in other similar cases.

Information and Records

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may use your individually identifiable health information to administer the Plan and pay claims, to identify procedures, products, or services that you may find valuable, and as otherwise permitted or required by law. The Company and UnitedHealthcare may request additional information from you to decide your claim for Benefits. The Company and UnitedHealthcare will keep this information confidential. The Company and UnitedHealthcare may also use your de-identified data for commercial purposes, including research, as permitted by law.

By accepting Benefits under the Plan, you authorize and direct any person or institution that has provided services to you to furnish the Company and UnitedHealthcare with all information or copies of records relating to the services provided to you. The Company and UnitedHealthcare have the right to request this information at any reasonable time. This applies to all Covered Persons, including enrolled Dependents whether or not they have signed the Participant's enrollment form. The Company and UnitedHealthcare agree that such information and records will be considered confidential.

The Company and UnitedHealthcare have the right to release any and all records concerning health care services which are necessary to implement and administer the terms of the Plan, for appropriate medical review or quality assessment, or as the Company is required to do by law or regulation. During and after the term of the Plan, the Company and UnitedHealthcare and its related entities may use and transfer the information gathered under the Plan in a de-identified format for commercial purposes, including research and analytic purposes.

For complete listings of your medical records or billing statements the Company recommends that you contact your health care provider. Providers may charge you reasonable fees to cover their costs for providing records or completing requested forms.

If you request medical forms or records from UnitedHealthcare, they also may charge you reasonable fees to cover costs for completing the forms or providing the records.

In some cases, as permitted by law, the Company and UnitedHealthcare will designate other persons or entities to request records or information from or related to you, and to release those records as necessary. UnitedHealthcare's designees have the same rights to this information as does the Plan Administrator.

Incentives to Providers

Network providers may be provided financial incentives by UnitedHealthcare to promote the delivery of health care in a cost efficient and effective manner. These financial incentives are not intended to affect your access to health care.

Examples of financial incentives for Network providers are:

- Bonuses for performance based on factors that may include quality, member satisfaction, and/or cost-effectiveness.
- A practice called capitation which is when a group of Network providers receives a monthly payment from UnitedHealthcare for each Covered Person who selects a Network provider within the group to perform or coordinate certain health services. The Network providers receive this monthly payment regardless of whether the cost of providing or arranging to provide the Covered Person's health care is less than or more than the payment.
- Bundled payments - certain Network providers receive a bundled payment for a group of Covered Health Services for a particular procedure or medical condition. Your Copayment and/or Coinsurance will be calculated based on the provider type that received the bundled payment. The Network providers receive these bundled payments regardless of whether the cost of providing or arranging to provide the Covered Person's health care is less than or more than the payment. If you receive follow-up services related to a procedure where a bundled payment is made, an additional Copayment and/or Coinsurance may not be required if such follow-up services are included in the bundled payment. You may receive some Covered Health Services that are not considered part of the inclusive bundled payment and those Covered Health Services would be subject to the applicable Copayment and/or Coinsurance as described in your Plan Highlights.

If you have any questions regarding financial incentives you may contact the telephone number on your ID card. You can ask whether your Network provider is paid by any financial incentive, including those listed above; however, the specific terms of the contract, including rates of payment, are confidential and cannot be disclosed. In addition, you may choose to discuss these financial incentives with your Network provider.

Incentives to You

Sometimes you may be offered coupons or other incentives to encourage you to participate in various wellness programs or certain disease management programs, surveys, discount programs and/or programs to seek care in a more cost effective setting and/or from Designated Providers. In some instances, these programs may be offered in combination with a non-UnitedHealthcare entity. The decision about whether or not to participate is yours alone but we recommend that you discuss participating in such programs with your Physician. These incentives are not Benefits and do not alter or affect your Benefits. You may call the number on your ID card if you have any questions. Additional information may be found in Section 7, Clinical Programs and Resources.

Rebates and Other Payments

The Company and UnitedHealthcare may receive rebates for certain drugs that are administered to you in a Physician's office, or at a Hospital or Alternate Facility. This includes rebates for those drugs that are administered to you before you meet your Annual Deductible. The Company and UnitedHealthcare may pass a portion of these rebates on to you. When rebates are passed on to you, they may be taken into account in determining your Copays.

Workers' Compensation Not Affected

Benefits provided under the Plan do not substitute for and do not affect any requirements for coverage by workers' compensation insurance.

Future of the Plan

Although the Company expects to continue the Plan indefinitely, it reserves the right to discontinue, alter or modify the Plan in whole or in part, at any time and for any reason, at its sole determination.

The Company's decision to terminate or amend a Plan may be due to changes in federal or state laws governing employee benefits, the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code or any other reason. A plan change may transfer plan assets and debts to another plan or split a plan into two or more parts. If the Company does change or terminate a plan, it may decide to set up a different plan providing similar or different benefits.

If this Plan is terminated, Covered Persons will not have the right to any other Benefits from the Plan, other than for those claims incurred prior to the date of termination, or as otherwise provided under the Plan. In addition, if the Plan is amended, Covered Persons may be subject to altered coverage and Benefits.

The amount and form of any final benefit you receive will depend on any Plan document or contract provisions affecting the Plan and Company decisions. After all Benefits have been paid and other requirements of the law have been met, certain remaining Plan assets will be turned over to the Company and others as may be required by any applicable law.

Plan Document

This Summary Plan Description (SPD) is the official plan document that has been adopted by the Company. There is no other document that controls the benefits under the Plan.

Review and Determine Benefits in Accordance with UnitedHealthcare Reimbursement Policies

UnitedHealthcare develops its reimbursement policy guidelines, in its sole discretion, in accordance with one or more of the following methodologies:

- As indicated in the most recent edition of the Current Procedural Terminology (CPT), a publication of the American Medical Association, and/or the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).
- As reported by generally recognized professionals or publications.
- As used for Medicare.
- As determined by medical staff and outside medical consultants pursuant to other appropriate sources or determinations that UnitedHealthcare accepts.

Following evaluation and validation of certain provider billings (e.g., error, abuse and fraud reviews), UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies are applied to provider billings. UnitedHealthcare shares its reimbursement policies with Physicians and other providers in UnitedHealthcare's Network through UnitedHealthcare's provider website. Network Physicians and providers may not bill you for the difference between their contract rate (as may be modified by UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies) and the billed charge. However, non-Network providers are not subject to this prohibition, and may bill you for any amounts the Plan does not pay, including amounts that are denied because one of UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies does not reimburse (in whole or in part) for the service billed. You may obtain copies of UnitedHealthcare's reimbursement policies for yourself or to share with your non-Network Physician or provider by going to www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.

UnitedHealthcare may apply a reimbursement methodology established by OptumInsight and/or a third party vendor, which is based on CMS coding principles, to determine appropriate reimbursement levels for Emergency Health Services. The methodology is usually based on elements reflecting the patient complexity, direct costs, and indirect costs of an Emergency Health Service. If the methodology(ies) currently in use become no longer available, UnitedHealthcare will use a comparable methodology(ies). UnitedHealthcare and OptumInsight are related companies through common ownership by UnitedHealth Group. Refer to UnitedHealthcare's website at www.myuhc.com for information regarding the vendor that provides the applicable methodology.

Experimental or Investigational Services - medical, surgical, diagnostic, psychiatric, mental health, substance-related and addictive disorders or other health care services, technologies, supplies, treatments, procedures, drug therapies, medications or devices that, at the time the Claims Administrator makes a determination regarding coverage in a particular case, are determined to be any of the following:

- Not approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to be lawfully marketed for the proposed use and not identified in the American Hospital Formulary Service or the United States Pharmacopoeia Dispensing Information as appropriate for the proposed use.

Exceptions:

- Clinical Trials for which Benefits are available as described under Clinical Trials in Section 6, Additional Coverage Details.
- If you are not a participant in a qualifying Clinical Trial as described under Section 6, Additional Coverage Details, and have a Sickness or condition that is likely to cause death within one year of the request for treatment, the Claims Administrator may, at its discretion, consider an otherwise Experimental or Investigational Service to be a Covered Health Service for that Sickness or condition. Prior to such consideration, the Claims Administrator must determine that, although unproven, the service has significant potential as an effective treatment for that Sickness or condition.

Explanation of Benefits (EOB) - a statement provided by UnitedHealthcare to you, your Physician, or another health care professional that explains:

- The Benefits provided (if any).

- The condition is associated with clinically significant distress or impairment in social, occupational or other important areas of functioning.

■ Diagnostic criteria for children:

Genetic Testing - exam of blood or other tissue for changes in genes (DNA or RNA) that may indicate an increased risk for developing a specific disease or disorder, or provide information to guide the selection of treatment of certain diseases, including cancer.

Gestational Carrier- a Gestational Carrier is a woman who agrees to have a couple's fertilized egg (embryo) implanted in her uterus. Hospital - an institution, operated as required by law and that meets both of the following:

- It is primarily engaged in providing health services, on an inpatient basis, for the acute care and treatment of sick or injured individuals. Care is provided through medical, mental health, substance-related and addictive disorders, diagnostic and surgical facilities, by or under the supervision of a staff of Physicians.
- It has 24-hour nursing services.

Injury - bodily damage other than Sickness, including all related conditions and recurrent symptoms.

Inpatient Rehabilitation Facility - a long term acute rehabilitation center, a Hospital (or a special unit of a Hospital designated as an Inpatient Rehabilitation Facility) that provides rehabilitation services (including physical therapy, occupational therapy and/or speech therapy) on an inpatient basis, as authorized by law.

- Specialized consulting services to Participants and enrolled Dependents with ESRD or chronic kidney disease.
- Access to dialysis centers with expertise in treating kidney disease.
- Guidance for the patient on the prescribed plan of care.

Manipulative Treatment - the therapeutic application of chiropractic and/or osteopathic manipulative treatment with or without ancillary physiologic treatment and/or rehabilitative methods rendered to restore/improve motion, reduce pain and improve function in the management of an identifiable neuromusculoskeletal condition.

Medicare - Parts A, B, C and D of the insurance program established by Title XVIII, United States Social Security Act, as amended by 42 U.S.C. Sections 1394, et seq. and as later amended.

Mental Health Services - services for the diagnosis and treatment of those mental health or psychiatric categories that are listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The fact that a condition is listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association does not mean that treatment for the condition is a Covered Health Service.

Mental Health/Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Administrator - the organization or individual designated by the Plan Administrator who provides or arranges Mental Health Services and Substance-Related and Addictive Disorder Services under the Plan.

Mental Illness – those mental health or psychiatric diagnostic categories listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The fact that a condition is listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association does not mean that treatment for the condition is a Covered Health Service.

Neonatal Resource Services (NRS) - a program administered by UnitedHealthcare or its affiliates made available to you by the Company. The NRS program provides guided access to a network of credentialed NICU providers and specialized nurse consulting services to help manage NICU admissions.

Network - when used to describe a provider of health care services, this means a provider that has a participation agreement in effect (either directly or indirectly) with the Claims Administrator or with its affiliate to participate in the Network; however, this does not include those providers who have agreed to discount their charges for Covered Health Services by way of their participation in the Shared Savings Program. The Claims Administrator's affiliates are those entities affiliated with the Claims Administrator through common ownership or control with the Claims Administrator or with the Claims Administrator's ultimate corporate parent, including direct and indirect subsidiaries.

A provider may enter into an agreement to provide only certain Covered Health Services, but not all Covered Health Services, or to be a Network provider for only some products. In this case, the provider will be a Network provider for the Covered Health Services and products included in the participation agreement, and a non-Network provider for other Covered Health Services and products. The participation status of providers will change from time to time.

Network Benefits - for Benefit Plans that have a Network Benefit level, this is the description of how Benefits are paid for Covered Health Services provided by Network providers. Refer to Section 5, Plan Highlights to determine whether or not your Benefit plan offers Network Benefits and Section 3, How the Plan Works, for details about how Network Benefits apply.

New Pharmaceutical Product - a Pharmaceutical Product or new dosage form of a previously approved Pharmaceutical Product. It applies to the period of time starting on the date the Pharmaceutical Product or new dosage form is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and ends on the earlier of the following dates.

- The date it is reviewed.
- December 31st of the following calendar year.

Non-Network Benefits - for Benefit Plans that have a Non-Network Benefit level, this is the description of how Benefits are paid for Covered Health Services provided by non-Network providers. Participant - a Participant of the Employer who meets the eligibility requirements specified in the Plan, as described under Eligibility in Section 2, Introduction. A Participant must live and/or work in the United States.

Pharmaceutical Product(s) – U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA)-approved prescription medications or products administered in connection with a Covered Health Service by a Physician.

Physician - any Doctor of Medicine or Doctor of Osteopathy who is properly licensed and qualified by law.

Please note: Any podiatrist, dentist, psychologist, chiropractor, optometrist or other provider who acts within the scope of his or her license will be considered on the same basis as a Physician. The fact that a provider is described as a Physician does not mean that Benefits for services from that provider are available to you under the Plan.

Plan - The Adams County Government Choice Plus Health Benefit Plan.

Plan Administrator - Adams County Government or its designee.

Plan Sponsor - Adams County Government, references to "we", "us" and "our" refer to the Plan Sponsor.

Pregnancy - includes all of the following:

- Prenatal care.
- Postnatal care.
- Childbirth.
- Any complications associated with the above.

Presumptive Drug Test - test to determine the presence or absence of drugs or a drug class in which the results are indicated as negative or positive result.

Primary Physician - a Physician who has a majority of his or her practice in general pediatrics, internal medicine, family practice or general medicine.

- No skilled services are identified.
- Skilled nursing resources are available in the facility.
- The skilled care can be provided by a Home Health Agency on a per visit basis for a specific purpose.
- The service is provided to a Covered Person by an independent nurse who is hired directly by the Covered Person or his/her family. This includes nursing services provided on an inpatient or a home-care basis, whether the service is skilled or non-skilled independent nursing.

Reconstructive Procedure - a procedure performed to address a physical impairment where the expected outcome is restored or improved function. The primary purpose of a Reconstructive Procedure is either to treat a medical condition or to improve or restore physiologic function. Reconstructive Procedures include surgery or other procedures which are associated with an Injury, Sickness or Congenital Anomaly. The primary result of the procedure is not changed or improved physical appearance. The fact that a person may suffer psychologically as a result of the impairment does not classify surgery or any other procedure done to relieve the impairment as a Reconstructive Procedure.

Residential Treatment – treatment in a facility which provides Mental Health Services or Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Services treatment. The facility meets all of the following requirements:

- It is established and operated in accordance with applicable state law for Residential Treatment programs.
- It provides a program of treatment under the active participation and direction of a Physician and approved by the Mental Health/Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Administrator.

- It provides at least the following basic services in a 24-hour per day, structured milieu:
  - Room and board.
  - Evaluation and diagnosis.
  - Counseling.
  - Referral and orientation to specialized community resources.

A Residential Treatment facility that qualifies as a Hospital is considered a Hospital.

Retired Employee - an Employee under the age of 65 who meets the retirement eligibility rules as defined by Adams County policy guidelines. Retirees over 65 years of age actively enrolled in Medicare are not eligible for coverage.

Semi-private Room - a room with two or more beds. When an Inpatient Stay in a Semi-private Room is a Covered Health Service, the difference in cost between a Semi-private Room and a private room is a benefit only when a private room is necessary in terms of generally accepted medical practice, or when a Semi-private Room is not available.

Shared Savings Program – a program in which UnitedHealthcare may obtain a discount to a non-Network provider's billed charges. This discount is usually based on a schedule previously agreed to by the non-Network provider. When this happens, you may experience lower out-of-pocket amounts. Plan coinsurance and any applicable deductible would still apply to the reduced charge. Sometimes Plan provisions or administrative practices supersede the scheduled rate, and a different rate is determined by UnitedHealthcare. This means, when contractually permitted, the Plan may pay the lesser of the Shared Savings Program discount or an amount determined by the Claims Administrator, such as a percentage of the published rates allowed by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) for the same or similar service within the geographic market, an amount determined based on available data resources of competitive fees in that geographic area, a fee schedule established by a third party vendor or a negotiated rate with the provider. In this case the non-Network provider may bill you for the difference between the billed amount and the rate determined by UnitedHealthcare. If this happens you should call the number on your ID Card. Shared Savings Program providers are not Network providers and are not credentialed by UnitedHealthcare.

Sickness - physical illness, disease or Pregnancy. The term Sickness as used in this SPD includes Mental Illness or substance-related and addictive disorders, regardless of the cause or origin of the Mental Illness or substance-related and addictive disorder.

Skilled Care - skilled nursing, teaching, and rehabilitation services when:

- They are delivered or supervised by licensed technical or professional medical personnel in order to obtain the specified medical outcome and provide for the safety of the patient.
- A Physician orders them.
- They are not delivered for the purpose of assisting with activities of daily living, including dressing, feeding, bathing or transferring from a bed to a chair.
- They require clinical training in order to be delivered safely and effectively.
- They are not Custodial Care, as defined in this section.

Skilled Nursing Facility - a Hospital or nursing facility that is licensed and operated as required by law. A Skilled Nursing Facility that is part of a Hospital is considered a Skilled Nursing Facility for purposes of the Plan.

Specialist Physician - a Physician who has a majority of his or her practice in areas other than general pediatrics, internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, family practice or general medicine.

Spouse - an individual who meets the eligibility requirements specified in the Plan, as described under Eligibility in Section 2, Introduction.

Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Services - services for the diagnosis and treatment of alcoholism and substance-related and addictive disorders that are listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The fact that a disorder is listed in the edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association does not mean that treatment of the disorder is a Covered Health Service.

Surrogate - a female who becomes pregnant usually by artificial insemination or transfer of a fertilized egg (embryo) for the purpose of carrying the fetus for another person. The surrogate provides the egg and is therefore biologically (genetically) related to the child.

Total Disability or Totally Disabled - a Participant's inability to perform all of the substantial and material duties of his or her regular employment or occupation; and a Dependent's or retired person's inability to perform the normal activities of a person of like age and gender.

Transitional Living - Mental Health Services and Substance-Related and Addictive Disorder Services that are provided through facilities, group homes and supervised apartments that provide 24-hour supervision that are either:

- Sober living arrangements such as drug-free housing or alcohol/drug halfway houses. These are transitional, supervised living arrangements that provide stable and safe housing, an alcohol/drug-free environment and support for recovery. A sober living arrangement may be utilized as an adjunct to ambulatory treatment when treatment doesn't offer the intensity and structure needed to assist the Covered Person with recovery.
- Supervised living arrangements which are residences such as facilities, group homes and supervised apartments that provide members with stable and safe housing and the opportunity to learn how to manage their activities of daily living. Supervised living arrangements may be utilized as an adjunct to treatment when treatment doesn't offer the intensity and structure needed to assist the Covered Person with recovery.

Unproven Services - health services, including medications that are determined not to be effective for treatment of the medical condition and/or not to have a beneficial effect on health outcomes due to insufficient and inadequate clinical evidence from well-conducted randomized controlled trials or cohort studies in the prevailing published peer-reviewed medical literature.

- Well-conducted randomized controlled trials are two or more treatments compared to each other, with the patient not being allowed to choose which treatment is received.
- Well-conducted cohort studies from more than one institution are studies in which patients who receive study treatment are compared to a group of patients who receive standard therapy. The comparison group must be nearly identical to the study treatment group.

UnitedHealthcare has a process by which it compiles and reviews clinical evidence with respect to certain health services. From time to time, UnitedHealthcare issues medical and drug policies that describe the clinical evidence available with respect to specific health care services. These medical and drug policies are subject to change without prior notice. You can view these policies at www.myuhc.com.

Please note:

- If you have a life threatening Sickness or condition (one that is likely to cause death within one year of the request for treatment), UnitedHealthcare may, at its discretion, consider an otherwise Unproven Service to be a Covered Health Service for that Sickness or condition. Prior to such a consideration, UnitedHealthcare must first establish that there is sufficient evidence to conclude that, albeit unproven, the service has significant potential as an effective treatment for that Sickness or condition.

The decision about whether such a service can be deemed a Covered Health Service is solely at UnitedHealthcare's discretion. Other apparently similar promising but unproven services may not qualify.

Urgent Care - care that requires prompt attention to avoid adverse consequences, but does not pose an immediate threat to a person's life. Urgent care is usually delivered in a walk-in setting and without an appointment. Urgent care facilities are a location, distinct from a hospital emergency department, an office or a clinic. The purpose is to diagnose and treat illness or injury for unscheduled, ambulatory patients seeking immediate medical attention.

Urgent Care Center - a facility that provides Covered Health Services that are required to prevent serious deterioration of your health, and that are required as a result of an unforeseen Sickness, Injury, or the onset of acute or severe symptoms.

SECTION 15 - OUTPATIENT PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

What this section includes:

- Benefits available for Prescription Drug Products.
- How to utilize the retail and mail order service for obtaining Prescription Drug Products.
- Any Benefit limitations and exclusions that exist for Prescription Drug Products.
- Definitions of terms used throughout this section related to the Prescription Drug Product Plan.

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products

Benefits are available for Prescription Drug Products at either a Network Pharmacy or a non-Network Pharmacy and are subject to Coinsurance or other payments that vary depending on which of the tiers of the Prescription Drug List (PDL) the Prescription Drug Product is listed. Refer to the Outpatient Prescription Drug Schedule of Benefits for applicable Coinsurance requirements.

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products are available when the Prescription Drug Product meets the definition of a Covered Health Service or is prescribed to prevent conception.

What You Must Pay

Benefits for Preventive Care Medications are not subject to payment of the Annual Deductible.

You are responsible for paying the applicable Coinsurance described in the Payment Information - Outpatient Prescription Drugs table or Schedule of Benefits - Outpatient Prescription Drugs.

Payment Terms and Features - Outpatient Prescription Drugs

Prescription Drug Product Coverage Highlights

The table below provides an overview of the Plan's Prescription Drug Product coverage. It includes Coinsurance amounts that apply when you have a prescription filled at a Network or non-Network Pharmacy after you meet the Annual Deductible. For detailed descriptions of your Benefits, refer to Retail and Mail Order in this section.

Note: The Annual Deductible applies to all Covered Health Services under the Plan, including Covered Health Services provided in Section 6, Additional Coverage Details. The Out-of-Pocket Maximum applies to all Covered Health Services under the Plan, including Covered Health Services provided in Section 6, Additional Coverage Details.

If a Brand-name Drug Becomes Available as a Generic

If a Brand-name Prescription Drug Product becomes available as a Generic drug, the tier placement of the Brand-name Prescription Drug Product may change. As a result, your Coinsurance may change. You will pay the Coinsurance applicable for the tier to which the Prescription Drug Product is assigned.

Notification Requirements

Before certain Prescription Drug Products are dispensed to you, it is the responsibility of your Physician, your pharmacist or you to notify UnitedHealthcare or its designee. The reason for notifying UnitedHealthcare or its designee is to determine if the Prescription Drug Product, in accordance with UnitedHealthcare's approved guidelines, is each of the following:

- It meets the definition of a Covered Health Service as defined by the Plan.
- It is not an Experimental or Investigational or Unproven Service, as defined in Section 14, Glossary.

The Plan may also require you to notify UnitedHealthcare or its designee so UnitedHealthcare can determine whether the Prescription Drug Product, in accordance with UnitedHealthcare's approved guidelines, was prescribed by a Specialist Physician.

Network Pharmacy Notification

When Prescription Drug Products are dispensed at a Network Pharmacy, the prescribing provider, the pharmacist, or you are responsible for notifying UnitedHealthcare.

Non-Network Pharmacy Notification

When Prescription Drug Products are dispensed at a non-Network Pharmacy, you or your Physician, are responsible for notifying UnitedHealthcare as required.

If UnitedHealthcare is not notified before the Prescription Drug Product is dispensed, you may pay more for that Prescription Drug Product order or refill. You will be required to pay for the Prescription Drug Product at the time of purchase. The Prescription Drug Products requiring notification are subject to UnitedHealthcare's periodic review and modification. You may determine whether a particular Prescription Drug Product requires notification through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.

If UnitedHealthcare is not notified before the Prescription Drug Product is dispensed, you can ask UnitedHealthcare to consider reimbursement after you receive the Prescription Drug Product. You will be required to pay for the Prescription Drug Product at the pharmacy. UnitedHealthcare contracted pharmacy reimbursement rates (UnitedHealthcare's Prescription Drug Charge) will not be available to you at a non-Network Pharmacy. You may seek reimbursement from the Plan as described in Section 9, Claims Procedures.

When you submit a claim on this basis, you may pay more because you did not notify UnitedHealthcare before the Prescription Drug Product was dispensed. The amount you are reimbursed will be based on the Prescription Drug Charge (for Prescription Drug Products from a Network Pharmacy) or the Out-of-Network Reimbursement Rate (for Prescription Drug Products from a non-Network Pharmacy), less the required Coinsurance and any deductible that applies.

To determine if a Prescription Drug Product requires notification, either visit www.myuhc.com or call the number on your ID card. The Prescription Drug Products requiring notification are subject to UnitedHealthcare's periodic review and modification.

Benefits may not be available for the Prescription Drug Product after UnitedHealthcare reviews the documentation provided and determines that the Prescription Drug Product is not a Covered Health Service or it is an Experimental or Investigational or Unproven Service.

UnitedHealthcare may also require notification for certain programs which may have specific requirements for participation and/or activation of an enhanced level of Benefits associated with such programs. You may access information on available programs and any applicable notification, participation or activation requirements associated with such programs through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the number on your ID card.

Benefit Levels

Benefits are available for outpatient Prescription Drug Products that are considered Covered Health Services.

The Plan pays Benefits at different levels for tier-1, tier-2 and tier-3 Prescription Drug Products.

All Prescription Drug Products covered by the Plan are categorized into these three tiers on the Prescription Drug List (PDL). The tier status of a Prescription Drug Product can change periodically, generally quarterly but no more than six times per calendar year, based on the Prescription Drug List (PDL) Management Committee's periodic tiering decisions. When that occurs, you may pay more or less for a Prescription Drug Product, depending on its tier assignment. Since the PDL may change periodically, you can visit www.myuhc.com or call UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card for the most current information.

Each tier is assigned a Coinsurance, which is the amount you pay after you have met the Annual Deductible, when you visit the pharmacy or order your medications through mail order. Your Coinsurance will also depend on whether or not you visit the pharmacy or use the mail order service - see the table shown at the beginning of this section for further details. Here's how the tier system works:

- Tier-1 is your lowest Coinsurance option. For the lowest out-of-pocket expense, you should consider tier-1 drugs if you and your Physician decide they are appropriate for your treatment.
- Tier-2 is your middle Coinsurance option. Consider a tier-2 drug if no tier-1 drug is available to treat your condition.
- Tier-3 is your highest Coinsurance option. The drugs in tier-3 are usually more costly. Sometimes there are alternatives available in tier-1 or tier-2.

Coinsurance for a Prescription Drug at a Network Pharmacy is a percentage of the Prescription Drug Charge. Coinsurance for a Prescription Drug at a non-Network Pharmacy is a percentage of the Out-of-Network Reimbursement Rate.

For Prescription Drug Products at a retail Network Pharmacy, you are responsible for paying the lowest of:

- The applicable Coinsurance.
- The Network Pharmacy's Usual and Customary Charge for the Prescription Drug.
- The Prescription Drug Charge for that Prescription Drug Product.

For Prescription Drug Products from a mail order Network Pharmacy, you are responsible for paying the lower of:

- The applicable Coinsurance.
- The Prescription Drug Charge for that particular Prescription Drug.

Retail

Benefits are provided for Prescription Drug Products dispensed by a retail Network Pharmacy. The Plan has a Network of participating retail pharmacies, which includes many large drug store chains. You can obtain information about Network Pharmacies by contacting UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card or by logging onto www.myuhc.com.

Benefits are provided for Prescription Drug Products dispensed by a retail non-Network Pharmacy. If the Prescription Drug Product is dispensed by a retail non-Network Pharmacy, you must pay for the Prescription Drug Product at the time it is dispensed and then file a claim for reimbursement with UnitedHealthcare, as described in your SPD, Section 9, Claims Procedures. The Plan will not reimburse you for the difference between the Out-of-Network Reimbursement Rate and the non-Network Pharmacy's Usual and Customary Charge for that Prescription Drug Product. The Plan will not reimburse you for any non-covered drug product.

In most cases, you will pay more if you obtain Prescription Drug Products from a non-Network Pharmacy.

To obtain your prescription from a retail pharmacy, simply present your ID card and pay the Coinsurance, after meeting the Annual Deductible. The following supply limits apply:

- As written by the provider, up to a consecutive 31-day supply of a Prescription Drug Product, unless adjusted based on the drug manufacturer's packaging size or based on supply limits.
- A one-cycle supply of an oral contraceptive. You may obtain up to three cycles at one time if you pay the Coinsurance for each cycle supplied.

When a Prescription Drug Product is packaged or designed to deliver in a manner that provides more than a consecutive 31-day supply, the Coinsurance that applies will reflect the number of days dispensed.

If you purchase a Prescription Drug from a non-Network Pharmacy, you will be required to pay full price and will not receive reimbursement under the Plan.

Note: Pharmacy Benefits apply only if your prescription is for a Covered Health Service, and not for Experimental or Investigational, or Unproven Services. Otherwise, you are responsible for paying 100% of the cost.

Mail Order

Benefits are provided for certain Prescription Drug Products dispensed by a mail order Network Pharmacy. The mail order service may allow you to purchase up to a 90-day supply of a covered Prescription Drug Product through the mail.

To use the mail order service, all you need to do is complete a patient profile and enclose your Prescription Order or Refill. Your medication, plus instructions for obtaining refills, will arrive by mail about 14 days after your order is received. If you need a patient profile form, or if you have any questions, you can reach UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card.

The following supply limits apply: As written by the provider, up to a consecutive 90-day supply, unless adjusted based on the drug manufacturer's packaging size or based on supply limits.

You may be required to fill an initial Prescription Drug Product order and obtain one refill through a retail pharmacy prior to using a mail order Network Pharmacy.

Note: To maximize your Benefit, ask your Physician to write your Prescription Order or Refill for a 90-day supply, with refills when appropriate. You will be charged the mail order Coinsurance for any Prescription Order or Refill if you use the mail order service, regardless of the number of days' supply that is written on the order or refill. Be sure your Physician writes your mail order or refill for a 90-day supply, not a 30-day supply with three refills.

Benefits for Preventive Care Medications

Benefits under the Prescription Drug Plan include those for Preventive Care Medications as defined, in this section, under Glossary - Prescription Drug Products. You may determine whether a drug is a Preventive Care Medication through the internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling UnitedHealthcare at the number on your ID card.

Designated Pharmacies

If you require certain Prescription Drug Products, including, but not limited to, Specialty Prescription Drug Products, UnitedHealthcare may direct you to a Designated Pharmacy with whom it has an arrangement to provide those Prescription Drug Products.

If you are directed to a Designated Pharmacy and you choose not to obtain your Prescription Drug Product from a Designated Pharmacy, you will be subject to the Non-Network Benefit for that Prescription Drug Product.

Specialty Prescription Drug Products

Benefits are provided for Specialty Prescription Drug Products.

If you require Specialty Prescription Drug Products, UnitedHealthcare may direct you to a Designated Pharmacy with whom UnitedHealthcare has an arrangement to provide those Specialty Prescription Drug Products. You may fill a prescription for Specialty Prescription Drug Products up to two times at any Pharmacy. However, after that you will be directed to a Designated Pharmacy.

If you are directed to a Designated Pharmacy and you choose not to obtain your Specialty Prescription Drug Product from a Designated Pharmacy, you will be subject to the non-Network Benefit for that Specialty Prescription Drug Product.

Please see Glossary - Outpatient Prescription Drugs, for a full description of Specialty Prescription Drug Product and Designated Pharmacy.

Refer to the Outpatient Prescription Drug Schedule of Benefits for details on Specialty Prescription Drug Product supply limits.

Please see Glossary - Outpatient Prescription Drugs, in this section for definitions of Specialty Prescription Drug Product and Designated Pharmacy.

Want to lower your out-of-pocket Prescription Drug Product costs?
Consider tier-1 Prescription Drug Products, if you and your Physician decide they are appropriate.

Assigning Prescription Drug Products to the Prescription Drug List (PDL)

UnitedHealthcare's Prescription Drug List (PDL) Management Committee is authorized to make tier placement changes on UnitedHealthcare's behalf. The PDL Management Committee makes the final classification of an FDA-approved Prescription Drug Product to a certain tier by considering a number of factors including, but not limited to clinical and economic factors. Clinical factors may include, but are not limited to, evaluations of the place in therapy, relative safety or relative efficacy of the Prescription Drug Product, as well as whether certain supply limits or notification requirements should apply. Economic factors may include, but are not limited to, the Prescription Drug Product's acquisition cost including, but not limited to, available rebates and assessments on the cost effectiveness of the Prescription Drug Product.

Some Prescription Drug Products are most cost effective for specific indications as compared to others, therefore, a Prescription Drug Product may be listed on multiple tiers according to the indication for which the Prescription Drug Product was prescribed, or according to whether it was prescribed by a Specialist Physician.

The PDL Management Committee may periodically change the placement of a Prescription Drug Product among the tiers. These changes generally will occur quarterly, but no more than six times per calendar year. These changes may occur without prior notice to you.

When considering a Prescription Drug Product for tier placement, the PDL Management Committee reviews clinical and economic factors regarding Covered Persons as a general population. Whether a particular Prescription Drug Product is appropriate for an individual Covered Person is a determination that is made by the Covered Person and the prescribing Physician.

Note: The tier status of a Prescription Drug Product may change periodically based on the process described above. As a result of such changes, you may be required to pay more or less for that Prescription Drug Product. Please access www.myuhc.com through the Internet or call the number on your ID card for the most up-to-date tier status.

Prescription Drug Product, Prescription Drug List (PDL), and Prescription Drug List (PDL) Management Committee are defined at the end of this section.

Prescription Drug List (PDL)
The Prescription Drug List (PDL) is a tool that helps guide you and your Physician in choosing the medications that allow the most effective and affordable use of your Prescription Drug Benefit.

Prescription Drug Benefit Claims

For Prescription Drug Product claims procedures, please refer to Section 9, Claims Procedures.

Limitation on Selection of Pharmacies

If UnitedHealthcare determines that you may be using Prescription Drug Products in a harmful or abusive manner, or with harmful frequency, your selection of Network Pharmacies may be limited. If this happens, UnitedHealthcare may require you to select a single Network Pharmacy that will provide and coordinate all future pharmacy services. Benefits will be paid only if you use the designated single Network Pharmacy. If you don't make a selection within 31 days of the date the Plan Administrator notifies you, UnitedHealthcare will select a single Network Pharmacy for you.

Supply Limits

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products are subject to supply limits that are stated in the table under the heading Prescription Drug Product Coverage Highlights. For a single Coinsurance, you may receive a Prescription Drug Product up to the stated supply limit. Whether or not a Prescription Drug Product has a supply limit is subject to UnitedHealthcare's periodic review and modification.

Note: Some products are subject to additional supply limits based on criteria that the Plan Administrator and UnitedHealthcare have developed, subject to periodic review and modification. The limit may restrict the amount dispensed per Prescription Order or Refill and/or the amount dispensed per month's supply or may require that a minimum amount be dispensed.

You may determine whether a Prescription Drug Product has been assigned a supply limit for dispensing, through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.

Special Programs

Adams County Government and UnitedHealthcare may have certain programs in which you may receive an enhanced or reduced Benefit based on your actions such as adherence/compliance to medication or treatment regimens and/or participation in health management programs. You may access information on these programs through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the number on the back of your ID card.

Prescription Drug Products Prescribed by a Specialist Physician

You may receive an enhanced or reduced Benefit, or no Benefit, based on whether the Prescription Drug Product was prescribed by a Specialist Physician. You may access information on which Prescription Drug Products are subject to Benefit enhancement, reduction or no Benefit through the Internet at www.myuhc.com or by calling the telephone number on your ID card.

Rebates and Other Discounts

UnitedHealthcare and Adams County Government may, at times, receive rebates for certain drugs included on the PDL, including those drugs that you purchase prior to meeting any applicable deductible. As determined by UnitedHealthcare, the Plan may pass a portion of these rebates on to you. When rebates are passed on to you they may be taken into account in determining your Coinsurance.

UnitedHealthcare and a number of its affiliated entities, conduct business with various pharmaceutical manufacturers separate and apart from this Outpatient Prescription Drug section. Such business may include, but is not limited to, data collection, consulting, educational grants and research. Amounts received from pharmaceutical manufacturers pursuant to such arrangements are not related to this Outpatient Prescription Drug section. UnitedHealthcare is not required to pass on to you, and does not pass on to you, such amounts.

Coupons, Incentives and Other Communications

At various times, UnitedHealthcare may send mailings or provide other communications to you, your Physician, or your pharmacy that communicate a variety of messages, including information about Prescription and non-prescription Drug Products. These communications may include offers that enable you, at your discretion, to purchase the described product at a discount. In some instances, non-UnitedHealthcare entities may support and/or provide content for these communications and offers. Only you and your Physician can determine whether a change in your Prescription and/or non-prescription Drug regimen is appropriate for your medical condition.

ATTACHMENT II - LEGAL NOTICES

Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998

As required by the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998, the Plan provides Benefits under the Plan for mastectomy, including reconstruction and surgery to achieve symmetry between the breasts, prostheses, and complications resulting from a mastectomy (including lymphedema).

If you are receiving Benefits in connection with a mastectomy, Benefits are also provided for the following Covered Health Services, as you determine appropriate with your attending Physician:

- All stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed.
- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance.
- Prostheses and treatment of physical complications of the mastectomy, including lymphedema.

The amount you must pay for such Covered Health Services (including Copayments and any Annual Deductible) are the same as are required for any other Covered Health Service. Limitations on Benefits are the same as for any other Covered Health Service.

Statement of Rights under the Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act

Under Federal law, group health Plans and health insurance issuers offering group health insurance coverage generally may not restrict Benefits for any Hospital length of stay in connection with childbirth for the mother or newborn child to less than 48 hours following a vaginal delivery, or less than 96 hours following a delivery by cesarean section. However, the Plan or issuer may pay for a shorter stay if the attending provider (e.g., your physician, nurse midwife, or physician assistant), after consultation with the mother, discharges the mother or newborn earlier.

Also, under Federal law, plans and issuers may not set the level of Benefits or out-of-pocket costs so that any later portion of the 48-hour (or 96-hour) stay is treated in a manner less favorable to the mother or newborn than any earlier portion of the stay.

In addition, a plan or issuer may not, under Federal law, require that a physician or other health care provider obtain authorization for prescribing a length of stay of up to 48 hours (or 96 hours). However, to use certain providers or facilities, or to reduce your out-of-pocket costs, you may be required to obtain prior authorization or notify the Claims Administrator. For information on notification or prior authorization, contact your issuer.

ATTACHMENT III - HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT

What this attachment includes:

- About Health Savings Accounts.
- Who is eligible and how to enroll.
- Contributions.
- Additional medical expense coverage available with your Health Savings Account.
- Using the HSA for Non-Qualified Expenses.
- Rolling over funds in your HSA.

Introduction

This attachment to the Summary Plan Description (SPD) describes some key features of the Health Savings Account (HSA) that you could establish to complement the Adams County Government health benefit Plan, which is a high deductible medical plan. In particular, and except as otherwise indicated, this attachment will address the Health Savings Account, and not the high deductible health plan that is associated with the "HSA".

Adams County Government has entered into an agreement with United Healthcare Services, Inc., Minnetonka, MN, ("UnitedHealthcare") under which UnitedHealthcare will provide certain administrative services to the Plan.

UnitedHealthcare does not insure the benefits described in this attachment. Further, note that it is the Plan's intention to comply with Department of Labor guidance set forth in Field Assistance Bulletin No. 2004-1, which specifies that an HSA is not an ERISA plan if certain requirements are satisfied.

The HSA described in this section is not an arrangement that is established and maintained by Adams County Government. Rather, the HSA is established and maintained by the HSA trustee. However, for administrative convenience, a description of the HSA is provided in this section.

About Health Savings Accounts

You gain choice and control over your health care decisions and expenditures when you establish your HSA to complement the high deductible medical plan described in the SPD.

An HSA is an account funded by you, your employer, or any other person on your behalf. The HSA can help you to cover, on a tax free basis, medical plan expenses that require you to pay out-of-pocket, such as Deductibles, Copayments or Coinsurance. It may even be used to pay for, among other things, certain medical expenses not covered under the medical plan design. Amounts may be distributed from the HSA to pay non-medical expenses, however, these amounts are subject to income tax and may be subject to 20% penalty.

You have three tools you can use to meet your health care needs:

- Adams County Government health benefit Plan, a high deductible medical plan which is discussed in your Summary Plan Description.
- An HSA you establish.
- Health information, tools and support.

Benefits available under your medical plan are described in your medical plan Summary Plan Description (SPD).

What is an HSA?
An HSA is a tax-advantaged account Participants can use to pay for qualified health expenses they or their eligible dependents incur, while covered under a high deductible medical plan. HSA contributions:

- Accumulate over time with interest or investment earnings.
- Are portable after employment.
- Can be used to pay for qualified health expenses tax-free or for non-health expenses on a taxable basis.

Who Is Eligible And How To Enroll

Eligibility to participate in the Health Savings Account is described in the SPD for your high deductible medical plan. You must be covered under a high deductible medical plan in order to participate in the HSA. In addition, you:

- Must not be covered by any high deductible medical plan considered non-qualified by the IRS. (This does not include coverage under an ancillary plan such as vision or dental, or any other permitted insurance as defined by the IRS.)
- Must not participate in a full health care Flexible Spending Account (FSA).
- Must not be entitled to Benefits under Medicare (i.e., enrolled in Medicare).
- Must not be claimed as a dependent on another person's tax return.

Contributions

Contributions to your HSA can be made by you, by your employer or by any other individual. All funds placed into your HSA are owned and controlled by you, subject to any reasonable administrative restrictions imposed by the trustee.

Contributions can be made to your HSA beginning on the first day of the month you are enrolled in the Health Savings Account until the earlier of (i) the date on which you file taxes for that year; or (ii) the date on which the contributions reach the contribution maximum.

Note that if coverage under a qualified high deductible health plan terminates, no further contributions may be made to the HSA.

The contribution maximum is the single and family limits set by federal regulations. Individuals between the ages of 55 and Medicare entitlement age may contribute additional funds monthly to their HSA up to the maximum allowed by federal regulations. The maximum limits set by federal regulations may be found on the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

If you enroll in your HSA within the year (not on January 1) you will still be allowed to contribute the maximum amount set by federal regulations. However, you must remain enrolled in a high deductible health plan and HSA until the end of the 12th month from your initial enrollment or you will be subject to tax implications and an additional tax of 10%.

Note: Amounts that exceed the contribution maximum are not tax-deductible and will be subject to an excise tax unless withdrawn as an "excess contribution" prior to April 15th of the following year.

Reimbursable Expenses

The funds in your HSA will be available to help you pay your or your eligible dependents' out-of-pocket costs under the medical plan, including Annual Deductibles, Copayments and Coinsurance. You may also use your HSA funds to pay for medical care that is not covered under the medical plan design but is considered a deductible medical expense for federal income tax purposes under Section 213(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time. Such expenses are "qualified health expenses". Please see the description of Additional Medical Expense Coverage Available With Your Health Savings Account below, for additional information. HSA funds used for such purposes are not subject to income or excise taxes.

"Qualified health expenses" only include the medical expenses of you and your eligible dependents, meaning your spouse and any other family members whom you are allowed to file as dependents on your federal tax return, as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time.

HSA funds may also be used to pay for non-qualified health expenses but will generally be subject to income tax and a 20% additional tax unless an exception applies (i.e., your death, your disability, or your attainment of age 65).

Additional Medical Expense Coverage Available with Your Health Savings Account

A complete description of, and a definitive and current list of what constitutes eligible medical expenses, is available in IRS Publication 502 which is available from any regional IRS office or IRS website.

If you receive any additional medical services and you have funds in your HSA, you may use the funds in your HSA to pay for the medical expenses. If you choose not to use your HSA funds to pay for any Section 213(d) expenses that are not Covered Health Services, you will still be required to pay the provider for services.

The monies paid for these additional medical expenses will not count toward your Annual Deductible or Out-of-Pocket Maximum.

Using the HSA for Non-Qualified Expenses

You have the option of using funds in your HSA to pay for non-qualified health expenses. A non-qualified health expense is generally one which is not a deductible medical expense under Section 213(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. Any funds used from your HSA to pay for non-qualified expenses will be subject to income tax and a 20% additional tax unless an exception applies (i.e., your death, your disability, or your attainment of age 65).

In general, you may not use your HSA to pay for other health insurance without incurring a tax. You may use your HSA to pay for COBRA premiums and Medicare premiums.

Rollover Feature

If you do not use all of the funds in your HSA during the calendar year, the balance remaining in your HSA will roll-over. If your employment terminates for any reason, the funds in your HSA will continue to be owned and controlled by you, whether or not you elect COBRA coverage for the accompanying high deductible health plan, as described in your medical plan SPD.

If you choose to transfer the HSA funds from one account to another eligible account, you must do so within 60 days from the date that HSA funds are distributed to you to avoid paying taxes on the funds. If you elect COBRA, the HSA funds will be available to assist you in paying your out-of-pocket costs under the medical plan and COBRA premiums while COBRA coverage is in effect.

Important
Be sure to keep your receipts and medical records. If these records verify that you paid qualified health expenses using your HSA, you can deduct these expenses from your taxable income when filing your tax return. However, if you cannot demonstrate that you used your HSA to pay qualified health expenses, you may need to report the distribution as taxable income on your tax return. Adams County Government and UnitedHealthcare will not verify that distributions from your HSA are for qualified health expenses. Consult your tax advisor to determine how your HSA affects your unique tax situation.

The IRS may request receipts during a tax audit. Adams County Government and the Claims Administrator are not responsible or liable for the misuse by Participants of HSA funds by, or for the use by Participants of HSA funds for non-qualified health expenses.

Additional Information About the HSA

It is important for you to know the amount in your HSA account prior to withdrawing funds. You should not withdraw funds that will exceed the available balance.

Upon request from a health care professional, UnitedHealthcare and/or the financial institution holding your HSA funds may provide the health care professional with information regarding the balance in your HSA. At no time will UnitedHealthcare provide the actual dollar amount in your HSA, but they may confirm that there are funds sufficient to cover an obligation owed by you to that health care professional. If you do not want this information disclosed, you must notify the Claims Administrator and the financial institution in writing.

You can obtain additional information on your HSA online at www.irs.gov. You may also contact your tax advisor. Please note that additional rules may apply to a Dependent's intent to opening an HSA.

ATTACHMENT V – THE GENETIC INFORMATION NONDISCRIMINATION ACT OF 2008 (GINA)

The Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA)

This group health plan does not discriminate in premium amounts, contributions charged or eligibility for coverage based on any individual's genetic information. The plan does not use, request or require genetic information about anyone covered by the plan. Genetic information, within the context of GINA, includes the following: an individual's genetic tests; the genetic tests of an individual's family members (up to fourth-degree relatives by birth, marriage or adoption); manifestation of disease or disorder in family members of an individual; an individual's request for or receipt of genetic services; and genetic information of a fetus carried by an individual or his or her family.

Any Health Risk Assessment (HRA) completed by a person covered by this plan is in compliance with regulations under GINA.

ATTACHMENT VI – MEDICAID AND THE CHILDREN'S HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM (CHIP) FREE OR LOW COST HEALTH COVERAGE TO CHILDREN AND FAMILIES

If you are eligible for health coverage from your employer, but are unable to afford the premiums, some States have premium assistance programs that can help pay for coverage. These States use funds from their Medicaid or CHIP programs to help people who are eligible for employer-sponsored health coverage, but need assistance in paying their health premiums.

If you or your dependents are already enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP and you live in a State listed below, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office to find out if premium assistance is available.

If you or your dependents are NOT currently enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP, and you think you or any of your dependents might be eligible for either of these programs, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office or dial 1-877-KIDS NOW or www.insurekidsnow.gov to find out how to apply. If you qualify, you can ask the State if it has a program that might help you pay the premiums for an employer-sponsored plan.

Once it is determined that you or your dependents are eligible for premium assistance under Medicaid or CHIP, your employer's health plan is required to permit you and your dependents to enroll in the plan – as long as you and your dependents are eligible, but not already enrolled in the employer's plan. This is called a "special enrollment" opportunity, and you must request coverage within 60 days of being determined eligible for premium assistance.

If you live in one of the following States, you may be eligible for assistance paying your employer health plan premiums. The following list of States is current as of September 1, 2010. You should contact your State for further information on eligibility.

ATTACHMENT VII – THE USE AND DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION AND SECURITY OF ELECTRONIC PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

Under the federal privacy regulations enacted pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), your health plans are required to protect the confidentiality of your Protected Health Information (PHI). Protected Health Information is individually identifiable health information related to your condition, services provided to you, or payments made for your care, which is created or received by a health plan, a health care clearinghouse, or a health care provider and identifies you or provides a means by which you could be identified. The Plan and the Plan Sponsor will not use or disclose PHI except for treatment, payment, health plan operations (collectively known as "TPO"), or as permitted or required by other state and federal law, or to Business Associates to help administer the Plan.

Further, the Plan Sponsor will take reasonable steps to ensure that any use or disclosure is the minimum necessary to accomplish the task.

In addition, under the federal security regulations enacted pursuant to HIPAA, your health plans are required to safeguard the confidentiality and ensure the integrity and availability of your Electronic Protected Health Information (ePHI). ePHI is PHI that is maintained or transmitted in electronic form. The Plan and the Plan Sponsor will reasonably and appropriately safeguard ePHI created, received, maintained, or transmitted to or by the Plan Sponsor on behalf of the Plan.

The Plan and Plan Sponsor are separate and independent legal entities, which exchange information to coordinate your Plan coverage. In order to receive PHI from the Plan, the Plan Sponsor agrees to, and has certified to the Plan, that it will:

- Restrict the use or further disclosure of PHI except as permitted by HIPAA or as required by law;
- Ensure that any other entity to whom it provides PHI received from the Plan agree to the same restrictions and conditions that apply to the Plan Sponsor;
- Not use or disclose PHI for employment-related actions or in connection with any other employee benefit plan;
- Not use genetic information that is PHI for underwriting purposes;
- Report to the Privacy Officer any use or disclosure of the information that is inconsistent with the permitted uses or disclosures;
- Make PHI available to Plan participants, consider their amendments and, upon request, provide them with an accounting of PHI disclosures as required by law;
- Make internal practices and records relating to the use and disclosure of PHI received from the Plan available to the Department of Health and Human Services upon request;
- Provide adequate safeguards to protect PHI;

- Provide legally required notices of unauthorized acquisition, access or disclosures of your health information as required by law; and
- If feasible, upon termination of the plan, return or destroy all PHI received from the Plan that the Plan Sponsor still maintains in any form and retain no copies of such information when no longer needed for the purpose for which disclosure was made, except that, if such return or destruction is not feasible, limit further uses and disclosures to those purposes that make the return or destruction of the information not feasible.

In order to receive ePHI from the Plan, the Plan Sponsor agrees that it will:

- Implement administrative, physical, and technical safeguards that reasonably and appropriately protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the ePHI that the Plan Sponsor creates, receives, maintains, or transmits on behalf of the Plan;
- Ensure that access to, and use and disclosure of ePHI by the employees or classes of employees described in the Plan document is supported by reasonable and appropriate security measures; and
- Ensure that any agent, including a subcontractor, to whom the Plan Sponsor provides this information agrees to implement reasonable and appropriate security measures to protect the information

Only limited members of the workforce of the Group Health Plan may be permitted to use and/or disclose PHI. Under this Plan the following individuals are permitted to have access to, use and/or disclose PHI:

- Employees of the Plan Sponsor who perform administrative services on behalf of the Plan, including payment, health care operations, design and administration. This includes County Administrator, Director of Human Resources, Benefits Manager, Benefits Administrator, Human Resources Specialists.
- Employees of the Plan Sponsor who have access to PHI for purposes of its use by the Employer in performing services for the Plan, including procurement of insurance, financial transactions and accounting. This includes Director of Finance, Administrative Coordinators, Payroll Accountants, Payroll Technicians, General Accounting Managers, Budget Managers and Budget Analysts.
- Service providers to the Plan. This includes County Attorneys, Benefit Consultants, Third Party Administrators, and IT Personnel.

The Plan will limit the use, disclosure or request for PHI to the minimum amount that is reasonably necessary to fulfill a request as set forth in this Agreement. Requests for disclosures other than by legal authority or by the participant will be reviewed by the Privacy Officer or his/her designee.

Where PHI is used or disclosed for the purposes of the Plan's own payment activity, whether through a TPA or Carrier, the employees of the Plan are permitted to use and disclose information to perform these functions using the minimum necessary to accomplish the purpose.

If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with the privacy officer or with the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services. All complaints must be submitted in writing. You will not be retaliated against in any way for filing a complaint.

You may receive a complete copy of the Plan's Notice of Privacy Practices by contacting the Privacy Officer.

ATTACHMENT VIII– HEALTH INSURANCE MARKETPLACE NOTIFICATION

General Information
When key parts of the health care law took effect in 2014, there was a new way to buy health insurance: the Health Insurance Marketplace. To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the new Marketplace and employment based health coverage offered by your employer.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?
The Marketplace is designed to help you find health insurance that meets your needs and fits your budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options. You may also be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers your monthly premium right away. Open enrollment for health insurance coverage through the Marketplace began in October 2013 for coverage starting as early as January 1, 2014.

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?
You may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium, but only if your employer does not offer coverage, or offers coverage that doesn't meet certain standards. The savings on your premium that you're eligible for depends on your household income.

Does Employer Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?
Yes. If you have an offer of health coverage from your employer that meets certain standards, you will not be eligible for a tax credit through the Marketplace and may wish to enroll in your employer's health plan. However, you may be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your monthly premium or a reduction in certain cost-sharing if your employer does not offer coverage to you at all or does not offer coverage that meets certain standards. If the cost of a plan from your employer that would cover you (and not any other members of your family) is more than 9.5% of your household income for the year, or if the coverage your employer provides does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, you may be eligible for a tax credit.

Note: If you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of accepting health coverage offered by your employer, then you may lose the employer contribution (if any) to the employer-offered coverage. Also, this employer contribution - as well as your employee contribution to employer-offered coverage - is often excluded from income for Federal and State income tax purposes (pre-tax premiums). Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis.

How Can I Get More Information?
The Marketplace can help you evaluate your coverage options, including your eligibility for coverage through the Marketplace and its cost. Please visit HealthCare.gov for more information, including an online application for health insurance coverage and contact information for a Health Insurance Marketplace in your area.

*An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs.

Does this Coverage Provide Minimum Essential Coverage?
The Affordable Care Act requires most people to have health care coverage that qualifies as "minimum essential coverage." This Plan provides minimum essential coverage.

Does this Coverage Meet the Minimum Value Standard?
In order for certain types of health coverage (for example, individually purchased insurance or job-based coverage) to qualify as minimum essential coverage, the plan must pay, on average, at least 60 percent of allowed charges for covered services. This is called the "minimum value standard." This Plan does meet the minimum value standard for the benefits it provides.

Summary Plan Description

United Healthcare Services, Inc.

What Is the Summary Plan Description?

This Summary Plan Description (SPD) is a summary of the Covered Health Care Services available to you under the Adams County Government ("Plan Sponsor") Self-Funded health benefit plan. This SPD is a legal document that describes Benefits for the portion of the Plan for which United Healthcare Services, Inc. ("Claims Administrator") administers claims payment, either directly or in conjunction with one of the Claims Administrator's affiliates.

For the purposes of this provision "Self-Funded" means that the Plan Sponsor, on behalf of the Plan, has the sole responsibility to pay, and provide funds, to pay for all Plan benefits. The Claims Administrator has no liability or responsibility to provide these funds. The Claims Administrator is a private healthcare claims administrator. The Claims Administrator is not the Plan Administrator for the Plan. Although the Claims Administrator will assist you in many ways, it does not guarantee any Benefits. The Plan Sponsor is solely responsible for the benefit plan design and funding payment of Benefits.

In addition to this SPD, the Plan includes:

- The Schedule of Benefits.
- Amendments.
- Addendums.
- Summary Material Modification (SMM).

If there should be an inconsistency between the contents of this summary and the Plan, your rights shall be determined under the Plan and not under this summary. A copy of the plan document is available for your inspection during regular business hours in the office of the Plan Administrator. You (or your personal representative) may obtain a copy of the official plan document by written request to the Plan Administrator, for a nominal charge.

Can This SPD Change?

The Plan Sponsor may, from time to time, change this SPD by attaching legal documents called SMMs and/or Amendments that may change certain provisions of this SPD. When this happens the Plan Sponsor will send you a new SPD, SMM or Amendment.

Other Information You Should Have

The Plan Sponsor intends to continue this Plan, but reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to change, interpret, withdraw or add Benefits, or to end the Plan, as permitted by law, without your approval.

On its effective date, this SPD replaces and overrules any SPD that the Plan Sponsor may have previously issued to you. This SPD will in turn be overruled by any SPD issued to you in the future.

The Plan will take effect on the date shown in the Plan. Coverage under the Plan starts at 12:01 a.m. and ends at 12:00 midnight in the time zone of the Plan Sponsor's location.

The Plan is governed by ERISA unless the Plan Sponsor is not an employee health and welfare plan as defined by ERISA.

Introduction to Your SPD

This SPD and the other Plan documents describe your Benefits, as well as your rights and responsibilities, under the Plan.

What Are Defined Terms?

Certain capitalized words have special meanings. The Plan Sponsor has defined these words in Section 9: Defined Terms.

When the Plan Sponsor uses the words "you" and "your," the Plan Sponsor is referring to people who are Covered Persons, as that term is defined in Section 9: Defined Terms.

How Do You Use This Document?

Read your entire SPD and any attached Summary Material Modifications (SMMs) and/or Amendments. You may not have all of the information you need by reading just one section. Keep your SPD and Schedule of Benefits and any attachments in a safe place for your future reference. You can also get this SPD at www.myuhc.com.

Review the Benefit limitations of this SPD by reading the attached Schedule of Benefits along with Section 1: Covered Health Care Services and Section 2: Exclusions and Limitations. Read Section 8: General Legal Provisions to understand how this SPD and your Benefits work. Call the Claims Administrator if you have questions about the limits of the coverage available to you.

If there is a conflict between this SPD and any summaries provided to you by the Plan Sponsor, this SPD controls.

Please be aware that your Physician is not responsible for knowing or communicating your Benefits.

How Do You Contact the Claims Administrator?

Call the telephone number listed on your identification (ID) card. Throughout the document you will find statements that encourage you to contact the Claims Administrator for more information.

Your Responsibilities

Enrollment and Required Contributions

Benefits are available to you if you are enrolled for coverage under the Plan. Your enrollment options, and the corresponding dates that coverage begins, are listed in Section 3: When Coverage Begins. To be enrolled and receive Benefits, both of the following apply:

- Your enrollment must be in accordance with the requirements of the Plan issued to your Plan Sponsor, including the eligibility requirements.
- You must qualify as a Participant or a Dependent as those terms are defined in Section 9: Defined Terms.

Your Plan Sponsor may require you to make certain payments to them, in order for you to remain enrolled under the Plan. If you have questions about this, contact your Plan Sponsor.

Be Aware the Plan Does Not Pay for All Health Care Services

The Plan does not pay for all health care services. Benefits are limited to Covered Health Care Services. The Schedule of Benefits will tell you the portion you must pay for Covered Health Care Services.

Decide What Services You Should Receive

Care decisions are between you and your Physician. The Claims Administrator and the Plan Sponsor do not make decisions about the kind of care you should or should not receive.

Choose Your Physician

It is your responsibility to select the health care professionals who will deliver your care. The Claims Administrator arranges for Physicians and other health care professionals and facilities to participate in a Network. The Claims Administrator's credentialing process confirms public information about the professionals' and facilities' licenses and other credentials, but does not assure the quality of their services. These professionals and facilities are independent practitioners and entities that are solely responsible for the care they deliver.

Obtain Prior Authorization

Some Covered Health Care Services require prior authorization. In general, Physicians and other health care professionals who participate in a Network are responsible for obtaining prior authorization. There are some Benefits, however, for which you are responsible for obtaining authorization before you receive the services. For detailed information on the Covered Health Care Services that require prior authorization, please refer to the Schedule of Benefits.

Pay Your Share

You must meet any applicable deductible and pay a Copayment and/or Coinsurance for most Covered Health Care Services. These payments are due at the time of service or when billed by the Physician, provider or facility. Any applicable deductible, Copayment and Coinsurance amounts are listed in the Schedule of Benefits. You must also pay any amount that exceeds the Allowed Amount.

Pay the Cost of Excluded Services

You must pay the cost of all excluded services and items. Review Section 2: Exclusions and Limitations to become familiar with the Plan's exclusions.

Show Your ID Card

You should show your ID card every time you request health care services. If you do not show your ID card, the provider may fail to bill the correct entity for the services delivered.

File Claims with Complete and Accurate Information

When you receive Covered Health Care Services from an out-of-Network provider, you are responsible for requesting payment from the Plan. You must file the claim in a format that contains all of the information the Claims Administrator requires to process the claim, as described in Section 5: How to File a Claim.

Use Your Prior Health Care Coverage

If you have prior coverage that, as required by state law, extends benefits for a particular condition or a disability, the Plan will not pay Benefits for health care services for that condition or disability until the prior coverage ends. The Plan will pay Benefits as of the day your coverage begins under the Plan for all other Covered Health Care Services that are not related to the condition or disability for which you have other coverage.

Claims Administrator and Plan Sponsor Responsibilities

Determine Benefits

Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator make administrative decisions regarding whether the Plan will pay for any portion of the cost of a health care service you intend to receive or have received. Plan Sponsor's and the Claims Administrator's decisions are for payment purposes only. Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator do not make decisions about the kind of care you should or should not receive. You and your providers must make those treatment decisions.

Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator have the discretion to do the following:

- Interpret Benefits and the other terms, limitations and exclusions set out in this SPD, the Schedule of Benefits and any SMMs and/or Amendments.
- Make factual determinations relating to Benefits.

Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator may assign this discretionary authority to other persons or entities that may provide administrative services for the Plan, such as claims processing. The identity of the service providers and the nature of their services may be changed from time to time in Plan Sponsor's and the Claims Administrator's discretion. In order to receive Benefits, you must cooperate with those service providers.

Process Payment for the Plan's Portion of the Cost of Covered Health Care Services

The Claims Administrator processes the Plan's payment of Benefits for Covered Health Care Services as described in Section 1: Covered Health Care Services and in the Schedule of Benefits, unless the service is excluded in Section 2: Exclusions and Limitations. This means the Claims Administrator processes only the payment of the Plan's portion of the cost of Covered Health Care Services. It also means that not all of the health care services you receive may be paid for (in full or in part) by the Plan.

Process Plan Payment to Network Providers

It is the responsibility of Network Physicians and facilities to file for payment from the Plan. When you receive Covered Health Care Services from Network providers, you do not have to submit a claim to the Plan.

Process Plan Payment for Covered Health Care Services Provided by Out-of-Network Providers

In accordance with any state prompt pay requirements, the Claims Administrator processes the Plan's payment of Benefits after receiving your request for payment that includes all required information. See Section 5: How to File a Claim.

Review and Determine Benefits in Accordance with the Claims Administrator's Reimbursement Policies

The Claims Administrator develops its reimbursement policy guidelines, in its sole discretion, in accordance with one or more of the following methodologies:

- As shown in the most recent edition of the Current Procedural Terminology (CPT), a publication of the American Medical Association, and/or the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).
- As reported by generally recognized professionals or publications.
- As used for Medicare.
- As determined by medical staff and outside medical consultants pursuant to other appropriate sources or determinations that the Claims Administrator accepts.

Following evaluation and validation of certain provider billings (e.g., error, abuse and fraud reviews), the Claims Administrator's reimbursement policies are applied to provider billings the Claims Administrator shares its reimbursement policies with Physicians and other providers in the Claims Administrator's Network through the Claims Administrator's provider website. Network Physicians and providers may not bill you for the difference between their contract rate (as may be modified by the Claims Administrator's reimbursement policies) and the billed charge. However, out-of-Network providers may bill you for any amounts the Plan does not pay, including amounts that are denied because one of the Claims Administrator's reimbursement policies does not reimburse (in whole or in part) for the service billed. You may get copies of the Claims Administrator's reimbursement policies for yourself or to share with your out-of-Network Physician or provider by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

The Claims Administrator may apply a reimbursement methodology established by OptumInsight and/or a third party vendor, which is based on CMS coding principles, to determine appropriate reimbursement levels for Emergency Health Care Services. The methodology is usually based on elements reflecting the patient complexity, direct costs, and indirect costs of an Emergency Health Care Service. If the methodology(ies) currently in use become no longer available, the Claims Administrator will use comparable methodology(ies). The Claims Administrator and OptumInsight are related companies through common ownership by UnitedHealth Group. Refer to the Claims Administrator's website at www.myuhc.com for information regarding the vendor that provides the applicable methodology.

Offer Health Education Services to You

The Claims Administrator may provide you with access to information about additional services that are available to you, such as disease management programs, health education and patient advocacy. It is solely your decision whether to take part in the programs, but it is recommended that you discuss them with your Physician.

Schedule of Benefits

How Do You Access Benefits?

Selecting a Network Primary Care Physician

You must select a Network Primary Care Physician who is located in the geographic area of the permanent residence of the Participant in order to obtain Benefits. In general health care terminology, a Primary Care Physician may also be referred to as a PCP. A Network Primary Care Physician will be able to coordinate all Covered Health Care Services and promote continuity of care. If you are the custodial parent of an Enrolled Dependent child, you must select a Network Primary Care Physician who is located in the geographic area of the permanent residence of the Participant for that child.

You may designate a Network Physician who specializes in pediatrics (including pediatric subspecialties, based on the scope of that provider's license under applicable state law) as the Network Primary Care Physician for an Enrolled Dependent child. You do not need a referral from a Primary Care Physician and may seek care directly from a Specialist, including a Physician who specializes in obstetrics or gynecology.

You may change your Network Primary Care Physician by calling the telephone number shown on your ID card.

You must see a Network Physician in order to obtain Benefits. Except as specifically described in this Schedule of Benefits, Benefits are not available for services provided by out-of-Network providers. This Benefit plan does not provide an out-of-Network level of Benefits.

Benefits apply to Covered Health Care Services that are provided by a Network Physician or other Network provider.

Benefits for facility services apply when Covered Health Care Services are provided at a Network facility. Benefits include Physician services provided in a Network facility by a Network or an out-of-Network radiologist, anesthesiologist, pathologist, Emergency room Physician and consulting Physician. Benefits also include Emergency Health Care Services.

Depending on the geographic area and the service you receive, you may have access through the Claims Administrator's Shared Savings Program to out-of-Network providers who have agreed to discount their billed charges for Covered Health Care Services. Refer to the definition of Shared Savings Program in Section 9: Defined Terms of the SPD for details about how the Shared Savings Program applies.

You must show your identification card (ID card) every time you request health care services from a Network provider. If you do not show your ID card, Network providers have no way of knowing that you are enrolled under the Plan. As a result, they may bill you for the entire cost of the services you receive.

Additional information about the network of providers and how your Benefits may be affected appears at the end of this Schedule of Benefits.

If there is a conflict between this Schedule of Benefits and any summaries provided to you by the Plan Sponsor, this Schedule of Benefits will control.

Does Prior Authorization Apply?

The Claims Administrator requires prior authorization for certain Covered Health Care Services. In general, Network providers are responsible for obtaining prior authorization before they provide these services to you. There are some Benefits, however, for which you are responsible for obtaining prior authorization. Services for which you are required to obtain prior authorization are shown in the Schedule of Benefits table within each Covered Health Care Service category.

Network facilities and Network providers cannot bill you for services they do not prior authorize as required. You can call the Claims Administrator at the telephone number on your ID card.

To obtain prior authorization, call the telephone number on your ID card. This call starts the utilization review process. Once you have obtained the authorization, please review it carefully so that you understand what services have been authorized and what providers are authorized to deliver the services that are subject to the authorization.

The utilization review process is a set of formal techniques designed to monitor the use of, or evaluate the clinical necessity, appropriateness, efficacy, or efficiency of, health care services, procedures or settings. Such techniques may include ambulatory review, prospective review, second opinion, certification, concurrent review, case management, discharge planning, retrospective review or similar programs.

Please note that prior authorization timelines apply. Refer to the applicable Benefit description in the Schedule of Benefits table to find out how far in advance you must obtain prior authorization.

If you request a coverage determination at the time prior authorization is provided, the determination will be made based on the services you report you will be receiving. If the reported services differ from those received, the Claims Administrator's final coverage determination will be changed to account for those differences, and the Plan will only pay and the Claims Administrator will only process payments for Benefits based on the services delivered to you.

If you choose to receive a service that has been determined not to be a Medically Necessary Covered Health Care Service, you will be responsible for paying all charges and no Benefits will be paid.

Care Management

When you seek prior authorization as required, the Claims Administrator will work with you to put in place the care management process and to provide you with information about additional services that are available to you, such as disease management programs, health education, and patient advocacy.

Special Note Regarding Medicare

If you are enrolled in Medicare on a primary basis (Medicare pays before the Claims Administrator processes payments for Benefits under the Plan), the prior authorization requirements do not apply to you. Since Medicare is the primary payer, the Claims Administrator will process payments for the Plan as secondary payer as described in Section 7: Coordination of Benefits. You are not required to obtain prior authorization before receiving Covered Health Care Services.

What Will You Pay for Covered Health Care Services?

Benefits for Covered Health Care Services are described in the tables below.

Annual Deductibles are calculated on a calendar year basis.

Out-of-Pocket Limits are calculated on a calendar year basis.

Benefit limits are calculated on a calendar year basis unless otherwise specifically stated.

Allowed Amounts

Allowed Amounts are the amount the Claims Administrator determines that the Plan will pay for Benefits. For Network Benefits for Covered Health Care Services provided by a Network provider, except for your cost sharing obligations, you are not responsible for any difference between Allowed Amounts and the amount the provider bills. Allowed Amounts are determined solely in accordance with the Claims Administrator's reimbursement policy guidelines, as described in the SPD.

For Network Benefits, Allowed Amounts are based on the following:

- When Covered Health Care Services are received from a Network provider, Allowed Amounts are the Claims Administrator's contracted fee(s) with that provider.
- When Covered Health Care Services are received from an out-of-Network provider as a result of an Emergency or as arranged by the Claims Administrator, Allowed Amounts are an amount negotiated by the Claims Administrator or an amount permitted by law. Please contact the Claims Administrator if you are billed for amounts in excess of your applicable Coinsurance, Copayment or any deductible. The Plan will not pay excessive charges or amounts you are not legally obligated to pay.

Provider Network

The Claims Administrator or its affiliates arrange for health care providers to take part in a Network. Network providers are independent practitioners. They are not Adams County Government or the Claims Administrator's employees. It is your responsibility to choose your provider.

The Claims Administrator's credentialing process confirms public information about the providers' licenses and other credentials, but does not assure the quality of the services provided.

Before obtaining services you should always verify the Network status of a provider. A provider's status may change. You can verify the provider's status by calling the telephone number on your ID card. A directory of providers is available by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card to request a copy.

It is possible that you might not be able to obtain services from a particular Network provider. The network of providers is subject to change. Or you might find that a particular Network provider may not be accepting new patients. If a provider leaves the Network or is otherwise not available to you, you must choose another Network provider to get Benefits.

If you are currently undergoing a course of treatment using an out-of-Network Physician or health care facility, you may be eligible to receive transition of care Benefits. This transition period is available for specific medical services and for limited periods of time. If you have questions regarding this transition of care reimbursement policy or would like help to find out if you are eligible for transition of care Benefits, please call the telephone number on your ID card.

Do not assume that a Network provider's agreement includes all Covered Health Care Services. Some Network providers contract with the Claims Administrator to provide only certain Covered Health Care Services, but not all Covered Health Care Services. Some Network providers choose to be a Network provider for only some of the Claims Administrator's products. Refer to your provider directory or contact the Claims Administrator for help.

Additional Network Availability

Certain Covered Health Care Services defined below may also be provided through the W500 Network. Contact www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card for the W500 provider directory. You are eligible for Benefits when these certain Covered Health Care Services are received from providers who are contracted with the Claims Administrator through the W500 Network.

These Covered Health Care Services are limited to the services listed below, as described in Section 1: Covered Health Care Services:

- Emergency Health Care Services - Outpatient.
- Hospital - Inpatient Stay, when you are admitted to the Hospital on an unscheduled basis because of an Emergency. Benefits for services provided while you are confined in a Hospital also include Covered Health Care Services as described under Physician Fees for Surgical and Medical Services.
- Urgent care services provided as described under Urgent Care Center Services. Urgent care services are those Covered Health Care Services that are required to prevent serious deterioration of your health, and that are required as a result of an unforeseen Sickness, Injury, or the onset of acute or severe symptoms.

Also, if the Claims Administrator determines that specific Covered Health Care Services are not available from a Doctors Plan Network provider, you may be eligible for Benefits when Covered Health Care Services are received from a W500 Network provider. In this situation, before you receive these Covered Health Care Services, your Doctors Plan Plus Network Physician will notify the Claims Administrator and, if the Claims Administrator confirms that the Covered Health Care Services are not available from a Doctors Plan Plus Network provider, the Claims Administrator will work with you and your Doctors Plan Plus Network Physician to coordinate these Covered Health Care Services through a W500 Network provider.

Designated Providers

If you have a medical condition that the Claims Administrator believes needs special services, the Claims Administrator may direct you to a Designated Provider chosen by the Claims Administrator. If you require certain complex Covered Health Care Services for which expertise is limited, the Claims Administrator may direct you to a Network facility or provider that is outside your local geographic area. If you are required to travel to obtain such Covered Health Care Services from a Designated Provider, the Plan may reimburse certain travel expenses.

In both cases, Benefits will only be paid if your Covered Health Care Services for that condition are provided by or arranged by the Designated Provider chosen by the Claims Administrator.

You or your Network Physician must notify the Claims Administrator of special service needs (such as transplants or cancer treatment) that might warrant referral to a Designated Provider. If you do not notify the Claims Administrator in advance, and if you receive services from an out-of-Network facility (regardless of whether it is a Designated Provider) or other out-of-Network provider, Benefits will not be paid.

Health Care Services from Out-of-Network Providers

If specific Covered Health Care Services are not available from a Network provider, you may be eligible for Benefits when Covered Health Care Services are received from out-of-Network providers. In this situation, your Network Physician will notify the Claims Administrator and, if the Claims Administrator confirms that care is not available from a Network provider, the Claims Administrator will work with you and your Network Physician to coordinate care through an out-of-Network provider.

Limitations on Selection of Providers

If the Claims Administrator determines that you are using health care services in a harmful or abusive manner, or with harmful frequency, your selection of Network providers may be limited. If this happens, the Claims Administrator may require you to select a single Network Physician to provide and coordinate all future Covered Health Care Services.

If you don't make a selection within 31 days of the date the Claims Administrator notifies you, the Claims Administrator will select a single Network Physician for you.

If you do not use the selected Network Physician, Benefits will not be paid.

Section 1: Covered Health Care Services

When Are Benefits Available for Covered Health Care Services?

Benefits are available only when all of the following are true:

- The health care service, including supplies or Pharmaceutical Products, is only a Covered Health Care Service if it is Medically Necessary. (See definitions of Medically Necessary and Covered Health Care Service in Section 9: Defined Terms.)
- You receive Covered Health Care Services while the Plan is in effect.
- You receive Covered Health Care Services prior to the date that any of the individual termination conditions listed in Section 4: When Coverage Ends occurs.
- The person who receives Covered Health Care Services is a Covered Person and meets all eligibility requirements specified in the Plan.

The fact that a Physician or other provider has performed or prescribed a procedure or treatment, or the fact that it may be the only available treatment for a Sickness, Injury, Mental Illness, substance-related and addictive disorders, disease or its symptoms does not mean that the procedure or treatment is a Covered Health Care Service under the Plan.

This section describes Covered Health Care Services for which Benefits are available. Please refer to the attached Schedule of Benefits for details about:

- The amount you must pay for these Covered Health Care Services (including any Annual Deductible, Copayment and/or Coinsurance).
- Any limit that applies to these Covered Health Care Services (including visit, day and dollar limits on services).
- Any limit that applies to the portion of the Allowed Amount you are required to pay in a year (Out-of-Pocket Limit).
- Any responsibility you have for obtaining prior authorization or notifying the Claims Administrator.

Please note that in listing services or examples, when the Plan says "this includes," it is not the Claims Administrator's intent to limit the description to that specific list. When the Plan does intend to limit a list of services or examples, the Plan states specifically that the list "is limited to."

Ambulance Services

Emergency ambulance transportation by a licensed ambulance service (either ground or air ambulance) to the nearest Hospital where the required Emergency Health Care Services can be performed.

Non-Emergency ambulance transportation by a licensed ambulance service (either ground or air ambulance, as the Claims Administrator determines appropriate) between facilities only when the transport meets one of the following:

- From an out-of-Network Hospital to the closest Network Hospital when Covered Health Care Services are required.
- To the closest Network Hospital that provides the required Covered Health Care Services that were not available at the original Hospital.
- From a short-term acute care facility to the closest Network long-term acute care facility (LTAC), Network Inpatient Rehabilitation Facility, or other Network sub-acute facility where the required Covered Health Care Services can be delivered.

For the purpose of this Benefit the following terms have the following meanings:

- "Long-term acute care facility (LTAC)" means a facility or Hospital that provides care to people with complex medical needs requiring long-term Hospital stay in an acute or critical setting.
- "Short-term acute care facility" means a facility or Hospital that provides care to people with medical needs requiring short-term Hospital stay in an acute or critical setting such as for recovery following a surgery, care following sudden Sickness, Injury, or flare-up of a chronic Sickness.
- "Sub-acute facility" means a facility that provides intermediate care on short-term or long-term basis.

Please review all limits carefully, as the Plan will not pay Benefits for any of the services, treatments, items or supplies that exceed these Benefit limits.

Section 3: When Coverage Begins

How Do You Enroll?

Eligible Persons must complete an enrollment form given to them by the Plan Sponsor. The Plan Sponsor will submit the completed forms to the Claims Administrator, along with any required contribution. The Plan will not provide Benefits for health care services that you receive before your effective date of coverage.

To enroll, call the Plan Sponsor within 31 days of the date you first become eligible for medical Plan coverage. If you do not enroll within 31 days, you will need to wait until the next annual Open Enrollment to make your benefit elections.

Each year during annual Open Enrollment, you have the opportunity to review and change your medical election. If you wish to change your benefit elections due to your marriage, birth, adoption of a child, placement for adoption of a child or other family status change, you must contact the Plan Sponsor within 31 days of the event. Otherwise, you will need to wait until the next annual Open Enrollment to change your elections.

Cost of Coverage

You and the Plan Sponsor share in the cost of the Plan. Your contribution amount depends on the Plan you select and the family members you choose to enroll.

Your contributions are deducted from your paychecks on a before-tax basis. Before-tax dollars come out of your pay before federal income and Social Security taxes are withheld. In most states, before state and local taxes are withheld. This gives your contributions a special tax advantage and lowers the actual cost to you.

Note: The Internal Revenue Service generally does not consider Domestic Partners and their children eligible Dependents. Therefore, the value of the Plan Sponsor's cost in covering a Domestic Partner may be imputed to the Participant as income. In addition, the share of the Participant's contribution that covers a Domestic Partner and their children may be paid using after-tax payroll deductions.

Your contributions are subject to review and the Plan Sponsor reserves the right to change your contribution amount from time to time.

You can obtain current contribution rates by calling the Plan Sponsor.

The Plan will pay Benefits for Covered Health Care Services when all of the following apply:

- You receive Covered Health Care Services on or after your first day of coverage related to that Inpatient Stay.
- You receive Covered Health Care Services in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

These Benefits are subject to your previous carrier's obligations under state law or contract.

You should notify the Claims Administrator of your hospitalization within 48 hours of the day your coverage begins, or as soon as reasonably possible. For plans that have a Network Benefit level, Network Benefits are available only if you receive Covered Health Care Services from Network providerWhat If You Are Eligible for Medicare?

Your Benefits may be reduced if you are eligible for Medicare but do not enroll in and maintain coverage under both Medicare Part A and Part B, except as specified under law.

Your Benefits may also be reduced if you are enrolled in a Medicare Advantage (Medicare Part C) plan but do not follow the rules of that plan. Please see Medicare Eligibility in Section 8: General Legal Provisions for more information about how Medicare may affect your Benefits.

- Marriage.
- Legal guardianship.
- Court or administrative order.
- Registering a Domestic Partner.

Coverage for the Dependent begins on the date of the event. The Plan Sponsor must receive the completed enrollment form and any required contribution within 31 days of the event.

Special Enrollment Period

An Eligible Person and/or Dependent may also be able to enroll during a special enrollment period. A special enrollment period is not available to an Eligible Person and his or her Dependents if coverage under the prior plan ended for cause, or because premiums were not paid on a timely basis.

An Eligible Person and/or Dependent does not need to elect COBRA continuation coverage to preserve special enrollment rights. Special enrollment is available to an Eligible Person and/or Dependent even if COBRA is not elected.

A special enrollment period applies to an Eligible Person and any Dependents when one of the following events occurs:

- Birth.

- Legal adoption.
- Placement for adoption.
- Marriage.
- Registering a Domestic Partner.

A special enrollment period also applies for an Eligible Person and/or Dependent who did not enroll during the Initial Enrollment Period or Open Enrollment Period if any of the following are true:

- The Eligible Person previously declined coverage under the Plan, but the Eligible Person and/or Dependent becomes eligible for a premium assistance subsidy under Medicaid or Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP). Coverage will begin only if the Plan Sponsor receives the completed enrollment form and any required contribution within 60 days of the date of determination of subsidy eligibility.
- The Eligible Person and/or Dependent had existing health coverage under another plan at the time they had an opportunity to enroll during the Initial Enrollment Period or Open Enrollment Period and coverage under the prior plan ended because of any of the following:
    - Loss of eligibility (including legal separation, divorce or death).
    - The employer stopped paying the contributions. This is true even if the Eligible Person and/or Dependent continues to receive coverage under the prior plan and to pay the amounts previously paid by the employer.
    - In the case of COBRA continuation coverage, the coverage ended.
    - The Eligible Person and/or Dependent no longer resides, lives or works in an HMO service area if no other benefit option is available.
    - The plan no longer offers benefits to a class of individuals that includes the Eligible Person and/or Dependent.
    - The Eligible Person and/or Dependent loses eligibility under Medicaid or Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP). Coverage will begin only if the Plan Sponsor receives the completed enrollment form and any required contribution within 60 days of the date coverage ended.

When an event takes place (for example, a birth, marriage or determination of eligibility for state subsidy), coverage begins on the date of the event. The Plan Sponsor must receive the completed enrollment form and any required Premium within 31 days of the event unless otherwise noted above.

For an Eligible Person and/or Dependent who did not enroll during the Initial Enrollment Period or Open Enrollment Period because they had existing health coverage under another plan, coverage begins on the day following the day coverage under the prior plan ends. Except as otherwise noted above, coverage will begin only if the Plan Sponsor receives the completed enrollment form and any required contribution within 31 days of the date coverage under the prior plan ended.

Section 4: When Coverage Ends

General Information about When Coverage Ends

As permitted by law, the Plan Sponsor may end the Plan and/or all similar benefit plans at any time for the reasons explained in the Plan.

Your right to Benefits automatically ends on the date that coverage ends, even if you are hospitalized or are otherwise receiving medical treatment on that date.

When your coverage ends, the Claims Administrator will still process Plan payments on claims for Covered Health Care Services that you received before the date your coverage ended. However, once your coverage ends, the Claims Administrator will not process Plan payments on claims for any health care services received after that date (even if the medical condition that is being treated occurred before the date your coverage ended).

Unless otherwise stated, an Enrolled Dependent's coverage ends on the date the Participant's coverage ends.

What Events End Your Coverage?

Coverage ends on the earliest of the dates specified below:

- The Entire Plan Ends

  Your coverage ends on the date the Plan ends. In this event, the Plan Sponsor is responsible for notifying you that your coverage has ended.

- You Are No Longer Eligible

  Your coverage ends on the last day of the calendar month in which you are no longer eligible to be a Participant or Enrolled Dependent. Please refer to Section 9: Defined Terms for definitions of the terms "Eligible Person," "Participant," "Dependent" and "Enrolled Dependent."

- The Claims Administrator Receives Notice to End Coverage

  The Plan Sponsor is responsible for providing the required notice to the Claims Administrator to end your coverage. Your coverage ends on the last day of the calendar month in which the Claims Administrator receives the required notice from the Plan Sponsor to end your coverage, or on the date requested in the notice.

- Participants Retires or Is Pensioned

  The Plan Sponsor is responsible for providing the required notice to the Claims Administrator to end your coverage. Your coverage ends the last day of the calendar month in which the Participant is retired or receiving benefits under the Plan Sponsor 's pension or retirement plan.

  This provision applies unless there is specific coverage classification for retired or pensioned persons in the Plan, and only if the Participant continues to meet any applicable eligibility requirements. The Plan Sponsor can provide you with specific information about what coverage is available for retirees.

Fraud or Intentional Misrepresentation of a Material Fact

The Plan will provide at least 30 days advance required notice to the Participant that coverage will end on the date identified in the notice because you committed an act, practice, or omission that constituted fraud, or an intentional misrepresentation of a material fact. Examples include knowingly providing incorrect information relating to another person's eligibility or status as a Dependent. You may appeal this decision during the notice period. The notice will contain information on how to appeal the decision.

If the Claims Administrator and the Plan Sponsor find that you have performed an act, practice, or omission that constitutes fraud, or have made an intentional misrepresentation of material fact the Plan Sponsor has the right to demand that you pay back all Benefits the Plan paid to you, or paid in your name, during the time you were incorrectly covered under the Plan.

Coverage for a Disabled Dependent Child

Coverage for an unmarried Enrolled Dependent child who is disabled will not end just because the child has reached a certain age. The Plan will extend the coverage for that child beyond this age if both of the following are true:

- The Enrolled Dependent child is not able to support him/herself because of mental or physical handicap or disability.
- The Enrolled Dependent child depends mainly on the Participant for support.

Coverage will continue as long as the Enrolled Dependent child is medically certified as disabled and dependent unless coverage otherwise ends in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

You must furnish the Plan Sponsor with proof of the medical certification of disability within 31 days of the date coverage would have ended because the child reached a certain age. Before the Plan Sponsor agrees to this extension of coverage for the child, the Plan Sponsor may require that a Physician examine the child. The Plan Sponsor will choose the Physician and the Plan will pay for that examination.

The Plan Sponsor may continue to ask you for proof that the child continues to be disabled and dependent. Such proof might include medical exams at the Plan's expense. The Plan Sponsor will not ask for this information more than once a year.

If you do not provide proof of the child's disability and dependency within 31 days of the Plan Sponsor's request as described above, coverage for that child will end.

Continuation of Coverage

If your coverage ends under the Plan, you may have the right to elect continuation coverage (coverage that continues on in some form) in accordance with federal law.

Continuation coverage under COBRA (the federal Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act) is available only to Plan Sponsors that are subject to the terms of COBRA. Contact your plan administrator to find out if your Plan Sponsor is subject to the provisions of COBRA.

If you chose continuation coverage under a prior plan which was then replaced by coverage under the Plan, continuation coverage will end as scheduled under the prior plan or in accordance with federal or state law, whichever is earlier.

The Claims Administrator is not the Plan Sponsor's designated "plan administrator" as that term is used in federal law, and the Claims Administrator does not assume any responsibilities of a "plan administrator" according to federal law.

The Claims Administrator is not obligated to provide continuation coverage to you if the Plan Sponsor or its plan administrator fails to perform its responsibilities under federal law. Examples of the responsibilities of the Plan Sponsor or its plan administrator are:

- Notifying you in a timely manner of the right to elect continuation coverage.
- Notifying the Claims Administrator in a timely manner of your election of continuation coverage.

Section 5: How to File a Claim

Claims Procedures

You can obtain a claim form by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card. If you do not have a claim form, attach the bill from your provider to a brief letter of explanation. Verify that your provider's bill contains the Required Information listed below. If any Required Information is missing from the bill, you can include it in your letter.

How Are Covered Health Care Services from an Out-of-Network Provider Paid?

When you receive Covered Health Care Services from an out-of-Network provider, you are responsible for requesting payment from the Claims Administrator. You must file the claim in a format that contains all of the information the Claims Administrator requires, as described below.

You should submit a request for payment of Benefits within 90 days after the date of service. If you don't provide this information to the Claims Administrator within one year of the date of service, Benefits for that health care service will be denied or reduced, as determined by the Claims Administrator. This time limit does not apply if you are legally incapacitated. If your claim relates to an Inpatient Stay, the date of service is the date your Inpatient Stay ends.

How Are Outpatient Prescription Drug Benefits Paid?

If you wish to receive reimbursement for a prescription, you may submit a post-service claim as described in this section if:

- You are asked to pay the full cost of the Prescription Drug Product when you fill it and you believe that the Plan should have paid for it.
- You pay Coinsurance and you believe that the amount of the Coinsurance was incorrect.

If a pharmacy (retail or mail order) fails to fill a prescription that you have presented and you believe that it is a Covered Health Service, you may submit a pre-service request for Benefits as described in this section.

Required Information

When you request payment of Benefits from the Claims Administrator, you must provide the Claims Administrator with all of the following information:

- The Participant's name and address.
- The patient's name and age.
- The number stated on your ID card.
- The name and address of the provider of the service(s).
- The name and address of any ordering Physician.
- A diagnosis from the Physician.
- An itemized bill from your provider that includes the Current Procedural Terminology (CPT) codes or a description of each charge.
- The date the Injury or Sickness began.
- A statement indicating either that you are, or you are not, enrolled for coverage under any other health plan or program. If you are enrolled for other coverage you must include the name of the other carrier(s).

The above information should be filed with the Claims Administrator at the address on your ID card.

Payment of Benefits

You may not assign your Benefits under the Plan or any cause of action related to your Benefits under the Plan to an out-of-Network provider without the Claims Administrator's consent. When an assignment is not obtained, the Claims Administrator will send the reimbursement directly to the Participant for reimbursement to an out-of-Network provider. The Claims Administrator reserves the right, in its discretion, to process Plan payment to an out-of-Network provider directly for services rendered to you. In the case of any such assignment of Benefits or payment to an out-of-Network provider, the Plan has the right to offset Benefits to be paid to the provider by any amounts that the provider owes the Plan.

When you assign your Benefits under the Plan to an out-of-Network provider with the Claims Administrator's consent, and the out-of-Network provider submits a claim for payment, you and the out-of-Network provider represent and warrant the following:

- The Covered Health Care Services were actually provided.
- The Covered Health Care Services were medically appropriate.

When the Claims Administrator has not consented to an assignment, the Claims Administrator will send the reimbursement directly to you (the Participant) for you to reimburse the provider upon receipt of their bill. However, the Claims Administrator reserves the right, in its discretion, to pay the provider directly for services rendered to you. When exercising its discretion with respect to payment, the Claims Administrator may consider whether you have requested that payment of your Benefits be made directly to the provider. Under no circumstances will the Claims Administrator pay Benefits to anyone other than you or, in its discretion, your provider. Direct payment to a provider shall not be deemed to constitute consent by the Claims Administrator to an assignment or to waive the consent requirement. When the Claims Administrator in its discretion directs payment to a provider, you remain the sole beneficiary of the payment, and the provider does not thereby become a beneficiary. Accordingly, legally required notices concerning your Benefits will be directed to you, the Claims Administrator may in its discretion send information concerning the Benefits to the provider as well. If payment to a provider is made, the Plan reserves the right to offset Benefits to be paid to the provider by any amounts that the provider owes the Plan (including amounts owed as a result of the assignment of other plans' overpayment recovery rights to the Plan), pursuant to Refund of Overpayments in Section 8: General Legal Provisions.

Form of Payment of Benefits

Payment of Benefits under the Plan shall be in cash or cash equivalents, or in a form of other consideration that the Claims Administrator in its discretion determines to be adequate. Where Benefits are payable directly to a provider, such adequate consideration includes the forgiveness in whole or in part of the amount the provider owes to other plans for which the Claims Administrator processes payments, where the Plan has taken an assignment of the other plans' recovery rights for value.

Section 6: Questions, Complaints and Appeals

To resolve a question, complaint, or appeal, just follow these steps:

What if You Have a Question?

Call the telephone number shown on your ID card. Representatives are available to take your call during regular business hours, Monday through Friday.

What if You Have a Complaint?

Call the telephone number shown on your ID card. Representatives are available to take your call during regular business hours, Monday through Friday.

If you would rather send your complaint to the Claims Administrator in writing, the representative can provide you with the address.

If the representative cannot resolve the issue over the phone, he/she can help you prepare and submit a written complaint. The Claims Administrator will notify you of the decision regarding your complaint within 60 days of receiving it.

How Do You Appeal a Claim Decision?

Post-service Claims

Post-service claims are claims filed for payment of Benefits after medical care has been received.

Pre-service Requests for Benefits

Pre-service requests for Benefits are requests that require prior authorization or benefit confirmation prior to receiving medical care.

How to Request an Appeal

If you disagree with a pre-service request for Benefits determination, post-service claim determination or a rescission of coverage determination, you can contact the Claims Administrator in writing to request an appeal.

Your request for an appeal should include:

- The patient's name and the identification number from the ID card.
- The date(s) of medical service(s).
- The provider's name.
- The reason you believe the claim should be paid.
- Any documentation or other written information to support your request for claim payment.

Your first appeal request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 180 days after you receive the denial of a pre-service request for Benefits or the claim denial.

For medical claims, the appeals address is:

UnitedHealthcare - Appeals

P.O. Box 30432,

Salt Lake City, Utah 84130-0432

Appeal Process

A qualified individual who was not involved in the decision being appealed will be chosen to decide the appeal. If your appeal is related to clinical matters, the review will be done in consultation with a health care professional with expertise in the field, who was not involved in the prior determination. The Claims Administrator may consult with, or ask medical experts to take part in the appeal process. You consent to this referral and the sharing of needed medical claim information. Upon request and free of charge, you have the right to reasonable access to and copies of all documents, records and other information related to your claim for Benefits. If any new or additional evidence is relied upon or generated by the Claims Administrator during the determination of the appeal, the Claims Administrator will provide it to you free of charge and in advance of the due date of the response to the adverse benefit determination.

Appeals Determinations

Pre-service Requests for Benefits and Post-service Claim Appeals

For procedures related to urgent requests for Benefits, see Urgent Appeals that Require Immediate Action below.

You will be provided written or electronic notification of the decision on your appeal as follows:

- For appeals of pre-service requests for Benefits as defined above, the first level appeal will take place and you will be notified of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied request for Benefits. If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision, you have the right to request a second level appeal. This request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 60 days from receipt of the first level appeal decision. The second level appeal will take place and you will be notified of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.
- For appeals of post-service claims as defined above, the first level appeal will take place and you will be notified of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision, you have the right to request a second level appeal. This request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 60 days from receipt of the first level appeal decision. The second level appeal will take place and you will be notified of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.

Please note that the Claims Administrator's decision is based only on whether or not Benefits are available under the Plan for the proposed treatment or procedure.

You may have the right to external review through an Independent Review Organization (IRO) upon the completion of the internal appeal process. Instructions regarding any such rights, and how to access those rights, will be provided in the decision letter to you.

Upon written request and free of charge, any Covered Persons may examine their claim and/or appeals file(s). Covered Persons may also submit evidence, opinions and comments as part of the internal claims review process. The Claims Administrator will review all claims in accordance with the rules established by the U.S. Department of Labor. Any Covered Person will be automatically provided, free of charge, and sufficiently in advance of the date on which the notice of final internal adverse benefit determination is required, with: (i) any new or additional evidence considered, relied upon or generated by the Plan in connection with the claim; and, (ii) a reasonable opportunity for any Covered Person to respond to such new evidence or rationale.

Urgent Appeals that Require Immediate Action

Your appeal may require urgent action if a delay in treatment could increase the risk to your health, or the ability to regain maximum function, or cause severe pain. In these urgent situations:

- The appeal does not need to be submitted in writing. You or your Physician should call the Claims Administrator as soon as possible.
- The Claims Administrator will provide you with a written or electronic determination within 72 hours following receipt of your request for review of the determination, taking into account the seriousness of your condition.
- If the Claims Administrator needs more information from your Physician to make a decision, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the decision by the end of the next business day following receipt of the required information.

The appeal process for urgent situations does not apply to prescheduled treatments, therapies or surgeries.

Federal External Review Program

You may be entitled to request an external review of the Claims Administrator's determination after exhausting your internal appeals if either of the following apply:

- You are not satisfied with the determination made by the Claims Administrator.
- The Claims Administrator fails to respond to your appeal within the timeframe required by the applicable regulations.

If one of the above conditions is met, you may request an external review of adverse benefit determinations based upon any of the following:

- Clinical reasons.
- The exclusions for Experimental or Investigational Service(s) or Unproven Service(s).
- Rescission of coverage (coverage that was cancelled or discontinued retroactively).
- As otherwise required by applicable law.

You or your representative may request a standard external review by sending a written request to the address listed in the determination letter. You or your representative may request an expedited external review, in urgent situations as defined below, by contacting the Claims Administrator at the telephone number on your ID card or by sending a written request to the address listed in the determination letter. A request must be made within four months after the date you received the Claims Administrator's final appeal decision.

An external review request should include all of the following:

- A specific request for an external review.
- Your name, address, and insurance ID number.
- Your designated representative's name and address, when applicable.
- The service that was denied.
- Any new, relevant information that was not provided during the internal appeal.

An external review will be performed by an Independent Review Organization (IRO). The Claims Administrator have entered into agreements with three or more *IRO*s that have agreed to perform such reviews. There are two types of external reviews available:

- A standard external review.
- An expedited external review.

Standard External Review

A standard external review includes all of the following:

- A preliminary review by the Claims Administrator of the request.
- A referral of the request by the Claims Administrator to the IRO.
- A decision by the IRO.

After receipt of the request, the Claims Administrator will complete a preliminary review within the applicable timeframe, to determine whether the individual for whom the request was submitted meets all of the following:

- Is or was covered under the Plan at the time the health care service or procedure that is at issue in the request was provided.
- Has exhausted the applicable internal appeals process.
- Has provided all the information and forms required so that the Claims Administrator may process the request.

After the Claims Administrator completes this review, the Claims Administrator will issue a notification in writing to you. If the request is eligible for external review, the Claims Administrator will assign an IRO to conduct such review. The Claims Administrator will assign requests by either rotating the assignment of claims among the *IRO*s or by using a random selection process.

The IRO will notify you in writing of the request's eligibility and acceptance for external review and if necessary, for any additional information needed to conduct the external review. You will generally have to submit the additional information in writing to the IRO within ten business days after the date you receive the IRO's request for the additional information. The IRO is not required to, but may, accept and consider additional information submitted by you after ten business days.

The Claims Administrator will provide to the assigned IRO the documents and information considered in making the Claims Administrator's determination. The documents include:

- All relevant medical records.
- All other documents relied upon by the Claims Administrator.
- All other information or evidence that you or your Physician submitted. If there is any information or evidence you or your Physician wish to submit that was not previously provided, you may include this information with your external review request. The Claims Administrator will include it with the documents forwarded to the IRO.

In reaching a decision, the IRO will review the claim as new and not be bound by any decisions or conclusions reached by the Claims Administrator. The IRO will provide written notice of its determination (the "Final External Review Decision") within 45 days after it receives the request for the external review (unless they request additional time and you agree). The IRO will deliver the notice of Final External Review Decision to you and the Claims Administrator, and it will include the clinical basis for the determination.

If the Claims Administrator receives a Final External Review Decision reversing the Claims Administrator's determination, the Claims Administrator will provide coverage or payment for the Benefit claim at issue according to the terms and conditions of the Plan, and any applicable law regarding plan remedies. If the Final External Review Decision agrees with the determination, the Claims Administrator will not be obligated to provide Benefits for the health care service or procedure.

Expedited External Review

An expedited external review is similar to a standard external review. The main difference between the two is that the time periods for completing certain portions of the review process are much shorter for the expedited external review, and in some instances you may file an expedited external review before completing the internal appeals process.

You may make a written or verbal request for an expedited external review, separately or at the same time you have filed a request for an expedited internal appeal, if you receive either of the following:

- An adverse benefit determination of a claim or appeal that involves a medical condition for which the time frame for completion of an expedited internal appeal would either jeopardize:
    - The life or health of the individual.
    - The individual's ability to regain maximum function.

In addition, you must have filed a request for an expedited internal appeal.

- A final appeal decision, that either:
    - Involves a medical condition where the timeframe for completion of a standard external review would either jeopardize the life or health of the individual or jeopardize the individual's ability to regain maximum function.
    - Concerns an admission, availability of care, continued stay, or health care service, procedure or product for which the individual received emergency care services, but has not been discharged from a facility.

Immediately upon receipt of the request, the Claims Administrator will determine whether the individual meets both of the following:

- Is or was covered under the Plan at the time the health care service or procedure that is at issue in the request was provided.
- Has provided all the information and forms required so that the Claims Administrator may process the request.

After the Claims Administrator completes the review, the Claims Administrator will send a notice in writing to you. Upon a determination that a request is eligible for expedited external review, the Claims Administrator will assign an IRO in the same manner the Claims Administrator utilizes to assign standard external reviews to *IRO*s. The Claims Administrator will provide all required documents and information the Claims Administrator used in making the adverse benefit determination or final adverse benefit determination to the assigned IRO electronically or by telephone or facsimile or any other available method in a timely manner. The IRO, to the extent the information or documents are available and the IRO considers them appropriate, must consider the same type of information and documents considered in a standard external review.

In reaching a decision, the IRO will review the claim as new and not be bound by any decisions or conclusions reached by the Claims Administrator. The IRO will provide notice of the final external review decision for an expedited external review as quickly as the claimant's medical condition or circumstances require, but in no event more than 72 hours after the IRO receives the request. If the IRO's final external review decision is first communicated verbally, the IRO will follow-up with a written confirmation of the decision within 48 hours of that verbal communication.

You may call the Claims Administrator at the telephone number on your ID card for more information regarding external review rights, or if making a verbal request for an expedited external review.

Section 7: Coordination of Benefits

Benefits When You Have Coverage under More than One Plan

This section describes how Benefits under the Plan will be coordinated with those of any other plan that provides benefits to you.

When Does Coordination of Benefits Apply?

This Coordination of Benefits (COB) provision applies to you if you are covered by more than one health benefits plan, including any one of the following:

- Another employer sponsored health benefits plan.
- A medical component of a group long-term care plan, such as skilled nursing care.
- No-fault or traditional "fault" type medical payment benefits or personal injury protection benefits under an auto insurance policy.
- Medical payment benefits under any premises liability or other types of liability coverage.
- Medicare or other governmental health benefit.

If coverage is provided under two or more plans, COB determines which plan is primary and which plan is secondary. The plan considered primary pays its benefits first, without regard to the possibility that another plan may cover some expenses. Any remaining expenses may be paid under the other plan, which is considered secondary. The secondary plan may determine its benefits based on the benefits paid by the primary plan. How much this Plan will reimburse you, if anything, will also depend in part on the allowable expense. The term, "allowable expense," is further explained below.

What Are the Rules for Determining the Order of Benefit Payments?

Order of Benefit Determination Rules

If you are covered by two or more plans, the benefit payment follows the rules below in this order:

- This Plan will always be secondary to medical payment coverage or personal injury protection coverage under any auto liability or no-fault insurance policy.
- When you have coverage under two or more medical plans and only one has COB provisions, the plan without COB provisions will pay benefits first.
- A plan that covers a person as an employee pays benefits before a plan that covers the person as a dependent.
- If you are receiving COBRA continuation coverage under another employer plan, this Plan will pay Benefits first.
- Your dependent children will receive primary coverage from the parent whose birth date occurs first in a calendar year. If both parents have the same birth date, the plan that pays benefits first is the one that has been in effect the longest. This birthday rule applies only if:
    - The parents are married or living together whether or not they have ever been married and not legally separated.
    - A court decree awards joint custody without specifying that one party has the responsibility to provide health care coverage.
- If two or more plans cover a dependent child of divorced or separated parents and if there is no court decree stating that one parent is responsible for health care, the child will be covered under the plan of:

  - The parent with custody of the child; then
  - The Spouse of the parent with custody of the child; then
  - The parent not having custody of the child; then
  - The Spouse of the parent not having custody of the child.
- Plans for active employees pay before plans covering laid-off or retired employees.
- The plan that has covered the individual claimant the longest will pay first.
- Finally, if none of the above rules determines which plan is primary or secondary, the allowable expenses shall be shared equally between the plans meeting the definition of Plan. In addition, this Plan will not pay more than it would have paid had it been the primary Plan.

How Are Benefits Paid When This Plan is Secondary?

If this Plan is secondary, it determines the amount it will pay for a Covered Health Care Service by following the steps below.

- The Plan determines the amount it would have paid based on the allowable expense.
- The Plan pays the entire difference between the allowable expense and the amount paid by the primary plan, as long as this amount is not more than the Plan would have paid had it been the only plan involved.
- At the end of the calendar year, the benefit reserve returns to zero. A new benefit reserve is created for each calendar year.

You will be responsible for any applicable Copayment, Coinsurance or Deductible payments as part of the COB payment. The maximum combined payment you may receive from all plans cannot exceed 100% of the allowable expense.

How is the Allowable Expense Determined when this Plan is Secondary?

Determining the Allowable Expense If this Plan is Secondary

What is an allowable expense? For purposes of COB, an allowable expense is a health care expense that is covered at least in part by one of the health benefit plans covering you.

When the provider is a Network provider for both the primary plan and this Plan, the allowable expense is the primary plan's network rate. When the provider is a network provider for the primary plan and a non-Network provider for this Plan, the allowable expense is the primary plan's network rate. When the provider is a non-Network provider for the primary plan and a Network provider for this Plan, the allowable expense is the reasonable and customary charges allowed by the primary plan. When the provider is a non-Network provider for both the primary plan and this Plan, the allowable expense is the greater of the two Plans' reasonable and customary charges. If this plan is secondary to Medicare, please also refer to the discussion in the section below, titled "Determining the Allowable Expense When this Plan is Secondary to Medicare".

What is Different When You Qualify for Medicare?

Determining Which Plan is Primary When You Qualify for Medicare

As permitted by law, this Plan will pay Benefits second to Medicare when you become eligible for Medicare, even if you don't elect it. There are, however, Medicare-eligible individuals for whom the Plan pays Benefits first and Medicare pays benefits second:

- Employees with active current employment status age 65 or older and their Spouses age 65 or older (however, Domestic Partners are excluded as provided by Medicare).

- Individuals with end-stage renal disease, for a limited period of time.
- Disabled individuals under age 65 with current employment status and their Dependents under age 65.

Determining the Allowable Expense When this Plan is Secondary to Medicare

If this Plan is secondary to Medicare, the Medicare approved amount is the allowable expense, as long as the provider accepts reimbursement directly from Medicare. If the provider accepts reimbursement directly from Medicare, the Medicare approved amount is the charge that Medicare has determined that it will recognize and which it reports on an "explanation of Medicare benefits" issued by Medicare (the "EOMB") for a given service. Medicare typically reimburses such providers a percentage of its approved charge - often 80%.

If the provider does not accept assignment of your Medicare benefits, the Medicare limiting charge (the most a provider can charge you if they don't accept Medicare - typically 115% of the Medicare approved amount) will be the allowable expense. Medicare payments, combined with Plan Benefits, will not exceed 100% of the allowable expense.

If you are eligible for, but not enrolled in, Medicare, and this Plan is secondary to Medicare, or if you have enrolled in Medicare but choose to obtain services from a provider that does not participate in the Medicare program (as opposed to a provider who does not accept assignment of Medicare benefits), Benefits will be paid on a secondary basis under this Plan and will be determined as if you timely enrolled in Medicare and obtained services from a Medicare participating provider.

When calculating the Plan's Benefits in these situations, and when Medicare does not issue an EOMB, for administrative convenience the Claims Administrator will treat the provider's billed charges for covered services as the allowable expense for both the Plan and Medicare, rather than the Medicare approved amount or Medicare limiting charge.

Medicare Crossover Program

The Plan offers a Medicare Crossover program for Medicare Part A and Part B and Durable Medical Equipment (DME) claims. Under this program, you no longer have to file a separate claim with the Plan to receive secondary benefits for these expenses. Your Dependent will also have this automated Crossover, as long as he or she is eligible for Medicare and this Plan is your only secondary medical coverage.

Once the Medicare Part A and Part B and DME carriers have reimbursed your health care provider, the Medicare carrier will electronically submit the necessary information to the Claims Administrator to process the balance of your claim under the provisions of this Plan.

You can verify that the automated crossover took place when your copy of the explanation of Medicare benefits (EOMB) states your claim has been forwarded to your secondary carrier.

This crossover process does not apply to expenses under Part A of Medicare (hospital expenses) expenses under Part B (Physician office visits) and DME Medicare expenses or expenses that Medicare does not cover. You must continue to file claims for these expenses.

For information about enrollment or if you have questions about the program, call the telephone number listed on the back of your ID card.

Who has the Right to Receive and Release Needed Information?

Certain facts about health care coverage and services are needed to apply these COB rules and to determine benefits payable under this Plan and other plans. The Claims Administrator may get the facts needed from, or give them to, other organizations or persons for the purpose of applying these rules and determining benefits payable under this Plan and other plans covering the person claiming benefits.

The Claims Administrator does not need to tell, or get the consent of, any person to do this. Each person claiming benefits under this Plan must give the Claims Administrator any facts needed to apply those rules and determine benefits payable. If you do not provide the Claims Administrator the information needed to apply these rules and determine the Benefits payable, your claim for Benefits will be denied.

Does This Plan Have the Right of Recovery?

Overpayment and Underpayment of Benefits

If you are covered under more than one medical plan, there is a possibility that the other plan will pay a benefit that the Plan should have paid. If this occurs, the Plan may pay the other plan the amount owed.

If the Plan pays you more than it owes under this COB provision, you should pay the excess back promptly. Otherwise, the Plan Sponsor may recover the amount in the form of salary, wages, or benefits payable under any Plan Sponsor-funded benefit plans, including this Plan. The Plan Sponsor also reserves the right to recover any overpayment by legal action or offset payments on future Allowed Amounts.

If the Plan overpays a health care provider, the Claims Administrator reserves the right to recover the excess amount from the provider pursuant to Refund of Overpayments, below.

Refund of Overpayments

If the Plan pays for Benefits for expenses incurred on account of you, you, or any other person or organization that was paid, must make a refund to the Plan if:

- The Plan's obligation to pay Benefits was contingent on the expenses incurred being legally owed and paid by you, but all or some of the expenses were not paid by you or did not legally have to be paid by you.
- All or some of the payment the Plan made exceeded the Benefits under the Plan.
- All or some of the payment was made in error.

The amount that must be refunded equals the amount the Plan paid in excess of the amount that should have been paid under the Plan. If the refund is due from another person or organization, you agree to help the Plan get the refund when requested.

If the refund is due from you and you do not promptly refund the full amount owed, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part, future Benefits for you that are payable under the Plan. If the refund is due from a person or organization other than you, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part, (i) future Benefits that are payable in connection with services provided to other Covered Persons under the Plan; or (ii) future Benefits that are payment in connection with services provided to persons under other plans for which the Claims Administrator processes payments, pursuant to a transaction in which the Plan's overpayment recovery rights are assigned to such other plans in exchange for such plans' remittance of the amount of the reallocated payment. The reallocated payment amount will either:

- equal the amount of the required refund, or
- if less than the full amount of the required refund, will be deducted from the amount of refund owed to the Plan.

The Plan may have other rights in addition to the right to reallocate overpaid amounts and other enumerated rights, including the right to commence a legal action.

Section 8: General Legal Provisions

What Is Your Relationship with the Claims Administrator and Plan Sponsor?

It is important for you to understand the Claims Administrator's role with respect to the Plan and how it may affect you. The Claims Administrator helps administer the claims payment for the Plan Sponsor's Plan in which you are enrolled. The Claims Administrator and the Plan Sponsor do not provide medical services or make treatment decisions. This means:

- The Claims Administrator communicates to you decisions about whether the Plan will cover or pay for the health care that you may receive. The Plan pays for Covered Health Care Services, which are more fully described in this SPD.
- The Plan may not pay for all treatments you or your Physician may believe are needed. If the Plan does not pay, you will be responsible for the cost.

The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator may use individually identifiable information about you to identify for you (and you alone) procedures, products or services that you may find valuable. The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator will use individually identifiable information about you as permitted or required by law, including in the Claims Administrator's operations and in the Claims Administrator's research. The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator will use de-identified data for commercial purposes including research.

Please refer to the Claims Administrator's Notice of Privacy Practices for details.

What Is the Claims Administrator's Relationship with Providers and Plan Sponsors?

The Claims Administrator has agreements in place that govern the relationships between it and Plan Sponsors and Network providers, some of which are affiliated providers. Network providers enter into agreements with the Claims Administrator to provide Covered Health Care Services to Covered Persons.

Plan Sponsors and the Claims Administrator do not provide health care services or supplies, or practice medicine. Plan Sponsors and the Claims Administrator arrange for health care providers to participate in a Network and the Claims Administrator processes the Plan's payment of Benefits. Network providers are independent practitioners who run their own offices and facilities. The Claims Administrator's credentialing process confirms public information about the providers' licenses and other credentials. It does not assure the quality of the services provided. Network providers are not the Plan Sponsor's employees. Network providers are not the Claims Administrator's employees. The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator are not responsible for any act or omission of any provider.

The Claims Administrator is not considered to be an employer for any purpose with respect to the administration or provision of benefits under the Plan Sponsor's Plan. The Claims Administrator is not responsible for fulfilling any duties or obligations of an employer with respect to the Plan Sponsor's Plan.

The Plan Sponsor is solely responsible for all of the following:

- Enrollment and classification changes (including classification changes resulting in your enrollment or the termination of your coverage).
- The timely payment of the Plan's Service Fee to the Claims Administrator.
- The funding of Benefits on a timely basis.
- Notifying you of when the Plan ends.

When the Plan Sponsor establishes the Plan to provide coverage under a benefit plan governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA"), 29 U.S.C. §1001 et seq., the Claims Administrator is not the plan administrator or named fiduciary of the benefit plan, as those terms are used in ERISA. If you have questions about your welfare benefit plan, you should contact the Plan Sponsor. If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, contact the nearest area office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, U. S. Department of Labor.

What Is Your Relationship with Providers and Plan Sponsors?

The relationship between you and any provider is that of provider and patient.

You are responsible for all of the following:

- Choosing your own provider.
- Paying, directly to your provider, any amount identified as a participant responsibility, including Copayments, Coinsurance, any deductible and any amount that exceeds the Allowed Amount.
- Paying, directly to your provider, the cost of any non-Covered Health Care Service.
- Deciding if any provider treating you is right for you. This includes Network providers you choose and providers that they refer.
- Deciding with your provider what care you should receive.

Your provider is solely responsible for the quality of the services provided to you.

The relationship between you and the Plan Sponsor is that of employer and employee, Dependent or other classification as defined in the Plan.

Notice

When the Claims Administrator provides written notice regarding administration of the Plan to an authorized representative of the Plan Sponsor, that notice is deemed notice to all affected Participants and their Enrolled Dependents. The Plan Sponsor is responsible for giving notice to you.

Statements by the Plan Sponsor or Participants

All statements made by the Plan Sponsor or by a Participant shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. The Claims Administrator will not use any statement made by the Plan Sponsor to void the Plan after it has been in force for two years unless it is a fraudulent statement.

Does the Claims Administrator Pay Incentives to Providers?

The Claims Administrator pays Network providers through various types of contractual arrangements. Some of these arrangements may include financial incentives to promote the delivery of health care in a cost efficient and effective manner. These financial incentives are not intended to affect your access to health care.

Examples of financial incentives for Network providers are:

- Bonuses for performance based on factors that may include quality, member satisfaction and/or cost-effectiveness.
- Capitation - a group of Network providers receives a monthly payment from the Claims Administrator for each Covered Person who selects a Network provider within the group to perform or coordinate certain health care services. The Network providers receive this monthly payment regardless of whether the cost of providing or arranging to provide the Covered Person's health care is less than or more than the payment.
- Bundled payments - certain Network providers receive a bundled payment for a group of Covered Health Care Services for a particular procedure or medical condition. Your Copayment and/or Coinsurance will be calculated based on the provider type that received the bundled payment. The Network providers receive these bundled payments regardless of whether the cost of providing or arranging to provide the Covered Person's health care is less than or more than the payment. If you receive follow-up services related to a procedure where a bundled payment is made, an additional Copayment and/or Coinsurance may not be required if such follow-up services are included in the bundled payment. You may receive some Covered Health Care Services that are not considered part of the inclusive bundled payment and those Covered Health Care Services would be subject to the applicable Copayment and/or Coinsurance as described in your Schedule of Benefits.

The Claims Administrator uses various payment methods to pay specific Network providers. From time to time, the payment method may change. If you have questions about whether your Network provider's contract with the Claims Administrator includes any financial incentives, the Claims Administrator encourages you to discuss those questions with your provider. You may also call the Claims Administrator at the telephone number on your ID card. The Claims Administrator can advise whether your Network provider is paid by any financial incentive, including those listed above; however, the specific terms of the contract, including rates of payment, are confidential and cannot be disclosed.

Are Incentives Available to You?

Sometimes the Claims Administrator may offer coupons, enhanced Benefits, or other incentives to encourage you to take part in various programs, including wellness programs or certain disease management programs, surveys, discount programs and/or programs to seek care in a more cost effective setting and/or from Designated Providers. In some instances, these programs may be offered in combination with a non-UnitedHealthcare entity. The decision about whether or not to take part in a program is yours alone. However, you should discuss taking part in such programs with your Physician. Contact the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card if you have any questions.

Does the Claims Administrator Receive Rebates and Other Payments?

The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator may receive rebates for certain drugs that are administered to you in your home or in a Physician's office, or at a Hospital or Alternate Facility. This includes rebates for those drugs that are administered to you before you meet any applicable deductible. The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator do not pass these rebates on to you, nor are they applied to any deductible or taken into account in determining your Copayments or Coinsurance.

Who Interprets Benefits and Other Provisions under the Plan?

The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator have the sole and exclusive discretion to do all of the following:

- Interpret Benefits under the Plan.
- Interpret the other terms, conditions, limitations and exclusions set out in the Plan, including this SPD, the Schedule of Benefits and any Summary Material Modifications (SMM), and/or Amendments.
- Make factual determinations related to the Plan and its Benefits.

The Plan Sponsor and the Claims Administrator may assign this discretionary authority to other persons or entities that provide services in regard to the administration of the Plan.

In certain circumstances, for purposes of overall cost savings or efficiency, the Plan Sponsor may offer Benefits for services that would otherwise not be Covered Health Care Services. The fact that the Plan Sponsor does so in any particular case shall not in any way be deemed to require the Plan Sponsor to do so in other similar cases.

Who Provides Administrative Services?

The Claims Administrator provides claims administrative services or, as the Claims Administrator determines, the Claims Administrator may arrange for various persons or entities to provide claims administrative services, such as claims processing. The identity of the service providers and the nature of the services they provide may be changed from time to time as the Claims Administrator determines. The Claims Administrator is not required to give you prior notice of any such change, nor is the Claims Administrator required to obtain your approval. You must cooperate with those persons or entities in the performance of their responsibilities.

What is the Future of the Plan?

Although Plan Sponsor expects to continue the Plan indefinitely, it reserves the right to discontinue, alter or modify the Plan in whole or in part, at any time and for any reason, at its sole determination.

The Company's decision to terminate or amend a Plan may be due to changes in federal or state laws governing employee benefits, the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code or Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), or any other reason. A plan change may transfer plan assets and debts to another plan or split a plan into two or more parts. If the Company does change or terminate a plan, it may decide to set up a different plan providing similar or different benefits.

If this Plan is terminated, Covered Persons will not have the right to any other Benefits from the Plan, other than for those claims incurred prior to the date of termination, or as otherwise provided under the Plan. In addition, if the Plan is amended, Covered Persons may be subject to altered coverage and Benefits.

The amount and form of any final benefit you receive will depend on any Plan document or contract provisions affecting the Plan and Company decisions. After all Benefits have been paid and other requirements of the law have been met, certain remaining Plan assets will be turned over to the Company and others as may be required by any applicable law.

Amendments to the Plan

To the extent permitted by law, the Plan Sponsor has the right, as it determines and without your approval, to change, interpret, withdraw or add Benefits or end the Plan.

Any provision of the Plan which, on its effective date, is in conflict with the requirements of applicable state law provisions not otherwise preempted by ERISA or federal statutes or regulations (of the jurisdiction in which the Plan is delivered) is amended to conform to the minimum requirements of such statutes and regulations.

No other change may be made to the Plan unless it is made by an Amendment or SMM. All of the following conditions apply:

- Amendments to the Plan are effective upon the Plan's next anniversary date, except as otherwise permitted by law.
- SMMs to the Plan are effective on the date the Plan Sponsor specifies.
- No agent has the authority to change the Plan or to waive any of its provisions.
- No one has authority to make any oral changes or amendments to the Plan.

How Does the Claims Administrator Use Information and Records?

The Claims Administrator may use your individually identifiable health information as follows:

- To administer the Plan and pay claims.
- To identify procedures, products, or services that you may find valuable.
- As otherwise permitted or required by law.

The Claims Administrator may request additional information from you to decide your claim for Benefits. The Claims Administrator will keep this information confidential. The Claims Administrator may also use de-identified data for commercial purposes, including research, as permitted by law. More detail about how the Claims Administrator may use or disclose your information is found in the Claims Administrator Notice of Privacy Practices.

By accepting Benefits under the Plan, you authorize and direct any person or institution that has provided services to you to furnish the Claims Administrator with all information or copies of records relating to the services provided to you. The Claims Administrator has the right to request this information at any reasonable time. This applies to all Covered Persons, including Enrolled Dependents whether or not they have signed the Participant's enrollment form. UnitedHealthcare agrees that such information and records will be considered confidential.

The Claims Administrator has the right to release records concerning health care services when any of the following apply:

- Needed to put in place and administer the terms of the Plan.
- Needed for medical review or quality assessment.
- Required by law or regulation.

During and after the term of the Plan, the Claims Administrator and the Claims Administrator's related entities may use and transfer the information gathered under the Plan in a de-identified format for commercial purposes, including research and analytic purposes. Please refer to the Claims Administrator Notice of Privacy Practices.

For complete listings of your medical records or billing statements you may contact your health care provider. Providers may charge you reasonable fees to cover their costs for providing records or completing requested forms.

If you request medical forms or records from the Claims Administrator, the Claims Administrator also may charge you reasonable fees to cover costs for completing the forms or providing the records.

In some cases, as permitted by law, the Claims Administrator will designate other persons or entities to request records or information from or related to you, and to release those records as needed. The Claims Administrator's designees have the same rights to this information as the Claims Administrator has.

Does the Plan Require Examination of Covered Persons?

In the event of a question or dispute regarding your right to Benefits, the Plan Sponsor may require that a Network Physician of its choice examine you at the Plan's expense.

Is Workers' Compensation Affected?

Benefits provided under the Plan do not substitute for and do not affect any requirements for coverage by workers' compensation insurance.

How Are Benefits Paid When You Are Medicare Eligible?

Benefits under the Plan are not intended to supplement any coverage provided by Medicare. Nevertheless, in some circumstances Covered Persons who are eligible for or enrolled in Medicare may also be enrolled under the Plan.

If you are eligible for or enrolled in Medicare, please read the following information carefully.

If you are eligible for Medicare on a primary basis (Medicare pays before Benefits under the Plan), you should enroll in and maintain coverage under both Medicare Part A and Part B. If you don't enroll and maintain that coverage, and if the Plan Sponsor's Plan is the secondary payer as described in Section 7: Coordination of Benefits, the Claims Administrator will process the Plan Sponsors payment of Benefits under the Plan as if you were covered under both Medicare Part A and Part B. As a result, you will be responsible for the costs that Medicare would have paid and you will incur a larger out-of-pocket cost.

If you are enrolled in a Medicare Advantage (Medicare Part C) plan on a primary basis (Medicare pays before Benefits under the Plan), you should follow all rules of that plan that require you to seek services from that plan's participating providers. When the Plan Sponsor's Plan is the secondary payer, the Claims Administrator will process the Plan Sponsor's payment of any Benefits available to you under the Plan as if you had followed all rules of the Medicare Advantage plan. You will be responsible for any additional costs or reduced Benefits that result from your failure to follow these rules, and you will incur a larger out-of-pocket cost.

Subrogation and Reimbursement

The Plan has the right to subrogation and reimbursement. References to "you" or "your" in this Subrogation and Reimbursement section shall include you, your estate and your heirs and beneficiaries unless otherwise stated.

Subrogation applies when the Plan has paid Benefits on your behalf for a Sickness or Injury for which any third party is allegedly responsible. The right to subrogation means that the Plan is substituted to and shall succeed to any and all legal claims that you may be entitled to pursue against any third party for the Benefits that the Plan has paid that are related to the Sickness or Injury for which any third party is considered responsible.

Subrogation Example:

Suppose you are injured in a car accident that is not your fault, and you receive Benefits under the Plan to treat your injuries. Under subrogation, the Plan has the right to take legal action in your name against the driver who caused the accident and that driver's insurance carrier to recover the cost of those Benefits.

The right to reimbursement means that if it is alleged that any third party caused or is responsible for a Sickness or Injury for which you receive a settlement, judgment, or other recovery from any third party, you must use those proceeds to fully return to the Plan 100% of any Benefits you receive for that Sickness or Injury. The right of reimbursement shall apply to any benefits received at any time until the rights are extinguished, resolved or waived in writing.

Reimbursement Example:

Suppose you are injured in a boating accident that is not your fault, and you receive Benefits under the Plan as a result of your injuries. In addition, you receive a settlement in a court proceeding from the individual who caused the accident. You must use the settlement funds to return to the Plan 100% of any Benefits you received to treat your injuries.

The following persons and entities are considered third parties:

- A person or entity alleged to have caused you to suffer a Sickness, Injury or damages, or who is legally responsible for the Sickness, Injury or damages.
- Any insurer or other indemnifier of any person or entity alleged to have caused or who caused the Sickness, Injury or damages.

- Your employer in a workers' compensation case or other matter alleging liability.
- Any person or entity who is or may be obligated to provide benefits or payments to you, including benefits or payments for underinsured or uninsured motorist protection, no-fault or traditional auto insurance, medical payment coverage (auto, homeowners or otherwise), workers' compensation coverage, other insurance carriers or third party administrators.
- Any person or entity against whom you may have any claim for professional and/or legal malpractice arising out of or connected to a Sickness or Injury you allege or could have alleged were the responsibility of any third party.
- Any person or entity that is liable for payment to you on any equitable or legal liability theory.

You agree as follows:

- You will cooperate with the Plan in protecting the Plan's legal and equitable rights to subrogation and reimbursement in a timely manner, including, but not limited to:
    - Notifying the Plan, in writing, of any potential legal claim(s) you may have against any third party for acts which caused Benefits to be paid or become payable.
    - Providing any relevant information requested by the Plan.
    - Signing and/or delivering such documents as the Plan or the Plan's agents reasonably request to secure the subrogation and reimbursement claim.
    - Responding to requests for information about any accident or injuries.
    - Making court appearances.
    - Obtaining the Plan's consent or the Plan's agents' consent before releasing any party from liability or payment of medical expenses.
    - Complying with the terms of this section.

    Your failure to cooperate with the Plan is considered a breach of contract. As such, the Plan has the right to terminate or deny future Benefits, take legal action against you, and/or set off from any future Benefits the value of Benefits the Plan has paid relating to any Sickness or Injury alleged to have been caused or caused by any third party to the extent not recovered by the Plan due to you or your representative not cooperating with the Plan. If the Plan incurs attorneys' fees and costs in order to collect third party settlement funds held by you or your representative, the Plan has the right to recover those fees and costs from you. You will also be required to pay interest on any amounts you hold which should have been returned to the Plan.
- The Plan has a first priority right to receive payment on any claim against any third party before you receive payment from that third party. Further, the Plan's first priority right to payment is superior to any and all claims, debts or liens asserted by any medical providers, including but not limited to hospitals or emergency treatment facilities, that assert a right to payment from funds payable from or recovered from an allegedly responsible third party and/or insurance carrier.
- The Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights apply to full and partial settlements, judgments, or other recoveries paid or payable to you or your representative, your estate, your heirs and beneficiaries, no matter how those proceeds are captioned or characterized. Payments include, but are not limited to, economic, non-economic, pecuniary, consortium and punitive damages. The Plan is not required to help you to pursue your claim for damages or personal injuries and no amount of associated costs, including attorneys' fees, shall be deducted from the Plan's recovery without the Plan's express written consent. No so-called "Fund Doctrine" or "Common Fund Doctrine" or "Attorney's Fund Doctrine" shall defeat this right.
- Regardless of whether you have been fully compensated or made whole, the Plan may collect from you the proceeds of any full or partial recovery that you or your legal representative obtain, whether in the form of a settlement (either before or after any determination of liability) or judgment, no matter how those proceeds are captioned or characterized. Proceeds from which the Plan may collect include, but are not limited to, economic, non-economic, and punitive damages. No "collateral source" rule, any "Made-Whole Doctrine" or "Make-Whole Doctrine," claim of unjust enrichment, nor any other equitable limitation shall limit the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights.

- Benefits paid by the Plan may also be considered to be Benefits advanced.
- If you receive any payment from any party as a result of Sickness or Injury, and the Plan alleges some or all of those funds are due and owed to the Plan, you and/or your representative shall hold those funds in trust, either in a separate bank account in your name or in your representative's trust account.
- By participating in and accepting Benefits under the Plan, you agree that (i) any amounts recovered by you from any third party shall constitute Plan assets (to the extent of the amount of Benefits provided on behalf of the Covered Person), (ii) you and your representative shall be fiduciaries of the Plan (within the meaning of ERISA) with respect to such amounts, and (iii) you shall be liable for and agree to pay any costs and fees (including reasonable attorney fees) incurred by the Plan to enforce its reimbursement rights.
- The Plan's right to recovery will not be reduced due to your own negligence.
- By participating in and accepting Benefits from the Plan, you agree to assign to the Plan any benefits, claims or rights of recovery you have under any automobile Plan - including no-fault benefits, PIP benefits and/or medical payment benefits - other coverage or against any third party, to the full extent of the Benefits the Plan has paid for the Sickness or Injury. By agreeing to provide this assignment in exchange for participating in and accepting benefits, you acknowledge and recognize the Plan's right to assert, pursue and recover on any such claim, whether or not you choose to pursue the claim, and you agree to this assignment voluntarily.
- The Plan may, at its option, take necessary and appropriate action to preserve the Plan's rights under these provisions, including but not limited to, providing or exchanging medical payment information with an insurer, the insurer's legal representative or other third party; filing an ERISA reimbursement lawsuit to recover the full amount of medical benefits you receive for the Sickness or Injury out of any settlement, judgment or other recovery from any third party considered responsible; and filing suit in your name or your estate's name, which does not obligate the Plan in any way to pay you part of any recovery the Plan might obtain. Any ERISA reimbursement lawsuit stemming from a refusal to refund Benefits as required under the terms of the Plan is governed by a six-year statute of limitations.
- You may not accept any settlement that does not fully reimburse the Plan, without the Plan's written approval.
- The Plan has the authority and discretion to resolve all disputes regarding the interpretation of the language stated herein.
- In the case of your death, giving rise to any wrongful death or survival claim, the provisions of this section apply to your estate, the personal representative of your estate, and your heirs or beneficiaries. In the case of your death the Plan's right of reimbursement and right of subrogation shall apply if a claim can be brought on behalf of you or your estate that can include a claim for past medical expenses or damages. The obligation to reimburse the Plan is not extinguished by a release of claims or settlement agreement of any kind.
- No allocation of damages, settlement funds or any other recovery, by you, your estate, the personal representative of your estate, your heirs, your beneficiaries or any other person or party, shall be valid if it does not reimburse the Plan for 100% of the Plan's interest unless the Plan provides written consent to the allocation.
- The provisions of this section apply to the parents, guardian, or other representative of a Dependent child who incurs a Sickness or Injury caused by any third party. If a parent or guardian may bring a claim for damages arising out of a minor's Sickness or Injury, the terms of this subrogation and reimbursement clause shall apply to that claim.

- If any third party causes or is alleged to have caused you to suffer a Sickness or Injury while you are covered under the Plan, the provisions of this section continue to apply, even after you are no longer covered.
- In the event that you do not abide by the terms of the Plan pertaining to reimbursement, the Plan may terminate Benefits to you, your dependents or the participant, deny future Benefits, take legal action against you, and/or set off from any future Benefits the value of Benefits the Plan has paid relating to any Sickness or Injury alleged to have been caused or caused by any third party to the extent not recovered by the Plan due to your failure to abide by the terms of the Plan. If the Plan incurs attorneys' fees and costs in order to collect third party settlement funds held by you or your representative, the Plan has the right to recover those fees and costs from you. You will also be required to pay interest on any amounts you hold which should have been returned to the Plan.
- The Plan and all Administrators administering the terms and conditions of the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights have such powers and duties as are necessary to discharge its duties and functions, including the exercise of the Plans discretionary authority to (1) construe and enforce the terms of the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights and (2) make determinations with respect to the subrogation amounts and reimbursements owed to the Plan.

When Does the Plan Receive Refunds of Overpayments?

If the Plan pays Benefits for expenses incurred on your account, you, or any other person or organization that was paid, must make a refund to the Plan if any of the following apply:

- All or some of the expenses were not paid or did not legally have to be paid by you.
- All or some of the payment the Plan made exceeded the Benefits under the Plan.
- All or some of the payment was made in error.

The refund equals the amount the Plan paid in excess of the amount the Plan should have paid under the Plan. If the refund is due from another person or organization, you agree to help the Plan get the refund when requested.

If the refund is due from you and you do not promptly refund the full amount, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part, your future Benefits that are payable under the Plan. If the refund is due from a person or organization other than you, the Plan may recover the overpayment by reallocating the overpaid amount to pay, in whole or in part; (i) future Benefits that are payable in connection with services provided to other Covered Persons under the Plan; or (ii) future Benefits that are payable in connection with services provided to persons under other plans for which the Claims Administrator processes payments, pursuant to a transaction in which the Plan's overpayment recovery rights are assigned to such other plans in exchange for such plans' remittance of the amount of the reallocated payment.

The reductions will equal the amount of the required refund. The Plan may have other rights in addition to the right to reduce future benefits.

Is There a Limitation of Action?

You cannot bring any legal action against the Plan or the Claims Administrator to recover reimbursement until you have completed all the steps in the appeal process described in Section 6: Questions, Complaints and Appeals. After completing that process, if you want to bring a legal action against the Plan or the Claims Administrator you must do so within three years of the date the Plan notified you of its final decision on your appeal or you lose any rights to bring such an action against the Plan or the Claims Administrator.

    - You have a Sickness or condition that is likely to cause death within one year of the request for treatment.

Prior to such a consideration, the Claims Administrator must first establish that there is sufficient evidence to conclude that, even though unproven, the service has significant potential as an effective treatment for that Sickness or condition.

Freestanding Facility - an outpatient, diagnostic or ambulatory center or independent laboratory which performs services and submits claims separately from a Hospital.

Genetic Counseling - counseling by a qualified clinician that includes:

Certified genetic counselors, medical geneticists and physicians with a professional society's certification that they have completed advanced training in genetics are considered qualified clinicians when Covered Health Care Services for Genetic Testing require Genetic Counseling.

Gene Therapy - therapeutic delivery of nucleic acid (DNA or RNA) into a patient's cells as a drug to treat a disease.

Genetic Testing - exam of blood or other tissue for changes in genes (DNA or RNA) that may indicate an increased risk for developing a specific disease or disorder, or provide information to guide the selection of treatment of certain diseases, including cancer.

The carrier does not provide the egg and is therefore not biologically (genetically) related to the child.

Hospital - an institution that is operated as required by law and that meets both of the following:

- Clinically appropriate, in terms of type, frequency, extent, service site and duration, and considered effective for your Sickness, Injury, Mental Illness, substance-related and addictive disorders, disease or its symptoms.
- Not mainly for your convenience or that of your doctor or other health care provider.
- Not more costly than an alternative drug, service(s), service site or supply that is at least as likely to produce equivalent therapeutic or diagnostic results as to the diagnosis or treatment of your Sickness, Injury, disease or symptoms.

Generally Accepted Standards of Medical Practice are standards that are based on credible scientific evidence published in peer-reviewed medical literature generally recognized by the relevant medical community, relying primarily on controlled clinical trials, or, if not available, observational studies from more than one institution that suggest a causal relationship between the service or treatment and health outcomes.

If no credible scientific evidence is available, then standards that are based on Physician specialty society recommendations or professional standards of care may be considered. The Claims Administrator has the right to consult expert opinion in determining whether health care services are Medically Necessary. The decision to apply Physician specialty society recommendations, the choice of expert and the determination of when to use any such expert opinion, shall be determined by the Claims Administrator.

The Claims Administrator develops and maintain clinical policies that describe the Generally Accepted Standards of Medical Practice scientific evidence, prevailing medical standards and clinical guidelines supporting the Claims Administrator's determinations regarding specific services. These clinical policies (as developed by the Claims Administrator and revised from time to time), are available to Covered Persons through www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card. They are also available to Physicians and other health care professionals on UnitedHealthcareOnline.

The fact that a condition is listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association does not mean that treatment for the condition is a Covered Health Care Service.

Mental Illness - those mental health or psychiatric diagnostic categories that are listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. Mobility Device - A manual wheelchair, electric wheelchair, transfer chair or scooter.

Network - when used to describe a provider of health care services, this means a provider that has a participation agreement in effect (either directly or indirectly) with the Claims Administrator or with the Claims Administrator's affiliate to participate in the Claims Administrator's Network. This does not include those providers who have agreed to discount their charges for Covered Health Care Services by way of their participation in the Shared Savings Program. The Claims Administrator's affiliates are those entities affiliated with the Claims Administrator through common ownership or control with the Claims Administrator or with the Claims Administrator's ultimate corporate parent, including direct and indirect subsidiaries.

A provider may enter into an agreement to provide only certain Covered Health Care Services, but not all Covered Health Care Services, or to be a Network provider for only some of the Claims Administrator's products. In this case, the provider will be a Network provider for the Covered Health Care Services and products included in the participation agreement and an out-of-Network provider for other Covered Health Care Services and products. The participation status of providers will change from time to time.

Network Benefits - the description of how Benefits are paid for Covered Health Care Services provided by Network providers. The Schedule of Benefits will tell you if your plan offers Network Benefits and how Network Benefits apply.

This list is subject, from time to time, to the Claims Administrator's review and change. You may find out which tier a particular Pharmaceutical Product has been placed by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

Physician - any Doctor of Medicine or Doctor of Osteopathy who is properly licensed and qualified by law.

Please Note: Any podiatrist, dentist, psychologist, chiropractor, optometrist, or other provider who acts within the scope of his or her license will be considered on the same basis as a Physician. The fact that the Claims Administrator describes a provider as a Physician does not mean that Benefits for services from that provider are available to you under the Plan.

Plan - the Plan Sponsor's Self-Funded group health benefit plan.

The "What Is the Summary Plan Description?" provision of the SPD will tell you who the Plan Sponsor of this Plan is.

Plan Sponsor - the employer, or other defined or otherwise legally established group, to whom the Plan is issued. The "What Is the Summary Plan Description?" provision of the SPD will tell you who the Plan Sponsor of this Plan is.

A Residential Treatment facility that qualifies as a Hospital is considered a Hospital.

Retired Employee - an Employee under the age of 65 who meets the retirement eligibility rules as defined by Adams County policy guidelines. Retirees over 65 years of age actively enrolled in Medicare are not eligible for coverage.

Semi-private Room - a room with two or more beds. When an Inpatient Stay in a Semi-private Room is a Covered Health Care Service, the difference in cost between a Semi-private Room and a private room is a Benefit only when a private room is Medically Necessary, or when a Semi-private Room is not available.

Service Fee - the periodic fee required for each Participant and each Enrolled Dependent, in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

Shared Savings Program - a program in which the Claims Administrator may obtain a discount to an out-of-Network provider's billed charges. This discount is usually based on a schedule previously agreed to by the out-of-Network provider. When this happens, you may experience lower out-of-pocket amounts. Coinsurance and any applicable deductible would still apply to the reduced charge. Plan provisions or administrative practices supersede the scheduled rate, and a different rate is determined by the Claims Administrator. This means, when contractually permitted, the Plan may pay the lesser of the Shared Savings Program discount or an amount determined by the Claims Administrator, such as a percentage of the published rates allowed by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) for the same or similar service within the geographic market, an amount determined based on available data resources of competitive fees in that geographic area, a fee schedule established by a third party vendor or a negotiated rate with the provider. In this case, the out-of-Network provider may bill you for the difference between the billed amount and the rate determined by the Claims Administrator. If this happens, you should call the telephone number shown on your ID card. Shared Savings Program providers are not Network providers and are not credentialed by the Claims Administrator.

Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Services - services for the diagnosis and treatment of alcoholism and substance-related and addictive disorders that are listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The fact that a disorder is listed in the current edition of the International Classification of Diseases section on Mental and Behavioral Disorders or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association does not mean that treatment of the disorder is a Covered Health Care Service.

Summary Material Modification (SMM) - any attached written description of additional Covered Health Care Services not described in this SPD. Covered Health Care Services provided by a SMM may be subject to payment of additional Service Fees. SMMs are subject to all conditions, limitations and exclusions of the Plan except for those that are specifically amended in the SMM.

Surrogate - a female who becomes pregnant usually by artificial insemination or transfer of a fertilized egg (embryo) for the purpose of carrying the fetus for another person. The surrogate provides the egg and is therefore biologically (genetically) related to the child.

- Sober living arrangements such as drug-free housing or alcohol/drug halfway houses. They provide stable and safe housing, an alcohol/drug-free environment and support for recovery. They may be used as an addition to ambulatory treatment when it doesn't offer the intensity and structure needed to help you with recovery.
- Supervised living arrangements which are residences such as facilities, group homes and supervised apartments. They provide members with stable and safe housing and the opportunity to learn how to manage their activities of daily living. They may be used as an addition to treatment when it doesn't offer the intensity and structure needed to help you with recovery.

Unproven Service(s) - services, including medications, that are determined not to be effective for treatment of the medical condition and/or not to have a beneficial effect on health outcomes due to insufficient and inadequate clinical evidence from well-conducted randomized controlled trials or cohort studies in the prevailing published peer-reviewed medical literature.

- Well-conducted randomized controlled trials. (Two or more treatments are compared to each other, and the patient is not allowed to choose which treatment is received.)
- Well-conducted cohort studies from more than one institution. (Patients who receive study treatment are compared to a group of patients who receive standard therapy. The comparison group must be nearly identical to the study treatment group.)

The Claims Administrator has a process by which the Claims Administrator compiles and reviews clinical evidence with respect to certain health care services. From time to time, the Claims Administrator issues medical and drug policies that describe the clinical evidence available with respect to specific health care services. These medical and drug policies are subject to change without prior notice. You can view these policies at www.myuhc.com.

Please note:

- If you have a life-threatening Sickness or condition (one that is likely to cause death within one year of the request for treatment) the Claims Administrator may, as the Claims Administrator determines, consider an otherwise Unproven Service to be a Covered Health Care Service for that Sickness or condition. Prior to such a consideration, the Claims Administrator must first establish that there is sufficient evidence to conclude that, even though unproven, the service has significant potential as an effective treatment for that Sickness or condition.

Urgent Care Center - a facility that provides Covered Health Care Services that are required to prevent serious deterioration of your health. These services are required as a result of an unforeseen Sickness, Injury, or the onset of sudden or severe symptoms.

Amendment: Wellness

This Amendment to the Plan is issued by the Plan Sponsor as described below.

Because this Amendment is part of a legal document, the Plan wants to give you information about the document that will help you understand it. Certain capitalized words have special meanings. The Plan has defined these words in the Summary Plan Description in Section 9: Defined Terms.

What is the Wellness Amendment?

This Amendment describes the health and wellness tool that applies digital experiences, tools, games and rewards designed to engage Covered Persons in managing their health.

Who Is Eligible?

Participation is available to Covered Persons age 13 years and older; however, wellness rewards are only available to Covered Persons age 18 years and older.

What Are the Wellness Opportunities?

The health and wellness tool includes a wide range of wellness engagement opportunities. Engagement opportunities include the following:

- Interactive social media and games, which may include taking part in wellness challenges and health communities.
- Health Survey.
- Online Personal Health Record.
- An Invite to create personal missions.
- Integration with a variety of wellness devices (for example, wearable wireless trackers and mobile tools).

What Are the Rewards?

Covered Persons, age 18 years and older, receive wellness rewards for taking part in health and wellness opportunities as described above. When you take part in a health and wellness opportunity, you earn "coins" as a reward. For example, you may earn 40 coins for completing a Health Survey. You can save up coins and use the coins to enter into sweepstakes.

If you cannot meet a standard for a certain wellness reward, then you might qualify to earn the same reward by different means. You may call the Claims Administrator at the telephone number listed on your identification (ID) card who will work with you (and, if needed, with your doctor) to find another way for you to earn the same reward.

Standard Care Coordination

The Claims Administrator provides a program called Care Coordination℠ designed to encourage personalized, efficient care for you and your covered Dependents.

Care Coordination℠ nurses center their efforts on prevention, education, and closing any gaps in your care. The goal of the program is to ensure you receive the most appropriate and cost-effective services available.

Care Coordination℠ nurses will provide a variety of different services to help you and your covered family members receive appropriate medical care. Program components are subject to change without notice. When the Claims Administrator is called as required, they will work with you to implement the Care Coordination℠ process and to provide you with information about additional services that are available to you, such as disease management programs, health education, and patient advocacy. As of the publication of this SPD, the Care Coordination℠ program includes:

- Admission counseling - Nurse Advocates are available to help you prepare for a successful surgical admission and recovery. Call the number on the back of your ID card for support.
- Inpatient care management - If you are hospitalized, a Care Coordination℠ nurse will work with your Physician to make sure you are getting the care you need and that your Physician's treatment plan is being carried out effectively.
- Readmission Management - This program serves as a bridge between the Hospital and your home if you are at high risk of being readmitted. After leaving the Hospital, if you have a certain chronic or complex condition, you may receive a phone call from a Care Coordination℠ nurse to confirm that medications, needed equipment, or follow-up services are in place. The nurse will also share important health care information, reiterate and reinforce discharge instructions, and support a safe transition home.
- Risk Management - Designed for participants with certain chronic or complex conditions, this program addresses such health care needs as access to medical specialists, medication information, and coordination of equipment and supplies. Participants may receive a phone call from a Care Coordination℠ nurse to discuss and share important health care information related to the participant's specific chronic or complex condition.

If you do not receive a call from a Care Coordination℠ nurse but feel you could benefit from any of these programs, please call the number on your ID card.

Outpatient Prescription Drug Schedule of Benefits

United Healthcare Services, Inc.

When Are Benefits Available for Prescription Drug Products?

Benefits are available for Prescription Drug Products at Network Pharmacy and are subject to Copayments and/or Coinsurance or other payments that vary depending on which of the tiers of the Prescription Drug List the Prescription Drug Product is placed.

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products are available when the Prescription Drug Product meets the definition of a Covered Health Care Service or is prescribed to prevent conception.

What Happens When a Brand-name Drug Becomes Available as a Generic?

If a Generic becomes available for a Brand-name Prescription Drug Product, the tier placement of the Brand-name Prescription Drug Product may change. Therefore, your Copayment and/or Coinsurance may change or you will no longer have Benefits for that particular Brand-name Prescription Drug Product.

How Do Supply Limits Apply?

Benefits for Prescription Drug Products are subject to the supply limits that are stated in the "Description and Supply Limits" column of the Benefit Information table. For a single Copayment and/or Coinsurance, you may receive a Prescription Drug Product up to the stated supply limit.

Note: Some products are subject to additional supply limits based on criteria that the Claims Administrator has developed. Supply limits are subject, from time to time, to the Claims Administrator's review and change. This may limit the amount dispensed per Prescription Order or Refill and/or the amount dispensed per month's supply, or may require that a minimum amount be dispensed.

You may find out whether a Prescription Drug Product has a supply limit for dispensing by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

Do Prior Authorization Requirements Apply?

Before certain Prescription Drug Products are dispensed to you, your Physician, your pharmacist or you are required to obtain prior authorization from the Claims Administrator or the Claims Administrator's designee. The reason for obtaining prior authorization from the Claims Administrator is to determine whether the Prescription Drug Product, in accordance with the Claims Administrator's approved guidelines, is each of the following:

- It meets the definition of a Covered Health Care Service.
- It is not an Experimental or Investigational or Unproven Service.

The Plan may also require you to obtain prior authorization from the Claims Administrator or the Claims Administrator's designee so the Claims Administrator can determine whether the Prescription Drug Product, in accordance with the Claims Administrator's approved guidelines, was prescribed by a Specialist.

Network Pharmacy Prior Authorization

When Prescription Drug Products are dispensed at a Network Pharmacy, the prescribing provider, the pharmacist, or you are responsible for obtaining prior authorization from the Claims Administrator.

If you do not obtain prior authorization from the Claims Administrator before the Prescription Drug Product is dispensed, you may pay more for that Prescription Order or Refill. The Prescription Drug Products requiring prior authorization are subject, from time to time, to the Claims Administrator's review and change. You may find out whether a particular Prescription Drug Product requires notification/prior authorization by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

If you do not obtain prior authorization from the Claims Administrator before the Prescription Drug Product is dispensed, you can ask the Claims Administrator to consider reimbursement after you receive the Prescription Drug Product. You will be required to pay for the Prescription Drug Product at the pharmacy. You may seek reimbursement from the Claims Administrator as described in this Summary Plan Description (SPD) in Section 5: How to File a Claim.

When you submit a claim on this basis, you may pay more because you did not obtain prior authorization from the Claims Administrator before the Prescription Drug Product was dispensed. The amount you are reimbursed will be based on the Prescription Drug Charge, less the required Copayment and/or Coinsurance and any deductible that applies.

Benefits may not be available for the Prescription Drug Product after the Claims Administrator reviews the documentation provided and the Claims Administrator determines that the Prescription Drug Product is not a Covered Health Care Service or it is an Experimental or Investigational or Unproven Service.

The Claims Administrator may also require prior authorization for certain programs which may have specific requirements for participation and/or activation of an enhanced level of Benefits related to such programs. You may access information on available programs and any applicable prior authorization, participation or activation requirements related to such programs by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

Does Step Therapy Apply?

Certain Prescription Drug Products for which Benefits are described under this Outpatient Prescription Drug Plan are subject to step therapy requirements. In order to receive Benefits for such Prescription Drug Products you must use a different Prescription Drug Product(s) first.

You may find out whether a Prescription Drug Product is subject to step therapy requirements by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

What Do You Pay?

The Claims Administrator may not permit certain coupons or offers from pharmaceutical manufacturers or an affiliate to apply to your Annual Deductible. You may access information on which coupons or offers are not permitted by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

You are responsible for paying the applicable Copayment and/or Coinsurance described in the Benefit Information table. You are not responsible for paying a Copayment and/or Coinsurance for PPACA Zero Cost Share Preventive Care Medications.

The amount you pay for any of the following under this Outpatient Prescription Drug Plan will be included in calculating any Out-of-Pocket Limit stated in this SPD:

- Certain coupons or offers from pharmaceutical manufacturers or an affiliate. You may access information on which coupons or offers are not permitted by contacting the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card.

- Any non-covered drug product. You are responsible for paying 100% of the cost (the amount the pharmacy charges you) for any non-covered drug product. The Claims Administrator's contracted rates (the Claims Administrator's Prescription Drug Charge) will not be available to you.

Outpatient Prescription Drug Plan

United Healthcare Services, Inc.

This portion of the Plan provides Benefits for Prescription Drug Products.

Because this section is part of a legal document, the Plan Sponsor wants to give you information about the document that will help you understand it. Certain capitalized words have special meanings. The Claims Administrator has defined these words in either the Summary Plan Description (SPD) in Section 9: Defined Terms or in this Plan in Outpatient Prescription Drug Defined Terms.

When the Plan Sponsor uses the words "you" and "your" the Plan Sponsor is referring to people who are Covered Persons, as the term is defined in Section 9: Defined Terms.

NOTE: The Coordination of Benefits provision in this SPD in Section 7: Coordination of Benefits applies to Prescription Drug Products covered through this Outpatient Prescription Drug Plan. Benefits for Prescription Drug Products will be coordinated with those of any other health plan in the same manner as Benefits for Covered Health Care Services described in the SPD.

Introduction Outpatient Prescription Drug Plan

Coverage Policies and Guidelines

The Claims Administrator's Prescription Drug List (PDL) Management Committee makes tier placement changes on the Claims Administrator's behalf. The PDL Management Committee places FDA-approved Prescription Drug Product into tiers by considering a number of factors including clinical and economic factors. Clinical factors may include review of the place in therapy or use as compared to other similar product or services, site of care, relative safety or effectiveness of the Prescription Drug Product, as well as if certain supply limits or prior authorization requirements should apply. Economic factors may include the Prescription Drug Product's total cost including any rebates and evaluations of the cost effectiveness of the Prescription Drug Product.

Some Prescription Drug Products are more cost effective for treating specific conditions as compared to others; therefore, a Prescription Drug Product may be placed on multiple tiers according to the condition for which the Prescription Drug Product was prescribed to treat, or according to whether it was prescribed by a Specialist.

The Claims Administrator may, from time to time, change the placement of a Prescription Drug Product among the tiers. These changes generally will happen quarterly, but no more than six times per calendar year. These changes may happen without prior notice to you.

When considering a Prescription Drug Product for tier placement, the PDL Management Committee reviews clinical and economic factors regarding Covered Persons as a general population. Whether a particular Prescription Drug Product is appropriate for you is a determination that is made by you and your prescribing Physician.

NOTE: The tier placement of a Prescription Drug Product may change, from time to time, based on the process described above. As a result of such changes, you may be required to pay more or less for that Prescription Drug Product. Please contact the Claims Administrator at www.myuhc.com or the telephone number on your ID card for the most up-to-date tier placement.

Identification Card (ID Card) - Network Pharmacy

You must either show your ID card at the time you obtain your Prescription Drug Product at a Network Pharmacy or you must provide the Network Pharmacy with identifying information that can be verified by the Claims Administrator during regular business hours.

If you don't show your ID card or provide verifiable information at a Network Pharmacy, you must pay the Usual and Customary Charge for the Prescription Drug Product at the pharmacy.

You may seek reimbursement from the Plan as described in this SPD in Section 5: How to File a Claim. When you submit a claim on this basis, you may pay more because you did not verify your eligibility when the Prescription Drug Product was dispensed. Designated Pharmacies

If you require certain Prescription Drug Products, including, but not limited to, Specialty Prescription Drug Products, the Claims Administrator may direct you to a Designated Pharmacy with whom the Claims Administrator has an arrangement to provide those Prescription Drug Products.

If you are directed to a Designated Pharmacy and you choose not to obtain your Prescription Drug Product from a Designated Pharmacy, you will be subject to the out-of-Network Benefit for that Prescription Drug Product.

When Does the Claims Administrator Limit Selection of Pharmacies?

If the Claims Administrator determines that you may be using Prescription Drug Products in a harmful or abusive manner, or with harmful frequency, your choice of Network Pharmacies may be limited. If this happens, the Claims Administrator may require you to choose one Network Pharmacy that will provide and coordinate all future pharmacy services. Benefits will be paid only if you use the chosen Network Pharmacy. When rebates are passed on to you they may be taken into account in determining your Copayment and/or Coinsurance.

The Claims Administrator, and a number of the Claims Administrator's affiliated entities, conduct business with pharmaceutical manufacturers separate and apart from this Outpatient Prescription Drug Plan. Such business may include, but is not limited to, data collection, consulting, educational grants and research. Amounts received from pharmaceutical manufacturers pursuant to such arrangements are not related to this Outpatient Prescription Drug Plan. The Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA)

This group health plan does not discriminate in premium amounts, contributions charged or eligibility for coverage based on any individual's genetic information. The plan does not use, request or require genetic information about anyone covered by the plan. Genetic information, within the context of GINA, includes the following: an individual's genetic tests; the genetic tests of an individual's family members (up to fourth-degree relatives by birth, marriage or adoption); manifestation of disease or disorder in family members of an individual; an individual's request for or receipt of genetic services; and genetic information of a fetus carried by an individual or his or her family.

Any Health Risk Assessment (HRA) completed by a person covered by this plan is in compliance with regulations under GINA.

Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) Free or Low Cost Health Coverage to Children and Families

If you are eligible for health coverage from your employer, but are unable to afford the premiums, some States have premium assistance programs that can help pay for coverage. These States use funds from their Medicaid or CHIP programs to help people who are eligible for employer-sponsored health coverage, but need assistance in paying their health premiums.

If you or your dependents are already enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP and you live in a State listed below, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office to find out if premium assistance is available.

If you or your dependents are NOT currently enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP, and you think you or any of your dependents might be eligible for either of these programs, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office or dial 1-877-KIDS NOW or www.insurekidsnow.gov to find out how to apply. If you qualify, you can ask the State if it has a program that might help you pay the premiums for an employer-sponsored plan.

Once it is determined that you or your dependents are eligible for premium assistance under Medicaid or CHIP, your employer's health plan is required to permit you and your dependents to enroll in the plan – as long as you and your dependents are eligible, but not already enrolled in the employer's plan. This is called a "special enrollment" opportunity, and you must request coverage within 60 days of being determined eligible for premium assistance.

If you live in one of the following States, you may be eligible for assistance paying your employer health plan premiums. The following list of States is current as of September 1, 2010. You should contact your State for further information on eligibility.

Important Notices under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA)

Changes in Federal Law that Impact Benefits

There are changes in Federal law which may impact coverage and Benefits stated in the Summary Plan Description (SPD) and Schedule of Benefits. A summary of those changes and the dates the changes are effective appear below. These changes will apply to any "non-grandfathered" plan. Contact your Plan Administrator to determine whether or not your plan is a "grandfathered" or a "non-grandfathered plan". Under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) a plan generally is "grandfathered" if it was in effect on March 23, 2010 and there are no substantial changes in the benefit design as described in the Interim Final Rule on Grandfathered Health Plans at that time.

Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA)

Effective for policies that are new or renewing on or after September 23, 2010, the requirements listed below apply.

- Lifetime limits on the dollar amount of essential benefits available to you under the terms of your plan are no longer permitted. Essential benefits include the following:

  Ambulatory patient services; emergency services, hospitalization; laboratory services; maternity and newborn care, mental health and substance use disorder services (including behavioral health treatment); prescription drugs; rehabilitative and habilitative services and devices; preventive and wellness services and chronic disease management; and pediatric services, including oral and vision care.

- On or before the first day of the first plan year beginning on or after September 23, 2010, the enrolling group will provide a 30 day enrollment period for those individuals who are still eligible under the plan's eligibility terms but whose coverage ended by reason of reaching a lifetime limit on the dollar value of all benefits.

- Essential benefits for plan years beginning prior to January 1, 2014 can only be subject to restricted annual limits. Restricted annual limits for each person covered under the plan may be no less than the following:

  - For plan or policy years beginning on or after September 23, 2010 but before September 23, 2011, $750,000.
  - For plan or policy years beginning on or after September 23, 2011 but before September 23, 2012, $1,250,000.
  - For plan or policy years beginning on or after September 23, 2012 but before January 1, 2014, $2,000,000.

  Please note that for plan years beginning on or after January 1, 2014, essential health benefits cannot be subject to annual or lifetime dollar limits.

- Coverage for enrolled dependent children is no longer conditioned upon full-time student status or other dependency requirements and will remain in place until the child's 26th birthday. If you have a grandfathered plan, the enrolling group is not required to extend coverage to age 26 if the child is eligible to enroll in an eligible employer-sponsored health plan (as defined by law).

  On or before the first day of the first plan year beginning on or after September 23, 2010, the enrolling group will provide a 30 day dependent child special open enrollment period for dependent children who are not currently enrolled under the policy and who have not yet reached age 26. During this dependent child special open enrollment period, subscribers who are adding a dependent child and who have a choice of coverage options will be allowed to change options.

- If your plan includes coverage for enrolled dependent children beyond the age of 26, which is conditioned upon full-time student status, the following applies:

  Coverage for enrolled dependent children who are required to maintain full-time student status in order to continue eligibility under the plan is subject to the statute known as Michelle's Law. This law amends ERISA, the Public Health Service Act, and the Internal Revenue Code and requires group health plans, which provide coverage for dependent children who are post-secondary school students, to continue such coverage if the student loses the required student status because he or she must take a medically necessary leave of absence from studies due to a serious illness or Injury.

- If you do not have a grandfathered plan, in-network benefits for preventive care services described below will be paid at 100%, and not subject to any deductible, coinsurance or copayment. If you have pharmacy benefit coverage, your plan may also be required to cover preventive care medications that are obtained at a network pharmacy at 100%, and not subject to any deductible, coinsurance or copayment, as required by applicable law under any of the following:

  - Evidence-based items or services that have in effect a rating of "A" or "B" in the current recommendations of the United States Preventive Services Task Force.

- Immunizations that have in effect a recommendation from the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.
- With respect to infants, children and adolescents, evidence-informed preventive care and screenings provided for in the comprehensive guidelines supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration.
- With respect to women, such additional preventive care and screenings as provided for in comprehensive guidelines supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration.

- Retroactive rescission of coverage under the plan is permitted, with 30 days advance written notice, only in the following two circumstances:
  - The individual performs an act, practice or omission that constitutes fraud.
  - The individual makes an intentional misrepresentation of a material fact.
- Other changes provided for under the PPACA do not impact your plan because your plan already contains these benefits. These include:
  - Direct access to OB/GYN care without a referral or authorization requirement.
  - The ability to designate a pediatrician as a primary care physician (PCP) if your plan requires a PCP designation.
  - Prior authorization is not required before you receive services in the emergency department of a hospital.

    If you seek emergency care from out-of-network providers in the emergency department of a hospital your cost sharing obligations (copayments/coinsurance) will be the same as would be applied to care received from in-network providers.

Effective for plans that are new or renewing on or after January 1, 2014, the requirements listed below apply:

If your plan includes coverage for Clinical Trials, the following applies:

The clinical trial benefit has been modified to distinguish between clinical trials for cancer and other life threatening conditions and those for non-life threatening conditions. For trials for cancer/other life threatening conditions, routine patient costs now include those for covered individuals participating in a preventive clinical trial and Phase IV trials. This modification is optional for certain grandfathered health plans. Refer to your plan documents to determine if this modification has been made to your plan.

Pre-Existing Conditions:

Any pre-existing condition exclusions (including denial of benefit or coverage) will not apply to covered persons regardless of age.

Some Important Information about Appeal and External Review Rights under PPACA

If you are enrolled in a non-grandfathered plan with an effective date or plan year anniversary on or after September 23, 2010, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010 (PPACA), as amended, sets forth new and additional internal appeal and external review rights beyond those that some plans may have previously offered. Also, certain grandfathered plans are complying with the additional internal appeal and external review rights provisions on a voluntary basis. Please refer to your benefit plan documents, including amendments and notices, or speak with your employer or UnitedHealthcare for more information on the appeal rights available to you. (Also, please refer to the Claims and Appeal Notice section of this document.)

What if I receive a denial, and need help understanding it? Please call the Claims Administrator at the number listed on your health plan ID card.

What if I don't agree with the denial? You have a right to appeal any decision to not pay for an item or service.

How do I file an appeal? The initial denial letter or Explanation of Benefits that you receive from the Claims Administrator will give you the information and the timeframe to file an appeal.

What if my situation is urgent? If your situation is urgent, your review will be conducted as quickly as possible. If you believe your situation is urgent, you may request an expedited review, and, if applicable, file an external review at the same time. For help call the Claims Administrator at the number listed on your health plan ID card.

Generally, an urgent situation is when your health may be in serious jeopardy. Or when, in the opinion of your doctor, you may be experiencing severe pain that cannot be adequately controlled while you wait for a decision on your appeal.

Who may file an appeal? Any member or someone that member names to act as an authorized representative may file an appeal. For help call the Claims Administrator at the number listed on your health plan ID card.

Can I provide additional information about my claim? Yes, you may give us additional information supporting your claim. Send the information to the address provided in the initial denial letter or Explanation of Benefits.

Can I request copies of information relating to my claim? Yes. There is no cost to you for these copies. Send your request to the address provided in the initial denial letter or Explanation of Benefits.

What happens if I don't agree with the outcome of my appeal? If you appeal, the Claims Fiduciary will review its decision. The Claims Fiduciary will also send you its written decision within the time allowed. If you do not agree with the decision, you may be able to request an external review of your claim by an independent third party. If so, the Claims Fiduciary will review the denial and issue a final decision.

If I need additional help, what should I do? For questions on your appeal rights, you may call the Claims Administrator at the number listed on your health plan ID card for assistance. You may also contact the support groups listed below.

Are verbal translation services available to me during an appeal? Yes. Contact the Claims Administrator at the number listed on your health plan ID card. Ask for verbal translation services for your questions.

Is there other help available to me? For questions about appeal rights, an unfavorable benefit decision, or for help, you may also contact the Employee Benefits Security Administration at 1-866-444-EBSA (3272). Your state consumer assistance program may also be able to help you.

If your plan includes coverage for Mental Health or Substance Use, the following applies:

Mental Health/Substance Use Disorder Parity

Effective for grandfathered and non-grandfathered large group Plans that are new or renewing on or after July 1, 2010, Benefits are subject to final regulations supporting the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008 (MHPAEA). Benefits for mental health conditions and substance use disorder conditions that are Covered Health Care Services under the Plan must be treated in the same manner and provided at the same level as Covered Health Care Services for the treatment of other Sickness or Injury. Benefits for Mental Health Services and Substance-Related and Addictive Disorders Services are not subject to any annual maximum benefit limit (including any day, visit or dollar limit).

MHPAEA requires that the financial requirements for coinsurance and copayments for mental health and substance use disorder conditions must be no more restrictive than those coinsurance and copayment requirements for substantially all medical/surgical benefits. MHPAEA requires specific testing to be applied to classifications of benefits to determine the impact of these financial requirements on mental health and substance use disorder benefits. Based upon the results of that testing, it is possible that coinsurance or copayments that apply to mental health conditions and substance use disorder conditions in your benefit plan may be reduced.

Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998

As required by the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998, Benefits under the Plan are provided for mastectomy, including reconstruction and surgery to achieve symmetry between the breasts, prostheses, and complications resulting from a mastectomy (including lymphedema).

If you are receiving Benefits in connection with a mastectomy, Benefits are also provided for the following Covered Health Care Services, as you determine appropriate with your attending Physician:

- All stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed;
- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance; and
- Prostheses and treatment of physical complications of the mastectomy, including lymphedema.

The amount you must pay for such Covered Health Care Services (including Copayments, Coinsurance and any deductible) are the same as are required for any other Covered Health Care Service. Limitations on Benefits are the same as for any other Covered Health Care Service.

Statement of Rights under the Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act

Under Federal law, group health plans and health insurance issuers offering group health insurance coverage generally may not restrict Benefits for any Hospital length of stay in connection with childbirth for the mother or newborn child to less than 48 hours following a vaginal delivery, or less than 96 hours following a delivery by cesarean section. However, the plan or issuer may pay for a shorter stay if the attending provider (e.g. your Physician, nurse midwife, or physician assistant), after consultation with the mother, discharges the mother or newborn earlier.

Also, under Federal law, plans and issuers may not set the level of Benefits or out-of-pocket costs so that any later portion of the 48-hour (or 96-hour) stay is treated in a manner less favorable to the mother or newborn than any earlier portion of the stay.

In addition, a plan or issuer may not, under Federal law, require that a Physician or other health care provider obtain authorization for prescribing a length of stay of up to 48 hours (or 96 hours). However, to use certain providers or facilities, or to reduce your out-of-pocket costs, you may be required to obtain precertification. For information on precertification, contact your issuer.

Claims and Appeal Notice

This Notice is provided to you in order to describe our responsibilities under Federal law for making benefit determinations and your right to appeal adverse benefit determinations. To the extent that state law provides you with more generous timelines or opportunities for appeal, those rights also apply to you. Please refer to your benefit documents for information about your rights under state law.

Benefit Determinations

Post-service Claims

Post-service claims are those claims that are filed for payment of Benefits after medical care has been received. If your post-service claim is denied, you will receive a written notice from the Claims Administrator within 30 days of receipt of the claim, as long as all needed information was provided with the claim. The Claims Administrator will notify you within this 30-day period if additional information is needed to process the claim, and may request a one-time extension not longer than 15 days and pend your claim until all information is received.

Once notified of the extension, you then have 45 days to provide this information. If all of the needed information is received within the 45-day time frame, and the claim is denied, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the denial within 15 days after the information is received. If you don't provide the needed information within the 45-day period, your claim will be denied.

A denial notice will explain the reason for denial, refer to the part of the plan on which the denial is based, and provide the claim appeal procedures.

If you have prescription drug Benefits and are asked to pay the full cost of a prescription when you fill it at a retail or mail-order pharmacy, and if you believe that it should have been paid under the Plan, you may submit a claim for reimbursement in accordance with the applicable claim filing procedures. If you pay a Copayment and believe that the amount of the Copayment was incorrect, you also may submit a claim for reimbursement in accordance with the applicable claim filing procedures. When you have filed a claim, your claim will be treated under the same procedures for post-service group health plan claims as described in this section.

If you filed a pre-service request for Benefits improperly, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the improper filing and how to correct it within five days after the pre-service request for Benefits was received. If additional information is needed to process the pre-service request, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the information needed within 15 days after it was received, and may request a one-time extension not longer than 15 days and pend your request until all information is received. Once notified of the extension you then have 45 days to provide this information. If all of the needed information is received within the 45-day time frame, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the determination within 15 days after the information is received. If you don't provide the needed information within the 45-day period, your request for Benefits will be denied. A denial notice will explain the reason for denial, refer to the part of the plan on which the denial is based, and provide the appeal procedures.

If you have prescription drug Benefits and a retail or mail order pharmacy fails to fill a prescription that you have presented, you may file a pre-service health request for Benefits in accordance with the applicable claim filing procedure. Urgent Requests for Benefits that Require Immediate Attention

Urgent requests for Benefits are those that require notification or a benefit determination prior to receiving medical care, where a delay in treatment could seriously jeopardize your life or health, or the ability to regain maximum function or, in the opinion of a Physician with knowledge of your medical condition, could cause severe pain. In these situations, you will receive notice of the benefit determination in writing or electronically within 72 hours after the Claims Administrator receives all necessary information, taking into account the seriousness of your condition.

If you filed an urgent request for Benefits improperly, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the improper filing and how to correct it within 24 hours after the urgent request was received. If additional information is needed to process the request, the Claims Administrator will notify you of the information needed within 24 hours after the request was received. You then have 48 hours to provide the requested information.

You will be notified of a benefit determination no later than 48 hours after:

- The Claims Administrator's receipt of the requested information; or
- The end of the 48-hour period within which you were to provide the additional information, if the information is not received within that time.

A denial notice will explain the reason for denial, refer to the part of the plan on which the denial is based, and provide the claim appeal procedures.

Urgent Care Request for Benefits*
Type of Request for Benefits or Appeal	Timing
The Claims Administrator must notify you of the appeal decision within:	72 hours after receiving the appeal

*You do not need to submit urgent care appeals in writing. You should call the Claims Administrator as soon as possible to appeal an urgent care request for Benefits.

Concurrent Care Claims

If an on-going course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and your request to extend the treatment is an urgent request for Benefits as defined above, your request will be decided within 24 hours, provided your request is made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment. The Claims Administrator will make a determination on your request for the extended treatment within 24 hours from receipt of your request.

If your request for extended treatment is not made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment, the request will be treated as an urgent request for Benefits and decided according to the timeframes described above. If an on-going course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and you request to extend treatment in a non-urgent circumstance, your request will be considered a new request and decided according to post-service or pre-service timeframes, whichever applies.

Questions or Concerns about Benefit Determinations

If you have a question or concern about a benefit determination, you may informally contact our Customer Care department before requesting a formal appeal. If the Customer Care representative cannot resolve the issue to your satisfaction over the phone, you may submit your question in writing. However, if you are not satisfied with a benefit determination as described above, you may appeal it as described below, without first informally contacting a Customer Care representative. If you first informally contact our Customer Care department and later wish to request a formal appeal in writing, you should again contact Customer Care and request an appeal. If you request a formal appeal, a Customer Care representative will provide you with the appropriate address.

If you are appealing an urgent claim denial, please refer to Urgent Appeals that Require Immediate Action below and contact our Customer Care department immediately.

How to Appeal a Claim Decision

If you disagree with a pre-service request for Benefits determination or post-service claim determination or a rescission of coverage determination after following the above steps, you can contact the Claims Administrator in writing to formally request an appeal.

Your request should include:

- The patient's name and the identification number from the ID card.
- The date(s) of medical service(s).
- The provider's name.
- The reason you believe the claim should be paid.
- Any documentation or other written information to support your request for claim payment.

Your first appeal request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 180 days after you receive the claim denial.

Appeal Process

A qualified individual who was not involved in the decision being appealed will be appointed to decide the appeal. If your appeal is related to clinical matters, the review will be done in consultation with a health care professional with appropriate expertise in the field, who was not involved in the prior determination. The Claims Administrator may consult with, or seek the participation of, medical experts as part of the appeal resolution process. You consent to this referral and the sharing of pertinent medical claim information through the submission of your appeal. Upon request and free of charge, you have the right to reasonable access to and copies of all documents, records, and other information relevant to your claim for Benefits. In addition, if any new or additional evidence is relied upon or generated by the Claims Administrator during the determination of the appeal, the Claims Administrator will provide it to you free of charge and sufficiently in advance of the due date of the response to the adverse benefit determination.

Appeals Determinations

Pre-service Requests for Benefits and Post-service Claim Appeals

You will be provided written or electronic notification of the decision on your appeal as follows:

- For appeals of pre-service requests for Benefits as identified above, the first level appeal will be conducted and you will be notified of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied request for Benefits. The second level appeal will be conducted and you will be notified of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.
- For appeals of post-service claims as identified above, the first level appeal will be conducted and you will be notified of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. The second level appeal will be conducted and you will be notified of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for review of the first level appeal decision.

For procedures associated with urgent requests for Benefits, see Urgent Appeals that Require Immediate Action below.

If you are not satisfied with the first level appeal decision, you have the right to request a second level appeal. Your second level appeal request must be submitted to the Claims Administrator within 60 days from receipt of the first level appeal decision.

Please note that the Claims Administrator's decision is based only on whether or not Benefits are available under the Plan for the proposed treatment or procedure. The decision to obtain the proposed treatment or procedure regardless of the Claims Administrator's decision is between you and your Physician.

Urgent Appeals that Require Immediate Action

Your appeal may require immediate action if a delay in treatment could significantly increase the risk to your health, or the ability to regain maximum function, or cause severe pain. In these urgent situations:

- The appeal does not need to be submitted in writing. You or your Physician should call the Claims Administrator as soon as possible.
- The Claims Administrator will provide you with a written or electronic determination within 72 hours following receipt of your request for review of the determination, taking into account the seriousness of your condition.

HEALTH PLAN NOTICES OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

THE USE AND DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION AND SECURITY OF ELECTRONIC PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

Under the federal privacy regulations enacted pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), your health plans are required to protect the confidentiality of your Protected Health Information (PHI). Protected Health Information is individually identifiable health information related to your condition, services provided to you, or payments made for your care, which is created or received by a health plan, a health care clearinghouse, or a health care provider and identifies you or provides a means by which you could be identified. The Plan and the Plan Sponsor will not use or disclose PHI except for treatment, payment, health plan operations (collectively known as "TPO"), or as permitted or required by other state and federal law, or to Business Associates to help administer the Plan.

Further, the Plan Sponsor will take reasonable steps to ensure that any use or disclosure is the minimum necessary to accomplish the task.
In addition, under the federal security regulations enacted pursuant to HIPAA, your health plans are required to safeguard the confidentiality and ensure the integrity and availability of your Electronic Protected Health Information (ePHI). ePHI is PHI that is maintained or transmitted in electronic form. The Plan and the Plan Sponsor will reasonably and appropriately safeguard ePHI created, received, maintained, or transmitted to or by the Plan Sponsor on behalf of the Plan.
The Plan and Plan Sponsor are separate and independent legal entities, which exchange information to coordinate your Plan coverage. In order to receive PHI from the Plan, the Plan Sponsor agrees to, and has certified to the Plan, that it will:

- Restrict the use or further disclosure of PHI except as permitted by HIPAA or as required by law;
- Ensure that any other entity to whom it provides PHI received from the Plan agree to the same restrictions and conditions that apply to the Plan Sponsor;
- Not use or disclose PHI for employment-related actions or in connection with any other employee benefit plan;
- Not use genetic information that is PHI for underwriting purposes;
- Report to the Privacy Officer any use or disclosure of the information that is inconsistent with the permitted uses or disclosures;
- Make PHI available to Plan participants, consider their amendments and, upon request, provide them with an accounting of PHI disclosures as required by law;
- Make internal practices and records relating to the use and disclosure of PHI received from the Plan available to the Department of Health and Human Services upon request;
- Provide adequate safeguards to protect PHI;
- Provide legally required notices of unauthorized acquisition, access or disclosures of your health information as required by law; and
- If feasible, upon termination of the plan, return or destroy all PHI received from the Plan that the Plan Sponsor still maintains in any form and retain no copies of such information when no longer needed for the purpose for which disclosure was made, except that, if such return or destruction is not feasible, limit further uses and disclosures to those purposes that make the return or destruction of the information not feasible.

In order to receive ePHI from the Plan, the Plan Sponsor agrees that it will:

- Implement administrative, physical, and technical safeguards that reasonably and appropriately protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the ePHI that the Plan Sponsor creates, receives, maintains, or transmits on behalf of the Plan;

- Ensure that access to, and use and disclosure of ePHI by the employees or classes of employees described in the Plan document is supported by reasonable and appropriate security measures; and
- Ensure that any agent, including a subcontractor, to whom the Plan Sponsor provides this information agrees to implement reasonable and appropriate security measures to protect the information

Only limited members of the workforce of the Group Health Plan may be permitted to use and/or disclose PHI. Under this Plan the following individuals are permitted to have access to, use and/or disclose PHI:

- Employees of the Plan Sponsor who perform administrative services on behalf of the Plan, including payment, health care operations, design and administration. This includes County Administrator, Director of Human Resources, Benefits Manager, Benefits Administrator, Human Resources Specialists.
- Employees of the Plan Sponsor who have access to PHI for purposes of its use by the Employer in performing services for the Plan, including procurement of insurance, financial transactions and accounting. This includes Director of Finance, Administrative Coordinators, Payroll Accountants, Payroll Technicians, General Accounting Managers, Budget Managers and Budget Analysts.
- Service providers to the Plan. This includes County Attorneys, Benefit Consultants, Third Party Administrators, and IT Personnel.

The Plan will limit the use, disclosure or request for PHI to the minimum amount that is reasonably necessary to fulfill a request as set forth in this Agreement. Requests for disclosures other than by legal authority or by the participant will be reviewed by the Privacy Officer or his/her designee.

Where PHI is used or disclosed for the purposes of the Plan's own payment activity, whether through a TPA or Carrier, the employees of the Plan are permitted to use and disclose information to perform these functions using the minimum necessary to accomplish the purpose.
If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with the privacy officer or with the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services. All complaints must be submitted in writing. You will not be retaliated against in any way for filing a complaint.
You may receive a complete copy of the Plan's Notice of Privacy Practices by contacting the Privacy Officer.

HEALTH INSURANCE MARKETPLACE NOTIFICATION

General Information
When key parts of the health care law took effect in 2014, there was a new way to buy health insurance, the Health Insurance Marketplace. To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the new Marketplace and employment based health coverage offered by your employer.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?
The Marketplace is designed to help you find health insurance that meets your needs and fits your budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options. You may also be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers your monthly premium right away. Open enrollment for health insurance coverage through the Marketplace began in October 2013 for coverage starting as early as January 1, 2014.

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?
You may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium, but only if your employer does not offer coverage, or offers coverage that doesn't meet certain standards. The savings on your premium that you're eligible for depends on your household income.

Does Employer Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?
Yes. If you have an offer of health coverage from your employer that meets certain standards, you will not be eligible for a tax credit through the Marketplace and may wish to enroll in your employer's health plan. However, you may be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your monthly premium or a reduction in certain cost-sharing if your employer does not offer coverage to you at all or does not offer coverage that meets certain standards. If the cost of a plan from your employer that would cover you (and not any other members of your family) is more than 9.5% of your household income for the year, or if the coverage your employer provides does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, you may be eligible for a tax credit.

Note: If you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of accepting health coverage offered by your employer, then you may lose the employer contribution (if any) to the employer-offered coverage. Also, this employer contribution - as well as your employee contribution to employer-offered coverage - is often excluded from income for Federal and State income tax purposes (pre-tax premiums). Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis.

How Can I Get More Information?
The Marketplace can help you evaluate your coverage options, including your eligibility for coverage through the Marketplace and its cost. Please visit HealthCare.gov for more information, including an online application for health insurance coverage and contact information for a Health Insurance Marketplace in your area.

*An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs.

Does this Coverage Provide Minimum Essential Coverage?
The Affordable Care Act requires most people to have health care coverage that qualifies as “minimum essential coverage.” This Plan provides minimum essential coverage.

Does this Coverage Meet the Minimum Value Standard?
In order for certain types of health coverage (for example, individually purchased insurance or job-based coverage) to qualify as minimum essential coverage, the plan must pay, on average, at least 60 percent of allowed charges for covered services. This is called the “minimum value standard.” This Plan does meet the minimum value standard for the benefits it provides.

In no event can proof of your claim be submitted after the expiration of the time limit for commencing a legal proceeding as stated in the policy, even if your failure to provide proof of claim is due to a lack of legal capacity or if state law provides an exception to the one year time period.

You must notify us immediately when you return to work in any capacity.

If you are on a parental leave of absence, and if premium is paid, you will be covered for up to 6 weeks following the date your parental leave of absence begins.

For Long Term Disability:
If you are on a temporary layoff, and if premium is paid, you will be covered for up to 90 days following the date your temporary layoff begins.

If you are on a leave of absence, and if premium is paid, you will be covered for up to 90 days following the date your leave of absence begins.

WHEN WILL CHANGES TO YOUR COVERAGE TAKE EFFECT?

Once your coverage begins, any increased or additional coverage will take effect immediately if you are in active employment or if you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence. If you are not in active employment due to injury or sickness, any increased or additional coverage will begin on the date you return to active employment.

Any decrease in coverage will take effect immediately but will not affect a payable claim that occurs prior to the decrease.

WHEN DOES YOUR COVERAGE END?

Your coverage under the policy or a plan ends on the earliest of:

- the date the policy or a plan is cancelled;
- the date you no longer are in an eligible class;
- the date your eligible class is no longer covered; or
- the last day you are in active employment except as provided under the covered layoff or leave of absence provision.

Unum will provide coverage for a payable claim which occurs while you are covered under the policy or plan.

WHAT ARE THE TIME LIMITS FOR LEGAL PROCEEDINGS?

You can start legal action regarding your claim 60 days after proof of claim has been given and up to 3 years from the later of when original proof of your claim was first required to have been given; or your claim was denied; or your benefits were terminated, unless otherwise provided under federal law.

Except as preempted by federal law, if your claim is denied in whole or in part and you have exhausted your administrative remedies under the policy/plan, you have the right to have your claim newly reviewed in any court with jurisdiction and to a trial by jury, if such rights are mandated by state law.

HOW CAN STATEMENTS MADE IN YOUR APPLICATION FOR THIS COVERAGE BE USED?

Unum considers any statements you or your Employer make in a signed application for coverage a representation and not a warranty. If any of the statements you or your Employer make are not complete and/or not true at the time they are made, we can:

- reduce or deny any claim; or
- cancel your coverage from the original effective date.

We will use only statements made in a signed application as a basis for doing this.

If the Employer gives us information about you that is incorrect, we will:

- use the facts to decide whether you have coverage under the plan and in what amounts; and
- make a fair adjustment of the premium.

HOW WILL UNUM HANDLE INSURANCE FRAUD?

Unum wants to ensure you and your Employer do not incur additional insurance costs as a result of the undermining effects of insurance fraud. Unum promises to focus on all means necessary to support fraud detection, investigation, and prosecution.

It is a crime if you knowingly, and with intent to injure, defraud or deceive Unum, or provide any information, including filing a claim, that contains any false, incomplete or misleading information. These actions, as well as submission of materially false information, will result in denial of your claim, and are subject to prosecution and punishment to the full extent under state and/or federal law. Unum will pursue all appropriate legal remedies in the event of insurance fraud.

DOES THE POLICY REPLACE OR AFFECT ANY WORKERS' COMPENSATION OR STATE DISABILITY INSURANCE?

The policy does not replace or affect the requirements for coverage by any workers' compensation or state disability insurance.

DOES YOUR EMPLOYER ACT AS YOUR AGENT OR UNUM'S AGENT?

For purposes of the policy, your Employer acts on its own behalf or as your agent. Under no circumstances will your Employer be deemed the agent of Unum.

SHORT TERM DISABILITY

BENEFIT INFORMATION

HOW DOES UNUM DEFINE DISABILITY?

You are disabled when Unum determines that:

- you are limited from performing the material and substantial duties of your regular occupation due to your sickness or injury; and
- you have a 20% or more loss in weekly earnings due to the same sickness or injury.

If you have a Cesarean section, you will be considered disabled for a minimum period of 8 weeks beginning on the date of your Cesarean section, unless you return to work prior to the end of the 8 weeks.

You must be under the regular care of a physician in order to be considered disabled.

The loss of a professional or occupational license or certification does not, in itself, constitute disability.

HOW LONG MUST YOU BE DISABLED BEFORE YOU ARE ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE BENEFITS?

You must be continuously disabled through your elimination period.

If your disability is the result of an injury that occurs while you are covered under the plan, your elimination period is the later of:

- 14 days; or
- the date your accumulated sick leave payments end, if applicable.

If your disability is the result of a sickness, your elimination period is the later of:

- 14 days; or
- the date your accumulated sick leave or parental leave payments end, if applicable.

CAN YOU SATISFY YOUR ELIMINATION PERIOD IF YOU ARE WORKING?

Yes, provided you meet the definition of disability.

WHEN WILL YOU BEGIN TO RECEIVE PAYMENTS?

You will begin to receive payments when we approve your claim, providing the elimination period has been met and you are disabled. We will send you a payment weekly for any period for which Unum is liable.

HOW MUCH WILL UNUM PAY YOU IF YOU ARE DISABLED?

We will follow this process to figure your payment:

1. Multiply your weekly earnings by 60%.
2. The maximum weekly benefit is $1,200.
3. Compare the answer from Item 1 with the maximum weekly benefit. The lesser of these two amounts is your gross disability payment.
4. Subtract from your gross disability payment any deductible sources of income.

The amount figured in Item 4 is your weekly payment.

Your weekly payment may be reduced based on your disability earnings.

If, at any time after the elimination period, you are disabled for less than 1 week, we will send you 1/7th of your weekly payment for each day of disability.

WHAT ARE YOUR WEEKLY EARNINGS?

"Weekly Earnings" means your gross weekly income from your Employer including shift differential and car allowance, in effect just prior to the date of disability. It includes your total income before taxes and any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457(b) deferred compensation arrangement. It is prior to any deductions made for pre-tax contributions to a qualified deferred compensation plan (other than any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457 (b) deferred compensation arrangement). Section 125 plan or flexible spending account. It does not include income received from commissions, bonuses, overtime pay or any other extra compensation or income received from sources other than your Employer.

WHAT WILL WE USE FOR WEEKLY EARNINGS IF YOU BECOME DISABLED DURING A COVERED LAYOFF OR LEAVE OF ABSENCE?

If you become disabled while you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence, we will use your weekly earnings from your Employer in effect just prior to the date your absence begins.

HOW MUCH WILL UNUM PAY YOU IF YOU ARE DISABLED AND WORKING?

We will send you the weekly payment if you are disabled and your weekly disability earnings, if any, are less than 20% of your weekly earnings.

If you are disabled and your weekly disability earnings are from 20% through 80% of your weekly earnings, you will receive payments based on the percentage of income you are losing due to your disability. We will follow this process to figure your payment:

1. Subtract your disability earnings from your weekly earnings.
2. Divide the answer in Item 1 by your weekly earnings. This is your percentage of lost earnings.
3. Multiply your weekly payment as shown above by the answer in Item 2.

This is the amount Unum will pay you for each week.

Unum may require you to send proof of your disability earnings each week. We will adjust your weekly payment based on your disability earnings.

As part of your proof of disability earnings, we can require that you send us appropriate financial records, which may include income tax returns, which we believe are necessary to substantiate your income.

HOW DO WE PROTECT YOU IF YOUR DISABILITY EARNINGS FLUCTUATE?

If your disability earnings have fluctuated from week to week, Unum may determine your benefit eligibility based on the average of your disability earnings over the most recent 3 weeks.

WHAT ARE DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME?

Unum will subtract from your gross disability payment the following deductible sources of income:

1. The amount that you receive or are entitled to receive as disability income or disability retirement payments under any:

   - state compulsory benefit act or law.
   - group plan sponsored by your Employer.
   - other group insurance plan.
   - governmental retirement system.

2. The amount that you receive:

   - under the mandatory portion of any "no fault" motor vehicle plan.
   - under a salary continuation plan.
   - under Title 46, United States Code Section 688 (The Jones Act).
   - from a third party (after subtracting attorney's fees) by judgment, settlement or otherwise.

3. The amount that you receive as retirement payments under any governmental retirement system. Retirement payments do not include payments made at the later of age 62 or normal retirement age under your Employer's retirement plan which are attributable to contributions you made on a post tax basis to the system.

   Regardless of how retirement payments are distributed, Unum will consider payments attributable to your post tax contributions to be distributed throughout your lifetime.

   Amounts received do not include amounts rolled over or transferred to any eligible retirement plan. Unum will use the definition of eligible retirement plan as defined in Section 402 of the Internal Revenue Code including any future amendments which affect the definition.

4. The amount that you:

   - receive as disability payments under your Employer's retirement plan.
   - voluntarily elect to receive as retirement payments under your Employer's retirement plan.
   - receive as retirement payments when you reach the later of age 62 or normal retirement age, as defined in your Employer's retirement plan.

Disability payments under a retirement plan will be those benefits which are paid due to disability and do not reduce the retirement benefit which would have been paid if the disability had not occurred.

Retirement payments will be those benefits which are based on your Employer's contribution to the retirement plan. Disability benefits which reduce the retirement benefit under the plan will also be considered as a retirement benefit.

Regardless of how the retirement funds from the retirement plan are distributed, Unum will consider your and your Employer's contributions to be distributed simultaneously throughout your lifetime.

Amounts received do not include amounts rolled over or transferred to any eligible retirement plan. Unum will use the definition of eligible retirement plan as defined in Section 402 of the Internal Revenue Code including any future amendments which affect the definition.

Unum will only subtract deductible sources of income which are payable as a result of the same disability.

WHAT ARE NOT DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME?

Unum will not subtract from your gross disability payment income you receive from, but not limited to, the following:

- 401(a) and 401(k) plans
- profit sharing plans
- thrift plans
- tax sheltered annuities
- stock ownership plans
- non-qualified plans of deferred compensation
- pension plans for partners
- military pension and disability income plans
- credit disability insurance
- franchise disability income plans
- a retirement plan from another Employer
- individual retirement accounts (IRA)
- individual disability income plans
- accumulated sick leave plans

WHAT IF SUBTRACTING DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME RESULTS IN A ZERO BENEFIT? (Minimum Benefit)

The minimum weekly payment is: $25.

Unum may apply this amount toward an outstanding overpayment.

However, the minimum weekly payment will not be paid if you are receiving salary continuation or accumulated sick leave payments from your Employer.

WHAT IF UNUM DETERMINES YOU MAY QUALIFY FOR DEDUCTIBLE INCOME BENEFITS?

When we determine that you may qualify for benefits under Item(s) 1 in the deductible sources of income section, we will estimate your entitlement to these benefits. We can reduce your payment by the estimated amounts if such benefits:

- have not been awarded; and
- have not been denied; or
- have been denied and the denial is being appealed.

Your Short Term Disability payment will NOT be reduced by the estimated amount if you:

- apply for the disability payments under Item(s) 1 in the deductible sources of income section and appeal your denial to all administrative levels Unum feels are necessary; and
- sign Unum's payment option form. This form states that you promise to pay us any overpayment caused by an award.

If your payment has been reduced by an estimated amount, your payment will be adjusted when we receive proof:

- of the amount awarded; or
- that benefits have been denied and all appeals Unum feels are necessary have been completed. In this case, a lump sum refund of the estimated amount will be made to you.

If you receive a lump sum payment from any deductible sources of income, the lump sum will be pro-rated on a weekly basis over the time period for which the sum was given. If no time period is stated, the sum will be pro-rated on a weekly basis to the end of the maximum period of payment.

HOW LONG WILL UNUM CONTINUE TO SEND YOU PAYMENTS?

Unum will send you a payment each week up to the maximum period of payment. Your maximum period of payment is 11 weeks during a continuous period of disability.

WHEN WILL PAYMENTS STOP?

We will stop sending you payments and your claim will end on the earliest of the following:

- when you are able to work in your regular occupation on a part-time basis and you do not;
- the end of the maximum period of payment;
- the date you are no longer disabled under the terms of the plan, unless you are eligible to receive benefits under Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program;
- the date you fail to submit proof of continuing disability;
- the date your disability earnings exceed the amount allowable under the plan;
- the date you die.

WHAT DISABILITIES ARE NOT COVERED UNDER YOUR PLAN?

Your plan does not cover any disabilities caused by, contributed to by, or resulting from your:

- occupational sickness or injury, however, Unum will cover disabilities due to occupational sicknesses or injuries for partners or sole proprietors who cannot be covered by a workers' compensation law.
- intentionally self-inflicted injuries while sane.
- active participation in a riot.
- loss of a professional license, occupational license or certification.
- commission of a crime for which you have been convicted.

Your plan will not cover a disability due to war, declared or undeclared, or any act of war.

Unum will not pay a benefit for any period of disability during which you are incarcerated.

WHAT HAPPENS IF YOU RETURN TO WORK FULL TIME AND YOUR DISABILITY OCCURS AGAIN?

1. If your current disability is related to or due to the same cause(s) as your prior disability for which Unum made a payment:

   Unum will treat your current disability as part of your prior claim and you will not have to complete another elimination period when you are performing any occupation for your Employer on a full time basis for 14 consecutive days or less.

   If you return to work on the 15th day, your current disability will be treated as a new claim. The new claim will be subject to all of the provisions of this plan and you will be required to satisfy a new elimination period.

2. If your current disability is unrelated to your prior disability for which Unum made a payment:

   Unum will treat your current disability as part of your prior claim and you will not have to complete another elimination period when you are performing any occupation for your Employer on a full time basis for less than 1 full day.

Your disability, as outlined above, will be subject to the same terms of the plan as your prior claim.

If you do not satisfy Item 1 or 2 above, your disability will be treated as a new claim and will be subject to all of the policy provisions.

If you become entitled to payments under any other group short term disability plan, you will not be eligible for payments under the Unum plan.

SHORT TERM DISABILITY

OTHER BENEFIT FEATURES

HOW CAN UNUM'S REHABILITATION AND RETURN TO WORK ASSISTANCE PROGRAM HELP YOU RETURN TO WORK?

Unum has a vocational Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program available to assist you in returning to work. We will determine whether you are eligible for this program. In order to be eligible for rehabilitation services and benefits, you must be medically able to engage in a return to work program.

Your claim file will be reviewed by one of Unum's rehabilitation professionals to determine if a rehabilitation program might help you return to gainful employment. As your file is reviewed, medical and vocational information will be analyzed to determine an appropriate return to work program.

We will make the final determination of your eligibility for participation in the program.

We will provide you with a written Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance plan developed specifically for you.

The rehabilitation program may include, but is not limited to, the following services and benefits:

- coordination with your Employer to assist you to return to work;
- adaptive equipment or job accommodations to allow you to work;
- vocational evaluation to determine how your disability may impact your employment options;
- job placement services;
- resume preparation;
- job seeking skills training; or
- education and retraining expenses for a new occupation.

WHAT ADDITIONAL BENEFITS WILL UNUM PAY WHILE YOU PARTICIPATE IN A REHABILITATION AND RETURN TO WORK ASSISTANCE PROGRAM?

We will pay an additional disability benefit of 10% of your gross disability payment to a maximum benefit of $250 per week.

This benefit is not subject to policy provisions which would otherwise increase or reduce the benefit amount such as Deductible Sources of Income.

In addition, we will make weekly payments to you for 3 weeks following the date your disability ends if we determine you are no longer disabled while:

- you are participating in the Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program; and
- you are not able to find employment.

This benefit payment may be paid in a lump sum.

WHEN WILL REHABILITATION AND RETURN TO WORK ASSISTANCE BENEFITS END?

Benefits for the Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program will end on the earliest of the following dates:

- the date Unum determines that you are no longer eligible to participate in Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program; or
- any other date on which weekly payments would stop in accordance with this plan.

LONG TERM DISABILITY

BENEFIT INFORMATION

HOW DOES UNUM DEFINE DISABILITY?

You are disabled when Unum determines that:

- you are limited from performing the material and substantial duties of your regular occupation due to your sickness or injury; and
- you have a 20% or more loss in your indexed monthly earnings due to the same sickness or injury.

After 24 months of payments, you are disabled when Unum determines that due to the same sickness or injury, you are unable to perform the duties of any gainful occupation for which you are reasonably fitted by education, training or experience.

You must be under the regular care of a physician in order to be considered disabled.

The loss of a professional or occupational license or certification does not, in itself, constitute disability.

HOW LONG MUST YOU BE DISABLED BEFORE YOU ARE ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE BENEFITS?

You must be continuously disabled through your elimination period. Unum will treat your disability as continuous if your disability stops for 45 days or less during the elimination period. The days that you are not disabled will not count toward your elimination period.

Your elimination period is the later of:

- 90 days; or
- the date your accumulated sick leave payments end, if applicable.

You are not required to have a 20% or more loss in your indexed monthly earnings due to the same injury or sickness to be considered disabled during the elimination period.

CAN YOU SATISFY YOUR ELIMINATION PERIOD IF YOU ARE WORKING?

Yes. If you are working while you are disabled, the days you are disabled will count toward your elimination period.

WHEN WILL YOU BEGIN TO RECEIVE PAYMENTS?

You will begin to receive payments when we approve your claim, providing the elimination period has been met and you are disabled. We will send you a payment monthly for any period for which Unum is liable.

HOW MUCH WILL UNUM PAY YOU IF YOU ARE DISABLED?

We will follow this process to figure your payment:

1. Multiply your monthly earnings by 60%.
2. The maximum monthly benefit is $9,000.
3. Compare the answer from Item 1 with the maximum monthly benefit. The lesser of these two amounts is your gross disability payment.
4. Subtract from your gross disability payment any deductible sources of income.

The amount figured in Item 4 is your monthly payment.

Your monthly payment may be reduced based on your disability earnings.

If, at any time after the elimination period, you are disabled for less than 1 month, we will send you 1/30 of your monthly payment for each day of disability and 1/30 of any additional benefits for each day of disability.

WILL UNUM EVER PAY MORE THAN 100% OF MONTHLY EARNINGS?

The total benefit payable to you on a monthly basis (including all benefits provided under this plan) will not exceed 100% of your monthly earnings. However, if you are participating in Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program, the total benefit payable to you on a monthly basis (including all benefits provided under this plan) will not exceed 110% of your monthly earnings.

WHAT ARE YOUR MONTHLY EARNINGS?

"Monthly Earnings" means your gross monthly income from your Employer including shift differential and car allowance, in effect just prior to the date of disability. It includes your total income before taxes and any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457(b) deferred compensation arrangement. It is prior to any deductions made for pre-tax contributions to a qualified deferred compensation plan (other than any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457 (b) deferred compensation arrangement). Section 125 plan or flexible spending account. It does not include income received from commissions, bonuses, overtime pay or any other extra compensation or income received from sources other than your Employer.

WHAT WILL WE USE FOR MONTHLY EARNINGS IF YOU BECOME DISABLED DURING A COVERED LAYOFF OR LEAVE OF ABSENCE?

If you become disabled while you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence, we will use your monthly earnings from your Employer in effect just prior to the date your absence begins.

HOW MUCH WILL UNUM PAY YOU IF YOU ARE DISABLED AND WORKING?

We will send you the monthly payment if you are disabled and your monthly disability earnings, if any, are less than 20% of your indexed monthly earnings, due to the same sickness or injury.

If you are disabled and your monthly disability earnings are from 20% through 80% of your indexed monthly earnings, due to the same sickness or injury, Unum will figure your payment as follows:

During the first 12 months of payments, while working, your monthly payment will not be reduced as long as disability earnings plus the gross disability payment does not exceed 100% of indexed monthly earnings.

1. Add your monthly disability earnings to your gross disability payment.
2. Compare the answer in Item 1 to your indexed monthly earnings.

If the answer from Item 1 is less than or equal to 100% of your indexed monthly earnings, Unum will not further reduce your monthly payment.

If the answer from Item 1 is more than 100% of your indexed monthly earnings, Unum will subtract the amount over 100% from your monthly payment.

After 12 months of payments, while working, we will subtract 50% of your disability earnings from your monthly payment.

This is the amount Unum will pay you each month.

As part of your proof of disability earnings, we can require that you send us appropriate financial records, which may include income tax returns, which we believe are necessary to substantiate your income.

After the elimination period, if you are disabled for less than 1 month, we will send you 1/30 of your payment for each day of disability.

HOW DO WE PROTECT YOU IF YOUR DISABILITY EARNINGS FLUCTUATE?

If your disability earnings have fluctuated from month to month, Unum may determine your benefit eligibility based on the average of your disability earnings over the most recent 3 months.

WHAT ARE DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME?

Unum will subtract from your gross disability payment the following deductible sources of income:

1. The amount that you receive or are entitled to receive under:

   - a workers' compensation law.
   - an occupational disease law.
   - any other act or law with similar intent.

2. The amount that you receive or are entitled to receive as disability income or disability retirement payments under any:

   - state compulsory benefit act or law.
   - group plan sponsored by your Employer.
   - other group insurance plan.
   - governmental retirement system.

3. The amount that you, your spouse and your children receive or are entitled to receive as disability payments because of your disability under:

   - the United States Social Security Act.
   - the Canada Pension Plan.
   - the Quebec Pension Plan.
   - any similar plan or act.

4. The amount that you receive as retirement payments or the amount your spouse and children receive as retirement payments because you are receiving retirement payments after your disability began under:

   - the United States Social Security Act.
   - the Canada Pension Plan.
   - the Quebec Pension Plan.
   - any similar plan or act.

5. The amount that you receive as retirement payments under any governmental retirement system. Retirement payments do not include payments made at the later of age 62 or normal retirement age under your Employer's retirement plan which are attributable to contributions you made on a post tax basis to the system.

   Regardless of how retirement payments are distributed, Unum will consider payments attributable to your post tax contributions to be distributed throughout your lifetime.

   Amounts received do not include amounts rolled over or transferred to any eligible retirement plan. Unum will use the definition of eligible retirement plan as defined in Section 402 of the Internal Revenue Code including any future amendments which affect the definition.

6. The amount that you:

   - are entitled to receive as disability payments under your Employer's retirement plan.
   - voluntarily elect to receive as retirement payments under your Employer's retirement plan.
   - receive as retirement payments when you reach the later of age 62 or normal retirement age, as defined in your Employer's retirement plan.

   Disability payments under a retirement plan will be those benefits which are paid due to disability and do not reduce the retirement benefit which would have been paid if the disability had not occurred.

   Retirement payments will be those benefits which are based on your Employer's contribution to the retirement plan. Disability benefits which reduce the retirement benefit under the plan will also be considered as a retirement benefit.

   Regardless of how the retirement funds from the retirement plan are distributed, Unum will consider your and your Employer's contributions to be distributed simultaneously throughout your lifetime.

   Amounts received do not include amounts rolled over or transferred to any eligible retirement plan. Unum will use the definition of eligible retirement plan as defined in Section 402 of the Internal Revenue Code including any future amendments which affect the definition.

7. The amount that you receive under Title 46, United States Code Section 688 (The Jones Act).

8. The amount that you receive under a salary continuation plan.

With the exception of retirement payments, Unum will only subtract deductible sources of income which are payable as a result of the same disability.

We will not reduce your payment by your Social Security retirement income if your disability begins after age 62 and you were already receiving Social Security retirement payments.

WHAT ARE NOT DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME?

Unum will not subtract from your gross disability payment income you receive from, but not limited to, the following:

- 401(a) and 401(k) plans
- profit sharing plans
- thrift plans
- tax sheltered annuities
- stock ownership plans
- non-qualified plans of deferred compensation
- pension plans for partners
- military pension and disability income plans
- credit disability insurance
- franchise disability income plans
- a retirement plan from another Employer
- individual retirement accounts (IRA)
- individual disability income plans
- no fault motor vehicle plans
- accumulated sick leave plans

WHAT IF SUBTRACTING DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME RESULTS IN A ZERO BENEFIT? (Minimum Benefit)

The minimum monthly payment is the greater of:

- $100; or
- 10% of your gross disability payment.

Unum may apply this amount toward an outstanding overpayment.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU RECEIVE A COST OF LIVING INCREASE FROM DEDUCTIBLE SOURCES OF INCOME?

Once Unum has subtracted any deductible source of income from your gross disability payment, Unum will not further reduce your payment due to a cost of living increase from that source.

WHAT IF UNUM DETERMINES YOU MAY QUALIFY FOR DEDUCTIBLE INCOME BENEFITS?

When we determine that you may qualify for benefits under Item(s) 1, 2 and 3 in the deductible sources of income section, we will estimate your entitlement to these benefits. We can reduce your payment by the estimated amounts if such benefits:

- have not been awarded; and
- have not been denied; or
- have been denied and the denial is being appealed.

Your Long Term Disability payment will NOT be reduced by the estimated amount if you:

- apply for the disability payments under Item(s) 1, 2 and 3 in the deductible sources of income section and appeal your denial to all administrative levels Unum feels are necessary; and
- sign Unum's payment option form. This form states that you promise to pay us any overpayment caused by an award.

If your payment has been reduced by an estimated amount, your payment will be adjusted when we receive proof:

- of the amount awarded; or
- that benefits have been denied and all appeals Unum feels are necessary have been completed. In this case, a lump sum refund of the estimated amount will be made to you.

If you receive a lump sum payment from any deductible sources of income, the lump sum will be pro-rated on a monthly basis over the time period for which the sum was given. If no time period is stated, we will use a reasonable one.

HOW LONG WILL UNUM CONTINUE TO SEND YOU PAYMENTS?

Unum will send you a payment each month up to the maximum period of payment. Your maximum period of payment is based on your age at disability as follows:

Age at Disability	Maximum Period of Payment

WHEN WILL PAYMENTS STOP?

We will stop sending you payments and your claim will end on the earliest of the following:

- during the first 24 months of payments, when you are able to work in your regular occupation on a part-time basis and you do not;
- after 24 months of payments, when you are able to work in any gainful occupation on a part-time basis and you do not;
- if you are working and your monthly disability earnings exceed 80% of your indexed monthly earnings, the date your earnings exceed 80%;
- the end of the maximum period of payment;
- the date you are no longer disabled under the terms of the plan, unless you are eligible to receive benefits under Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program;
- the date you fail to submit proof of continuing disability;
- after 12 months of payments if you are considered to reside outside the United States or Canada. You will be considered to reside outside these countries when you have been outside the United States or Canada for a total period of 6 months or more during any 12 consecutive months of benefits;
- the date you die.

WHAT DISABILITIES HAVE A LIMITED PAY PERIOD UNDER YOUR PLAN?

The lifetime cumulative maximum benefit period for all disabilities due to mental illness is 24 months. Only 24 months of benefits will be paid even if the disabilities:

- are not continuous; and/or
- are not related.

However, Unum will send you payments beyond the 24 month period if you meet one of these conditions:

1. If you are confined to a hospital or institution at the end of the 24 month period, Unum will continue to send you payments during your confinement.

   If you are still disabled when you are discharged, Unum will send you payments for a recovery period of up to 90 days.

   If you become reconfined at any time during the recovery period and remain confined for at least 14 days in a row, Unum will send payments during that additional confinement and for one additional recovery period up to 90 more days.

2. If you are not confined to a hospital or institution but become confined for a period of at least 14 days within 90 days after the 24 month period for which you have received payments, Unum will send payments during the length of the confinement.

Under no circumstances will Unum pay beyond the maximum period of payment as indicated in the BENEFITS AT A GLANCE section of your policy.

Unum will not apply the mental illness limitation to dementia if it is a result of:

- stroke;
- trauma;
- viral infection;
- Alzheimer's disease; or
- other conditions not listed which are not usually treated by a mental health provider or other qualified provider using psychotherapy, psychotropic drugs, or other similar methods of treatment.

WHAT DISABILITIES ARE NOT COVERED UNDER YOUR PLAN?

You have a pre-existing condition if:

- you received medical treatment, consultation, care or services including diagnostic measures, or took prescribed drugs or medicines in the 3 months just prior to your effective date of coverage; and

Your plan will not provide a maximum monthly benefit in excess of $5,000 which becomes effective on January 1, 2020 for any disability caused by, contributed to by, or resulting from the following pre-existing condition.

You have a pre-existing condition if:

- you received medical treatment, consultation, care or services including diagnostic measures, or took prescribed drugs or medicines in the 3 months just prior to January 1, 2020; and
- the disability begins in the first 12 months after January 1, 2020.

WHAT HAPPENS IF YOU RETURN TO WORK FULL TIME WITH THE POLICYHOLDER AND YOUR DISABILITY OCCURS AGAIN?

If you have a recurrent disability, Unum will treat your disability as part of your prior claim and you will not have to complete another elimination period if:

- you were continuously insured under the plan for the period between the end of your prior claim and your recurrent disability; and
- your recurrent disability occurs within 6 months from the end of your prior claim.

Your recurrent disability will be subject to the same terms of the plan as your prior claim and will be treated as a continuation of that disability.

If you become entitled to payments under any other group long term disability plan, you will not be eligible for payments under the Unum plan.

OTHER BENEFIT FEATURES

WHAT BENEFITS WILL BE PROVIDED TO YOU OR YOUR FAMILY IF YOU DIE OR ARE TERMINALLY ILL? (Survivor Benefit)

- your disability had continued for 90 or more consecutive days; and
- you were receiving or were entitled to receive payments under the plan.

If you have no eligible survivors, payment will be made to your estate, unless there is none. In this case, no payment will be made.

However, we will first apply the survivor benefit to any overpayment which may exist on your claim.

You may receive your 6 month survivor benefit prior to your death if you have been diagnosed as terminally ill.

We will pay you a lump sum amount equal to 6 months of your gross disability payment if:

- you have been diagnosed with a terminal illness or condition;
- your life expectancy has been reduced to less than 12 months; and
- you are receiving monthly payments.

Your right to exercise this option and receive payment is subject to the following:

- you must make this election in writing to Unum; and

This benefit is available to you on a voluntary basis and will only be payable once.

If you elect to receive this benefit prior to your death, no 6 month survivor benefit will be payable upon your death.

When the plan becomes effective, Unum will provide coverage for you if:

- you are not in active employment because of a sickness or injury; and

Unum may send a payment if your disability results from a pre-existing condition if, you were:

- in active employment and insured under the plan on its effective date; and
- insured by the prior policy at the time of change.

In order to receive a payment you must satisfy the pre-existing condition provision under:

If you satisfy Item 1, we will determine your payments according to the Unum plan provisions.

If you only satisfy Item 2, we will administer your claim according to the Unum plan provisions. However, your payment will be the lesser of:

HOW CAN UNUM'S REHABILITATION AND RETURN TO WORK ASSISTANCE PROGRAM HELP YOU RETURN TO WORK?

Unum has a vocational Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program available to assist you in returning to work. We will determine whether you are eligible for this program. In order to be eligible for rehabilitation services and benefits, you must be medically able to engage in a return to work program.

Your claim file will be reviewed by one of Unum's rehabilitation professionals to determine if a rehabilitation program might help you return to gainful employment. As your file is reviewed, medical and vocational information will be analyzed to determine an appropriate return to work program.

We will make the final determination of your eligibility for participation in the program.

We will provide you with a written Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance plan developed specifically for you.

The rehabilitation program may include, but is not limited to, the following services and benefits:

- coordination with your Employer to assist you to return to work;
- adaptive equipment or job accommodations to allow you to work;
- vocational evaluation to determine how your disability may impact your employment options;
- job placement services;
- resume preparation;
- job seeking skills training; or

WHAT ADDITIONAL BENEFITS WILL UNUM PAY WHILE YOU PARTICIPATE IN A REHABILITATION AND RETURN TO WORK ASSISTANCE PROGRAM?

We will pay an additional disability benefit of 10% of your gross disability payment to a maximum benefit of $1,000 per month.

This benefit is not subject to policy provisions which would otherwise increase or reduce the benefit amount such as Deductible Sources of Income. However, the Total Benefit Cap will apply.

In addition, we will make monthly payments to you for 3 months following the date your disability ends if we determine you are no longer disabled while:

- you are participating in the Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program; and
- you are not able to find employment.

This benefit payment may be paid in a lump sum.

WHEN WILL REHABILITATION AND RETURN TO WORK ASSISTANCE BENEFITS END?

Benefits for the Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program will end on the earliest of the following dates:

- the date Unum determines that you are no longer eligible to participate in Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program; or
- any other date on which monthly payments would stop in accordance with this plan.

WHAT ADDITIONAL BENEFIT IS AVAILABLE FOR DEPENDENT CARE EXPENSES TO ENABLE YOU TO PARTICIPATE IN UNUM'S REHABILITATION AND RETURN TO WORK ASSISTANCE PROGRAM?

While you are participating in Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program, we will pay a Dependent Care Expense Benefit when you are disabled and you:

1. are incurring expenses to provide care for a child under the age of 15; and/or
2. start incurring expenses to provide care for a child age 15 or older or a family member who needs personal care assistance.

The payment of the Dependent Care Expense Benefit will begin immediately after you start Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program.

Our payment of the Dependent Care Expense Benefit will:

1. be $350 per month, per dependent; and
2. not exceed $1,000 per month for all dependent care expenses combined.

To receive this benefit, you must provide satisfactory proof that you are incurring expenses that entitle you to the Dependent Care Expense Benefit.

Dependent Care Expense Benefits will end on the earlier of the following:

1. the date you are no longer incurring expenses for your dependent;
2. the date you no longer participate in Unum's Rehabilitation and Return to Work Assistance program; or
3. any other date payments would stop in accordance with this plan.

Additional Claim and Appeal Information
Relative to policy issued by Unum Life Insurance Company of America ("Unum")

APPLICABILITY OF ERISA

If the policy provides benefits under a Plan which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), the following provisions apply. Whether a Plan is governed by ERISA is determined by a court, however, your Employer may have information related to ERISA applicability. If ERISA applies, the following items constitute the Plan: the additional information contained in this document, the policy, including your certificate of coverage, and any additional summary plan description information provided by the Plan Administrator. Benefit determinations are controlled exclusively by the policy, your certificate of coverage, and the information in this document.

HOW TO FILE A CLAIM

If you wish to file a claim for benefits, you should follow the claim procedures described in your insurance certificate. To complete your claim filing, Unum must receive the claim information it requests from you (or your authorized representative), your attending physician and your Employer. If you or your authorized representative has any questions about what to do, you or your authorized representative should contact Unum directly.

CLAIMS PROCEDURES

Unum will give you notice of the decision no later than 45 days after the claim is filed. This time period may be extended twice by 30 days if Unum both determines that such an extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Plan and notifies you of the circumstances requiring the extension of time and the date by which Unum expects to render a decision. If such an extension is necessary due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the claim, the notice of extension will specifically describe the required information, and you will be afforded at least 45 days within which to provide the specified information. If you deliver the requested information within the time specified, any 30 day extension period will begin after you have provided that information. If you fail to deliver the requested information within the time specified, Unum may decide your claim without that information.

If your claim for benefits is wholly or partially denied, the notice of adverse benefit determination under the Plan will:

- state the specific reason(s) for the determination;
- reference specific Plan provision(s) on which the determination is based;
- describe additional material or information necessary to complete the claim and why such information is necessary;
- describe Plan procedures and time limits for appealing the determination, and your right to obtain information about those procedures and the right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse determination from Unum on appeal; and

- disclose any internal rule, guidelines, protocol or similar criterion relied on in making the adverse determination (or state that such information will be provided free of charge upon request).

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

APPEAL PROCEDURES

You have 180 days from the receipt of notice of an adverse benefit determination to file an appeal. Requests for appeals should be sent to the address specified in the claim denial. A decision on review will be made not later than 45 days following receipt of the written request for review. If Unum determines that special circumstances require an extension of time for a decision on review, the review period may be extended by an additional 45 days (90 days in total). Unum will notify you in writing if an additional 45 day extension is needed.

If an extension is necessary due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the appeal, the notice of extension will specifically describe the required information, and you will be afforded at least 45 days to provide the specified information. If you deliver the requested information within the time specified, the 45 day extension of the appeal period will begin after you have provided that information. If you fail to deliver the requested information within the time specified, Unum may decide your appeal without that information.

You will have the opportunity to submit written comments, documents, or other information in support of your appeal. You will have access to all relevant documents as defined by applicable U.S. Department of Labor regulations. The review of the adverse benefit determination will take into account all new information, whether or not presented or available at the initial determination. No deference will be afforded to the initial determination.

The review will be conducted by Unum and will be made by a person different from the person who made the initial determination and such person will not be the original decision maker's subordinate. In the case of a claim denied on the grounds of a medical judgment, Unum will consult with a health professional with appropriate training and experience. The health care professional who is consulted on appeal will not be the individual who was consulted during the initial determination or a subordinate. If the advice of a medical or vocational expert was obtained by the Plan in connection with the denial of your claim, Unum will provide you with the names of each such expert, regardless of whether the advice was relied upon.

A notice that your request on appeal is denied will contain the following information:

- the specific reason(s) for the determination;

- a reference to the specific Plan provision(s) on which the determination is based;

- a statement disclosing any internal rule, guidelines, protocol or similar criterion relied on in making the adverse determination (or a statement that such information will be provided free of charge upon request);

- a statement describing your right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA if you disagree with the decision;

- the statement that you are entitled to receive upon request, and without charge, reasonable access to or copies of all documents, records or other information relevant to the determination; and

- the statement that "You or your Plan may have other voluntary alternative dispute resolution options, such as mediation. One way to find out what may be available is to contact your local U.S. Department of Labor Office and your State insurance regulatory agency".

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

Unless there are special circumstances, this administrative appeal process must be completed before you begin any legal action regarding your claim.

OTHER RIGHTS

Unum, for itself and as claims fiduciary for the Plan, is entitled to legal and equitable relief to enforce its right to recover any benefit overpayments caused by your receipt of disability earnings or deductible sources of income from a third party. This right of recovery is enforceable even if the amount you receive from the third party is less than the actual loss suffered by you but will not exceed the benefits paid you under the policy. Unum and the Plan have an equitable lien over such sources of income until any benefit overpayments have been recovered in full.

Addendum to the "Additional Summary Plan Description Information" included with your certificate of coverage or policy and effective for claims filed on or after April 1, 2018.

The regulations governing ERISA disability claims and appeals have been amended. The amended regulations apply to disability claims filed on or after April 1, 2018. To the extent the Additional Summary Plan Description Information included with your certificate of coverage or policy conflicts with these new requirements, these new rights and procedures will apply.

These new rights and procedures include:

Any cancellation or discontinuance of your disability coverage that has a retroactive effect will be treated as an adverse benefit determination, except in the case of failure to timely pay required premiums or contributions toward the cost of coverage.

If you live in a county with a significant population of non-English speaking persons, the plan will provide, in the non-English language(s), a statement of how to access oral and written language services in those languages.

For any adverse benefit determination, you will be provided with an explanation of the basis for disagreeing or not following the views of: (1) health care professionals who have treated you or vocational professionals who have evaluated you; (2) the advice of medical or vocational professionals obtained on behalf of the plan; and (3) any disability determination made by the Social Security Administration regarding you and presented to the plan by you.

For any adverse benefit determination, you will be given either the specific internal rules, guidelines, protocols, standards or other similar criteria of the plan relied upon in making that decision, or a statement that such rules, etc. do not exist.

Prior to a final decision being made on an appeal, you will have the opportunity to review and respond to any new or additional rationale or evidence considered, relied upon, or generated by the plan in connection with your claim.

If an adverse benefit determination is upheld on appeal, you will be given notice of any applicable contractual limitations period that applies to your right to bring legal proceedings and the calendar date on which that period expires.

Should the plan fail to establish or follow ERISA required disability claims procedures, you may be entitled to pursue legal remedies under section 502(a) of the Act without exhausting your administrative remedies, as more completely set forth in section 503-1(l).

NOTICE OF PROTECTION PROVIDED BY LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE PROTECTION ASSOCIATION

This notice provides a brief summary of the Life and Health Insurance Protection Association ("the Association") and the protection it provides for policyholders. This safety net was created under Colorado law, which determines who and what is covered and the amounts of coverage.

The Association was established to provide protection in the unlikely event that your life, annuity or health insurance company becomes financially unable to meet its obligations and is taken over by its Insurance Department. If this should happen, the Association will typically arrange to continue coverage and pay claims, in accordance with Colorado law, with funding from assessments paid by other insurance companies.

The basic protections provided by the Association are:

- Life Insurance
  - $300,000 in death benefits
  - $100,000 in cash surrender or withdrawal values
- Health Insurance
  - $500,000 in hospital, medical and surgical insurance benefits
  - $300,000 in disability insurance benefits
  - $300,000 in long-term care insurance benefits
  - $100,000 in other types of health insurance benefits
- Annuities
  - $250,000 in withdrawal and cash values

The maximum amount of protection for each individual, regardless of the number of policies or contracts, is $300,000. Special rules may apply with regard to hospital, medical and surgical insurance benefits.

NOTE: Certain policies and contracts may not be covered or fully covered. For example, coverage does not extend to any portion(s) of a policy or contract that the insurer does not guarantee, such as certain investment additions to the account value of a variable life insurance policy or a variable annuity contract. There are also various residency requirements under Colorado law.

To learn more about the above protections, as well as protections relating to group contracts or retirement plans, please visit the Association's website at colorado.lhiga.com, email jkelldorf@gmail.com or contact:

Insurance companies and agents are not allowed by Colorado law to use the existence of the Association or its coverage to encourage you to purchase any form of insurance. When selecting an insurance company, you should not rely on Association coverage. If there is any inconsistency between this notice and Colorado law, then Colorado law will control.

CLAIM INFORMATION

LIFE INSURANCE

WHEN DO YOU OR YOUR AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE NOTIFY UNUM OF A CLAIM?

We encourage you or your authorized representative to notify us as soon as possible, so that a claim decision can be made in a timely manner.

If a claim is based on your disability, written notice and proof of claim must be sent no later than 90 days after the end of the elimination period.

If a claim is based on death, written notice and proof of claim must be sent no later than 90 days after the date of death.

If it is not possible to give proof within these time limits, it must be given no later than 1 year after the proof is required as specified above. These time limits will not apply during any period you or your authorized representative lacks the legal capacity to give us proof of claim.

The claim form is available from your Employer, or you or your authorized representative can request a claim form from us. If you or your authorized representative does not receive the form from Unum within 15 days of the request, send Unum written proof of claim without waiting for the form.

If you have a disability, you must notify us immediately when you return to work in any capacity, regardless of whether you are working for your Employer.

HOW DO YOU FILE A CLAIM FOR A DISABILITY?

You or your authorized representative, and your Employer must fill out your own sections of the claim form and then give it to your attending physician. Your physician should fill out his or her section of the form and send it directly to Unum.

WHAT INFORMATION IS NEEDED AS PROOF OF YOUR CLAIM?

If your claim is based on your disability, your proof of claim, provided at your expense, must show:

- that you are under the regular care of a physician;
- the date your disability began;
- the cause of your disability;
- the extent of your disability, including restrictions and limitations preventing you from performing your regular occupation or any gainful occupation; and
- the name and address of any hospital or institution where you received treatment, including all attending physicians.

We may request that you send proof of continuing disability indicating that you are under the regular care of a physician. This proof, provided at your expense, must be received within 45 days of a request by us.

If claim is based on death, proof of claim, provided at your or your authorized representative's expense, must show the cause of death. Also a certified copy of the death certificate must be given to us.

In some cases, you will be required to give Unum authorization to obtain additional medical and non-medical information as part of your proof of claim or proof of continuing disability. Unum will deny your claim if the appropriate information is not submitted.

WHEN CAN UNUM REQUEST AN AUTOPSY?

In the case of death, Unum will have the right and opportunity to request an autopsy where not forbidden by law.

HOW DO YOU DESIGNATE OR CHANGE A BENEFICIARY? (Beneficiary Designation)

At the time you become insured, you should name a beneficiary on your enrollment form for your death benefits under your life insurance. You may change your beneficiary at any time by filing a form approved by Unum with your Employer. The new beneficiary designation will be effective as of the date you sign that form. However, if we have taken any action or made any payment before your Employer receives that form, that change will not go into effect.

It is important that you name a beneficiary and keep your designation current. If more than one beneficiary is named and you do not designate their order or share of payments, the beneficiaries will share equally. The share of a beneficiary who dies before you, or the share of a beneficiary who is disqualified, will pass to any surviving beneficiaries in the order you designated.

If you do not name a beneficiary, or if all named beneficiaries do not survive you, or if your named beneficiary is disqualified, your death benefit will be paid to your estate.

Instead of making a death payment to your estate, Unum has the right to make payment to the first surviving family members of the family members in the order listed below:

- spouse;
- child or children;
- mother or father; or
- sisters or brothers.

If we are to make payments to a beneficiary who lacks the legal capacity to give us a release, Unum may pay up to $2,000 to the person or institution that appears to have assumed the custody and main support of the beneficiary. This $2,000 payment made in good faith satisfies Unum's legal duty to the extent of that $2,000 payment and Unum will not have to make that payment again.

Also, at Unum's option, we may pay up to $1,000 to the person or persons who, in our opinion, have incurred expenses for your last sickness and death.

In addition, if you do not survive your spouse, and dependent life coverage is continued, then your surviving spouse should name a beneficiary according to the requirements specified above for you.

HOW WILL UNUM MAKE PAYMENTS?

If your or your dependent's life claim is at least $10,000, Unum will make available to the beneficiary a retained asset account (the Unum Security Account).

Payment for the life claim may be accessed by writing a draft in a single sum or drafts in smaller sums. The funds for the draft or drafts are fully guaranteed by Unum.

If the life claim is less than $10,000, Unum will pay it in one lump sum to you or your beneficiary.

Also, you or your beneficiary may request the life claim to be paid according to one of Unum's other settlement options. This request must be in writing in order to be paid under Unum's other settlement options.

If you do not survive your spouse, and dependent life coverage is continued, then your surviving spouse's death claim will be paid to your surviving spouse's beneficiary.

All other benefits will be paid to you.

WHAT HAPPENS IF UNUM OVERPAYS YOUR CLAIM?

Unum has the right to recover any overpayments due to:

- fraud; and
- any error Unum makes in processing a claim.

You must reimburse us in full. We will determine the method by which the repayment is to be made.

Unum will not recover more money than the amount we paid you.

WHAT ARE YOUR ASSIGNABILITY RIGHTS FOR THE DEATH BENEFITS UNDER YOUR LIFE INSURANCE? (Assignability Rights)

The rights provided to you by the plan for life insurance are owned by you, unless:

- you have previously assigned these rights to someone else (known as an "assignee"); or
- you assign your rights under the plan(s) to an assignee.

We will recognize an assignee as the owner of the rights assigned only if:

- the assignment is in writing, signed by you, and acceptable to us in form; and
- a signed or certified copy of the written assignment has been received and registered by us at our home office.

We will not be responsible for the legal, tax or other effects of any assignment, or for any action taken under the plan(s') provisions before receiving and registering an assignment.

- the date of enrollment of your qualified child in an accredited post-secondary institution of higher learning;
- the name of the institution;
- a list of courses for the current academic term; and
- the number of credit hours for the current academic term.

WHEN CAN UNUM REQUEST AN AUTOPSY?

In the case of death, Unum will have the right and opportunity to request an autopsy where not forbidden by law.

HOW DO YOU DESIGNATE OR CHANGE A BENEFICIARY? (Beneficiary Designation)

At the time you become insured, you should name a beneficiary on your enrollment form for your death benefits under your accidental death and dismemberment insurance. You may change your beneficiary at any time by filing a form approved by Unum with your Employer. The new beneficiary designation will be effective as of the date you sign that form. However, if we have taken any action or made any payment before your Employer receives that form, that change will not go into effect.

It is important that you name a beneficiary and keep your designation current. This $2,000 payment made in good faith satisfies Unum's legal duty to the extent of that $2,000 payment and Unum will not have to make that payment again.

Also, at Unum's option, we may pay up to $1,000 to the person or persons who, in our opinion, have incurred expenses for your last sickness and death.

HOW WILL UNUM MAKE PAYMENTS?

If your accidental death or dismemberment claim is at least $10,000 Unum will make available to you or your beneficiary a retained asset account (the Unum Security Account).

Payment for the accidental death or dismemberment claim may be accessed by writing a draft in a single sum or drafts in smaller sums. The funds for the draft or drafts are fully guaranteed by Unum.

If the accidental death or dismemberment claim is less than $10,000, Unum will pay it in one lump sum to you or your beneficiary.

Also, your beneficiary may request the accidental death claim to be paid according to one of Unum's other settlement options. This request must be in writing in order to be paid under Unum's other settlement options.

The Child Care Benefit will be paid to you, your spouse, your beneficiary or your or your spouse's authorized representative.

The Education Benefit will be paid to your qualified child or the qualified child's legal representative.

All other benefits will be paid to you.

Unum will only adjust premium for the current plan year and the prior plan year. In the case of fraud, premium adjustments will be made for all plan years.

WHAT INFORMATION DOES UNUM REQUIRE FROM THE EMPLOYER?

The Employer must provide Unum with the following on a regular basis:

- information about employees:
  - who are eligible to become insured;
  - whose amounts of coverage change; and/or
  - whose coverage ends;
- occupational information and any other information that may be required to manage a claim; and
- any other information that may be reasonably required.

Employer records that, in Unum's opinion, have a bearing on this Summary of Benefits will be available for review by Unum at any reasonable time.

Clerical error or omission by Unum will not:

- prevent an employee from receiving coverage;
- affect the amount of an insured's coverage; or
- cause an employee's coverage to begin or continue when the coverage would not otherwise be effective.

WHO CAN CANCEL OR MODIFY THIS SUMMARY OF BENEFITS OR A PLAN UNDER THIS SUMMARY OF BENEFITS?

This Summary of Benefits or a plan under this Summary of Benefits can be cancelled:

- by Unum; or
- by the Employer.

Unum may cancel or modify this Summary of Benefits or a plan if:

- there is less than 100% participation of those eligible employees for an Employer paid plan; or
- there is less than 75% participation of those eligible employees who pay all or part of the premium for a basic benefit plan; or
- the number of employees insured for all additional benefits is less than 15 lives or 25% of those eligible, whichever is greater; or
- the number of employees insured under a plan decreases by 25%; or
- the Employer does not promptly provide Unum with information that is reasonably required; or
- the Employer fails to perform any of its obligations that relate to this Summary of Benefits; or
- fewer than 15 employees are insured under a plan; or
- the premium is not paid in accordance with the provisions of this Summary of Benefits that specify whether the Employer, the employee, or both, pay the premiums; or
- the Employer does not promptly report to Unum the names of any employees who are added or deleted from the eligible class; or
- Unum determines that there is a significant change, in the size, occupation or age of the eligible class as a result of a corporate transaction such as a merger, divestiture, acquisition, sale, or reorganization of the Employer and/or its employees; or
- the Employer fails to pay any portion of the premium within the 45 day grace period.

If Unum cancels or modifies this Summary of Benefits or a plan, for reasons other than the Employer's failure to pay premium, a written notice will be delivered to the Employer at least 31 days prior to the cancellation date or modification date. The Employer may cancel this Summary of Benefits or plan if the modifications are unacceptable.

If any portion of the premium is not paid during the grace period, Unum will either cancel or modify this Summary of Benefits or a plan automatically at the end of the grace period. The Employer is liable for premium for coverage during the grace period. The Employer must pay Unum all premium due for the full period each plan is in force.

The Employer may cancel this Summary of Benefits or a plan by written notice delivered to Unum at least 31 days prior to the cancellation date. When both the Employer and Unum agree, this Summary of Benefits or a plan can be cancelled on an earlier date. If Unum or the Employer cancels this Summary of Benefits or a plan, coverage will end at 12:00 midnight on the last day of coverage.

If this Summary of Benefits or a plan is cancelled, the cancellation will not affect a payable claim.

WHAT HAPPENS TO AN EMPLOYEE'S COVERAGE UNDER THIS SUMMARY OF BENEFITS WHILE HE OR SHE IS ON A FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE OF ABSENCE?

We will continue the employee's coverage in accordance with the Employer's Human Resource policy on family and medical leaves of absence if premium payments continue and the Employer approved the employee's leave in writing.

Coverage will be continued until the end of the latest of:

- the leave period required by the federal Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, and any amendments; or
- the leave period required by applicable state law; or
- the leave period provided to the employee for injury or sickness.

If the Employer's Human Resource policy doesn't provide for continuation of a plan for an employee during a family and medical leave of absence, the employee's coverage will be reinstated when he or she returns to active employment.

We will not:

- apply a new waiting period; or
- require evidence of insurability.

WHEN DOES YOUR COVERAGE BEGIN?

This plan provides different additional life benefit options in addition to the basic life benefit and the basic accidental death and dismemberment benefit. When you first become eligible for coverage, you may apply for any additional life benefit option, however, you cannot be covered under more than one option at a time.

Evidence of insurability is required for any amount of life insurance over the amount shown in the LIFE INSURANCE "BENEFITS AT A GLANCE" page.

- the date you are eligible for coverage; or

WHEN CAN YOU CHANGE YOUR COVERAGE BY CHOOSING ANOTHER ADDITIONAL BENEFIT OPTION? (This does not apply to Late Entrants)

You can change your coverage by applying for a different additional life benefit option anytime during the plan year.

You can decrease or increase your coverage any number of levels.

A change in coverage that is made at anytime during the plan year will begin at 12:01 a.m. on the later of:

- the date you apply for the change in coverage; or
- the date Unum approves your evidence of insurability form, if evidence of insurability is required.

An evidence of insurability form can be obtained from your Employer.

WHEN CAN YOU CANCEL YOUR ADDITIONAL COVERAGE?

You can cancel your additional coverage at anytime during the plan year. Any cancellation in coverage will take effect immediately, but will not affect a payable claim that occurs prior to the cancellation.

You must be in active employment or on a covered layoff or leave of absence.

If you are not in active employment due to injury or sickness, any increased or additional coverage due to a change in your annual earnings or due to a plan change will begin on the date you return to active employment.

Any decrease in coverage will take effect immediately but will not affect a payable claim that occurs prior to the decrease.

You must be in active employment or on a covered layoff or leave of absence.

You or your authorized representative can start legal action regarding a claim 60 days after proof of claim has been given and up to 3 years from the time proof of claim is required, unless otherwise provided under federal law.

HOW CAN STATEMENTS MADE IN YOUR APPLICATION FOR THIS COVERAGE BE USED?

Unum considers any statements you or your Employer make in a signed application for coverage or an evidence of insurability form a representation and not a warranty. If any of the statements you or your Employer make are not complete and/or not true at the time they are made, we can:

- reduce or deny any claim; or
- cancel your coverage from the original effective date.

We will use only statements made in a signed application or an evidence of insurability form as a basis for doing this.

Except in the case of fraud, Unum can take action only in the first 2 years coverage is in force.

If the Employer gives us information about you that is incorrect, we will:

- use the facts to decide whether you have coverage under the plan and in what amounts; and
- make a fair adjustment of the premium.

HOW WILL UNUM HANDLE INSURANCE FRAUD?

Unum wants to ensure you and your Employer do not incur additional insurance costs as a result of the undermining effects of insurance fraud. Unum promises to focus on all means necessary to support fraud detection, investigation, and prosecution.

It is a crime if you knowingly, and with intent to injure, defraud or deceive Unum, or provide any information, including filing a claim, that contains any false, incomplete or misleading information. These actions, as well as submission of materially false information, will result in denial of your claim, and are subject to prosecution and punishment to the full extent under state and/or federal law. Unum will pursue all appropriate legal remedies in the event of insurance fraud.

DOES THE SUMMARY OF BENEFITS REPLACE OR AFFECT ANY WORKERS' COMPENSATION OR STATE DISABILITY INSURANCE?

The Summary of Benefits does not replace or affect the requirements for coverage by any workers' compensation or state disability insurance.

DOES YOUR EMPLOYER ACT AS YOUR AGENT OR UNUM'S AGENT?

For the purposes of the Summary of Benefits, your Employer acts on its own behalf or as your agent. Under no circumstances will your Employer be deemed the agent of Unum.

LIFE INSURANCE

BENEFIT INFORMATION

WHEN WILL YOUR BENEFICIARY RECEIVE PAYMENT?

Your beneficiary(ies) will receive payment when Unum approves your death claim.

WHAT DOCUMENTS ARE REQUIRED FOR PROOF OF DEATH?

Unum will require a certified copy of the death certificate, enrollment documents and a Notice and Proof of Claim form.

HOW MUCH WILL UNUM PAY YOU IF UNUM APPROVES YOUR DEPENDENT'S DEATH CLAIM?

Unum will determine the payment according to the amount of insurance shown in the LIFE INSURANCE "BENEFITS AT A GLANCE" page.

HOW MUCH WILL UNUM PAY YOUR BENEFICIARY IF UNUM APPROVES YOUR DEATH CLAIM?

Unum will determine the payment according to the amount of insurance shown in the LIFE INSURANCE "BENEFITS AT A GLANCE" page.

WHAT ARE YOUR ANNUAL EARNINGS?

"Annual Earnings" means your gross annual income from your Employer, including shift differential and car allowance, in effect just prior to the date of loss. It includes your total income before taxes and any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457(b) deferred compensation arrangement. It is prior to any deductions made for pre-tax contributions to a qualified deferred compensation plan (other than any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457(b) deferred compensation arrangement), Section 125 plan or flexible spending account. It does not include income received from commissions, bonuses, overtime pay or any other extra compensation or income received from sources other than your Employer.

WHAT WILL WE USE FOR ANNUAL EARNINGS IF YOU BECOME DISABLED DURING A COVERED LAYOFF OR LEAVE OF ABSENCE?

If you become disabled while you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence, we will use your annual earnings from your Employer in effect just prior to the date your absence began.

WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR LIFE INSURANCE COVERAGE IF YOU BECOME DISABLED?

Your life insurance coverage may be continued for a specific time and your life insurance premium will be waived if you qualify as described below.

HOW LONG MUST YOU BE DISABLED BEFORE YOU ARE ELIGIBLE TO HAVE LIFE PREMIUMS WAIVED?

You must be disabled through your elimination period.

Your elimination period is 180 days.

WHEN WILL YOUR LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUM WAIVER BEGIN?

Your life insurance premium waiver will begin when we approve your claim, if the elimination period has ended and you meet the following conditions. Your Employer may continue premium payments until Unum notifies your Employer of the date your life insurance premium waiver begins.

Your life insurance premium will be waived if you meet these conditions:

- you are less than 60 and insured under the plan.
- you become disabled and remain disabled during the elimination period.
- you meet the notice and proof of claim requirements for disability while your life insurance is in effect or within three months after it ends.
- your claim is approved by Unum.

After we approve your claim, Unum does not require further premium payments for you while you remain disabled according to the terms and provisions of the plan.

Your life insurance amount will not increase while your life insurance premiums are being waived. Your life insurance amount will reduce or cease at any time it would reduce or cease if you had not been disabled.

WHEN WILL YOUR LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUM WAIVER END?

The life insurance premium waiver will automatically end if:

- you recover and you no longer are disabled;
- you fail to give us proper proof that you remain disabled;
- you refuse to have an examination by a physician chosen by Unum;
- you reach age 70; or
- premium has been waived for 12 months and you are considered to reside outside the United States or Canada. You will be considered to reside outside the United States or Canada when you have been outside these countries for a total period of 6 months or more during any 12 consecutive months for which premium has been waived.

HOW DOES UNUM DEFINE DISABILITY?

You are disabled when Unum determines that:

- during the elimination period, you are not working in any occupation due to your injury or sickness; and
- after the elimination period, due to the same injury or sickness, you are unable to perform the duties of any gainful occupation for which you are reasonably fitted by training, education or experience.

You must be under the regular care of a physician in order to be considered disabled.

The loss of a professional or occupational license or certification does not, in itself, constitute disability.

We may require you to be examined by a physician, other medical practitioner or vocational expert of our choice. Unum will pay for this examination. We can require an examination as often as it is reasonable to do so. We may also require you to be interviewed by an authorized Unum Representative.

APPLYING FOR LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUM WAIVER

Ask your Employer for a life insurance premium waiver claim form.

The form has instructions on how to complete and where to send the claim.

WHAT INSURANCE IS AVAILABLE WHILE YOU ARE SATISFYING THE DISABILITY REQUIREMENTS? (See Conversion Privilege)

You may use this life conversion privilege when your life insurance terminates while you are satisfying the disability requirements. Please refer to the conversion privilege below. You are not eligible to apply for this life conversion if you return to work and, again, become covered under the plan.

If an individual life insurance policy is issued to you, any benefit for your death under this plan will be paid only if the individual policy is returned for surrender to Unum. Unum will refund all premiums paid for the individual policy.

The amount of your death benefit will be paid to your named beneficiary for the plan. If, however, you named a different beneficiary for the individual policy and the policy is returned to Unum for surrender, that different beneficiary will not be paid.

If you want to name a different beneficiary for this group plan, you must change your beneficiary as described in the Beneficiary Designation page of this group plan.

WHAT INSURANCE IS AVAILABLE WHEN COVERAGE ENDS? (Conversion Privilege)

When coverage ends under the plan, you and your dependents can convert your coverages to individual life policies, without evidence of insurability. The maximum amounts that you can convert are the amounts you and your dependents are insured for under the plan. You may convert a lower amount of life insurance.

You and your dependents must apply for individual life insurance under this life conversion privilege and pay the first premium within 90 days after the date:

- your employment terminates; or
- you or your dependents no longer are eligible to participate in the coverage of the plan.

If you convert to an individual life policy, then return to work, and, again, become insured under the plan, you are not eligible to convert to an individual life policy again. However, you do not need to surrender that individual life policy when you return to work.

Converted insurance may be of any type of the level premium whole life plans then in use by Unum. The person may elect one year of Preliminary Term insurance under the level premium whole life policy. The individual policy will not contain disability or other extra benefits.

WHAT LIMITED CONVERSION IS AVAILABLE IF THE SUMMARY OF BENEFITS OR THE PLAN IS CANCELLED? (Conversion Privilege)

You and your dependents may convert a limited amount of life insurance if you have been insured under your Employer's group plan with Unum for at least five (5) years and the Summary of Benefits or the plan:

- is cancelled with Unum; or
- changes so that you no longer are eligible.

The individual life policy maximum for each of you will be the lesser of:

- $10,000; or
- your or your dependent's coverage amounts under the plan less any amounts that become available under any other group life plan offered by your Employer within 90 days after the date the Summary of Benefits or the plan is cancelled.

PREMIUMS

Premiums for the converted insurance will be based on:

- the person's then attained age on the effective date of the individual life policy;
- the type and amount of insurance to be converted;
- Unum's customary rates in use at that time; and
- the class of risk to which the person belongs.

If the premium payment has been made, the individual life policy will be effective at the end of the 31 day conversion application period.

DEATH DURING THE NINETY DAY CONVERSION APPLICATION PERIOD

If you or your dependents die within the 90 day conversion application period, Unum will pay the beneficiary(ies) the amount of insurance that could have been converted. This coverage is available whether or not you have applied for an individual life policy under the conversion privilege.

APPLYING FOR CONVERSION

Ask your Employer for a conversion application form which includes cost information.

When you complete the application, send it with the first premium amount to:

WILL UNUM ACCELERATE YOUR OR YOUR DEPENDENT'S DEATH BENEFIT FOR THE PLAN IF YOU OR YOUR DEPENDENT BECOMES TERMINALLY ILL? (Accelerated Benefit)

If you or your dependent becomes terminally ill while you or your dependent is insured by the plan, Unum will pay you a portion of your or your dependent's life insurance benefit one time. The payment will be based on 50% of your or your dependent's life insurance amount. However, the one-time benefit paid will not be greater than $750,000.

Your or your dependent's right to exercise this option and to receive payment is subject to the following:

- you or your dependent requests this election, in writing, on a form acceptable to Unum;
- you or your dependent must be terminally ill at the time of payment of the Accelerated Benefit;
- your or your dependent's physician must certify, in writing, that you or your dependent is terminally ill and your or your dependent's life expectancy has been reduced to less than 12 months; and
- the physician's certification must be deemed satisfactory to Unum.

The Accelerated Benefit is available on a voluntary basis. Therefore, you or your dependent is not eligible for benefits if:

- you or your dependent is required by law to use this benefit to meet the claims of creditors, whether in bankruptcy or otherwise; or
- you or your dependent is required by a government agency to use this benefit in order to apply for, get, or otherwise keep a government benefit or entitlement.

Premium payments must continue to be paid on the full amount of life insurance unless you qualify to have your life premium waived.

Also, premium payments must continue to be paid on the full amount of your dependent's life insurance unless you qualify to have your life premium waived.

If you have assigned your rights under the plan to an assignee or made an irrevocable beneficiary designation, Unum must receive consent, in writing, that the assignee or irrevocable beneficiary has agreed to the Accelerated Benefit payment on your behalf in a form acceptable to Unum before benefits are payable.

An election to receive an Accelerated Benefit will have the following effect on other benefits:

- the death benefit payable will be reduced by any amount of Accelerated Benefit that has been paid; and
- any amount of life insurance that would be continued under a disability continuation provision or that may be available under the conversion privilege will be reduced by the amount of the Accelerated Benefit paid. The remaining life insurance amount will be paid according to the terms of the Summary of Benefits subject to any reduction and termination provisions.

Benefits paid may be taxable. Unum is not responsible for any tax or other effects of any benefit paid. As with all tax matters, you or your dependent should consult your personal tax advisor to assess the impact of this benefit.

WHAT LOSSES ARE NOT COVERED UNDER YOUR PLAN?

Your plan does not cover any losses where death is caused by, contributed to by, or results from:

- suicide occurring within 12 months after your or your dependent's initial effective date of insurance; and
- suicide occurring within 12 months after the date any increases or additional insurance become effective for you or your dependent.

The suicide exclusion will apply to any amounts of insurance for which you pay all or part of the premium.

The suicide exclusion also will apply to any amount that is subject to evidence of insurability requirements and Unum approves the evidence of insurability form and the amount you or your dependent applied for at that time.

LIFE INSURANCE

OTHER BENEFIT FEATURES

WHAT IF YOU ARE NOT IN ACTIVE EMPLOYMENT WHEN YOUR EMPLOYER CHANGES GROUP INSURANCE CARRIERS TO UNUM? (CONTINUITY OF COVERAGE)

Unum will provide coverage for you and your dependent(s) if you and your dependent(s) are covered by the prior policy on the day before the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, and if you would be eligible for coverage under this Summary of Benefits if you were in active employment on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits.

If you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, we will consider your layoff or leave of absence to have started on that date, and coverage for you and your dependent(s) under this provision will continue for the layoff or leave of absence period provided in this Summary of Benefits, or the layoff or leave of absence period remaining under the prior policy on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, whichever period is shorter.

If you are absent from work due to injury or sickness on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, then coverage under this provision will continue until the earliest of the date:

- you are no longer injured or sick,
- you return to active employment,
- you are approved for a disability extension of benefits or accrued liability under the prior policy, including premium waiver, or
- your employment ends.

Also, if you incur a covered loss but are not in active employment under this Summary of Benefits, any benefits payable under this Summary of Benefits will be limited to the amount that would have been paid by the prior carrier. Unum will reduce your payment by any amount for which the prior carrier is liable.

Coverage for you and your dependent(s) are subject to payment of required premium and all other terms of this Summary of Benefits, except that the portable insurance coverage terms of this Summary of Benefits will not apply to coverage provided under this provision.

WHAT COVERAGE IS AVAILABLE IF YOU END EMPLOYMENT OR YOU WORK REDUCED HOURS? (Portability)

If your employment ends with or you retire from your Employer or you are working less than the minimum number of hours as described under Eligible Class(es) in this plan, you may elect portable coverage for yourself and your dependents.

In case of your death, your insured dependents also may elect portable coverage for themselves. However, children cannot become insured for portable coverage unless the spouse also becomes insured for portable coverage.

PORTABLE INSURANCE COVERAGE AND AMOUNTS AVAILABLE

The portable insurance coverage will be the current coverage and amounts that you and your dependents are insured for under your Employer's group plan.

However, the amount of portable coverage for you will not be more than:

- the highest amount of life insurance available for employees under the plan; or
- 5x your annual earnings; or
- $750,000 from all Unum group life and accidental death and dismemberment plans combined,

whichever is less.

The amount of ported life insurance must be equal to or greater than the amount of ported accidental death and dismemberment insurance.

The amount of portable coverage for your spouse will not be more than:

- the highest amount of life insurance available for spouses under the plan; or
- 100% of your amount of portable coverage; or
- $750,000 from all Unum group life plans combined,

whichever is less.

The amount of portable coverage for a child will not be more than:

- the highest amount of life insurance available for children under the plan; or
- 100% of your amount of portable coverage; or
- $20,000,

whichever is less.

The minimum amount of coverage that can be ported is $5,000 for you and $1,000 for your dependents. If the current amounts under the plan are less than $5,000 for you and $1,000 for your dependents you and your dependents may port the lesser amounts.

Your or your dependent's amount of life insurance will reduce or cease at any time it would reduce or cease for your eligible class if you had continued in active employment with your Employer.

APPLYING FOR PORTABLE COVERAGE

You must apply for portable coverage for yourself and your dependents and pay the first premium within 90 days after the date:

- your coverage ends or you retire from your Employer; or
- you begin working less than the minimum number of hours as described under Eligible Class(es) in this plan.

Your dependents must apply for portable coverage and pay the first premium within 90 days after the date you die.

You are not eligible to apply for portable coverage for yourself if:

- you have an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan.

You are not eligible to apply for portable coverage for a dependent if:

- you do not elect portable coverage for yourself;
- you have an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- your dependent has an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or

In case of your death, your spouse is not eligible to apply for portable coverage if:

- your surviving spouse is not insured under this plan;

- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan for your spouse.

In case of your death, your child is not eligible for portable coverage if:

- your surviving spouse has an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;

- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan for your child.

If we determine that because of an injury or sickness, which has a material effect on life expectancy, you or your dependents were not eligible for portability at the time you or your dependents elected portable coverage, the benefit will be adjusted to the amount of whole life coverage the premium would have purchased under the Conversion Privilege.

APPLYING FOR INCREASES OR DECREASES IN PORTABLE COVERAGE

You or your dependents may increase or decrease the amount of life insurance coverage. The minimum and maximum benefit amounts are shown above. However, the amount of life insurance coverage cannot be decreased below $5,000 for you and $1,000 for your dependents. All increases are subject to evidence of insurability. Portable coverage will reduce at the ages and amounts shown in the LIFE INSURANCE "BENEFITS AT A GLANCE" page.

ADDING PORTABLE COVERAGE FOR DEPENDENTS

If you choose not to enroll your dependents when your dependents were first eligible for portable coverage, you may enroll your dependents at any time for the amounts allowed under the group plan. Evidence of insurability is required.

You may enroll newly acquired dependents at any time for the amounts allowed under the group plan. Evidence of insurability is required.

Portable coverage for you will end for the following reasons:

- the date you fail to pay any required premium; or

If the Summary of Benefits provides benefits under a Plan which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), the following provisions apply. Whether a Plan is governed by ERISA is determined by a court, however, your Employer may have information related to ERISA applicability. If ERISA applies, the following items constitute the Plan: the additional information contained in this document, the Summary of Benefits, including your certificate of coverage, and any additional summary plan description information provided by the Plan Administrator. Benefit determinations are controlled exclusively by the Summary of Benefits, your certificate of coverage, and the information in this document.

HOW TO FILE A CLAIM

If you wish to file a claim for benefits, you should follow the claim procedures described in your insurance certificate. To complete your claim filing, Unum must receive the claim information it requests from you (or your authorized representative), your attending physician and your Employer. If you or your authorized representative has any questions about what to do, you or your authorized representative should contact Unum directly.

CLAIMS PROCEDURES

If a claim is based on death, a covered loss not based on disability or for the Education Benefit

In the event that your claim is denied, either in full or in part, Unum will notify you in writing within 90 days after your claim was filed. Under special circumstances, Unum is allowed an additional period of not more than 90 days (180 days in total) within which to notify you of its decision. If such an extension is required, you will receive a written notice from Unum indicating the reason for the delay and the date you may expect a final decision. Unum's notice of denial shall include:

- the specific reason or reasons for denial with reference to those Plan provisions on which the denial is based;
- a description of any additional material or information necessary to complete the claim and why that material or information is necessary; and
- a description of the Plan's procedures and applicable time limits for appealing the determination, including a statement of your right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse determination from Unum on appeal.

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

If a claim is based on your disability

Unum will give you notice of the decision no later than 45 days after the claim is filed. This time period may be extended twice by 30 days if Unum both determines that such an extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Plan and notifies you of the circumstances requiring the extension of time and the date by which Unum expects to render a decision. If such an extension is necessary due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the claim, the notice of extension will specifically describe the required information, and you will be afforded at least 45 days within which to provide the specified information. If you deliver the requested information within the time specified, any 30 day extension period will begin after you have provided that information. If you fail to deliver the requested information within the time specified, Unum may decide your claim without that information.

If your claim for benefits is wholly or partially denied, the notice of adverse benefit determination under the Plan will:

- state the specific reason(s) for the determination;

- reference specific Plan provision(s) on which the determination is based;

- describe additional material or information necessary to complete the claim and why such information is necessary;

- describe Plan procedures and time limits for appealing the determination, and your right to obtain information about those procedures and the right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse determination from Unum on appeal; and

- disclose any internal rule, guidelines, protocol or similar criterion relied on in making the adverse determination (or state that such information will be provided free of charge upon request).

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

APPEAL PROCEDURES

If an appeal is based on death, a covered loss not based on disability or for the Education Benefit

If you or your authorized representative appeal a denied claim, it must be submitted within 90 days after you receive Unum's notice of denial. You have the right to:

- submit a request for review, in writing, to Unum;
- upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to and copies of, all relevant documents as defined by applicable U.S. Department of Labor regulations; and
- submit written comments, documents, records and other information relating to the claim to Unum.

Unum will make a full and fair review of the claim and all new information submitted whether or not presented or available at the initial determination, and may require additional documents as it deems necessary or desirable in making such a review. A final decision on the review shall be made not later than 60 days following receipt of the written request for review. If special circumstances require an extension of time for processing, you will be notified of the reasons for the extension and the date by which the Plan expects to make a decision. If an extension is required due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the claim, the notice of extension will specifically describe the necessary information and the date by which you need to provide it to us. The 60-day extension of the appeal review period will begin after you have provided that information.

The final decision on review shall be furnished in writing and shall include the reasons for the decision with reference, again, to those Summary of Benefits' provisions upon which the final decision is based. It will also include a statement describing your access to documents and describing your right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA if you disagree with the determination.

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

Unless there are special circumstances, this administrative appeal process must be completed before you begin any legal action regarding your claim.

If an appeal is based on your disability

You have 180 days from the receipt of notice of an adverse benefit determination to file an appeal. Requests for appeals should be sent to the address specified in the claim denial. A decision on review will be made not later than 45 days following receipt of the written request for review. If Unum determines that special circumstances require an extension of time for a decision on review, the review period may be extended by an additional 45 days (90 days in total). Unum will notify you in writing if an additional 45 day extension is needed.

If an extension is necessary due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the appeal, the notice of extension will specifically describe the required information, and you will be afforded at least 45 days to provide the specified information. If you deliver the requested information within the time specified, the 45 day extension of the appeal period will begin after you have provided that information. If you fail to deliver the requested information within the time specified, Unum may decide your appeal without that information.

You will have the opportunity to submit written comments, documents, or other information in support of your appeal. You will have access to all relevant documents as defined by applicable U.S. Department of Labor regulations. The review of the adverse benefit determination will take into account all new information, whether or not presented or available at the initial determination. No deference will be afforded to the initial determination.

The review will be conducted by Unum and will be made by a person different from the person who made the initial determination and such person will not be the original decision maker's subordinate. In the case of a claim denied on the grounds of a medical judgment, Unum will consult with a health professional with appropriate training and experience. The health care professional who is consulted on appeal will not be the individual who was consulted during the initial determination or a subordinate. If the advice of a medical or vocational expert was obtained by the Plan in connection with the denial of your claim, Unum will provide you with the names of each such expert, regardless of whether the advice was relied upon.

A notice that your request on appeal is denied will contain the following information:

- the specific reason(s) for the determination;
- a reference to the specific Plan provision(s) on which the determination is based;
- a statement disclosing any internal rule, guidelines, protocol or similar criterion relied on in making the adverse determination (or a statement that such information will be provided free of charge upon request);
- a statement describing your right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA if you disagree with the decision;
- the statement that you are entitled to receive upon request, and without charge, reasonable access to or copies of all documents, records or other information relevant to the determination; and
- the statement that "You or your Plan may have other voluntary alternative dispute resolution options, such as mediation. One way to find out what may be available is to contact your local U.S. Department of Labor Office and your State insurance regulatory agency".

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

Unless there are special circumstances, this administrative appeal process must be completed before you begin any legal action regarding your claim.

Addendum to the "Additional Summary Plan Description Information" included with your certificate of coverage or summary of benefits and effective for claims filed on or after April 1, 2018.

The regulations governing ERISA disability claims and appeals have been amended. The amended regulations apply to disability claims filed on or after April 1, 2018. To the extent the Additional Summary Plan Description Information included with your certificate of coverage or summary of benefits conflicts with these new requirements, these new rights and procedures will apply.

These new rights and procedures include:

Any cancellation or discontinuance of your disability coverage that has a retroactive effect will be treated as an adverse benefit determination, except in the case of failure to timely pay required premiums or contributions toward the cost of coverage.

If you live in a county with a significant population of non-English speaking persons, the plan will provide, in the non-English language(s), a statement of how to access oral and written language services in those languages.

For any adverse benefit determination, you will be provided with an explanation of the basis for disagreeing or not following the views of: (1) health care professionals who have treated you or vocational professionals who have evaluated you; (2) the advice of medical or vocational professionals obtained on behalf of the plan; and (3) any disability determination made by the Social Security Administration regarding you and presented to the plan by you.

For any adverse benefit determination, you will be given either the specific internal rules, guidelines, protocols, standards or other similar criteria of the plan relied upon in making that decision, or a statement that such rules, etc. do not exist.

Prior to a final decision being made on an appeal, you will have the opportunity to review and respond to any new or additional rationale or evidence considered, relied upon, or generated by the plan in connection with your claim.

If an adverse benefit determination is upheld on appeal, you will be given notice of any applicable contractual limitations period that applies to your right to bring legal proceedings and the calendar date on which that period expires.

Should the plan fail to establish or follow ERISA required disability claims procedures, you may be entitled to pursue legal remedies under section 502(a) of the Act without exhausting your administrative remedies, as more completely set forth in section 503-1(l).

NOTICE OF PROTECTION PROVIDED BY LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE PROTECTION ASSOCIATION

This notice provides a brief summary of the Life and Health Insurance Protection Association ("the Association") and the protection it provides for policyholders. This safety net was created under Colorado law, which determines who and what is covered and the amounts of coverage.

The Association was established to provide protection in the unlikely event that your life, annuity or health insurance company becomes financially unable to meet its obligations and is taken over by its Insurance Department. If this should happen, the Association will typically arrange to continue coverage and pay claims, in accordance with Colorado law, with funding from assessments paid by other insurance companies.

The basic protections provided by the Association are:

- Life Insurance
  - $300,000 in death benefits
  - $100,000 in cash surrender or withdrawal values
- Health Insurance
  - $500,000 in hospital, medical and surgical insurance benefits
  - $300,000 in disability insurance benefits
  - $300,000 in long-term care insurance benefits
  - $100,000 in other types of health insurance benefits
- Annuities
  - $250,000 in withdrawal and cash values

The maximum amount of protection for each individual, regardless of the number of policies or contracts, is $300,000. Special rules may apply with regard to hospital, medical and surgical insurance benefits.

NOTE: Certain policies and contracts may not be covered or fully covered. For example, coverage does not extend to any portion(s) of a policy or contract that the insurer does not guarantee, such as certain investment additions to the account value of a variable life insurance policy or a variable annuity contract. There are also various residency requirements under Colorado law.

To learn more about the above protections, as well as protections relating to group contracts or retirement plans, please visit the Association's website at colorado.lhiga.com, email jkelldorf@gmail.com or contact:

Insurance companies and agents are not allowed by Colorado law to use the existence of the Association or its coverage to encourage you to purchase any form of insurance. When selecting an insurance company, you should not rely on Association coverage. If there is any inconsistency between this notice and Colorado law, then Colorado law will control.

If you have a disability, you must notify us immediately when you return to work in any capacity, regardless of whether you are working for your Employer.

HOW DO YOU FILE A CLAIM FOR A DISABILITY?

You or your authorized representative, and your Employer must fill out your own sections of the claim form and then give it to your attending physician. Your physician should fill out his or her section of the form and send it directly to Unum.

WHAT INFORMATION IS NEEDED AS PROOF OF YOUR CLAIM?

If your claim is based on your disability, your proof of claim, provided at your expense, must show:

- that you are under the regular care of a physician;
- the date your disability began;
- the cause of your disability;
- the extent of your disability, including restrictions and limitations preventing you from performing your regular occupation or any gainful occupation; and
- the name and address of any hospital or institution where you received treatment, including all attending physicians.

We may request that you send proof of continuing disability indicating that you are under the regular care of a physician. This proof, provided at your expense, must be received within 45 days of a request by us.

If claim is based on death, proof of claim, provided at your or your authorized representative's expense, must show the cause of death. Also a certified copy of the death certificate must be given to us.

In some cases, you will be required to give Unum authorization to obtain additional medical and non-medical information as part of your proof of claim or proof of continuing disability. Unum will deny your claim if the appropriate information is not submitted.

WHEN CAN UNUM REQUEST AN AUTOPSY?

In the case of death, Unum will have the right and opportunity to request an autopsy where not forbidden by law.

HOW DO YOU DESIGNATE OR CHANGE A BENEFICIARY? (Beneficiary Designation)

At the time you become insured, you should name a beneficiary on your enrollment form for your death benefits under your life insurance. You may change your beneficiary at any time by filing a form approved by Unum with your Employer. The new beneficiary designation will be effective as of the date you sign that form. However, if we have taken any action or made any payment before your Employer receives that form, that change will not go into effect.

It is important that you name a beneficiary and keep your designation current. If more than one beneficiary is named and you do not designate their order or share of payments, the beneficiaries will share equally. The share of a beneficiary who dies before you, or the share of a beneficiary who is disqualified, will pass to any surviving beneficiaries in the order you designated.

If you do not name a beneficiary, or if all named beneficiaries do not survive you, or if your named beneficiary is disqualified, your death benefit will be paid to your estate.

Instead of making a death payment to your estate, Unum has the right to make payment to the first surviving family members of the family members in the order listed below:

- spouse;
- child or children;
- mother or father; or
- sisters or brothers.

If we are to make payments to a beneficiary who lacks the legal capacity to give us a release, Unum may pay up to $2,000 to the person or institution that appears to have assumed the custody and main support of the beneficiary. This $2,000 payment made in good faith satisfies Unum's legal duty to the extent of that $2,000 payment and Unum will not have to make that payment again.

Also, at Unum's option, we may pay up to $1,000 to the person or persons who, in our opinion, have incurred expenses for your last sickness and death.

In addition, if you do not survive your spouse, and dependent life coverage is continued, then your surviving spouse should name a beneficiary according to the requirements specified above for you.

HOW WILL UNUM MAKE PAYMENTS?

If your or your dependent's life claim is at least $10,000, Unum will make available to the beneficiary a retained asset account (the Unum Security Account).

Payment for the life claim may be accessed by writing a draft in a single sum or drafts in smaller sums. The funds for the draft or drafts are fully guaranteed by Unum.

If the life claim is less than $10,000, Unum will pay it in one lump sum to you or your beneficiary.

Also, you or your beneficiary may request the life claim to be paid according to one of Unum's other settlement options. This request must be in writing in order to be paid under Unum's other settlement options.

If you do not survive your spouse, and dependent life coverage is continued, then your surviving spouse's death claim will be paid to your surviving spouse's beneficiary.

All other benefits will be paid to you.

WHAT HAPPENS IF UNUM OVERPAYS YOUR CLAIM?

Unum has the right to recover any overpayments due to:

- fraud; and
- any error Unum makes in processing a claim.

You must reimburse us in full. We will determine the method by which the repayment is to be made.

Unum will not recover more money than the amount we paid you.

WHAT ARE YOUR ASSIGNABILITY RIGHTS FOR THE DEATH BENEFITS UNDER YOUR LIFE INSURANCE? (Assignability Rights)

The rights provided to you by the plan for life insurance are owned by you, unless:

- you have previously assigned these rights to someone else (known as an "assignee"); or
- you assign your rights under the plan(s) to an assignee.

We will recognize an assignee as the owner of the rights assigned only if:

- the assignment is in writing, signed by you, and acceptable to us in form; and
- a signed or certified copy of the written assignment has been received and registered by us at our home office.

We will not be responsible for the legal, tax or other effects of any assignment, or for any action taken under the plan(s') provisions before receiving and registering an assignment.

- the date of enrollment of your qualified child in an accredited post-secondary institution of higher learning;
- the name of the institution;
- a list of courses for the current academic term; and
- the number of credit hours for the current academic term.

WHEN CAN UNUM REQUEST AN AUTOPSY?

In the case of death, Unum will have the right and opportunity to request an autopsy where not forbidden by law.

HOW DO YOU DESIGNATE OR CHANGE A BENEFICIARY? (Beneficiary Designation)

At the time you become insured, you should name a beneficiary on your enrollment form for your death benefits under your accidental death and dismemberment insurance. You may change your beneficiary at any time by filing a form approved by Unum with your Employer. The new beneficiary designation will be effective as of the date you sign that form. However, if we have taken any action or made any payment before your Employer receives that form, that change will not go into effect.

It is important that you name a beneficiary and keep your designation current. If more than one beneficiary is named and you do not designate their order or share of payments, the beneficiaries will share equally. The share of a beneficiary who dies before you, or the share of a beneficiary who is disqualified, will pass to any surviving beneficiaries in the order you designated.

If you do not name a beneficiary, or if all named beneficiaries do not survive you, or if your named beneficiary is disqualified, your death benefit will be paid to your estate.

Instead of making a death payment to your estate, Unum has the right to make payment to the first surviving family members of the family members in the order listed below:

- spouse;
- child or children;
- mother or father; or
- sisters or brothers.

If we are to make payments to a beneficiary who lacks the legal capacity to give us a release, Unum may pay up to $2,000 to the person or institution that appears to have assumed the custody and main support of the beneficiary. This $2,000 payment made in good faith satisfies Unum's legal duty to the extent of that $2,000 payment and Unum will not have to make that payment again.

Also, at Unum's option, we may pay up to $1,000 to the person or persons who, in our opinion, have incurred expenses for your last sickness and death.

HOW WILL UNUM MAKE PAYMENTS?

If your accidental death or dismemberment claim is at least $10,000 Unum will make available to you or your beneficiary a retained asset account (the Unum Security Account).

Payment for the accidental death or dismemberment claim may be accessed by writing a draft in a single sum or drafts in smaller sums. The funds for the draft or drafts are fully guaranteed by Unum.

If the accidental death or dismemberment claim is less than $10,000, Unum will pay it in one lump sum to you or your beneficiary.

Also, your beneficiary may request the accidental death claim to be paid according to one of Unum's other settlement options. This request must be in writing in order to be paid under Unum's other settlement options.

The Child Care Benefit will be paid to you, your spouse, your beneficiary or your or your spouse's authorized representative.

The Education Benefit will be paid to your qualified child or the qualified child's legal representative.

All other benefits will be paid to you.

WHAT HAPPENS IF UNUM OVERPAYS YOUR CLAIM?

Unum has the right to recover any overpayments due to:

- fraud; and
- any error Unum makes in processing a claim.

You must reimburse us in full. We will determine the method by which the repayment is to be made.

Unum will not recover more money than the amount we paid you.

The Employer may cancel this Summary of Benefits or plan if the modifications are unacceptable.

If any portion of the premium is not paid during the grace period, Unum will either cancel or modify this Summary of Benefits or a plan automatically at the end of the grace period. - the child is unmarried; and

- you are the main source of support and maintenance.

Unum must receive proof within 31 days of the end of the month in which the child reaches age 19 or if a full-time student, age 24 and as required during the first two years. After the first two years, Unum will ask for proof when needed, but not more than once a year.

WHAT ARE THE TIME LIMITS FOR LEGAL PROCEEDINGS?

You or your authorized representative can start legal action regarding a claim 60 days after proof of claim has been given and up to 3 years from the time proof of claim is required, unless otherwise provided under federal law.

HOW CAN STATEMENTS MADE IN YOUR APPLICATION FOR THIS COVERAGE BE USED?

Unum considers any statements you or your Employer make in a signed application for coverage or an evidence of insurability form a representation and not a warranty. If any of the statements you or your Employer make are not complete and/or not true at the time they are made, we can:

- reduce or deny any claim; or
- cancel your coverage from the original effective date.

We will use only statements made in a signed application or an evidence of insurability form as a basis for doing this.

Except in the case of fraud, Unum can take action only in the first 2 years coverage is in force.

If the Employer gives us information about you that is incorrect, we will:

- use the facts to decide whether you have coverage under the plan and in what amounts; and
- make a fair adjustment of the premium.

HOW WILL UNUM HANDLE INSURANCE FRAUD?

Unum wants to ensure you and your Employer do not incur additional insurance costs as a result of the undermining effects of insurance fraud. Unum promises to focus on all means necessary to support fraud detection, investigation, and prosecution.

It is a crime if you knowingly, and with intent to injure, defraud or deceive Unum, or provide any information, including filing a claim, that contains any false, incomplete or misleading information. These actions, as well as submission of materially false information, will result in denial of your claim, and are subject to prosecution and punishment to the full extent under state and/or federal law. Unum will pursue all appropriate legal remedies in the event of insurance fraud.

DOES THE SUMMARY OF BENEFITS REPLACE OR AFFECT ANY WORKERS' COMPENSATION OR STATE DISABILITY INSURANCE?

The Summary of Benefits does not replace or affect the requirements for coverage by any workers' compensation or state disability insurance.

DOES YOUR EMPLOYER ACT AS YOUR AGENT OR UNUM'S AGENT?

For the purposes of the Summary of Benefits, your Employer acts on its own behalf or as your agent. Under no circumstances will your Employer be deemed the agent of Unum.

Unum will determine the payment according to the amount of insurance shown in the LIFE INSURANCE "BENEFITS AT A GLANCE" page.

WHAT ARE YOUR ANNUAL EARNINGS?

"Annual Earnings" means your gross annual income from your Employer, including shift differential and car allowance, in effect just prior to the date of loss. It includes your total income before taxes and any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457(b) deferred compensation arrangement. It is prior to any deductions made for pre-tax contributions to a qualified deferred compensation plan (other than any Employer contributions made on your behalf to a qualified 457(b) deferred compensation arrangement), Section 125 plan or flexible spending account. It does not include income received from commissions, bonuses, overtime pay or any other extra compensation or income received from sources other than your Employer.

WHAT WILL WE USE FOR ANNUAL EARNINGS IF YOU BECOME DISABLED DURING A COVERED LAYOFF OR LEAVE OF ABSENCE?

If you become disabled while you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence, we will use your annual earnings from your Employer in effect just prior to the date your absence began.

WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR LIFE INSURANCE COVERAGE IF YOU BECOME DISABLED?

Your life insurance coverage may be continued for a specific time and your life insurance premium will be waived if you qualify as described below.

HOW LONG MUST YOU BE DISABLED BEFORE YOU ARE ELIGIBLE TO HAVE LIFE PREMIUMS WAIVED?

You must be disabled through your elimination period.

Your elimination period is 180 days.

WHEN WILL YOUR LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUM WAIVER BEGIN?

Your life insurance premium waiver will begin when we approve your claim, if the elimination period has ended and you meet the following conditions. Your Employer may continue premium payments until Unum notifies your Employer of the date your life insurance premium waiver begins.

Your life insurance premium will be waived if you meet these conditions:

- you are less than 60 and insured under the plan.
- you become disabled and remain disabled during the elimination period.
- you meet the notice and proof of claim requirements for disability while your life insurance is in effect or within three months after it ends.
- your claim is approved by Unum.

After we approve your claim, Unum does not require further premium payments for you while you remain disabled according to the terms and provisions of the plan.

Your life insurance amount will not increase while your life insurance premiums are being waived. Your life insurance amount will reduce or cease at any time it would reduce or cease if you had not been disabled.

WHEN WILL YOUR LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUM WAIVER END?

The life insurance premium waiver will automatically end if:

- you recover and you no longer are disabled;
- you fail to give us proper proof that you remain disabled;
- you refuse to have an examination by a physician chosen by Unum;
- you reach age 70; or
- premium has been waived for 12 months and you are considered to reside outside the United States or Canada. You will be considered to reside outside the United States or Canada when you have been outside these countries for a total period of 6 months or more during any 12 consecutive months for which premium has been waived.

HOW DOES UNUM DEFINE DISABILITY?

You are disabled when Unum determines that:

- during the elimination period, you are not working in any occupation due to your injury or sickness; and
- after the elimination period, due to the same injury or sickness, you are unable to perform the duties of any gainful occupation for which you are reasonably fitted by training, education or experience.

You must be under the regular care of a physician in order to be considered disabled.

The loss of a professional or occupational license or certification does not, in itself, constitute disability.

We may require you to be examined by a physician, other medical practitioner or vocational expert of our choice. Unum will pay for this examination. We can require an examination as often as it is reasonable to do so. We may also require you to be interviewed by an authorized Unum Representative.

APPLYING FOR LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUM WAIVER

Ask your Employer for a life insurance premium waiver claim form.

The form has instructions on how to complete and where to send the claim.

WHAT INSURANCE IS AVAILABLE WHILE YOU ARE SATISFYING THE DISABILITY REQUIREMENTS? (See Conversion Privilege)

You may use this life conversion privilege when your life insurance terminates while you are satisfying the disability requirements. Please refer to the conversion privilege below. You are not eligible to apply for this life conversion if you return to work and, again, become covered under the plan.

If an individual life insurance policy is issued to you, any benefit for your death under this plan will be paid only if the individual policy is returned for surrender to Unum. Unum will refund all premiums paid for the individual policy.

The amount of your death benefit will be paid to your named beneficiary for the plan. If, however, you named a different beneficiary for the individual policy and the policy is returned to Unum for surrender, that different beneficiary will not be paid.

If you want to name a different beneficiary for this group plan, you must change your beneficiary as described in the Beneficiary Designation page of this group plan.

WHAT INSURANCE IS AVAILABLE WHEN COVERAGE ENDS? (Conversion Privilege)

When coverage ends under the plan, you and your dependents can convert your coverages to individual life policies, without evidence of insurability. The maximum amounts that you can convert are the amounts you and your dependents are insured for under the plan. You may convert a lower amount of life insurance.

You and your dependents must apply for individual life insurance under this life conversion privilege and pay the first premium within 90 days after the date:

- your employment terminates; or
- you or your dependents no longer are eligible to participate in the coverage of the plan.

If you convert to an individual life policy, then return to work, and, again, become insured under the plan, you are not eligible to convert to an individual life policy again. However, you do not need to surrender that individual life policy when you return to work.

Converted insurance may be of any type of the level premium whole life plans then in use by Unum. The person may elect one year of Preliminary Term insurance under the level premium whole life policy. The individual policy will not contain disability or other extra benefits.

WHAT LIMITED CONVERSION IS AVAILABLE IF THE SUMMARY OF BENEFITS OR THE PLAN IS CANCELLED? (Conversion Privilege)

You and your dependents may convert a limited amount of life insurance if you have been insured under your Employer's group plan with Unum for at least five (5) years and the Summary of Benefits or the plan:

- is cancelled with Unum; or
- changes so that you no longer are eligible.

The individual life policy maximum for each of you will be the lesser of:

- $10,000; or
- your or your dependent's coverage amounts under the plan less any amounts that become available under any other group life plan offered by your Employer within 90 days after the date the Summary of Benefits or the plan is cancelled.

PREMIUMS

Premiums for the converted insurance will be based on:

- the person's then attained age on the effective date of the individual life policy;
- the type and amount of insurance to be converted;
- Unum's customary rates in use at that time; and
- the class of risk to which the person belongs.

If the premium payment has been made, the individual life policy will be effective at the end of the 31 day conversion application period.

DEATH DURING THE NINETY DAY CONVERSION APPLICATION PERIOD

If you or your dependents die within the 90 day conversion application period, Unum will pay the beneficiary(ies) the amount of insurance that could have been converted. This coverage is available whether or not you have applied for an individual life policy under the conversion privilege.

APPLYING FOR CONVERSION

Ask your Employer for a conversion application form which includes cost information.

When you complete the application, send it with the first premium amount to:

WILL UNUM ACCELERATE YOUR OR YOUR DEPENDENT'S DEATH BENEFIT FOR THE PLAN IF YOU OR YOUR DEPENDENT BECOMES TERMINALLY ILL? (Accelerated Benefit)

If you or your dependent becomes terminally ill while you or your dependent is insured by the plan, Unum will pay you a portion of your or your dependent's life insurance benefit one time. The payment will be based on 50% of your or your dependent's life insurance amount. However, the one-time benefit paid will not be greater than $750,000.

Your or your dependent's right to exercise this option and to receive payment is subject to the following:

- you or your dependent requests this election, in writing, on a form acceptable to Unum;
- you or your dependent must be terminally ill at the time of payment of the Accelerated Benefit;
- your or your dependent's physician must certify, in writing, that you or your dependent is terminally ill and your or your dependent's life expectancy has been reduced to less than 12 months; and
- the physician's certification must be deemed satisfactory to Unum.

The Accelerated Benefit is available on a voluntary basis. Therefore, you or your dependent is not eligible for benefits if:

- you or your dependent is required by law to use this benefit to meet the claims of creditors, whether in bankruptcy or otherwise; or
- you or your dependent is required by a government agency to use this benefit in order to apply for, get, or otherwise keep a government benefit or entitlement.

Premium payments must continue to be paid on the full amount of life insurance unless you qualify to have your life premium waived.

Also, premium payments must continue to be paid on the full amount of your dependent's life insurance unless you qualify to have your life premium waived.

If you have assigned your rights under the plan to an assignee or made an irrevocable beneficiary designation, Unum must receive consent, in writing, that the assignee or irrevocable beneficiary has agreed to the Accelerated Benefit payment on your behalf in a form acceptable to Unum before benefits are payable.

An election to receive an Accelerated Benefit will have the following effect on other benefits:

- the death benefit payable will be reduced by any amount of Accelerated Benefit that has been paid; and
- any amount of life insurance that would be continued under a disability continuation provision or that may be available under the conversion privilege will be reduced by the amount of the Accelerated Benefit paid. The remaining life insurance amount will be paid according to the terms of the Summary of Benefits subject to any reduction and termination provisions.

Benefits paid may be taxable. Unum is not responsible for any tax or other effects of any benefit paid. As with all tax matters, you or your dependent should consult your personal tax advisor to assess the impact of this benefit.

WHAT LOSSES ARE NOT COVERED UNDER YOUR PLAN?

Your plan does not cover any losses where death is caused by, contributed to by, or results from:

- suicide occurring within 12 months after your or your dependent's initial effective date of insurance; and
- suicide occurring within 12 months after the date any increases or additional insurance become effective for you or your dependent.

The suicide exclusion will apply to any amounts of insurance for which you pay all or part of the premium.

The suicide exclusion also will apply to any amount that is subject to evidence of insurability requirements and Unum approves the evidence of insurability form and the amount you or your dependent applied for at that time.

LIFE INSURANCE

OTHER BENEFIT FEATURES

WHAT IF YOU ARE NOT IN ACTIVE EMPLOYMENT WHEN YOUR EMPLOYER CHANGES GROUP INSURANCE CARRIERS TO UNUM? (CONTINUITY OF COVERAGE)

Unum will provide coverage for you and your dependent(s) if you and your dependent(s) are covered by the prior policy on the day before the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, and if you would be eligible for coverage under this Summary of Benefits if you were in active employment on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits.

If you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, we will consider your layoff or leave of absence to have started on that date, and coverage for you and your dependent(s) under this provision will continue for the layoff or leave of absence period provided in this Summary of Benefits, or the layoff or leave of absence period remaining under the prior policy on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, whichever period is shorter.

If you are absent from work due to injury or sickness on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, then coverage under this provision will continue until the earliest of the date:

- you are no longer injured or sick,
- you return to active employment,
- you are approved for a disability extension of benefits or accrued liability under the prior policy, including premium waiver, or
- your employment ends.

Also, if you incur a covered loss but are not in active employment under this Summary of Benefits, any benefits payable under this Summary of Benefits will be limited to the amount that would have been paid by the prior carrier. Unum will reduce your payment by any amount for which the prior carrier is liable.

Coverage for you and your dependent(s) are subject to payment of required premium and all other terms of this Summary of Benefits, except that the portable insurance coverage terms of this Summary of Benefits will not apply to coverage provided under this provision.

WHAT COVERAGE IS AVAILABLE IF YOU END EMPLOYMENT OR YOU WORK REDUCED HOURS? (Portability)

If your employment ends with or you retire from your Employer or you are working less than the minimum number of hours as described under Eligible Class(es) in this plan, you may elect portable coverage for yourself and your dependents.

In case of your death, your insured dependents also may elect portable coverage for themselves. However, children cannot become insured for portable coverage unless the spouse also becomes insured for portable coverage.

PORTABLE INSURANCE COVERAGE AND AMOUNTS AVAILABLE

The portable insurance coverage will be the current coverage and amounts that you and your dependents are insured for under your Employer's group plan.

However, the amount of portable coverage for you will not be more than:

- the highest amount of life insurance available for employees under the plan; or
- 5x your annual earnings; or
- $750,000 from all Unum group life and accidental death and dismemberment plans combined,

whichever is less.

The amount of ported life insurance must be equal to or greater than the amount of ported accidental death and dismemberment insurance.

The amount of portable coverage for your spouse will not be more than:

- the highest amount of life insurance available for spouses under the plan; or
- 100% of your amount of portable coverage; or
- $750,000 from all Unum group life plans combined,

whichever is less.

The amount of portable coverage for a child will not be more than:

- the highest amount of life insurance available for children under the plan; or
- 100% of your amount of portable coverage; or
- $20,000,

whichever is less.

The minimum amount of coverage that can be ported is $5,000 for you and $1,000 for your dependents. If the current amounts under the plan are less than $5,000 for you and $1,000 for your dependents you and your dependents may port the lesser amounts.

Your or your dependent's amount of life insurance will reduce or cease at any time it would reduce or cease for your eligible class if you had continued in active employment with your Employer.

APPLYING FOR PORTABLE COVERAGE

You must apply for portable coverage for yourself and your dependents and pay the first premium within 90 days after the date:

- your coverage ends or you retire from your Employer; or
- you begin working less than the minimum number of hours as described under Eligible Class(es) in this plan.

Your dependents must apply for portable coverage and pay the first premium within 90 days after the date you die.

You are not eligible to apply for portable coverage for yourself if:

- you have an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan.

You are not eligible to apply for portable coverage for a dependent if:

- you do not elect portable coverage for yourself;
- you have an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- your dependent has an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan.

In case of your death, your spouse is not eligible to apply for portable coverage if:

- your surviving spouse is not insured under this plan;
- your surviving spouse has an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan for your spouse.

In case of your death, your child is not eligible for portable coverage if:

- your surviving spouse is not insured under this plan;
- your surviving spouse is insured under this plan and chooses not to elect portable coverage;
- your surviving spouse has an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- your child has an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan for your child.

If we determine that because of an injury or sickness, which has a material effect on life expectancy, you or your dependents were not eligible for portability at the time you or your dependents elected portable coverage, the benefit will be adjusted to the amount of whole life coverage the premium would have purchased under the Conversion Privilege.

APPLYING FOR INCREASES OR DECREASES IN PORTABLE COVERAGE

You or your dependents may increase or decrease the amount of life insurance coverage. The minimum and maximum benefit amounts are shown above. However, the amount of life insurance coverage cannot be decreased below $5,000 for you and $1,000 for your dependents. All increases are subject to evidence of insurability. Portable coverage will reduce at the ages and amounts shown in the LIFE INSURANCE "BENEFITS AT A GLANCE" page.

ADDING PORTABLE COVERAGE FOR DEPENDENTS

If you choose not to enroll your dependents when your dependents were first eligible for portable coverage, you may enroll your dependents at any time for the amounts allowed under the group plan. Evidence of insurability is required.

You may enroll newly acquired dependents at any time for the amounts allowed under the group plan. Evidence of insurability is required.

WHEN PORTABLE COVERAGE ENDS

Portable coverage for you will end for the following reasons:

- the date you fail to pay any required premium; or
- the date the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates).

Portable coverage for a spouse will end for the following reasons:

- the date you fail to pay any required premium;
- the date your surviving spouse fails to pay any required premium; or

- the date your surviving spouse fails to pay any required premium;
- the date the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates);
- the date your child no longer qualifies as a dependent; or
- the date the surviving spouse dies.

If portable coverage ends due to failure to pay required premium, portable coverage cannot be reinstated.

PREMIUM RATE CHANGES FOR PORTABLE COVERAGE

Unum may change premium rates for portable coverage at any time for reasons which affect the risk assumed, including those reasons shown below:

- changes occur in the coverage levels;
- changes occur in the overall use of benefits by all insureds;
- changes occur in other risk factors; or
- a new law or a change in any existing law is enacted which applies to portable coverage.

The change in premium rates will be made on a class basis according to Unum's underwriting risk studies. Unum will notify the insured in writing at least 31 days before a premium rate is changed.

APPLYING FOR CONVERSION, IF PORTABLE COVERAGE ENDS OR IS NOT AVAILABLE

If you or your dependent is not eligible to apply for portable coverage or portable coverage ends, then you or your dependent may qualify for conversion coverage. Refer to Conversion Privilege under this plan.

Ask your Employer for a conversion application form which includes cost information.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT INSURANCE

OTHER BENEFIT FEATURES

WHAT IF YOU ARE NOT IN ACTIVE EMPLOYMENT WHEN YOUR EMPLOYER CHANGES GROUP INSURANCE CARRIERS TO UNUM? (CONTINUITY OF COVERAGE)

Unum will provide coverage for you if you were covered by the prior policy on the day before the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, and if you would be eligible for coverage under this Summary of Benefits if you were in active employment on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits.

If you are on a covered layoff or leave of absence on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, we will consider your layoff or leave of absence to have started on that date, and coverage for you under this provision will continue for the layoff or leave of absence period provided in this Summary of Benefits, or the layoff or leave of absence period remaining under the prior policy on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, whichever period is shorter.

If you are absent from work due to injury or sickness on the effective date of this Summary of Benefits, then coverage under this provision will continue until the earliest of the date:

- you are no longer injured or sick,
- you return to active employment,
- you are approved for a disability extension of benefits or accrued liability under the prior policy, including premium waiver, or
- your employment ends.

Also, if you incur a covered loss but are not in active employment under this Summary of Benefits, any benefits payable under this Summary of Benefits will be limited to the amount that would have been paid by the prior carrier. Unum will reduce your payment by any amount for which the prior carrier is liable.

Coverage for you is subject to payment of required premium and all other terms of this Summary of Benefits, except that the portable insurance coverage terms of this Summary of Benefits will not apply to coverage provided under this provision.

WHAT COVERAGE IS AVAILABLE IF YOU END EMPLOYMENT OR YOU WORK REDUCED HOURS? (Portability)

If your employment ends with or you retire from your Employer or you are working less than the minimum number of hours as described under Eligible Class(es) in this plan, you may elect portable coverage for yourself.

PORTABLE INSURANCE COVERAGE AND AMOUNTS AVAILABLE

The portable insurance coverage will be the current coverage and amounts that you are insured for under your Employer's group plan.

However, the amount of portable coverage for you will not be more than:

- the highest amount of accidental death and dismemberment insurance available for employees under the plan; or
- 5x your annual earnings; or
- $750,000 from all Unum group life and accidental death and dismemberment plans combined,

whichever is less.

The amount of ported life insurance must be equal to or greater than the amount of ported accidental death and dismemberment insurance.

The minimum amount of coverage that can be ported is $5,000. If the current amounts under the plan are less than $5,000, you may port the lesser amounts.

Your amount of AD&D insurance will reduce or cease at any time it would reduce or cease for your eligible group if you had continued in active employment with your Employer.

APPLYING FOR PORTABLE COVERAGE

You must apply for portable coverage for yourself and pay the first premium within 90 days after the date:

- your coverage ends or you retire from your Employer; or
- you begin working less than the minimum number of hours as described under Eligible Class(es) in this plan.

You are not eligible to apply for portable coverage for yourself if:

- you have an injury or sickness, under the terms of this plan, which has a material effect on life expectancy;
- the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates); or
- you failed to pay the required premium under the terms of this plan.

APPLYING FOR INCREASES OR DECREASES IN PORTABLE COVERAGE

You may increase or decrease the amount of AD&D insurance coverage. The minimum and maximum benefit amounts are shown above. However, the amount of accidental death and dismemberment insurance coverage cannot be decreased below $5,000. Portable coverage will reduce at the ages and amounts shown in the ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT INSURANCE "BENEFITS AT A GLANCE" page.

WHEN PORTABLE COVERAGE ENDS

Portable coverage for you will end for the following reasons:

- the date you fail to pay any required premium; or
- the date the policy is cancelled (the Policy is the group policy issued to the Trustees of the Select Group Insurance Trust in which your Employer participates).

If portable coverage ends due to failure to pay required premium, portable coverage cannot be reinstated.

PREMIUM RATE CHANGES FOR PORTABLE COVERAGE

Unum may change premium rates for portable coverage at any time for reasons which affect the risk assumed, including those reasons shown below:

- changes occur in the coverage levels;
- changes occur in the overall use of benefits by all insureds;
- changes occur in other risk factors; or
- a new law or a change in any existing law is enacted which applies to portable coverage.

The change in premium rates will be made on a class basis according to Unum's underwriting risk studies. Unum will notify the insured in writing at least 31 days before a premium rate is changed.

Additional Claim and Appeal Information
Relative to the Summary of Benefits issued by Unum Life Insurance Company of America ("Unum")

APPLICABILITY OF ERISA

If the Summary of Benefits provides benefits under a Plan which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), the following provisions apply. Whether a Plan is governed by ERISA is determined by a court, however, your Employer may have information related to ERISA applicability. If ERISA applies, the following items constitute the Plan: the additional information contained in this document, the Summary of Benefits, including your certificate of coverage, and any additional summary plan description information provided by the Plan Administrator. Benefit determinations are controlled exclusively by the Summary of Benefits, your certificate of coverage, and the information in this document.

HOW TO FILE A CLAIM

If you wish to file a claim for benefits, you should follow the claim procedures described in your insurance certificate. To complete your claim filing, Unum must receive the claim information it requests from you (or your authorized representative), your attending physician and your Employer. If you or your authorized representative has any questions about what to do, you or your authorized representative should contact Unum directly.

CLAIMS PROCEDURES

If a claim is based on death, a covered loss not based on disability or for the Education Benefit

In the event that your claim is denied, either in full or in part, Unum will notify you in writing within 90 days after your claim was filed. Under special circumstances, Unum is allowed an additional period of not more than 90 days (180 days in total) within which to notify you of its decision. If such an extension is required, you will receive a written notice from Unum indicating the reason for the delay and the date you may expect a final decision. Unum's notice of denial shall include:

- the specific reason or reasons for denial with reference to those Plan provisions on which the denial is based;
- a description of any additional material or information necessary to complete the claim and why that material or information is necessary; and
- a description of the Plan's procedures and applicable time limits for appealing the determination, including a statement of your right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse determination from Unum on appeal.

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

If a claim is based on your disability

Unum will give you notice of the decision no later than 45 days after the claim is filed. This time period may be extended twice by 30 days if Unum both determines that such an extension is necessary due to matters beyond the control of the Plan and notifies you of the circumstances requiring the extension of time and the date by which Unum expects to render a decision. If such an extension is necessary due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the claim, the notice of extension will specifically describe the required information, and you will be afforded at least 45 days within which to provide the specified information. If you deliver the requested information within the time specified, any 30 day extension period will begin after you have provided that information. If you fail to deliver the requested information within the time specified, Unum may decide your claim without that information.

If your claim for benefits is wholly or partially denied, the notice of adverse benefit determination under the Plan will:

- state the specific reason(s) for the determination;

- reference specific Plan provision(s) on which the determination is based;

- describe additional material or information necessary to complete the claim and why such information is necessary;

- describe Plan procedures and time limits for appealing the determination, and your right to obtain information about those procedures and the right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse determination from Unum on appeal; and

- disclose any internal rule, guidelines, protocol or similar criterion relied on in making the adverse determination (or state that such information will be provided free of charge upon request).

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

APPEAL PROCEDURES

If an appeal is based on death, a covered loss not based on disability or for the Education Benefit

If you or your authorized representative appeal a denied claim, it must be submitted within 90 days after you receive Unum's notice of denial. You have the right to:

- submit a request for review, in writing, to Unum;
- upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to and copies of, all relevant documents as defined by applicable U.S. Department of Labor regulations; and
- submit written comments, documents, records and other information relating to the claim to Unum.

Unum will make a full and fair review of the claim and all new information submitted whether or not presented or available at the initial determination, and may require additional documents as it deems necessary or desirable in making such a review. A final decision on the review shall be made not later than 60 days following receipt of the written request for review. If special circumstances require an extension of time for processing, you will be notified of the reasons for the extension and the date by which the Plan expects to make a decision. If an extension is required due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the claim, the notice of extension will specifically describe the necessary information and the date by which you need to provide it to us. The 60-day extension of the appeal review period will begin after you have provided that information.

The final decision on review shall be furnished in writing and shall include the reasons for the decision with reference, again, to those Summary of Benefits' provisions upon which the final decision is based. It will also include a statement describing your access to documents and describing your right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA if you disagree with the determination.

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

Unless there are special circumstances, this administrative appeal process must be completed before you begin any legal action regarding your claim.

If an appeal is based on your disability

You have 180 days from the receipt of notice of an adverse benefit determination to file an appeal. Requests for appeals should be sent to the address specified in the claim denial. A decision on review will be made not later than 45 days following receipt of the written request for review. If Unum determines that special circumstances require an extension of time for a decision on review, the review period may be extended by an additional 45 days (90 days in total). Unum will notify you in writing if an additional 45 day extension is needed.

If an extension is necessary due to your failure to submit the information necessary to decide the appeal, the notice of extension will specifically describe the required information, and you will be afforded at least 45 days to provide the specified information. If you deliver the requested information within the time specified, the 45 day extension of the appeal period will begin after you have provided that information. If you fail to deliver the requested information within the time specified, Unum may decide your appeal without that information.

You will have the opportunity to submit written comments, documents, or other information in support of your appeal. You will have access to all relevant documents as defined by applicable U.S. Department of Labor regulations. The review of the adverse benefit determination will take into account all new information, whether or not presented or available at the initial determination. No deference will be afforded to the initial determination.

The review will be conducted by Unum and will be made by a person different from the person who made the initial determination and such person will not be the original decision maker's subordinate. In the case of a claim denied on the grounds of a medical judgment, Unum will consult with a health professional with appropriate training and experience. The health care professional who is consulted on appeal will not be the individual who was consulted during the initial determination or a subordinate. If the advice of a medical or vocational expert was obtained by the Plan in connection with the denial of your claim, Unum will provide you with the names of each such expert, regardless of whether the advice was relied upon.

A notice that your request on appeal is denied will contain the following information:

- the specific reason(s) for the determination;
- a reference to the specific Plan provision(s) on which the determination is based;
- a statement disclosing any internal rule, guidelines, protocol or similar criterion relied on in making the adverse determination (or a statement that such information will be provided free of charge upon request);
- a statement describing your right to bring a lawsuit under Section 502(a) of ERISA if you disagree with the decision;
- the statement that you are entitled to receive upon request, and without charge, reasonable access to or copies of all documents, records or other information relevant to the determination; and
- the statement that "You or your Plan may have other voluntary alternative dispute resolution options, such as mediation. One way to find out what may be available is to contact your local U.S. Department of Labor Office and your State insurance regulatory agency".

Notice of the determination may be provided in written or electronic form. Electronic notices will be provided in a form that complies with any applicable legal requirements.

Unless there are special circumstances, this administrative appeal process must be completed before you begin any legal action regarding your claim.

Addendum to the "Additional Summary Plan Description Information" included with your certificate of coverage or summary of benefits and effective for claims filed on or after April 1, 2018.

The regulations governing ERISA disability claims and appeals have been amended. The amended regulations apply to disability claims filed on or after April 1, 2018. To the extent the Additional Summary Plan Description Information included with your certificate of coverage or summary of benefits conflicts with these new requirements, these new rights and procedures will apply.

These new rights and procedures include:

Any cancellation or discontinuance of your disability coverage that has a retroactive effect will be treated as an adverse benefit determination, except in the case of failure to timely pay required premiums or contributions toward the cost of coverage.

If you live in a county with a significant population of non-English speaking persons, the plan will provide, in the non-English language(s), a statement of how to access oral and written language services in those languages.

For any adverse benefit determination, you will be provided with an explanation of the basis for disagreeing or not following the views of: (1) health care professionals who have treated you or vocational professionals who have evaluated you; (2) the advice of medical or vocational professionals obtained on behalf of the plan; and (3) any disability determination made by the Social Security Administration regarding you and presented to the plan by you.

For any adverse benefit determination, you will be given either the specific internal rules, guidelines, protocols, standards or other similar criteria of the plan relied upon in making that decision, or a statement that such rules, etc. do not exist.

Prior to a final decision being made on an appeal, you will have the opportunity to review and respond to any new or additional rationale or evidence considered, relied upon, or generated by the plan in connection with your claim.

If an adverse benefit determination is upheld on appeal, you will be given notice of any applicable contractual limitations period that applies to your right to bring legal proceedings and the calendar date on which that period expires.

Should the plan fail to establish or follow ERISA required disability claims procedures, you may be entitled to pursue legal remedies under section 502(a) of the Act without exhausting your administrative remedies, as more completely set forth in section 503-1(l).

MK-1883 (09/15)

NOTICE OF PROTECTION PROVIDED BY LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE PROTECTION ASSOCIATION

This notice provides a brief summary of the Life and Health Insurance Protection Association ("the Association") and the protection it provides for policyholders. This safety net was created under Colorado law, which determines who and what is covered and the amounts of coverage.

The Association was established to provide protection in the unlikely event that your life, annuity or health insurance company becomes financially unable to meet its obligations and is taken over by its Insurance Department. If this should happen, the Association will typically arrange to continue coverage and pay claims, in accordance with Colorado law, with funding from assessments paid by other insurance companies.

The basic protections provided by the Association are:

- Life Insurance
  - $300,000 in death benefits
  - $100,000 in cash surrender or withdrawal values
- Health Insurance
  - $500,000 in hospital, medical and surgical insurance benefits
  - $300,000 in disability insurance benefits
  - $300,000 in long-term care insurance benefits
  - $100,000 in other types of health insurance benefits
- Annuities
  - $250,000 in withdrawal and cash values

The maximum amount of protection for each individual, regardless of the number of policies or contracts, is $300,000. Special rules may apply with regard to hospital, medical and surgical insurance benefits.

NOTE: Certain policies and contracts may not be covered or fully covered. For example, coverage does not extend to any portion(s) of a policy or contract that the insurer does not guarantee, such as certain investment additions to the account value of a variable life insurance policy or a variable annuity contract. There are also various residency requirements under Colorado law.

To learn more about the above protections, as well as protections relating to group contracts or retirement plans, please visit the Association's website at colorado.lhiga.com, email jkelldorf@gmail.com or contact:

Insurance companies and agents are not allowed by Colorado law to use the existence of the Association or its coverage to encourage you to purchase any form of insurance. When selecting an insurance company, you should not rely on Association coverage. If there is any inconsistency between this notice and Colorado law, then Colorado law will control.

(iv) The Sales Tax shall not be imposed on the sale of tangible personal property at retail or the furnishing of services if the transaction has been previously subjected to a sales or use tax lawfully imposed on the purchaser or user by another statutory or home rule county equal to or in excess of the amount imposed by Section 6 (a) hereof. A credit shall be granted against the Sales Tax payable with respect to such transaction equal in amount to the lawfully imposed sales or use tax previously paid by the purchaser or user to such other statutory or home rule county, provided that such credit shall not exceed the amount of the Sales Tax imposed by Section 6 (a) hereof.

(c) Determination of Place at Which Sales are Consummated. For the purpose of this Resolution, all retail sales are sourced as specified in section 39-26-104 (3), C.R.S. The amount subject to the Sales Tax shall not include the amount of any state sales and use tax imposed by article 26 of title 39, C.R.S.

(d) Collection, Administration and Enforcement. The collection, administration and enforcement of the Sales Tax shall be performed by the Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Revenue (the "Executive Director") in the same manner as the collection, administration and enforcement of the Colorado state sales tax. The provisions of article 26 of title 39, C.R.S. and all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by the Executive Director shall govern the collection, administration, and enforcement of the Sales Tax.

(e) Vendor Fee. No vendor fee shall be permitted or withheld with respect to the collection and remittance of the Sales Tax.

7. Distribution of Sales Tax Revenue. The proceeds from the collection of the Sales Tax shall be administered in the following manner:

(a) Forty percent (40%) of all revenue collected pursuant to this resolution shall be distributed as follows: unless otherwise requested by a city or town, the forty percent allocated under this subsection shall be automatically remitted to the cities, towns and the County in the same proportion as is the ratio of Sales Tax collected within the city, town or unincorporated area of the County to the total County Sales Tax collections, as computed from information provided by the Colorado Department of Revenue. The revenue from the Sales Tax must be used by the jurisdiction for improvements to or the building of road and bridge projects within the jurisdiction. If a city or town does not wish to accept its proportional share of revenue from the Sales Tax, that Sales Tax revenue shall be allocated to the County and must be used by the County for improvements to or the building of road and bridge projects within the County. All revenue received by the County under this sub-section shall be deposited in the County's road and bridge fund, and all revenue and expenditures from the Sales Tax shall be accounted for.

(b) Sixty percent (60%) of all revenue collected pursuant to this resolution shall be used by Adams County for use on existing and new Adams County government facilities. No portion of the sixty percent allocated under this sub-section will be distributed to cities or towns. All revenue received under this sub-section shall be deposited in the County's Capital Facilities Fund, and all revenue and expenditures from the Sales Tax shall be accounted for.

8. If a majority of the votes cast on the issue of permanently extending the Sales Tax are in favor of such ballot issue, the County Clerk and Recorder shall provide a notice of adoption of this Resolution, together with a certified copy of this Resolution, to the Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Revenue at least forty-five (45) days prior to January 1, 2021.

9. For the purposes of C.R.S. § 1-11-203.5, this Resolution shall serve to set the ballot title for the ballot issue set forth herein, and the ballot title for such ballot issue shall be the text of the ballot issue itself.

10. The officers and employees of the County are hereby authorized and directed to take all action necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of this Resolution.

11. The rate of the Sales Tax and the deposit of revenues collected from the Sales Tax as set forth in this Resolution shall not be amended, altered, or otherwise changed unless first submitted to a vote of the registered electors of the County for their approval or rejection. Other provisions of this Resolution may be amended as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Resolution by resolution adopted by the Board of County Commissioners in accordance with law.

12. All actions not inconsistent with the provisions of this Resolution heretofore taken by the members of the Board and the officers and employees of the County and directed toward holding the election for the purposes stated herein are hereby ratified, approved and confirmed.

13. All prior acts, orders or resolutions, or parts thereof, by the County inconsistent or in conflict with this Resolution are hereby repealed to the extent only of such inconsistency or conflict.

16. This Resolution shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Chair of the Board of County Commissioners is authorized to execute said Intergovernmental Agreement.

INTERGOVERNMENTAL AGREEMENT BETWEEN ADAMS COUNTY AND SOUTHEAST WELD FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT REGARDING DISBURSEMENT OF CORONAVIRUS AID, RELIEF AND ECONOMIC SECURITY ACT FUNDS

THIS INTERGOVERNMENTAL AGREEMENT ("Agreement"), is made this _____ day of July, 2020, by and between Adams County, Colorado, located at 4430 S. Adams County Parkway, Brighton, CO 80601 ("County") and Southeast Weld County Fire Protection District located at 95 W. Broadway St., Keenesburg, CO ("District") for the purpose of disbursing funds provided by the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, P.L. 116-136 ("CARES").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Section 18(2) of Article XIV of the Colorado Constitution and Sections 29-1-201, et seq. and 29-20-105 of the Colorado Revised Statutes authorize and encourage governments to cooperate by contracting with one another for their mutual benefit; and,

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic has created myriad economic distress and unanticipated costs in American society to individuals and families, to businesses, and to the state and local governments addressing the pandemic's effects; and,

WHEREAS, Congress recently enacted CARES to provide relief funds to individuals, businesses, and state and local governments; and,

WHEREAS, CARES allows the County to directly receive funds for costs incurred in fighting and ameliorating the effects of COVID-19; and,

WHEREAS, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the County wishes to disburse to District, and District wishes to receive from County, CARES funds for COVID-19 related costs incurred by District.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants contained herein, the Parties agree as follows:

I. FUNDING

CARES funds are allocated based on the percentage of the population in a given state that resides in the jurisdiction requesting direct funding from the federal government. County is similarly allocating CARES funds based on the percentage of the County population residing in each fire district. The spreadsheet attached as Exhibit A, and incorporated herein, shows the amount of CARES funds available to each Adams County fire district.

County will disburse to District the funds allocated to District in Exhibit A in a single payment. The payment will be disbursed to District only after County receives an invoice from District for the payment. District understands and agrees that the County's obligation to disburse these CARES funds is expressly contingent upon the County receiving said funds from the federal government. In the event the federal government fails to remit said funds, or reduces said funds, the County may reduce or terminate its payment accordingly. No Adams County funds shall be encumbered or involved in this Agreement.

District must submit reports on the expenditure of its CARES funds, including the amount and purpose of each expenditure, to County monthly. Any CARES funds not spent by December 4, 2020, shall be returned to the County so that the County's obligation to return unspent CARES funds to the Federal Treasury may be timely fulfilled.

II. SCOPE OF PROJECT AND ACCOUNTING

CARES funds shall be spent solely for the COVID-19 related costs set forth in CARES. CARES imposes expenditure and accounting obligations upon local governments receiving CARES funds. District agrees to be solely responsible for ensuring that it spends and accounts for the CARES funds received from the County in strict compliance with CARES requirements. Because CARES is recent legislation, the parties anticipate that additional federal legislation, rules, and regulations may be promulgated regarding the expenditure and accounting requirements. District shall familiarize itself with, and shall adhere to, all current and subsequent legislation, rules, and regulations. In the event of non-compliance with its legislative and regulatory mandates, the federal government may seek reimbursement of funds it deems were not spent in compliance with its legislation and rules. In the event the federal government seeks reimbursement of funds spent by District, District shall be solely responsible for reimbursing said funds, and, in the event the federal government seeks reimbursement of funds spent by District from County, District shall reimburse County for any funds returned by County on District's behalf within thirty days of County's reimbursement.

III. PUBLIC NECESSITY

The Parties agree that the work performed pursuant to this Agreement is necessary for the health, safety, comfort, convenience, and welfare of all the people in Adams County in the fight against COVID-19.

IV. LIABILITY

Each party hereto shall be responsible for any suits, demands, costs or actions at law resulting from its own acts or omissions and may insure against such possibilities as appropriate.

The Parties hereto understand and agree that the District, the County, their officers and employees are relying on, and do not waive or intend to waive by any provision of the Agreement, the monetary limitations or any other rights, immunities, and protections provided by the Colorado Governmental Immunity Act, C.R.S. 24-10-101 et seq., as from time-to-time amended, or otherwise available to either party, their officers, or their employees.

V. NOTICES

A. WHEREAS, Congress recently enacted the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, P.L. 116-136 ("CARES") to provide relief funds to individuals, businesses, and state and local governments; and,

WHEREAS, CARES allows the County to directly receive funds for costs incurred in fighting and ameliorating the effects of COVID-19; and,

WHEREAS, pursuant to the terms of the Intergovernmental Agreement Between Adams County and Sable-Altura Fire Rescue District Regarding Disbursement of Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act Funds, the County wishes to disburse to District, and District wishes to receive from County, CARES funds for COVID-19 related costs incurred by District.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Commissioners, County of Adams, State of Colorado, that the Intergovernmental Agreement Between Adams County and Sable-Altura Fire Rescue District Regarding Disbursement of Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act Funds, is hereby approved.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Chair of the Board of County Commissioners is authorized to execute said Intergovernmental Agreement.

INTERGOVERNMENTAL AGREEMENT BETWEEN ADAMS COUNTY AND SABLE ALTURA FIRE RESCUE DISTRICT REGARDING DISBURSEMENT OF CORONAVIRUS AID, RELIEF AND ECONOMIC SECURITY ACT FUNDS

THIS INTERGOVERNMENTAL AGREEMENT ("Agreement"), is made this 19th day of August, 2020, by and between Adams County, Colorado, located at 4430 S. Adams County Parkway, Brighton, CO 80601 ("County") and Sable Altura Fire Rescue District located at 26900 E. Colfax Ave. #52, Aurora, CO ("District") for the purpose of disbursing funds provided by the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, P.L. 116-136 ("CARES").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Section 18(2) of Article XIV of the Colorado Constitution and Sections 29-1-201, et seq. and 29-20-105 of the Colorado Revised Statutes authorize and encourage governments to cooperate by contracting with one another for their mutual benefit; and,

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic has created myriad economic distress and unanticipated costs in American society to individuals and families, to businesses, and to the state and local governments addressing the pandemic's effects; and,

WHEREAS, Congress recently enacted CARES to provide relief funds to individuals, businesses, and state and local governments; and,

WHEREAS, CARES allows the County to directly receive funds for costs incurred in fighting and ameliorating the effects of COVID-19; and,

WHEREAS, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the County wishes to disburse to District, and District wishes to receive from County, CARES funds for COVID-19 related costs incurred by District.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants contained herein, the Parties agree as follows:

I. FUNDING

CARES funds are allocated based on the percentage of the population in a given state that resides in the jurisdiction requesting direct funding from the federal government. County is similarly allocating CARES funds based on the percentage of the County population residing in each fire district. The spreadsheet attached as Exhibit A, and incorporated herein, shows the amount of CARES funds available to each Adams County fire district.

County will disburse to District the funds allocated to District in Exhibit A in a single payment. The payment will be disbursed to District only after County receives an invoice from District for the payment. District understands and agrees that the County's obligation to disburse these CARES funds is expressly contingent upon the County receiving said funds from the federal government. In the event the federal government fails to remit said funds, or reduces said funds, the County may reduce or terminate its payment accordingly. No Adams County funds shall be encumbered or involved in this Agreement.

District must submit reports on the expenditure of its CARES funds, including the amount and purpose of each expenditure, to County monthly. Any CARES funds not spent by December 4, 2020, shall be returned to the County so that the County's obligation to return unspent CARES funds to the Federal Treasury may be timely fulfilled.

II. SCOPE OF PROJECT AND ACCOUNTING

CARES funds shall be spent solely for the COVID-19 related costs set forth in CARES. CARES imposes expenditure and accounting obligations upon local governments receiving CARES funds. District agrees to be solely responsible for ensuring that it spends and accounts for the CARES funds received from the County in strict compliance with CARES requirements. Because CARES is recent legislation, the parties anticipate that additional federal legislation, rules, and regulations may be promulgated regarding the expenditure and accounting requirements. District shall familiarize itself with, and shall adhere to, all current and subsequent legislation, rules, and regulations. In the event of non-compliance with its legislative and regulatory mandates, the federal government may seek reimbursement of funds it deems were not spent in compliance with its legislation and rules. In the event the federal government seeks reimbursement of funds spent by District, District shall be solely responsible for reimbursing said funds, and, in the event the federal government seeks reimbursement of funds spent by District from County, District shall reimburse County for any funds returned by County on District's behalf within thirty days of County's reimbursement.

III. PUBLIC NECESSITY

The Parties agree that the work performed pursuant to this Agreement is necessary for the health, safety, comfort, convenience, and welfare of all the people in Adams County in the fight against COVID-19.

IV. LIABILITY

Each party hereto shall be responsible for any suits, demands, costs or actions at law resulting from its own acts or omissions and may insure against such possibilities as appropriate.

The Parties hereto understand and agree that the District, the County, their officers and employees are relying on, and do not waive or intend to waive by any provision of the Agreement, the monetary limitations or any other rights, immunities, and protections provided by the Colorado Governmental Immunity Act, C.R.S. 24-10-101 et seq., as from time-to-time amended, or otherwise available to either party, their officers, or their employees.

V. NOTICES

A. Any notices, demands, or other communications required or permitted to be given by any provision of this Agreement shall be given in writing, delivered personally or sent by registered mail, postage prepaid and return receipt requested, addressed to Parties at the addresses set forth below or at such other address as either party may hereafter or from time to time designate by written notice to the other party given when personally delivered or mailed, and shall be considered received in the earlier of either the day on which such notice is actually received by the party to whom it is addressed or the third day after such notice is mailed.

XIII. APPROPRIATIONS

Notwithstanding any other term, condition, or provision herein, each and every obligation of the Parties stated in this Agreement is subject to the requirement of a prior appropriation of funds therefor by the appropriate governing body of the District and/or the County.

XIV. NO THIRD PARTY BENEFICIARIES

It is expressly understood and agreed that enforcement of the terms and conditions of this Agreement, and all rights of action relating to such enforcement, shall be strictly reserved to the Parties, and nothing contained in this Agreement shall give or allow any such claim or right of action by any other or third person on such Agreement. SUMMARY OF APPLICATION

Background

The applicant, Pioneer Water Pipeline, LLC (a subsidiary of Expedition Water Solutions Colorado, LLC) is requesting a conditional use permit to allow construction of a new pipeline system. The pipeline will measure 4-12 inches in diameter, and the applicant has designed the Project to allow for expansion and additional capacity in the future if there is a need and economic feasibility to serve additional oil and gas facilities. According to the applicant, the request to allow construction of the pipeline is to transport produced water from oil and gas production facilities. The pipeline would reduce local truck traffic associated with transporting such materials by vehicles to the Expedition Water Solutions #6 Wastewater Injection and Disposal facility in Weld County. Wastewater injection is a process of disposing of fluid underground into geologic formations that can hold fluid. According to the applicant, it is estimated that oil and gas production facilities generate approximately half as much water as product, meaning that for every two barrels of product generated at an oil and gas production facility, an operator must dispose of one barrel of produced water. Without this Project, the operators of the oil and gas production facilities in Adams and Weld Counties that would be connected by the proposed pipeline would transport the water generated during production by truck. The applicant has cited that the construction of this project would create numerous benefits for the region, including: the reduction of an estimated 5,000,000 truck miles and over 50,000 truckloads per year on local roads; fewer repairs to streets and highways of the community; a reduction in the potential for traffic accidents; better air quality by reduced vehicle emissions and particulates, ozone, odors, and other air pollutants in the atmosphere; reduction of carbon emissions by 21,000 metric tons per year; and creation of 100 locally sourced jobs during construction, and approximately four permanent jobs once operational.

The Project would consist of construction of approximately 48.5 miles of high-density polyethylene (HDPE) produced water gathering pipelines and associated appurtenances in Adams and Weld Counties. Approximately 29 miles of pipeline is proposed in Weld County, and 19 miles of pipeline is proposed in Adams County. Of the 19 miles of pipeline proposed for Adams County, approximately 12 miles is proposed for unincorporated Adams County, affecting 42 parcels. The remaining 7 miles are proposed within the city limits of Brighton and Thornton.

The site plan provided with the application (Exhibit 3.1) shows the pipeline network will be interconnected between as many as fifteen existing well pad sites within Adams County. The easternmost point in Adams County of the pipeline network will be within the City of Brighton, near the intersection of Buckley Road and East 136th Avenue. The pipeline will continue westward on East 136th Avenue to Brighton Road. After crossing Brighton Road, the preferred pipeline route continues in a northwesterly direction along E-470 continuing just west of York Street. Along this portion of the pipeline, a spur continues northward beginning just to the east of Colorado Boulevard and stretches to connect several well pads in that area. Two additional segments of the pipeline network also impact unincorporated portions of Adams County. A section of the pipeline is proposed along the southern side of State Highway 7 between Colorado Boulevard and Quebec Street. At Quebec Street, the pipeline then crosses Highway 7 and continues north. An additional section of the network will begin along Riverdale Road and traverse northbound along the western side of Tucson Street before crossing into Weld County.

Development Standards and Regulations Requirements

The County's Development Standards and Regulations outlines requirements for a conditional use permit. Specifically, Section 2-02-08 of the County's Development Standards requires an applicant to demonstrate that the request for a conditional use permit is compatible with the surrounding area, not detrimental to the immediate area, all off-site impacts have been addressed, and that the site plan will provide the most convenient and functional use of the lots.

The subject request includes submittal information outlined in Section 6-07-02 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations pertaining to Areas and Activities of State Interest permits. This information is relevant for large-scale projects and addresses issues on environmental concerns, finance, and other relevant issues to address. Submittal items required and outlined in the Development Standards includes the following information:

- Detailed applicant information
- Extensive information regarding the project
- Information on property rights, permits, and other approvals
- Financial feasibility of the project
- Land use
- Local governmental services
- Financial burden on residents
- Local economy
- Environmental impact analysis: this includes analysis on water (surface and ground water), visual impacts, air quality, wetland and riparian areas, flora and fauna, soils, geologic conditions, and areas of paleontological, historic or archaeological importance.

Staff reviewed documentation submitted with the applications and has determined that the information provided adequately conforms to the requirements for Areas and Activities of State Interest. The application documents included information about the company and their financial ability to fund the project. Routing analysis submitted with the application also justified selection of the preferred routes. The preferred alignments are those that best minimize potential impacts on existing residential developments. In addition, most of the properties that the pipelines traverse through are predominately used for agriculture. The construction of the pipelines would not impede current or future uses of the surrounding properties. Staff reviewed environmental impact report included with the application and determined procedures and guidelines outlined in the report adequately demonstrate protection and preservation of water resources, visual impacts, air quality, wetland and riparian areas, flora and fauna, soils, geologic conditions, and areas of paleontological, historic or archaeological importance.

Per Section 6-07-02-03 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations, the applicant is required to submit a routing analysis with at least three alternative routes for each of the proposed pipelines. The applicant provided this information. According to the applicant, a preferred route was determined to have the least impacts on existing residential uses, as well as minimal impact on agriculturally utilized lands within unincorporated Adams County.

Development Agreement

As part of the conditional use permit application, the applicant has agreed to enter into a development agreement with the County for each of the proposed pipelines. The agreement covers multiple requirements, such as pre-construction approvals (which include stormwater, road crossing, and traffic control permits), documentation of standard operating procedures, and maintenance of the pipeline. In addition, the development agreement is required to address all comments from various review agencies. The development agreement conforms to the requirements.

The applicant will also be responsible to maintain all likely affected Adams County roadway infrastructure by cleaning the roads and repairing any damage. The agreement requires the pipeline route to be located out of future road right-of-ways. Any land disturbed by construction in the project area is also required to be restored. Finally, the agreement requires the developer to avoid areas where regional drainage improvements may occur. If avoiding such infrastructure is impossible, then the developer, at its own expense, will be required to relocate the pipeline whenever such drainage improvement occurs. The development agreement is attached to this report for review and consideration (see exhibit 6.7).

Future Land Use Designation/Goals of the Comprehensive Plan for the Area:

The preferred pipeline route affects seven future land use designations. Specifically, those designations are: Mixed-Use Neighborhood, Agriculture, Parks and Open Space, Mixed-Use Employment, Local District Mixed-Use, Commercial, and Estate Residential. Analysis of each of these future land use designations and their intended purposes are discussed below:

Goals of the Mixed-Use Neighborhood Future Land Use:

The Mixed Use Neighborhood future land use allows for a range of urban level residential uses, including single and multi-family housing combined with compatible and supporting uses and activities that serve the neighborhood and are developed and operated in harmony with the residential characteristics of a neighborhood. Seven of the nine parcels that the pipeline traverses are designated as Mixed-Use Neighborhood. Current land use activities on these parcels are agricultural with some existing and proposed oil and gas wells. The pipeline path would be located on the edges of the impacted parcels and outside any future road rights-of-way. Location of the pipeline would not hinder development of the properties or surrounding areas from achieving the goals of the Mixed-Use Neighborhood future land use designation.

Goals of the Mixed-Use Employment Future Land Use:

This land use category allows a mixture of employment uses, including offices, retail, and clean, indoor manufacturing, distribution, warehousing, and airport and technology uses. New Mixed-Use Employment areas are designated in locations that will have excellent transportation access and visibility but are not suitable for residential uses. Large swaths of properties around Denver International Airport, Front Range Airport, and the I-70 corridor are designated for future Mixed Use Employment to preserve future long-term opportunities for employment growth in these areas, but any future development in these areas should be phased and concentrated around where urban services and infrastructure are most readily available.

Goals of the Commercial Future Land Use:

Commercial areas are intended to serve either neighborhood or regional needs and can be comprised of a variety of uses, including retail sales, restaurants and other services, and professional and commercial offices. The primary objective of the Commercial land use designation is to support and attract businesses that provide employment opportunities, meet the needs of County residents and visitors, and contribute to the County's tax base. Commercial areas should be compatible with surrounding development, and located in areas with adequate transportation access, services, and public infrastructure. Building materials, architectural design, relationship to streets, sidewalks, and parking areas, should all contribute positively to the aesthetic character of the area.

Goals of the Agriculture Future Land Use:
The areas that have been identified as agricultural are those that are not expected to develop, except for limited areas of very low density residential at densities of 1 dwelling per 35 acres, for the foreseeable future. These areas are typically characterized by a lack of urban services.

Goals of the Estate Residential Future Land Use:
The Estate Residential future land designated areas are for single family housing at lower densities, typically no greater than 1 unit per acre, and compatible uses such as schools and parks. The main goal for the Estate Residential future land use areas is to provide limited opportunities for ex-urban or rural lifestyles in the County.

Goals of the Local District Mixed-Use Future Land Use:
The Local District Mixed-Use Designation is assigned for areas within the Historic Splendid Valley Plan. This area is an eclectic agricultural area established through a partnership with the City of Brighton and Adams County. The area is focused on preserving farmland and stimulating innovative opportunities that create closer connections between people, farming, and nature.

Goals of the Parks & Open Space Future Land Use:
The primary uses in this category are public parks, trails and open space. In most cases, land uses in this category will be open to the public. Development is limited to recreational facilities and maintenance and other facilities that serve the site. The primary objectives of these areas are to provide land for recreation and enjoyment, provide areas for wildlife, and preserve especially sensitive, beautiful, or historic areas.

The preferred pipeline has been designed (as indicated on the site plan, Exhibit 3.1) to not hinder development of the surrounding properties from achieving the goals of the associated future land use designation. Although some hindrance may be possible for future vertical development where the 10-foot wide easement is located, it is not expected to negatively impact the County's long-term goals in the area. The affected parcels can be developed in a manner consistent with the future land use designation goals.

Site Characteristics:
The preferred pipeline route will traverse through 42 properties in unincorporated Adams County. On its easternmost end, the route runs along the northern edge of East 136th Avenue between Brighton Road and Sable Boulevard. This region consists largely of vacant, agricultural, and rural residential uses. The region is part of the Historic Splendid Valley District. The route continues to west and enters unincorporated Adams County again along the edges of E-470 between the South Platte River and Colorado Boulevard. These areas are mostly vacant lands and rural residential uses. The route runs along the northern edge of the Ridge at Riverdale subdivision. Several pockets of the pipeline system are located north of East 152nd Avenue stretching to the Weld County line at East 168th Avenue. These three sections of the pipeline generally run in a north-south direction in the vicinities of Colorado Boulevard, Quebec Street, and Tucson Street. These three portions of the pipeline route are all characteristic of rural residential uses, agricultural, and vacant lands. The proposed produced water pipeline may have some initial impacts during construction but will ultimately reduce traffic and improve air quality in the region by eliminating the need for trucking of the produced water to the injection sites. Measures are included in the associated Development Agreement to reduce the impacts of the pipeline's construction process on nearby property owners.

Compatibility with the Surrounding Land Uses:

Most of the area surrounding the pipeline is comprised of agriculturally zoned and used properties, as well as single-family homes. According to the applicant, the pipeline would be buried and strategically placed along perimeters of properties and outside future road right-of-ways. This is to minimize potential impacts to surrounding properties. The proposed request would not negatively impact existing surrounding uses.

There are oil and gas developments existing or proposed in the immediate vicinity of the subject pipeline. This pipeline would service those oil and gas wells, which will substantially reduce truck traffic associated with transporting of products from the gas wells. In addition, the pipeline will support gathering, processing, and transporting oil and gas products from Adams County without causing impacts to the local transportation system.

Staff Recommendation:

Based upon the application, the criteria for conditional use permit approval, and a recent site visit, staff recommends approval of the conditional use permit with 33 findings-of-fact, 1 condition, and 1 note.

REFERRAL AGENCY COMMENTS

Responding with Comments or Concerns:

City of Thornton (Exhibit 4.2)

- Thornton requested the applicant to incorporate the design and alignment of the City of Thornton's 42-inch raw water pipeline into the design and alignment of the Pioneer Water Pipeline along Quebec Street between 160th and 168th. No conflicts are expected. The applicant will apply for a Floodplain Development Permit from the City of Thornton if work within a FEMA floodplain or other Special Hazard Area is Required. Additionally, the applicant will ensure that the applicable permits for right-of-way crossings within the City of Thornton's jurisdiction have been approved by the City of Thornton's Infrastructure Department prior to construction. Prior to construction within Adams County, easements for parcels within Adams County will be provided prior to construction. The applicant has agreed that the pipeline will remain outside the City of Thornton's future rights-of-way for Highway 7, 152nd Avenue, Holly Street, Quebec Street, and 156th Avenue. The applicant also agreed that all utility crossings occur at near 90-degree angles when possible and be constructed following the City of Thornton's approval.

Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE) (Exhibit 4.3)

- CDPHE provided the applicant with a list of state requirements that must be met. The applicant provided a response to CDPHE stating that they will provide documentation that a Construction Permit has been obtained if necessary and will provide documentation of APEN submittal to CDPHE prior to construction.

Colorado Division of Parks & Wildlife (Exhibit 4.4)

- The Colorado Div. of Parks & Wildlife provided comments to the applicant to provide guidance for pre-construction and construction phases with the intention of protecting burrowing owl and bald eagle populations. The applicant has incorporated these measures into the Development Agreement with Adams County.

E-470 Authority (Exhibit 4.5)

a. The E-470 Authority provided comments to the application regarding permitting and operational procedures for the construction and post-construction phases of the project. The applicant provided reassurance to MWRD that the two projects will not intersect. MWRD provided no further comments after the applicant's response.

Xcel Energy (Exhibit 4.8)

- Xcel Energy stated their company has electric transmission infrastructure that could be impacted by the proposed project. The development agreement requires the applicant to comply with Xcel Energy's requirements.

1.2 Project Description

The Project would consist of construction of approximately 48.5 miles of 4- to 12 inch-diameter high-density polyethylene (HDPE) produced water gathering pipelines and associated appurtenances in Adams and Weld counties, Colorado. Approximately 29.3 miles of pipeline would be located in Weld County, and 19.2 miles of pipeline would be located in Adams County. Approximately 12.3 miles will be in unincorporated Adams County. Within Adams County, the Project would traverse the municipalities of Brighton and Thornton. A Project Overview Map is provided as Figure 1 and an Adams County Project Map is provided as Figure 2. A detailed Project description is included in Section 2.3. Alignment sheets are included as Exhibit A.

1.3 Project History

Pioneer attended a Conceptual Review meeting with the Adams County Department of Community Planning and Development (PRE2019-00065) on July 22, 2019. The Adams County Department of Community Planning and Development advised Pioneer that the Project would be subject to the County's CUP review and approval. In addition, Pioneer was notified that the CUP application must also address and include submittal requirements for the AASI permit (Section 3) and a Natural Resources Conservation Overlay (NRCO) Review if the Project impacts up to an acre of land in the NRCO Review (Exhibit B).

Copies of the Adams County Department of Community Planning and Development Conceptual Review comments and the sections of this document that respond to those questions are included in Exhibit C. Table B-1 in Exhibit C also includes responses to the Development Conceptual Review comments and a reference matrix that details the specific section of this document where additional information can be found addressing each of the review comments.

1.4 Purpose and Need

The purpose of the Project is to allow more efficient pipeline transportation of produced water from oil and gas production facilities in Adams and Weld counties to Expedition's existing EWS #6 wastewater injection and disposal facility, thereby also significantly reducing truck traffic. Wastewater injection is a process of disposing of fluid underground into geologic formations that are capable of holding fluid. EWS #6 accepts water 24 hours per day and is able to dispose of 25,000 barrels (1,050,000 gallons) of water per day with the ability to expand.

Pioneer estimates that oil and gas production facilities generate approximately half as much water as product, meaning that that for every two barrels of product generated at an oil and gas production facility, an operator much dispose of one barrel of produced water. Without this Project, the operators of the oil and gas production facilities in Adams and Weld counties that would be connected by the proposed pipeline would transport the water generated during production to EWS #6 by truck (Illustration 1). Permits for the oil and gas facilities are described in additional detail in Section 2.3.2. Pioneer expects that the Project would have the following beneficial effects:

- Traffic: Construction of the Project would remove the equivalent of 5 million truck miles and over 50,000 truckloads per year on local roads.

- Infrastructure: The removal of these trucks from local road means fewer repairs and longer life for the streets and highways of the community.
- Safety: The removal of heavy truck miles from local roads would reduce the potential for traffic accidents.
- Air Quality: Removal of truck traffic reduces vehicle emissions and the quantity of particulates, ozone, odors, and other air pollutants in the atmosphere.
- Sustainability: Completion of the 100 percent electric-powered Project would reduce carbon emissions by 21,000 metric tons per year.
- Community Revenue: The Project anticipates providing approximately $500,000 per year in new tax revenue to the community, directly benefitting public schools among other public services.
- Jobs: The Project is expected to create 100 locally sourced jobs during construction, and approximately four permanent jobs once operational.

Pioneer has designed the Project to allow for expansion and additional capacity in the future if there is a need and economic feasibility to connect additional oil and gas facilities.

1.5 Regulatory Overview

Pioneer would ensure the Project obtains applicable land use, environmental, and construction permits, and would ensure permit conditions are met prior to the start of construction. Refer to Section 3.4.2 for additional information on permitting for the Project.

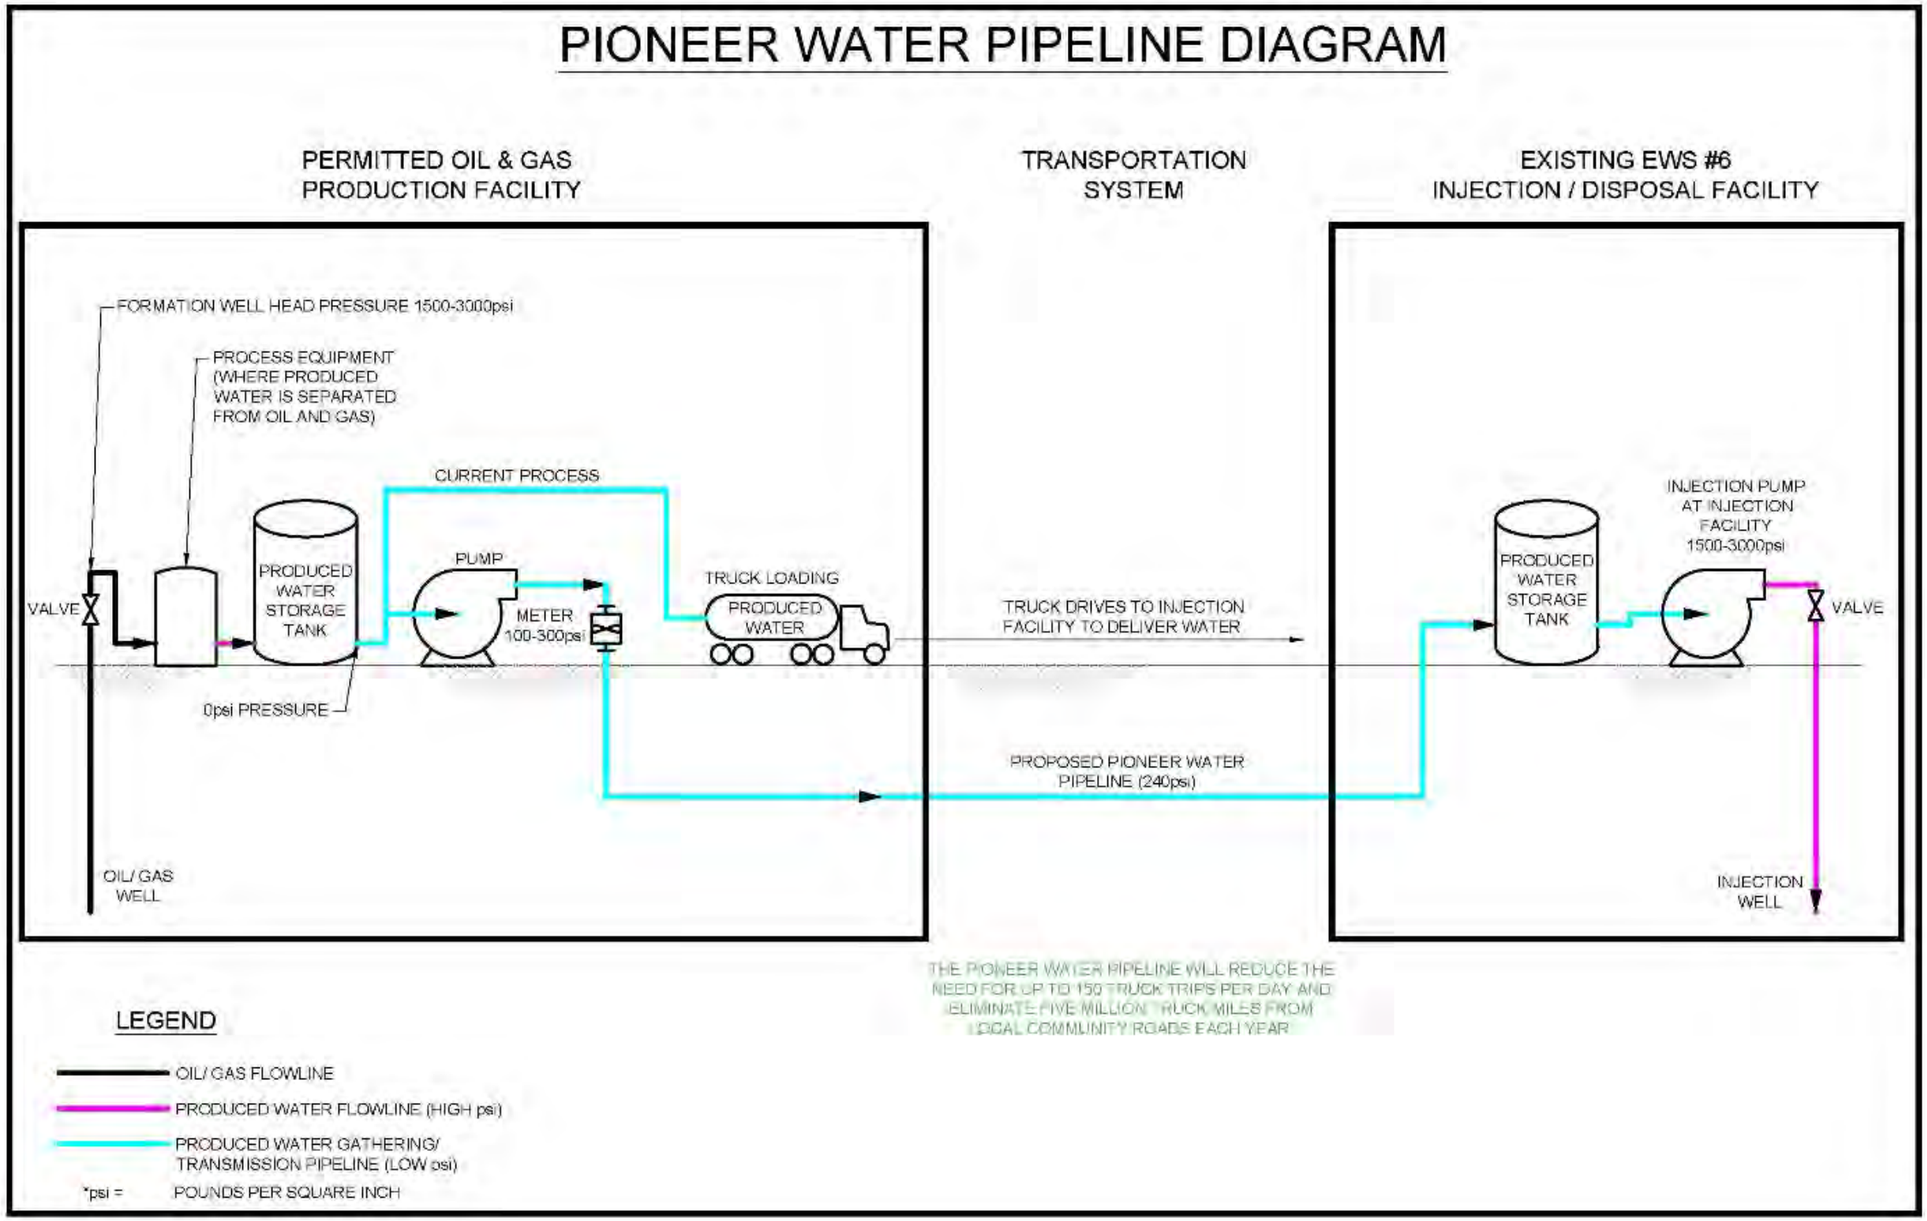

Illustration 1: Current and Proposed Method of Produced Water Transportation from Oil and Gas Production Facilities
Note: The Project would transport the produced water via pipeline; without the Project, the produced water would be transported by truck.

2. Conditional Use Permit Application Requirements

2.1 Development Application Form and CUP Checklist

The Adams County Development Application and AASI and CUP Checklists are included as part of this permit package as an attachment to the cover letter.

2.2 Application Fees

The $1,000.00 application fee for the CUP permit and the $360.00 Tri-County Health Department review fee are included with this application.

2.3 Written Explanation of the Project

2.3.1 Project Overview

The Project consists of construction and operation of approximately 19.2 miles of new produced water gathering pipelines in Adams County (Figures 1–2). Of the 19.2 miles in Adams County, approximately 12.3 miles are within unincorporated Adams County, and the remaining 6.9 miles are within the jurisdictional boundaries of the City of Brighton and City of Thornton. The City of Thornton and the City of Brighton would review the portions of the Project within municipal limits.

The Project is designed to transport produced water from 16 oil and gas production facilities located within Adams County and operated by Great Western Petroleum, LLC (see Section 2.3.2 for additional information about oil and gas production facility permits). An additional 29.3 miles of pipeline and connections to six additional oil and gas production facilities would be located within Weld County.

Produced water, also known as wastewater, is recovered as byproduct that is brought to the surface during oil and gas production. Oil, gas, and produced water leaves the well head at pressures up to 3,000 pounds per square inch (psi). The content of produced water varies with the formation where the water originates, but is generally high in salts with trace amounts of other minerals. After being brought to the surface, produced water is stored at the permitted oil and gas facilities in a storage tank. From the storage tank, the Project would transport the produced water via pipeline to Expedition's existing EWS #6 wastewater injection and disposal facility in Weld County. The pipeline would transport the produced water at a maximum pressure of approximately 240 psi until it reaches a storage tank at EWS #6. The maximum allowable pressure of the Pioneer Water Pipeline Project will be 333 psi. Expedition would increase the water pressure again at EWS #6 before it is injected underground.

2.3.2 Oil and Gas Production Facilities

Sixteen of the 22 oil and gas production facilities that the Project would connect are located within Adams County. The remaining six oil and gas production facilities are located in Weld County. The pipeline will be capable of transporting approximately 39.2 thousand barrels per day, of which an estimated 33 thousand barrels per day would come from oil and gas production facilities in Adams County at peak flow. Table 3 identifies the permit status for the Adams County oil and gas production facilities.

USR = Use by Special Review

Great Western Petroleum, LLC would obtain Use by Special Review permits for the Sharp, Rico, and Henderson oil and gas production facilities from the Adams County Department of Community and Economic Development. Each Use by Special Review (USR) permit authorizes at least one produced water pipeline and associated appurtenances (pumps, valves, etc.) at the oil and gas production facility. Great Western Petroleum, LLC would assign the right to construct the produced water pipeline to Pioneer. Pioneer would construct the pipeline and appurtenances associated with the Project within the limits of the permitted well pad. This application therefore excludes Project facilities within the well pad. Pioneer would not construct the facilities at these locations until a USR permit has been issued to Great Western Petroleum, LLC.

2.3.3 Pipelines

The Project would consist of construction of approximately 48.5 miles of 4- to 12 inch-diameter HDPE produced water gathering pipelines and associated appurtenances in Adams and Weld counties. Pioneer is seeking a permanent easement for its pipelines that is approximately 10 feet wide as well as an additional 30 feet of temporary easement for pipeline construction.

The pressure and capacity of produced water pipelines is dependent on the distance from the pipeline origin (at each oil and gas production facility). The temperature of the produced water when it is extracted from the ground is high (close to formation temperature) and it cools and contracts as it travels through pipelines away from the well head. The Project pipelines would operate at an estimated 240 psi but may operate at a higher pressure depending on temperature. The maximum allowable pressure will be 333 psi. Pioneer would control pressure and monitor temperature using remotely operated valves located along the Project route. Illustration 1 in Section 1.4 of this document provides a graphical representation of the pipeline from the permitted oil and gas production facilities to EWS#6. Table 4 and Figures 1 and 2 provide the pipeline segment names, diameters, and total length of each within unincorporated Adams County. Brighton and Thornton would review and approve the remaining approximately 6.9 miles of pipeline in Adams County. Section 3.6 provides information on existing land use and zoning districts crossed by the Project.

To date, Pioneer has conducted a detailed routing effort to identify a preferred route. Pioneer is currently in the final stages of civil survey and anticipates finalizing landowner agreements and survey by the end of March 2020. The Project route may undergo minor route changes within the same parcels currently crossed by the Project as survey has been completed and landowner agreements are finalized. Pipeline construction often results in minor changes to the pipeline centerline within the permanent easement as a result of information gathered during construction. Pioneer would alert Adams County if information gathered in the field resulted in a change in the permanent and easement and would provide as-built spatial data identifying the pipeline centerline to Adams County upon completion of construction.

Pioneer's construction contractor would install the pipeline using mechanically excavated open-cut trenching techniques. The pipeline would be buried at a depth of 48 inches of cover or more. Pioneer's construction contractor would string pipe segments along the ditch line, fuse sections together using thermal fusion, and lower the pipeline into the open cut ditches. Each fusion joint would be logged by a data recorder with the results audited by qualified technicians, then lowered into the trench and backfilled. Upon completion of construction, the pipeline would be hydrostatically pressure tested to industry standards prior to operations.

Pioneer routed the Project to make use of existing rights-of-way (ROWs), property boundaries, and utility corridors associated with the oil and gas production facilities to the extent possible. Pioneer would obtain Adams County road ROW permits as required prior to construction, and the pipeline would only cross county road ROWs at or near a perpendicular angle. Pioneer has received preliminary approval to install pipelines within the E-470 Public Highway Authority ROW. Pioneer would obtain easements where the pipeline would cross private property. The pipeline would cross parcel 157123401001, which is owned by Adams County (reference Section 2.6). Additional information about the routing process is included in Section 3.3.2.

Pioneer proposes to cross state highways, county roads, railroads, and wetlands and streams and other existing infrastructure where practicable via horizontal directional drilling (HDD) to mitigate impacts to infrastructure and sensitive resources to the maximum extent practicable. Table 5 lists the county and state road crossings where the pipeline would be installed using HDD within Adams County. Section 3.11.5 describes Pioneer's commitment to avoiding impacts to wetlands and surface waters. The crossings listed in Table 5 are also depicted on Figure 3. Typical road and culvert crossings are provided in Exhibit D. Pioneer would repair or replace any Adams County infrastructure damaged during construction of the Project to pre-construction conditions.

2.3.4 Aboveground Appurtenances and Construction Laydown Areas

Construction of the pipelines would require an approximately 10-foot-wide permanent easement plus an additional 30-foot-wide temporary easement for a total construction corridor of 40 feet in width. Appurtenant aboveground facilities such as isolation valves, pumps, and cleaning tool launcher and receivers would be located at the existing oil and gas production facilities. Approximately five aboveground appurtenances consisting of three mainline valve sets and two cleaning tool launchers or receivers would be located on private easements within unincorporated Adams County. Pioneer would site aboveground appurtenances outside of floodplains and outside of Adams County ROWs on private land. Easement negotiations for the aboveground locations are currently underway. Final locations of valves and other appurtenances would be provided to the Adams County Department of Community and Economic Development prior to public hearings.

Pioneer would design the project to be remotely operated through an automated supervisory control and data acquisition (SCADA) system. In the event of a leak or other unsafe condition, the SCADA system would automatically close valves and stop the flow of produced water.

Pioneer would use exiting laydown areas in Weld County and at EWS #6 to stage equipment and materials for Project construction. Pioneer does not anticipate using additional temporary workspaces in unincorporated Adams County besides those located along the pipeline route (see Exhibit A for the locations) that would be used to excavate trench, fuse pipeline segments, deliver the HDD equipment and pipe segments, excavate HDD entry and receiving pits, temporarily stockpile excavated soil from the pits, and serve as laydown for pipe segments. Pioneer's construction contractor would backfill, compact, and restore and revegetate the pipeline trench upon completion of the pipe installation. Following construction, the contractor would return temporary workspaces to pre-construction conditions.

2.3.5 Project Construction and Operation Safety

Pioneer is committed to safety and the Project would comply with all federal, state, and local rules and regulations to provide safe, reliable service. The Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission (COGCC) would regulate the Project under the COGCC Series 1100 rules for flowlines (Series 1100 Rules), which references various technical standards and design, installation, construction reclamation, and operating/integrity management requirements. The Series 1100 Rules require Pioneer to submit a Flowline Report (Form 44) within 90 days of placing the Project into active status. Form 44 would include the location and specifications of the Project. The COGCC would have the authority to inspect the Project, and Pioneer would be required to notify the COGCC of the location of the Project within 30 days of construction.

Pioneer's parent company, Expedition, is rated Platinum by Independent Energy Standards, which place Expedition in the top 10 percent of similar companies for safety, environmental stewardship, and responsibility. Expedition's Occupational Safety and Health Administration's Form 300, "Summary of Work-Related Injuries and Illnesses," is included with this application as Exhibit E.

In the event of an emergency, the Project's SCADA system would automatically stop flow in the pipelines. Emergency response procedures would be described in an Emergency Response Plan for the Project, which can be provided to Adams County upon request.

2.3.6 Impact Avoidance and Minimization

Pioneer would design the Project to minimize impacts to sensitive resources and existing infrastructure such as utilities and roadways through the use of HDD. County and public road crossings would be constructed using HDD. Major construction activities for construction the Project would include staging materials, pipeline trenching and road crossing, pipeline installation, pressure-testing, backfilling, and restoration.

2.4 Construction Schedule

Pioneer proposes to begin construction activities in Weld County as early as March 2020 and in Adams County in fall 2020. Construction is expected to take approximately 6 months, with the Project fully in-service by the first quarter of 2021. Table 6 summarizes the Project's anticipated schedule in Adams County.

Table 6:
Project Schedule

Project Schedule Milestone	Approximate Milestone Date

CUP Application Filed with Adams County	February 2020
Anticipated Adams County Planning Commission Hearing	June 2020
Anticipated Board of County Commissioners (BOCC) Hearing	July 2020
Anticipated Development Agreement Signed by BOCC	July 2020
Begin Construction Adams County	July 2020
Pipeline Testing	Late Fall 2020
Project In-Service	First Quarter 2021

2.5 Site Plan Showing Proposed Development

An overview of the Project is included as Figure 1. An Adams County overview map is provided as Figure 2. Alignment sheets according to CUP Application standards showing existing and proposed improvements for the gathering system are provided as Exhibit A.

2.6 Proof of Ownership (Warranty Deed or Title Policy)

Pioneer would secure applicable easements and executed ROW agreements with landowners authorizing the right to construct, operate, and maintain the Project on privately and publicly owned properties. Pioneer would execute agreements with property owners and would record these agreements with the Adams County Clerk and Recorders Office prior to the commencement of construction activities. At this time, easements are in place for a majority of the Project route within Adams County. Pioneer would provide easements to Adams County for the Project prior to construction.

The pipeline would cross one Adams County-owned parcel (parcel #157123401001) via HDD, and Pioneer has contacted Adams County to obtain a license agreement from Adams County Real Property division. The License Agreement would not inhibit Adams County's continued use of this parcel as open space and South Platte River Trail.

Pioneer would obtain Adams County road ROW permits from Adams County as required prior to construction, and the pipeline would only cross county road ROWs at or near a perpendicular angle. A map depicting unincorporated Adams County road crossings is included as Figure 3. A list of parcels within unincorporated Adams County on which the Project would be located is included in Exhibit F.

2.7 Proof of Water and Sewer Services

2.7.1 Water Services

Pioneer's construction contractor would use water during construction for dust suppression, weed control, soil conditioning, and testing of the pipeline. Pioneer's construction contractor would obtain water under permit or delivered to the site as needed from local supplier and would not require a municipal water supply. Additional information is available in Section 3.4.4.

2.7.2 Sewer Services

The operation of the Project would not require water or sanitary services. Temporary sanitary facilities would be provided for construction workers along the pipeline ROW during construction.

2.8 Proof of Utilities (e.g., Electric, Gas)

A utility connection is not required to construct or operate the Project.

2.9 Legal Description

Exhibit A shows parcels crossed by the Project and their legal descriptions.

2.10 Certificate of Taxes Paid

Prior to commencement of construction activities, Pioneer would obtain applicable easements and executed ROW agreements for the pipeline. As easement holder, Pioneer is not responsible for the payment of property taxes on the parcels; they remain the responsibility of the landowner.

2.11 Certificate of Notice to Mineral Estate Owners/and Lessees

Pursuant to Colorado Revised Statues (CRS) Section 24-65.5-102 (2)(a), a pipeline does not constitute an "application for development" that would trigger the requirements of the Surface Development Notification Act, CRS Section 24-65.5-101; therefore, these requirements are not applicable to the Project.

2.12 Notice of Surface Development

Pursuant to CRS Section 24-65.5-102 (2)(a), a pipeline does not constitute an "application for development" that would trigger the requirements of the Surface Development Notification Act, CRS Section 24-65.5-101; therefore, these requirements are not applicable to the Project.

2.13 Supplemental CUP Information

2.13.1 Neighborhood Meeting Summary

Pioneer held a neighborhood meeting in accordance with the ACDSR from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, December 10, 2019, at Todd Creek Golf Club (8455 Heritage Dr., Thornton, CO 80602). The purpose of the neighborhood meeting was to provide the community a description of the Project and answer related questions from the attendees. A copy of the notification, neighborhood meeting materials, and a summary of the neighborhood meeting is provided in Exhibit G.

3.2.2 Authorization of Application by the Project Owner (If Different than the Applicant)

Not applicable.

3.2.3 Qualifications of Individuals Directly Related to the Proposed Project and Applicant's Financial and Technical Capability

Pioneer's parent company, Expedition, is a private-equity backed leading midstream produced water infrastructure company in the Rockies, and has expanded its revolving credit facility to $100 million. Cadence Bank served as lead arranger and administrative agent. The increased facility would fund Expedition's continued pipeline and facilities growth initiatives to service long-term, contracted customers in the Denver–Julesburg, Green River and Powder River Basins. The syndicated bank group also includes UMB, First Horizon and Woodforest.

Founded in 2013, Expedition has grown from a single disposal facility to a multi-basin company today with a capacity of more than 150,000 barrels a day. Expedition has constructed and manages 17 disposal wells and over 300 acres of evaporative pond capacity in Colorado and Wyoming. Expedition's commitment to build and maintain high-volume facilities enables it to grow with its customers while bringing tangible benefits to communities in which it operates.

Spence McCallie is the lead engineer for Pioneer Water Pipeline. Mr. McCallie has more than 10 years of experience constructing produced water pipelines and more than 20 years of overall pipeline construction experience. Pioneer has contracted Spartan Engineering to provide additional expertise in safety, engineering, and construction of the pipeline. Spartan Engineering is a global full-service engineering company with centuries of combined engineering, design, and construction management experience for pipelines.

3.3 6-07-02-03. Information Describing the Project

3.3.1 Detailed Plans and Specifications of the Project

Please see Section 2.3 for Detailed Plans and Specifications of the Project.

3.3.2 Descriptions of Alternatives

Pioneer considered and eliminated several alternative routes prior to selecting the preferred route. The routing process began by identifying the pipeline beginning points (permitted oil and gas production facilities) and the terminus (EWS #6). Alternative routes were then selected to minimize potential impacts while meeting the pipeline's objective. Refer to Exhibit H for descriptions of the alternatives.

3.3.3 Schedules for Designing, Permitting, Constructing, and Operating the Project.

Pioneer will design and construct the Project to avoid impacts to existing land uses and the public to the extent practicable. Section 2.4 provides an estimated milestone schedule for the Project. A final schedule for construction activities would be developed at a later date. The sections below provide additional detail on temporary workspaces and phasing for construction of the Project.

3.3.3.1 Survey, Permitting, Landowner Negotiations, Work Zone Preperation

The preliminary work phase consists of activities that cannot be performed at the same time as pipeline construction, such as civil survey, permitting, landowner negotiations, and work zone preparation.

3.3.3.2 Pipeline Construction

Pioneer is seeking permanent easement that is approximately 10 feet wide and an additional 30 feet of temporary easement for pipeline construction. The pipeline construction would consist of trenching, assembling the pipeline, and placing the pipeline within the open trench, backfilling the trench, and restoring the land according to landowner agreements. Typical construction drawings depicting typical trench section views and HDD are included in Exhibit D. The work zone may move up to 5,000 feet per day. In addition, this phase would include pipeline HDD installation. Refer to Section 2.3.5 for information regarding temporary workspaces and staging areas.

3.3.3.3 Surface Restoration

Upon completion of the construction, Pioneer's restoration contractor would remove construction materials and debris from the site. Temporary workspaces would be re-contoured to pre-construction conditions. Disturbed areas where vegetation was removed by construction activities to an extent that it caused potential soil erosion would be treated with seedbed preparation techniques, re-seeded with an approved seed mixture, and mulched as necessary during the planting season according to landowner agreements.

The Project would utilize a Stormwater Management Plan (SWMP) for implementation of best management practices (BMPs) to mitigate soil erosion, control noxious weeds, and revegetate disturbed areas. The Project intersects approximately 2.8 miles of area designated within the Adams County Stormwater Permit Area. Therefore, Pioneer will likely be required to obtain an Adams County Stormwater Quality (SWQ) Permit for Construction. Mature vegetation would be actively avoided, although some vegetation would be impossible to avoid and therefore would be replaced per the property owner's reasonable request with a like species. Vegetation in public ROW would be replaced to Adams County standards for revegetation within the public ROW. If pavement is damaged by open-cut crossings, it would be restored to meet or exceed pre-construction existing conditions and comply with local standards. Pioneer would repair or replace any Adams County infrastructure damaged by construction of the Project to pre-construction conditions.

3.3.3.4 Testing and Commissioning

The commissioning phase consists of testing and cleaning the pipeline and associated facilities. Before the pipeline is put into service, it would undergo hydrostatic pressure testing, i.e., filled with water and tested to verify the structural integrity and workmanship of the pipeline. Additionally, the test would ensure that no leaks are present.

3.3.4 Purpose and Need

Refer to Section 1.4—Purpose and Need, of this application.

3.3.5 Construction and Operation Conservation Techniques

Construction of the Project would incorporate mitigation measures that would minimize impacts to water quality, water use, existing land uses, surrounding communities, cultural resources, and the natural environment. Pioneer would use a SWMP for implementation of BMPs to mitigate soil erosion, control noxious weeds, and revegetate disturbed areas.

3.4 6-07-02-04. Property Rights, Permits and Other Approvals

Pioneer would obtain all necessary federal, state, and local permits and approvals and obtain property rights for construction and operation of the Project. A description of property rights, permits, and approvals required is provided in the sections that follow.

3.4.1 Property Rights

Documentation of property rights would be provided to Adams County Department of Planning and Development prior to construction. Refer to Section 2.5—Proof of Ownership of this application for more details.

3.4.2 Federal, State, and Local Permits and Approvals

Table 7 lists the permits approvals anticipated to be required for the Project and the status of obtaining these permits. Construction of the Project would be performed in accordance with the applicable requirements as stipulated in the permits.

Table 7:
Potential Permits and Approvals

Regulatory Authority	Permit/Approval	Status
Federal Approvals
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE)	Federal Clean Water Act Section 404	Pioneer would hire a qualified contractor to perform wetland delineations in spring 2020, prior to construction. Pioneer would implement minor project layout adjustments, including minor route adjustments and the use HDD technology, to avoid unnecessary wetland impacts. If wetland impacts are unavoidable, Pioneer would obtain necessary permits and approvals from the USACE-Denver Regulatory Office prior to construction. The Project would likely qualify for a Nationwide Permit 12 for impacts related to linear transportation projects.
State of Colorado Approvals
Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE), Water Quality Control Division	Stormwater Discharges Associated with Construction Activity Authorization to Discharge under the Colorado Discharge Permit System (COR400000)	Pioneer would apply for coverage under COR400000 at least 10 days prior to construction in accordance with CDPHE requirements. Pioneer would also manage stormwater through implementation of a SWMP in accordance with Part I.C. of COR400000.
	General Permit for Construction Dewatering Discharges to Discharge under the Colorado Discharge Permit System (COG070000)	Pioneer would apply for coverage under COG070000 at least 30 days before the anticipated date of discharge as needed.
Colorado Division of Water Resources (CDWR), Groundwater Information and Well Permitting	Temporary Dewatering Permit (GWS-62 form)	Pioneer would obtain prior to construction as needed.

Table 7:
Potential Permits and Approvals

Regulatory Authority	Permit/Approval	Status
CDPHE, Water Quality Control Division	Water Quality Certification under Section 401 of the Clean Water Act	Pioneer would obtain in conjunction with Section 404 permits. Under the Colorado 401 Certification Regulation, all nationwide permits are certified by statue and do not require a certification.
Colorado Department of Transportation, Region 1	Driveway/ Access Permit	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.
	Utility/Special Use Permit for crossings of state and federal highways	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.
CDPHE, Air Pollution Control Division	General Construction Permit –Land Development Projects (GP03) for land development including but not limited to land preparation such as excavating or grading, for residential, commercial, or industrial development, or oil and gas exploration and production	Pioneer would obtain prior to construction as needed.
	Air Pollutant Emission Notice for construction activity that disturbs 25 acres of continuous land or more and/or lasts 6 months or more in duration	Pioneer would obtain prior to construction as needed.
Local Approvals
Adams County	Conditional Use Permit	Submitted to Adams County in February 2020.
	ROW Permit and Engineering Review for work in Adams County public ROW	Pioneer would apply for the ROW permit prior to CUP public hearings in spring 2020, and Pioneer would only cross county road ROWs at or near a perpendicular angle. New access to Adams County road ROW is not required for this Project. Pioneer does not anticipate obtaining an access permit from Adams County.
	Adams County Stormwater Quality (SWQ) Permit	The Project intersects approximately 2.8 miles of area designated within the Adams County Stormwater Permit Area. Therefore, Pioneer will likely be required to obtain an Adams County Stormwater Quality (SWQ) Permit for Construction.
Weld County	Right-of-Way Use Permit Application	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.
	Floodplain Development Permit	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.
E-470	Application for Pipeline or Wire Line – Crossing And/or Longitudinal for construction in, on, along, over, across, through or under E-470 property	Pioneer has received preliminary approval to install pipelines within the E-470 Public Highway Authority ROW based on in-person meetings with E-470 in fall 2019. Pioneer would apply for formal approval in spring 2020.
UPRR Railroad	Union Pacific Crossing/Encroachment Permit issued by the Union Pacific Railroad for utilities that cross or follow along the ROW	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.
City of Thornton	Special Use Permit[1]	Pioneer held a meeting with the City of Thornton on November 21, 2019, to discuss permitting requirements for the Project, and Pioneer provided additional information about the Project on February 14, 2020. To date, Thornton has not indicated whether the Project would require a land use permit. Pioneer would apply for the permit in March 2020 if required.

Table 7:
Potential Permits and Approvals

Regulatory Authority	Permit/Approval	Status
	Right-of-way Permit for road crossings.	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.
City of Brighton	Conditional Use Permit	Pioneer submitted an application in December 2019 and received comments on the application in early February 2020. Pioneer expects permit approval in late spring or early summer 2020.
City of Fort Lupton	Use by Special Review Permit	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.
Ditch Owners	Application for project review and crossing approval.	Pioneer to apply for permit in spring 2020.

1 Pioneer began conversations with Thornton on November 21, 2019, to determine whether City of Thornton permits are required for construction. At this time, Thornton is not requiring a land use permit.

3.4.3 Copies of Federal and State Consultation Correspondence and Mitigation Requirements and Environmental Impact Reporting

3.4.3.1 Federal and State Consultation Correspondence

Pioneer does not currently expect a federal or state approval is required for the Project as there is no federal nexus and there are no state consultation requirements at this time. The Project would be permitted through local jurisdictions. If the Project requires a federal permit (i.e., USACE) then the Project would coordinate and obtain the necessary permits and approvals prior to construction.

3.4.3.2 Mitigation Required by Federal, State, and Local Authorities

If mitigation measures are required as conditions of federal, state, or local permits issued for the Project, Pioneer would provide copies upon receipt.

3.4.4 Description of Water to Be Used by The Project

Dust suppression, weed control, soil conditioning, and hydrostatic testing of the pipeline would require water use during construction. The construction contractor would obtain appropriate permits for water appropriation and discharge, as required (Table 7). Water would be obtained from surface or groundwater under permit or delivered to the site as needed from local supplier as available. Approximately 680,000 gallons of water would be required for hydrostatic testing. Hydrostatic test water would be tested and disposed of according to the CDPHE General Permit for Construction Dewatering Discharges (COG070000) and returned to the source or injected at EWS #6 upon completion of hydrostatic testing. An additional 1.3 million gallons of water would be needed for dust suppression, weed control, and soil conditioning during construction.

3.5 6-07-02-05. Financial Feasibility of the Project

3.5.1 Estimated Construction Costs

The total estimated cost of the proposed Project is approximately $51 million. It is estimated approximately $27 million would be associated with construction in Adams County.

3.5.2 Contract or Agreement for Revenues or Services

The Project would be financed through private equity, with contractual agreements with local customers to provide minimum revenues. The details of contracts between Pioneer and its contractors to build the proposed Project have not been completed; contract details would be largely confidential.

3.5.3 Description of the persons or entity(ies) who shall pay for or use the Project and/or services produced by the Development and those who shall benefit from any and all revenues generated by it.

The purpose of the Project is to provide transportation of produced water from Great Western Petroleum, LLC oil and gas production facilities in Adams County to the existing injection facility at EWS #6. In addition, the proposed Project would reduce future truck use for wastewater transportation and provide safe and reliable service to Pioneer's customers. Pioneer anticipates that construction of this pipeline would reduce the need for up to 150 truckloads per day from Adams County roads and eliminate 5 million truck miles from local community roads each year of the of the predicted 50-year lifespan of the Project. Property tax revenue to Adams County generated by the proposed Project are estimated to be about $250,000 annually inclusive of all mill levy jurisdictions. Pioneer will pay about $319,000 in sales tax associated with construction of the Project.

The Project expects to directly benefit Great Western Petroleum LLC and its customers, Adams County, and indirectly benefit the public.

3.5.4 Cost of All Mitigation Measures Proposed for the Project.

The cost of mitigation, such as for HDD crossings of streams, roads, and drainages and avoidance sensitive resources, is included within the total estimated cost of the Project. The total cost for construction of the proposed Project in Adams County is approximately $27 million. Pioneer would bear 100 percent of mitigation costs.

3.5.5 Detailed description of Project Financing

Pioneer’s parent company, Expedition Water Solutions (Expedition) is a private-equity-backed leading midstream produced water infrastructure company in the Rockies, and has a revolving credit facility of $100 million. Cadence Bank (Cadence) served as lead arranger and administrative agent for the recent expansion of revolving credit. The increased facility would fund Expedition’s continued pipeline and facilities growth initiatives. The syndicated bank group also includes UMB, First Horizon, and Woodforest.

3.6 6-07-02-06. Land Use

3.6.1 Description of Existing Land Uses

Adams County zoning maps (11-21-2019) indicate the Project passes through six zoning classifications. The Project is overlaid on the Adams County Zoning classifications on Figure 4. Table 8 lists the zoning districts crossed by the Project and length in each zone. The Project meets the requirements of a Major Energy Facility, which is a conditional use in the zoned areas traversed by the Project.

Table 8:
Adams County Zone Districts Crossed by the Project.

Zone District	Zone Symbol	Length Crossed by the Project (miles
Agricultural-1 District	A-1	2.2
Agricultural-3 District	A-3	7.8
Planned Unit of Development	P-U-D	0.3
Proposed Planned Unit of Development	P-U-D(P)	1.2
Public Lands, Parks Open Space, and Facilities	PL	0.5
Residential Estate	R-E	0.5

Fifteen National Land Cover Database land cover classifications are crossed by the Project within Adams County (Figure 5): open water, developed open space, developed low intensity, developed medium intensity, developed high intensity, barren land, deciduous forest, evergreen forest, mixed forest, shrub/scrub, grassland/herbaceous, pasture/hay, cultivated crops, woody wetlands, and emergent herbaceous wetlands (Exhibit B, Figure 2).

3.6.2 Compliance with Provisions of Local Land Use Plans

The Imagine Adams County Adams County Comprehensive Plan (Adams County 2012a) outlines the County's objectives for future development within unincorporated areas of the County and in municipal growth areas. It establishes goals, policies, and strategies that would influence day-to-day decision-making regarding land use applications, capital improvement planning, and regional coordination efforts with other jurisdictions and agencies. Key goals, policies, and strategies related to the Project are discussed below.

Key Goal: Promote Coordinated and Connected Growth.

The Project would support the County's growing population and provide construction-related jobs. The Project would also serve to remove industrial traffic from County roads increasing safety within the County as it grows.

Key Goal: Protect the Health, Safety, and Welfare of Adams County's Inhabitants.

The Project would replace less efficient truck traffic with more efficient and safer pipeline transportation of produced water to the treatment facility. This would in turn reduce emissions from vehicles increasing the health and safety of residents within the County and near oil and gas production sites.

Key Goal: Foster Regional Collaboration and Partnerships.

Because the Project route passes through multiple municipalities and serving the oil and gas industry throughout the region, it would serve to further integrate the area and mitigate the impacts of the oil and gas industry throughout the region.

Key Goal: Reduce the Fiscal Impact of Growth

With the construction of the Pioneer pipeline, fewer trucks would be making daily trips on roads that serve the area, reducing the wear and frequency of repairs and maintenance, and decreasing costs to the County, especially as the population and industry within the County grows and changes.

Key Goal: Promote Economic Vitality.

The Project may restrict future land uses directly within the pipeline permanent easement but agricultural uses would continue to be allowed. The Project would not discourage high-quality commercial growth and economic development from occurring in areas surrounding the Project. The Project supports commercial growth and economic development in the surrounding area by ensuring a reliable and high-quality produced water transportation service that is essential to promoting a clean and safe environment for existing and future businesses in Adams County. The Project would also generate construction and operations-related jobs.

Key Goal: Preserve the County's Natural Resources.

The Project would not require additional water supply or use during operation. Pioneer is acquiring necessary permits for water service required during construction of the Project. See Sections 3.4.2, 3.11.3, and 3.11.4. The Project would reduce vehicle traffic, benefiting user experience in outdoor areas in the County, including parks, trails, and natural areas.

Countywide Policy: Transportation

The Project anticipates that construction of this Project would eliminate 5 million truck miles from local community roads each year of the predicted 50-year lifespan of the Project, which would provide a more sustainable transportation solution, preserve the integrity of the road system, and provide the safest and most reliable means of transportation through Adams County.

Countywide Policy: Economic Development

Construction and operation of the Project would generate economic benefits for the local economy in Adams County. The Project is expected to have a total estimated cost of $51 million; approximately $27 million of the Project cost would be allocated for the Adams County portion of the Project. At its peak, construction of the Project is expected to involve approximately 100 on-site jobs that would be filled primarily by local workers. Additional non-local workers are expected to commute from the Colorado Front Range Region or temporarily relocate to Adams and Weld Counties for construction of the Project. Estimates that construction wages will add $3.2 million to the Adams County economy and estimates the Project would result in hiring of four full-time employees for operations.

Adams County may also benefit from Project-related expenditures during Project operation. The Project would qualify as a targeted industry for employment within the County as specified by the Adams County Economic Development Corporation (Energy, Logistics, Wholesale Trade). The Project would allow for existing businesses in Adams County to expand and strengthen the labor workforce who live and work in the County.

Additional economic benefits would be derived from property tax. Based on assessed value, Pioneer estimates that property tax revenues generated by the Project would be approximately $500,000 annually. Taxing authorities that would benefit from property tax would include school districts, metropolitan districts, fire districts, library district, water and sanitation districts and other Adams County municipalities. These benefits would be generated each year and extend for the operating life of the Project.

Countywide Policy: County Fiscal Balance

Fiscal balance is a key element of the County Comprehensive Plan. The Comprehensive Plan states that "commercial and industrial development anywhere in the County would generate a positive fiscal benefit." Pioneer estimates property tax revenues generated by the Project are estimated to be approximately $250,000 annually.

Countywide Policy: Community Facilities and Services

The Project would be built to federal, state, and local quality and design standards. Pioneer is committed to safety, and would follow federal, state, and local regulations, design, and performance standards to provide safe, reliable service to Pioneer's customers.

Economic, environmental, and visual impacts due to construction and operation of the pipeline facilities were considered during the planning and development and siting of the pipeline facilities was designed to ensure minimization of impacts. The pipeline would be located underground and is not expected to interfere with existing or proposed agricultural use for more than one growing season.

Countywide Policy: Natural Resources and Resource Extraction

The Project supports commercial growth and economic development in the surrounding area by ensuring a reliable and produced water transportation service that is essential to existing companies in Adams County. The transport of produced water supports the extraction of natural resources contributes to the local economy, providing employment to County citizens and tax income to the government.

Pioneer has minimized its impacts to Adams County natural resources including wetlands, watersheds, floodplains, streams, and air quality. Section 3.11 summarizes potential Project impacts and mitigation measures taken by Pioneer to reduce impacts and avoid resources.

Countywide Policy: Agricultural Lands

Impacts to agricultural land would be minimal because the route primarily parallels existing ROWs. Furthermore, the pipeline would be located underground with the exception of approximately five appurtenances located within the permanent easements aboveground (reference Section 2.3.4) and is not expected to interfere with existing or proposed agricultural use.

Countywide Policy: Sustainability Initiatives

The Project anticipates that construction of this Project would eliminate 5 million truck miles from local community roads each year of the of the predicted 50-year lifespan of the Project, improving the operational efficiency of produced water transportation in and around Adams County by reducing energy and fuel consumption and decreasing overall risk. Pipelines provide the safest and most reliable means of transportation or resources. Overall, the Project would reduce emissions, reduce potential conflicts between passenger vehicles and trucks, minimize the risk of spills, preserve the integrity of the road networks, avoid environmentally sensitive areas and abate impacts to property owner land by following section lines and existing ROWs.

Countywide Policy: Hazard Mitigation

Pioneer would prepare a site-specific Emergency Response Plan to establish emergency protocols for the produced water pipeline and associated facilities. Contractors and project personnel would be familiarized with the emergency procedures. In addition, construction contractors have standardized emergency protocol. Refer to Section 3.11.11.

3.6.3 Impacts and Net Effect of Project on Land Use Patterns

The Project would have no impact on the land use patterns within Adams County. Overall, the Project route would allow for agricultural practices and other zoned uses to continue within the pipeline easement, reduce environmental pollutants and risks to environmentally sensitive areas, minimize truck traffic and impacts to County roads and provide service local customers to boost local employment and contribute to the tax base.

3.6.4 Description of Surrounding and/or Impacted Communities

The Project is located primarily within unincorporated Adams County, with portions in Brighton and Thornton, CO and extends into unincorporated Weld County. Within unincorporated Adams County, the pipeline route passes on the edges of residential communities and developments, but remains adjacent to roadway ROWs, not going directly through residential communities. Otherwise, the project route passes primarily though agricultural uses.

3.6.5 Description of Cultural Resources

Refer to Section 3.11.10—Areas of Paleontological, Historic or Archaeological Importance.

3.6.6 Existing and Unique Agricultural Land in Area

The Adams County Open Space, Parks and Trails Master Plan (Adams County 2012b) identifies agricultural lands and local food production districts to preserve high-quality agricultural lands in the County. The Project would not impact these districts, proposed open space or park focus areas, nor would it impact associated land use goals. Refer to Sections 3.6.2 and 3.6.3 for additional information. The Project route and valve set locations would be along existing roads, property section lines, utility ROWs, and easements to minimize impacts to agricultural activities. Furthermore, the pipeline would be located to a depth of at least 48 inches and is not expected to interfere with existing or proposed agricultural use for more than one growing season.

3.7 6-02-02-07. Local Government Services

3.7.1 Existing Capacity of and Demand for Local Government Services

The Project would not have an adverse effect on the capability of local government to continue to provide services, nor would it exceed the capacity of service delivery systems. The Project would not require new permanent roads to complete construction of the Project or operations activities. Oversized loads would be permitted and approved by the County prior to using County roads. Effects on roads and transportation are discussed in Section 3.7.3 of this application.

In Adams County, the Project would be located within two school districts, Brighton School District 27J and Adams 12 Five Star School District. Impacts to these districts are not anticipated because the construction does not directly pass by any schools and is not expected to substantially impact bus routes.

In Adams County, the Project route is located within two fire districts, North Metro Fire Protection District and Brighton Fire Rescue District. Pioneer would consult with each to address any concerns the fire protection districts have. Neither fire protection districts have expressed any concerns to date.

As discussed in Section 2.3.5 and Section 3.11.11, Pioneer's Emergency Response Plan would include procedures and directions for emergency dispatch in the case of a pipeline emergency. The Project would not increase fire protection demands.

The Project is not expected to cause additional demand on law enforcement services. Interference or damage to the pipeline facilities would be detected by continuous electronic monitoring by Pioneer employees. In the case of an emergency, Pioneer would follow the Emergency Response Plan described in Section 3.11.11. Local law enforcement would be contacted as applicable based on the type and degree of such an emergency.

The existing infrastructure has the capacity to accommodate the activities associated with the construction, operations, and required maintenance of the proposed facilities and respective pipelines.

3.7.2 Impacts and Net Effect of the Project on Demand for Local Government Services

No new electric service would be required for the Project. Aboveground appurtenances would operate on solar power from on-site solar panels. Natural gas would not be necessary to construct the Project. Water use would be obtained from surface or groundwater under permit or delivered to the site as needed. A municipal source is not required.

The required electricity associated with the pipeline would not have an adverse effect on the capability of local government to continue to provide services, nor would it exceed the capacity of service delivery systems. The Project would not increase the need for police or fire protection services during construction and would be operated by Pioneer using appropriate security and emergency response procedures. No disruption to local utility services are expected to occur during construction or operation of the Project. It is not anticipated that the construction and operation of the Project would create additional demands for local government services.

3.7.3 Potential Effect of the Project on the Existing Transportation Network

As described in Section 2.12, the Project would not adversely impact the existing transportation network. Pioneer anticipates that construction of this Project would eliminate 150 truck trips per day and 5 million truck miles from local community roads each year of the predicted 50-year lifespan of the Project, which would reduce emissions, reduce potential conflicts between passenger vehicles and trucks, preserve the integrity of the road networks, reduce impacts to local infrastructure in conjunction with the goals of the Adams County Comprehensive Plan, and provide the safest and most reliable means of transportation of produced water through Adams County.

Pioneer would obtain an Adams County ROW crossing permit prior to construction, and the pipeline would only cross county road ROWs at or near a perpendicular angle. In any segment of the Project that is parallel to an Adams County ROW, the pipeline will be constructed a minimum of five (5) feet from the edge of the maximum future ROW width, as designated in the Adams County 2012 Transportation Plan.

Truck haul routes for material deliveries from off-site areas to the Project would utilize Colorado Boulevard, 160th Avenue, 168th Avenue, Quebec Street, U.S. 85, Riverdale Road, and 136th Avenue. None of these roads are expected to experience a significant impact from the delivery of materials during construction. Pioneer does not anticipate that the construction contractor would need to improve or close roads, intersections, or bridges to accommodate oversized truck deliveries to the Project.

Increases in traffic due construction trucks and other vehicles are expected to be negligible. Construction work hours are expected to be 7 AM to 7 PM Monday through Saturday. Construction may occur on Sundays and other hours outside the 7 AM to 7 PM timeframe on an as-required basis.

The total number and type of vehicles accessing the pipeline route during peak construction would include:

- Pickup trucks: 100 trips per day
- “Low boy” equipment transport trucks: 1-6 trips per week
- Pipe transport truck and trailer: 12 trips per week
- Bus/van: 1 trip per day

3.8 6-07-02-08. Financial Burden on County Residents

3.8.1 Description of the Existing Tax Burden and Fee Structure for Government Services

The Project is expected to generate economic benefits to Adams County during construction and after the Project has been placed in service because of an increase in assessed value and goods and services associated with the annual operation of these facilities. Pioneer estimates property tax revenue to Adams County generated by the Project would be about $250,000 annually.

3.8.2 Impacts and Net Effect of the Project on Existing Tax Burden and Fee Structure for Government Service

The Project would not create an undue financial burden on Adams County. The total estimated cost of the Project is estimated to be approximately $51 million. Approximately $27 million of the Project cost would be allocated for the Adams County portion of the Project. Pioneer estimates they will pay approximately $250,000 annually in property tax.

3.9 6-02-02-09. Local Economy

3.9.1 Description of Local Economy

Adams County had a total estimated population of 511,868 in 2018 (Table 9). The population in Adams County increased by an estimated 70,265 residents or approximately 16 percent from 2010 to 2018 and accounted for approximately nine percent of the total statewide population in 2018 (U.S. Census Bureau, 2019).

Table 9:
Population—2010

Geographic Area	Total Population1		2010 to 2018
	2010	2018	Net Change	Percent Change
Adams County	441,603	511,868	70,265	15.9%
State of Colorado	5,029,196	5,695,564	666,368	13.2%
United States	308,745,538	327,167,434	18,421,896	6.0%

1 U.S. Census Bureau (2019)

According to the Colorado Department of Labor and Employment, the annual unemployment rate (not seasonally adjusted) was 2.4 percent in Adams County in October 2019, slightly higher than the statewide annual unemployment rate of 2.2 percent. Annual average unemployment rates during the recent economic downtown peaked in 2011, ranging from 9.2 percent statewide to 10.8 percent in Adams County (Colorado Information Marketplace 2019).

In 2017, the Adams County economy employed approximately 259,641 people. Employment has subsequently increased, with more people employed in 2017 than a decade earlier. Overall, Adams County represented 9.0 percent of the state's total employment in 2017 (Colorado Information Marketplace 2019).

In 2017, the most common industries in Adams County by number of employees are office and administrative support (40,255), management (25,958) and sales and related (24,532). These industries were the largest employers, collectively employing 34.9 percent of the Adams County workforce in 2017. The highest paying industries include computer and mathematical; architecture and engineering; computer; engineering and science; and law enforcement workers including supervisors and legal. (Data USA 2019).

In 2017, the average annual household income in Adams County was $64,087, approximately 2.1 percent lower than the state average of $65,458, and 12.2 percent lower than the Denver-Aurora-Lakewood Metro Area of $71,884 (Data USA 2019).

3.9.2 Impacts and Net Effects on the Local Economy and Opportunities for Economic Diversity

Construction and operation of the Project would generate economic benefits for the local economy in Adams County. The construction and capital spending phase would also generate economic benefits elsewhere in the state of Colorado and for the state as a whole.

The Project is expected to have a total estimated cost of $51 million, approximately $27 million of the Project cost would be allocated for the Adams County portion of the Project. At its peak, construction of the Project is expected to involve approximately 100 jobs during construction that would be filled primarily by local workers. Additional non-local workers are expected to commute from the Colorado Front Range Region or temporarily relocate to Adams and Weld Counties for construction of the Project. The Project is expected to result in four new full-time employees during operations.

Project-related expenditures for construction labor and materials would also support economic activity elsewhere in the local and state economy through the multiplier effect, because these initial changes in demand “ripple” through the local economy and generate secondary impacts. Industries likely to experience the greatest economic benefits include the construction sector and the professional and technical services sectors. Spending on local accommodation, food, and local services by construction workers temporarily relocating to the area is also expected to support income elsewhere in the local area. Construction-related impacts would be one-time impacts that would last for the duration of construction.

Adams County may also benefit from Project-related expenditures during Project operation. These impacts would be much smaller than those expected to occur during construction. Additional economic benefits would be derived from property tax, approximately $250,000 based on all mill levy jurisdictions. Authorities that would benefit from property tax would include school districts, metropolitan districts, fire districts, library district, water and sanitation districts, and other Adams County municipalities. These benefits would be generated each year and extend for the operating life of the Project.

3.9.3 Description of Jobs Created

Project construction is expected to directly employ approximately 100 construction-related workers during construction peak, with additional employment supported elsewhere in the local and state economy. The Project is expected to result in four new full-time employees during operations.

3.9.4 Income Potential from Jobs Created by or as a Result of the Project

The Project is expected to have a total estimated construction labor cost of $51 million, approximately $27 million associated with Adams County. As discussed in Section 3.9.2, construction of the Project would also support employment and income in other sectors of the local and state economy through the multiplier effect, because these initial changes in demand “ripple” through the local economy and generate secondary impacts. Spending on local accommodation, food, and local services by construction workers temporarily relocating to the area is also expected to support income elsewhere in the local area. Construction-related impacts would be one-time impacts that would last for the duration of construction.

Project-related expenditures during operation would also support income in the local and state economy through the multiplier effect. These expenditures are expected to result in small but positive economic impacts that would occur annually over the operating life of the Project.

3.10 6-02-02-10. Recreational Opportunities

3.10.1 Description of Present and Potential Recreation Uses

Avoidance of recreational lands (parks) was a major consideration in the route selection process and the Project is not expected to be located within recreational areas. Because the produced water pipeline would be located underground with the exception of approximately five appurtenances (reference Section 2.3.4), located aboveground within the permanent easements, there is no anticipated impact to recreation resources. The pipeline will be installed using HDD at a near perpendicular angle across the Todd Creek Trail and South Platte River Trail. No hunting areas or recreational facilities are in the vicinity of the Project. The Project would not affect area fishing amenities.

3.10.2 Map of Locations of Recreational Uses

The pipeline crosses the Todd Creek Trail and the South Platte River Trail. No other recreational facilities or trails are located in the vicinity of the pipeline route.

3.10.3 Impacts and Net Effect of the Project on Present and Potential Recreational Opportunities

The Project would not degrade the quality or quantity of recreational opportunities and experiences within the County as the Project would be located underground with the exception of approximately five appurtenances located aboveground (reference Section 2.3.4) within the permanent easements. The pipeline will be installed using HDD to cross the Todd Creek Trail and the South Platte River Trail. No temporary or permanent impacts to these trails are expected.

3.11 6-02-02-11. Environmental Impact Analysis

This section addresses Section 6-20-01 of the Adams County Development Manual, which is an appendix that provides examples of the types of concerns that the BOCC would take into consideration in determining whether permit application complies with the approval criteria contained in Section 6-17 of the Adams County Development Manual.

3.11.1 Air Quality

3.11.1.1 Affected Airsheds

The Project is located within the Denver Metro/North Front Range airshed, which encompasses Adams County. Since 2002, the region has been designated as in attainment with all National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) except ozone, for which the region is designated as nonattainment. As of January 22, 2020, the entire project is located within the “serious nonattainment area” for the 2008 eight-hour ozone standard (84 FR 70897). Ozone levels tend to peak during the summer months when ozone formation is greatest in the presence of heat and sunlight.

3.11.1.2 Map and Description of the Ambient Air Quality and State Air Quality Standards of Affected Airsheds

The air pollutants for which U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has promulgated NAAQS, and the Colorado Air Quality Control Commission has promulgated Colorado Ambient Air Quality Standards (CAAQS), summarized in Table 10.

Table 10:

PSD = Prevention of significant deterioration

µg/m³ = Micrograms per cubic meter

1 The PSD increment values serve information purposes only and do not constitute a regulatory PSD increment consumption analysis.
2 No more than one exceedance per year.
3 No PSD increments have been established.
4 Annual arithmetic mean.
5 The NAAQS for this averaging time for this pollutant was revoked by the EPA (2016).
6 An area is in compliance with the standard if the fourth-highest daily maximum 8-hour ozone concentrations in a year, averaged over 3 years, is less than or equal to the level of the standard.
7 An area is in compliance with the standard if the highest 24-hour PM2.5 concentrations in a year, averaged over 3 years, is less than or equal to the level of the standard.
8 An area is in compliance with the standard if the 98th percentile of daily maximum 1-hour NO2 concentrations in a year, averaged over 3 years, is less than or equal to the level of the standard.
9 An area is in compliance with the standard if the 99th percentile of daily maximum 1-hour SO_2 concentrations in a year, averaged over years, is less than or equal to the level of the standard.

Air pollutants emitted from construction of the Project would be transported by the winds in the area. CDPHE has provided a representative wind rose (Illustration 2) for the Fort St. Vrain Power Plant located near Platteville. This wind rose shows the typical wind patterns in the Front Range, which includes the Project. As shown in the illustration, winds generally follow a northeast-southwest orientation that aligns with the South Platte River.

3.11.1.3 Impacts and Net Effect on Air Quality during Construction and Operation

Impacts to air quality in the vicinity of the Project would be short term, transient, and limited to the construction period of the pipeline (approximately 6 months). Construction vehicles and equipment required for vegetation clearing, trenching, HDD installation and re-contouring may produce fugitive dust or exhaust emissions during the construction phase of the Project. Emissions of fugitive particulate matter (PM_{10} and $PM_{2.5}$) may be generated by construction equipment movement, pipeline trench excavation, and earthmoving activities. Engine exhaust emissions of NO_x, SO_2, CO, volatile organic compounds and particulate matter (PM_{10}, $PM_{2.5}$) would result from the operation of construction equipment.

Dust suppression would be conducted during construction. No air emissions are expected from the operation of the pipeline. As described in Section 3.4.2 (Table 7) Pioneer will submit a CDPHE APEN including a dust suppression plan prior to construction, and CDPHE would stipulate additional mitigation, monitoring and recordkeeping requirements for a minor source construction air permit if required.

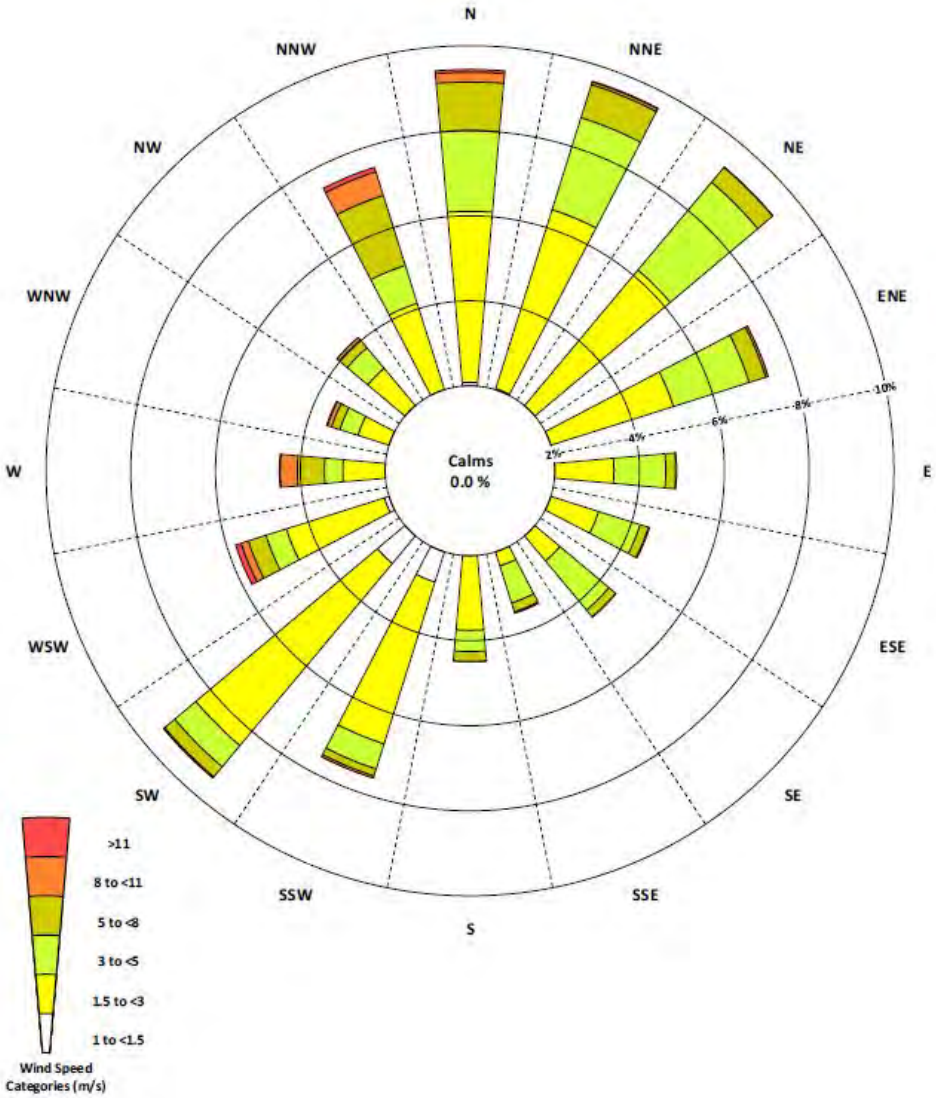

Illustration 2: Wind Frequencies by Speed and Direction, Platteville, CO

3.11.2 Visual Quality

3.11.2.1 Ground Cover, Vegetation, or Other Natural Features

The Project would be predominantly located adjacent to existing roadways and within grasslands, pastures, and areas of agricultural land use. The pipeline would be installed by means of open trenching or by HDD and would ultimately be buried underground with the exception of approximately three valve sets located within the permanent easement (Section 2.3.4). Pioneer would provide the final location of valve sets prior to public hearings for the Project.

Ground cover, vegetation, and other natural features vary throughout Adams County along the Project alignment. The entire Project is within the Flat to Rolling Plains Ecoregion, which is a subset of the High Plains Ecoregion, and consists of relatively flat terrain with few natural landscape features. The majority of the native vegetation in this area has been removed and replaced with crops such as wheat, grain, corn, and barley. Natural features crossed by the Project are limited to natural drainageways that traverse the landscape.

3.11.2.2 Description of Viewsheds, Scenic Vistas, Unique Landscapes or Land Formations

The Project would not affect high visibility corridors. Unique landscapes or formations that would be crossed by the Project were not identified, which consists of primarily grasslands/pastures and agricultural land use and light commercial development The Project would also not affect scenic vistas to the west towards the mountain ranges because the pipeline would be underground and there are no buildings associated with the valve sets.

3.11.2.3 Map and Description of Buildings, Structure Design, and Materials To Be Used for the Project

A map and description of the Project components, including structure design and materials to be used, are provided in Section 2.3.2.

3.11.2.4 Impacts and Net Effect of the Project on Visual Quality

Overall, the Project is not expected to affect visual quality. The pipeline would be installed by means of trenching or by HDD and ultimately would be buried underground and would be compatible with the surrounding area and harmonious with the character of the predominantly rural and agricultural land uses. The valve sets would be located within the permanent easements for the Project, which would be collocated with other linear ROWs including utility corridors and roadways. The valve sets would be visible from adjacent roadways and nearby residences. However, the valve sets would be similar to ancillary facilities associated with other oil and gas production facilities and would therefore not be out of character in the landscape setting.

Pioneer anticipates that pipeline construction would take approximately 6 months. Visual impacts would occur during construction when equipment, construction crews, and temporary construction staging areas are present; however, visual impacts would be short term as the pipeline would be installed underground and equipment would be removed once construction is complete.

3.11.3 Surface Water Quality

3.11.3.1 Map and Description of All Surface Waters

The Project is anticipated to cross surface water features mapped by the National Hydrography Dataset (NHD). The NRCO Report (Exhibit B) for the Project describes pipeline crossings of desktop-mapped surface water features within the NRCO. Pioneer would contract a qualified consultant to complete a wetland and other waters of the United States (WOTUS) delineation in spring 2020 to verify and delineate aquatic resources. Potential streams mapped by the NHD crossed by the Project in Adams County are summarized in Table 11.

1 Based on preliminary desktop analysis. Field verification required to confirm actual site conditions.

Pioneer plans to install the pipeline using HDD for crossings of a majority of these features. If construction using HDD is not practicable, Pioneer would work under a USACE Nationwide Permit 12 and restore the crossing to pre-construction conditions when construction has been completed. Pioneer would not site aboveground appurtenances within the NRCO. Therefore, the Project would not result in permanent impacts to wetlands or other WOTUS.

3.11.3.2 Impact and Net Effects of the Project on the Quantity and Quality of Surface Waters

The Project would not have an adverse net effect on the capacities or functioning of streams in the impact area, or on the permeability, volume, recharge capability, and depth of aquifers in the surrounding area. Pioneer would obtain all necessary state, county, and local permits and comply with associated permit conditions (Section 3.4.2).

BMPs for sediment and erosion control to protect surface water would be accomplished through a combination of construction techniques, vegetation and revegetation, administrative controls, and structural features. BMPs that can be expected are listed in Table 12. Specific BMP types and selection criteria expected for various stages of construction are listed below in Table 13.

3.11.3.3 Impacts and Net Effects of the Project Streambed Conditions

Streams and man-made waterways in the vicinity of the Project have been modified greatly as a result of historical and current agricultural practices. The Project would avoid perennial streams, rivers, or features through the use of HDD technology; however, other ephemeral and intermittent resources may be crossed by the Project alignment via open-cut trenching following USACE regulations and standards. Impacts to streams would be minor and temporary, the Project ROW would be returned to pre-construction conditions following construction. Downstream flow and aquatic life, if present, would not be impeded. Features would be returned to pre-construction contours, backfilled with the originally excavated material, and restored with salvaged vegetation in the minimum time necessary to conduct activities. BMPs would be used to avoid adverse impacts on minor ephemeral and intermittent streams, irrigation ditches, and any associated riparian features during the temporary disturbance of the features. As a result, the Project would not permanently affect the physical characteristics of the waterways crossed by the Project.

3.11.4 Groundwater Quality and Quantity

3.11.4.1 Map and Description of All Groundwater

The Project is located above the Denver and Arapahoe aquifers within the Denver Basin (Figure 6; CDWR, 2018). The Denver Basin (Denver, Arapahoe, and Laramie-Fox Hills aquifers) is a geologic formation in which aquifers lie on top of each other in layers with confining deposits separating the aquifers (USGS 2009). The Project is entirely within the CDWR South Platte Division (CGS 1992). Groundwater in areas crossed by the Project and vicinity generally flows towards the South Platte River.

3.11.4.1.1.1 Project Area Aquifers

The pipeline alignment within Adams County is located above the Denver, Arapahoe, and Laramie-Fox Hills aquifers of the Denver Basin.

3.11.4.1.1.2 The Denver Aquifer

The Denver aquifer underlies an area of approximately 3,500 miles and varies in thickness from a thin eroded edge at its outcrop/subcrop up to 1,000 feet. The Denver aquifer consists of a series of interbedded clay shale, clay, siltstone, and sandstone lenses. The sandstone and peddle compositions are typically volcanic. Carbonaceous material and coal beds are also common (CDNR, 2014).

Due to the fine-grained composition of the aquifer, wells commonly have yields of 50 to 150 gallons per minute. The wells are typically developed for domestic uses, although a number of municipal wells have been drilled on the western side of the basin where yields are higher. The Denver aquifer is separated from the underlying Arapahoe aquifer by an extensive clay/shale unit approximately 50 feet thick. The clay/shale interval serves as a hydraulic barrier between the aquifers (CDNR 2014).

3.11.4.1.1.3 The Arapahoe Aquifer

The Arapahoe aquifer is composed of interbedded conglomerates, sandstones, siltstones, and clay shales. The aquifer underlies an area of almost 4,700 square miles and is generally about 400 feet thick. For administrative purposes, the northern portion of the hydrogeologic unit is subdivided into an upper and lower aquifer that is separated by shale sequence ranging from 50 to 100 feet thick (CDNR, 2014).

Wells in the Arapahoe aquifer have the highest yield of the four aquifers, up to 800 gallons per minute. Consequently, the aquifer is used extensively to supply municipal water systems. Water quality is generally good, as evidenced by its use by Deep Rock Water to obtain water for bottling (CDNR 2014).

3.11.4.1.1.4 The Laramie-Fox Hills Aquifer

The lowermost of the four Denver Basin aquifers is the Laramie-Fox Hills aquifer, which underlies approximately 6,700 square miles and marks the areal extent of the basin for economic groundwater development. The aquifer is made up of both the marine sandstones of the Fox Hills and the overlying fluvial sandstones in the lower Laramie Formation. The Laramie-Fox Hills aquifer is generally between 250 and 300 feet thick and includes about 150 to 200 feet of fine- and medium-grained sandstone (CDNR, 2014).

Well yields of 350 gallons per minutes are common. The aquifer is extensively utilized throughout the basin for commercial development and less so for domestic use because wells within the aquifer are deeper over most of the basin. Both the Laramie-Fox Hills and Arapahoe aquifers are generally under artesian pressure (CDNR, 2014).

3.11.4.1.2 Colorado Division of Water Resources South Platte Division

Groundwater well information for wells permitted by the CDWR (2018) in the vicinity of the Project was reviewed to summarize groundwater conditions. A summary of information for water wells within 0.25 mile of the Project is provided in Exhibit I. A map of water wells is included within Exhibit I, Figure I-1. Groundwater flow in the deeper bedrock aquifers is expected to be influenced by regional flow conditions.

The Project would not impact groundwater, directly contribute to groundwater recharge, or impact aquifer water levels. The pipeline would be located approximately 48 inches deep; therefore, no aquifer groundwater is expected to be encountered or impacted. If groundwater is encountered during trenching or HDD activities, dewatering methods may be employed, and the water would be pumped and discharged to undisturbed soils close to the pipeline trench.

Groundwater quality also would be protected through the implementation of a SWMP and through the implementation of waste management BMPs during construction. Waste from materials brought onto the construction site would be placed in appropriate containment and then removed for disposal/recycling to a licensed facility. No waste materials would be buried, dumped, or discharged to waters of the state. In addition, groundwater would not be utilized during construction activities or when the pipeline is operational. No subsurface water impoundment structures are proposed such as water storage systems or subsurface dams.

The potential for a pipeline failure release is remote. There may be areas that would require mitigation in order to restore areas affected by spills and/or repair the pipeline; however, the overall impacts are expected to be localized and minor.

Pioneer would prepare a site-specific Emergency Response Plan to establish emergency protocols for the produced water pipeline and associated facilities in the event of a release. Contractors and project personnel would be familiarized with the emergency procedures. In addition, construction contractors have their own standardized emergency protocol they would follow.

3.11.5 Wetlands and Riparian Areas

3.11.5.1 Map and Description of all Floodplains, Wetlands, and Riparian Areas To Be Affected by the Project

Using aerial imagery, USGS topographic maps and NHD, NWI, and Federal Emergency Management Agency floodplain information, potential aquatic resources intersected by the Project are shown in detail on sheet maps in Exhibit B. Table 14 summarizes wetland types crossed by the Project in unincorporated Adams County.

3.11.5.2 Description of the source of water interacting with the surface systems to create each wetland (i.e., side-slope runoff, over-bank flooding, groundwater seepage, etc.)

Potential wetland areas and other aquatic features were identified during a preliminary desktop review. The majority of the features crossed by the Project are anticipated to be fed by surface water runoff, high groundwater table, and/or seepage from irrigation ditches and canals.

3.11.5.3 Impacts and Net Effect of the Project on the Floodplains, Delineated Flood Hazard Zones, Wetlands, and Riparian Areas

The proposed Project would intersect riparian areas associated with the South Platte River in two locations, a narrow riparian area along Big Dry Creek and a small riparian area following an unnamed stream north of German Ditch.

At the time of this application, the Project study area intersects 86 suspected emergent wetlands within Adams County; however, field verification would be required to confirm the location and extent of wetlands intersected by the Project. No forested wetlands or riparian areas would be crossed by the Project as delineated by the USFWS NWI or observed on aerial imagery (Table 14). In addition, pipeline installation is generally considered a temporary impact, as wetland features would be returned to pre-construction contours and revegetated upon completion of construction. Pioneer would contract a qualified consultant to complete a wetland and other WOTUS delineation in spring 2020 to verify and delineate aquatic resources. HDD technology would be utilized to avoid surface impacts to perennial features and any other sensitive resources identified. Pioneer would complete appropriate consultation and/or permitting with the USACE-Denver Regulatory Office and obtain all authorizations for impacts to potential WOTUS as needed; however, based on a preliminary review of resources present and construction plans and methodology, written authorization does not appear to be necessary.

The Project intersects Federal Emergency Management Agency 100-year floodplains associated with Big Dry Creek, Todd Creek, an unnamed tributary to Todd Creek, and the South Platte River. The Project would temporarily impact floodplains. These impacts would be restored to the original contours once construction is completed and therefore, the project would not result in impacts to 100-year floodplains. Reference Exhibit B, Figure 3 for a map of FEMA 100-Year floodplains crossed by the Project.

3.11.6 Terrestrial and Aquatic Animals and Habitat

3.11.6.1 Map and Description of Terrestrial and Aquatic Animals

A desktop analysis was performed to identify wildlife habitat in the area of the Project (Exhibit B). The shortgrass prairie in Colorado was once inhabited by massive herds of free-ranging bison and pronghorn as well as huge prairie dog colonies, deer, and elk and top predators including gray wolves and grizzly bears. Currently, the most abundant animals on the prairie are domestic cattle, coyotes, and prairie dogs. Pronghorn still inhabit Colorado's prairies, although in reduced numbers. Species of conservation concern that still inhabit native prairie habitats in Colorado include burrowing owl, ferruginous hawk, mountain plover, McCown's longspur, chestnut-collared longspur, and long-billed curlew as well as northern pocket gopher, ornate box turtle, massasugua rattlesnake, and Texas horned lizard (NatureServe 2018). Deer, turkey, pheasant, and dove are the common game wildlife in the vicinity of the Project. It is not anticipated that construction and operation would have a more than a temporary and negligible impact on game and non-game wildlife, livestock, and other animals.

3.11.6.2 Description of Stream Flows and Lake Levels Needed to Protect the Aquatic Environment

The Project would not impact stream flows or lake levels. Perennial water features would be crossed by HDD with no disturbance to the bed or bank. Other features would be crossed by open-cut trenching, however, downstream flow and aquatic life, if present, would not be impeded. Features would be returned to pre-construction contours, backfilled with the originally excavated material, and restored with salvaged vegetation in the minimum time necessary. All surface water crossings necessary for the Project would adhere to state requirements for the use of surface waters as regulated by the CDWR. The aquatic environment would not be adversely impacted by the Project following restoration.

The CDPHE Water Quality Control Division's General Permit for Stormwater Discharges from Construction Activities allows for dewatering of groundwater and stormwater to undisturbed soils to allow for infiltration on the site. It is not anticipated that dewatering activities would be required during the Project. However, if dewatering becomes necessary, groundwater and/or stormwater may be pumped from excavations or trenches to the ground surface for containment, infiltration, or evaporation. If necessary, the location of pumping and discharge of the groundwater or stormwater would be marked on the site plan prior to the start of pumping activities. If it becomes necessary to contain and sample groundwater prior to discharge or pump groundwater off site or into a waterway or storm sewer, a groundwater discharge permit (Colorado Discharge Permit System) would be obtained from the state prior to engaging such activities. It is not expected that any such dewatering activities would impact stream flows or lake levels.

3.11.6.3 Description of Threatened or Endangered Animal Species and Habitat

Please reference Exhibit B for information regarding threatened and endangered animal species and habitat.

3.11.6.4 Map and Description of Critical Wildlife Habitat and Livestock Range

Please reference Exhibit B for a map and description of wildlife habitat. The Project is not expected to affect livestock as the pipeline would be located underground with the exception of three aboveground valve sets located within the permanent easement for the Project.

3.11.6.5 Impacts and Net Effect of Project on Terrestrial and Aquatic Animals, Habitat and Food Chain

No critical wildlife habitat for federally listed species is present in the immediate vicinity of the Project and no such habitat is mapped by state or local agencies. The relative size of the Project and primarily temporary nature of disturbance is not anticipated to impact the food chain of area wildlife.

The Project is located in a predominantly rural agricultural area with little native wildlife habitat and ideal grassland habitat. Project construction (pipeline) would cause temporary disturbance of approximately 190 acres of agricultural land. Native shortgrass prairie is not anticipated at a measurable quantity with the Project boundaries. Under expected conditions, it is not anticipated that construction and operation within the Project would have a more than a temporary and negligible impact on migration routes, calving areas, summer and winter range, game and non-game wildlife, livestock, or other animals. It is possible that the Project may be used for opportunistic feeding for wildlife; however, the Project ROW does not offer suitable habitat distinguishable from the rest of the surrounding properties. The primary effect is likely to be temporary wildlife avoidance of the construction zone due to noise, vibration, and human presence during one growing season. However, impacts to vegetation and wildlife would be minimized using BMPs and mitigation measures, performance of appropriate pre-construction surveys, avoidance of sensitive habitat areas, and using HDD techniques to avoid disturbance to sensitive resources.

Quantitative impacts, albeit temporary and minimal, to aquatic resources cannot be estimated until field investigations are conducted to confirm and delineate features. Minimal and temporary impacts to the aquatic environmental may occur during excavation, pipeline placement, and backfill. BMPs would minimize erosion and sedimentation. Intermittent and ephemeral water features would not be dewatered (in the event water is present) during pipeline construction and local water sources would not be utilized for construction. The pipeline would be installed via HDD under all perennial streams. All water features would be restored to pre-existing contours; therefore, no stream flows, lake levels, or spawning streambeds would be permanently impacted by the Project.

A raptor nest survey for the entire Project (not limited to the NRCO areas) conducted in January 2020 within 0.5 mile of the Project identified 32 raptor nests during the survey (Attachment 1). Twenty raptor nests were observed within the 0.5-mile buffer of the Project including one bald eagle nest (Nest 023), two red-tailed hawk nests (Nests 0018 and 009), and 17 nests with unknown species determination. The unknown nests were small and are unlikely to be used by eagles. Nest 032, a bald eagle nest located within the 0.5-mile buffer of the Project according to data provided by CPW, was not found by the biologist during the survey.

CPW recommends a seasonal non-encroachment buffer of 0.5 mile from October 15 to July 31 for active bald eagle nests and 0.3 mile from February 15 to July 15 for active red-tailed hawk nests. As the raptor nest survey was conducted early in the year (January 2020), only a few nests were active. Additional raptor nest surveys should be conducted if construction activities are expected to occur prior to August 31, 2020, when the raptor breeding season ends. The Project will adhere to the CPW recommendations to avoid potential harassment of raptors during construction.

3.11.7 Terrestrial and Aquatic Plant Life

3.11.7.1 Map and Description of Terrestrial and Aquatic Plant

A desktop analysis was performed to identify terrestrial and aquatic plant habitat in the area of the Project and field reconnaissance is proposed for late summer/early fall 2018. The results of those studies were reported in Exhibit B and are summarized in this section.

The Project intersects five vegetation types (CPW 2013):

- Agriculture is controlled use for production of biological products.
- Irrigated Ag is irrigated crops and fields.
- Grass/Forb Mix is rangeland co-dominated by grasses and forbs.
- Grass Dominated is rangeland dominated by annual and perennial grasses.
- Rangeland is a mix of non-native and native grasses, grass-like plants, forbs, or shrubs suitable for grazing or browsing use.

The Project in Adams County is located entirely with the one Level III ecoregion, High Plains (25) as mapped by the EPA. Within the High Plains, the Project is located within the Flat to Rolling Plains (25d). Dryland farming is extensive, with areas of irrigated cropland scattered throughout the ecoregion. Winter wheat is the main crop, with a smaller acreage in forage crops. Land use is predominantly rangeland in contrast to the cropland or mosaic of cropland and rangeland of surrounding ecoregions. Blue grama-buffalograss is the natural shortgrass prairie type with blue grama (Bouteloua gracili), buffalograss (Bouteloua dactyloides), threadleaf sedge (Carex filifolia), fringed sage (Carex crinita), Junegrass (Koeleria spp.), and western wheatgrass (Pascopyrum spp.) the most common species expected (Chapman et al. 2006).

Desktop analysis suggests that variations of Palustrine, Emergent or Palustrine, Scrub/Shrub wetlands may be crossed by the Project. If wetland communities are present, the wetland vegetation anticipated include cattail (Typha spp.), rough cocklebur (Xanthium strumarium), plains switchgrass (Panicum virgatum), barnyard grass (Echinochloa spp.), bulrushes (Scirpus spp.), rushes (Juncus spp.), and sedges (Carex spp.), willows (Salix spp.), alder (Alnus spp.), peach-leaf willow (Salix amygdaloides), and cottonwoods (Populus spp.).

Listed Plant Species: Three federally listed plant species, Colorado butterfly plant, Ute ladies-tresses and western prairie fringed orchid, were considered for an effects analysis. As described in Exhibit B, it is unlikely that the identified federally listed species would occur in areas crossed by the Project.

Noxious Weeds. Noxious weeds, as identified based on the Colorado Noxious Weed Act (35-5.5 CRS) and the Adams County Noxious Weed Management Plan and Enforcement Policy, are expected to be encountered because the majority of the Project is located within recently disturbed areas, near roadways, and in fallow fields. Because field investigations are pending (anticipated late summer/early fall 2018), the specific composition and density of noxious weeds cannot be identified at this time. Following field assessment, a specific weed management plan would be prepared as necessary. The Project would comply with the Adams County Noxious Weed Management Plan and Enforcement Policy.

3.11.7.2 Impacts and Net Effect that the Project on Terrestrial and Aquatic Plant Life

Based on the Project location and lack of suitable plant and wildlife habitat, it is not anticipated that any formal field surveys for federally listed plant species would be necessary. The State of Colorado does not have a sensitive species list for plants, and no formal protections are in force. Pioneer has begun informal consultation with USFWS and CPW to identify any issues that need to be addressed with development of the Project. No issues with effects to terrestrial or aquatic plants have been identified to date.

Field reconnaissance is pending and proposed for late summer/early fall 2018. Findings from the survey would provide the necessary data to prepare an appropriate weed management and revegetation plan as needed. Field data would ensure the plan would address the actual site conditions and propose appropriate actions for compliance with county and state regulations. A preliminary reclamation plan for the project, which addresses BMPs for the minimization of weed species, has been prepared as part of the SWMP.

Overall, the Project pipeline would cause temporary disturbance of less than 59.5 acres of agricultural/rangeland within unincorporated Adams County. Native shortgrass prairie is not anticipated to be present at a measurable quantity with the Project boundaries. Quantitative impacts, albeit temporary and minimal, to aquatic resources cannot be estimated until field investigations are conducted to confirm and delineate features. Mitigation measures would be performed if required to replace vegetation disturbed during construction of the Project.

3.11.8.1.2 Geologic Characteristics

According to the Adams County Colorado Geologic Features map (2005), surface geology in areas crossed by the Project consists predominantly of sedimentary rock such as mudstone, sandstone, claystone, and conglomerates of the Denver and Arapahoe Formations, modern alluviums, eolian deposits, and gravel and alluviums. A geotechnical study would be performed at select locations along the pipeline route as needed prior to the initiation of construction activities.

3.11.8.1.3 Natural Hazards

The Project passes through multiple 100-year floodplains within Adams County (Exhibit B, Figure 3). Sensitive aquatics features as discussed in Sections 3.11.3 and 3.11.5 would be identified through field reconnaissance and avoided. In the Denver Basin, most aquifer recharge occurs in the highland areas between stream channels in the topographically higher southern part of the basin (El Paso, Elbert, Douglas counties). Precipitation is greater in this area, and the permeable soils derived from the Dawson Arkose formation enable deep percolation (USGS 2009). Recharge to this area of the South Platte River basin primarily occurs as infiltration of precipitation, infiltration of ephemeral stream water, deep percolation of water applied to irrigated, agricultural fields and seepage beneath irrigation ditches (Arnold 2010). The Project is located within the northern portion of the Denver and Arapahoe aquifers and consist of shallow and temporary soil disturbance. Impacts to aquifer recharge are not anticipated.

Steep terrain is typically avoided or excluded during routing because constructing a pipeline and access roads on steep slopes could require complex engineering and erosion controls around the pipeline and may result in greater potential environmental impacts. The pipeline is not expected to be installed in areas with slopes greater than 8 percent; however; if steep terrain is encountered, the pipeline may be installed using HDD and no additional measures would be needed for this sloped area. Pioneer would avoid other areas of steep slopes. No geotechnical hazards such as faults and fissures, unstable slopes, expansive or evaporative soils, or risk of subsidence of upheaval have been identified that might affect the ability to safely construct or operate the Project. The Project is located in a rural agricultural area that is not generally subject to wildfire hazard.

3.11.8.2 Risks to the Project from Natural Hazards

Based on the location of the Project in the Colorado Front Range and general agricultural setting, the Project would not be subject to significant risk from natural hazards.

3.11.8.3 Impact and Net Effect of the Project on Soil and Geologic Conditions in the area

Pipeline construction is not anticipated to impact long-term soil productivity. The pipeline would be primarily installed underground in a shallow (approximately 4 feet deep) trench and would not affect soil and geologic conditions in the area, impact any streambed meander limits, or affect aquifer recharge. The staging areas in Adams County are described in Section 3.3.3. These staging areas are limited in extent and will be sited to limit affect soil and geologic conditions, streambed meander limits or aquifer recharge areas.

3.11.9 Nuisances

Short-term localized impacts are anticipated from a temporary increase in traffic, construction equipment exhaust (fumes), and clearing and preparing areas for construction. The short-term impacts are not expected to result in nuisance effects. If a nuisance arises during construction, the nuisance would be mitigated in coordination with Adams County. The following sections address potential nuisances that may arise, as a result of the Project.

3.11.9.1 Noise

Project construction is expected to take place between the hours of 7 AM and 7 PM, is not expected to exceed 80 decibels on the A-weighted scale (dBA) and would therefore be in conformance with Section 4-13-03.2 of the ACDSR.

Major activities involved in construction of the Project would include staging materials, produced water pipeline trenching and boring, produced water pipeline fusing and installation, pressure-testing, backfilling the pipeline trench, installation of valve sets, re-contouring and revegetation. See Section 3.3.3 for a description of these activities. Construction at night is not anticipated but may occur in coordination and with approval from Adams County.

The construction phase would produce noise because heavy equipment would be required to build the proposed produced water pipeline and valve sets. Sound levels would fluctuate, depending on the construction activity, equipment type and distance between noise source and receiver. Sound from construction equipment would vary dependent on the construction phase and the number and type of equipment a location at any given time. The variation in power and usage imposes additional complexity in characterizing construction noise levels

The following mitigation measures would reduce the potential for temporary adverse noise impacts during construction:

- Advertise a Project hotline and email whereby residents can contact Pioneer directly with their noise concerns. Throughout construction and operation of the Project, Pioneer would document, investigate, and attempt to resolve legitimate Project-related noise complaints.
- Notify landowners who may be directly impacted along the ROW prior to noisy construction activities.
- Coordinate construction vehicle travel to reduce the number of passes by sensitive receptors.
- Restrict noisy construction activity, which causes off-site annoyance as evidenced by the filing of a legitimate noise complaint, would be restricted to daytime hours (i.e., 7 AM to 7 PM) unless construction during nighttime hours is requested by Pioneer.

The produced pipeline would be buried underground. No noise is expected to be generated by the produced water pipeline during operation. The valve sets would be unmanned facilities. No noise is expected to be generated at the valve sets during operation, except when crews are onsite to perform routine maintenance activities. Noise generated as a result of routine maintenance activities would be short term.

3.11.9.2 Glare

Glare is not anticipated to be generated by the Project because the produced water pipeline would be buried underground. The aboveground piping associated with aboveground appurtenances would not have a reflective surface.

3.11.9.3 Dust

Limited dust would be generated during all construction phases with the exception of pressure testing. Dust suppression measures that would be implemented during construction, BMPs, and site restoration and revegetation activities are discussed in Tables 12 and 13. Pioneer will submit a CDPHE APEN including a dust suppression plan prior to construction, and CDPHE would stipulate additional mitigation, monitoring and recordkeeping requirements for a minor source construction air permit if required.

3.11.9.4 Fumes

Fumes would be generated during construction from construction equipment exhaust. Fumes from vehicles would also be generated during operation of the Project and would include fumes from trucks used for routine maintenance activities along the pipeline or at valve set locations. Impacts during construction and operation as a result of fumes would be short term and localized to the location of construction equipment and delivery trucks. Additional air quality information is included in Section 3.11.1.

3.11.9.5 Vibrations

Minimal vibration would occur during construction due to the use of heavy machinery and operations such as drilling and trenching. The vibrations would be temporary in nature and limited to the immediate area around the construction work. Any vibrations would last only during the construction timeframe and only be experienced within the 50-foot-wide construction zone adjacent to construction vehicles. No vibrations are expected during operation of the pipeline.

3.11.9.6 Odors

An odor is the property of a substance to stimulate chemical sense receptors that sample the air in and around human or animal (Encyclopedia Britannica 2012). Existing odors in the vicinity of the pipeline route may include diesel exhaust from vehicles, vehicles traveling on adjacent roadways, and agricultural operations immediately surrounding the Project.

Odors resulting from construction of the Project may include vehicle and equipment exhaust. These odor emissions are expected to be short term and transient in nature, limited to the area of active construction, and adequately dispersed by diurnal winds.

During commissioning, startup, and long-term operations and maintenance of the Project, odors would be minimal and limited to the use of on-site maintenance equipment.

3.11.10 Areas of Paleontological, Historic or Archaeological Importance

3.11.10.1 Description of All Sites of Paleontological, Historic, or Archaeological Interest

Tetra Tech completed a desktop analysis to identify cultural and historic resources listed on the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP), determined or recommended eligible for the NRHP, or that remain unevaluated for listing on the NRHP that may be impacted by construction of the Project. No potentially significant cultural resources are expected to be impacted by the Project. Pioneer would have an Unanticipated Discovery Plan in place for the Project, however. Please refer to Attachment 2 of the NRCO report for the full Cultural Resources Class I Letter Report and additional information regarding cultural resources.

3.11.10.2 Impacts and Net Effect of the Project All Sites of Paleontological, Historic, or Archaeological Interest

The results of a Class I cultural resources survey conducted in January 2020 did not identify any significant cultural, historic, or archaeological resources within the Project in Adams County that could not be avoided. Should any additional undiscovered paleontological, historic, or archaeological artifacts be uncovered during construction activities that are not previously identified, such activities would be temporarily stopped until a qualified person can evaluate the object of interest as outlined in the Unanticipated Discovery Plan.

3.11.11 Hazardous Materials Description

3.11.11.1 Hazardous, Toxic, and Explosive Substances To Be Used, Stored, Transported, Disturbed or Produced in Connection with the Project

Upon completion, the pipeline would transport produced water to the existing EWS #6 water facility located in Weld County. The Project includes the placement of remote isolation valves spaced throughout the Project within Adams County for the purpose of providing emergency safety isolation along the pipeline.

Toxic or explosive substances would not be stored in construction areas or along the pipeline or associated valve sets during operations. There are no chemical or waste storage facilities associated with the Project.

Hazardous chemicals that may be used during construction and operation are those found in diesel fuel, gasoline, coolant (ethylene glycol) and lubricants in machinery. Hazardous materials would not be drained onto the ground or into streams or drainage areas. Enclosed containment would be provided for waste disposal. Pioneer does not expect that the Project will generate hazardous materials during any phase of the Project, however construction waste, including trash and litter, garbage, other solid waste, petroleum products and other potentially hazardous materials would be removed to a disposal facility authorized to accept such materials. The hazardous materials identified above may be stored in trucks in small quantities overnight within unincorporated Adams County.

Pioneer and its contractors would provide and maintain sanitary accommodations for the use of their employees during construction of the Project in a manner that would comply with the requirements and regulations of health departments and of other governmental bodies. These accommodations, including trash dumpsters and portable waste facilities (toilets), would be located in several locations along the construction route based on the construction plan. The final numbers, locations, and vendors would be provided by the construction contractor. Construction waste would be stockpiled in the construction staging areas and would be removed from the construction sites during the construction process.

3.11.11.2 Location of Storage Areas

Temporary workspaces are discussed in Section 2.3. These areas would be used to temporarily store pipeline construction materials as well as necessary construction equipment. Spill containment measures would be specified in the site-specific SWMP. Temporary workspaces are discussed in Section 2.3.4 and would also be used to temporarily store pipe and other materials necessary for construction HDD activities.

3.11.11.3 Reportable Quantities, Emergency Response Plan

Reference Section 2.3.5 for information regarding Project safety.

In addition, the Project would be designed and operated per the Pioneer internal operating standards and practices and written maintenance procedures including the development of a site-specific Emergency Response Plan.

Construction activities would be performed by methods that prevent discharge or accidental spillage of solid matter, contaminants, debris, and other pollutants and wastes into flowing streams or dry watercourses, lakes and underground water sources. During construction, the focus would be primarily on containment-type BMPs.

Temporary workspaces would be located and arranged in a manner to preserve trees and vegetation. Excavated material or other construction materials would not be stockpiled or deposited near or on-stream banks or other watercourse perimeters where they could be washed away by high water or storm runoff or could encroach upon stream banks.

Fueling vehicles would be equipped with spill kits and fire extinguishers and personnel would be properly trained in spill prevention control and countermeasures. Based on review of available information from federal and state databases, construction activities associated with the Project are not anticipated to encounter known areas of soil or groundwater contamination. In general, if trenching or HDD activity uncovers previously unknown areas of contamination, work would immediately be stopped until a pre-determined Pioneer contact is notified and consulted. Pioneer or its contractor would then perform all necessary testing and handling of such materials as required by applicable state and/or federal requirements.

3.11.11.3.1 Emergency Response

Pioneer would prepare a site-specific Emergency Response Plan to establish emergency protocols for the produced water pipelines and associated facilities. The purpose of this plan is primarily to minimize the hazard to the public, Pioneer's employees and to property and secondarily to reestablish service should a service interruption occur. The plan would establish procedures and defines responsibilities prior to, during, and following an emergency and includes contact information and instructions for all such anticipated emergency situations. The plan would describe the specific responsibilities of Pioneer responders including dispatchers and emergency responders.

3.11.11.3.2 Routine Maintenance

Routine maintenance of the Project facilities would be performed as outlined in Pioneer's internal operating standards and practices and written maintenance procedures, which meet or exceed regulatory requirements. Maintenance activities associated with the Project would include, but are not limited to:

- Implement a damage prevention program, including observation of any construction activities by others on or near the permanent easement.
- Participate in the State of Colorado's one-call program and responding to one-calls.
- Implement a public education program.
- Install and maintain pipeline markers.
- Inspect block valves.
- Inspect crossings by other pipelines, highways, railroads and utilities.
- Inspect and maintain safety, control, mechanical and electrical equipment.
- Maintain communication equipment.
- Calibration of all instruments.

3.11.12 Balance Between Benefits and Losses

3.11.12.1 Foreseeable Benefits of Natural, Agricultural, Recreational, Range, or Industrial Resources

There would be no anticipated loss of resources within Adams County or loss of opportunities to develop such resources. Industrial resources and future opportunities to develop commercial and industrial resources would be supported by the Project because it would continue to support the oil and gas industry and help support future growth.

3.11.12.2 Foreseeable Losses of Natural, Agricultural, Recreational, Range, or Industrial Resources

The majority of the project ROW in Adams County is located within agricultural/rangeland. Pioneer's restoration contractor would restore the pipeline ROWs to pre-construction conditions. Native shortgrass prairie is not present at a measurable quantity within the pipeline ROW. Potential impacts to wetland would be minimal based on desktop analysis. Impacts to wetlands are not anticipated to extend past one to two growing seasons (see Section 3.11.5). The Project would not adversely affect future opportunities to develop commercial and industrial resources. The pipeline ROW has been routed with landowner considerations to maximize the use of existing ROWs and property boundaries and to avoid potential conflict with land use and development.

3.11.13 Monitoring and Mitigation

3.11.13.1 Description of All Mitigation for the Project

Mitigation and monitoring activities have been described as related to environmental and community resources and concerns throughout this document. Construction and operation mitigation activities would be financed as a part of the cost of the Project. BMPs listed in Tables 12 and 13 are intended to minimize disturbed area and to protect natural features. Mitigation would be completed during and after construction until the ROW has been restored.

3.11.13.2 Methodology Used to Measure Impacts

Field investigations would be conducted in spring 2020 to define potential aquatic and terrestrial resources, wildlife, and cultural resources baseline and impacts more accurately. As needed, additional mitigation and/or studies would be proposed following the pedestrian surveys and analysis specific to the resources identified and potential impacts.

Fugitive dust emissions during construction would be controlled with the implementation of BMPs including application of water during high wind conditions to eliminate fugitive dusts. The SWMP would specify BMPs to be followed during construction activities that would minimize erosion and impacts to water quality from storm events. The implementation of dust controls and stormwater BMPs include monitoring requirements.

3.11.13.3 Description of Location and Intervals of Proposed Monitoring

Construction monitoring may be required for stormwater, erosion control, air quality, wildlife, cultural and historic resources, and other resources. During construction of the Project, BMPs would be monitored either by Pioneer or by Pioneer's contractor to ensure their effective implementation. For example, the effectiveness of dust suppression and stormwater management controls would be evaluated. An environmental inspector would also monitor sediment erosion control facilities during construction to ensure compliance with the SWMP.

Post-construction monitoring would be completed for stormwater/erosion, ROW restoration, and weed control until all permit requirements have been met and all landowners' requirements have been met. The Project intersects approximately 2.8 miles of area designated within the Adams County Stormwater Permit Area. Therefore, Pioneer will likely be required to obtain an Adams County Stormwater Quality (SWQ) Permit for Construction.

3.12 60-07-02-12. Referrals to Outside Agencies, Response to Referral Comments and Neighborhood Scoping Meeting

To date, no referrals or responses from outside agencies has been received to date. A description of the Neighborhood Meeting is included in Section 2.13.1.

4. Section 2-02-08-06. CUP Approval Criteria

The Planning Commission, in making their recommendation, and the Board of County Commissioners, in approving a conditional use permit, shall find:

1. The conditional use is permitted in the applicable zone district.

   Response in this Application. In consultation with the Adams County Department of Community Planning and Development, Pioneer has been advised that the produced water pipeline is subject to the County CUP review and approval in zone districts crossed by the Project. Reference Section 3.6 for additional information regarding the existing land use plans and potential Project impacts.

   Reference Sections. Section 2.3—Written Explanation of the Project, Section 3.6—Land Use.

2. The conditional use is consistent with the purposes of these standards and regulations.

   Response in this Application. The Project would remain consistent with the purposes of the ACDSR's goals to "control and assist in the orderly, efficient, and integrated development of the County, in order to preserve the health, safety, and welfare of the public, in accordance with established County policies and plans" (ACDSR 1-01-03). All required permits would be obtained from the appropriate federal, state, or local agency prior to construction. Table 7 in Section 3.4.2 describes the permits and approvals required by the Project and their status.

   Reference Sections. Section 3.4—Property Rights, Permits and Other Approvals

3. The conditional use will comply with the requirements of these standards and regulations including, but not limited to, all applicable performance standards.

   Response in this Application. The Project would remain consistent with ACDSR's performance standards outlined in Chapter 4—Design Requirements and Performance Standards. All other federal, state, and local standards would be upheld including the COGCC Series 1100 Rules, Colorado Department of Transportation Construction Standards, Clean Water Act Sections 404 and 401, etc.

   Reference Sections. Section 2.3—Written Explanation of the Project and Section 3.4—Property Rights, Permits and Other Approvals.

4. The conditional use is compatible with the surrounding area, harmonious with the character of the neighborhood, not detrimental to the immediate area, not detrimental to the future development of the area, and not detrimental to the health, safety, or welfare of the inhabitants of the area and the County. In making this determination, the Planning Commission and the Board of County Commissioners shall find, at a minimum, that the conditional use will not result in excessive traffic generation, noise, vibration, dust, glare, heat, smoke, fumes, gas, odors, or inappropriate hours of operation.

   Response in this Application. The Project is compatible with the surrounding area and its operation would not result in permanent additional nuisances to the local population. Overall, the produced water pipeline is not expected to affect visual quality. The produced water pipeline would be installed by means of trenching or by HDD, and it ultimately would be buried underground and so would be compatible with the surrounding area and harmonious with the character of surrounding rural and agricultural land uses. Aboveground appurtenances would be similar to other ancillary facilities associated with oil and gas in the area and therefore would not be out of character in the landscape.

Short-term localized noise impacts are anticipated from a temporary increase in traffic, construction equipment exhaust (fumes), and clearing and preparing areas for construction. The short-term impacts are not expected to result in nuisance effects. If a nuisance arises during construction, the nuisance would be mitigated in coordination with Adams County. Section 3.11.9 address potential nuisances that may arise as a result of the Project.

Reference Sections. Section 3.11.2—Visual Quality and Section 3.11.9—Nuisances

5. The conditional use permit has addressed all off-site impacts.

Response in this Application. Pioneer is committed to safety and would follow all federal, state, and local rules and regulations to provide safe, reliable service for Pioneer's customers. Off-site impacts due to construction or operation of the pipeline were considered during the planning, siting, and routing process of the pipelines (Sections 3.3.2). The pipeline routes would be located underground and their operation would not produce any nuisances or inconveniences to nearby landowners or the general public.

Construction of the Project would incorporate mitigation measures that would minimize impacts to water quality, water use, existing land uses, local government resources, cultural resources, and the natural environment. Pioneer would use a SWMP for implementation of BMPs to mitigate soil erosion, control noxious weeds, and revegetate disturbed areas. Groundwater quality also would be protected through the implementation of a SWMP and through the implementation of waste management BMPs during construction.

Given the location of the route along existing roadways and agricultural areas, noise during construction has been partially mitigated by avoiding dense population areas, and following unpopulated and rural populated areas. The resulting noise would not be uncharacteristic of typical noise from day-to-day activities in the area. Dust suppression would be conducted during construction and would not be uncharacteristic of the dust created by existing agricultural activities. No other off-site impacts to air or water quality are expected as a result of construction or operation of the facilities or pipelines. During construction, an increase in traffic is expected to be negligible.

Reference Sections. Exhibit H—Routing Analysis, Section 3.3.1—Detailed Plans and Specifications of the Project, Section 3.11.1—Air Quality, Section 3.11.2—Visual Quality, Section 3.11.4—Groundwater Quality and Quantity, and Section 3.11.9—Nuisances

6. The site is suitable for the conditional use including adequate usable space, adequate access, and absence of environmental constraints.

   Response in this Application. Pioneer conducted a thorough review of the pipeline route. Pioneer is seeking a permanent easement for its pipelines that is approximately 10 feet wide, along with an additional 30 feet of temporary easement, for a total construction corridor of 40 feet in width. Appurtenant aboveground appurtenances such as isolation valves, pumps, and cleaning tool launcher and receivers would be located at the existing oil and gas production facilities. Within unincorporated Adams County, approximately five aboveground appurtenances (reference Section 2.3.4) would be located along the pipelines within the 10-foot-wide pipeline easements.

   Pioneer does not anticipate using additional temporary workspaces in unincorporated Adams County besides the temporary workspaces located along the pipeline route, which would be used to excavate trench, fuse pipeline segments, deliver the HDD equipment and pipe segments, excavate HDD entry and receiving pits, temporarily stockpile excavated soil from the pits, and serve as laydown for pipe segments. Following construction, the contractor would return temporary workspaces to pre-construction conditions.

   The pipeline would be constructed on private land with the exception of CDOT ROW crossings and one Adams County-owned parcel (parcel #157123401001). The pipeline would be installed using HDD and would not impact the existing South Platte River Trail on this parcel. The pipeline would be located underground for its entire length and Pioneer would minimize impacts to sensitive water resources and public roads using HDD techniques where possible. The pipeline easements could continue to be farmed after the pipeline is installed.

   Section 3.7.3 describes haul routes that would be used during construction of the Project. None of these roads are expected to experience a significant impact from the delivery of materials during construction. It is not expected that Pioneer's construction contractor would need to improve or close any roads, intersections, or bridges to accommodate oversized truck deliveries to the Project.

   Reference Sections. Section 2.3—Written Explanation of the Project, Section 3.7.3—Potential Effect of the Project on the Existing Transportation Network.

7. The site plan for the proposed conditional use will provide the most convenient and functional use of the lot including the parking scheme, traffic circulation, open space, fencing, screening, landscaping, signage, and lighting.

   Response in this Application. The pipeline would not interfere with the agriculture use in the area and is generally routed near and parallel to section lines, property lines, and existing utility corridors to minimize impacts on future development. The aboveground appurtenances are not visually sensitive given the existing oil and gas infrastructure in the area and they would appear as a minor feature in the landscape. It is anticipated that the Project would not adversely impact area visual resources.

   Reference Sections. Section 2.3—Written Explanation of the Project, Section 3.11.2—Visual Quality and Section 3.11.9—Nuisances.

8. Sewer, water, storm water drainage, fire protection, police protection, and roads are to be available and adequate to serve the needs of the conditional use as designed and proposed.

   Response in this Application. Pioneer accounted for all sewer, water, stormwater drainage, fire protection, police protection, and road availability to serve the needs of the Project. The pipelines would be located underground and would not require utility services (i.e., sewer, water, stormwater drainage, etc.), or the construction of new roads.

   As discussed in Section 3.11.11, Pioneer would follow an Emergency Response Plan, which would include procedures and directions for emergency dispatch in the case of a pipeline emergency. The Project would not increase fire protection demands. Appurtenant aboveground facilities such as isolation valves, pumps, and cleaning tool launcher and receivers would be located at the existing oil and gas production facilities. Aboveground appurtenances within unincorporated Adams County would be located on private land and outside of storm water drainage facilities and floodplains. The Project does not anticipate an increase in police protection.

   It is not expected that Pioneer's construction contractor would need to improve or close any roads, intersections, or bridges to accommodate oversized truck deliveries to the Project. See Section 3.7.3 for additional information about the Project and its effect on local transportation networks.

   Reference Sections. Section 2.3—Written Explanation of the Project, Section 2.7—Proof of Water and Sewer Services, and Section 3.7—Local Government Services.

Routing Analysis

1. Introduction

Tetra Tech, Inc (Tetra Tech), has prepared this routing analysis on behalf of Pioneer Water Pipeline, LLC (Pioneer), a subsidiary of Expedition Water Solutions Colorado, LLC (Expedition), for the proposed Pioneer Water Pipeline Project (Project). The analysis was performed as required by Section 6-07-02-03 under Chapter 6 Regulations Governing AASI and the AASI Checklist for supplemental environmental impact analysis and as requested by Adams County during the Conceptual Review process.

1.1. Alternative Concepts Considered

The purpose of the Project is to allow more efficient pipeline transportation of produced water from oil and gas production facilities (OGPFs) in Adams and Weld counties to Expedition's existing EWS #6 wastewater injection and disposal facility, thereby also significantly reducing truck traffic. Without the Project, oil and gas producers will transport produced water from permitted OGPFs to EWS #6 by truck. Transport of produced water by truck was eliminated as an alternative because Pioneer expects construction of the Project will remove the equivalent of five million truck miles and over 50,000 truckloads per year on local roads.

2. Identification of Preferred Routes

Pioneer considered and eliminated several alternative routes prior to deciding the preferred route (Figure H-1). The routing process began by identifying the pipeline beginning points (permitted OGPFs, Figure 1) and the terminus (EWS #6, Figure 1). Alternative routes were then selected to minimize potential impacts. The total length of each pipeline within unincorporated Adams County, Weld County, and municipalities is listed in Table (Page8). The features of the alternative routes included:

- Meets the Project's purpose and need in transporting produced water to the existing EWS #6 facility from OGPFs operated by Great Western Petroleum in the shortest distance possible to reduce impacts and construction costs.
- Parallels existing roadways, pipeline/utility corridors, and section lines to the extent practicable to minimize the creation of new linear corridors.
- Is located within properties owned by landowners who are willing to grant an easement for the pipeline on their property.
- Minimizes potential disturbance to environmentally sensitive areas such as floodplains, wetlands, and federal/state species habitats.
- Minimizes impacts to major water crossings and topography constraints.
- Reflects Pioneer's consideration of compatible zoning and land uses.

The major considerations for the preferred route within Adams County was to parallel existing rights-of-way and circumventing to the extent possible existing and planned residential areas and intentionally not bisect them. Emphasis was also placed on working with landowners to identify what would be least impactful and securing easements for the Pioneer Water Pipeline on private land and public rights-of-way.

Consideration was also given to reducing the number and length of laterals needed to reach well pads by having the pipeline route run through the well pad sites as well as the shortest linear length of pipeline.

3. Route Descriptions and Comparative Analysis

The Project was divided into four zones for ease of identification of alternative routes (Figure 1). Descriptions of the preferred and alternative routes for each zone are described below:

3.1. Zone A

3.1.1. Preferred Route

This route originates on the eastern side of Zone A at the Brant LD OGPF. The pipeline travels east from the OGPF for 1,500 feet, crossing Riverdale Road and Brighton Ditch. The pipeline then turns north, crossing 160th Avenue and turning west, paralleling the north side of 160th Avenue, then turning north just before Brighton Ditch. The pipeline parallels the east side of Brighton Ditch for approximately 2,700 feet, where it turns west and crosses Brighton Ditch at a 90-degree angle. The pipeline turns north, crossing 168th Avenue and passing into Weld County. The pipeline parallels the north side of 168th Avenue as it travels west, crossing Brantner Ditch. Just west of Brantner Ditch, a lateral come from the Baseline LE OGPF on the south side of 168th Avenue, crossing the roadway to join the pipeline on the north side. The pipeline continues west along 168th Avenue, and as the pipeline reaches Havana Street turns, it north for 400 feet, then turns west, crossing County Road (CR) 21. The pipeline travels north, paralleling the west side of CR 21. A lateral connects the Marcus LD OGPF to the pipeline, located in Weld County. North of 168th Avenue, approximately 0.5 mile (2,600 feet), the pipeline turns west, crossing CR 19. Just west of CR 19, a lateral connecting the Seltzer LD OGPF to the pipeline, which crosses 168th Avenue from Adams to Weld county. The pipeline joins with the pipeline from Zone B and continues north into Weld County toward the EWS #6 facility. This route has secured easements, has the least amount of pipeline within Adams County, the least amount of waterway crossings, and is the furthest from the Todd Creek residential area.

- Route Length: 3.8 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 2.13 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Weld County: 1.67 miles

3.1.2. Route A-1

This route originates on the eastern side of Zone A at the Brant LD OGPF. The pipeline travels north paralleling the east side of Brantner Ditch, then crossing Brantner Ditch near the location of the Brantner Ditch crossing of 160th Avenue. The pipeline continues north, paralleling the west side of Brantner Ditch. Approximately 2,600 feet north of 160th Avenue, the pipeline turns west. A lateral from the Baseline LE OGPF joins the pipeline at this turn. As the pipeline travels west, it parallels the east-west portion of Havana Street/Lima Street, passing to the south of Stouffer Reservoirs No. 1. A lateral connects from Marcus LD OGPF in Weld County and travels south, crossing 168th Avenue, connecting to the pipeline. The pipeline continues 500 feet west from this lateral junction and turns south, crossing Signal Ditch. The pipeline turns west, paralleling the south side of Signal Ditch, crossing Signal Ditch again and turning north. Approximately 1,300 feet north of signal ditch, the pipeline turns west. The pipeline turns north before Signal Reservoir Number 2 and passes by the Seltzer LD OGPF. The pipeline turns west at 168th Avenue and parallels the roadway. The pipeline connects to the pipeline segment from Zone B, crosses 168th Avenue, passing into Weld County, traveling north to EWS #6. The majority of this portion of the pipeline is not located along major roadways. By not constructing along these major roadways, traffic impacts during construction of the pipeline will be reduced. This route is closest to Todd Creek residential area, of the Zone A routes. This section primarily runs along parcel boundaries, avoiding bisecting lands, and for portions is collocated with Williams's natural gas pipeline. This pipeline has the most water crossings and has the least engineering feasibility for construction within this zone.

- Route Length: 6.02 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 5.69 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Weld County: 0.32 mile

3.1.3. Route A-2

This route originates on the eastern side of Zone A at the Brant LD OGPF. The pipeline travels east approximately 1,500 feet, crossing Riverdale Road and Brighton Ditch, turning north near the South Platte River. The pipeline then travels north, crossing 160th Avenue. The pipeline turns west, paralleling the north side of 160th Avenue, turning north just before the east side of Brighton Ditch. The pipeline parallels the east side of Brighton Ditch for approximately 2,800 feet, where it turns west and crosses Brighton Ditch and Brantner Ditch at a 90-degree angle. The pipeline turns north, paralleling the west side of Brantner Ditch, passing by the Baseline LE OGPF, crossing 168th Avenue and into Weld County. The pipeline parallels the north side of 168th Avenue as it travels west. The pipeline crosses CR 21 and passes by the Marcus LD OGPF. The pipeline continues west, crossing CR 19. Just east of the Seltzer LD OGPF, it then turns north. At this turn, a lateral connects Seltzer LD OGPF to the pipeline, crossing 168th Avenue from Adams County. The pipeline then connects to the pipeline section from Zone B that pass into Weld County and travel north to EWS #6. Much of this route is outside of Adams County and farther away from the Todd Creek residential area than Route A-1. The landowners along this route are not all interested in participating in the project, rendering this route unfeasible.

- Route Length: 4.69 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 2.14 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Weld County: 2.55 miles

3.2. Zone B

3.2.1. Preferred Route

This route originates in the southwest corner of Zone B at the Ivey LC OGPF. The lateral from this OGPF travels east, paralleling the south side of E-470. The pipeline crosses Dig Dry Creek, York Street, an unnamed intermittent stream, German Ditch, Union Pacific Railroad tracks, and Colorado Boulevard at 90-degree angles. The lateral joins the pipeline where it enters from Zone C, then crosses E-470 to the north side of the highway. The pipeline parallels the north side of E-470 to the west, crossing Colorado Boulevard and passing by the Tollway LC OGPF. The pipeline turns north just past the Tollway LC OGPF, connects with a short lateral, and then turns east at the east-west portion of Colorado Boulevard.

The pipeline travels east approximately 1,100 feet before turning north, crossing the east-west portion of Colorado Boulevard. The pipeline travels north, turning east just before German Ditch and passes by B-Farm LD OGPF, connecting with a short lateral. The pipeline parallels the route of German Ditch, crossing two unnamed intermittent streams. The pipeline then turns east and travels on the south side of 160th Avenue. At this turn, a lateral joins the pipeline, originating at the Rio LA OGPF on the southeast corner of 168th Avenue and Colorado Boulevard. The lateral travels south from the OGPF, paralleling the east side of Colorado Boulevard and crossing Big Dry Creek 3 times. The lateral turns east at an unnamed intermittent stream just north of 160th Avenue and crosses German Ditch. Just to the east of German Ditch, the lateral turns south, crossing 160th Avenue and joins the Pioneer mainline. As the pipeline travels east along the south side of 160th Avenue, it crosses Holly Street, an unnamed ditch, and passes by the Ocho LD OGPF and connects with a short lateral. The pipeline continues traveling east along 160th Avenue, crossing Monaco Street, Signal Ditch, and Quebec Street. On the southeast corner of 160th Avenue and Quebec Street, the pipeline turns north, crossing 160th Avenue and paralleling the east side of Quebec Street. As the pipeline travels north it crosses Signal Ditch, turns east at 168th Avenue and parallels the roadway for approximately 1,000 feet, then turns north, crossing 168th Avenue and into Weld County where the pipeline joins with the pipeline portion from Zone A in Weld County and travels north through Weld County to the EWS #6 disposal facility. This route has secured easements, runs along many existing utility corridors, and most efficiently connects all the well pad sites in the areas.

- Route Length: 8.55 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 5.08 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Weld County: 0.52 mile
- Route Length within the City of Thornton: 1.94 miles

3.2.2. Route B-1

This route originates in the southwest corner of Zone B at the Ivey LC OGPF. The lateral from this OGPF travels east paralleling the south side of E-470. The pipeline crosses Dig Dry Creek, York Street, an unnamed intermittent stream, German Ditch, Union Pacific Railroad tracks, and Colorado Boulevard at 90-degree angles. The lateral joins the pipeline where it enters from Zone C, then crosses E-470 to the north side of the highway. The pipeline parallels the north side of E-470 going west, crossing Colorado Boulevard and passing by the Tollway LC OGPF. The pipeline turns north just past the Tollway LC OGPF, connecting with a short lateral, and then turns east at the east-west portion of Colorado Boulevard. The pipeline travels east approximately 1,100 feet before turning north, crossing the east-west portion of Colorado Boulevard. The pipeline travels north, turning east just before German Ditch and passes by B-Farm LD OGPF, connecting with a short lateral. The pipeline parallels the route of German Ditch, crossing two unnamed intermittent streams. The pipeline then turns east at 160th Avenue and travels east on the south side of the roadway. At this turn a lateral joins the pipeline, originating at the Rio LA OGPF on the southeast corner of 168th Avenue and Colorado Boulevard. The lateral travels south from the OGPF, paralleling the east side of Colorado Boulevard, and crossing Big Dry Creek 3 times. The lateral turns east at an unnamed intermittent stream just north of 160th Avenue and crosses German Ditch. Just to the east of German Ditch, the lateral turns south, crossing 160th Avenue and joins the main pipeline. The pipeline travels east along the south side of 160th Avenue, crossing Holly Street then turning north, crossing 160th Avenue and traveling north along the east side of Holly Street. At this turn, a lateral from the Ocho LD OGPF at the southwest corner of 160th Avenue and Monaco Street, which crosses an unnamed intermittent stream connects to the pipeline. The pipeline continues north, parallel to the west side of Holly St, crossing 162nd Avenue, German Ditch, and Eagle Shadow Drive at 90-degree angles. At 168th Avenue, the pipeline turns west and crosses Holly Street. At CR 15, the pipeline crosses 168th Avenue into Weld County and travels north along the east side of CR 15. Approximately 1,400 feet north of 168th Avenue, the pipeline turns east and joins with the pipeline portion from Zone A and then travels north through Weld County to the EWS #6 disposal facility. This route follows the west and north borders of a residential development instead of the east and south borders, should there be conflicts within existing utility corridors. This route also has less pipeline within Adams County, but has an increased number of road crossings.

- Route Length: 9.02 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 3.89 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Weld County: 1.68 miles
- Route Length within the City of Thornton: 3.45 miles

3.2.3. Route B-2

This route originates where the pipeline from Zone C enters Zone B. The pipeline travels west along the south side of E-470, crossing Colorado Boulevard, German Ditch, Union Pacific Railroad tracks, and an unnamed intermittent stream. Approximately 1,000 feet west of the railroad tracks, the pipeline turns north, crossing E-470. At this turn a lateral connects from the Ivey LC OGPF which originates in the southeast corner of Zone B. From this OGPF, the lateral travels east, paralleling the south side of E-470 crossing Big Dry Creek and York St where it joins the pipeline at this turn. The pipeline travels north, crossing an unnamed intermittent stream, 156th Avenue, Big Dry Creek, 160th Avenue, and an unnamed intermittent stream. The pipeline turns east just before 168th Avenue, crosses Colorado Boulevard, and connects with the Rio LA OGPF. The pipeline turns north, crossing 168th Avenue and into Weld County and paralleling the east side of CR 13. Approximately 1,400 feet north of 168th Avenue, the pipeline turns east, crossing Thompson Ditch, Big Dry Creek, and CR 15. Approximately 1,300 feet east of CR 17, the pipeline turns north for 1,200 feet, then turns east, passing German Reservoir Number 12, an unnamed intermittent stream, and CR 17. The pipeline joins with the pipeline portion from Zone A and travels north through Weld County to the EWS #6 disposal facility. This route is unable to connect to the Tollway LC, B-Farm LD, and Ocho LD OGPFs due to engineering constraints, requiring these OGPFs to continue to be served by trucks to transport produced water to EWS #6.

- Route Length: 7.38 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 1.76 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Weld County: 2.73 miles
- Route Length within the City of Thornton: 2.89 miles

3.3. Zone C

3.3.1. Preferred Route

This route originates where the pipeline from Zone D enters the east side of Zone C. A lateral crosses beneath E-470 connecting the Henderson OGPF to the pipeline. The pipeline travels west, paralleling the north side of E-470 where it crosses the South Platte River via horizontal directional drilling (HDD), an unnamed intermittent stream, Brantner Ditch and Riverdale Rd. Just west of Riverdale road, the pipeline turns south, crossing E-470 then turning back west, paralleling the south side of E-470, crossing an unnamed intermittent stream. Just west of this unnamed intermittent stream, a lateral comes from the south connecting the Gus LD OGPF to the pipeline. The pipeline continues west along E-470, passing by the Kortum LD OGPF, a lateral comes from the Tower LD OGPF, passing by the Kortum LD OGPF, and connecting to the pipeline. The pipeline continues west, paralleling the south side of E-470, crossing an unnamed intermittent stream, Quebec Street, two unnamed intermittent streams, Todd Creek, Holly Street, Signal Ditch and reaching the west side of Zone C. This route is the most direct route, following the E-470 right-of-way for the entirety of the zone. This route has the best approach for the HDD beneath the South Platte River.

- Route Length: 6.29 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 3.19 miles
- Route Length within the City of Brighton: 2.64 miles
- Route Length within the City of Thornton: 0.45 mile

3.3.2. Route C-1

This route originates where the pipeline from Zone D enters the east side of Zone C. A lateral crosses beneath E-470 connecting the Henderson OGPF to the pipeline. The pipeline travels west, paralleling the north side of E-470, where it crosses the South Platte River via HDD, an unnamed intermittent stream, Brantner Ditch, Riverdale Road, and the same unnamed intermittent stream five times. A lateral from the south crosses E-470, connecting the Kortum LD OGPF, Gus LD OGPF, and Tower LD OGPF. The pipeline continues west, paralleling the south side of E-470, crossing an unnamed intermittent stream, Quebec Street, two more unnamed intermittent stream, Todd Creek, Holly Street, and Signal Ditch and reaching the west side of Zone C. This route has an increased number of waterway crossings and is on the opposite side of E-470 from the existing utility corridor.

- Route Length: 6.54 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 2.99 miles
- Route Length within the City of Brighton: 0.43 mile
- Route Length within the City of Thornton: 3.12 miles

3.3.3. Route C-2

This route originates where the pipeline from Zone D enters the east side of Zone C. The pipeline crosses from the north to the south side of E-470, turning west and paralleling the south side of E-470. At this junction, a lateral extends southwest that connects the Henderson OGPF to the pipeline. The pipeline travels west, paralleling the south side of E-470, where it crosses the South Platte River, an unnamed intermittent stream, Brantner Ditch, Riverdale Road, and an unnamed intermittent stream. Just west of this unnamed intermittent stream, a lateral from the south connects the Gus LD OGPF to the pipeline. The pipeline continues west along E-470, passing by the Kortum LD OGPF, a lateral comes from the Tower LD OGPF, passing by the Kortum LD OGPF, and connecting to the pipeline. The pipeline continues west, paralleling the south side of E-470, crossing an unnamed intermittent stream, Quebec Street, two unnamed intermittent stream, Todd Creek, Holly Street, Signal Ditch and reaching the west side of Zone C. This route does not have the best approach for the HDD of the South Platte River, but reduces the number of HDDs needed under E-470.

- Route Length: 6.1 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 3.05 miles
- Route Length within the City of Brighton: 0.42 mile
- Route Length within the City of Thornton: 2.62 miles

3.4. Zone D

3.4.1. Preferred Route:

This route originates at the Prairie LE OGPF on the eastern side of Zone D. The pipeline goes west from the OGPF paralleling the north side of 136th Avenue. The pipeline passes by the Rico OGPF on the northeast corner of 136th Avenue and Potomac Street. The pipeline crosses to the south side of 136th Avenue at the same location the Fulton Ditch crosses 136th Avenue. The pipeline continues west, paralleling 136th Avenue, and crossing the Fulton Lateral Ditch at a 90-degree angle. The pipeline crosses to the north side of 136th Avenue at the same location Third Creek crosses 136th Avenue. The pipeline continues west for approximately 1,000 feet and turns north approximately 400 feet before turning west again for 900 feet, passing by the Schaefer OGPF, turning south and the turning west to again parallel the north side of 136th Avenue. The pipeline then crosses the Union Pacific Railroad tracks, Second Creek, and U.S. Highway 85. The pipeline continues west, passing by the Sharp OGPF, then crossing Brighton Road at the western side of Zone D. This is the shortest pipeline route, presenting the most engineering feasibility, and is collocated with the Boardwalk Pipeline along 136th Avenue.

- Route Length: 2.73 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 1.84 miles
- Route Length within the City of Brighton: 0.89 mile

3.4.2. Route D-1

This route originates at the Prairie LE OGPF on the eastern side of Zone D. The pipeline goes west from the OGPF, paralleling the north side of 136th Avenue. The pipeline passes by the Rico OGPF on the northeast corner of 136th Avenue and Potomac Street. At the Fulton Lateral Ditch, the pipeline turns north, paralleling the east side of Fulton Lateral Ditch. Approximately 3,100 feet north of 136th Avenue, the pipeline turns west, crossing Fulton Lateral Ditch and Potomac Street. The pipeline turns south, paralleling the east side of the Union Pacific Railroad tracks for approximately 1,800 feet, crossing Third Creek before turning west. The pipeline crosses the Union Pacific Railroad tracks and U.S. Highway 85. A lateral to the south connects to the Schaefer OGPF to this turn. The pipeline continues west from the U.S. Highway 85 crossing, turning south just before Brighton Road. The pipeline crosses Second Creek and passes by the Sharp OGPF. The pipeline turns west, paralleling the north side of 136th Avenue, crossing Brighton Road to reach the west side of zone D. This route is collocated with the Boardwalk Pipeline from Prairie LE OGPF to the junction with the lateral for the Schaefer OGPF, which presents ease for land use designation of a new pipeline. This route is not feasible from an engineering standpoint and would result in more disturbance because it is longer than the preferred route.

- Route Length: 4.31 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 3.41 miles
- Route Length within the City of Brighton: 0.90 mile

3.4.3. Route D-2

This route originates at Prairie LE OGPF on the eastern side of Zone D. The pipeline heads west, paralleling the north side of 136th Avenue for approximately 1,000 feet, then turns north. The pipeline turns west at 144th Avenue, paralleling the south side of 144th Avenue and crosses Country Hills Drive and Fulton Ditch. The pipeline turns south on the east side of the Fulton Ditch Lateral and parallels the ditch for 2,000 feet. The pipeline turns west, crossing Fulton Lateral Ditch and Potomac Street. A lateral extends from the south, connecting the Rico OGPF at this turn. After traveling west, the pipeline turns south, paralleling the east side of the Union Pacific Railroad tracks for approximately 1,800 feet, crossing Third Creek before turning west. The pipeline crosses the Union Pacific Railroad tracks and U.S. Highway 85. There is a lateral that connects from the south from the Schaefer OGPF to this turn. The pipeline continues west from the U.S. Highway 85 crossing, turning south just before Brighton Road. The pipeline crosses Second Creek and passes by the Sharp OGPF. The pipeline turns west, paralleling the north side of 136th Avenue, crossing Brighton Road to reach the west side of Zone D. This route is the longest within Zone D and is not feasible from an engineering standpoint because the minimum pipeline pressure requirements cannot be attained along a longer route.

- Route Length: 5.58 miles
- Route Length within unincorporated Adams County: 4.70 miles
- Route Length within the City of Brighton: 0.88 mile

DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT

THIS DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT ("Agreement") is made and entered into by and between the COUNTY OF ADAMS, a political subdivision of the State of Colorado, hereinafter called ("County"), and Pioneer Water Pipeline, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, 2015 Clubhouse Dr, Suite 201, Greeley, CO 80634, hereinafter called ("Developer"). County and Developer may be referred to in this Agreement collectively as “Parties” or singularly as “Party.”

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Developer desires to construct approximately 19.2 miles of 4- to 12 inch-diameter high-density-polyethylene (HDPE) produced water gathering pipelines and associated appurtenances in Adams County, Colorado, as shown in the alignment sheets in Exhibit A; more particularly described in that certain Conditional Use Permit (“CUP”) Application dated February 28, 2020; and

WHEREAS, on February 28, 2020, Developer submitted an application for a CUP to Adams County in accordance with the requirements outlined in Chapter 2 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations ("the Regulations"), the CUP Checklist, and requested submittal criteria from the Adams County Areas and Activities of State Interest ("AASI") Checklist; and

WHEREAS, Developer will acquire, if it has not already done so, all necessary right-of-way easements and temporary construction easements to utilize certain real property in the County of Adams, State of Colorado; and

WHEREAS, the County has designated its future road expansion plans in the Adams County Transportation Plan adopted November 2012 ("Transportation Plan"); and

WHEREAS, the County and Developer have planned and designed the Project, so it will not prohibit future development, and so that it will not add cost to the County's future infrastructure plans to support development.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing, the parties hereto promise, covenant, and agree as follows:

I. DEVELOPER'S OBLIGATIONS:

1. Pre-Construction Activities. Prior to site disturbance and commencing construction in the County, Developer Shall:

   a. Apply for the applicable construction permits.

   b. Prepare a Storm Water Management Plan. Storm Water Best Management Practices (" BMPs") will be implemented for the construction phase to capture and treat onsite Storm Water runoff in accordance with the requirements for the Storm Water Management Plan for the Project.

   c. Secure applicable local, state, and federal permits for the Project and submit copies of these permits to the County.

   d. Secure Adams County Right-of-Way permits prior to constructing crossings, which shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

   e. Record all executed easements and property deeds for the Project with the County.

   f. Contact and use commercially reasonable efforts to work with Xcel Energy and United Power regarding any possible encroachment the Project may have on Xcel Energy's or United Power's pipeline(s) or related facilities.

   g. Submit evidence (e.g. permit number) of approved Xcel Energy license agreements to the County.

   h. Submit evidence (e.g. permit number) of approved Colorado Department of Transportation ("CDOT") Utility Permit for the Crossing of U.S. Highway 85, State Highway 7, and State Highway 2 to the County.

   i. Submit evidence (e.g. permit number) of the approved E-470 Public Highway Authority ("E-470") Pipeline Crossing Permit for the crossing of E-470 to the County

   j. Submit evidence (e.g. permit number) of the approved Union Pacific Railroad Crossing/Encroachment Permit for utilities that cross or follow along the ROW.

   k. Submit engineering plans for an approximately 10-foot-wide permanent easement plus an additional 30-foot-wide temporary easement for a total construction corridor of 40 feet in width to be designed and constructed in accordance with Chapter 7 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations

2. Construction Activities. During construction, Developer shall:

   a. Construct the Project in accordance with the CUP.

   b. Manage Stormwater in accordance with a stormwater management plan ("SWMP") prepared under the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment ("CDPHE") Colorado Discharge Permitting System ("CDPS") Permit and in accordance with the Clean Water Act National Pollution Discharge Elimination System ("NPDES") regulations and Adams County's Grading Erosion and Sediment Control standards. Stormwater BMPs will be implemented for the construction phase to capture and treat onsite Storm Water runoff in accordance with the requirements for the SWMP.

   c. Operate at the Project site only from 7:00 AM to 7:00 PM, Monday through Saturday. Construction may occur on Sundays and other hours outside 7:00 AM to 7:00 PM timeframe on an as-required basis during inclement weather, during hydrostatic testing, horizontal directional drilling ("HDD"), and emergency situations that would cause Developer to be out of compliance with any applicable local, state, or federal permit. The County Director of Community and Economic Development may extend the hours and days of operation if Developer makes a request in writing and demonstrates sufficient need.

d. Comply with guidelines of Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 in locations that have been identified as federally regulated within the County. Comply with State of Colorado Historical, Paleontological, and Archeological Resources Act of 1973 (C.R.S. §§ 24-80-401 to 410) on all identified state lands within the County. All best management practices and avoidance measures proposed within the approved CUP on lands that are state and federally regulated by the above listed laws will be enforced.

e. Comply with the terms of the Project's Air Pollution Emissions Notice ("APEN") issued by CDPHE, if an APEN is required.

f. Comply with C.R.S. § 42-4-1407, covering loads for all hauling/construction trucks.

g. Be responsible for the cleanliness and safety of roadways adjacent to the Project in the event there are any issues related to the Project during construction. If at any time these roadways are found to be dangerous or not passable due to debris or mud caused by Project activities, the County may require the Developer to cease Project operations immediately in the affected area and clear the roadway of any and all debris or mud. If required by the County, the Project shall not resume until the County deems the roadway conditions acceptable. If the Developer fails to keep the adjacent roadways clean and free from debris, Adams County Transportation Department has the option to perform the required clean up and bill clean up charges directly to the Developer.

h. Be responsible for repairing County infrastructure that is damaged as a result of the construction from the Project. County will make a reasonable effort to provide any locations of County infrastructure to Developer within 30 days of CUP approval. Repairs shall occur as soon as possible, but no later than six (6) months following construction completion, unless an extension is granted by the County for extenuating circumstances. The Developer may submit evidence of the condition of the County's infrastructure at the start and completion of construction in order to demonstrate the pre-construction condition and the post-construction condition of the infrastructure.

i. Remove and dispose of fluid spills caused by the project if applicable, such as hydraulic oil from maintenance of equipment, at a facility permitted for such disposal.

j. Convey complaints Developer receives concerning off-site impacts and the resolution of those complaints to the Adams County Community and Economic Development Department. Off-site impacts shall be responded to and resolved by Developer. The Adams County Community and Economic Development Department will be the final decision maker regarding the resolution of noise complaints or any other off-site impacts, provided that Developer is provided notice and given an opportunity to be heard. Excessive complaints that are not resolved to the satisfaction of the County may be justification for a Show Cause Hearing before the Adams County Board of County Commissioners.

k. Ensure that construction vehicles have a backup alarm that complies with Occupational Safety and Health Administration requirements, 29 CFR 1926.601(b)(4) and 1926.602(a)(9), and/or other remedies (such as flagmen) to minimize noise as approved by the County.

l. Notify the County prior to commencing snow removal operations within the County's right-of-way. The Developer shall be responsible for damages to the right-of-way caused by these activities and shall repair damages at its expense within 60 days of receiving notice from the County.

m. Screen storage or staging areas from adjacent residential properties within 100 feet.

n. Comply with all applicable local, state, and federal requirements during the course of the project.

o. Implement the following BMPs outlined in the Biological Resources Assessment:

I. Horizontal directional drilling shall be used to avoid impacts to wetlands and waterbodies to the extent practicable and in accordance with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers requirements.
II. Raptor and bald eagle surveys should be conducted by a qualified biologist prior to disturbance.
III. If initial land disturbance is anticipated from March 15th to September 31st, a survey for potential burrowing owl habitat will be conducted. If potential habitat is found, surveys will be conducted in accordance with the Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW) protocols prior to the start of construction.
IV. If construction is planned to occur between April 1st to July 31st, field reconnaissance of potential mountain plover habitat should be conducted prior to disturbance.
V. In areas of trenching, trenches left overnight shall be covered or a means of egress provided for any wildlife that may enter the trench. Trenches should be checked for wildlife daily and if a species listed as Federal- or State- threatened or endangered is found or suspected, work should stop while a qualified biologist is contacted to relocate the animal.

p. Implement the following Tri-County Health Department water well mitigation measures:

I. If trench dewatering is necessary, the water will be pumped and discharged to alluvial/colluvial sediments close to the stream channel.
II. If discharge of groundwater is necessary during construction, Developer agrees to obtain a discharge permit from CDPHE, Water Quality Control Division.

3. Design Requirements.

a. The Project will be designed to meet or exceed the minimum safety standards contained the Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission Part 1100 rules, as applicable, and national engineering design codes for pipelines set forth by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

b. Pipeline burial depths will meet or exceed federal, state, and applicable engineering standards. The Pipelines will be buried with a minimum of 48-inches of cover where practical.

c. Ensure the pipeline is located in easements on private property or County owned property and County road crossings shall be as near as possible to right angles. This effective placement of the Pipeline complies with required structure setbacks per 2012 Transportation Plan.

4. Operational Requirements.

a. The Project will be operated in accordance with the safety standards contained the Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission (COGCC) Part 1100 rules.

b. The Project will be operated in accordance with all applicable local, state, and federal codes, laws, and regulations, including but not limited to CDOT and CDPHE.

c. The Project will utilize an integrity management program as detailed in the COGCC Part 1100 rules.

5. Post-Construction and Maintenance Requirements.

a. Developer agrees to restore disturbed County-owned lands in compliance with the requirements of applicable easement agreements. In the event that reseeding is unsuccessful in the first growing season, Developer agrees to comply with the terms of the easement agreements during the subsequent growing season. The County may grant an extension for good cause, in writing, in the event of unforeseen circumstances.

b. Developer agrees to restore disturbed private property in accordance with the applicable easement agreements. In the event that reseeding is unsuccessful in the first growing season, Developer agrees to comply with the terms of the easement agreements to restore the land. The County may grant an extension for good cause, in writing, in the event of unforeseen circumstances.

c. The Developer also agrees that the approval of encroachment agreement requests for parking lots and driveways on private property shall not be unreasonably or arbitrarily withheld, in accordance with the terms of the easement agreements for the Project, so long as such encroachment requests do not affect Developer's ability to safely operate its Pipeline.

d. Developer agrees that it will not disrupt or damage the functionality of existing drainage facilities.

e. Developer agrees to submit "as built" construction drawings to the Adams County Community and Economic Development Department and Public Works Department within 180 days of construction completion in accordance with the procedures established by the County.

f. Developer agrees to submit emergency contact information, emergency response plans, and final maps of the Project, including associated Pipeline components, to the local fire districts encompassing the Project and to the Adams County Office of Emergency Management before commencing operation of the Pipeline. The Developer shall comply with other requests for information from the Adams County Office of Emergency Management in accordance with local, state, and federal law.

g. Maintenance of the Project will follow guidelines set forth in Developer's operations and maintenance procedures, which meet or exceed regulatory requirements. Maintenance activities associated with the Pipeline and permanent easement include, the following:
   - Implement a damage prevention program, including observation of any construction activities by others on or near the permanent easement;
   - Participate in the State of Colorado's one-call program and responding to one-calls;
   - Install and maintain pipeline markers;
   - Inspect block valves;
   - Inspect crossings by other pipelines, highways, railroads, and utilities;
   - Inspect and maintain safety, control, mechanical, and electrical equipment;
   - Maintain communication equipment; and

6. Development Impact Fees. There are no development impact fees associated with this Project.

7. Guarantee of Compliance. Developer herby agrees that, should it fail to comply with the terms of this Agreement through no fault of Adams County, the County is entitled to obtain from the Colorado State District Court for the Seventeenth Judicial District a mandatory injunction requiring said Developer to comply with the terms of this Agreement. Prior to the County seeking such an injunction, Developer will be provided the opportunity to cure any default in accordance with the terms set forth herein. Developer further agrees that failing to comply with the requirements set forth in this Agreement may be justification for a Show Cause Hearing where the CUP Permit may be revoked.

8. Successors and Assigns. The rights granted herein may be assigned in whole or in part, and the terms, conditions, and provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed a covenant running with the real property in perpetuity and shall be binding upon the heirs, executors, personal representatives, successors, and assigns of Developer and of the County.

II. COUNTY'S OBLIGATIONS:

Except as expressly set forth herein, the County shall have no obligations associated with this Agreement.

III. GENERAL PROVISIONS:

1. No Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement is intended to describe and determine such rights and responsibilities only as between the Parties hereto. It is not intended to and shall not be deemed to confer rights or responsibilities to any person or entities not named hereto.

RE: Pioneer Produced Water Pipeline CUP, RCU2020-00004

Dear Mr. Barnes:

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the proposed conditional use permit for the construction and operation of approximately 19.2 miles of new produced water gathering pipelines within Adams County. The 19.2 miles of pipeline will reduce the impacts to the surrounding communities to oil and gas exploration by transferring the transportation of produced water to pipelines from trucks within Adams County and Weld Counties. The oil and gas production facilities are operated by Great Western Petroleum, LLC. The proposed pipeline will be in unincorporated Adams County and within the cities of Brighton and Thornton, on various parcels of private and public property. The project will cross various state highways, county roads, railroads, wetlands, streams and other existing infrastructure.

The mission of Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW) is to perpetuate the wildlife resources of the state, to provide a quality state parks system, and to provide enjoyable and sustainable outdoor recreation opportunities that educate and inspire current and future generations to serve as active stewards of Colorado's natural resources. Our goal in responding to land use proposals such as this is to provide complete, consistent, and timely information to all entities who request comment on matters within our statutory authority. Current CPW policy directs our efforts towards proposals that will potentially have high impacts to wildlife and wildlife habitat. The emphasis of CPW's concerns is on large acreages, critical habitats, wildlife diversity, and impacts to species of special concern, or those that are state or federally endangered.

On a vast majority of the parcels, CPW would expect to find small ground dwelling mammals including prairie dogs and passerine birds. Due to the low availability of undeveloped habitat surrounding those parcels, impacts of the development, as proposed, may be characterized as minimal. CPW recommends that the developer minimize the amount of time trenches are open and the length of trenches are in order to reduce impacts to ground dwelling mammals. CPW also recommends that the developer consider implementing a method for ground dwelling mammals to escape after falling into an open trench. However, several parcels are in close proximity to active bald eagle nests, wetlands and streams. CPW expects that there may be potential impacts to those parcels.

Burrowing Owls

If prairie dog towns are present on the sites or if prairie dogs establish themselves on the property prior to development - CPW recommends that a burrowing owl survey be conducted prior to earth moving. Burrowing owls live on flat, treeless land with short vegetation, and nest underground in burrows dug by prairie dogs, badgers, and foxes. These raptors are classified as a state threatened species and are protected by state and federal laws, including the Migratory Bird Treaty Act.

These laws prohibit the killing of burrowing owls or disturbance of their nests. Therefore, if any earth-moving will occur between March 15th and October 31st, a burrowing owl survey should be performed. Guidelines for performing a burrowing owl survey may be obtained by visiting the CPW website at http://cpw.state.co.us or by calling the CPW Denver Region Office at (303) 291-7227.

Natural Vegetation, Wetlands and Water Sources

CPW recommends that land within the project area be restored to native habitat if possible. To improve wildlife habitat after construction, CPW recommends using native plant species along the project area. CPW also recommends planting trees, shrubs, and grasses so that they are mixed within the landscape. A landscape that has a good mix of trees, grasses, and shrubs is more beneficial to wildlife than a landscape with all trees in one area and all grasses and shrubs in others.

If heavy equipment is used near any water source (that was used in another stream, river, lake, reservoir, pond, or wetland) one of the following disinfection practices is necessary prior to construction to prevent the spread of New Zealand mud snails, zebra mussels, quagga mussels, whirling disease, and any other aquatic invasive species into this drainage. These practices are also necessary after project completion, prior to this equipment being used in another stream, river, lake, reservoir, pond, or wetland:

- Remove all mud, plants, debris from equipment (tracks, turrets, buckets, drags, teeth, etc.) and spray/soak equipment in a 1:15 solution of Quat 4 or Super HDQ Neutral institutional cleaner and water. Keep equipment moist for at least 10 minutes OR
- Remove all mud, plants and debris from equipment (tracks, turrets, buckets, drags, teeth, etc.) and spray/soak equipment with water greater than 140 degrees F for at least 10 minutes.
- Clean hand tools, boots, and any other equipment that will be used in the water with one of the above options as well. Do not move water from one water body to another. Be sure equipment is dry before use.

Since the project is proposing the use of horizontal directional drilling to cross wetlands and streams, CPW recommends that the developer consult with the United States Army Corps of Engineers at (720) 922-3857 about specific requirements or permits that USACE may require prior to the start of construction.

Bald Eagles

As there two different active bald eagle nests within a half mile of the several parcels, CPW recommends that Great Western Petroleum, LLC adhere to the Recommended Buffer Zones and Seasonal Restriction Guidelines. Great Western Petroleum, LLC should contact CPW for specific nest locations. These guidelines are designed to minimize nest abandonment while allowing for potential development to continue. These guidelines are as follows:

- No surface occupancy within a quarter of a mile radius of any active nest.
- No human encroachment within a half of a mile radius of any active nest between November 15 to July 31.
- Any potential work that needs to be completed within the half of a mile buffer should be limited to August 15 through October 15.
- If the Developer cannot adhere to the Recommended Buffer Guidelines, the Developer should consult with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service Mountain-Prairie Region at (303) 236-8171.

A copy of the Recommended Buffer Zones can be obtained by visiting the CPW website at https://cpw.state.co.us/Documents/WildlifeSpecies/LivingWithWildlife/RaptorBufferGuidelines2008.pdf or by calling the CPW Denver Region Office at (303) 291-7227.

Thank you again for the opportunity to comment on the proposed Pioneer Produced Water Pipeline in Adams County, CO. Please do not hesitate to contact us again about ways to continue managing the landscape in order to maximize wildlife value while minimizing potential conflicts. If you have any further questions, please contact District Wildlife Manager Jordan Likes jordan.likes@state.co.us at (303) 291-7227 or Serena Rocksund serena.rocksund@state.co.us at (303) 291-7132.

Responses to Comments from CPW

Borrowing Owls

If applicable, Pioneer will conduct borrowing owl surveys along the Pioneer Water Pipeline route per CPW protocol in areas where prairie dog towns are present within 150 feet of areas planned for disturbance. If burrowing owls are found to be nesting during surveys, Pioneer will adhere to 150-foot buffers from March 15 through October 31.

Natural Vegetation, Wetlands, and Water Sources

Pioneer will restore disturbed construction areas to prior conditions as required by permits and landowner agreements and will follow CPW recommendations to the extent practicable.

Heavy equipment and personal tools previously used near other water sources will be cleaned prior to use for construction activities to prevent the spread of invasive species.

Bald Eagles

Pioneer will adhere to the Recommended Buffer Zones and Seasonal Restriction Guidelines for active Bald Eagle Nests.

Good morning, Greg;

The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE) appreciates the opportunity to comment on this proposal. Please note that the following requirements and recommendations are not intended to be an exhaustive list and it is ultimately the responsibility of the applicant to comply with all applicable rules and regulations. Please also note that CDPHE's failure to respond to any referrals should not be construed as a favorable response.

Hazardous and Solid Waste

The applicant must comply with all applicable solid and hazardous waste rules and regulations.

Solid waste regulations are available here:
https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/swregs.

Hazardous waste regulations are available here: https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/hwregs.

Applicable requirements may include, but are not limited to, testing for and properly disposing of technologically enhanced naturally occurring radioactive materials (TENORM) and other solid or hazardous waste.

If you have any questions regarding solid and hazardous waste, please contact CDPHE's Hazardous Materials and Waste Management Division (HMWMD) by emailing comments.hmwmd@state.co.us or calling 303-692-3320.

Water Quality

The applicant must comply with all applicable water quality rules and regulations. Water quality regulations are available here: https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/water-quality-control-commission-regulations.

Applicable requirements may include, but are not limited to obtaining a stormwater discharge permit if construction activities disturb one acre or more of land or if they are part of a larger common plan of development that will disturb one or more acres of land. In determining the area of construction disturbance, CDPHE's Water Quality Control Division (WQCD) looks at the entire plan, including disturbances associated with utilities, pipelines or roads constructed to serve the facility.

Please use the Colorado Environmental Online Services (CEOS) to apply for new construction stormwater discharge permits, modify or terminate existing permits and change permit contacts.

For CEOS support please see the division website: https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/cor400000-stormwater-discharge

WQCD has compliance assistance and guidance materials on their website. There is an Oil and Gas field wide permit guidance that is specifically for construction activities associated with oil and gas. This guidance can be found at https://environmentalrecords.colorado.gov/HPRMWebDrawer/RecordView/1338365.

Additionally, through the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) there is a federal requirement for pipeline construction to identify wellhead protection/source water protection areas. The WQCD typically gets a request for this data primarily from the permittee or planning departments (occasionally) and they are happy to provide that information related to drinking water protection areas. WQCD would simply need a shapefile of the proposed area and they could send a list of any potential impacted public water systems.

If you have any questions regarding water quality, please contact CDPHE's WQCD by emailing cdphe.commentswqcd@state.co.us or calling 303-692-3500.

Air Quality

The applicant must comply with all relevant state and federal air quality rules and regulations. Air quality regulations are available here: https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/aqcc-regs.

Applicable requirements may include, but are not limited to, reporting emissions to the Air Pollution Control Division (APCD) by completing an Air Pollutant Emissions Notice (APEN). An APEN is a two in one form for reporting air emissions and to obtain an air permit, if a permit will be required. While only businesses that exceed the Air Quality Control Commission (AQCC) reporting thresholds are required to report their emissions, all businesses - regardless of emission amount - must always comply with applicable AQCC regulations.

For this project, a Land Development APEN (Form APCD-223; attached) may be required. Under Colorado air quality regulations, land development refers to all land clearing activities, including but not limited to land preparation such as excavating or grading, for residential, commercial or industrial development. Land development activities release fugitive dust, a pollutant regulation by the Division. Small land development activities are not subject to the same reporting and permitting requirements as large land activities. Specifically, land development activities that are less than 25 contiguous acres and less than 6 months in duration do not need to report air emissions to APCD.

Information on oil and gas APENS and permits can be found at https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/air/oil-and-gas-air-permit. In addition to an index of oil and gas forms, guidance, APENs and memos, this website contains an Oil and Gas Industry Emissions Calculation and Regulatory Analysis Workbook to assist operators applying for permits in following approved emissions calculation methods. If you have any questions regarding Colorado's APEN or air permitting requirements or are unsure whether your business operations emit air pollutants, please call the Small Business Assistance Program (SBAP) at 303- 692-3175 or 303-692-3148.

Polyfluoroalkyl substances in firefighting foams

PFAS are a family of human-made substances that do not occur naturally in the environment. They have been used for decades in food packaging, carpets, personal care items, ski waxes, other household items, and firefighting foam due to their ability to resist heat, oil, stains, grease, and water. Human contact with these chemicals is widespread, and nearly all people have some measurable levels of the chemicals in their blood. Human health toxicity information is only available for about ten of the thousands of these chemicals. However, despite the limited information, this toxicity information suggests that exposure to some PFAS can cause a range of negative health outcomes. Health effects from these chemicals may include pregnancy complications, liver damage, high cholesterol, and others. More research is underway to better understand these health consequences. When PFAS is released into the environment, it can get into water, especially groundwater, and contaminate drinking water supplies. Pursuant to House Bill 19-1279, firefighting foam manufacturers will be prohibited from knowingly selling or distributing firefighting foam to which PFAS chemicals have been added.

Due to the potential for contamination from the use of fluorine free firefighting foams, the applicant should coordinate with local fire departments to evaluate whether PFAS-free foam can provide the required performance for the specific hazard. If PFAS-containing foam is used at this location, then the applicant should be required to properly characterize any waste that leaves secondary containment, vacuum/drum up any contaminated soil and properly dispose of it in accordance with solid and hazardous waste regulations. If any PFAS-containing foam leaves secondary containment, the applicant should be required to conduct appropriate soil sampling and water quality monitoring.

Health Equity and Environmental Justice

CDPHE is dedicated to promoting and protecting the health and environment for all Coloradans. As part of those efforts, we strive to achieve health equity and environmental justice.

HEALTH EQUITY is when all people, regardless of who they are or what they believe, have the opportunity to attain their full health potential. Achieving health equity requires valuing all people equally with focused and ongoing efforts to address inequalities.

ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE is the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of all people regardless of race, color, national origin or income. With respect to the development, implementation and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations and policies.

CDPHE notes that certain projects have potential to impact vulnerable minority and low-income communities. It is our strong recommendation that your organization consider the potential for disproportionate environmental and health impacts on specific communities within the project scope and if so, take action to mitigate and minimize those impacts. This includes interfacing directly with the communities in the project area to better understand community perspectives on the project and receive feedback on how it may impact them during development and construction as well as after completion. We have included some general resources for your reference.

RE: Pioneer Produced Water Pipeline CUP – RCU2020-00004 – CUP

Mr. Barnes:

The City of Thornton has the following comments regarding the Pioneer Produced Water Pipeline Conditional Use Permit.

Based on the response to the comments below, the City of Thornton requests to be included in future resubmittal reviews of this project.

Infrastructure Engineering
Darwin Williams, Civil Engineer (darwin.williams@thorntonco.gov)

The City of Thornton is currently designing a 42" fully welded steel raw water pipeline along Quebec Street. The design will align the pipeline as follows:

- For the north half of the segment (160th Avenue to 168th Avenue), the pipeline will assume an existing easement on the east side of Quebec Street.
- For the south half of the segment (160th Avenue to 168th Avenue), the pipeline will align on the west side of Quebec Street, in the existing right-of-way.

As this is a future source of drinking water for the City, it is suggested that the applicant be aware of its future design and to eliminate any conflicts during their design.

Infrastructure Engineering
Rachelle Plas, Civil Engineer (rachelle.plas@thorntonco.gov)

Any work that is proposed within Thornton's jurisdiction in a FEMA floodplain or other Special Flood Hazard Area, will need a Floodplain Development Permit from Thornton.

Development Engineering
Cassie Free, Development Engineering Manager (cassie.free@thorntonco.gov)

It is unclear where the alignment of the pipeline is in the current application. Additionally, the right-of-way crossing at Quebec Street is City of Thornton right-of-way, and would require permitting through the Infrastructure Department.

Development Engineering
Heather Croke, Civil Engineering Technician I (heather.croke@thorntonco.gov)

- The City highly recommends getting title work to obtain information for easements, adjacent properties, etc.
- The waterline is required to remain outside of the city's easements and property.
- The waterline is required to remain outside future right-of-way for Highway 7, 152nd Avenue, Holly Street, Quebec Street and 156th Avenue.
- All utility crossings should be at 90 degrees and have City of Thornton approval.

End of Comments

Responses to Comments from the City of Thornton

Pioneer requests that Adams County provide the following responses to comments to the City of Thornton. Pioneer has been in contact with Colin Wahab, Senior Planner with the City of Thornton, to discuss permitting requirements within the City of Thornton Jurisdiction.

Infrastructure Engineering—Darwin Williams

Pioneer has incorporated the design and alignment of the City of Thornton's 42-inch raw water pipeline into the design and alignment of the Pioneer Water Pipeline along Quebec Street between 160th and 168th. No conflicts are expected.

Infrastructure Engineering—Rachel Plas

Pioneer will apply for a Floodplain Development Permit from the City of Thornton if work within a FEMA floodplain or other Special Hazard Area is Required.

Development Engineering—Cassie Free

Pioneer will ensure that the applicable permits for ROW crossings within the City of Thornton's jurisdiction have been approved by the Infrastructure Department prior to construction.

Development Engineering—Heather Croke

Prior to construction within Adams County, easements for parcels within Adams County will be provided prior to construction. Pioneer understands that the waterline is to remain outside the City of Thornton's future ROWs for Highway 7, 152nd Avenue, Holly Street, Quebec Street, and 156th Avenue. Pioneer understands that all utility crossings occur at near 90-degree angles when possible and be constructed following the City of Thornton's approval.

Subject: RCU2020-00004 Pioneer Water Pipeline resubmittal DUE 05.21.20 gjbarnes

Thank you for allowing the E-470 Public Highway Authority the opportunity to review and respond to RCU2020-00004 Pioneer Water Pipeline resubmittal DUE 05.21.20 gjbarnes.

At this time E-470 Public Highway Authority has the following comments:

- Occupying space for utility work, access, and any construction within the E-470 ROW and MUE (multi-use easement) is subject to and will be in compliance with the E-470 Public Highway Authority Permit Manual, April 2008, as may be amended from time to time (the "Permit Manual") and will require an E-470 Construction or Access Permit. The administration fee is $750.00 and $75,000 per acre for construction.
- A permit will be required from E-470 for any encroachment or disturbance to E-470 ROW or MUE prior to construction.
- Here is a link to our permit: https://www.e-470.com/Pages/WorkingWithUs/Permits.aspx
- The applicant must secure all approvals/agreements from the proper jurisdictions/entities within the E-470 corridor.
- Clearly label the ROW and MUE on all applicable drawings.
- Clearly show the TBMS (fiber) in both the plan and profile drawings.
- We prefer the proposed waterline be located 5' from the existing Discovery pipeline when in E-470 ROW/MUE.
- Areas of ATWS need to ensure they are outside the clear zone or provide adequate safety/protection to both the traveling public and materials/equipment stored.
- A dig watch will need to be scheduled when crossing the TBMS line.
- E-470 will be widened in the future to 4 lanes each direction. Please confirm a minimum cover of 5' will be provided when the highway is widened.
- All disturbed areas shall be reseeded with E-470 approved seed mix unless otherwise noted.
- All ROW fence disturbed will be reset and/or replaced if disturbed.
- Any survey markers disturbed or destroyed will need to be replaced.
- Proposed utility crossings of E-470 will be required to be bored across the highway from ROW to ROW unless otherwise agreed upon.
- Provide a limits of construction for both trenching and the bore pit in both the plan and profile.
- Pavement and utility deflection monitoring will be required for the bore across E-470.
- No construction access from E-470 will be allowed.
- Additional comments will be issued as design progresses.

Re: Pioneer Produced Water Pipeline, Case # RCU2020-00004

Public Service Company of Colorado's (PSCo) Right of Way and Permits Referral Desk has determined there are possible conflicts with the above captioned project. Public Service Company has an existing electric transmission line at 160th Avenue and Riverdale and an existing high pressure natural gas transmission pipeline at 160th Avenue and Yosemite crossing the proposed pipeline. Any activity including grading, proposed landscaping, erosion control or similar activities involving our existing right-of-way will require Public Service Company approval. Encroachments across Public Service Company's easements must be reviewed for safety standards, operational and maintenance clearances, liability issues, and acknowledged with a Public Service Company License Agreement to be executed with the property owner. PSCo is requesting that, prior to any final approval of the development plan, it is the responsibility of the property owner/developer/contractor to contact the following for development plan review and execution of License Agreements:

- for Electric Transmission: email coloradorightofway@xcelenergy.com or website www.xcelenergy.com/rightofway
- for High Pressure Natural Gas Transmission: https://www.xcelenergy.com/working_with_us/builders/encroachment_requests - click on Colorado if necessary; an engineer will then be in contact to request specific plan sheets

PSCo also has natural gas distribution facilities throughout the proposed pipeline project. As always, PSCo would like to remind the developer to call the Utility Notification Center by dialing 811 to have all utilities located prior to any construction. Proper clearances must be maintained including ground cover shall not be modified from original depths. When excavating within 18" (24" is preferred) of marked facilities, hand digging strongly recommended. Please be aware that all risk and responsibility for this request are unilaterally that of the Applicant/Requestor.

Should the project require any modification to existing distribution facilities, the property owner/developer/contractor must complete the application process via xcelenergy.com/InstallAndConnect.

Exhibit B

Minimum Requirements for Grading and Excavation near Public Service Company of Colorado Transmission Pipeline(s)

1) General

a. Colorado State Law Requires notification before excavation around utilities occurs. Requestor or Requestor's Contractor must call the Utility Notification Center of Colorado (UNCC) 1-800-922-1987 (811 when calling within Colorado) 48 hours prior to excavation, including the grading of the right of way, begins. Public Service Company of Colorado (PSCo) representatives provide these construction locates at its' cost as a participant in the one call system.

b. All costs for labor, equipment and materials required to repair any damage to the pipeline(s) caused by Requestor or its' Contractors will be the responsibility of the Requestor and/or its Contractors for reimbursement to PSCo.

c. Requestor's Contractor shall provide access to PSCo facilities on the project site for inspection by PSCo Personnel. Open excavations that need to be entered by PSCo Personnel shall conform to all federal, state and local jurisdictional codes and regulations governing safe entry and exit from open excavations.

d. A fully executed agreement, applicable to the type of right being requested, between the Requestor and PSCo must be completed prior to construction activity within the PSCo ROW.

e. Requests for installation of improvements by Requestor within the PSCo ROW must be reviewed and approved by PSCo High Pressure (HP) Gas Engineering and Operations. Installation of, and all costs associated with any improvements, are the responsibility of the Requestor. All costs associated with repairs or relocation of these improvements to accommodate PSCo Operations and Maintenance work on the existing pipeline(s) or installation of a new pipeline will be the responsibility of the Owner of record of the property at the time the work is performed.

f. In the mutual interest of project coordination and scheduling of PSCo resources for your project, PSCo requests invitation to the Pre-Construction Meeting to obtain actual schedules and construction plans, make introductions and address any site specific conditions or project changes that have occurred between Final Design Review and Construction.

g. Any exceptions to the Minimum Requirements stated in this document must be requested in writing and reviewed by PSCo HP Gas Engineering and Operations before approval for construction activity on the PSCo pipeline(s) permitted ROW is given.

h. Any change in Requestor's construction plan and or scope of work that was agreed to between the Requestor and PSCo prior to, or during, construction must be presented to PSCo HP Gas Engineering and Operations for additional review and modification of requirements.

i. Additional requirements may apply to address issues not foreseen during review of Requestor's proposal.

2) Engineering

a. Specifications of weight and type of any heavy equipment or trucks planned to be run over or along the pipeline(s) are required to be submitted to PSCo HP Gas Engineering for analysis of excessive live load stresses induced on the pipeline(s) prior to approval for crossing is given.

   i. Should calculated allowable stresses induced by Requestor equipment traveling over the PSCo pipeline(s) be exceeded, Requestor will be required to install additional temporary fill over the pipeline(s).

   ii. If calculated allowable combined stress on the pipeline(s) can not be reduced below limits by adding additional protective fill over the pipeline(s) or the depth of additional fill is deemed impractical, a temporary bridging structure installed over the pipeline(s) will be required to mitigate the excess stress on the pipeline(s).

      1. This bridging structure must be constructed of timbers, plates or other material that does not allow the driving surface to come in contact with the ground surface. The supports for the driving surface of the bridging structure may be of dirt or other material with the inside edges of the supports placed a minimum of 5 feet from the center line of the PSCo pipeline(s).

b. Requestor's Plans must contain surveyed horizontal location of the PSCo pipeline(s) throughout the project area based on current field locates. Surveyed vertical location of the PSCo pipeline(s) based on pothole information must be presented on the Proposed Construction Drawings Profile Sheets at all Requestor facility crossing locations of the pipeline(s) prior to final comment and approval of the plans.

c. Locates and or potholing for the purpose of Requestor's engineering, design and construction drawings to establish the horizontal and vertical locations of PSCo facilities and all associated costs will be the responsibility of Requestor. A PSCo representative will be required to be on site during any pothole operations.

   i. Potholing with excavation equipment during frost conditions will not be allowed unless contractor thaws ground prior to excavation. Potholing with vac-truck will be allowed under any conditions

d. Any excavator acting in a reckless manner while working in the area of Xcel Energy pipelines shall be asked to stop their work in that area. Work will not be allowed to continue until Xcel Energy personnel deem the situation has returned to a safe situation.

e. Blasting Near PSCo Facilities

i. Notification

1. In accordance with Article 7 of Title 9 of CRS "Explosive Act", Section 6.1.7, Utilities must be notified at least 24 hours prior to commencement of blasting activity. If Blasting is anticipated for this project an "Explosive Use Application and Notification" and the associated Agreement Document must be processed before blasting activities may commence near the PSCo pipeline(s). It is recommended that this notification be made at least one month in advance of actual blasting activities to allow for processing of these documents and any studies that may need to be performed to access the applicants blasting plan.

ii. Limits

1. Buried Pipe - Total Combined (Effective) Stresses on the pipe must not exceed 50% of the specified minimum yield strength of the pipe.

2. Above Ground Pipe –Blasting operations must not generate Peak Particle Velocity (PPV) greater than 1 in/sec.

f. Vibrations from dynamic compaction equipment or other sources must be maintained at a peak particle velocity of not greater than 1 in /sec as measured in any one of the three components of a seismographic reading.

3) Inspection

a. PSCo will require that one of its Field Operators be on site during the potholing, excavation, site grading, backfill operations, compaction, and installation of your facilities when working within the pipeline(s) easement and/or a minimum of fifteen (15) Ft from the outer limits of the locate marks for the PSCo pipeline(s). This standby expense is covered by PSCo during a normal 8 hour day Monday - Friday. Any time required in excess of 8 hours per day or weekend and holidays will be billed to the Third Party of the facilities under construction at the applicable PSCo Labor Overtime Rates and Equipment/Vehicle Rates.

b. Requests for standby will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis, consistent with the number of personnel available for standby and Xcel Energy workload at that time. It is not our intent to unnecessarily impede the work schedule of the installation contractor, and we will strive to be as available as possible.

c. Appointments for standby excavations shall be scheduled to minimize the amount of time Xcel Energy personnel are waiting during contractor setup. Contractors will be charged at the applicable straight time or overtime PSCo labor rate and Equipment/Vehicle per hour for time between appointment time and actual start time (i.e. a call for an 8:00 A.M. standby and actual construction start time of 10:00 A.M. will result in 2 hours of the applicable straight time or overtime PSCo labor and Equipment/vehicle charges)

d. Frequency and duration of Field Operator Standby will be determined during the initial site visit with the Requestor's Construction Contractor based on construction schedule and phasing of construction activities as they relate to work near the PSCo pipeline(s).

e. Potholing frequency during construction will be at the discretion of the PSCo Inspector on site on an as needed basis based on field conditions and proximity of the excavation to the pipe.

f. Potholing with excavation equipment during frost conditions will not be allowed unless contractor thaws ground prior to excavation. Potholing with vac-truck will be allowed under any conditions.

4) Construction

a. Grading, Excavation, Installation, Backfill

i. A "Method of Construction Plan" shall be provided to PSCo HP Gas Engineering and Operations for review and approval prior to the beginning of construction.

ii. For Parallel Encroachments, the recommended method of construction is to place the trench spoils between the Requestor line and the PSCo line and set the working side on the opposite side of the trench from the spoil pile.

1. Alternate Method of Construction
   a. Install a layer of straw or some other method of identifying the top of the existing ground elevation then place trench spoils on top of the line. During backfill operations, removal of the spoil shall stop at the level of the warning material.

   b. Requests to work above existing PSCo pipeline(s), either on top of existing ground elevation or top of spoil pile, will be reviewed on a case by case basis. Requestor must provide specs for all equipment that will be traveling on top of the line for calculation of combined stresses for determination if allowable combined stress levels are exceeded prior to approval of this method

iii. The maximum unsupported length of PSCo's 2" and larger diameter High Pressure Natural Gas pipeline(s) is 15 feet.

1. Specific calculations can be made for pipe diameter's greater than 2" in outside diameter to determine greater free span lengths.

2. Should Requestor excavation require a greater length of the pipe be exposed than allowable stress limits dictate, plans for providing support will be required to be submitted to PSCo HP Gas Engineering for review and approval. This support system can be provided by the third party's contractor and installed under the supervision of the on-site PSCo Energy Employee. A list of qualified pipeline contractors to perform this work, if needed, can be supplied to you if so requested.

iv. If site re-grading leaves less than 36" of cover over the PSCo pipeline(s), the pipe will have to be lowered or additional protection measures installed over the pipe such as concrete capping or steel plating. Any mitigation measures, including engineering of such structures, will be at the expense of the Third Party of the facilities being constructed.

v. Backfill operations around exposed sections of PSCo's pipeline(s) shall be inspected by a PSCo representative.

vi. Any sections of the PSCo pipeline(s) that are exposed during construction must be padded with material passing ¾" minus screens that is non-angular in shape to a depth of one (1) foot above the top of pipe before native material passing 6" minus screens or two (2) feet above the top of pipe before native material passing greater than 6" plus screens can be used for the remaining backfill. Bedding material of an angular nature and/or passing 2" minus screens may be used if rock shield, epoxy coating applied to a thickness of 30 mils or greater, or other abrasion resistant coating, is installed around the pipe over the entire exposed length. Installation of any such additional protective coating installation shall be inspected by a PSCo representative.

vii. Utilization of flowable fill with cement or fly ash binder material may be utilized once one (1) foot of cover is established over the PSCo pipeline(s) with consolidated, non-abrasive, bedding material. The flowable fill must be able to be excavated with a shovel. The flowable fill shall extend ten feet on either side of the PSCo pipe and extend to the trench walls. The use of flowable fills is subject to approval of the local government authorities.

viii. Other backfill material not requiring additional compactive effort to obtain required dry densities of the project specifications may be utilized around the pipe. Submittal of a backfill plan and material specifications shall be presented to PSCo HP Gas Engineering and local government authorities for review before approval is granted.

ix. Permanently added fill over PSCo pipeline(s) shall not exceed a typical depth of cover of four (4) feet over the top of PSCo's pipeline(s) at final grade. Exceptions due to terrain, grading requirements and re-establishment of slopes must be reviewed with PSCo HP Gas Engineering but shall not exceed eight (8) feet of cover over the top of the PSCo pipeline(s).

b. Compaction over PSCo Pipelines

i. No heavy vibratory compaction equipment (driver operated) will be allowed over or along the length of the PSCo pipeline(s) in the area requiring compaction and for a distance of ten (10) feet on either side of the outside wall of the pipe and ten (10) feet from the ends of the pipe length at the compaction area limits if less than three (3) feet of cover is left over the pipe after sub excavation work is completed.

ii. Light vibratory compaction equipment (jumping jacks, walk behind or remote control rollers) may be utilized once the minimum one (1) foot of bedding material cover over the top of the PSCo pipeline(s) is established.

c. Facility Crossings

i. Buried Facility Crossings of the PSCo pipeline(s) will be required to go under or over the PSCo pipeline(s) with a minimum clearance of two (2) feet to the bottom or top respectively of the PSCo pipeline(s).

ii. Buried facilities installed parallel to the PSCo pipeline(s) must maintain a minimum horizontal separation of ten (10) feet from the pipeline(s). If this minimum horizontal separation cannot be maintained, the top of the facility being installed will be required to be one (1) feet below the bottom of the PSCo pipeline(s) for every foot closer than ten (10) feet to the pipeline(s).

d. Improvements/Structure/Facility Placement

i. No surface or sub-grade structures or utility facilities will be allowed within the PSCo ROW limits without plan review approval from PSCo HP Gas Engineering and Operations. Potential ignition source facilities shall be a minimum of fifteen (15) from the outside wall of the pipe

e. Landscape Installation

i. No planting of vegetation will be allowed within the PSCo ROW limits without plan review approval from PSCo HP Gas Engineering and Operations. Under no circumstances will trees be allowed to be planted over the pipeline(s) within the PSCo ROW limits and shall be no closer than fifteen (15) feet from the outside wall of the pipe.

f. Cathodic Protection

i. A copy of the Requestor Cathodic Protection (CP) System design shall be provided to PSCo for review prior to construction. .

ii. At crossing locations, Stray Current Mitigation will be required if either pipeline is cathodically protected from a rectified ground bed system. At a minimum this shall consist of a run of two # 8 wires from Public Service Company (PSCo) pipe and 2 # 8 wires up from the third party facility pipe into a common or separate test station for bonding of the two systems together if necessary. The wires could either run to the test station in a common conduit or separate conduits. In addition, four 17# or larger anodes are to be placed in each quadrant of the crossing pipes and placed vertically equidistant between the two pipelines. PSCo will provide the material for its CP test station and assist Requestor's contractor with installation of the test station.

iii. For parallel encroachments, at locations where third party is installing a CP Test Station, the third party will be required to expose the PSCo pipeline(s) for installation of a CP test station for monitoring of interference. PSCo will provide the material for its CP test station and assist the third party's contractor with installation of the test station.

Page 6 of 7

5) Post Construction

a. Permanent Private Road Crossings

i. Permanent private access roads intended for use by vehicles with a loaded single axle rating of less than or equal to CDOT load limits, must provide and maintain a minimum of 4 feet of cover over the PSCo pipeline(s). Any party needing to cross the PSCo pipeline(s) with vehicles in excess of the CDOT Load Limits per single axel must contact PSCo for additional requirements or place bridging structures over the located pipeline(s).

ii. Permanent private access roads intended for use by vehicles with a loaded single axle rating of less than or equal to 20,000 lb per axle, must provide and maintain a minimum of 4 (four) feet of cover over the PSCo pipeline(s).

iii. Tracked equipment crossings of the PSCo pipeline(s) must be made via tractor/lowboy transport adhering to the restrictions of section 5.a.i. and 5.a.ii. If it is desired to track the equipment over the PSCo pipeline(s), PSCo must be contacted to calculate the limits for the specific piece of equipment or provide a bridging structure over the pipeline(s) in accordance with Section 2.a.ii.1.

b. Four wheel all terrain sport and utility vehicles and dirt bikes are exempt from this section's restrictions. A minimum cover of twelve (12") inches of dirt over the pipe must be present before these vehicles can cross over the pipe.
c. It is recommended that Requestor install and maintain load limit signage at all road crossings of the PSCo pipeline(s).
d. PSCo will place pipeline markers at all permanent road crossings that are to remain at the conclusion of the installation of the Requestor pipeline.

RE: Comments on Pioneer Produced Water Pipeline Conditional Use Permit RCU2020-00004

Dear Mr. Barnes:

This letter is in response to your request for comments on Pioneer Water Pipeline's application for a conditional use permit. Please be aware that I have granted Pioneer a one year option for a 10 foot easement across the southwest corner of my property in unincorporated Adams County. I have not been informed yet as to whether or not Pioneer plans on exercising such option. Also the map you sent with your request for comments is so condensed I am not able to tell if the corner of my property is in the current plan.

In any case, I am in favor of the pipeline as it was described to me because it will reduce truck traffic and I would think the pipeline would be safer that trucks transporting the water. My neighbor has told me that he has asked project related questions of Tetra Tech representatives and has been satisfied with the answers he has received from them.

I did not attempt to access the full version of Pioneer's application and accordingly, the following two observations/questions about the project may be answered/addressed in that material:

- Pipeline Pressure – Pressures of 240 psi to 300 psi are mentioned in the application. I do not recall the pressure that was mentioned to me when I granted the option for the easement but I do not think that the pressure range was that high. I realize that such pressures may be necessary to overcome elevation changes and distances and I do not have an issue with the stated pressure range as long as it is signed off by Pioneer's engineers and is acceptable to Adams County staff.

- Produced Water Quality – Pioneer conducted a public meeting on the proposed project however I was not able to attend. I was told by a neighbor who did attend that they included a discussion of produced water from the oil/gas wells. The neighbor that attended indicated they acknowledged that the produced water could contain some hazardous chemicals/materials and before it would enter the pipline a very high percentage of such chemicals/materials would be removed and be disposed of as required by environmental regulations. In addition I was told that they stated that no water from other than the approved well sites would be allowed to enter the pipeline (i.e. a well site that was not directly on the pipeline could not transport water to a well site that is on the pipeline and have it enter the pipeline.)

This discussion would lead one to believe that the water in the pipeline would be relatively safe and if a leak did occur that it would require cleanup but would not likely create a hazardous disaster.

Neither of these water quality matters were discussed in Pioneer's written description provided in your request for comments and if they are not addressed in the full version of Pioneer's application I believe the applicant should address these issues to the County Staffs' satisfaction before any permit is granted. Please contact me at 303-659-4545 or via email at bmlloyd@aol.com if you have any questions regarding the above and thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Yours truly,

B. Michl Lloyd

Responses to Comments from B. Michl Lloyd

Pioneer requests that Adams County provides these responses to Mr. B. Michl Lloyd on behalf of Pioneer.

Pipeline Pressure

The pipeline would transport the produced water at a maximum pressure of approximately 240 pounds per square inch (psi) until it reaches a storage tank at EWS #6. The Pioneer Water Pipeline would operate at an estimated 240 psi, but they may operate at a higher pressure depending on temperature. The maximum allowable pressure will be 333 psi. Pioneer would control pressure and monitor temperature using pressure control valves located along the Pioneer Water Pipeline route.

Illustration 1 from the CUP application includes estimated pressures and is included below for ease of reference.

Produced Water Quality

Produced water, also known as wastewater, is recovered as byproduct that is brought to the surface during oil and gas production. Oil, gas, and produced water leaves the well head at pressures up to 3,000 psi. The content of produced water varies with the formation where the water originates, but it is generally high in salts with trace amounts of other minerals.

Pioneer will have an Emergency Response Plan in place prior to the pipeline becoming operational to ensure that in the appropriate emergency responses will occur should a leak occur.

Introduction

Pioneer Water Pipeline, LLC, (Pioneer) operated by Expedition Water Services, LLC, proposes to construct, own, and operate the Pioneer Produced Water Pipeline (Project) within Adams and Weld counties in Colorado. Pioneer held a neighborhood meeting in accordance with Adams County Development Standards and Regulations from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, December 10, 2019, at Todd Creek Golf Club (8455 Heritage Dr., Thornton, CO 80602). The purpose of this report is to document the meeting notification and questions asked during the meeting and provide a summary of the meeting results.

Project Overview

The Project would consist of construction of approximately 45 miles of 4- to 12 inch-diameter high-density polyethylene (HDPE) gathering pipelines and associated appurtenances in Adams and Weld counties. Approximately 27 miles of pipeline would be located in Weld County, and 18 miles of pipeline would be located in Adams County. Within Adams and Weld counties, the Project would traverse unincorporated areas and may traverse portions of Brighton, Thornton, and Fort Lupton.

Production water, also known as wastewater, is recovered as byproduct that is brought to the surface during oil and gas production. The Project is designed to transport production water from approximately 22 oil and gas production facilities in Adams and Weld Counties to Expedition's existing EWS #6 wastewater injection and disposal facility in Weld County.

Construction of the pipelines would require an approximately 10-foot-wide permanent easement plus an additional 30-foot-wide temporary workspace. Additional temporary workspaces would also be required at locations where the pipelines cross roads or other existing infrastructure, for example, or where environmental features such as wetlands and waterbodies are present. Appurtenant aboveground facilities such as isolation valves, pumps and inline inspection tool launcher, and receivers would be located at the existing oil and gas well pad sites, and other appurtenant facilities would be located along pipelines within the 10-foot-wide permeant pipeline easements.

Neighborhood Meeting Summary

The Project Neighborhood Meeting was held from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, December 10, 2019, at Todd Creek Golf Club (8455 Heritage Dr., Thornton, CO 80602) in the City of Thornton.

The purpose of the Project Neighborhood Meeting was to provide the community a description of the Project and answer related questions from the attendees. The event was conducted in an open house format, which allowed for attendees to arrive at their convenience during a three-hour timeframe. At the meeting, attendees had an opportunity to obtain Project information based on specific areas of interest, speak directly with Project staff, and provide written and verbal comments regarding the Project.

Reproductions of the display boards, maps, contact cards, flyer, and Project information sheet used at the Neighborhood Meeting are included in Appendix A.

Neighborhood Meeting Notification

Pioneer used a direct-mail notification (Appendix B) to inform the Project stakeholders of the Project Neighborhood Meeting based on a mailing list provided by Adams County for the Project on October 11, 2019 (Appendix C). The list included four neighborhood organizations: Riverside Village Owners Association, Todd Creek Village Park and Recreation District, Todd Creek Meadow Owners Association, Inc., and Todd Creek Village Metropolitan District. A total of 389 notifications were sent. A map of the notification area is included as Appendix D. An affidavit of mailing is included as Appendix E.

The notification letter contained the following information: purpose, date, time and place of the meeting; Project location map; and Project contact information. This notification was sent by the U.S. Postal Service presorted marketing mail on Nov. 27, 2019. The timing of the distribution of the notification letter complied with Adams County Standards and Regulations as the notification letters were sent out 13 days prior to the Project Neighborhood Meeting.

Attendance and Comments Analysis

Nine members of the public signed into the Project Neighborhood Meeting. Adams County staff were notified of the Project Neighborhood Meeting date, time, and location and were invited to participate in the Project Neighborhood Meeting. Copies of the sign-in sheets are included in Appendix F.

Six Project team members attended the open house in addition to the members of the public. Team members are listed below in Table 1. A Spanish interpreter was also in attendance.

Comment Cards

Comment cards were provided to attendees at the Project Neighborhood Meeting. A blank comment form is provided in Appendix A. Stakeholders had the opportunity to submit written comments via the Project email address or by mailing comment cards to Pioneer. Commenters had the opportunity to request a response from Project team members. No comment cards were returned to the Project team at the meeting. As of December 20, 2019, no comment cards have been returned to the Project team.

Oral Questions and Answers

Oral questions were asked by meeting attendees and the answers provided by Project team members included:

- Is this pipeline going to carry fracking water?
    - The Project is designed to transport production water from approximately 22 oil and gas production facilities in Adams and Weld Counties to Expedition's existing EWS #6 wastewater injection and disposal facility in Weld County. Most of the production water is groundwater from the rock formation; however, some water used during hydraulic fracturing will mix with groundwater during hydraulic fracturing and will be transported with groundwater to EWS #6.
- What is in the water that is coming out of the wells?
    - Production water, also known as wastewater, is recovered as byproduct that is brought to the surface during oil and gas production. Production water is sometimes referred to as brine water. Brine water is twice as salty as sea water, and it naturally occurs within rock formations underground. For about one barrel of oil and gas produced by a well, approximately three barrels of brine water are also produced.

- Will there be any pump stations on the pipeline route?
    - No pump stations will be located on the pipeline route. The pumps for the pipeline will be located at the well sites where the water enters the pipeline. The pumps at those facilities produce enough pressure to push the water all the way to the disposal site in Weld County.
- Where is the produced water going?
    - The Project would transport production water with trace amounts of oil, gas, and chemicals to Expedition's existing EWS #6 wastewater injection and disposal facility in Weld County. EWS #6 would treat the water to remove the trace amounts of oil, gas and chemicals but leaves the salt in the water, which is then pumped back into the ground into a salt water aquifer. The injected water is similar in composition to the salt water aquifer.
- Will there be any surface appurtenances along the pipeline route?
    - Only a few surface structures would be located along the pipeline route. They will be safety shutoff stations that will generally be at a pipeline junction and where the pipeline changes diameter.
- How wide will the pipeline easements and construction areas be?
    - During construction a 40-foot-wide space will be needed along the Project pipeline for installation. At times, where the pipeline crosses roads or water ways, a larger construction area will be needed. Once completed, a 10-foot-wide permanent easement will be needed for the pipeline for its lifetime.
- Will the water treatment site and injection facility be fracturing or fracking the rock where they inject?
    - The pressure will be low enough that the rock will not be fractured, and the injection site is regulated by the State of Colorado and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.
- What is the projected lifetime of the injection site?
    - The injection site is currently estimated to have a lifespan of 20 years, and it has been in-service since July 2019.

- When will the pipeline in Adams County be constructed?
    - Construction of the Adams County portion of the pipeline is estimated to start in summer 2020 and is projected to be completed by the end of 2020.
- What is the equivalent number of truck trips for 500 million truck miles removed annually?
    - Based on full buildout of production facilities, the Project will remove around 160 truck trips per day, and it would increase the amount removed as more oil and gas facilities are constructed and connected to the pipeline.
- What is the lifespan of an oil and gas well?
    - The lifespan of oil and gas production facilities typically ranges from 10 to 30 years, but the lifespan depends on the well and the oil and gas available in the formation below each specific facility.
- What is the water pipeline going to be constructed of?
    - The pipeline will be constructed of 4- to 12 inch-diameter HDPE gathering pipelines.
- Can they lay pipeline on my property without notifying me?
    - No, Pioneer will btain easements signed by landowners for the entire Project route.
- Would this Project be able to connect to future oil and gas production facilities if needed?
    - Yes, this pipeline will have the capacity to carry produced water from future oil and gas facilities, depending on timing and location of those facilities.

SUMMARY OF APPLICATIONS

Background:
The applicant, Rail Land Company, LLC, is proposing an industrial business park on the eastern edge of the Colorado Air and Space Port. The site is located on approximately 620 acres. The eastern side of the proposed development borders Petterson Road, the western side borders the Colorado Air and Space Port, 48th Avenue is along the northern side, and the southern boundary is approximately 4,000 feet north of Interstate 70. The intended uses for the property will range from Commercial to Light and Heavy Industrial.

In order to pursue the industrial business park, Rail Land Company, LLC originally submitted four applications: 1) Comprehensive Plan Amendment to change the future land use designation on the property from Mixed-Use Employment to Industrial; 2) Zoning map amendment to change the zoning designation of the property to Planned Unit Development; 3) Preliminary Plat to create 11 lots and 11 associated tracts; 4) Preliminary Development Plan (PDP) for an industrial business park. On June 18, 2019, the Board of County Commissioners approved all four of the associated requests.

As part of the next step in the development process, Rail Land Company, LLC is requesting: 1) A final development plan (FDP) to establish the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Planned Unit Development: 2) A major subdivision final plat that encompasses three existing parcels (approximately 620 acres). The proposed final plat would create 11 lots and 11 tracts; 3) A Master Development Agreement; and 4) A waiver from the Subdivision Design Standards.

Site Characteristics:

The site is currently vacant and is bisected by U.S. Highway 36 (Colfax Avenue) and an existing railroad line. Approximately 470 acres of the proposed development is located north of Highway 36 and the rail line, while 150 acres lies to the south. The proposed development will have access to the rail line and will extend the line into the proposed development. The overall site borders three public roadways: Colfax Avenue, Petterson Road, and East 48th Avenue. The closest access to I-70 is a mile and a half to the southwest, off of Manilla Road.

Development Standards and Regulations

Final Development Plan:

A Final Development Plan (FDP) is a site-specific development plan that describes and establishes the type of intensity of uses for a specific parcel of land. Per Section 2-02-11-01 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations, the objective of a PUD is to establish an area of land to be developed under unified control or a unified plan of development for a number of land uses that does not correspond in lot size, bulk, or type of use, density, open space, or other restriction to the existing land use regulations. Per Section 2-02-10-04 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations, a Final Plat and Subdivision Improvements Agreement (SIA)are required to be submitted with a Final Development Plan. Due to the scale and complexity of this project, staff and the applicant have developed a Master Development Agreement, which meets the requirements for a SIA, while allowing for flexibility in timing of the development and associated required improvements.

A majority of the proposed lots would be accessed from an internal private street centrally located within the development. The private street will intersect East 48th Avenue on the northern side of the development and Petterson Road on the southern end. Proposed setbacks for the lots will be 40 feet from front property lines (along the private street). Side and rear setbacks are proposed to be 20 feet. The industrial lots located on the eastern edge of the development will be oriented so that Petterson Road will form their rear lot line. The proposed setbacks closely match or exceed required setbacks for the Industrial-2 and Industrial-3 zone districts, with the exception of setbacks from Petterson Road and East 48th Avenue. Setbacks for those property lines are proposed to be 20 feet, rather than the I-2 or I-3 zone district standard of 25 ft.

Below is a summary of some of the characteristics laid out within the Rocky Mountain Rail Park FDP:

Site Design and Uses

The intended uses for the Rocky Mountain Rail Park development will be a mixture of commercial and industrial. An example of some of the permitted uses within the PUD, include:

- Manufacturing
- Development and testing services
- Heavy construction contractors
- Transportation equipment

A number of heavy industrial uses with potential off-site impacts will be conditionally permitted and require review and approval by the Board of County Commissioners. These uses include:

- Hazardous Waste Treatment Facility
- Lubrication and Grease Manufacturing
- Paint and Enamel Manufacturing

This added oversight will allow for public input on proposed heavy industrial uses, as well as discretion by the Board of County Commissioners to determine how the uses might fit in with the growing Air and Space Port.

All proposed uses are subject to regulations by the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE), as well as the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). Proposed uses and structures are also subject to the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Design Standards.

Parking

Minimum parking requirements will be in accordance with Section 4-12 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations.

Outdoor Storage

No outdoor storage areas shall be located within 20 feet of any public road. Additionally, on an individual lot basis, outdoor storage is limited to a maximum of 80% of the overall lot area.

Colorado Air and Space Port Restrictions

All proposed development within the Rocky Mountain Rail Park shall adhere to Sections 3-34 (Airport Influence Zone) and 3-35 (Airport Noise Overlay) of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations.

Open Space and Active Recreation

Per Section 3-30-03-05-06 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations, a minimum of 30% open space is required in all PUDs. The approved PDP provided 162.5 acres of open space, however, the applicant is now providing 175 acres of open space. A minimum of 10% of each lot is also required to be designated as open space. Section 3-30-03-05-03 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations also requires that 25% of the open space area be designated for active recreation purposes. The approved PDP provided 43.1 acres, however, the applicant is now providing 47.2 acres of active recreation in the form of interior detached pathways adjacent to Rail Park Drive, which will create pedestrian connectivity from the north side of the park to the south side of the park. It is anticipated that the Metro District will construct and maintain covered picnic areas to serve as a gathering place for employees within the property. Perimeter pathways around detention areas will provide further walking, jogging, and running opportunities. One modification from the PDP approval and the FDP is the walking trail around the perimeter of the site. Due to concerns for public safety in areas of significant train activity and a desire to minimize rail crossings, the applicant had to eliminate the walking trail along the majority of the perimeter of the site. Open space provided will be maintained by the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Metro District.

Final Plat

Per Section 2-02-19-04 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations, the applicant is requesting approval of a final plat for the proposed development. The 620-acre site would consist of 11 lots and 11 tracts, ranging in size from 12.5 acres to approximately 131 acres. The majority of lots will be approximately 20 acres in size.

The proposed final plat conforms to the criteria for approval outlined in Section 2-02-19-04-05 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations, which include conformance to the approved preliminary plat and the subdivision design standards.

Master Development Agreement

Per Section 5-02-04 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations, a Subdivision Improvement Agreement (SIA) is required for the proposed development. In this case, a Master Development Agreement has been prepared for the initial phase, and subsequent SIAs will be provided for future phases of the development. The agreement is required to address the manner and timing of the completion of all subdivision improvements and responsibility for payment of the costs of improvements associated with the development. The SIA outlines the Developer's obligation for required construction and collateral for all public improvements. If any triggered improvements are to be dedicated to another jurisdiction, then the County shall not issue the Lot Development Permit until after the Developer has submitted such application materials to the regulating jurisdiction. The County shall also not issue a Certificate of Occupancy for the development until the regulatory jurisdiction has accepted the triggered improvements. Staff has reviewed the Master Development Agreement and confirmed the proposed agreements are in compliance with the County's Development Standards and Regulations.

Parkland Dedication Requirements

Per Section 5-05-02 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations, the Developer shall pay cash-in-lieu for 30.97 acres of the required Regional Parks dedication (representing five percent of the land area of the Subdivision), which totals $1,539,798. Section 5-05-05-03(3) of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations allows the payment of cash-in-lieu for regional parks to be split into four payments. The first payment is due prior to recording the final plat, the second payment is due prior to the issuance of a Building Permit which would constitute greater than 25 percent of the development, the third payment is due prior to the issuance of a Building Permit which would constitute greater than 50 percent of the development, and the fourth payment is due prior to the issuance of a Building Permit which would constitute greater than 75 percent of the development. This type of phasing plan must be approved by the Board of County Commissioners and has been incorporated into the Master Development Agreement.

Waiver from the Subdivision Design Standards

Per Section 5-03-03-09, all lots created by a subdivision shall have access to a County-maintained right-of-way. Section 5-03-03-10 states that if the Board of County Commissioners finds the most logical development of land requires lots to be created which front and are accessed by a private road, the Board of County Commissioners may make findings supporting the use of private roads in the form of a Waiver from the Subdivision Design Standards. The applicant has requested a waiver as part of this application due to hardships and practical difficulties that would result from construction and ongoing maintenance of a public right-of-way to County standards. The adjacent roadways are within the City of Aurora's jurisdiction, so if the applicant were to dedicate the internal road to Adams County, it would result in a stranded piece of road owned by Adams County within the development. It would not be cost effective for the County to provide maintenance for this road to support a small number of lots. The private road would instead be owned and maintained by the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Metro District (RMRPMD). The rail park will also have special requirements as it relates to rail crossings, which would be better managed by the RMRPMD.

Future Land Use Designation/Comprehensive Plan:

As previously mentioned, the future land use designation on the property was recently changed from Mixed-Use Employment to Industrial. The applicant intends to develop the property with uses that may be compatible with the mixed-use employment designation; however, the proposal includes the option for moderate and heavy industrial uses.

Surrounding Zoning Designations and Existing Use Activity:

Northwest AV Colorado Air & Space Port	North AV/A-3 Colorado Air & Space Port	Northeast A-3 Vacant
West AV Colorado Air & Space Port	Subject Property PUD Vacant	East City of Aurora Vacant
Southwest A-3 Vacant	South A-3 Vacant	Southeast A-3 Single-Family Residential

Compatibility with the Surrounding Area:

A majority of the properties to the east, north, and south of the proposed development are undeveloped vacant land. The Colorado Air and Space Port is directly to the west of the site. Several single-family residential uses can be found along the southeastern corner of the site. The proposed development plan has located the moderate to heavy industrial uses to the north of Colfax Avenue.

The addition of industrial development, which will be served by a metropolitan district, will help to support the overall development of the Colorado Air and Space Port. The proposed development can serve as headquarters for employment-producing businesses that are needed to help the facility grow and serve as a catalyst for the area overall.

Staff Recommendation:
Based upon the application, the criteria for approval, and a recent site visit, staff recommends approval of this request with 14 findings-of-fact, 5 conditions, and 1 note:

RECOMMENDED FINDINGS-OF-FACT

Major Subdivision (Final Plat):

1. The final plat is consistent and conforms to the approved preliminary plat.
2. The final plat is in conformance with the subdivision design standards.
3. The applicant has provided evidence that a sufficient water supply has been acquired in terms of quantity, quality, and dependability for the type of subdivision proposed, as determined in accordance with the standards set forth in the water supply standards.
4. The applicant has provided evidence that a public sewage disposal system has been established and, if other methods of sewage disposal are proposed, adequate evidence indicating that the system complies with state and local laws and regulations.
5. The applicant has provided evidence to show all areas of the proposed subdivision, which may involve soil or topographical conditions presenting hazards or requiring special precautions, have been identified by the applicant and the proposed uses of these areas are compatible with such conditions.
6. The proposed or constructed drainage improvements are adequate and comply with these standards and regulations.
7. Adequate public facilities or infrastructure, or cash-in-lieu, for impacts reasonably related to the proposed subdivision have been constructed or financially guaranteed through cash-in-lieu or a subdivision improvements agreement so the proposed subdivision will not negatively impact the levels of service of the County.

Final Development Plan:

8. The FDP is in general conformity with the Adams County Comprehensive Plan and any applicable area plan.
9. The FDP conforms to the P.U.D. standards.
10. The FDP is consistent with any approved PDP for the property.
11. The FDP construction plans meet the requirements of these standards and regulations and have been approved by the Director of Community and Economic Development, all infrastructure and utility providers, Tri-County Health Department, and all other referral agencies.

Waiver from Subdivision Design Standards:

12. Extraordinary hardships or practical difficulties result from strict compliance with these standards and regulations.
13. The purpose of these standards and regulations are served to a greater extent by the alternative proposal.
14. The waiver does not have the effect of nullifying the purpose of these standards and regulations.

Recommended Conditions of Approval:

1. The applicant shall work with Adams County Facilities and Fleet Management Department on a "through the fence" agreement for future access from the Colorado Air and Space Port to a developable lot on along the western edge of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park site. Any future agreement would go to the Board of County Commissioners for approval.
2. The applicant shall work with Adams County Facilities and Fleet Management on a potential agreement for the rail spur, located on Adams County Property, just outside the southwest portion of the site. If an agreement cannot be made, RMRP will need to come up with an alternative solution for the spur, which does not include going through Adams County property.
3. For any future development along the western edge of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park site, screening shall be provided to mitigate the impact between the site and the Colorado Air and Space Port. The applicant shall also provide an acceptable landscape plan for each lot being developed, prior to any issuance of a building permit.
4. Any development proposed to be greater than 90 feet in height shall work with the Colorado Air and Space Port, as well as the FAA, to ensure any height requirements are met.
5. All Subdivision Improvement Agreements required by the Master Development Agreement shall include the installation of all Open Space and Active Recreation areas directly adjacent to the subject lot(s).

Recommended Note to the Applicant:

1. The applicant shall adhere to all fire, animal, health, zoning, and building codes.

CITIZEN COMMENTS

Notifications Sent	Comments Received

All property owners and occupants within 2,640 feet of the subject property were notified of the request. As of writing this report, staff has received two comments on the final development plan and final plat applications. Concerns included mosquito abatement and drainage issues from the detention ponds on the parcel south of Colfax Avenue. Berming was also brought up by the neighboring property owner. These concerns were addressed by the applicant to the satisfaction of the adjacent property owner. The other comment relates to increased traffic and infrastructure improvements to surrounding roadways and intersections. The applicant will be working with Adams County and the City of Aurora to satisfy these requirements, which will be based on traffic studies.

COUNTY AGENCY COMMENTS

Adams County staff reviewed the subject request and determined the proposal complies with the subdivision design standards and the overall purpose and intent outlined in the Development Standards and Regulations. All lot configurations proposed conforms to lot dimensions in the PUD zone district. Evidence of the ability to provide adequate water and sewage facilitates have also been provided.

REFERRAL AGENCY COMMENTS

Responding with Concerns:

Tri-County Health Department (TCHD) - Tri-County Health Department indicated that the applicant should work with The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE) to provide appropriate water and wastewater systems, including proper locations.

CDPHE – Sufficient information will need to be provided to determine the proposed water supply for the development will result in the system meeting the definition of a public water supply. The system will meet the definition of a public water supply and the applicant has met with CDPHE on multiple occasions with this understanding.

City of Aurora – The City of Aurora requests that coordination occur between Aurora, Adams County, Rocky Mountain Rail Park, Urban Drainage and Flood Control District and Transport, to discuss infrastructure needs relating to traffic, drainage, water and sewer and any other infrastructure. The applicant has been in discussions with each party to discuss coordinating these items and a provision has been added to the Master Development Agreement that necessitates the applicant to meet all City of Aurora engineering requirements prior to issuance of any building permits. The applicant has incorporated the results of the City of Aurora's Northeast Aurora Transportation Study (NEATS) into their recent plat submittal, which was a condition of approval from the approved preliminary plat.

Colorado Department of Transportation (CDOT) – CDOT requests that access permits are required for any access taken from State Highway 36. The applicant is aware and will be applying for access permits when necessary.

Mile High Flood District (MHFD) – MHFD will require the applicant to make all necessary improvements to Crooked Creek.

Brighton, CO 80601

Dear Mr. Barnes,

Rail Land Company, LLC ("RLC") is pleased to present this written explanation of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park project. The proposed project is an industrial and commercial rail park located in Adams County that includes 11 lots, over 4 miles of rail, and over 3 miles of road on 619.75 acres. The project includes a newly formed metro district that will provide water, sanitary, storm, and landscape services and maintenance, and will be the entity that constructs many of the improvements.

Location

The site is currently located on 2 parcels of land near the Colorado Air and Space Port ("CASP"). Parcel 1 is a 2-mile long parcel that is bounded to the west by CASP, to the south by a Union Pacific main line, to the east by Peterson Rd, and to the north by 48th Avenue. Parcel 2 is bounded to the north by E Colfax Ave, to the east by Petterson Road (and a single residential property in a notch at the NE corner), to the south by un-platted farmland, and to the west by un-platted farmland.

Intent

The Rail Park is intended to provide developable industrial property to future landowners looking to expand their presence in central Adams County. The project is further intended to provide rail access to individual lots so that landowners will have the capability of importing and exporting materials by rail (via rail access to individual properties), by truck (via access to major roadways), or by air (via CASP). The proposed lot sizes are large enough to accommodate most potential landowners including significant storage capability. This will provide excellent capability to support tenants that support infrastructure projects, distribution projects, and countywide development projects.

Background

Private developers, cities, and counties have utilized industrial land for mixed-use, urban renewal projects, and residential infill projects resulting in industrial users like RLC to look further outside the city limits for industrial property. North Denver and Commerce City, the main industrial sections of the greater metropolitan area, were intentionally planned to be far from the more populated residential and commercial centers. As the region's population has grown, most of those industrial properties are being redeveloped for more valuable residential and commercial projects. RLC identified the requirement for new industrially zoned real estate in order to accommodate the heavy industry necessary to supply the growing consumer and residential growth. A decreased availability of industrial property and increased need for affordable construction products created the foundation of RMRP.

The greater Denver marketplace demands efficient and affordable freight distribution to support and enable the high rate of market expansion. Infrastructure materials are the foundation of the industrial economy. If not kept in balance, higher costs for building supplies, roads, homes, and transportation assets can lead to higher taxes and inflation. As part of the solution, RLC chose Adams County as the new center of industry.

Development Considerations

One of the primary considerations with developing industrial property is the need to be a good neighbor to the surrounding community. As a result, RLC spent considerable effort to determine ways to minimize impact to surrounding property. This includes extensive visual screening using berms and walls, significantly lowering the rail grade on the site to minimize noise and visual impacts, and creating development standards that minimize impacts from light.

The project's unique location next to Colorado Air and Space Port affords it the ability to minimize project impacts to other adjacent landowners for two miles along the western and part of northern property line. It's location against the Union Pacific Rail main line to the south further reduces adjacent impacts. Because the site is already within a noise overlay zone with other noise generating uses, the addition of the rail park will not have as significant an impact as it might if it were located away from other potential noise sources.

Regardless of the reduced number of potential adjacent receptors, RMR incorporated design features that minimize impact to the surrounding community. Recognizing that Parcel 2 shares a small section of property line with an existing residential structure, RMR has spoken with these tenants and is making considerable effort to minimize noise impacts and visually screen the property. We have located detention ponds in locations that provide further buffers, and the development does not propose any rail operations south of Colfax Avenue.

Sites with rail operations have extensive design constraints associated with grades, radiuses, crossings, and many legal considerations. RLC has had weekly meetings with the Union Pacific throughout the entire project design phase, and has had separate meetings with other jurisdictional agencies including the Public Utilities Commission, City of Aurora, Urban Drainage Flood Control District, Bennet-Watkins Fire, Rocky Mountain Rail Park Metro

District, CDOT, CDPHE, and others. Beyond the typical design considerations required by Adams County, RLC has worked to incorporate design requirements (and requests) from all jurisdictional agencies.

Utilities

Natural gas and electricity for the project will be provided by Colorado Natural Gas and Xcel Energy, respectively. Water and wastewater service will be provided by the newly created Metro District. This special district will also provide regional stormwater management, road maintenance, landscape maintenance, and utility infrastructure maintenance. Fire protection is provided by the Bennett-Watkins Fire Department.

The utilities are described in greater detail in the utility sections of this submittal, however, generally, the site will be self-sufficient by supplying its own water treatment plant, sanitary treatment plant and the associated collection and distribution infrastructure. Adams County will not be required to construct or maintain any infrastructure.

Construction Sequence and Schedule

The project has been under design for almost two years and we anticipate site grading operations to begin in Winter (2019-2020) to Spring 2020. This is contingent upon Adams County approving the proposed Final Development Plan.

We anticipate that development will occur from the south to north with critical infrastructure being constructed first, and in some cases simultaneously with lot specific development activities. We recognize that this is somewhat atypical for small scale development, but this is common for large construction projects that have longer development timeframes. For example, mass grading activities will take approximately 4 to 6 months and treatment system installation is likely to take 6 months. It will not be possible to wait until infrastructure is completed before building permits on lots are approved. Development on the lots themselves may take upwards of a year during which time infrastructure is being constructed. The included Subdivision Improvement Agreement (SIA) provides more detail regarding how we intend to proceed. We anticipate working closely with Bennett-Watkins Fire and Adams County to make sure that all life-safety requirements are met during development activities.

Rail Land Company appreciates all of the work performed by Adams County as well as the various agencies that have had an impact on this project. We look forward to our continuing relationships as this project moves forward and respectfully request your approval of our Final Development Plan.

Respectfully,

Gregory M. Dangler, President

MASTER DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT FOR ROCKY MOUNTAIN RAIL PARK

THIS MASTER DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT FOR ROCKY MOUNTAIN RAIL PARK ("MASTER AGREEMENT") is made and entered into by and between the BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF ADAMS, State of Colorado, hereinafter "COUNTY," and RAIL LAND COMPANY, LLC d/b/a ROCKY MOUNTAIN RAIL PARK, a Colorado limited liability company, hereinafter "DEVELOPER" (each a "PARTY," or collectively, the "PARTIES").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Developer is the owner of approximately 619.45 acres real property in the County of Adams, State of Colorado, as described in Exhibit A attached hereto, and by this reference made a part hereof ("PROPERTY"), commonly known as the Rocky Mountain Rail Park ("SUBDIVISION");

WHEREAS, the Subdivision will facilitate the development of a rail park adjacent to the Colorado Air and Space Port ("CASP"), and is designed to allow rail delivery to individual end users and further the economic development of the County;

WHEREAS, the subdivision statutes of the State of Colorado, C.R.S. § 30-28-137, and the subdivision resolution of the County authorize the execution of an agreement between the County and Developer whereby Developer agrees to construct any required public improvements for the Subdivision, and to provide security for completion of the public improvements that are within the County's jurisdiction;

WHEREAS, due to the size and complexity of the Subdivision, as well as economic cycles and market conditions that will impact the term of absorption, this Agreement provides for the completion of certain public improvements ("FUTURE IMPROVEMENTS") within the Subdivision and outside of the Subdivision when warranted by development activities within the Subdivision;

WHEREAS this Master Agreement will serve to ensure that the Future Improvements are completed concurrently with, or before, the completion of development within the Subdivision that creates the impacts that create the demand for such improvements, and that security and warranties will be provided to the County according to the County's adopted requirements, which are included in the form Development Agreement ("DA") attached as Exhibit B;

WHEREAS, this Master Agreement is consistent with the purpose of Planned Unit Development ("PUD") zoning for the Subdivision, which is to permit detailed development planning as development occurs to allow flexibility in adapting to market demands while protecting and promoting the public health, safety, and welfare of existing and future residents of Adams County, and relieving the County from the cost of completing the Future Improvements; and

WHEREAS, the Parties agree that the impacts of the Subdivision as approved will be fully addressed by this Master Agreement and the subsequent Development Agreements between the County, and the Parties acknowledge that surety may be required for Future Improvements as detailed in those subsequent Development Agreements.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and upon approval and recordation of the final plat of the Subdivision, the parties hereto promise, covenant, and agree as follows:

1. Incorporation of Recitals. The Recitals above are fully incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

2. Future Improvements.

2.1 Generally. The Parties agree that the Future Improvements are not yet warranted and are likely to be influenced by specific development plans proposed by subsequent purchasers of individual lots within the Subdivision ("LOTS"). Future Improvements will be required if and when certain thresholds ("THRESHOLDS") identified in Master Traffic Impact Study, as defined in Section 2.2, below, are met. If and when a Threshold is met, Developer shall design and construct the Future Improvements as set forth herein.

2.2 Master Traffic Impact Study. Developer submitted for review, and the County approved, a Master Traffic Impact Study ("MASTER STUDY"). The Master Study analyzes the entire Subdivision at full build-out of all Lots. The Master Study identifies the Future Improvements that are necessary to mitigate for impacts of the fully developed Subdivision and identifies traffic count Thresholds for when specific Future Improvements will be required (when thresholds are met or exceeded, such Future Improvements will be referred to herein as "TRIGGERED IMPROVEMENTS"). The Master Study was prepared at Developer's sole cost and expense. A summary of the Future Improvements contemplated by the Master Study is attached as Exhibit C. To the extent of any conflict between the Master Study and Exhibit C, the Master Study shall control.

2.3 Development of Lots. THE DEVELOPER ACKNOWLEDGES THAT THE TIME REQUIRED FOR PROCESSING APPLICATIONS FOR LOT DEVELOPMENT PERMITS, AS DEFINED BELOW, MAY BE EXTENDED BY A REASONABLE PERIOD DUE TO THE ADDITIONAL PROCESSING REQUIREMENTS OF THIS SECTION, AND THAT SAID EXTENTION OF TIME IS NECESSARY TO ACCOMMODATE THE DEVELOPER'S REQUEST (AND THE COUNTY'S AGREEMENT) TO ALLOW FOR THE TIMING OF CONSTRUCTION OF FUTURE IMPROVEMENTS AS PROVIDED IN

THIS AGREEMENT. Along with any application for construction, building, or change-in-use permits for a Lot that may result in an increase in trip generation (each, a "LOT DEVELOPMENT PERMIT"), the Developer shall prepare a Traffic Impact Study ("TIS"), at the Developer's sole cost and expense, and submit the TIS to the County for review and approval (a TIS is not required for subsequent applications for Lot Development Permits that generate traffic that was previously accounted for in a prior TIS). The TIS shall be used to determine whether Triggered Improvements are required. The TIS must include a Trip Generation analysis for the subject Lot, address its cumulative impacts with all previously developed Lots, and provide analysis regarding whether the proposed development or use requires the construction of Triggered Improvements. Actual traffic counts shall be used (in lieu of Trip Generation calculations) for previously developed Lots, if Certificates of Occupancy have been issued for those Lots and a use is established such that their traffic impacts may be measured. If Triggered Improvements are not required, the Developer may apply for a Lot Development Permit in accordance with the County's Development Standards and Regulations. If Triggered Improvements are required, the TIS must identify them with particularity, and in addition to all other applicable requirements for issuance of a Lot Development Permit:

2.3.1 If the Triggered Improvements are to be dedicated to or otherwise under control of the County, then Developer shall submit an executed DA and collateral to the County as provided in Section 5, below.

2.3.2 If the Triggered Improvements are to be dedicated to another jurisdiction ("REGULATING JURISDICTION"), then County shall not issue the Lot Development Permit until after the Developer has submitted such application materials to the Regulating Jurisdiction as its adopted regulations require for construction of such Triggered Improvements; and the County shall not issue a Certificate of Occupancy for the development or use authorized by the Lot Development Permit until the Regulatory Jurisdiction has accepted the Triggered Improvements (preliminary acceptance, subject to Developer warranty, shall be considered acceptance for the purposes of this provision).

2.4 Drainage Improvements.

2.4.1 SUB-AREAS FOR DRAINAGE PURPOSES. The Subdivision is separated into two distinct development areas, divided by Colfax Avenue. For the purposes of describing the drainage improvement, the "North Area" is defined as the area north of Colfax Avenue, and the "South Area" is defined as the area south of Colfax Avenue.

2.4.2 Prior to or simultaneously with the development of the first Lot in the North Area, Developer shall complete all required drainage improvements in the North Area and the swales to the east and west of the development (i.e., Crooked Run and Crooked Run East). Alternatively, the County may administratively approve a series of temporary drainage improvements if it finds that they adequately address the demands of proposed development, and allow for sequential construction of the permanent drainage system as approved for the Subdivision.

2.4.3 Prior to or simultaneously with the development of the first Lot in the South Area, Developer shall complete all required drainage improvements in the South Area.

3. Engineering Services. Developer shall furnish or cause to have furnished, without cost to the County, all engineering services in connection with the design and construction of Triggered Improvements that are required pursuant to this Master Agreement when construction of such Triggered Improvements is required. Developer shall obtain, or cause to have obtained the approval from the County or other applicable Regulating Jurisdiction for all construction plans and engineering reports in connection with the design and construction of said Triggered Improvements. It is the Developer's responsibility to satisfy the requirements of Section 2.3.2 by notifying the County of its application to a Regulating Jurisdiction and the subsequent acceptance by the Regulating Jurisdiction of completed Triggered Improvements. The Developer shall promptly provide such interim documentation (e.g., construction permits, inspection reports, etc.) regarding construction of Triggered Improvements as the County may request from time to time, provided such documentation is then available to the Developer.

4. Drawings and Estimates. At or before the time that a TIS associated with a Lot Development Permit identifies that one or more Triggered Improvements are required, Developer shall furnish, or cause to have furnished, drawings and cost estimates for the Triggered Improvements that are then warranted, to (and for approval by) the County or other Regulating Jurisdiction, as applicable. Nothing in this Section 4 shall be interpreted to require Developer to furnish more or less information to the Regulating Jurisdiction than it would otherwise require.

5. Development Agreement.

5.1 Generally. DAs that are required by this Agreement shall be submitted in the form attached hereto as Exhibit B, in order to provide for construction and (as applicable) warranty of the Triggered Improvements then required, according to the drawings and materials approved by the County.

5.2 Cost of Construction Exhibit. Developer shall attach to the DA the design and a corresponding Engineer's Opinion of Probable Cost ("EOPC") (together, the "COST OF CONSTRUCTION EXHIBIT") for the applicable Triggered Improvement, to detail the costs used in determining the Surety requirement as defined in the DA. Construction costs shall be estimated by a registered Colorado Engineer, who must sign and stamp the EOPC exhibit.

5.3 Public Improvement Construction Schedule Exhibit. The Cost of Construction Exhibit shall include a completion deadline for all of the improvements included therein. Developer shall not commence construction prior to approval of the DA for that Lot and all prerequisites to construction outlined in the DA, and receipt of the appropriate Grading Permit, Access Permit, and/or Right-of-Way ("ROW") Permit from the County.

5.4 Provisions for Surety. Surety to the County shall be in an amount equal to estimated cost to construct the Future Improvement plus twenty percent (20%) to cover administration and five percent (5%) per year of the term of the DA to cover inflation. Draws under any such Surety shall follow the procedures set out in the Surety and the requirements of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations ("ACDS&R"), which shall be consistent with the DA. Release of Surety shall be in accordance with the requirements of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations.

5.5 Other Regulating Jurisdictions. Developer shall follow such protocols as adopted by other Regulating Jurisdictions with regarding to permitting and surety for Future Improvements within their jurisdictions. The County will not require the Developer to provide Surety to the County for Future Improvements to be constructed in or for other Regulating Jurisdictions.

6. Public Land Dedication. Pursuant to Section 5-05-05-02-01, ACDS&R, Developer shall pay cash-in-lieu for 30.9725 acres of regional parks (representing five percent of the land area of the Subdivision), totaling one million five hundred thirty-nine thousand seven hundred ninety-eight and no / 100 dollars ($1,539,798.00). Pursuant to Section 5-05-05-03(3), ACDS&R, the payment of cash-in-lieu for regional parks shall be split into four payments. The first payment is due prior to recording the final plat, the second payment is due prior to the issuance of a Building Permit which would constitute greater than 25 percent of the development, the third payment is due prior to the issuance of a Building Permit which would constitute greater than 50 percent of the development, and the fourth payment is due prior to the issuance of a Building Permit which would constitute greater than 75 percent of the development. The cash-in-lieu set out in this Section 6 shall represent the maximum cash-in-lieu required from the Subdivision for regional parks; however, if the County amends the ACDS&R at any time prior to the fourth payment, to provide for: (a) a lower cash-in-lieu payment for property that is comparable to the Subdivision due to either industrial or PUD zoning that allows comparable uses; or (b) an appeal or individual calculation methodology to reduce amounts due based on the individual characteristics of a development, then Developer may apply for a reduction of its total payment according to such updated or amended County regulations and apply that reduction to the balance due to the County.

7. Default by Developer. A default by Developer under this Master Agreement shall exist after notice and an opportunity to cure of not less than 10 days, as hereinafter provided, if: (a) Developer fails to cure any noncompliance specified in any written notice of noncompliance from the County within a reasonable time after receipt of the notice of noncompliance; (b) Developer otherwise breaches or fails to comply with any obligation of Developer under this Agreement; or (c) Developer becomes insolvent, files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, is adjudicated a bankrupt pursuant to an involuntary petition in bankruptcy, or a receiver is appointed for Developer. An administrative determination by the County that the Developer is in default shall be appealable to the Board of County Commissioners.

8. Protection of Innocent Purchasers. This Agreement is entered into pursuant to the requirements of the ACDS&R and C.R.S. § 30-28-137(1)(b). It is therefore subject to the provisions of C.R.S. § 30-28-137.

9. Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall be binding upon the heirs, executors, personal representatives, successors, and assigns of Developer, and shall be deemed a covenant running with the real property as described in Exhibit A attached hereto.

10. Assignability.

    10.1 Assignment to District. County acknowledges that the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Metro District ("DISTRICT") has been formed for the purpose of constructing and maintaining certain improvements within the Property. The County hereby consents to the performance by the District of any of the obligations of the Developer hereunder. Upon the assignment by the Developer of all or a portion of the Developer's obligations hereunder to the District and the assumption of such obligation by the District, the Developer shall be released from such assigned obligation, and the County will accept performance of such assigned obligation from the District.

    10.2 Assignment to Others. Developer may assign its rights and obligations under this Agreement to a party who is the successor or assignee of Developer in its capacity as developer of the Subdivision without the consent of the County; provided, however, that: (a) Developer notifies the County of the assignment and of the name and address of the successor developer; and (b) the successor Developer assumes the obligations of Developer under this Agreement. Unless otherwise agreed by County, Developer shall remain liable for performance of the obligations of Developer under this Agreement. The County shall release a surety furnished by Developer if the County accepts new security from any successor Developer of the Subdivision.

11. Miscellaneous.

    11.1 Notices. Any notice or communication required under this Agreement must be in writing, and may be given either personally or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested. If given by registered or certified mail, the same will be deemed to have been given and received on the first to occur of (a) actual receipt by any of the addressees designated below as the party to whom notices are to be sent, or (b) five days after a registered or certified letter containing such notice, properly addressed, with postage prepaid, is deposited in the United States mail. If personally delivered, a notice will be deemed to have been given when delivered to the party to whom it is addressed. Any party hereto may at any time, by giving written notice to the other party hereto as provided in this Section, designate additional persons to whom notices or communications will be given and designate any other address in substitution of the address to which such notice or communication will be given. FORM OF DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT

DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT is made and entered into this ___ day of _____, 20__, between _____, a _____ corporation qualified to do business in Colorado ("Developer"), whose address is _____ and the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, State of Colorado ("County"), whose address is 4430 S. Adams County Parkway, Brighton, CO 80601.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Developer is the owner of real property in the County of Adams, State of Colorado, within the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Subdivision, such real property as described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto, and by this reference made a part hereof.

WHEREAS, Real property within the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Subdivision is subject to the terms of that certain Master Development Agreement for Rocky Mountain Rail Park, dated _____, 2020 and recorded in the Public Records of Adams County on _____, 2020 at Reception No. _____ ("Master Agreement").

WHEREAS, this Development Agreement implements the requirements of the Master Agreement.

WHEREAS, it is provided by resolution of the Board of County Commissioners, County of Adams, that where designated the Developer shall have entered into a written agreement with the County to install public and/or private improvements, and to deed land for public purposes or right-of-way.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing, the parties hereto promise, covenant, and agree as follows:

1. Engineering Services. Developer shall furnish, at its own expense, all engineering and other services in connection with the design and construction of the improvements described and detailed on Exhibit "B" attached hereto, and by this reference made a part hereof ("Improvements").

2. Drawings and Estimates. The Developer shall furnish drawings and cost estimates for all improvements described and detailed on Exhibit "B" for approval by the County. Upon request, the Developer shall furnish one set of reproducible "as built" drawings and a final statement of construction costs to the County.

3. Construction. Developer shall furnish and construct, at its own expense and in accordance with drawings and materials approved by the County, the improvements described and detailed on Exhibit "B".

4. Time for Completion. Improvements shall be completed according to the terms of this agreement within "construction completion date" appearing in Exhibit "B". The Director of Community and Economic Development Department may for good cause grant extension of time for completion of any part or all of improvements appearing on said Exhibit "B". Any extension greater than 180 days may be approved only by the Board of County Commissioners. All extensions of time shall be in written form only.

5. Warranties of Developer. Developer warrants that the Improvements shall be installed in good workmanlike manner and in substantial compliance with the Plans and requirements of this Agreement and shall be substantially free of defects in materials and workmanship. These warranties of Developer shall remain in effect until Preliminary Acceptance of the improvements by the County.

6. Guarantee of Compliance. Developer shall furnish to the County a cash escrow deposit or other acceptable collateral, releasable only by the County, to guarantee compliance with this agreement. Said collateral shall be in the amount of $<XXXXX>, including twenty percent (20%) to cover administration and five percent (5%) per year for the term of the Agreement to cover inflation. Upon approval of the final plat, completion of said improvements constructed according to the terms of this agreement, and preliminary acceptance by the Director of Public Works in accordance with section 5-02-05-01 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations, the collateral shall be released. Completion of said improvements shall be determined solely by the County, and a reasonable part of said collateral, up to 20%, may be retained to guarantee maintenance of public improvements for a period of one year from the date of preliminary acceptance.

   No building permits shall be issued until said collateral is furnished in the amount required and in a form acceptable to the Board of County Commissioners, and until the final plat has been approved and the improvements described in Exhibit "B" have been preliminarily accepted by the Department of Public Works.

7. Acceptance and Maintenance of Public Improvements. All improvements designated "public" on Exhibit "B" shall be public facilities and become the property of the County or other public agencies upon acceptance. During the period of one year from and after the acceptance of public improvements, the Developer shall, at its own expense, make all needed repairs or replacement due to defective materials or workmanship which, in the opinion of the County, becomes necessary. If, within ten days of written notice to the Developer from the County requesting such repairs or replacements, the Developer has not undertaken with due diligence to make the same, the County may make such repairs or replacements at the Developer's expense. In the case of an emergency such written notice may be waived.

8. Successors and Assigns. This agreement shall be binding upon the heirs, executors, personal representatives, successors, and assigns of the Developer, and shall be deemed a covenant running with the real property as described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto.

Resubmittal required

PLN01: County staff, the applicant, and the FAA should work together on some sort of future access to the CASP. This should be spelled out in the SIA.
PLN02: Submit SIA with your next resubmittal.
PLN03: An agreement will need to be in place prior to approval of the Final Plat and FDP for the section of track at the southwest corner of the site, which currently travels through County owned property.
PLN04: Parkland dedication fees have been calculated and total $1,539,797.84. See attached .pdf for calculation. There is the potential to dedicate land for a regional park at a minimum of 50 acres, which can be non-contiguous to the site. However, the BOCC decides whether cash-in-lieu or land dedication is most appropriate. You can also have the land appraised to see if the assessed value comes in under the $49,715/acre assessed by the County. The payments can also be phased, per section 5-05-05-03 from the Adams County Development Standards. This should be included as part of the SIA.
PLN05: A certificate of taxes paid from the County Treasurer's office is required.
PLN06: Is there still a walking path/trail located around the perimeter of the site?
PLN07: Please coordinate a meeting between yourself, the City of Aurora, and Adams County to discuss infrastructure needs.

Final Plat:
PLN08: The plat does not appear to be consistent and does not conform to the approved preliminary plat.
PLN09: The plat is in conformance with the subdivision design standards
PLN10: Evidence of sufficient water supply has been acquired in terms of quantity, quality, and dependability for the type of subdivision proposed, as determined in accordance with the standards set forth in the water supply standards. The Colorado Division of Water resources acknowledged there is no concern.
PLN11: The applicant has provided evidence that adequate sewage disposal will be provided and complies with state and local laws and regulations.
PLN12: The applicant has provided evidence that the proposed uses of the areas are compatible with the soil or topographical conditions.
PLN13: The proposed or constructed drainage improvements are adequate and comply with these standards and regulations.
PLN14: Adequate public facilities or infrastructure, or cash-in-lieu, for impacts reasonably related to the proposed subdivision will either be constructed, or financially guaranteed through cash-in-lieu or a subdivision improvement agreement so the proposed subdivision will not negatively impact the levels of service of the County.

Final Development Plan:
PLN15: Remove the signature block titled “Staff Review.”
PLN16: The FDP is in general conformity with the Adams County Comprehensive Plan and any applicable area plan.
PLN17: The FDP conforms to the PUD standards.
PLN18: The FDP is consistent with the approved PDP.

PLN19: The FDP construction plans meet the requirements of these standards and regulations and have been approved by the Director of Community and Economic Development, all infrastructure and utility providers, Tri-County Health Department, and all other referral agencies.

ENV1. Due to the proximity of the parcels to Denver International Airport (DIA), they are covered by the Airport Height Overlay (AHO), which restricts some building height and certain development. More information can be found in Section 3-32 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations.

- Landowners may be required to install, operate, and maintain, at the owner's expense, such markers and lights which may be necessary to indicate to flyers the presence of a hazard which affects the aviation facility. This marking and lighting requirement may also extend to objects of natural growth (trees, primarily) on site. (3-32-04-03 LANDOWNERS TO INSTALL MARKERS)
- An FAA aeronautical study may be required to determine if the proposed development could be a hazard to air navigation. (3-32-04-01 PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT TO COMPLETE AERONAUTICAL STUDY)

ENV2. Due to the proximity of the parcels to Front Range Airport, it is covered by the Airport Noise Overlay (ANO). The portions of the commercial or industrial structures devoted to office uses, or occupied by members of the public must incorporate noise level reduction measures sufficient to achieve an interior noise level of 45 dB on the A-weighted scale.

ENV3: If fill material will be imported to the site for site development, the applicant must obtain a temporary use permit for inert fill operations. The applicant shall provide details of the source material certifying that all fill material brought onsite is clean. This may be satisfied by submitting a signed letter from the owner of the fill certifying that it is clean, providing a due diligence report demonstrating no recognized environmental concerns are associated with the source site, or providing results of a soils test following guidance provided by the Department. Please contact kkeefe@adcogov.org for more information on soils sampling plans and required analysis if a soils test is performed.

ROW1. Submit a title commitment which should be used to depict the applicable recordings on the plat. Send Adams County a copy of the title commitment with your application dated no later than 30 days to review in order to ensure that any other party's interests are not encroached upon.
ROW2. Incorporate this language into Note 11: "By this plat, a tract is created for use by the owners of the lots for access onto Picadilly Road and E 48th Ave. The construction and maintenance of a private road within the Tract A is the full and complete responsibility of the property owner(s) of the subdivision, in perpetuity. Adams County assumes no responsibility or liability regarding the private road, and will not perform maintenance operations including snow removal."
ROW3. See redlines for labels needed for the private road.
ROW4. Edit the Legal description- see redlines
ROW5. The Tract table is different than the preliminary plat. Add Access in the use portion where applicable. This plat is not a conveyance document- clarify what the dedication column is meant for.

ROW6. The Right-of-way dedication to City of Aurora should be done prior to the approval of this plat. It can be done if there is a condition placed on the approval. The City of Aurora usually does not sign plats as it is usually dedicated by deed. The County will need verification from City of Aurora on how they would like it to be done. The county will work with developer on timing and how it should be shown on the plat.

ROW7. LOT 1 is shown different on this plat than the prelim. The County suggest editing lot 1 and creating a tract for the rail portion- see redlines.

ROW8. Is there any lots/tracts that are specifically drainage? The table is not specific. The county needs to make sure that there is drainage detention pond delineated on the plat as well as access to the pond ROW9. The 60ft access easement on Lot 11- what is this for? Is there a private road there?

ROW10. The public access easement can be dedicated by the plat- specific language should be added to the notes section on what the access is for- who can use it and who will maintain it.

ROW11. See redlines on plat attached. Additional redline comments may be needed on next submittal.

LID shall be designed and maintained to meet the standards of these Regulations and the Urban Drainage and Flood Control District's Urban Storm Drainage Criteria Manual, Volume 3.

ENG3: Sustainable Development Practices Section 3-27-06-05-07-08:
To the maximum extent practicable, new buildings are encouraged to incorporate one or more of the following features:

1. Opportunities for the integration of renewable energy features in the design of buildings or sites, such as: solar, wind, geothermal, biomass, or low-impact hydro sources;
2. Energy-efficient materials, including recycled materials that meet the requirements of these regulations;
3. Materials that are produced from renewable resources;
4. Low-Impact Development (LID) stormwater management features;
5. A green roof, such as a vegetated roof, or a cool roof;
6. Materials and design meeting the U.S. Green Building Council's LEED-NC certification requirements;
7. A greywater recycling system.

ENG4: The applicant shall be responsible to ensure compliance with all Federal, State, and Local water quality construction requirements. The project site is not within the County's MS4 Stormwater Permit area; an Adams County Stormwater Quality Permit (SWQ) is NOT required. The installation of erosion and sediment control BMPs are expected.

ENG5: Prior to scheduling the final plat/FDP BOCC hearing, the developer is required to submit for review and receive approval of all construction documents (construction plans and reports). Construction documents shall include, at a minimum, onsite and public improvements construction plans, drainage report, traffic impact study. All construction documents must meet the requirements of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations. The developer shall submit to the Adams County Development Review Engineering division the following: Engineering Review Application, Engineering Review Fee, two (2) copies of all construction documents. The development review fee for an Engineering Review is dependent on the type of project and/or the size of the project. The Development Review fee can be found in the Development Services Fee Schedule, located on the following web page: http://www.adcogov.org/one-stop-customer-center.

The applicant has submitted construction drawings for review. The Construction documents are not approved at this time.

ENG6: The developer is required to construct roadway improvements adjacent to the proposed site. Roadway improvements will consist of curb, gutter and sidewalk adjacent to the site and, any roadway improvements as required by the approved traffic impact study.

ENG7: Prior to the issuance of any construction or building permits, the developer shall enter into a Subdivision Improvements Agreement (SIA) with the County and provide a security bond for all public improvements.

ENG8: No building permits will be issued until all public improvements have been constructed, inspected and preliminarily accepted by the County's Transportation Dept.

ENG9: The developer is responsible for the repair or replacement of any broken or damaged County infrastructure.

ENG10: The applicant is proposing to phase construction of this development and the required public improvements. The phasing schedule should be included on the Final Development Plan (FDP). The phasing schedule should be based on the need for the specific improvements as the site is development and, clearly outlined in the FDP. When/if the FDP is approved, the applicant will be strictly held to the phasing schedule.

ENG11: Section 5-02-03 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations (DSR) specifically states:

> No portion or phase of a subdivision will be granted Preliminary Acceptance until all items identified in the Subdivision Improvements Agreement have been completed. Construction phasing will not be permitted for the purposes of partial acceptance. If the subdivider desires to improve smaller portions of the subdivision, they shall be submitted for review and recorded as individual filings.

The phasing schedule will need to be included in the SIA for this development and meet the requirements of this Section or, the applicant will be required to apply for a waiver to the Chapter 5 subdivision design standards.

ENG12: The preliminary Traffic Impact Study showed necessary offsite roadway improvements between the site and the I-70 interchange. And, the existing condition of the asphalt in Manilla Rd, Pederson Rd and possibly Colfax Ave will not support heavy truck traffic or a significant increase in standard vehicle traffic. The FDP and final plat construction need to address these deficiencies as the current roadway network cannot support this development. The applicant will be required to improvement these roadways to support this development. This issue needs to be addressed and resolved prior to scheduling the FDP/Final Plat hearings.

ENG13: Applicant is required to coordinate all public transportation improvements with the City of Aurora and the Transport Colorado development. Applicant shall schedule and attend meetings with the City and Adams County staff and, incorporate all necessary revisions into the Rocky Mountain Rail Park construction documents.

Additional Engineering Comments:

1. The applicant will need to submit a phasing plan for this development. That plan will need to show the overall development with all required public improvements and, what the triggers for those improvements will be.
    a. Upon receipt of that plan, County staff can review and comment on the phasing triggers.
    b. Once the phasing and phasing triggers are approved by the County, the applicant will be required to include the phasing plan on the P.U.D.
2. In order to allow phasing of the development and public improvements, the applicant will need plat the site with individual filings for each phase.
    a. The individual filings can create a single or multiple lots.
    b. Each individual filing will need to include the required public improvements based on the phasing plan contained in the PUD (as included with the Final Development Plan), as well as any other improvements that come to light during review of the individual filing.
3. The applicants first filing/phase is required to include:
    a. All of the perimeter landscaping, berming and, trail shown on the PDP.
4. The applicant is required to include all available traffic count information and drainage design information from the Transport Colorado development, located in the City of Aurora, into their design studies and construction plans.
    a. Coordination of the traffic and drainage data is to be done through the City of Aurora in collaboration with Adams County.
    a. Applicants public improvement plans are required to anticipate, to the extent possible, any future public improvements required for the Transport Colorado development.
5. The applicant is required to have the roadway sections for Pederson Rd and Manilla Rd analyzed for structural capacity.
    a. The applicant will be required to improve the roadway sections of Pederson Rd and Manilla road to handle the traffic loading (i.e. trucks) anticipated in the Traffic Impact Study.
6. The applicant is required to coordinate all required roadway improvement to Colfax Ave with the Colorado Department of Transportation.

Good Morning Nick,

Thank you for the opportunity to review this submittal. The Adams County Dept. of Public Works, Infrastructure Management, Construction Inspection Division offers the following comments:

1. A Subdivision Improvement Agreement (SIA) and related collateral will be required for the construction of all Public Facilities as they relate to this subdivision construction. This agreement will have to be approved by the BoCC.
2. The Development Standards and Regulations are very clear on the construction of public roadways and perimeter roadways. As this proposed subdivision borders both Peterson Rd. and 48th Ave., this SIA will be specifically written for the improvements along these roadways. Other roadways may be involved as well, as additional requirements are flushed out with this application.
3. It is very possible that the City of Aurora may want some improvements along their jurisdictional boundary as well.
4. It is possible that the City of Aurora may require annexation if the site is to be served by Aurora Utilities.
5. Construction plans must be submitted and approved prior to the beginning of construction.
6. A pre-construction meeting must be held prior to construction.
7. No Building Permits/CO's can be issued until all Public Improvements have been installed and have received Preliminary Acceptance from the Adams County Department of Public Works.
8. A construction Permit cannot be issued until all construction plans have been reviewed and approved, and the Subdivision Improvement Agreement has been approved by the Adams County BoCC.

Again, thank you for the opportunity to review this submittal. If I can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me at any time. This referral has also been submitted to other staff members of the Department of Public Works for further review.

RE: Rocky Mountain Rail Park Subdivision (PRC2018-00006)
Part of the E1/2 of Sections 23, 26, and NE1/4 of Section 35, T3S, R64W, 6th P.M., Lost Creek Designated Ground Water Basin
Water Division 1, Water District 1

Dear Mr. Barnes:

We have reviewed your March 26, 2019 submittal concerning the above referenced proposal to subdivide approximately 620 acres of land into 11 lots (and "various tracts") for an industrial park. This office previously commented on the proposal in a letters dated June 26, 2018, July 31, 2018, September 20, 2018, November 14, 2018 and January 3, 2019.

Water Supply Demand

A Technical Memorandum by FEI Engineers dated May 22, 2018 estimates the water demand for this subdivision is 49.46 AF/yr of potable water, 101.39 AF/yr of non-potable irrigation water and 0.552 AF/yr of potable fire suppression water, for a total estimated water demand of 151.4 AF/yr.

Source of Water Supply

The proposed water supplier is the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Metropolitan District ("District"). The new information submitted indicates the District was approved by the Board of the County Commissioners and in the November election and the order by Adams County District Court approving the District is awaiting approval. The District's proposed sources of water are the Denver Basin bedrock aquifers. The submittal indicates that the Determination of Water Rights nos. 3625-BD, 3626-BD, 3627-BD and 3628-BD is the proposed source of water for the District. The applicant has submitted draft deeds for transferring the water rights from Rail Land Company, LLC to the District once the District has officially been formed. The District's boundaries are the 620 acres associated with the Determination of Water Rights nos. 3625-BD, 3626-BD, 3627-BD and 3628-BD and the District will have no additional commitments beside the commitments for this subdivision.

Determination of Water Rights nos. 3625-BD, 3626-BD, 3627-BD and 3628-BD were issued for the Laramie-Fox Hills, Lower Arapahoe, Upper Arapahoe, and Denver aquifers respectively underlying the 620 acre property to Rail Land Company, LLC for the uses of domestic, livestock watering, irrigation, commercial, replacement, recreation, industrial, mechanical and fire protection.

Table 1 below shows the amount of water in the Determination of Water Rights for a 100 year and 300 year allocation approach.

Table 1

Aquifer	Determination of Water Right	Based on 100 year allocation approach	Based on 300 year allocation approach
Denver (NNT 4%)	3628-BD	208.6	69.53
Upper Arapahoe (NT)	3627-BD	105.3	35.1
Lower Arapahoe (NT)	3626-BD	52.8	17.6
Laramie-Fox Hills (NT)	3625-BD	142.8	47.6
Total		509.5	169.83

In the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations, Effective April 15, 2002, Section 5-04-05-06-04 states:

"Prior to platting, the developer shall demonstrate that…the water supply is dependable in quantity and quality based on a minimum useful life of three-hundred (300) years. A minimum 300-year useful life means the water supply from both a static and dynamic basis will be viable for a minimum 300-year period. The static analysis shall include evaluation of the volume of water that is appropriable for the proposed subdivision. The dynamic analysis shall evaluate whether the appropriable water supply is sustainable for three-hundred (300) years, giving consideration to the location and extent of the aquifer, as well as impacts caused by both current and future pumping by others from the aquifer."

The State Engineer's Office does not have evidence regarding the length of time for which this source will be "dependable in quantity and quality." However, treating Adam County's requirement as an allocation approach based on three hundred years, the allowed average annual amount of withdrawal of 509.5 acre-feet/year would be reduced to one third of that amount, or 169.83 acre-feet/year. The State Engineer's Office has no comment on the quality of the water supply or the required 'dynamic analysis' to evaluate whether the appropriable water supply is sustainable for three hundred years.

State Engineer's Office Opinion

Based upon the above and pursuant to Section 30-28-136(1)(h)(I) and Section 30-28-136(1)(h)(II), C.R.S., it is our opinion that the proposed water supply is adequate and can be provided without causing injury to decreed water rights on the condition the District is formed, the Determination of Water Rights Nos. 3625-BD, 3626-BD, 3627-BD and 3628-BD are transferred to the District as described in the referral information and a written commitment of service from the District be provided referencing the name of the subdivision as submitted to the county and a level of commitment in terms of uses to be served and/or water requirement.

Our opinion that the water supply is adequate is based on our determination that the amount of water required annually to serve the subdivision is currently physically available, based on current estimated aquifer conditions.

Our opinion that the water supply can be provided without causing injury is based on our determination that the amount of water that is legally available on an annual basis, according to the statutory allocation approach, for the proposed uses on the subdivided land is greater than the annual amount of water required to supply existing water commitments and the demands of the proposed subdivision.

Our opinion is qualified by the following:

The Ground Water Commission has retained jurisdiction over the final amount of water available pursuant to the above-referenced decree, pending actual geophysical data from the aquifer.

The amounts of water in the Denver Basin aquifer, and identified in this letter, are calculated based on estimated current aquifer conditions. For planning purposes the county should be aware that the economic life of a water supply based on wells in a given Denver Basin aquifer may be less than the 100 (or 300) years used for allocation due to anticipated water level declines. We recommend that the county determine whether it is appropriate to require development of renewable water resources for this subdivision to provide for a long-term water supply.

Should you or the applicant have any questions, please contact Ailis Thyne at (303) 866-3581 x8216.

Sincerely,

Keith Vander Horst

Subject: Rocky Mountain Rail Park
Comp Plan Amendment, Rezoning to PUD, Major Subdivision Preliminary Plat, and PDP
Case Number PRC2018-00006; Adams County, CO; CGS Unique No. AD-18-0016

Dear Mr. Barnes:

Colorado Geological Survey has reviewed the Rocky Mountain Rail Park referral. I understand the applicant proposes eleven industrial and commercial lots with rail access on approximately 620 acres located west of Peterson Road, north and south of Colfax, east of Front Range Airport. With this referral we received a request for CGS's review (May 24, 2018), a Project Explanation (Enertia Consulting Group, May 24, 2018), sheets 1 and 2 of the PUD plans (Enertia, May 23, 2018), and a site plan sheet for the Comprehensive Plan Amendment, Subdivision-Major/Preliminary, and Zoning Map Amendment applications (Enertia, May 22, 2018). We understand a new metro district will be created for water and sanitation.

The site does not contain, nor is it exposed to, any geologic hazards that would preclude the proposed industrial/commercial uses and density. CGS therefore has no objection to approval of eleven-lot subdivision as proposed.

Mineral resource potential. According to the Atlas of Sand, Gravel, and Quarry Aggregate Resources, Colorado Front Range Counties (Schwochow et al, Colorado Geological Survey Special Publication 5-B, 1974, Manila Quadrangle), the property is not mapped as containing a sand, gravel, or aggregate resource. Approximately the southwestern one-third of the site is located within the northeastern area of the Watkins lignite seam as mapped in Kirkham, R.M., 1978, The Watkins Lignite Seam, Adams and Arapahoe Counties, Colorado: Colorado Geological Survey, Open-File Report OF-78-6, scale 1:50,000. The maximum thickness of the lignite seam is approximately 20 feet at the southeastern corner of the property, pinches out toward the northeast, and ranges from approximately 60 to 100 feet below the ground surface. Since the Union Pacific corridor crosses this portion of the site, and the lignite is at a relatively shallow depth where extraction would almost certainly cause subsidence damage at the surface, it is highly unlikely that the lignite would ever be mined. However, a determination regarding whether lignite in general, or this lignite seam specifically, constitutes an economically viable mineral resource is outside the scope of CGS review.

Soil/bedrock engineering properties. According to available geologic mapping, the site is underlain by wind-deposited fine sands, silt and clay. Wind-deposited soils, especially those containing soluble calcareous minerals, tend to be loose, fine-grained, and compressible/hydrocompactive, meaning they can lose strength, settle, compress, or collapse under a structural load and/or when water infiltrates the deposits. Thick columns of compressible or collapsible soils can result in very significant settlement and structural damage. Depending on their clay content, these soils can also exhibit shrink/swell (volume changes in response to changes in water content).

Site-specific geotechnical investigations and analysis will be needed, once building locations are identified on each lot, to determine depths to bedrock and seasonal groundwater levels, and to characterize soil and bedrock engineering properties such as density, strength, and swell/consolidation potential for use in design of foundations, floor systems, subsurface drainage, and pavements.

Thank you for the opportunity to review and comment on this project. If you have questions or require additional review, please call me at (303) 384-2643, or e-mail carlson@mines.edu.

Re: Rocky Mountain Rail Park Final Plat, Case # PRC2019-00012

Public Service Company of Colorado's (PSCo) Right of Way & Permits Referral Desk has reviewed the final plat for Rocky Mountain Rail Park and again requests, to ensure that adequate utility easements are available within this development, that the following language or plat note is placed on the preliminary and final plats for the subdivision:

> Minimum ten-foot (10') wide dry utility easements are hereby dedicated on private property abutting all public streets, and around the perimeter of each commercial/industrial lot in the subdivision or platted area including tracts, parcels and/or open space areas. These easements are dedicated to Adams County for the benefit of the applicable utility providers for the installation, maintenance, and replacement of electric, gas, television, cable, and telecommunications facilities (Dry Utilities). Utility easements shall also be granted within any access easements and private streets in the subdivision. Permanent structures, improvements, objects, buildings, wells, and other objects that may interfere with the utility facilities or use thereof (Interfering Objects) shall not be permitted within said utility easements and the utility providers, as grantees, may remove any Interfering Objects at no cost to such grantees, including, without limitation, vegetation. Public Service Company of Colorado (PSCo) and its successors reserve the right to require additional easements and to require the property owner to grant PSCo an easement on its standard form.

PSCo also requests that the tracts are dedicated for utility use for crossings.

Public Service Company also requests that all utility easements be depicted graphically on the preliminary and final plats. While these easements may accommodate certain utilities to be installed in the subdivision, some additional easements may be required as planning and building progresses.

Please be aware PSCo owns and operates existing overhead electric distribution facilities within the subject property. The property owner/developer/contractor must complete the application process for any new natural gas or electric service, or modification to existing facilities via xcelenergy.com/InstallAndConnect. It is then the responsibility of the developer to contact the Designer assigned to the project for approval of design details. Additional easements may need to be acquired by separate document for new facilities.

As a safety precaution, PSCo would like to remind the developer to call the Utility Notification Center by dialing 811 for utility locates prior to construction.

RE: Rocky Mountain Rail Park, PRC2019-00012
TCHD Case No. 5940 & 5941

Dear Mr. Eagleson,

Thank you for the opportunity to review and comment on the Final Plat to create 11 lots and 11 tracts and Final Development Plan to establish the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Planned Unit Development on 620 acres located at the northwest corner of Petterson and Colfax. Tri-County Health Department (TCHD) staff has reviewed the application for compliance with applicable environmental and public health regulations and principles of healthy community design. After reviewing the application, TCHD has the following comments.

Wastewater Treatment
Proper wastewater management promotes effective and responsible water use, protects potable water from contaminants, and provides appropriate collection, treatment, and disposal of waste, which protects public health and the environment. The application states that the site will be self-sufficient by supplying its own sanitary treatment plant. Domestic Wastewater Treatment Works (DWWTW) are regulated by the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE). CDPHE requires site approval, a discharge permit, and design approval for all DWWTW. It is our understanding that the DWWTW is not yet approved and CDPHE sent a Request for Information on February 20, 2019. The applicant should contact the CDPHE Water Quality Control Division regarding the DWWTW. Until the DWWTW is approved, TCHD cannot provide a favorable recommendation. More information can be found here: https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/clean-water-site-wastewater-treatment-systems.

Public Water System
Systems serving 25 or more persons on average, a minimum of 60 days per year are subject to regulation by the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE) as a non-community drinking water system. The applicant shall contact the CDPHE Drinking Water Section at (303) 692-3500 or https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/drinking-water to determine requirements for the drinking water system.

SUBJECT: Rocky Mountain Rail Park

Members of the Planning Commission, I am writing this memorandum to you to express a concern I have related to the development of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park. As information, I am the project manager for preparation of the Traffic Impact Analysis (TIA) for Transport Colorado, a project that is directly adjacent to the Rocky Mountain Rail Park and to the Colorado Air and Space Port.

The Transport Colorado TIA has been reviewed by the City of Aurora for Preliminary Development Plan approval and a revised TIA will be submitted to the City for a second review shortly. As such, I have some knowledge of existing and future roadway and traffic conditions in this area. And as you know, the Northeast Area Transportation Study (NEATS) Refresh study was completed in October 2018 for which Adams County was a part of the Technical Working Group. NEATS Refresh conducted an exhaustive evaluation of traffic projections and it identified roadway, transit, and bicycle/pedestrian facilities to meet the projected development estimates.

My concern regarding the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Traffic Impact Study (TIS) is that it does not address the NEATS Refresh traffic projections in their estimates of background traffic growth. Their traffic study uses 20-year projected growth rates along US 36 (Colfax Avenue) from the Colorado Department of Transportation (CDOT) that does not reflect the intensity of development that is expected to occur within Transport Colorado and for projects that NEATS Refresh evaluated. As such, when Rocky Mountain Rail Park predicts good intersection operations, particularly for the Year 2040, those operational conditions may be overly optimistic when you consider the influence of other projects that will develop within the same timeframe.

Relative to roadway infrastructure improvements, NEATS Refresh recommends the widening of Manila Road to four through lanes, something that is not addressed in the Rocky Mountain Rail Park TIS. Additionally, while not specifically identified in NEATS Refresh, improvements to the I-70/Manila Road interchange will also be required, particularly to accommodate large vehicle movements.

Bearing in mind the information above, it is requested that the Adams County Planning Commission consider a more thorough evaluation of traffic projections, their impacts, and recommended infrastructure improvements that the Rocky Mountain Rail Park should be a partner in.

Thank you for your consideration on this matter.

MEMORANDUM

Nick Eagleson – and Adams County Planning Commission Members

Re: Referral Response to the Request that Rocky Mountain Rail Park

On behalf of Transport Colorado, LLC ("Transport"), a 6500-acre industrial and logistics park with real estate holdings east and west of the proposed Rocky Mountain Rail Park (RMRP). More specifically this letter concerns Subarea 1 of Transport, which is 1154 acres of Heavy Rail Served Industrial Park in close proximity to RMRP. We are writing to request that Adams County assist the Applicants of RMRP and Transport Colorado in establishing appropriate cost sharing levels related to public improvements together that are proportionate to their respective development impacts to existing infrastructure in the area. We see impacts to the area relative to each of these rail served industrial developments specifically 1154 acres for Transport (Subarea 1) and 620 acres for RMRP.

We certainly recognize RMRP has followed all the regulations required by Adams County and is a good project. Furthermore, we are not objecting to the RMRP project as was stated in July 2019, but there are many impacts to consider based on both projects developing over the next 18-24 months. It is our estimate that between the Transport and RMRP projects thousands of jobs will be created in Adams County and Aurora. As a result, the current infrastructure will not support those impacts without substantial improvements.

The discussion points made with the Adams County Board of Commissioners at the July 2019 hearing was as follows:

A. RMRP and Transport should consider sharing costs of traffic impacts on existing infrastructure, such as Manilla Road and the Manilla Road Interchange. Even though they have staggered development schedules, both projects will generate traffic and trigger drainage, road and interchange improvements.

B. Utility services are nonexistent in this area. Both projects should consider sharing costs for sewer and water in the area.

C. Health, Safety and Welfare services (Fire / Police Annex) are nonexistent in the area and these costs should also be shared.

Because infrastructure funding decisions are made and guided by local government, we respectfully request that Adams County schedule a work session together with the City of Aurora, the RMRR applicants and Transport Colorado to establish infrastructure cost sharing obligations for the respective developments. Again, both projects will be wonderful additions to the community (Adams County & Aurora) and their success will be predicated on all parties working together to formulate a plan that benefits the collective stake holders.

Thank you for your consideration,

RE: Rocky Mountain Rail Park Project ("RMRP")
PRC2019-00012

Nick,

I, Kelsey Hall, am the Land & Project Manager at TransPort Colorado, LLC. TransPort Colorado is a ~6,500-acre mixed-use commerce park located within Adams County and neighbors the proposed RMRP Project on its eastern and western boundaries.

During the Planning Commission Meeting held on June 13th, 2019 and the Board of County Commissioners Meeting on June 18th, 2019, TransPort Colorado raised numerous concerns with respect to the regional impact of the RMRP Project, in which the RMRP Project was conditionally approved. TransPort Colorado is providing comment again today not in opposition of the proposed industrial park by RMRP, however, is requesting a perpetual continuance of any further hearings until such date that RMRP has appropriately addressed all the affected stakeholders' concerns.

To that point, TransPort Colorado's 1,154-acre rail-served industrial park, reference maps attached, is directly affected by the RMRP Project. This park is currently in its development stages with the City of Aurora ("the City") in which the Master Framework Development Plan along with two Sub-Area Master Development Plans have been submitted for review and approval. The 1,154-acre rail-served industrial park (Sub Area #1) in this submittal utilizes similar routing between I-70 and Colfax on Manila Road. In review of RMRPs Final Development Plan, TransPort Colorado has differing results as to what extent improvements need to be made for development use in the City and Adams County, which is supported by its own traffic impact analysis previously provided to Adams County.

We find it imperative that all stakeholders, to include the City, Adams County, TransPort Colorado and RMRP, coordinate all major infrastructure with respect to reasonable cost sharing of near and medium term construction in order for both projects to be successful for the benefit of the City and Adams County. At a minimum, all affected stakeholders need to find common ground on the following list of comments from the City prior to approval of the RMRP Project.

- The Traffic Impact Analysis review comments provided by the City indicate that CDOT must review the interchange configurations at Manila and I-70. The City states that the current interchange at Manila and I-70 is not suitable for truck traffic and that the interchange improvements will likely be required with any development. We need to collectively solve interim condition approaches that make development in the area feasible. There is also a City comment that the design must be consistent with SHAC. The approval of design for the Manila interchange and its supporting infrastructure should rely solely on TransPort Colorado. RMRP should be a party to the solution and timing for the interchange improvements, as they will be allocating trips to the interchange. The City has made comment regarding how to determine the suitability of the proposed interim condition to include roundabouts at the northern and southern onramps at Manila and I-70. The methodology required by the City will have potentially significant early impacts on costs, and how the RMRP Project will participate in those costs is of significance.

- The City has required four lanes of Manila Road must be constructed at a trigger point in the development of the our 1,154-acre rail-served industrial park development. Considering the likely timing of buildout between the RMRP Project and our rail-served industrial park, it is logical that coordination of the level of cost participation should be determined prior to approval of the RMRP development.

- The City is also requiring a grade separation at Schumaker Road and the UPRR. The RMRP Project will have significant future trips contributing to that infrastructure and RMRP should participate in the associated design and construction costs of that future grade separation.

Once again, TransPort Colorado requests a continuance of the RMRP Project until such time that critical coordination can occur between the municipal, county and developer levels to coordinate a viable infrastructure plan to these vital concerns.

Sincerely,

KBH

Environmental Comments:

Environmental will need to see environmental tech memos for the area of CDOT ROW that will become an access point(s), will have work or staging.

Traffic Comments:

I have no comments on the TIS.

Ronnie

From the Drawings it looks like the south location has two access. With Streets F & H accessing Colfax. Are these both full Access? This was not shown in the TIS. Only one access was evaluated in the TIS.

Maintenance Comments:

Resident Engineer Comments:

The residency will need to review the plans for any modifications made to SH36. The TIS lists several modifications that will need to be made to the state highway, and CDOT will need to review these plans to ensure they were designed to our standards and specifications. --kdd 11/13

Permits Comments:

~~I have a number of issues and questions, too long to place in this form box. Please see attached memo dated 11-02-18. Seeking the favor of a reply letter with the next submittal outlining if-how CDOT issues have been addressed - RS 11-02-18~~

No further comments. Consultant has acknowledged concerns previsously raised. They are aware that permits will be per code (spacing & des ign) along SH 36 and what the TIS to accompany them will need to address. RS 12-17-18

On sheet 8 of 12, show x-section for SH 36. Property is responsible for public improvements deemed warranted abutting this RoW.

FDP Sheet 7 of 12 The notation "proposed water line typ" is inappropriately shown in center of SH 36. CDOT will not allow this, it must be moved-repositioned outside of ultimate roadway pavement design. No manholes in the pavement!

Sheet 7 of 12 Streets F & H do not appear to match Access code relative to position & spacing requirements. This concern was raised before under our previous review (Nov 2018). Access permits will be required for both. Plans are not scalable, nor are the proposed roadway spacing dimensions offered. Design & safety considerations must be evaluated before we acknowledge acceptance of these locations.

Sheet 8 of 12 Add a cross section for SH 36. This highway flanks this property and RMRP is responsible for public improvements which are warranted. We wish to see that the full-build out profile fits in the RoW, along with utilities and roadside drainage. We are looking for a minimum of 140-ft ROW per the Adams County Transportation plan.

Existing Conditions map sheet 3 of 12. Lumping CDOT & UPRR ROW together is not appropriate. Please separate and illustrate the extent-width of the UPRR apart from CDOT ROW. We are not the same company, institution or ownership.

New access permit needed/required for both Manila & Petterson Rd intersections with SH 36. The TIS to accompany the permit application needs to ID DHV at all access locations. As we previously discussed, please include the I-70 ramps at Manila to ascertain if new permits may be warranted there by virtue of new traffic > 20% attributed to this development. Note: the responses to CDOT 's previous remarks states that no access to be considered from Manila, yet the plans appear to show via 30th Ave., a connection of/to Manila on the north side.

RS 11-06-19

Other Comments:

State Highway Access Permits are required for the three accesses to State Highway 36. One will be needed for Petterson Rd. on the north side. The Permittee for this permit should be Adams County since this is a County Road connection to the Highway. For the development south of Highway 36, two State Highway access permits are required. The west, full-movement access should be on the property line. A provision of the permit will be that the full-movement acccess would become a shared access with the adjacent property to the west at the time it develops. The east access will be limited to Right-in, Right-out only. And the spacing of the accesses must accommodate any required auxiliary lanes. No design waivers will be given for substandard required lanes. Point of contact for the access permits is Steve Loeffler who can be reached at 303-757-9891 or steven.loeffler@state.co.us

We need to review a drainage study for both the north and south developments to confirm that there will be no negative impact ot State Highway 36.

Any signing on these developments that will be visible to the State Highway msut be on-premise and cannot be either wholly or partly in the State Highway Right-of-Way. All signing must comply with any other applicable rules governing outdoor advertising in Colorado per 2 CCR 601-3

Form APCD-223

Air Pollutant Emission Notice (APEN) and Application for Construction Permit

All sections of this APEN and application must be completed for both new and existing developments, including APEN updates. Incomplete APENs will be rejected and will require re-submittal. Your APEN will be rejected if it is filled out incorrectly, is missing information, or lacks payment for the filing fee. The re-submittal will require payment for a new filing fee.

This APEN is to be used for land development activities only. If your activity does not fall into this category, there may be a more specific APEN for your source. In particular, if your activity features excavation of commercially-sold material, you must use the Mining Operations APEN (Form APCD-222). If a specialty APEN is not available or does not satisfy your reporting needs, the General APEN (Form APCD-200) is available. A list of all available APEN forms can be found on the Air Pollution Control Division (APCD) website at: www.colorado.gov/cdphe/apcd.

This emission notice is valid for five (5) years. Submission of a revised APEN is required 30 days prior to expiration of the five-year term, or when a reportable change is made (significant emissions increase, increase production, new equipment, change in fuel type, etc.). See Regulation No. 3, Part A, II.C. for revised APEN requirements.

Subject: Rocky Mountain Rail Park Comments

Hello Nick:

The following is our comments on the proposed Final Development Plan to establish Rocky Mountain Rail Park PUD.

The City of Aurora respectfully requests that coordination occur between the Aurora, Adams County, Rocky Mountain Rail Park, Urban Drainage and Flood Control District (UDFCD) and TransPort, to discuss infrastructure needs relating to traffic, drainage, water and sewer as well as any other infrastructure. Coordination should occur prior to the approval by Adams County of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park Final Development Plan. Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Please be cautious: This email was sent from outside Adams County

Dear Mr. Eagleson,
Thank you for sending information about RMRP's final play and final development plan. Is there an updated traffic study, or final plans for road improvements for the Colfax/Petterson intersection? Page 12 of the development plan indicates that the road will be widened, but it is a bit difficult to interpret. Please send further details, if available.
Thank you,

Recommendation

Rocky Mountain Rail Park

PRC2019-00012

Staff recommends Approval of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park FDP, Final Plat, Waiver from Subdivision Design Standards and Master Agreement based on 14 Findings-of-Fact, 5 Conditions, and 1 Note.

Recommended Conditions of Approval

1. The applicant shall work with Adams County Facilities and Fleet Management Department on a “through the fence” agreement for future access from the Colorado Air and Space Port to a developable lot along the western edge of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park site. Any future agreement would go to the Board of County Commissioners for approval.
2. The applicant shall work with Adams County Facilities and Fleet Management on a potential agreement for the rail spur, located on Adams County Property, just outside the southwest portion of the site. If an agreement cannot be made, RMRP will need to come up with an alternative solution for the spur, which does not include going through Adams County property.
3. For any future development along the western edge of the Rocky Mountain Rail Park site, screening shall be provided to mitigate the impact between the site and the Colorado Air and Space Port. The applicant shall also provide an acceptable landscape plan for each lot being developed, prior to any issuance of a building permit.

Recommended Conditions of Approval

4. Any development proposed to be greater than 90 feet in height shall work with the Colorado Air and Space Port, as well as the FAA, to ensure any height requirements are met.
5. All Subdivision Improvement Agreements required by the Master Development Agreement shall include the installation of all Open Space and Active Recreation areas directly adjacent to the subject lot(s).

Recommended Note to the Applicant:

1. The applicant shall adhere to all fire, animal, health, zoning, and building codes

SUMMARY OF APPLICATION

Background

Brannan Sand & Gravel is requesting three conditional use permits for a recycling facility use with accessory outdoor storage exceeding ten acres and an outdoor material stacking of up to fifty (50) feet. The 23.6-acre subject property is located at 2601 W. 60th Avenue. The site is within both the Industrial-2 (I-2) and Industrial-3 (I-3) zone districts.

The applicant has utilized this property without a permit for over 25 years for the processing, storage, and sale of recycled asphalt and concrete material. The material is stockpiled at the site and routed throughout the Denver metropolitan area for various construction projects. In October 1995, Adams County sent a notice of violation informing the property owner that the use was not allowed without a conditional use permit. Subsequently, no conditional use permit was issued, and the facility continued to operate out of compliance with county regulations.

In June 2012, the Board of County Commissioners approved a conditional use permit at 5880 Lipan Street for Brannan Sand & Gravel that allowed the outdoor storage of aggregate material exceeding 10 acres and up to 35 feet in height. As part of that approval, a condition was included to require the operations at the subject property of this request to cease and for the site to be vacated by June 2019. As of July 2020, the applicant has not ceased operations nor vacated the site.

In May 2017, an inspection of the site was conducted by Adams County, the Tri-County Health Department, and the Colorado Division of Public Health & Environment. The team found: that the facility was operating without proper permitting; that the site was used for outdoor storage that was not associated with the business; that the site was being used for a 30-foot tall pile of shingles which constituted an unpermitted disposal of solid waste and potentially may have included asbestos shingles; that the operation had resulted in an illicit discharge into the Clear Creek; and that the facility was storing and stockpiling materials on an adjoining property owned by Adams County.

Over the next few months, Brannan Sand & Gravel began to remedy specific violations discovered at the May 2017 inspection. A settlement agreement was reached in November 2017 between Brannan Sand & Gravel and Adams County. The agreement formalized a timeline for the site to come into compliance. Although the terms of the agreement were initially met by the applicant, a request for extension of deadlines was granted in February 2018. The final step for the applicant to fully comply with the terms of this agreement is approval of the subject conditional use permits. The agreement required that these approvals happen by June 2019. At that time, the County issued a notice of noncompliance to the applicant. The subject applications were received in December 2019.

Site Characteristics and Environmental Considerations:

The subject property has direct access to West 60th Avenue along its southern boundary and approximately 1,700 linear feet of frontage on the public roadway. The site is located approximately 800 feet to the northeast of the intersection of Federal Boulevard and W. 60th Avenue. Federal Boulevard has ramp access onto Interstate-76 just southwest of the site giving the site relatively easy access to the federal highway system.

The site consists of 23.6 acres, of which approximately 90% is designated with I-2 zoning and the remainder is designated with I-3 zoning, which is located on the western edge of the property. Although there are existing stockpiles on the site that are 30-50 feet in height, the property does not appear to have significant natural terrain.

The site borders the Clear Creek to the north and west. The entire site is impacted by floodplain according to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). Approximately 11 acres of the northern and western portions of the site is located within the floodway. This designation by FEMA means that the land area must be reserved to discharge the base flood without cumulatively increasing the water surface elevation more than a designated height. Reservation of the areas is necessary to ensure that there are no increases in upstream flood elevations. The remainder of the property on the southern and eastern portions of the site are within the 100-year floodplain. These areas have a 1% greater chance of flooding each year. Two lakes are located just to the northwest of the subject property.

For the aggregate material to be stored in the floodplain, a Floodplain Use Permit is required. Brannan Sand & Gravel has applied for this permit, which is currently under review by the Mile High Flood District (MHFD). MHFD is developing an updated flood map for this area of Clear Creek that is currently being reviewed by FEMA. The revisions to the flood map are based on modeling that show a wider floodway in the area, which includes the area where the proposed stockpiles are located. To obtain an approved Floodplain Use Permit, Brannan will be required to demonstrate that they can implement measures to mitigate the effects of the stockpiles in the floodplain.

Compatibility with the Surrounding Land Uses:

The existing land uses in the area consist mostly of industrial and vacant properties. In 2019, the Clear Creek at Federal Commuter Rail Station became operational and is an important gateway to Southwest Adams County; there are 300 parking spaces intended to serve those who use the Gold Line to access Union Station in Downtown Denver to the south or Wheat Ridge to the west. The introduction of the nearby commuter rail station has resulted in an increase in pedestrian traffic and is expected to serve as a catalyst for more transit-oriented development in the area. The applications for recycling facilities, outdoor storage, and stockpiles of material reaching up to 50 feet in height are incompatible with the surrounding area and particularly the highly trafficked commuter rail station. The request for stockpiles of up to 50 feet are likely to become windswept and create hazards for pedestrians in the area, while also being clearly visible from the existing Federal Station.

Future Land Use Designation/Goals of the Comp-Plan for the Area

The future land use designation on the property is Activity Center. Per Chapter 5 of the County's Comprehensive Plan, the Activity Center future land use designated areas are intended to allow high-intensity residential, retail, and office development. The Activity Center designated areas are intended to increase employment and increase the tax base, while creating a mix of uses to create a pedestrian environment that is supportive of transit.

The subject property falls within the Southwest Area Plan, the Federal Boulevard Framework Plan, and the Clear Creek Valley Transit Oriented Development Plan. The vision for the Clear Creek at Federal Station is to create a new, vibrant, transit-oriented community amenity within walking distance of the transit station. New retail, employment, entertainment and living opportunities within the envisioned Village Center will serve the needs of the existing community and maintain the area as an employment center for Adams County. The area shall maintain and enhance existing commercial corridors and existing residential neighborhoods. Development in the area is to create new connections with surrounding residential and commercial areas and revitalize older commercial, industrial, or underutilized areas. Mixed-use development and sustainable practices will be encouraged in the Clear Creek at Federal Station. Open space and recreational opportunities will be an important part of the area's development. The activity center is expected to enhance the area's role as a gateway to Southwest Adams County. Planning guidelines for this Area Plan state that the County will discourage land use patterns in transit corridors and around transit stations that may preclude future transit-oriented development. The plan also specifically discourages land consumptive uses related to agriculture or heavy industry such as outdoor storage.

Based on the Adams County Comprehensive Plan's future land designation and the goals of the County's Clear Creek Valley Transit Oriented Development Plan, the subject application does not conform to the County's long-term goals for the region. In addition, the proposed applications may impede future development in the area for high-density mixed-use development with an abundance of open space and recreational options.

Development Standards and Regulations Requirements:

Per Section 3-07-01 of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations, a conditional use permit is required for recycling facilities in the I-2 and I-3 zone districts. Section 4-10-02-04-09 requires conditional use permits for accessory outdoor storage in excess of ten acres in the I-2 and I-3 zone districts, and for the stacking of materials taller than the height of the required screen fencing. The three applications filed by the applicant are in accordance with these sections.

Chapter 4 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations sets forth specific performance standards to ensure that uses mitigate negative impacts to surrounding areas by requiring site plans that meet aesthetic and functionality requirements to ensure that the use of a property is not detrimental to or incompatible with the surrounding area.

Section 4-10-02-04-07 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations outlines specific performance standards for the recycling facilities use. These standards require an eight-foot-tall screen or security fence to enclose the outdoor storage. The standards require control plans to abate both nuisance and the traffic. The facility will also be required to maintain recordkeeping detailing amounts and types of material stockpiled at the site

Section 4-10-02-04-09 of the County's Development Standards and Regulations outlines specific performance standards for the outdoor storage use. These standards also require all outdoor storage to be enclosed by a screen fence not to exceed eight feet in height. All outdoor storage shall consist of nonhazardous materials as determined by the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment. All outdoor storage shall be designed with adequate access areas and shall meet all requirements of the local fire district.

Parking requirements are discussed in Section 4-12 of the Adams County Development Standards. All access driveways and required parking spaces are required to be covered with asphalt or concrete. Loading zones are also discussed in these requirements and shall be designed to prevent queueing of traffic on to public roadways.

The site will be expected to conform to the Adams County Development Standards for landscaping. Per Section 4-16-07, a minimum of 10% of the overall site area (approximately 2.4 acres) shall be designated for landscaping. Of this required landscape area, at least 50% (1.2 acres) is to be located along public roadways. Therefore, the applicant shall be expected to provide a 30-foot-wide streetscape buffer along the portions of the property fronting W. 60th Avenue. An additional 1.2 acres of open landscaped area shall be spread throughout the site.

Per Section 4-13 of the Development Standards, the applicant shall conform to the County's Operational Standards. These regulations prevent nuisance to the surrounding properties. The proposed recycling facility and associated outdoor storage will be expected to conform to these regulations to mitigate lighting, vibration, noise, and dust.

The applicant has submitted a site plan and landscape plan that partially conforms to the performance standards for the use. Overall, the proposed development can be improved to better conform with these standards. Should the Board of County Commissioners indicate that the proposed uses are suitable for the property, staff will recommend a continuance of the request to allow staff more time to ensure compliance with the County's Development Standards and Regulations.

PLANNING COMMISSION UPDATE:

The Planning Commission (PC) considered this case on July 9, 2020 and voted (5-0) to recommend denial of the requests. The applicant's representative spoke at the meeting and provided additional information regarding the historical timeline of the facility. The PC expressed concerns regarding the applicant's history of noncompliance. Other noted concerns were related to the negative impact that the existing facilities may have on future development. The PC also noted that the proposed use could relocate to another site to be operational. There was no one from the public to speak in favor or in opposition to the request.

Staff Recommendations:
Based upon the application, the criteria for approval of a conditional use permit, and a recent site visit, staff recommends denial of the request with 14 findings-of-fact.

Recommended Findings-of-Fact:

1. The conditional use is not permitted in the applicable zone district.
2. The conditional use is inconsistent with the purposes of these standards and regulations.
3. The conditional use will not comply with the requirements of these standards and regulations, including but not limited to, all applicable performance standards.
4. The conditional use is incompatible with the surrounding area, not harmonious with the character of the neighborhood, detrimental to the immediate area, detrimental to the future development of the area, and detrimental to the health, safety, or welfare of the inhabitants of the area and the County.
5. The conditional use permit has not addressed all off-site impacts.
6. The site is unsuitable for the proposed conditional use including adequate usable space, adequate access, and absence of environmental constraints.
7. The site plan for the proposed conditional use will not provide the most convenient and functional use of the lot including the parking scheme, traffic circulation, open space, fencing, screening, landscaping, signage, and lighting.
8. The request for outdoor storage is incompatible with the Adams County Comprehensive Plan, does not comply with the minimum zoning requirements of the zone district in which the Conditional Use Permit is to be granted, and does not comply with all other applicable requirements of the Adams County Development Standards and Regulations.
9. Aesthetic concerns have not been taken into consideration during the site design and placement of the outdoor storage.
10. The request for a recycling facility is incompatible with the Adams County Comprehensive Plan, does not comply with the minimum zoning requirements of the zone district in which the Conditional Use Permit is to be granted, and does not comply with all other applicable requirements of the Adams County Zoning and Subdivision Regulations.
11. The applicant has not documented his ability to comply with the health standards and operating procedures as provided by the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, Tri-County Health Department, Fire District, and other relevant agencies.
12. The proposed facility will cause significant traffic congestion or traffic hazards.
13. The request is incompatible with the surrounding area.
14. The site will impact health and welfare of the community based upon specific recycling facility design and operating procedures.

PUBLIC COMMENTS

Notices Sent	Number of Responses

Property owners and residents within 1,500 feet of the site were notified of the subject request. As of writing this report, staff has received two responses regarding the application. ARMOS Investments expressed concern that the proposed use may have a negative impact on the use of their property. They wished to remain updated on the proposed timeline of the use, if approved. In addition, staff received one comment from Dan Micek in support of the request.

COUNTY AGENCY COMMENTS

Upon receipt of these applications, staff identified concerns that the requested conditional use permits may not be compatible with the surrounding area. Future development surrounding the Clear Creek at Federal Station may be negatively affected by the proposed stockpile heights and outdoor storage. In addition, staff identified that additional landscaping and screening techniques may improve the application. Although compliance with the County's Development Standards is a criterion for approval, it was noted that full conformance with these standards would not remedy the existing concerns regarding compatibility and land use. Rather than ask the applicant to invest further in an application that will not receive a recommendation of approval, staff proposed scheduling the hearing with a recommendation of denial. Should the Planning Commission and Board of County Commissioners determine that the use may be compatible with surrounding area and will not be a detriment to future development, then staff will ask the Board for a continuance on this case to work with the applicant on engineering and landscaping design of the site.

REFERRAL AGENCY COMMENTS

During the referral process, the Tri-County Health Department identified concern with fugitive dust from the proposed facility. No other concerns were noted from those referral agencies that were notified.

Re: Submittal of Land Use Application, Pit 10, 2601 West 60th Avenue

Dear Adams County officials:

On behalf of Pit 10, LLC, please find under this cover an application related to 2601 W. 60th Avenue in unincorporated Adams County.

The Applicant, as Brannan Sand and Gravel, has operated in this area of Adams County for many years, and on the specific subject property for no less than 20 years. The property at 2601 W. 60th Avenue is zoned for industrial use, in the I-2 zone district with a small piece of I-3 zoning at its western edge. Based on Pit 10's recent work with Adams county related to this land – including code enforcement communications and more recently a Conceptual Review Meeting in November 2018 – we agree that formal plan review will alleviate concerns about appropriate site improvements, the scope and timing of transition plans, and the application of County comprehensive plan aspirational goals for the general vicinity.

While the County staff and plans articulate a general desire to redevelop the area, and the Applicant has engaged with experts on this prospect, it is apparent that the regulatory status of 2601 West 60th Avenue as a jurisdictional floodplain is a substantial impediment to any change in the long-term economic use of this site. The site is currently undergoing floodplain analysis, both as part of a larger study of Clear Creek and on a site-specific basis. The immediate site-specific use of the property is under study by ICON Engineering and will be packaged as an Adams County floodplain use permit application as soon as available. The resolution of Clear Creek floodplain mapping is critical to effective long-term grading and drainage plans, as well as identification of riverbank stabilization and channelization opportunities in conjunction with Urban Drainage or other agencies.

The application process for the existing/proposed land use at 2601 West 60th Avenue is intended to define expectations for the immediate future of the site. It is not a redevelopment plan, nor does the Applicant intend to determine the appropriate future use of the property at this time. After careful deliberation, we believe that subdivision and other steps toward redevelopment are most appropriately addressed in a separate process. The current process is directed at assessing compliance with County industrial zoning standards and specifically reviewing operations that will enable and actively manage the transition to future land uses.

It is significant that the site has operated in more or less its present form for many years, with the involvement of Adams County officials along the way. That ongoing use informs our understanding of the terms and application of Adams County regulations, as noted in the attached narrative. But it is more importantly emblematic of Brannan's positive working relationship with the County, which we endeavor to continue. Based on Adams County direction, Brannan has invested nearly $2 million in grading and material processing work in the last two years, and we have modified operations to reduce stockpile footprint and height. The process envisioned by the enclosed application will allow us to continue in this direction, making operations more compact and compliant with zoning plans.

Thank you in advance for the work of Adams County staff and the boards and commissions.

Sincerely,

Fred Marvel, Manager

PLN01: Landscape plans were submitted with the original application, but no landscape plan was submitted with the resubmittal package. Even with the addition of landscaping, it is unlikely that this use will be appropriate for the area, based on Criterion #4 regarding compatibility. The best path forward may be scheduling the case for public hearing.

The following are a list of potential conditions, if approved:
The applicant shall install a wind gauge, such as an anemometer, in the vicinity of crushing operations to monitor wind speeds and shall cease dust generating activities when wind speeds exceed a sustained 25 mph or gusts exceed 35 mph. Records of operation shutdown due to high winds shall be maintained and made available to Adams County upon request.

Fugitive dust control measures as prescribed within the facility's Air Pollutant Emission Notice permit as issued by CDPHE, must be in place and functioning at all times. There must be no off-property transport of visible emissions nor shall visible dust emissions exceed 20% opacity.

The applicant shall install sediment control BMPs along the site access and use a sweeper as frequently as necessary to prevent tracking and offsite transport of mud and dirt from the facility onto the public right of way.

The applicant has agreed as a condition of the permit to conduct semi-annual noise monitoring and airborne dust monitoring while crushing and recycling operations are active. Noise and air monitoring results shall be provided to the Director of Community and Economic Development within seven days of receiving monitoring results.

Aboveground petroleum storage tanks used for equipment fueling must be placed within secondary containment and meet applicable fire code requirements.

If fuel will be stored on this site:
- All fuel storage at this site shall be provided with secondary containment, which complies with State of Colorado Oil Inspection Section Regulations; and
- Fueling areas shall be separated from the rest of the site's surface area, and protected from storm water; and
- Applicant shall make available for review by the County its Spill Prevention, Control, and Countermeasures Plan.

All fluid spills such as hydraulic and oil from maintenance of equipment, shall be removed and disposed of at a facility permitted for such disposal.

Planner Comments

Case Manager: Greg Barnes

PLN01: There are three applications being submitted: Conditional use permit to allow recycling operations in the I-2 and I-3 zone districts, conditional use permit to allow accessory outdoor storage in the I-2 and I-3 zone districts, and conditional use permit to allow stacking of material over the height of fencing.

PLN02: The subject property is located within a future land use designation as "Activity Center". This designation is intended for a future land use that will accommodate a very high intensity office, residential, and commercial uses. These areas shall provide allowances for pedestrian and bicycle transportation that will promote transit uses. The proposal of recycling operations and outdoor storage is inconsistent with the County's Comprehensive Plan.

PLN03: The area is nearby a commuter rail station and the proposal may have substantial impacts on the future development of the surrounding area. Recycling operations may create off-site impacts that may also be detrimental to the surrounding neighborhood and its future development.

PLN04: Although staff may be unlikely to support this use, the chances for approval by the Board of County Commissioners will be increased if off-site impacts are strongly mitigated. We can brainstorm at the upcoming RCC on how the application can be enhanced.

PLN05: Please provide an elevation drawing of the proposed 8' wood fence.

PLN06: At the upcoming RCC, there should be further discussion of vehicle tracking onto public roadways and overall truck traffic volumes.

PLN07: It is recommended that staff and the applicant continue to assess a reduction of the proposed height of materials.

Plans:

SW Area Framework Plan

- Policy 14.1 Promote Clean Industrial Uses; Encourage development and redevelopment of a range of industrial uses in the Southwest Area, with particular emphasis on new clean and/ or light industrial uses.

Balanced Housing Plan- N/A

Clear Creek Valley TOD Plan (see attached maps)

Goal – Clear Creek at Federal Station

The vision for the Clear Creek at Federal Station is to create a new, vibrant, transit-oriented community amenity within walking distance of the transit station. New retail, employment, entertainment and living opportunities within the new Village Center will serve the needs of the existing community and maintain the area as an employment center for Adams County.

Station Area Goals:

Maintain and enhance existing commercial corridors

Create new connections with surrounding residential and commercial areas Revitalize older commercial and industrial areas

Encourage mixed use development

Promote sustainable development

Enhance area's role as a gateway to Southwest Adams County

Maintain and enhance existing residential neighborhoods

Improve open space and recreational opportunities

Revitalize vacant and underutilized land

TOD and Rail Station Area Planning Guidelines

- Policy: Ensure that development patterns are compatible with both the established character of the county and the new framework provided in Station Area Plans.
    - S4. The County will discourage land use patterns in transit corridors and around transit stations that may preclude future Transit Oriented Development.
- Policy: Development intensity and density should be significantly higher in Station Areas to provide a base for a variety of housing, employment, local services and amenities that promote transit usage, encourage pedestrian activity and support a vibrant station area community.
    - #7 Discourage low-intensity, land consumptive uses related to agriculture or heavy industry such as outdoor storage or construction staging.

Federal Blvd Framework Plan

8. Corridor Planning should address potential Federal Boulevard blight conditions and recommend improvements in visual character. The addition of pedestrian-oriented improvement to the Right-of-Way is critical in providing better accommodations for non-motorized corridor transportation. Additionally, streetscape planting should be incorporated throughout the corridor with a focus on shade trees along the east and west sides of the roadway due to the utility limitations of the center medians.
10. Corridor planning should address potential methods to land assembly for redevelopment, protection of residential neighborhoods from commercial land use and traffic encroachment, and methods to interconnect the local street grid.

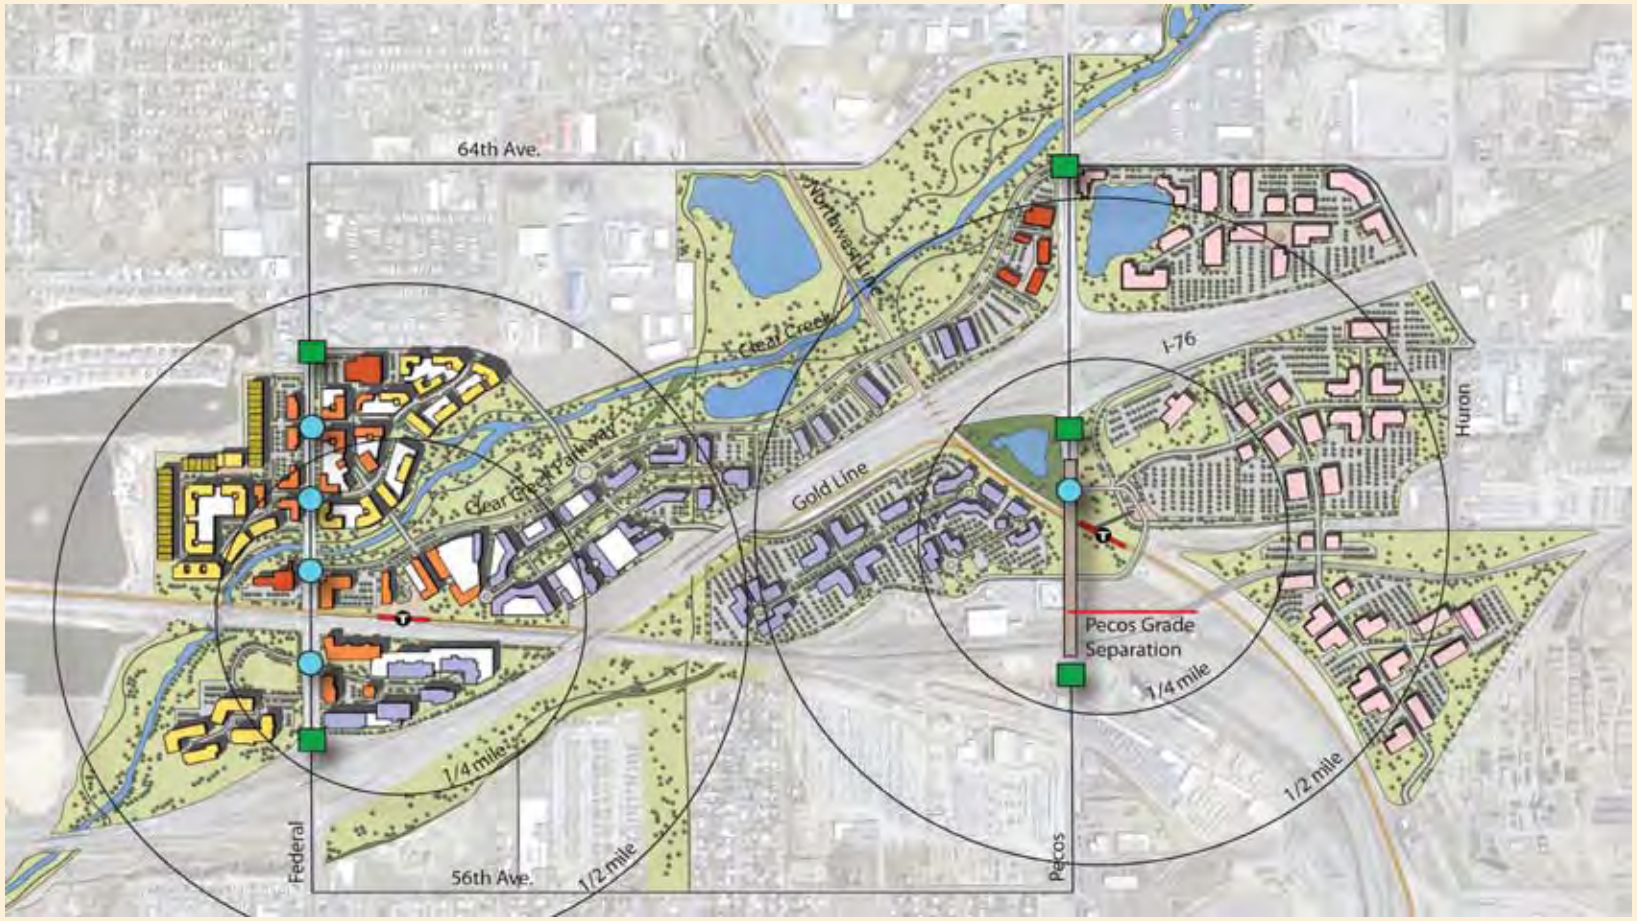
Imagine Adams Comp Plan

Activity Center- This land use category is characterized by its high intensity, mixed-use character, and high quality. The primary uses will be offices, hotels, retail, high-density residential and clean, indoor manufacturing and warehousing. Activity Centers are designated for areas that will have excellent transportation access and visibility, particularly along the FasTracks corridors. Development in Activity Centers must contain a sufficient intensity and mix of uses to create a pedestrian environment and support transit service. These centers may be especially suitable for providing a variety of housing or should be planned with due consideration of accessibility between residences and places of employment.

Making Connections

- Triangle of Opportunity. Opportunities include transit-oriented development, trail-oriented development, mixed-use development.
- 4.1 Sidewalk Program 2. Missing Sidewalk links

Option 1 - Clear Creek Parkway



Retail
Mixed use
Multi family residential
Single family attached

Option 1 - Clear Creek Parkway

Approach
An approach was used that integrated the two station areas as one unified place by completing the connection of 60th Avenue from Federal Boulevard under I-76 to Pecos Street and the Pecos Junction Station. This collector road creates a new east-west connection and provides access to the Clear Creek amenity to neighborhoods and businesses south of I-76 and the rail lines. The plan is based on a future scenario of the densification that is possible after the arrival of commuter rail and opportunities for retail and residential development become a reality in the market. It has a 12-20 year planning horizon.

Overview of Option 1 - Clear Creek Parkway
Option 1 - Clear Creek Parkway is based on building a parkway north of I-76 that connects Federal Boulevard to Pecos Street along the Clear Creek amenity. The parkway expands the open space associated with the amenity and also serves to mitigate the floodplain issues in the area and enables development to occur between I-76 and and the parkway. A collector road is also proposed from 62nd Avenue and Federal Boulevard east to the Pecos Station creating a second connection between the two station areas.

Parking
In the short term, surface parking will prevail at both stations. However, as the market allows and densification occurs, mixed-use structured parking with wrapped retail on the street level is recommended. The plan shows a future vision of structured parking around the Federal Station area. Future public parking will not be paid for by RTD or Adams County. In the Gold Line EIS, RTD has bugeted for surface parking through 2030.

Circulation
Both vehicular and pedestrian circulation was a primary consideration in the plan. Access east and west has been increased, and a greatly expanded network of sidewalks and trails is integral to the concept. Pedestrian priority streets will dominate in the Village Center area and all roads in the station areas will provide for bike and pedestrian circulation.

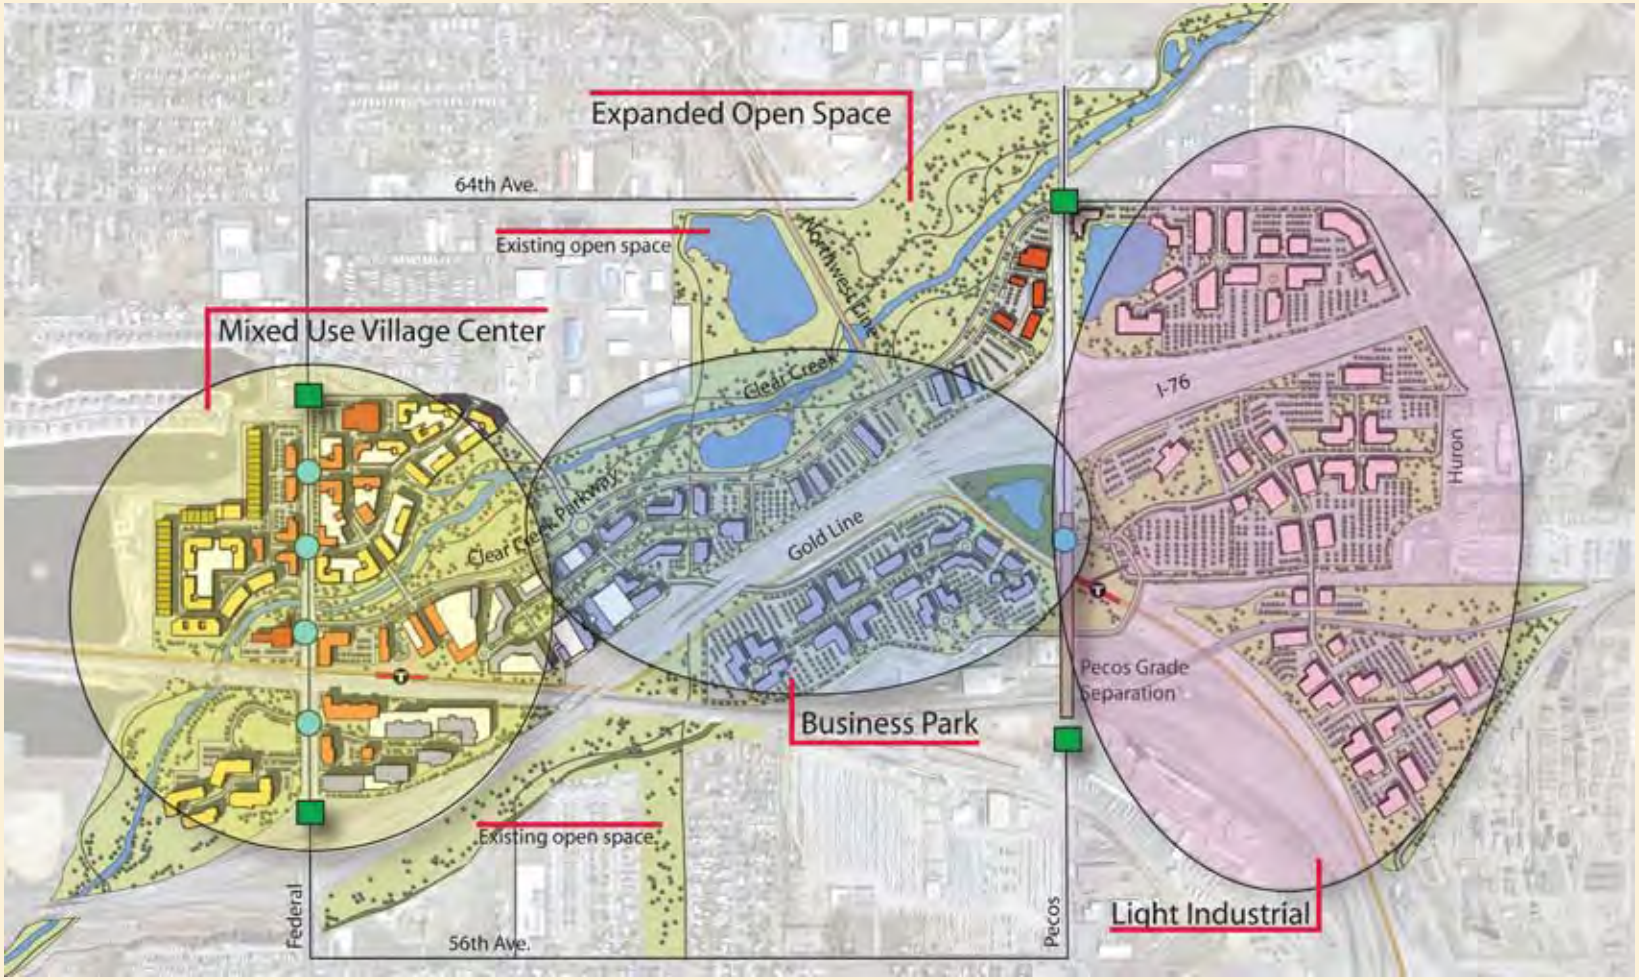
Gateways
Four gateways are noted on the plan. Whether they announce the station areas or the name of a business park, gateways become familiar landmarks that contribute to a greater sense of place and unite the various elements of the plan. Specific gateway design and area branding will need to be developed as part of an overall station identity program.

Gateway as a small median

Gateway as an overhead sign

Gateway as a corner monument

Option 1 - Clear Creek Parkway



- Retail
- Mixed use
- Multi family residential
- Single family attached
- Business/office
- Industrial
- Structured parking
- Signalized intersection (needs CDOT approval)
- Gateway

Good Morning Mr. Barnes,

Good Morning Greg,

Thank you for the opportunity to review this submittal. The Adams County Dept. of Public Works, Infrastructure Management, Construction Inspection Division offers the following comments:

1.) Roadway Construction will be required along this frontage of this property. The roadway must be constructed to it's ultimate width along this property frontage.
2.) Construction plans must be submitted to and approved by the Community and Economic Development Department prior to beginning this construction.
3.) Although the Platting has been completed for this site, an SIA will be required along with the appropriate collateral prior to the issuance of the Conditional Use Permit.
4.) This SIA and the submitted collateral must be approved by the Board of County Commissioners prior to beginning construction.
5.) A construction Permit must be issued prior to the work commencing.
6.) The roadway along this property frontage has been substantially deteriorating along this property frontage for several years, partially due to the traffic related to this site. These construction plans must reflect the repair of this roadway in it's entirety along this property frontage.
7.) There are several drainage related issues along the property frontage of this site. These drainage issues must also be addressed as part of the aforementioned construction plans.
8.) It does not appear as though the on-site drainage issues have been addressed with this site.
9.) No building Permit will be issued for any lot until all of the Public Improvements have been completed and have received Preliminary Acceptance from the Adams County Department of Public Works.
10.) A Pre-Construction Meeting will be held with the Construction Staff of the Dept. of Public Works, prior to construction beginning.

These plans will need to be resubmitted when they are complete.

Again, thank you for this opportunity to review this submittal.

Subject: FW: For Review: Brannan Sand & Gravel Pit R (PRC2019-00020) - Stormwater

I would like to add a few request as this is a site with historic issues:
Adams County Stormwater Division recommends the following:

1) Water quality must be provided to these operations due to the proximity to Clear Creek and the pollutants on-site (recycling concrete, oils from shingles, trash, vehicle leaks, etc)
2) A drainage report needs to be submitted showing water quality design for approval. Include assessment of soil compaction and stock piles material impacts on impervious areas and coefficients. Include drainage impacts of the proposed site driveway. Provide analysis for the existing berm installed around the property to avoid outfall to Clear creek. Provide berm height, material, and alignment, capacity and construction details. Review levee designations and regulations regarding the berm. Perform an inspection of the berm, provide pictures and video. Survey the berm by a professional surveyor to ensure the existing berm matches the design. Provide engineering calculations showing that the containment berm is adequate for containing all rain events and allowing them to infiltrate into the ground within 72 hours according to CRS 37-92-602(8). List applicable permits that will be triggered.
3) If, as a result of the drainage report, a storm outlet (pipe or channel) needs to be installed at this property, then contact CDPHE's Stormwater Industrial Permit and submit permit application. Provide copies of the permit and all supporting information (SWMP, sampling plan, etc).
4) Provide documentation showing Brannan has the authorization to work, store materials or stockpile on Adams County parcel # 0182508100038 located between Brannan and Clear Creek. If there is no written agreement, please relocate the berm or any other containment structure within Brannan property line. Re-store Adams County property: grade, amend soil, mulch and seed until 70% vegetation cover is established and survey and staked down the property limits. Refer to image below.
5) Establish a 150ft vegetation buffer zone from the top of clear Creek's slope. Provide site plan showing buffer zone. Revegetated buffer zone as needed with native seed mix according to soil type.
6) Provide access easement to the county to inspect the creek. Contact ROW-Marissa H.
7) Install a vehicle tracking pad following UDFCD details, angular clean rock 3 to 6", geotextile underneath at the access that transitions from the recycled asphalt driveway and dirt. The millings do not remove sediment from tires, a tracking pad is still needed. Call for inspection. No recycling concrete allowed. This product is not allowed because the fines have high pH and impact water quality.
8) Provide "Sweeping Plan" specifying sweeping frequency. No kick broom equipment, vacuum sweeper is required. Sweeping logs must be filed. Waste disposal of sweepings needs to be specified. If disposal is on-site, provide location and BMPs to prevent run-on, run-off and infiltration of pollutants into the ground.
9) Inspect impacts to Clear Creek's slope regularly. Remove all trash, repair all erosion, mulch and seed all bare soil areas following UDFCD details and seed mix. Document conditions with pictures and keep logs. Provide inspection results and repairs of the first inspection.
10) Contact David Rausch regarding drainage easement needs along the front side of the property, and Drainage issues in that area.

Case no. PRC2019-00020
Part of NW ¼ Section 8, T 3S, R 68W, 6th P.M.
Water Division 1, Water District 2

Dear Mr. Barnes:

We have received your December 17, 2019 submittal concerning the above referenced conditional use permit applications for recycling operations, accessory outdoor storage, and stacking of material uses on a 23.57-acre parcel located in the NW ¼ of Section 8, T 3S, R 68W, 6th P.M. According to the submitted information, the parcel is located in the Industrial-2 and Industrial-3 zone districts.

This referral does not appear to qualify as a "subdivision" as defined in Section 30-28-101(10)(a), C.R.S. Therefore, pursuant to the State Engineer's March 4, 2005 and March 11, 2011 memorandums to county planning directors, this office will only perform a cursory review of the referral information and provide informal comments. The comments do not address the adequacy of the water supply plan for this project or the ability of the water supply plan to satisfy any County regulations or requirements. In addition, the comments provided herein cannot be used to guarantee a viable water supply plan or infrastructure, the issuance of a well permit, or physical availability of water.

There are no permitted wells on the property. Estimated water demand, proposed uses, and proposed water supply source were not provided. A letter dated April 3, 2019 stated that the North Washington Street Water & Sanitation District ("District") is currently servicing this property, and that permits for additional uses such as industrial must first be obtained, subject to limitations set forth by the District. This office has no objections to this proposal.

If you or the applicant have any questions, please contact Wenli Dickinson at 303-866-3581 x8206 or at wenli.dickinson@state.co.us.

Sincerely,

Joanna Williams, P.E.

New and existing buildings or sites shall have approved address numbers, building numbers, or approved building identification placed in a position that is plainly legible and visible from the street or road fronting the property. These numbers shall contrast with their background. Numbers shall be a minimum of 4 inches high with a minimum stroke width of 0.5 inch. Please be aware that the size of the number may need to be larger than 4 inches is not clearly visible from the street or road.

Fire Protection Water Supply and Hydrants:

5. Please provide information and plans showing the closest fire hydrants to the site.

6. Unobstructed access to fire hydrants shall be maintained at all times. Fire department personnel shall not be deterred or hindered from gaining immediate access to fire protection equipment or fire hydrants. A 3-foot (radius) clear space shall be maintained around the circumference of fire hydrants. Within that 6-foot diameter circle and within a 6-foot-wide path leading to the 4.5-inch outlet of a hydrant, vegetation shall be no higher than 4 inches above grade. The unobstructed vertical clearance within that 6-foot circle and 6-foot approach path shall not be less than 7 feet, unless otherwise approved by the Fire District.

Other Requirements:

⇒ Please be aware that permits for any building structures and gates will be required by the Fire Prevention Bureau. Please call us for information on how to apply.
⇒ We always welcome and encourage meetings to discuss fire code requirements. Please call us at any point in the process if you would like to schedule one.

RE: Brannan Sand and Gravel (Pit 10), PRC2019-00020
TCHD Case No. 6065

Dear Mr. Barnes,

Thank you for the opportunity to review and comment on the Conditional Use Permit for recycling operations, accessory outdoor storage, and stacking of materials of the height of the fencing located at 2601 W. 60th Avenue. Tri-County Health Department (TCHD) staff has reviewed the application for compliance with applicable environmental and public health regulations and principles of healthy community design. After reviewing the application, TCHD has the following comments.

Historic Landfill within Adams County Overlay District
In accordance with Section 3-35-03 of Chapter 3-Zone District Regulation, Flammable Gas Overlay (FGO), the subject property will need to comply with all applicable sections of the Adams County Flammable Gas Overlay (FGO). Flammable gas from decomposing organic matter in landfills may travel up to 1,000 feet from the source. At this time, construction is not proposed. At such time that construction is planned within 1,000 feet of Landfill Nos. AD-028, Ad-145, AD-008, AD-027, AD-004, AD-003, AD-234, AD-030, and AD-160, we recommend the following:

1. A flammable gas investigation should be conducted to determine if flammable gas (methane) is present in the subsurface soils at the property. The plan for the investigation should be submitted to TCHD for review and approval.

2. TCHD will review the results of the investigation. If the investigation indicates that methane is not present at or above 20% of the lower explosive limit for methane (1% by volume in air) in the soils, no further action is required.

3. In lieu of the investigation, an active flammable gas control system shall be designed and constructed to protect buildings and subsurface access to utilities, i.e. vaults, manholes, etc. from flammable gas. Health and safety practices shall be followed during construction to protect site workers.

Questions regarding this may be directed to Sheila Lynch at (720) 200-1571 or slynch@tchd.org.

Construction and Demolition Recycling Facility
Recycling of industrial materials has the potential to cause odors, ground water contamination, and nuisance conditions. The Hazardous Materials and Waste Management Division of Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE) regulates recycling facilities. This facility must meet the requirements of Section 8 of 6CCR 1007-2, Part 1. More information can be found at https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/recycling.

Fugitive Dust – Permanent uses
Exposure to air pollution is associated with a number of health problems including asthma, lung cancer, and heart disease. The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment Air Pollution Control Division (APCD) regulates air emissions, including fugitive dust. Control measures may be necessary to minimize the amount of fugitive emissions from site activities including haul roads, stockpiles, and erosion. The applicant shall contact the APCD, at (303) 692-3100 for more information. Additional information is available at https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/categories/services-and-information/environment/air-quality/business-and-industry .

Vector Control - Storage
Rodents such as mice and rats carry diseases which can be spread to humans through contact with rodents, rodent feces, urine, or saliva, or through rodent bites. Items stored on the floor, tightly packed, and rarely moved provide potential harborage for rodents. Due to the variety of items to be potentially stored at this site, TCHD recommends that the applicant create a plan for regular pest control. Information on rodent control can be found at http://www.tchd.org/400/Rodent-Control

Please feel free to contact me at 720-200-1575 or kboyer@tchd.org if you have any questions about TCHD's comments.

RE: PRC2019-00020 Brannan Sand & Gravel (Pit 10)

To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of 2300 W 60 LLC and 2400 W60 LLC, owners of the properties located at 2300 through 2860 West 60th Avenue, thank you for the opportunity to comment on Project Number PRC2019-00020 and the proposed conditional use permit.

We understand the physical, environmental, regulatory, and market constraints complicating redevelopment of the subject property in a manner more consistent with Adams County long range plans for the area. We also understand that it is likely in both the applicant's and the County's interest for the site to remain economically viable during the interim period while area and regional studies are being completed and a site-specific plan for redevelopment is submitted and approved.

However, as the owners' of the property immediately across the street from the subject property, we feel strongly that if the County approves the proposed conditional use (or any other conditional use) the timeline and terms for achieving a viable plan for redevelopment and the terms for a clear end to the conditional use(s) should be well understood and documented as part of the County's approval.

Since the application itself makes no reference to either a process or a timeline, we respectfully request to be kept informed of the application process, including receiving a copy of the staff report, notice of hearing dates, etc.

Greg
I have received and reviewed the application from Brannan Sand and Gravel.
I believe that this proposal is in line with the comprehensive plan of Adams County.
The land along Clear Creek and I-76 have been set for industrial zoning.
This company has made it clear that they fully intend to follow county regulation and I see no issue with them using this land for their purpose.
The future plans for this area are far reaching, and because of the general condition of the area, probably unattainable.
Since I do not live in the immediate area, I would be curious how the local residents feel about this project and the future plans of this location.

Adams County Comprehensive Planning

- Southwest Area Plan
  - Policy 14.1 Promote Clean Industrial Uses;
  - Encourage development and redevelopment of a range of industrial uses in the Southwest Area, with emphasis on new clean and/ or light industrial uses
- Federal Boulevard Framework Plan
  - Corridor Planning should address potential Federal Boulevard blight conditions and recommend improvements in visual character. The addition of pedestrian-oriented improvement to the right-of-way is critical in providing better accommodations for non-motorized corridor transportation. Additionally, streetscape planting should be incorporated throughout the corridor with a focus on shade trees along the east and west sides of the roadway due to the utility limitations of the center medians.
  - Corridor planning should address potential methods to land assembly for redevelopment, protection of residential neighborhoods from commercial land use and traffic encroachment, and methods to interconnect the local street grid.
- Clear Creek Valley Transit Oriented Development Plan

Clear Creek Valley Transit Oriented Development Plan, 2009

- Creation of a transit-oriented community
- Pedestrian-oriented to the transit station
- New retail, employment, entertainment and residential opportunities
- Current site designated for Village Center, Business Park, Open Space
- Mixed-use development with sustainable practices
- Open space and recreational opportunities
- Gateway to Southwest Adams County
- Discourages land use patterns in transit corridors and around transit stations that may preclude future Transit Oriented Development
- Discourages land consumptive uses related to heavy industry such as outdoor storage.

Design Standards

Purpose of the Design Standards

The purpose of the Design Standards is to set high quality requirements for design of all projects in the Village Center. Development that is designed to these standards will protect the real estate values in the station area and in the neighborhoods in the vicinity. The standards provide a level playing field for developers which will assure a high standard of design on the part of all participants, and raise the bar for design in the immediate area.

Design Standards for the Village Center

Sustainability

Intent: To achieve sustainable design in developing and building each site promoting integrated design practices that sustain the project economically, environmentally and culturally.

Principles: At a minimum, sustainability within the Village Center shall be measured by the LEED rating system, established by the USGBC. Review and approval of buildings in this area shall be contingent upon the applicant showing progress in obtaining the LEED Certified credits. Affordable housing will be considered as an integral part of planning.

Pedestrian Connectivity

Intent: To connect transit, commercial and housing destinations with convenient, safe and easy to understand pedestrian circulation.

Principles: Walkways, bridges and pedestrian crossings shall constitute a network that interconnects all transit, commercial and residential buildings. Hidden areas and blind corners shall be avoided in favor of open, visible gathering places and unobstructed paths with clear visual connections to destinations beyond. Pedestrian walkways should avoid doubling back or acute changes in the travel path, and should have good visual connection with the surroundings at all times. Active uses should be located along the pedestrian paths.

Ground Floor Activity

Intent: To create a compelling and active pedestrian environment with interesting, accessible activities at the street level.

Principles: Ground floor uses shall consist of active commercial uses, restaurants and entertainment venues in areas that will be frequented by pedestrians. The active space shall be organized in a logical pedestrian flow, without isolating retail activities from public spaces and streets.
